Russians May Cross Dnieper In Force

Loss of Important Bridgehead Is Imminent; Kremenchug Due to Fall

More Than Thousand Villages are Liberated by Drive into White Russia.

LONDON, Sept. 29 (CP)—Capture of Kremenchug, one of the few remaining escape bridgeheads across the Dnieper River for the retreating Nazis in the Ukraine, appeared imminent today as the Russians pressed a three-prong drive on the city from the east, south and north. Capture of Kremenchug would afford the Russians a strategic point at which to cross the Dnieper in force and flank concentrations of Germans defending Dnieperpetrovsk to the west.

Moscow reported the capture of more than one thousand villages in the drive into White Russia.

Mussolini Speaks Back

LONDON, Sept. 29 (CP)—Axis broadcasts indicated last night that Benito Mussolini, protected by his own troops, has gone back to Rome and taken nominal control of the "Fascist republic" carved out so hastily by German bayonets after Italy's

And Liberal Convention

OTTAWA, Sept. 29 (CP)—The National Liberal Federation adopted a new executive and a new program at the convention completed here last night. A series of resolutions were adopted but were not made public. An official said that they would be made public later. Senator Wishart Robertson of Halifax was elected president.

Warns Against Losing Freedom

PRINCE GEORGE, Sept. 29 (CP)—Mayor-General R. L. Maitland, in an address to the State George Board of Trade last night warned against unbridled state control, declaring that once freedom of life and enterprise were lost, it was seldom regained.

CANADIANS LAND UNOPPOSED ON ITALY'S BEACHES

Donkey House at Nash Assembly Yard of Hanson Timber & Lumber Co. Burns.

Pole yarding operations of the Hanson Timber & Lumber Co. at the Nash assembly yard near Skeena Crossing have been temporarily disorganized as a result of the destruction by fire at 3 o'clock yesterday morning of the steam donkey house which contained two donkey engines which were used in hauling poles out of the river from the booming ground. The cause of the fire is unknown.

The crew in the Nash yard, numbering about fifty men, is standing by pending reorganization of operations. Gas donkeys have been secured so the work may be proceeded with. There are many poles in the river following the recent drive. There was no insurance. Not knowing definitely the extent of destruction, Olaf Hanson is so far unable to estimate the exact loss.

Instead of bitter battles on the beaches of Italy as they expected — and as the American Fifth army encountered at Salerno — Canadian troops who took part in the first assault on the Italian mainland found little or no opposition from German or Italian defenders. At top the Canucks are shown pouring ashore from landing craft bringing their transports with them. Shortly after they landed Italian prisoners were rolling in, many of them giving up without a fight. A group of Italian soldiers, perhaps foreseeing the capitulation of their government, are pictured below carrying a white flag as they seek Allied troops to whom they can surrender.

CONTINUING EMERGENCY

Wood Will Have to be Increasingly Used in View of Coal Diversion.

"I want to bring out the point that we look upon the present fuel situation not as an emergency of a few months," said F.W. Wilfert, regional wood fuel production officer, Wartime Prices and Trade Board, who was in the city this week to assist in organizing local wood fuel supply. "It's here for some time to come and any plans laid are with that thought in mind. As hostilities increase in the Pacific, more coal and oil will be needed and it is to prepare the citizens of Prince Rupert for such an event that the local fuel committee and dealers are to be commended for their co-operation with the Dominion Wood Fuel Control in arranging for wood fuel to come to the city.

"It is up to the citizens to do their share. They should buy some wood for insurance when their coal supply drops off. They should not be too particular. Wood is wood. Those that can store it in the basement should do so. Those who cannot should pile it up outside and cover it. "Wood cannot be shipped to our armed services up north in Alaska and out in the Pacific. Coal can be so shipped and, with the reduction of output from the mines, coal will be diverted from areas accessible to wood. Prince Rupert is one of those areas.

"I feel sure the people living along the railway to the interior will respond to the production of wood for the city. "The Dominion government is prepared to do its part in transportation subsidy in order to hold the wood at the present ceiling price. "The coal situation is the more serious owing to the threatened strike," Mr. Wilfert observed.

Aircraft, Naval Vessels, Police and Fishing Boats Search For Local Yacht

Royal Canadian Air Force aircraft, naval vessels, provincial police and fishing boats have been engaged since yesterday in a general search for the 56-foot Prince Rupert motor launch Full Moon which has been missing since last Saturday between Porcher Island and Prince Rupert and for the safety of which and those on board increasing anxiety is now admitted. Those on board the Full Moon are Dr. William S. Kergin and Mrs. Kergin and two children and Mary Margaret Bulger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bulger, and Peggy Pullen, daughter of Mrs. H. F. Pullen.

The Full Moon left Prince Rupert on September 18 with Snug Cove, Welcome Harbor, Porcher Island, 28 miles out, as its destination. Dr. Kergin planning a week's rest. He was expected to return on September 25 but conditions were such that day that it was felt he might not have essayed the trip in. On Monday the halibut boat Atili, Capt. William Bussey, went out to Snug Cove and reported no sign of the Full Moon having been there. Yesterday the provincial police boat went out and naval vessels and aircraft started co-operating. Dr. L. W. Kergin, uncle of the missing doctor, himself went yesterday afternoon on an air reconnaissance which took in all waters in the vicinity of Porcher Island but without success in obtaining any clue of the whereabouts of boat or party.

All fishing vessels were asked today to keep a look-out for the Full Moon, a 56-foot vessel with white hull and yellow funnel, and report as soon as possible to Prince Rupert. The Full Moon is one of the most familiar vessels along the coast. Formerly owned as a service boat by the Surf Inlet Mining Co. she was purchased years ago by Dr. W. T. Kergin, now of Vancouver, father of Dr. W. S. Kergin, by whom she was acquired a couple of years ago, since having been at Ocean Falls and later at Prince Rupert.

Six Airmen Are Killed

Result of Plane Crash in Alaska. Three of Crew From B.C.

VANCOUVER, Sept. 29 (CP)—Six members of the Royal Canadian Air Force were killed Saturday when their aircraft crashed at a station in Alaska. The R. C. A. F. announced that the victims included LAC Robert Haslett and LAC Harry Harvey of Vancouver, and Pilot Officer John Gordon Merae of Agassiz B. C. The others were not named. No details of the crash were announced.

Bulletins

KING PETER IN CAIRO — King Peter of Yugoslavia has arrived here, accompanied by his Premier, minister of foreign affairs and commander of the army.

Jap Base Fall Due

Capture of Finschhafen Expected Momentarily — Heavy Bombing of Wewak, New Guinea

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Sept. 29 (CP)—The Australians have advanced to within one mile of the Japanese base at Finschhafen, New Guinea, and report of its capture may be expected momentarily. Allied headquarters reported today. Wewak, next important Japanese base up the New Guinea coast, was pounded Monday by Allied aircraft. More than sixty planes of the enemy were destroyed, eight of them in air fights, and three tankers and four merchant ships were sunk in the harbor.

Must Keep Full Peace

Prime Minister Churchill Warns Against any Slackening up in War Effort.

LONDON, Sept. 29 (CP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill told six thousand British women Tuesday that the full war effort must be maintained without let-up through two more years if necessary and warned that apathy or slackening of peace would bring new dangers. Mr. Churchill said that larger armies and more powerful air forces would be striking at the enemy during the forthcoming year.

Dissatisfied With Military Service

Skeena River Indians Want Commissioner to Discuss Grievance.

SKEENA CROSSING, Sept. 29 —Moses Jones of Skeena Crossing, vice-president of the Native Brotherhood of British Columbia, has communicated with Andrew Paul of Vancouver asking him to invite Indian Commissioner D. M. MacKay to come to Hazelton to meet the representatives of seven villages in Skeena district. The calling up of young natives for military service is still a matter of grievance.

General Advance Along Entire Front Between Either Coast of Italy

British and Americans Take Possession of Last Hills and are Now Moving Across Plains—In Control of Sorrento Peninsula.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Sept. 29 (CP)—The Anglo-American Fifth Army has driven the Germans from last mountain positions above Salerno and is pursuing the enemy on the plain within fifteen miles of Naples the fall of which appeared today to be imminent. The Nazis were in general retreat, leaving the Allies in complete possession of Sorrento Peninsula which separates the Bay of Naples from the Gulf Salerno. In a final drive to oust the enemy from strong mountain positions, the Allies captured Nocera, vital road centre of the coastal plain leading to Naples, and Castellamare, important naval base on the southern shore of Naples Bay.

In London the British Press Association said it had learned that the Fifth Army had entered Pompeii, only thirteen air line miles from Naples. Meanwhile there was a general advance on the entire front, extending across Italy from coast to coast as the British Eighth Army at the eastern end of the line also moved forward.

COMMANDER CREE HERE

New Naval Officer-in-Charge at Prince Rupert Arrives Today to Assume Duties.

Commander Charles M. Cree R. C. N. arrived in the city today from Victoria to assume the post of naval officer-in-charge at Prince Rupert, succeeding Commander D. C. Wallace D. S. C. R. C. N. R. who is proceeding to a new appointment after visiting Halifax on leave. Commander Cree was in the battleships Illustrious and Erin in the last war and saw considerable action including the Battle of Jutland. Then he went to the minesweepers and later take considerable special instruction and had a variety of appointments. He retired from the Royal Navy as a Lieutenant-commander in 1927 and went cattle ranching in New Mexico and later gold mining in California and Arizona. The outbreak of the present war saw him back in the Navy.

SERIES OF SOFTBALL

Special Knockout Competition For Service League is Awarded

When the Prince Rupert Service Softball League finals are completed it will not mark the end of the softball season since a special knock-out series will be staged following the Air Force-versus-Station Complement engagements. These two teams are scheduled to play a best-of-three games series starting this week.

Object of the knockout tilts is to give the clubs which made a poor start in the 22-team Service League but who finished strong and just missed the playoffs a crack at the top nine.

The knock-out series is expected to include the first six teams in the league standings Air Force, Station Complement, Americans, Dry Docks, Quartermasters and Navy and Ontario Regiment and Coast Battery.

Meanwhile, the finals should provide some fine ball games. Crymble has been the Air Force's mound artist while Nigro has been the mainstay of the Stationers pitching corps. Both are effective, cagey, and also wield a potent bat. The former starred in Toronto softball circles not so long ago while the latter has been pitched for Station Complement last season.

MIDLANDS

In spite of tire and gas shortages, revenue from the Cobourg tourist camp this year exceeded all expectations. It is expected that the sum will reach $450, whereas in their estimates the Parks Board entered the sum of $300.

Churches in Cobourg have been asked to cut their use of fuel by twenty per cent in an effort to help out the tightened fuel situation.

Sgt. Frank Taylor, Royal Canadian Air Force, Toronto, spent his furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Taylor.

Miss Beth Gutteridge of Cobourg has received word through the International Red Cross that Sgt. George D. Menzies of the Royal Canadian Air Force, a flight engineer, was killed when his plane crashed in Germany on May 5. He had been previously reported as missing.

ACTIVITIES OF Y.M.C.A. AND Y.W.C.A.

By DOROTHY GARBUTT

Monday evening I attended a very charming wedding when one of our oldest Y friends, Paul Lauret, was married to Ivy Roots of Vancouver. Ivy has been here for a few weeks now and has made a great many friends in Prince Rupert. The church was filled with persons from the three services and later we all went back to the Empress for the reception. Ivy looked so pretty with her golden hair, pale blue frock and flower corsage. Funny thing, but I have an idea that Paul is proud of her! At any rate he looked one of the happiest men alive. During the evening the toast to the bride was given by Captain Branton to which the groom responded. Then Captain Miller, the padre who officiated at the ceremony, gave a few words of humorous advice and wished them well. Stoker Gordon Johnson introduced each speaker and was an excellent master of ceremonies. The three-tiered cake, made and decorated by two service men, was cut by the bride with her husband's bayonet. After refreshments the evening was spent in dancing. It's a long time since I've danced at a wedding and somehow the old saying "It'll dance at your wedding" seemed to have a new meaning—a meaning that includes hospitality, friendship and fun. And this wedding was all of these things. We all wish you much happiness, Mr. and Mrs. Lauret!

And talking of weddings, next week there is to be a wedding at Air Force Group when one of the WD's is marrying an R.C.A.F. sergeant. So as soon as I knew the date I'll be sending out another call for flowers. The wedding is to be at Group and the WD's are planning the reception.

The past week we have had to review the Wednesday night dance situation and, in order to control the number of persons who come (we can only accept 150 men) we are allowing only enlisted men in any of the forces. We can no longer accommodate the ATS personnel as heretofore. We feel that, as they call in at various ports, they have more variety of entertainment than the men who are posted indefinitely in Rupert. Sorry boys, but that's how it is!

On the 29th, 30th and 1st we are showing a travelling photographic exhibit at the Hut and extend an invitation to civilians who are interested to come in and view it. We hope of course, that all the service people who have not already seen it will take this opportunity of doing so.

There will be a Highway Camp dance this Friday. Y.W.C.A. chaperones representing the Order of the Eastern Star will be Mrs. Garrett and Mrs. Boulter. Hostesses will meet at the Y as usual.

EYES VALUABLE

Accidental eye losses cost industry about $50,000,000 a year.

Mr. Maitland Speaks . . .

Referring no doubt to some tendencies which are to be seen in this country today, Attorney General R. L. Maitland, speaking before the Prince George Board of Trade last night, warned against unbridled state control, declaring that, once freedom of life and enterprise was lost, it was seldom regained. People of Prince Rupert have had instances of such very things as those to which Mr. Maitland no doubt refers. More than once have we had to protest against attempts to restrict the very liberties and privileges for the maintenance of which we are fighting a war. It has been rightly said that we should not run the risk of losing democracy at home when we fight abroad for its maintenance.

It is encouraging when public men of the standing and integrity as the attorney general come out with forthright statements such as Mr. Maitland's. He is to be commended on so doing.

The Fuel Situation . . .

If people are not taking steps to protect themselves from the cold of the coming winter, it is not because they are not receiving sufficient warning about an inevitable fuel shortage and suggested measures to meet it. The impending coal miners' strike and the difficulty of obtaining manpower necessary to produce wood fuel makes the situation look blacker. In spite of that, however, if every person acts sensibly and endeavours to be somewhat forearmed, we should all be able to get by even though we must, it appears, be prepared to get along with a little less heat than would be available in more normal times.

Here in Prince Rupert we are told in an interview today from a government fuel official that we will have to substitute wood for coal to some degree this winter as the coal supply will not be available for our use. The wise person is the one who takes steps now to put in the odd cord of wood as soon as it is available to augment such coal as it may be possible to secure.

Action to make living places warmer other than by use of fuel should also be taken without further delay.

Air Force Publication . . .

A copy of "Slipway," local Royal Canadian Air Force publication, has come to the editor's desk and it is a pleasure for us to comment favorably on the twenty page brochure which, from the standpoint of technical production, is the best thing that any of the services here have yet turned out. Nor is it only that for the editorial, commentarial and news content is also of creditable and at the same time versatile quality. "Slipway" sets an example which might be emulated by publications emanating from other service sources some of which are as asinine as they are unlevelling.

BUT THIS..."

SAYS REDDY KILOWATT

3 simple ways to get the most light from lamps

1. Keep lamps and bulbs free from dust... Clean them frequently with a damp cloth, removing bulbs and reflector bowls before washing or cleaning.
2. Use light shades... Dark shades or ones which have turned yellow inside deprive you of precious light adding up to as much as 50%. Brush shades weekly to remove dust.
3. Place lamps where they will be most useful... It isn't necessary to have a lamp for each person, but place each light so that everyone can benefit equally. Avoid glare or dark corners that cause sharp contrasts.

Reddy Says: "Speaking of protection—don't forget the boys who are protecting our lives and liberty! Write them regularly!"

Too many people strain their eyes reading in dimly-lit rooms—and before they know it, they're wearing glasses. So look to your light and protect your sight when your eyes feel strained and tense. Notice how your nerves relax when there's enough light to brighten the whole room evenly!

"Du Barry Was a Lady" Coming As Three-Day Feature to Capitol Theatre.

Lovely girls, lilting hot tunes by Tommy Dorsey's popular orchestra, lavish production settings and technicolor filming make "Du Barry Was a Lady," feature offering on the Capitol Theatre screen here this Thursday, Friday and Saturday, a picture that is said to be replete with entertainment value. With Red Skelton, Lucille Ball and Gene Kelly as its stars, "Du Barry Was a Lady" concerns itself with the dream of a checkroom attendant in a night club who is in love with the glamorous star of the floor show. He dreams he is King Louis and that she is Madame DuBarry. His friends and associates of the club become characters in the adventures of the king and the chamber. Amid comical complications, Red foils a plot against him and then wakes up to find the path to true love.

Skelton is said to have never been funnier and Miss Ball, in gorgeous gowns, never more alluring. Gene Kelly is good as the empty-handed entertainer with whom the king's mistress is really in love. Zero Mostel, Broadway comedian, makes his debut on the screen and Virginia O'Brien, dead pan singer, warbles catchy songs. Rags Ragland and Donald Meek aid in the funmaking.

OUR TURN NOW

A year ago we were wondering what HITLER was going to do. Today he is wondering what WE are going to do next. Yes, the tide is turning but the war is far from won. This is no time to let down, it is time to accelerate our efforts. Young physically fit men and women should be in the Army. Those who are not fit for active duty should, if possible, be in the Reserve — the Rangers — the A.R.P. — Red Cross — Salvage Corps, or the like. Everybody should be in this war, young and old, men and women, in order to assure victory.

Tells About Better Land

End of Sin on Earth Will Come After Millennium, Evangelist Says.

The controversy between right and wrong will be eternally settled on this earth and when God puts an end to sin at the end of the Millennium it will never rise up again declared Evangelist F. T. Balmer in the Oddfellows' Hall.

"Our little world will be honored above all other worlds in the universe of God," declared the evangelist. "It will be on this earth when it is made new that God Himself will dwell with men—men and women in whose lives God has had first place while living on this present earth.

"A most remarkable description of the new earth, its capital city, New Jerusalem, and the class of inhabitants that will be there is given by the prophet John in Rev. 21. The beloved disciple John saw the great city coming down from God out of heaven.

"The Mount of Olives which shall be removed and the great valley thus made will be the resting place of the great metropolis of the new earth. Zech. 14:4.

"Over each one of the twelve gates is inscribed the name of each of the twelve tribes of Israel. Through these gates the redeemed of all ages will enter, and the kings of the earth will bring their glory and honor into it." The speaker believed that these kings will be none other than the twelve disciples who left all to follow Jesus while here on earth. He quoted Matt. 19:28 in which Jesus said of those disciples that they would sit upon twelve thrones judging (governing) the twelve tribes of (spiritual) Israel. In that city the inhabitants of the world will gather to hold weekly and monthly convocations (Isa. 66: 23).

In closing the evangelist illustrated with slides the beauties of that better land in which the righteous will dwell in beautiful homes, plant vineyards, eat the fruit thereof and ever enjoy the work of their hands, thus fulfilling God's original program in the creation of this world and man.

WM. IRVINE HEARD AGAIN

C.C.F. Speaker Replies to Criticisms Heard Against Socialism

Speaking before the second public meeting he has addressed in the course of his current visit to Prince Rupert, William Irvine, former Member of Parliament and presently organizer of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation in Alberta, gave his reply to several objections which he said were often made to the Socialistic movement.

Capitalism, Mr. Irvine declared, rather than being responsible for world advancement, had actually stood in the way of progress. However, the opportunity to achieve great things for society was at hand. "When the war is finished and we have victory, we will have the chance to do what must be done," declared the speaker. In spite of abuses, there was no desire to disturb the situation at the present critical moment. However, it was fitting to be thinking and preparing for the future.

The C. C. F. believed in capital as the production of wealth but it was possible to have capital without capitalists—the few in whose hands the profits fell through exploitation of the necessities of the masses. Capital, Mr. Irvine defined as the surplus between what the worker works for and what he gets. The capitalists under the present system drained this surplus from the workers.

In Russia it had been shown how a great nation working together could produce its own capital for the organization of its industrial development.

In Canada, the speaker declared, the industrialists had written the policies of every government the Dominion had had, the parties being interlocked in the web of financial economy.

Capitalism—the system of the owners and those who worked for and depended on the owners had produced unemployment, poverty, crime, starvation and slow death. Production had always been held to a volume less than was needed to give a comfortable living in order to maintain the profit system for the few.

The final and worst product of capitalism on the international scale was war—in which "our children are given because of the competition for surplus which we ourselves have produced."

Even under socialism, however, Mr. Irvine said, no person should have the right to get back from society more than what he had put in to it. Two parties to deal or barter could not make a profit at the same time.

There was no necessity for a continuation of the system whereby the many paid profit to the few. There was no cure for capitalism but in its death. There was no half way course. There was the opportunity of the putting of socialism into effect by constitutional means. If that was done there was only the alternative of bloody revolution.

By the people owing and operating together, the personal incentive which the capitalists said would be lost under socialism could be certainly maintained.

"If democracy cannot run the industries and governments, then we are fighting on the wrong side in this war," declared Mr. Irvine.

James Nicoll presided over last night's meeting which was well attended.

THE BATTLE OF, BY AND for the GUNS!

Without firearms, the victory cannot be won. Our men must face with equal or superior weapons the modern armed foe. And our men must have all they need. So the battle for guns—great and small automatic guns—grows in intensity, as the battle of and by guns rages hotter and fiercer.

Canadian workers in scores of factories are toiling day and night to produce these weapons. Great quantities are coming off the assembly lines—Lee-Enfield rifles, Bren guns, Bofors anti-aircraft guns, Vickers machine guns, heavy anti-tank guns, trench mortars, light artillery, heavy field pieces, coastal defence cannon. What an inspiring battle for guns our men and women workers are fighting!
