BIG SEINER IS MISSING

B. C. Star, Under Charter To R.C.A.F., Lost With Nineteen on Board

VANCOUVER, Aug. 13 (CP)—It became known last night that the 67-foot former seine-boat and packer B.C. Star was missing on a voyage in Hecate Straits and was believed lost while carrying fifteen Royal Canadian Air Force men and four passengers. Two drifting lifeboats were found. The next of kin have been advised.

The B. C. Star was being used in plying coastal waters as a supply boat by the Royal Canadian Air Force. She has been missing for several days and, despite a widespread search, no trace of the vessel itself has yet been found, an official Air Force statement said Thursday night.

The statement said that the search will be continued until the boat is found or is positively known to have foundered.

Eight of the fifteen men on board were from British Columbia and seven from other parts of Canada. None are from the Prince Rupert area.

Although search was conducted out of here for the B. C. Star, no statement is obtainable from the Air Force at this point. The B. C. Star was not operating out of here.

Playing Politics . . .

Judged by the prepared statement he issued to the press we fear that Hon. R. L. Maitland, Attorney General in the Coalition government of this province, has not detected the real significance of the electorate's verdict in Ontario, comments the Victoria Times. British Columbia's first law officer is obviously delighted at the success which the Progressive Conservative Party has scored. Nobody will seek to deny him the right to express his personal views on this or any other subject under the sun—so long as he does not lose sight of the importance of the portfolio he holds by virtue of an electoral verdict which placed the Liberal Party of this province in precisely the same position as that now confronting Colonel Drew in Ontario.

Mr. Maitland is especially pleased because Colonel Drew emphasized throughout the campaign the necessity of preserving British institutions and strengthening the British partnership. This is not a new theme with the Attorney General; he has long believed that the Conservative Party is the heaven-sent custodian of the Empire tie, that its sanctity is exposed to all kinds of skullduggery in other political hands. Surely this poppycock is out of date. Only a little more than three years ago Mr. Maitland was appearing on Tory platforms in the federal election campaign approving a 100 per cent increase in the price of Canadian wheat to the British importer—at a time when the people of the United Kingdom were getting ready for the bitterest trial of their long history. We could recite many other samples of the Attorney General's inconsistencies in this regard. But we will spare him.

The verdict in Ontario should underscore, for the special benefit of Mr. Maitland and the rest of the Coalition ministry, the important fact that the C.C.F. Party has set its mind on winning the next general election in this province. Whether it succeeds or fails will depend upon what the Liberals and Conservatives—who are supposed to have jettisoned their political differences—propose to do about it. The statement of the Attorney General to which we have referred will certainly not deter the opposition.

The Real War Object . . .

While the realists of our generation are engaged in fighting and winning the war on the battle lines and on the home front, the planning of the peace seems to have been preempted—at least temporarily, by the idealists and the opportunists, who are working for a new order. These people are in a decided minority but they are highly vocal. They make promises which, under normal conditions, we would know could not be fulfilled during the stress of post-war readjustment. But, because abler men are now concerned with the immediate present, the idealists and the opportunists are in some measure diverting public attention from first principles.

The real reason that we in the British Empire are fighting this war seems to be in danger of being forgotten. We did not enter the war in order that we might formulate a new economic system. We entered the war to save the world that was ours and the rights and privileges which had been hard won through generation after generation.

Much as we hated war we loved our freedom more. In spite of the maladjustments following the last war we had what millions of people in Europe and Asia did not have and a degree of freedom under democratic government which had never in all history been equalled. We had a record of continuous improvement in social legislation and while there was place for still further advances in working and living conditions, our entire history was an assurance that the necessary changes would come.

That is what we are actually fighting for although the idealists and the opportunists are seeking to make capital by belittling the world as we knew it in 1939. They are doing their utmost to sow the seeds of discontent in minds that are furrowed and ravaged by war. They offer the mirage of a bright new world at a time when our first necessity is the winning of the war. They confuse the serious problem of post-war readjustment by offering economic cure-all of dubious merit.

There is no need to turn back the clock, for after all we are four years older than we were in 1939; but when it comes to planning our post-war future we could do very much worse than use 1939 as a base to start off from. It was 1939 when we last had all of those things for which this nation is now fighting.—The Printed Word.

ACTIVITIES OF Y.M.C.A. AND Y.W.C.A.

By Chester Le Maistre

Gosh I had a shock this morning. I wakened up and looked at the calendar and lo—Friday August 13th! I quickly buried by head beneath the pillows in order to plan a course of action for this most fateful of days, only to waken up an hour later refreshed but none the wiser as to plan of action. Then I began to think about this column. This was the final decision. I have hereby solemnly resolved not to write any column today because whatever I do or say is bound to be the wrong thing.

The only right thing I can think of for today is the dance tonight at the Navy Drill Hall to which of course the hostesses are invited and expected. These Navy dances are always a lot of fun. I hope you'll all be there.

Then there is a little notice about the "Y" wives club meeting held yesterday. It was most successful with eleven members and ten children present. Mrs. Adam and Mrs. Chaplin served tea and Mrs. Valen donated the raffle which was won by Mrs. Dewar.

Now these are the only things of which I am sure today. So for the column I shall stick to these truths.

For the remainder of the day I am going to be very careful of my actions—and I would suggest that you do the same—a cautious farewell for now.

Because of a shortage of metals the Canadian Army has cancelled the collar badges as an article of issue for warrant officers. N. C. O.'s and men.

The tallest man in the Canadian Army is six feet 11 inches. He is 41 inches around the chest, 36 at the waist and his length of leg is listed at 38 inches.

Rejected applicants for enlistment in the Canadian Active Army are interviewed at reception centres by representatives of National Selective Service and directed into essential occupations where possible.

LETTERBOX

NEW COMMUNIST CLUB

Editor, Daily News: I would like to submit the following letter on behalf of the recently formed club of the new party of Communists of Prince Rupert.

This letter is not written with the intention of provoking further controversy between the C.C.F. and the Communists. It is simply a voice from the left wing angle on the matter dealt with by Mr. Turner of the C.C.F. in his recent speech in this city.

Mr. Turner made some statements here against the Communists, statements both bitter and incorrect, and we consider it necessary to contradict some of them.

He stated among other things, that the Communists are engaged in "political scabbing" in proposing the formation of a new party of Communists. It must be stated in this connection that the Communist movement did not enter into the political field for the purpose of breaking up other Labor parties, certainly not to break up the C.C.F. party. The fact can be pointed out that when the C.C.F. party was organized in 1933, the Communist party of Canada had been established for 12 years since 1921 and could well have raised the objection that the C.C.F. are doing now: "Why organize a party of Socialists when we already have a party entrenched in every province of Canada?" But we realized then that the C.C.F. represented a different school of socialistic thought from ours and, although we do not believe entirely in the theories of what we prefer to call Social Democracy, we were realists enough to understand and not question the political rights of the people who wished to follow the C.C.F. doctrines.

Not at this, or any time, do Communists wish to create more friction in the camps of Labor. We realize the urgent need of Labor unity for the present and the post-war problems and we will struggle for it in the future as we have done in the past. But we do not believe that we must abandon our theories and our rights to continue to organize so the new Party of Communists is being organized here in Prince Rupert as well as in all cities and towns in Canada.

The Communist movement is well entrenched in every country and is growing steadily in Canada. It can well be understood why reactionaries direct their main attacks against the Communists. The Fascist elements are, in most instances, the spearhead of these attacks but it seems to us that a Labor party like the C.C.F. should refrain from joining in these attacks. In conclusion, let us quote a few words from Tim Buck's reply to Harold Winch's attack: "Our contribution to the democratic development in Canada would be most effective if we could work in co-operation with these leftward moving progressives who constitute the membership of the C.C.F. Their aspirations coincide to a marked degree with ours and we could march a long way forward to the advantage of Canada and the working class."

Thanking you for your valuable space.

W. H. LEWIS,
Acting Sec. of the New Party of Communists of Prince Rupert.

Navy Barrage Slays Reserves

Shorthanded Navy Team Scored Heavily in Soccer Game

In last night's soccer fracas at the Acropolis grounds a small but determined band of Navy men, a veritable upstart of a team composed of only seven players, polished off the Machine Gun Reserve eleven, and there were eleven in the best Horatio Alger tradition. The final arithmetic showed a score of Navy 7, Reserve 2.

The game itself ended with the courteous score of 2-2 and then it was decided to have a spot of overtime. During that spell Navy went wild, popping five of the best into the Reserve goal. Navy's vitality seemed to disorganize Reserve to the extent that, instead of being a team, they resembled eleven strangers on a prairie. Those final five goals were easy pickings for Navy.

Star of the game was Navy's tough little Scotsman, Rae.

2 lbs. tart apples (9 cups, cut)
1 lb. green plums (2 cups, cut, pitted and well packed)
2-3 cup corn syrup juice and coarsely-grated rind of one lemon (optional)
1 and 1/2 cups water
1 and 1-3 cups sugar

Method—Wash fruit. Remove stems and blossom ends from apples, cut in pieces and leave skins on. Cut plums, pit, and measure. Place all in kettle, add water, boil until tender (10 to 15 minutes). Put mixture through a coarse sieve, add sugar, corn syrup, lemon juice and rind. Bring to a boil; boil gently until thick and clear (35 to 40 minutes) stirring often. (This recipe thickens considerably when cold.)
Yield—Approximately 2 pints (wine measure).

All ranks of the Canadian Army, both overseas and in Canada, are being re-examined under the new Pulhems medical classification system.

The Experts Say - - -

SALADS AND FRUITS—Raw vegetable salad and fresh fruits should take a prominent place on Canadian dinner tables this summer. Marion Harlow of the Health Department's nutrition service says those foods provide the ammunition which helps you resist such home-front foes as the common cold, sore throat and other minor ailments which go toward sabotaging working efficiency.

BABY WELFARE—The Prices Board has the welfare of Canadian babies at heart. Proof of their interest was shown in the recent order restricting the sale of canned fruits and vegetables which specifically exempted the strained foods that go to make up the diet of babies from six to 16 months.

THE COFFEE RATION—Now that a large percentage of the country's tea drinkers have become coffee consumers, the chances of increasing Canada's coffee ration are extremely slim. R. T. Mohan, Prices Board administrator of tea, coffee and spices, says that coffee consumption has risen more than 15 per cent over the pre-war normal, while tea consumption has declined almost 50 per cent.

SOUR MILK—The Agriculture Department says that just because milk and cream sour quickly in hot weather is no excuse for waste. Sour milk and cream is grand for baking and may be substituted in any cake, cookie, biscuit, muffin or griddle cake recipe—if you know the rules. And here they are, as given by Laura C. Pepper, chief of the department's consumer section:
 Use one cup sour milk or cream to replace one cup sweet milk. For each cup of sour milk used, decrease the amount of baking powder called for by two teaspoons and add one-half teaspoon baking soda. The soda must be added to the dry ingredients, not to the sour milk.
 If sour cream is being used to replace sweet milk in a recipe, the rules for decreasing the baking powder and adding the soda are the same but because cream contains so much more fat than milk, the amount of fat in the recipe can be cut by two to three tablespoons for each cup of cream used. An additional two tablespoons of liquid (sweet milk or water) will be needed for each cup of sour cream to give the proper consistency.

PLAYSUITS—Do father's red flannels go for dusts and scrub cloths? They needn't, says the prices board consumer branch, if you follow the suggestion of a prairie mother. She wrote that the union suits took to dye successfully and when the desired shade was reached could be cut into small boys' woolen suits, with long-sleeved pullovers and shorts. As for a pattern, an old suit may be used successfully.

Reveille at the C.W.A.C. barracks in Edmonton is sounded with peppy tunes of a popular morning radio program "piped" to loudspeakers in each hut of the camp.

BEAUTIFUL MARRIAGE
 Miss Betty Borland Becomes Bride of Robert Benton of Royal Canadian Air Force

St. Andrew's Cathedral was the setting for a beautiful late summer wedding on Thursday at 8 o'clock in the evening when Robert Charles Benton, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Benton of Innisfail, Alberta, was united in marriage to Elizabeth (Betty) Jean Borland, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David G. Borland of Prince Rupert. The ceremony was performed by the Very Rev. Dean J. B. Gibson, assisted by Flight Lieut. O. L. Springborn, Royal Canadian Air Force padre.

The altar was beautifully decorated with white gladioli and snapdragons. Baskets of white Shasta daisies were placed at the steps to the chancel.

The bride made a lovely picture as she entered the church on the arm of her father to the strains of Wedding March from "Lohegrin," played by the organist, Peter Lien. Her gown of starlit embossed organza over ivory satin was modelled on Princess lines with bouffant skirt and fitted bodice. A full length veil misted softly from a circlet of orange blossoms and she carried a beautiful bouquet of white gladioli, white heather and sweetheart roses.

Four charming attendants were in pastel shades. The Maid of Honor, Miss Evelyn Gulliford of Nanaimo, in orchid net, and Mary Queen of Scots headdress to match, carried a bouquet of peach gladioli, snap dragons and baby mums.

The bridesmaids, Miss Joyce Gillett in peach, and Miss Laurel Mahood, in pale green, wore similarly designed gowns of net with matching hats of the net in poke bonnet style and carried bouquets of peach gladioli, mauve asters and cream carnations.

Little Miss Ann Borland, junior bridesmaid, young sister of the bride, was sweet in a long white organdy dress. She wore a poke bonnet of white straw with peach streamers and carried a colonial bouquet of rosebuds and candy tuft in her lace mittened hands.

The groom was attended by Sgt. Gordon Butler, R.C.A.F. as groomsman and ushers were Corporal Bert Schroepfer, United States Army and Corporal Fred Armstrong, R.C.A.F.

During the signing of the register, Dr. R. G. Large sang "Oh Day of Golden Promise," accompanied by Peter Lien on the organ.

Later in the evening a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Fourth Avenue East. The guests were received by Mrs. D. G. Borland, mother of the bride, and the groom's mother, Mrs. C. E. Benton.

A beautiful three-tiered wedding cake was cut by the bride and refreshments were served from a lace covered table, centred with a bowl of pale pink roses and white tapers.

Mrs. J. A. Hinton and Mrs. R. G. Large poured and Mrs. Arnold Platen and Mrs. C. E. Elkins assisted in the dining room. Serviteurs were Mrs. A. St. John, Mrs. J. Westover, Miss Helen Brown and Miss Alma Dybhavn.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Dr. R. G. Large and suitably responded to by the groom. Arnold Platen proposed a toast to the bridesmaids to which Sgt. Gordon Matler replied.

Corporal and Mrs. Benton left for Vancouver and Vancouver Island, the bride travelling in a very smart three piece costume of MacArthur Rose wool, with navy and white accessories and wearing a corsage of gardenias. The couple will return to Prince Rupert to reside.

One of the latest to enlist in the C.W.A.C., Kathleen Wilson, of Hamilton, has a husband and six brothers in the Army.

WARNING
 SCARCE NEXT WINTER !!!

Prepare your home now for adequate warmth with smaller fuel consumption
TO SAVE COAL CHECK THESE POINTS

- HOW TO GET MORE HEAT
 Pipes and furnaces must be clean, and grates in good order. If one or two rooms are hard to heat, you are wasting fuel. A minor adjustment can probably remedy this. Have a competent man check your heating system, and make necessary repairs. Insulate your furnace and pipes where necessary.
- HOW TO AVOID HEAT LOSSES
 Storm windows and doors must fit snugly and be weatherstripped. Lack of storm windows can cause as much as 20% heat loss. Caulking should be done around windows, doors and in cracks in brick work (some hardware stores have caulking guns for rent). Broken glass should be replaced, and loose panes putted. Small expenditures on such work will save much fuel.
- HOW TO SAVE STILL MORE
 You can save fuel and money by having your home properly insulated. It is a proven fact that in many homes lack of adequate insulation (including storm windows) results in unnecessary consumption of fuel—up to as much as 50%. Watch for later instructions on how to fire your furnace properly.

HAVE YOUR HOME INSPECTED FOR HEATING AND INSULATION DEFECTS

Get advice now! Skilled workmen and supplies are scarce. If you delay in getting your home ready for winter you may not be able to get the services you need!
