

Victory In Pacific Is Now Assured

Japanese Have Already Failed In Attack And Taken Over Defensive

Highly Encouraging Statement in Regard to War in This Theatre is Issued by General Douglas MacArthur

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Aug. 9 (CP)—Allied victories in the southwest Pacific "have been decisive of final results in the Pacific," General Douglas MacArthur said today. MacArthur said that Japan has exhausted the fullest resources of concentrated attack, has failed and is now on the defensive. A spokesman for the general, asked to amplify the phrase "decisive of final results," said he would interpret it as meaning that the final outcome of the war in the Pacific is clear.

July Was Dull Here

Little Sunshine and Much Moisture Dampened Spirits and Raincoats

The sun made a reluctant appearance on 14 days during July and the total hours of bright sunshine for the month were 71.4. This brings the hours of sunshine so far this year to the gilded total of 657.6. In July, 1942, the sun showed itself for 146.7 hours and the year's total to the end of July was 667.2 hours.

The average temperature for the past month was 55.1 degrees, with a maximum of 70 degrees of July 25, and a minimum of 41 on July 24 and 25. In July last year the maximum was 76 degrees, and the minimum 48.

Rain fell on 23 days during the month to a total of 7.53 inches, bringing the year's total rainfall to 46.4 inches as against 39.48 inches for the first seven months of last year. Rainfall in July last year was a mere .77 inches.

CANADIAN BOMBER ARM PLANT "ON THE NOSE"

One of the most remarkable pictures ever taken at night, hit the target "on the nose." We moved in by a bomber over a German target, this photograph was brought back by Flying Officer G. E. "Chick" MacIntosh of 121 Luxton Ave., Winnipeg, and his Halifax crew of the famous R.C.A.F. Moose squadron. Taken as the big four-engined bomber roared over the Schneider armament works at Le Creusot, the picture shows several of the aircraft's bombs falling directly toward one of the plant's great workshops, demonstrating that the Canadian crew, like many of their mates that night, hit the target "on the nose." "We moved in early and thanks to flares and moonlight, we could see everything as though it were daylight," MacIntosh said afterward.

"Two small lakes in the centre of the town near the armament works showed up quite clearly. As we went in for our run, the bomb aimer could see buildings crumbling from the weight of heavy bombs and the picture we took showed our bombs going right on the building were sent to prang. The fires had started when we took the picture and the reason it turned out so well was pure luck, because a lot of the fellows who followed had dense smoke clouds to contend with." Others in the crew were Flying Officer Larry Noble of Prince Albert, Sask., Sgt. W. M. Joy of Mackey, Ont., Sgt. Armie Lemrie of Melville, Sask., Flying Officer Ken Harrold of 123 Westbury Crescent, Toronto, and Sgt. E. J. G. Hancock of Gourack, Scotland. (R.C.A.F. Photo)

ADVANCING IN SICILY

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, August 9.—The Allied armies have slashed great chunks from the German defence lines in Sicily, and are now poised within 42 miles of Messina, today's communique reported.

The British swept through Alcefeale and captured San Maria Letocodia, high on the slopes of Mount Etna, while the Americans captured San Fratello and San Agata.

POUNDING AT CITIES

Milan, Turin and Genoa Shown Power of Air Force While Rome Stalls

LONDON, August 9.—The Royal Air Force poured a great weight of bombs into the Italian cities of Milan, Turin and Genoa Saturday night in a sharp demonstration to the Italian people of the price they must pay for Rome's stalling on the peace issue.

Only two planes were lost from hundreds of four-engined Lancasters which attacked, this indicating only half-hearted defence of the three important cities where peace demonstrations have been held.

The Italian High Command said that the attacks had caused considerable damage.

Defensive Germany Given Over to Military; Hitler To Be Merely Figurehead

MADRID, Aug. 9 (CP)—Despatches reaching Spain from Berlin reported that "powers of great magnitude" have been given to Reichsmarshal Herman Goering following a meeting of Nazi chieftains and army leaders. News of the meeting at Hitler's headquarters lent color to reports that the army is taking over the conduct of German affairs in preparation for a long defensive war.

Not Siding In Contest

Therefore it will be impossible for FREE publication material designed for the promotion of any particular candidate. In fairness to all, we must make this announcement. Of course, we are open to receive any advertising or paid publicity material required by the sponsors of any candidate.

Russians Driving Forward

Threaten to Engulf Kharkov and Smash Toward Bryansk—Nazis in Full Retreat

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC, August 9 (CP)—The Russians curled a steel finger behind Kharkov, threatening to engulf that Nazi base, and smashed closer to Bryansk in advances on both fronts of four to nine miles Sunday in which nearly two hundred villages toppled from the German grasp. The Red Army appeared to be flashing forward at a rate that promised early entry into White Russia and the central Ukraine, Moscow dispatches said that the Germans, badly crumpled in hard battles at Orei and Kursk and now harassed by the spearhead tactics of the Russians, were retreating rapidly and making no determined stand. Soviet troops, curling behind Kharkov, captured Bogodukhov, 35 miles to the west, seizing another of Kharkov's western rail exits.

Dr. A. Hakstain, provincial health specialist, and Miss M. F. Erickson, his clinic nurse, arrived in the city last night from Vancouver, being here to conduct a periodical tuberculosis clinic.

Socialists vs. Socialists . . .

The Co-operative Commonwealth Federation party seems to be having its principal criticism these days from within the ranks of labor itself. Some rather bitter controversy has been going on between Harold Winch, C.C.F. leader, and Tim Buck, Communist leader and head of the new Farm-Labor party. Even here there was reference to the defection in the Labor ranks when Arthur Turner, C.C.F. member for Vancouver, addressed a local meeting.

The Tim Buck group in effect accuses the C.C.F. party of paying too much attention to the game of acquiring political kudos when its members might be better devoting themselves to the job of winning the war after which political experimentation might seem more timely. The C.C.F., on the other hand suggests that, if some of its socialistic ideas were put into effect, there might be more efficient prosecution of the war.

The C.C.F. is undoubtedly making political hay while the sun shines as indicated by the results of recent elections and, from the looks of things, to make such hay is the principal aim of the party. We have suggested before that the real and immediate enemy we have to defeat is the enemy in active arms against us. The C.C.F. surely does not consider the Liberals and the Conservatives are the principal enemy. It is interesting to have a radical like Tim Buck chiding the C.C.F. along these lines.

There is no doubt that the swing towards the C.C.F. that is becoming so apparent these days is principally a vote of protest against the old line parties. There is probably little thought on the part of many of those who vote this way about whether or nor the C.C.F. really has anything or if they would be any better off under a C.C.F. government. Mr. Turner said in his speech here last Friday night that only those who worked for the C.C.F. would be really justified in cheering after the C.C.F. comes into office. Possibly it will take a little time after the C.C.F. gets into office to decide if there was anything so much to have cheered about after all.

Now is Time to Advertise . . .

Advertising is just as essential in times of short supply as when store shelves are full.

Battling with shortages of goods and labor in a struggle to keep merchandise flowing in a normal way, merchants may think they have no reason to advertise.

They would be right—if there was to be no tomorrow which will bring peace and a return to full production for civilian requirements. The time to prepare is now, lest tomorrow bring to one's business the unwelcome peace that is oblivion.

There is no assurance that the public will automatically return to their pre-war buying habits—and products—unless there is steady and consistent hammering through all the war-time days that lie ahead.

By DOROTHY GARBUTT
The Hostess

Sunday is a day of rest—for some people. For instance, yesterday morning I was sleeping peacefully unaware of what was about to descend upon me when all too early, came a bang upon the door and the voice of one unhappy at being disturbed so early rudely boomed: Telephone. Gentleman at all times (I hope) I said, "Thank You". Though the words which were on my tongue were certainly not in that vein of thought. But then you never know when a phone call might be either interesting or important do you? So I leaped out of bed, stepped on a thumb tack which was crouching in wait for me and with a loud curse which awakened the rest of the household sprang for the phone. At the other end a voice full of sweetness cooed: "Oh Chester, this is Dorothy, Garbutt" — and when without letting me voice my sentiments sweetly continued: "Remember I'm going on my holidays today and you said that you would write my column for me tomorrow". This was too much. "What is it tomorrow?" "I screamed. "But I have a program at the Capitol Theatre tonight and besides that I don't know what to say". "That" said she, "is nothing to do with me I'm going on holidays today. Whatever you do don't forget to mention the dances so that the hostesses will know about them. Goodbye now. Have a good time while I'm gone. "And with that she was gone too.

I wandered back to my room pondering what on earth I was going to put in this column. When I finally got around to it I got all the information about the dances. I found that the dances at the camps were cancelled for this week. That there would be a dance on Monday night for which the Hostesses would gather at Empress Hall. I found that there would be a dance as usual on Wednesday night at the Empress Hall to which the hostesses were cordially invited. These are the dances for the week.

And these are all the facts I have for my Monday column so if anyone has any suggestions please send them along because as I look at my typewriter now, all I can see at the head of a blank page is By CHESTER LEMAISTRE.

LETTERBOX

WE CAN TAKE IT

Editor, Daily News:

It would appear through recent editorials in your paper that you are anxious as to the fate of our old political parties after the war. First you had "When the Boys Return," to which I replied. Now, to my surprise, you write, "It's Sad but True" relative to the manner in which people are spending their money, letting us believe that we suffer from a delusion that the governments will support us after the war in regard to relief, unemployment insurance, social security, old age pensions, etc.

Did you ever realize the comforts (?) of being on relief before the war? Have you become acquainted with any one benefiting from unemployment insurance and, more important, have you stopped to realize how our aged folks exist under old age pensions? None but the administrative personnel of these departments gain an iota from these "social services."

Don't try and mislead your readers. There is a far different plan of social security, one which will make men glad to work and not, as you would have us believe, turn men into robots. And the last elections in Ontario are the handwriting on the wall.

Still you say one need not be surprised—why?

I ask you to find space in your valuable paper for this letter, or is it too hard to take?

LONDON, August 9 (C)—In a small but tastefully furnished flat behind a well known hotel, Madame Vanier, wife of Maj.-General G. P. "I really do feel as though I am coming out of an anaesthetic," Madame Vanier said. "Travelling by air one is transported from one continent to another so quickly that there is no time to get acclimatized during the journey."

AS ALLIES INVADED SICILY

Loaded to the gunwales with especially-trained amphibious shock troops, one of the great fleet of Allied invasion barges that participated in the invasion of Sicily, is shown in this radio photo, pulling out from a North African port. The men are waving a "so long" to their comrades, who were due to follow in their turn. Landings were made on Italy's island bastion at 3:00 a.m., July 10, under an umbrella of warplanes and a great naval and air bombardment that hammered Axis positions for a depth of 10 miles inland.

SOL REAL BIG GUY HIGH ENOUGH TOO

The sun has a bulk a million and a quarter times that of the earth. The highest altitude it is believed a bird can fly is four miles.

ELECTION TIME?

You bet it is election time. This is a fight to the finish, a friendly fight. We are fighting for the same cause by using different ways and means in doing so. The outcome of this fighting will be the erection of a CIVIC CENTRE when the time is ripe and this building will be the pride of the City of Prince Rupert.

The "Sons of Norway," being one of the sponsors, this year nominated a fair-haired, blue-eyed, charming young girl—OLGA SATHER, as their candidate in the Civic Centre Carnival Queen Contest. She is known as that friendly girl with a smile for all. She is indeed a popular candidate, very well liked among the high school girls and boys, from whom we are sure she is getting 100 per cent support, not because she is the only candidate who was born, raised and educated in Prince Rupert and the one I suppose who will make Prince Rupert her future home city. She has not only been here for four or five months but for seventeen years. She is a genuine Prince Rupert girl, a worthy candidate for a worthy cause.

Canadians, Americans, Norsemen, or wherever you come from, wherever you are, on land, on the water, in the air, we are sure you will not lose sight of these facts when you elect your Carnival Queen.

Vote for and support—a genuine Rupert girl.
