Head of Trades and Labor Congress Says There is No Shortage-Trouble is Method Of Handling

EDMONTON, Jan. 8 (P) - Percy Bengough of Vancouver, acting president of the Trades and Labor longress of Canada, interviewed vesterday, said that there is no manpower shortage in Canada and the trouble lies in the way the labor problem is being handled. He said he had learned steel workers had been sent from Vancouver to the United States.

Mr. Bengough expressed opposition to the federal wage freezing order, "particularly in its effect on those in lower salary brackets."

Anglican Young Folk Are Busy

The Anglican Young People's Association spent a lively and profitable evening Wednesday continuing their decorating project in St. Andrew's Cathedral Hall. There was plenty of fun and delicious refreshments were served. The job consists of kalsomining one wall while stippling the other, not to mention the floor improvement.

Next week the members are looking forward to some more of those interesting movies like Dr. J. T Mandy showed some weeks ago, to say nothing of his educational remarks regarding the geological aspect of the scenery shown.

At an executive meeting of the A.Y.P.A. held recently some very badminton, shuffle board, pingpong and oodles of other exciting things. It has all the ear-marks of a busy, happy new year.
