Portugal Is Joining Up With Allies

Great Britain's Oldest Ally Turns Over Bases In Azores for Sea War

Prime Minister Churchill Intimates Early Declaration Of War on Japan May be Coming—Makes Anti-submarine Operations Easier.

LONDON, Oct. 12 (CP)—Portugal has granted Great Britain anti-submarine bases in the Azores, it was announced today. The Azores Island group lies eight hundred miles off Lisbon. Amid numerous rumors, the Portuguese, who are now engaged in the biggest military manoeuvres of the war, might declare hostilities against Japan.

Mr. Churchill told Commons that all British forces would be withdrawn from Portugal at the end of hostilities. The first and foremost result of Portugal's action will be to give the Allies a more valuable base from which to combat Nazi submarine warfare which abated during the summer but which is expected to be resumed in full scale in the effort to beat off the coming invasion of the continent.

BONDS MUST BE BOUGHT

President of Canadian National Exhorts Employees to High Objective

MONTREAL, Oct. 12 — In a message addressed to all employees of the Canadian National Railways in support of the Fifth Victory Loan, R. C. Vaughan, chairman and president of the national system, asks that the previous high record of subscriptions established during the preceding four loans be surpassed. "This is a high objective but a necessary one," states Mr. Vaughan in the message which is now being distributed throughout the system, adding "it can be met by resolution."

Mr. Vaughan's message sent out from headquarters, will be so circulated as to reach each individual in the employ of the national railways wherever they are stationed in Canada.

At the beginning of this message Mr. Vaughan states:

"During the six months which have elapsed since Canada's fourth Victory Loan was launched and over-subscribed, the United Nations have made immense strides toward complete victory. In that relatively short period we have seen and been part of some of the most momentous events in the history of the world. The enemy has been driven from North Africa; Sicily has been captured; Mussolini overthrown; Italy has surrendered unconditionally; Russia, to whom Canada has sent vast quantities of supplies, has made tremendous advances along a wide front; Allied forces have captured Tobruk and the enemy production and military bases have been bombed out of existence; almost everywhere the foe has been forced upon the defensive and on several fronts he is on the run."

"The price of victory has not yet been paid and to win we must now press every advantage vigorously and fight on with greater strength and determination than ever. We need men, munitions, ships, planes, food in great and swiftly gathering quantities and to provide them our government needs more money."

"And so, to speed the victory, to capitalize quickly and surely upon the progress we have already made, Canada is asking all of us to subscribe to a fifth Victory Loan whose minimum objective of $1,200,000,000 is the largest in our history. To raise it we shall have to scrape and save, as never before. It is unthinkable that now, upon the threshold of victory, we should fall."

Continuing his message, Mr. Vaughan refers to the previous loans and especially in backing the attack last May when "The men and women of the Canadian National Railways created a record which did honor to their patriotism and to their sensibility of the issues for which this war is being fought."

"Splendid as that record has been, it will have to be improved upon this time if we are to accept our share of the fifth Victory Loan," says Mr. Vaughan.

Concluding his message, Mr. Vaughan states that authority has been given for payroll deductions and that members of the company staffs in all parts of the country have been enrolled to solicit their fellow employees during the fifth Victory Loan Campaign.

Great Nazi Battleship Is Crippled

LONDON, Oct. 12 (CP)—British midget submarines, penetrating a heavily guarded Norwegian hideout of the German fleet, crippled the mighty 35,000-ton German battleship Tirpitz and left her apparently immobilized. Three of the small submarines, a hitherto undisclosed British weapon, are missing.

Isolation Operation

LONDON, Oct. 12 (CP)—The Russians, firmly established on the left bank of the Bzohz River opposite the strategic rail hub of Gomei, were threatening today to rip wide open a corridor to the west which would completely sever the German positions in White Russia from the sea. The Soviet juggernaut smoothly on all sectors of the war.

The Russian communiqué said the Germans set more than 3,300 dead on Monday's battlefields. Fifty-eight Nazi planes were shot down. The Germans battled desperately to slow the Russian advance, especially at the Dnieper bridgeheads, but the Russians fought forward as Soviet planes supported the swelling ground offensives, beyond the bridgeheads.

The capture of Novo-Belitz, rail junction suburb of Gomel, threatened the early flanking of the 200-mile German line in White Russia, and the rupture of the already weakened communications with Nazi forces further south.

The Russians racing toward Minsk, captured 40 towns.

QUOTA SAME BUT BUYING MUST RAISE

Although Prince Rupert's Fifth Victory Loan quota of $750,000 stands the same as its objective in the Fourth Victory Loan drive last April, the civilian population will have to aim higher to fill it.

The military personnel in the area, included in the Fourth drive, have been left out of the Fifth drive, throwing the subscription burden completely on the civilian population.

Dry dock workers, whose quota of $100,000 was well over-subscribed last time, will have to aim twice as high in the Fifth Loan for their quota has been set at $200,000.

MAY TALK WEATHER

Ban on Publishing Meteorological Conditions Has Now Been Lifted

Effective tonight Prince Rupert newspapers as well as those throughout the area west of Montreal may carry weather information such as has been under ban for more than a year.

The press censors have now ruled that any forecast for any region officially issued by the Dominion Weather Bureau and any generalized description of current weather conditions may be published.

The defence situation in the west has made it seem unnecessary to continue formed restrictions.

Restrictions on the area east of Montreal are unchanged.

VOTES FOR EVERYBODY

Labor Progressives Would Extend Municipal Franchise Without Reserve—Second Front Urged

The local Labor-Progressive club, at a meeting last night, passed a resolution urging that the municipal franchise be extended without payment of fee to all residents of the city regardless of whether they are owners of property or not.

Another resolution recorded the club as supporting the Queen Charlotte Island loggers' walk-out.

Still another resolution urged that the Union Nations coalition be translated into fact by the opening of a second front in Western Europe.

It was decided to support the election of a labor slate in the next civic election and delegated to the Civic Labor Federation were named in the persons of Philip Dennis, Mrs. Harold Ponder and Harley Lewis.

Further plans were made in connection with the visit here on October 30 and 31 of Tim Buck. Among other events there will be a dinner at which representatives of trades unions, co-operatives, city council and others will be present and a mass meeting in the Capitol Theatre.

Bruce Mickleburgh was in the chair and among those present were a number of new members.

Million Dollar Blaze Sweeps Through Newly Built N.S. Naval Base

SYDNEY, Nova Scotia, Oct. 12 (CP)—Damage unoffically estimated at more than $1,000,000 was caused today when a half-mile long jetty at the new naval base at nearby Point Edward was almost completely destroyed by fire. Two large buildings, a boiler shop and another workshop were destroyed in the blaze which lasted about ten hours.

Unconfirmed reports said that one boat was lost and two others were badly burned. Many service men fought all night to prevent the flames from spreading to the remainder

Deeds Not Words Need

Beveridge Urges British to Press Government for Implementation of His Security Proposals

By SCOTT YOUNG
 LONDON, Oct. 12 (CP)—Sir William Beveridge still is fighting the hard fight for full acceptance of his Social Security plan. The plan, pushed into the background by the summer's military events, still is being debated by medical men, people on the street, parliamentarians, and every few days, by the newspapers.

As he begins his second great work of this war, study of means of banishing unemployment from Britain, he takes time out now and again to urge personally that if the people want his plan, to make sure their representatives in parliament fight for it.

He made an important speech at Edinburgh, just a few days before the British Medical Association publishes results on its consideration of his plan's statement that a better state medical service is an essential in eliminating want, disease, ignorance, squalor and idleness.

He told his audience that the British people apparently want his plan, that they can afford it if they really want it, that no more time is needed for its consideration and that there are many reasons for pressing for its immediate implementation.

He said that the "sweet wine" which was poured upon him when parliament discussed his report has turned a little sour at the present inaction, and dismissed as an "insult to intelligence" a statement by Osbert Peake, parliamentary under-secretary to the Home Office, that "want can be abolished only by regimentation."

First Things First
 "My plan is first and foremost a plan for distributing income so as to put first things first," he said, "money for bread at all times, before there is cake for anybody."

"All that it will cost the taxpayer to start my plan is the equivalent of a penny on beer and sixpence on income tax. That's not an addition to present taxes, it means simply that present taxes would to that extent be lowered less when war spending stops. That's a small price for social security."

"Winning the war is of course prior to executing post-war plans, but should not be prior to making and deciding on those plans. The words of the Atlantic charter are now more than two years old—and they are words still. Let us get on to some deeds."

There is no indication from the government when a bill will be introduced to place in effect those parts of the Beveridge plan that its spokesman said it approved when the report was debated in parliament last February. Committees are working on various phases of the report, drafting this legislation. The bill is likely to be introduced sometime within the next few months.

The influential British Medical Association does not want state control of medicine in the same sweeping manner Sir William's report suggests. The B.M.A. conceded that there should be health centres in areas which have a big enough population, and group practices with communal surgeries, but insisted that patients should have a free choice of doctors and that doctors should not come under state control.

Defeated St. Louis Cardinals on Sunday and Monday to Take World Series Baseball Championship

SPORTSMAN'S PARK, ST. LOUIS, Oct. 12 (CP)—Nolan Ryan on a two-run homer of the great veteran catcher, Bill Dickey, the New York Yankees whipped St. Louis Cardinals two to nothing Monday which, with their three to one victory in Sunday's game, gave them the 1943 World Series four games to one.

A crowd of almost 34,000 saw the veteran hurler Spud Chandler pelted for ten hits by the Cardinals but they lacked the punch to cash in on several fine opportunities, and could not get a run across.

Dickey's homer came in the sixth with Charlie Keller on to break up the game and clinch the Yankees their tenth world championship.

Mort Cooper, who won the second game for the Cardinals, made a fine start on the mound for the Cardinals by fanning the first five batters who faced him. After the sixth he was yanked for a series of relief hurlers as the Cardinals manoeuvred vainly to put on an offensive.

Marius Russell was the pitcher on Sunday for New York and Max Lanier for St. Louis.

Are Busy On Kiska

MONTREAL, Oct. 12 (CP)—Brigadier H. W. Foster, officer commanding Canadian forces in Kiska, said Monday that his men are working day and night on the construction of roads and houses. Everyone in the Aleutian outpost is in great shape, Foster said, and just now the men are too occupied to think of anything but turning the island into a real fortress.

Realizes War Not Over Yet

President of Canadian National Tour, Impressed With War Effort Phases

TORONTO, Oct. 12 (CP)—What struck me most on my tour throughout the north-where nobody is under the because of the successions have had on many that the war has been said R. C. Vaughan, chairman and president of the Canadian National Railways, on his here today after an inspection trip which took him north as Churchill in Yukon and Dawson Creek on the Yukon Highway in British Columbia. In a journey of about 500 miles Mr. Vaughan examined railway and air facilities, defence installations, studied the development of Canada's resources in three provinces and conferred with leaders of government, industry, agriculture and the military.

The trip was one of the most I have ever undertaken, Mr. Vaughan said. "It has been a gathering of first-hand information regarding the accomplishments of the people in this important part of Canada and to see in action the means with which they are solving their problems. It is a spirit. To be over-optimistic in these times is a danger. The war is not yet won by the people of the north—now it. They are not resting their ears. They are fully aware of their problems and are applying to them all energy and resourcefulness characteristic of Canadians. They are thinking of the future, they know they have a bright ahead, even after it is achieved, and they are seriously preparing for it."

Kippur Observed

From Kippur, the Day of Atonement, which every Jew regards as the holiest of days, was observed on Saturday by the Jewish population and the members of both nations standing here.

No celebration marked the observance of the day before sunset, for it is a day of fasting and prayer, when each member of the Jewish faith is judged in judgment before the God of his own conscience.

However, following the official ending of the fast period a banquet was held in the dining room of the Central Hotel on Saturday evening, given by Jewish civilians for the enjoyment of their servicemen.

The banquet was blessed by Rabbi I. B. Rose, rabbi for the Canadian Pacific Command. Great pride was expressed by young Goldbloom in the type of young men of the Jewish faith who are in the services.

The Allied Meeting...

Although a meeting among representatives of the United States, Great Britain and Russia will probably occur, agreement on post-war policies can hardly be reached until the relative strength of the individual powers as well as political conditions in Europe at the moment of the Nazi collapse become clearer. At that time an understanding about post-war policies in Europe and the campaign against Japan may be possible.

Stalin will not likely commit himself to a pact providing for exclusive control of Western and Central Europe, and particularly of the German economy, by American-British authorities. At the same time, Stalin wants reparations from Germany. He, therefore, wants stable economic and political conditions in the industrial areas of Europe; social revolutions throughout Europe would endanger his own political stability. Moreover, the Russian Government can hardly rely on post-war Germany as a principal source of supplies of industrial machinery and technical equipment. Thus Russia's political and economic interests in Europe are conditioned and qualified by the fact that the Russian Government will need large-scale Lend-Lease aid and assistance from the United States in the provision of industrial supplies. Stalin may, therefore, attempt to strengthen his bargaining position and maintain his independence of action.

The defeat of the German armies in Russia would greatly enhance the position of the Russian Government internally and externally. Stalin's policy is no doubt, to push current offensives as much as possible, while at the same time preserving well equipped, mechanized reserves in readiness until the last moment, when the Nazi regime is collapsing and military resistance is crumbling. Such a reserve army certainly exists although very little is known about it. It may push into Germany or into Rumania and southeastern Europe at the end of the war. This will of course depend on political conditions at the time.

RED HERON BIG STAR

Former Pro Finds His Services In Demand on Baseball Diamond and Football Gridiron

TORONTO, Oct. 12 (C)—These autumn days Robert (Red) Heron, well known professional hockey player feels like a vaudeville artist juggling rubber balls and balancing a pole on his chin. But, he says, it's nice work if you can stand the strain.

Robert, in short, is the busiest athlete who ever mixed three sports in one career.

Take a recent day in Bob's life as exhibit A. In the afternoon he played his first football game in nine years—with R.C.A.F. Hurricanes in the Ontario Rugby Football Union. The 25-year old backfielder didn't score but his performance was promising enough to draw polite praise from the critics.

The day was just beginning for Bob when he pulled off his sweater in the dressing room as Hurricanes celebrated a 31-3 victory over Toronto Navy. The next stop was the airport where he boarded an R.C.A.F. plane for London, Ontario. A few hours later he was dressed and on the diamond playing for No. 1 Training Command of the R.C.A.F. against London A. my in the Ontario Baseball Association Senior final.

A Heavy Sagger London won the final in two straight games but LAC Heron distinguished himself at first base and at bat, especially in the first game of the series when he had two triples and a single in five trips

What are his sports plans when the football season ends? He has none but would "like to play" hockey for a Toronto R.C.A.F. team. He predicts the airmen will have a strong entry in the Ontario Hockey Association senior series this year.

Last season Bob played for Research Colonels, lone civilian entry in the Toronto group of the Senior O.H.A. Colonels finished in the last place but that didn't stop the red-headed centre star from leading the league in scoring.

Surprisingly enough, Bob—who played for Brooklyn Americans in the National Hockey League and Pittsburgh Hornets in the American Hockey League in 1941 and the year before lined up with Toronto Maple Leafs—says he prefers hardball to hockey.

But, he says, "I'd like to play professional hockey for one more season after the war."

INVASION ALARM

MARKET RASEN, England (C)—Early one morning the town hall clock at this little Lincolnshire town began to strike the hour and kept on chiming. For a half hour the chimes rang out over the sleepy town. The town's Home Guard, and 2,000 citizens, thinking it was an invasion alarm, turned out. Finally somebody tied up the mechanism, the clock stopped striking and the townfolk went back to bed.

ACTIVITIES OF Y.M.C.A. AND Y.W.C.A.

By DOROTHY GARBUTT

Today's column is going to be of the "hatched, matched and dispatched" variety as I have new babies to report and a service wedding. Fortunately it ends there, the "dispatched" item being non-est.

Mrs. Hill-Tout, our hospital visitor for October, gives me the following: that little Joan Yelland, whose mother is a Rupert girl, and whose dad is in the Signal Corps, was born on October 1 and weighed six pounds eight ounces. And Master James Walker, weighing eight pounds fifteen ounces, came into the world a day later, October 2, his proud paternal parent in the navy.

Taking their cue from the woodland setting of their mountain camp, the WD's decorated their recreation hall at group headquarters most beautifully in honor of their first RCAF-WD wedding on Friday, October 8. Keeping to the rustic style with evergreen boughs, ferns and bright berries accentuated by gay floral bouquets given for the occasion by Mrs. Winslow, Mrs. Derry, Mrs. Black and Miss Christel Braun, the hall was a picture of autumnal beauty. The bride was Leading Airwoman Betty of Yorkton, Sask., and the groom Sergeant F. H. Cato of Port William, Ont. The bridesmaid was Sergeant Mickelson (WD) and the groomsmen F-Sergt. Campbell, F-Lt. Springborne, the RCAF padre, officiated at the ceremony and during the signing of the register, LAW M. Rigate, accompanied by Cpl. K. Cournoyer, WD, sang "I Love You Truly."

The bride, who was given in marriage by Capt. R. Foss, commanding officer of group headquarters, wore her Airforce uniform and carried red roses and white carnations and the bridesmaid, also in uniform, carried yellow and mauve chrysanthemums. The reception was held in rustic style. The toast was given by the best man and responded to by the groom. A three-tiered wedding cake, made by the sergeant cooks, was cut by the bride and groom. Decorations of the recreation hut and sergeants' mess were supervised by Cpl. J. MacFadyen (WD) and the refreshments were in charge of LAW Hagstrom and LAW Scarf. I am sure the young couple, who made history by having the first wedding at group, will long remember the hosts of friends whose whole-hearted efforts went to make their marriage a beautiful and outstanding event and we wish them every happiness.

To supply our men on the fighting fronts, to assist the United Nations and to maintain essential services on the home front, requires every ounce of energy of the Canadian public.

This is total war, with liberty the prize. Canadians realize we can not win that prize without hard, steady work.

Under a recent order, issued in pursuance of National Selective Service Civilian Regulations, thousands of Canadians—employers and employees—are expected to forego some part of their peacetime liberty in regard to employment matters, in order that the Nation's war machine may increase its pace—rather than operate at less than capacity.

In order to conserve the working forces in war industries and essential services,

Employers and employees alike are urged to strike a blow for freedom! Keep production at full capacity!

Former Local Girl Honored

Shower for Joan Squire Held by Vancouver Friends. To Marry Pilot Officer Hopper.

A delightful shower in honor of Miss Joan Squire, a former Prince Rupert girl, was held recently at the home of Mrs. J. P. Allen, West Sixteenth Avenue, Vancouver, which a large number of former Prince Rupert people attended.

Miss Squire, who was born and educated in Prince Rupert, is to marry Pilot Officer Garnet Hopper, who recently received his commission after graduating first in his class at an R.C.A.F. training school.

The table was beautifully decorated with pink and white sweet peas, and tall tapers. During the evening games were played after which the bride-elect was presented with a large decorated cup and saucer and other beautiful and useful gifts.

"So you met your wife at a dance? Wasn't that romantic?" asked one truck driver of another.

"No, embarrassing as the dickens," replied the other. "I thought she was home taking care of the kids."

Smiles

"Son," said the revenue agent to a little mountain boy. "Can you tell me where your pappy is?"

"He's down in the holler making whiskey."

"Thanks; and I'll give you half a dollar if you'll take me down where he is."

"Will you give it to me now?"

"I'll give it to you when we get back. That's fair enough, isn't it?"

"Nope, you ain't coming back."

Wife (heatedly): "You're lazy, you're worthless, you're bad-tempered, you're shiftless, you're a thorough liar."

Husband (reasonably): "Well, my dear, no man is perfect."

A priority is the right to be first to ask for something you know you'll never get.

Friend: "It's being rumored about that you and your husband are not getting along very well together."

Mrs. Jones: "Nonsense. We did have some words and I shot him. But that's as far as it ever went."

"What line did you say you were in?"

"I manufacture a face powder that can't be kissed off."

"Who has charge of your proving grounds?"

A couple of men—very hard of hearing—were riding on the bus.

Said one: "Is this Wimbley?"

And the other replied: "No, it's Thursday."

Whereupon the first came back with: "So am I. Let's get off and get a drink."

Mrs. McTavish (looking out the window): "Mack, here comes company for supper."

McTavish: "Quick, everybody run out on the porch with a toothpick!"

He (sheepishly): "I suppose you're pretty mad at me for coming home with a black eye last night?"

She (sweetly): "Angry? Why no, dear—don't you remember? When you came home last night you didn't have that black eye."

Roll your owners! Go for Ogden's

In the early days, "Tin Lizzies" did not always roll smoothly but old-timers will tell you that Ogden's has always been a smooth tobacco. Why? Because it's a distinctive blend of choice, ripe tobacco—worthy of its famous name—Ogden's. You try it—and today.

Ogden's quality for pipe smokers, too, in Ogden's Cut Plug

The lady of the house suspected one of her two sons was paying attention to the attractive maid. Anxious to find out which one, she asked the girl:

"Nora, suppose you had the opportunity to go to the movies with one of my sons. Which one would you choose?"

hard to say, for I've had grand times with both of them; but for a real rollicking spree, give me the boss!"

"I want him home"

WHEN I read the war news my heart keeps saying: 'Hurry! Hurry!' They can't finish it up fast enough for me.

"Some of our boys have been over there nearly four years, I know, and Jim has been gone only eighteen months. But I want him home—soon, soon!"

"I just can't sit still and wait. So I've got myself a war job. And when I'm not working, I'm planning, and that keeps my mind busy all the time.

"When the war loans come along I buy all I can, and every month I figure out how much we have cashed away between us, and I write to Jim and tell him how much it is, and how we'll start out all over again after the war.

"I tell him about the little house we'll have—the shiny kitchen—the living room with a great big cosy chair—and the garden—I want hollyhocks all along the back fence—oh, I dream up the whole thing—

"I live on as little as I can, now, to help hurry things up, and so we'll have more money than we ever thought of having when he comes home. The way I feel these days I believe I could sell a lot of Victory Bonds. All I would say would be, 'I've got a husband overseas, and I want him home . . . soon.' Surely people would understand that."

THE NATIONAL WAR FINANCE COMMITTEE

YOUR BANKS are more extensively regulated than any other Canadian business.

Canada's ten Chartered Banks are subject, under the Bank Act, to the most thoroughgoing regulation. For instance:

The annual audit—conducted by Chartered Accountants appointed by the banks' shareholders—is submitted to the Department of Finance. The Department may call for further special audits, and in addition maintains regular inspections of the banks' affairs through the Inspector-General of Banks, who is obliged by law to examine the banks' books at least once each year.

Then there are monthly returns to both the Department of Finance and to the Bank of Canada. The Minister may also call for special returns at any time. All this in addition to the Bank Act's extensive regulations covering such phases of banking operation as reserve requirements, types of transactions permitted, interest rates and note issue.

These regulations are for the purpose of safeguarding your savings and guiding the operations of the banks as an essential element of our national life.

Victory Loan Song

Nineteen Hundred and Forty
Was really the year the war began
France collapsed and Belgium too
Then back to England the British flew
In planes and ships and with canoes,
Though thousands died, life did renew.
Then the battle gong did Churchill ring,
Throughout the world his voice did sing
That all had gone but British grit
And with that power we should fight on yet.

We accept the honor to fight and die
For freedom's cause our fathers lie
In soldiers' graves in every land
Britain on her word must stand.
Her sons are free in every way
With equal power possessed by all.
By their power governments stand or fall.
So when a better way of life you see
One plant the seed in the land of liberty.
Britain's flag protects the thoughts of all
Whether man be great or man be small.

Her Allies now are, as you know,
Uncle Sam and Uncle Joe.
After said Russia would fall
Like a spent plum to autumn's fall.
But he guessed wrong as all now see
For Russia is sound as eternity.
Her soul is forged by the Sons of Toil.
Her Allies now know her way of life.

Uncle Sam is a good old friend,
A helping hand he'll always lend.
For freedom's cause he stands four square,
In all our griefs he takes his share.
His sons die too and there he'll proclaim
That freedom's life was not in vain.

Canada, our Homeland, the base of our pride!
Common with others our brave sons died.
The debt we must honor in some way.
A bond is a weapon each and all can supply.
And the world will know its value in the sweet by and by.

Help save COAL

HERE ARE 12 CONSERVATION POINTS WHICH SHOULD BE CHECKED AT ONCE

- Clean your furnace and flue pipes thoroughly.
- Cement air leaks where flue pipe joins chimney.
- Putty loose window panes.
- Put up double windows early.
- Caulk window and door frames, and weatherstrip the sash.
- Insulate your roof, if possible. (This is a job you can do yourself at a small cost)
- Don't force the furnace for that hard-to-heat room; have the heating system corrected before the fire is lit.
- Don't heat your garage; have the radiator drained and disconnected.
- Close unused rooms; it's best to have the radiator drained and disconnected.
- Caulk wall breaks both inside and out.
- Use your fireplace instead of your furnace in early Fall and Spring; in winter time close the fireplace off to prevent draughts.

Britain's lightweight boxing champion lost an eight-round decision to an aging fellow who held the same title a decade ago and the ringside boys began hollering for the kill. They figured Eric Boon's continuance as king was dated to end the next time he puts the championship on the block because veteran Harry Mizler, who has not shown much since he dropped the title in 1934, trounced him by plenty of points in a non-title bout. The eight-round affair headlined a card at London's Royal Albert Hall, scene of peacetime pageantry and wartime musical concerts.

Mizler, who won a British Empire Games championship at Hamilton Ontario, 13 years ago beat Boon with a flickering left hand. An expressionless boxer, he refused to be hurried or flurried and he made Boon miss repeatedly. And at that he was substituting for the Jamaican champion, Lefty Flynn. The defeat showed Boon as but a shadow of the fierce little battler of a couple of years back, followed hard on a non-title Belfast bout in which Boon was knocked out in the fifth round by Tommy Armour, Northern Ireland welterweight champion. A left to the jaw did the trick before a roaring crowd of 10,000 after Boon had hit the canvas twice.

Mizler, surprising even the most optimistic, won almost every round. His left hand transfigured Boon's features into a beet color and he opened an old wound under the champion's left eye.

Immediately after the fight Boon asked for a return contest and said he was prepared to put up a side-bet of $2,200 that he would win over 10 or 12 rounds.

Over at Cardiff, Bert Jackson created the biggest surprise of the Welsh mitt season by outpointing Len Davies of Swansea. It was a surprise in that Davies within the previous weeks had taken decisions over both Ned Tarleton, British featherweight champion, and Jim Brady of Dundee, British Empire bantamweight king. Jackson, a featherweight, hit the deck for a nine-count in the third round but fought back furiously to take the decision over 10 rounds. Meanwhile, at Chesterfield, Brady took a technical knockout over Billie Doherty of Liverpool when Doherty retired in the seventh with a cut eyebrow.

WHAT ARE YOU GOING TO DO FOR YOUR WINTER FUEL?

For the past several months the City Council has been giving serious consideration to fuel prospects for the coming winter. There has been no recent improvement in the coal situation and it now appears definite that citizens will have to look to FUEL WOOD for the bulk of their heating needs.

Last April the Council set up a Fuel Committee to study possible requirements, sources of supply and quantities available, and to bring in a recommendation as to what steps should be taken to ensure an adequate supply of wood to avoid any possible fuel shortage. In its deliberations this Committee has received the closest possible co-operation from the Wood Fuel Advisory Board of the Dominion Government, and, as a result of its studies has recommended to the Wartime Prices and Trades Board that the ceiling price of 14' stove lengths of Fir, Jackpine, Spruce, Hemlock and similar woods be set at $12.50 per cord delivered. Due to present cost of production, Dominion subsidies will be necessary in order to maintain this ceiling. To reduce labour involved to a minimum, deliveries will be made in random pack loads of 168 cubic feet to the cord, which standard has been established by the Fuel Control Board.

At the request of the Fuel Committee and the Wood Fuel Advisory Board, the established local fuel dealers have agreed to pool their resources for cutting and delivery purposes, and, in order to facilitate these arrangements, are forming a separate company, to be known as The Prince Rupert Fuel Co. Plans are now proceeding rapidly and it is hoped that deliveries to houses will be commenced not later than October 15th.

Those who advised the City of their winter fuel wood requirements are asked to confirm these orders to their fuel dealer who has agreed to give such orders prior consideration.

The Council has done its part... it is now up to YOU to do YOURS

Phone your requirements immediately to YOUR REGULAR FUEL DEALER.

DO IT NOW. Orders will be on a strictly cash basis and will be filled in the exact order they are received.
