HONEL BIGT DOMINION Minister of Finance OF CANADA explains various points about Victory Bonds through this answer method

What is a VICTORY BOND?

Victory Bond is a document containing proof that you have loaned money to your country to help win the war, and containing your country's promise to return your money to you in a specified number of years, and, in addition, to pay you interest every six months on your money until it is repaid.

When will Victory Bonds be paid off?

The money you invest in a bond will be paid back to you by your country when the bond reaches its maturity date, in the same way as Victory Loan Bonds of the First World War were paid. The maturity date of each bond is clearly stated in the wording of the bond.

? Is a Victory Bond a safe investment?

A Victory Bond is the safest investment in Canada. The entire resources of the Dominion stand behind it. Canada has been issuing bonds for 75 years, and has never failed to pay every dollar of principal and interest when due.

Can I borrow money on ■ Victory Bonds?

Yes, it is very easy to obtain a loan at reasonable interest at any bank by using your Victory Bonds as security. In this case the interest on the bonds still belongs to you. It will pay a large part of the interest charges on your loan.

How is interest paid on Victory Bonds?

Interest on all bonds is payable each half year. The dates on which interest is due are stated in the wording of the bond.

Bonds in bearer form and bonds which are registered as to principal, have interest coupons as shown on the right hand side of the bond in the illustration. One of these coupons falls due each half year, the date of maturity of each coupon being shown on its face. On each interest date, you cut off the proper coupon, and take it to your bank. Any branch in Canada of any chartered bank will cash Victory Bond interest coupons without any charge to you for this service. No interest coupons are attached to bonds which are registered as to both principal and interest.

When the interest falls due on these bonds each half year, the Government of Canada mails you a cheque for the amount due. This cheque can be cashed at any branch in Canada of any chartered bank without any service charge.

What is the difference between a Bearer Bond and a Registered Bond?

Bearer Bonds may be sold at any time by any person holding them, and the interest coupons attached to these bonds are payable to any person who presents them for payment. In short, bearer bonds are almost as liquid as dollar bills.

If you own registered bonds, your name and the numbers of your bonds are kept on record at Ottawa. Registered bonds are of two kinds-(a) those registered as to principal, (b) fully registered bonds, that is, bonds registered as to both principal and interest.

In the case of a bond registered as to principal, the bond can only be sold if you sign a transfer form. However the interest coupons on these bonds are payable to any person who presents them for payment. In the case of a fully registered bond, the bond can only be sold if you sign a transfer form. Further, no interest coupons are attached to the bond. The Government pays the interest on these bonds by mailing you a cheque each half year. Bearer bonds of any denomination may be registered as to principal, and in the case of bonds of $500 or larger amounts, bearer bonds can be exchanged for fully registered bonds. Similarly, registered bonds can be exchanged at any time for bearer bonds.

The main difference between bearer bonds and registered bonds is that registered bonds give you better protection in the event that bonds are lost, stolen or destroyed.

Where should I put my bonds for safe-keeping?

As Victory Bonds in bearer form can easily be sold by anybody, you should keep them in a safety deposit box in a bank. If you have not a box of this kind, any bank will keep your bonds for you for a small annual charge.

Safe-keeping arrangements can also be made with many trust and loan companies.

If it is not convenient for you to place your bonds for safe-keeping with one of these institutions, be sure to keep them in a safe place at home, and be sure to keep a record of the serial numbers of the bonds in another place. These numbers will be valuable should the bonds be lost or destroyed at any time.

In any event if you keep your bonds at home or at your place of business, it is safer to have them in registered form.

In what denominations are Victory Bonds available?

amounts.

The longer term Victory Bonds, which are the kind most people buy, are available in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and larger amounts. Short term bonds, which are bought for the most part by business firms and corporations, are available in denominations of $1,000 and larger

Must I pay cash for Victory Bonds?

Not necessarily. Victory Bonds may be purchased for cash or on a regular instalment plan. Many employers make it easy for their employees to buy bonds through a salary deduction plan. Or you may arrange to pay the instalments through your bank.

Can Victory Bonds be sold easily?

Yes, you can sell your bonds in a ready market at any time. All you have to do is take them to any investment dealer, bank, stock broker or trust company. You will be able to get your money while you wait.

Victory Bonds are the property of their individual owners who have the right to turn them into cash at any time they may desire. When a person buys a Victory Bond, that person is making it possible for this country to get the men and material needed for war use, and is helping to fight the home front battle against inflation. When people sell their bonds they are withdrawing this help. Emergency needs for cash are legitimate reasons for selling bonds provided the person has no other forms of savings which can be used, or provided the person cannot obtain a temporary loan, to be repaid out of future income, to meet the immediate need for cash. Sales to get dollars to buy things that are not essential have not legitimate reason.

We must not only increase our voluntary savings and lend them to our country through the purchase of Victory Bonds; we must also continue to hold these securities at least until after the war, unless we need money for real emergency use. "Let us compete with our neighbours, in saving, not spending."

If there are any other questions you would like answered about Victory Bonds, ask any investment dealer, banker or Victory Loan salesman. Or if you prefer, you may write to me at Ottawa and I will see that your questions are answered.

It's Fun to Eat

Particularly in wartime we should avoid letting our approach to nutrition become too grim

Our government's nutrition program, important though it is to the prosecution of the war, is not anything to become grim about. It is not an attempt to thrust unappetising food down our throats just because it's good for us. On the contrary, all that we housewives are asked to do is to see that our families eat every day certain basic protective foodsfoods which we were accustomed to eating anyway, though not always in sufficient quantities or with sufficient regularity.

But the nutrition expert is the first to say that if the food is not appetizing and interesting, we won't benefit from it as much as we should. That is why it is such a challenge to us women of Canada in a time of shortage such as the present, to use our ingenuity to prepare nutritionally correct meals that are at the same time both interesting and appetizing.

You will find my book "Meat Complete" a real help in solving these wartime problems. If you haven't yet received a copy, do drop me a line-with 10¢ to cover mailing and handling costs-care of Swift Canadian Co. Limited; Dept. NE 14, Toronto.

Navy, their team shuffled about trying to get organized, came close on several occasions. Hilder and Irving, with Hanson at inside, showed signs of some fine teamwork on breakaway but bottled themselves up as they drew near the Air Force territory. The Air Force fullbacks, Novak and Smith, kept their goal-minder, Watson, Italian. Fisher wound up the scoring for matches where I'm going? putting the game safely tucked epitaph:
