Father Leray Says New Highway Is Just Like Boulevard — Whitehorse is Booming.

"Just like a fine boulevard" is the way that Father E. M. Leray, O.M.I., well known northern priest, describes the Alaska Highway running eastward from Whitehorse. Father Leray, who is at present in the city on his way from Dawson to Smithers where he is to take over the duties of parish priest, recently made a 125 mile trip from Whitehorse to Teslin Lake and found the highway a splendid piece of road.

WILL TAKE NECESSARY STEPS TO ENSURE THAT TERMS IMPOSED ON ENEMY ARE ADHERED TO — CONSULTATION ON ARMAMENTS—WAR CRIMINALS TO BE PUNISHED BY VICTIMS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (CP)—Great Britain, the United States, Russia and China have pledged themselves to united action in the peace to follow the defeat of their enemies and to the establishment of "a general international organization" for the maintaining of peace and security. The declaration was signed by the Big Four of the United Nations following the Moscow conference and was disclosed today.

The declaration provides that all will take necessary measures to provide against violations of terms imposed on the enemy, after the war they will not use military force in other states except after joint consultation and will confer with each other on the regulation of post-war armaments.

They agreed that Austria will be liberated but the extent of aid to Hitlerite Germany will be taken into account.

All vestiges of Fascism will be erased from Italy and freedom of speech, worship, political belief, press and public meeting will be restored.

German war criminals will be sent back to the scenes of their atrocities to be punished by the victims.

Closest military co-operation will be taken on decisions already made. A European advisory commission will be set up in London to study questions arising as war developments and make joint recommendations to the three governments.

Formal conclusion of the eleven-day old tripartite conference at Moscow is in sight as diplomatic experts put finishing touches on the draft of war and post-war agreements reached by representatives of Great Britain, Russia and the United States. Premier Joseph Stalin entertained Cordell Hull and Anthony Eden to a lavish dinner last night. An official statement of the results of the conference was expected early this week and came today.

German radio broadcasts reports from Stockholm claim that British and American delegates have made a detailed proposition to Russia regarding a second front with a fixed date.

TRADE UNIONS AND SOCIALISM

Editor, Daily News:
Your editorial "Trade Unions and Socialism" has caused a certain amount of interest and amusement among those trade unionists to whom you would have us believe you are concerned about. First permit me to ask a few questions. In whose interests is this publication (Canadian Business) issued? Is it the Canadian Manufacturers' Association? Wherever did you know of any organization without ambitious men at the top? Do you think that trade-unionism and politics can be separated while our economic welfare is wrapped up in both? And do you think that this is something in the nature of an experiment, when a similar set-up has prevailed in Great Britain for years? Sir, believe me when I say that the day is fast approaching when the interests of the majority of Canadians will be of more concern than a few members of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association. Does your article mean to infer that you are afraid this move will ruin trade unions when the C. M. A. for years has lobbied against labor legislation. I believe if this move were not to strengthen trade unions the C. M. A. would sit back and wait for the inevitable. The inference to a dictatorship under socialism should not pass without comment. I would ask you to read the Regina manifesto of the C.C.F. be honest with yourself and let your conscience be your guide. Thanking you for your courtesy in publishing this letter.

JAMES NICOLL.

SUPPORTS BONDS

Editor, Daily News:

As chairman of the Prince Rupert Labor Progressive Club I want to most heartily endorse the Fifth Victory Loan campaign and to urge any one who has not already done so to buy their bond now.

It is true that the Nazi forces are reeling, waiting for the knock-out blow. It is for us to deal that blow with the utmost speed and power of which we are capable. To allow the Nazis to delay the hour of their doom means to allow them to gut Europe as they did Naples, Kharkov and Gomel.

Every additional bond will help reduce the cost of the war and lives and men. Workers and progressive people in particular are all-out in support of this drive.

TEACHING SCRIPTURE IS URGED

If the Ten Commandments are out of date as some people infer, the results of violating them are very much in evidence declared Evangelist P. T. Balmer Sunday evening in the Oddfellows' Hall. Continuing he said: "We are fighting for peace, we are praying for peace but in one way only can it be obtained according to Isaiah the prophet in chapter 48, verse 18 'O that thou hadst hearkened to my commandments! then had thy peace been as a river and thy righteousness as the waves of the sea.'" The pastor quoted a statement made by a noted writer, "Although our generations prides itself on discoveries and inventions concerning natural law it must bow its head in shame for its ignorance of God's Ten Commandments. Our knowledge of science has filled our prisons, penitentiaries, reform schools and hospitals. It is high time for our generation to learn that God has a moral law which must be individually obeyed, else we bring suffering and death upon ourselves."

It was taken for granted that the children of today did not know much about the Ten Commandments, hence the urge to exhibit them in the public schools, continued Pastor Balmer. Others advocated reading portions of scripture without comment or explanation by the teacher. What benefit to the children would this procedure give, asked the speaker. A child might question: "Who is God? Who is the Son of God? What is sin? What is the atonement? And what is baptism? If the teacher is to abide by the rules the questions would be unanswered. If it was necessary and right to read the Bible in public schools it was also necessary and right to explain it to those who had a right to ask questions, said the evangelist. But most likely the teacher, however learned, however diplomatic, however, respectful of the convictions and opinions of others, would find it difficult to prevent personal belief from influencing such interpretation. Soon he would be teaching doctrine of some particular church and religious controversy would ensue. The evangelist said that the home was the first place to teach religion (Deut. 6:6-8) and, if the home was Godless then it was the church's business to take over the program and not the public school and state-paid teachers. To the Apostles was committed the great commission of teaching and explaining the scriptures (Matt. 28:16-20; John 21:15-17.)

Basketball Buzz

Absence of Booth Memorial High School from the Prince Rupert Basketball League raises speculation in cage circles as to what kind of season the High School will have.

Stripped of all but two or three members of last year's strong entry in the area loop, the school team has naturally been weakened but there are doubtless still enough players to form a good quintet.

At present there are two other basketball squads beside the school—Co-operative Fishermen and the Fraser Street Tigers—and possibly these three teams will be able to operate as a league.

Inter-house basketball is still expected to be played at the High School this season if arrangements can be made.

HE FOUGHT THE GOOD FIGHT

Sergeant Joseph A. Gregory, M.M., has fought the good fight . . . not only in this war but in the last conflict in which he enlisted before he was fifteen years old, served three years in France and was twice wounded.

Today Sergeant Gregory is home in Canada. Behind him is the epic of Dieppe in which his daring sorties against snipers' positions and his gallantry and devotion to duty in carrying on despite a severe wound, which later cost him his eye, won him the Military Medal.

Sergeant Gregory is still "carrying on" as a member of the Recruiting Staff of M.D. 13, Calgary. He has two sons in the service, a sister in the C.W.A.C. and his brother was also wounded at Dieppe. Here is what the Sergeant says of Canada's Fifth Victory Loan:

"I'm out of action now and my two boys are taking my place. I'd like to know that they won't suffer from lack of equipment. Back up the boys who are in action fighting for us at home. We can fight for THEM by purchasing more and more Victory Bonds."

You, too, can
FIGHT THE GOOD FIGHT

Dieppe . . . Sicily . . . these are the battle honours of Canada. Here Canadian soldiers won medal after medal for valour above and beyond the call of duty. Here our boys fought the good fight, as they are now fighting it in Italy.

Now is the time for you, too, to fight the good fight . . . to show your faith as our boys showed their heroism . . . to fight with your dollars as they fought with bullets . . . to buy Victory Bonds on a scale above and beyond the call of duty.

Remember, although Victory is now in sight it may yet escape us unless every one of us has the courage and devotion to see it through to the end. That is why Canada's Fifth Victory Loan is a vital challenge to all of us . . . a bugle calling for our best and finest effort.

Fight the good fight for the cause of freedom, the continued security of those you hold dear . . . the speeding up of Victory and all it means in a new and better civilization. Buy all the Bonds you can out of your savings. Buy more on installment. These are your Battle Honours.

How We Can Better City . . .

There is much to complain of in Prince Rupert. There is much that isn't right and some things that are downright bad for it wouldn't be a city if the devil didn't have a hand in it somewhere. But leaving the devil out of it, no city can triple its population in two years and maintain complete balance.

Part of the trouble with the town is that, having experienced a war expansion, it has had to wear the same set of breeches tailored for it during the lean depression years. Those breeches had become ragged and threadbare before the town started to expand but they still fitted it. Now its increased girth has split them open in so many places that a lot of new cloth is needed for their repair.

The physical aspects of our civic distress are plain. Our streets, pounded to crumbling asphalt by heavy truck traffic, have been insufficiently maintained, housing is inadequate, entertainment facilities are very inadequate. Insufficient medical and sanitary coverage has resulted in a higher incidence of communicable diseases than any other city in the province, our schools are so crowded that there is no room in them for some of our children. These and other conditions combine to inspire an aroma which has the flavor, if not the strength, of the odor overhanging some of the American war-crowded centres.

The initial instinct is to ask: Who is to blame? That question is not for us to answer but it is for us to suggest that it is the wrong question. It is unfruitful and should be suppressed in favor of the query: What can be done about these things?

What can be done? Well, we can mutter "C'est la guerre" in bad French, and try to love our tribulations. Or, as citizens, we can become conscious of them as our personal problems and plot their conquest. Whether a citizen has lived in Prince Rupert for twelve months or twice that number of years he should consider it his duty to contribute to their solution. Ideas are never so plentiful that they become a drug on the market like recriminations.

An opportunity for a display of civic interest is at hand now. The voters' list for next January's aldermanic elections is open for the receipt of names up to today at the city hall. Any British subject who is of age and has paid property or poll tax and has lived in the city since the beginning of this year is eligible to have his name placed on it.

This declaration of citizenship should be exercised by older citizens and newer ones alike. With the influx of war workers there has developed a tendency toward division between those who are regarded, and perhaps regard themselves, as temporary residents and those whose roots are more deeply settled. This attitude should be effaced for those who live here are here for their livelihood and the city's betterment is their betterment too.

The correction of our problems will be impossible unless the community puts its weight in unison behind its duly elected leaders. By that we do not advocate unanimity at the polls. We are much more partial to conflict for, where there is conflict, there is always interest and interest inspires solutions.

Let the people use the polls for their own betterment. Let the people use the polls in tribute to their sons and fathers who are facing death to defend their right to use them.

ACTIVITIES OF Y.M.C.A. AND Y.W.C.A.
 By DOROTHY GARBUTT

The discussion group, or Open Forum as its official name is, meets tonight in the Quiet Room at the "Y" Hut. Tonight's speaker will be G. T. Greenwell, who is in Prince Rupert from the University of British Columbia Extension Department and who will speak on "Co-operative and Credit Unions."

Myrfin Tomas' "Amateur Hour" will be held at the Empress "Y" tonight. All those who have talent are urged to try their luck. There will be prizes for the winners, a stage show and motion pictures so it promises to be a big night.

This has been rather an old home week with me. First of all my intermittent pal, Johnny Kuntz, came in from the Far Flung and we discussed, as usual, the various pros and cons of our two countries. Then a youngster, LAC Charlie Holt, appeared out of the blue in the "Y" and I found to my very great astonishment that he lived only three streets away from me in England and even knew some of the same persons. He came out as an evacuee in 1941. Next to pop up was the son of a friend with whom I went to school in Selkirk years and years ago. Bobby Christianson is his name and he is in the Navy as befits a boy whose grandfather's home a relic of the "Victory" held a prominent place. I recall looking at it so often and hearing the tale of the "Victory" over and over again from Grandpa Roberts.

IS REAL WAR

This is not a phoney war. The Canadian Army is in the thick of the fight. The only way you can win is on the field of battle. If physically fit and between 18 and 45 you are eligible for the Active Army, which is still an entirely volunteer Army.

Visit your nearest Army Recruiting Office today. Don't delay.
