Speaks of Impending "Amphibious Operations of Complexity and Hazard"-U-Boats Are Being Definitely Overcome—Announces Tunisia Casualties

LONDON, June 8 (CP) — Prime Minister Winston Winston Churchill told the House of Commons today that a large scale invasion of Europe was approaching. He said that the Allies were determined to destroy the Axis by air and other means and voiced confidence that the deadly submarine menace was being quickly overcome. Hospital

"It is quite evident that amphibious operations of peculiar complexity and hazard on large scale are approaching," the Prime Minister said in his first war review since the Washington and North African conferences. ### Question of Responsibility For Maintaining Facilities; Commerce Chamber Views

That greatly increased costs of development and maintenance of municipal utilities in Prince Rupert have been occasioned through demands imposed upon them by the requirements of national defence and that these costs should justly be borne by the federal authorities rather than by the city was the finding of a lengthy report on the whole question which came before both the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce and the city council last night, being endorsed RIGHTS OF by both bodies. The report was prepared by a special committee of the Chamber of Commerce consistaby and W. O. Fulton. "In all questions of responding to appeals-either Red Cross, Victory loans or other appeals made directly or indirectly through the government agencies, the City of Prince Rupert has nothing to be ashamed of but is rather to be complimented on the time, energy, duration and purchases on drives pertaining to the further propagation of the war effort.

"Mention is made of the following in this matter: Roads, water supply, chlorination, hospital facilities, wharving facilities.

"We would point out that all facilities available in Prince Rupert previous to the commencement of hostilities were adequate for the City of Prince Rupert and the surplus of these utilities was more than sufficient to care for the needs of the city for many years to come.

Members of the Prince Rupert Chapter, British Columbia, Registered Nurses' Association, met last evening at the Nurses' Home for the regular monthly meeting. It was decided to organize a registry for private duty nurses and all those available for emergencies at the hospital were asked to report to Mrs. O. L. Murray.

Mrs. Norman McKay was elected secretary by acclamation.

A Red Cross unit was formed with Mrs. Brooks convener. Those wishing to help make surgical dressings will be welcome at the City Hall Red Cross rooms every Monday evening.

A very interesting report was read by Mrs. Gordon Bryant, delegate to the annual meeting of the British Columbia Registered Nurses' Association. Better working conditions have been proposed with shorter hours and higher salaries.

The study of health insurance was reviewed by Dr. Strong.

Need of Playgrounds...

Last night delegates appeared before the city fage facilities have been construccouncil asking for municipal assistance in connection ted by the United States authoriwith playgrounds. Handicapped financially, there may ties, it is any man's guess whether be little eough that the city will find itself able to do they will be an asset or liability afbut anything that it can do will be fully justifiable.

There is little indeed provided here for the healthful facilities were available and unused urgency for the immediate rectifidiversion of the children whose playground, generally for many years before the war and cation of the troubles the citizenspeaking, is the streets except for such facilities as the in the case of the Ocean Dock at as a whole are forced to carry at Gyro Club by its good work has been able to furnish present being used by the U. Certainly it is just as important as ever that number of years. everything possible should be done for the children along these lines. This is something that cannot be waved aside by the old excuse of a war being on. We would suggest that the city council would be well advised to stretch a street facilities be reconsidered and point in this regard.

Meanwhile the organizations which are interesting an adjustment made upwards to compensate the city for the upthemselves in the matter of playgrounds are due an expression of appreciation. It is to be hoped their efforts will be crowned with success.

Damage and Vandalism . . .

The playgrounds are among the many places in Prince Rupert that have been subjected to wilful damage and vandalism. Of course, the sort of thing has been going on for a long time now and there have been numerous complaints. The authorities, no doubt, have made some effort to run down the culprits. People who are so low as to sabotage the children's playgrounds and their appendages seem difficult to apprehend. Possibly an appreciation of their own meanness would be the best deterrent.

Industrial Research . . .

The provincial government does well to lend all the! facilities at its disposal to the task of industrial research in connection with the national war effort. This has been the policy of the present government for some time and, judging by a statement issued yesterday by the minister of mines, it is to be further followed up. It has also be further followed up. of mines, it is to be further followed up. It has already been largely due to the efforts of the British Columbia War Metals Research Board that much of the minerals and metals vital to war industries in this province have been made available such as tungsten, molybdenite and mercury and it is interesting to note that central and northern British Columbia has been making a sizeable and important contribution.

New priority procedure:

Program Classification System

effective June 7

NEW priority procedure, the Program Classification Sys-H tem, has been established by Priorities Order 4, effective on June 7, 1943. Under this simple, new procedure, industrial purchase orders placed with Canadian firms will be classified within one or more of 24 code numbers.

After June 7 every purchaser of goods or commodities valued at $25 or more, (other than a retailer, a person who buys from a retailer, or such others as are designated in the regulations), must provide his supplier with the appropriate code number as indicated by the regulations, or with sufficient information to enable the supplier himself to classify the purchase order.

Industrial and mill supplies, warehouses and other businesses performing similar functions for industry, shall NOT be deemed retailers for the purposes of the new regulations.

Copies of the new Order, P.O. 4, together with complete details of its operation, are obtainable from Regional Priorities Offices.

S-t-r-e-t-c-h-i-n-g Meat.

Combine meat with other foods to make delicious meat flavour stretch

Meat tastes good and is one of the essential protective foods. It is the outstanding source of proteins and a good source of vitamins of the B complex, iron, phosphorous and copper-all nutritional essentials which are not stored in the body to any great extent and must be supplied regularly by the food we eat. On top of all this, meat is 96 to 98 per cent digestible. In these days, then, when we must be content with a smaller share of meat than that to which we have, perhaps, been accustomed, it is very important to know how to make a little meat go a long way. Here are some simple general rules: -1. Plan meals ahead so that your share is well spread over the week.

Close-ups of Five Men of Destiny in World's Gaze

(By Ronald Collier in Overseas Daily Mail)
Two food cranks, a chronic invalid, an aristocrat, and n ex-guerilla, six times in the hands of the police, awake each morning to shape the fate of a thousand million human beings. Five men of Destiny! One of the food granks bounds out of bed, runs to the open window, breathes in and out noisily, slaps himself on the chest. Then he swallows a glass of

Roy Proverbs and His Band Win Ovation From Troops

(By Dorothy Garbutt)

It's not often that a band is able to draw round after round of applause before playing a single note but it happened that way Sunday night at the weekly entertainment for service men at the Capitol Theatre. As the curtain, slowly raised upon Roy Proverbs and his orchestra grouped before two large grand pianos with Jeanie (Susie Q) Griffiths in a pretty shell pink 5:00—Solilaque frock, the effect was so delightful 5:30—Lud Gluskin. that it brought forth a burst of spontaneous applause. The acts that followed merited the initial 6:15—The Cavaliers appreciation for Roy and his band carried most of the program with the exception of the quiz and a solo number. It was a generous effort on the part of an outside group to entertain the services and is deserving of very sincere thanks.

Opening with "Praise The Lord and Pass the Ammunition" the band slid into "Rosie the Rivetter" with Susie Q. in the vocal. This was 10:00—CBC News Rebroadcast followed by a jam session which 10:05-Musical Interlude the boys ate up—they always want 10:15—G. L Jive og site their fun with jam on it. Jake Mc- 10:30-Spotlight Bands Kenty took it away on his sax, put- 10:45-Off the Highway ting the blue into "My Blue Heaven" 11:00—Silent in style. Ray Proverbs, that talented versatile, many-sided genius, surprised all by playing "Mr. Ghost Goes To Town" on a morimba. Even if a few tubes, valves or stops do go sour Ray is a good sport and showed it by playing "In The Mood" and then as an encore the ever popular "Whispering". A comedy number was next with Jock McAnie Mc-Kenty playing a very clever imitation of the bagpipes on his clarinet. Jock's outfit was a merry makeshift, a tartan lumberjack shirt provided the skirt, a whisk was his sporan and a hot water bottle slung under the right arm was the 10:45-They Tell Me 'bag" for his bagpipes. His spats were sheets of typewriting paper.

"The Strip Polka" brought Jea- 11:30-Petit Concert nie with the dark red hair back to the mike and the first part of program ended with Billy Stewart 12:30-Western Airs playing "Lies" on a baby sax, the 12:45-CBC News harmony carried by Jake McKenty and Joe Matson.

The contestants in Professor Mc-Clelland's weekly quiz were the Navy and the Air Force. The novelty feature in this quiz was that the winners were the contestants who got to the mike first with the correct answer. I fancy Breen will fire Jack next week if he tries any more innovations involving the very tempermental public audition system. The results were, Navy 95 and Air Force 155.

The stunt of the evening was a boot and shoe race with the runners hotfooting it around the auditorium and back up on the stage. An Air Force boy was the winner.

concerts again and again. After this Ray Proverbs and his swing quintette took over. The opening number in the second half was a novelty duet on two grand pianos featuring Roy Proverbs and Art Crawford, the troupe's accompanist, in "Twelfth Street Rag." Jake and Susie then went into a huddle and came up with that lovely "Home" and "Me and My Gal" Once again the marines and Roy the boys go for that combination in a big way—in a beautiful dreamy interpretation of the "Dream of beth's broadcast advice, are train- of the War Cabinet. "Slightly Dangerous" With Lana Turner and Robert Young at Capitol

Lana Turner figures in adventures ranging from an amnesia masuerade to be a hectic romance with Robert Young in "Slightly Dangerous," coming Wednesday and Thursday to the Capitol The-

Miss Turner plays the part of a soda clerk in a department store. She tires of her humdrum existence, leaves a suicide note, poses as an amnesia victim and long lost daughter of a millionaire. Young, the new store manager, is blamed for the "suicide." He sets out to find her and save his job. Complication follows upon complication until the climax finds the two principals madly in love. Miss Turner handles comedy with a flair that proves her talent in this type of role. It is her first comedy performance, although Young is quite at home in his favorite medium. Walter Brennan adds to the hilarity as the "sugar daddy" millionaire. Rotund Eugene Pallette is convincing as the newspaper publisher. Additional sparks of fun are ignited by Howard Freeman, Dame May Whitty, Millard Mitchell, Ward Bond, Pamela Blake, Ray Collins, Florence Bates and Alan Mowbray.
