British Bombs Provide Berlin With Plenty of Fireworks For Hitler's Anniversary Day

German High Command Was Deceived by Russians, Says Nazi Second in Command — Claims Stalingrad Debacle Was "Master Stroke"

LONDON, Jan. 30 (CP) — Fast British mosquito planes bombed Berlin in daylight today, furnishing explosive fireworks for the sombre German observance of the tenth anniversary of Adolf Hitler's rise to power. The first bomb—high explosive and incendiary—to fall on the German capital in daylight delayed the rambling anniversary speech of Field Marshal Herman Goering in which he said German reverses in Russia would be followed by a new Nazi spring offensive. He also announced the mobilization of the last reserves of the Reich.

It was Goering's task to explain the German calamity in Russia. The Stalingrad debacle, where 200,000 of Hitler's finest troops were slaughtered or captured, was a master-stroke ensuring a German victory, Goering said. "Russia," he said, "is using her last reserves. Goering spoke for an hour and a half. He said that Russia had deceived the German High Command as to the Soviet's real military strength. It was difficult, he said, to fight a nation like Russia where the people were willing to give all, even their lives, in the cause. He then called upon all Germans to be ready to give even their lives for their Fuehrer.

It was one of the gloomiest speeches ever given by a Nazi leader. All the mosquitoes which went to Berlin returned safely. The crash of their bombs seemed to be heard over the German radio excited shouts. The Berlin station did not go off the air but kept repeating that Goering would be coming on later. The raids lasted for an hour and Reuters said that Goering and his audience evidently were driven to shelters by the bombing thus forcing the delay of the speech.

Goering, who once promised the German people that British bombers would never cross their frontiers said the Royal Air Force would be repaid "one day." He declared "on the days we finally crush the Bolshevik resistance I will remember what the Royal Air Force has done to Germany."

Propaganda Minister Joseph Goebbels said "we must win the war or be enslaved by Bolsheviks. After the speeches there was another raid in the afternoon on Berlin by British planes.

Chancellor Hitler was said to be away at the front. As Goering and Goebbels made cascaded on Berlin to mark the anniversary day, the German armies were in retreats in Russia and North Africa.

DIM-OUT DISCUSSED

Effect of Reserve Also Comes up At Meeting Friday Night

The chief topic of discussion at a meeting of the A.R.P. district wardens last evening was the new "dim-out" regulations. These were considered in detail and the wardens now feel that they are familiar with the precautions needed to be taken in order that the desired results may be obtained. It is pointed out that dim-out regulations do not mean black-out regulations.

It is hoped that residents will make themselves thoroughly familiar with the conditions that must be fulfilled in order to make the dim-out effective and carry them out.

Another matter discussed was the effect of enlistments in the local Reserve Unit. In many cases former members of the A.R.P. have joined the Reserve Unit. It seems impossible for men to belong to both the A.R.P. and Reserve Unit and be able to carry out their duties properly in each sphere. The fullest co-operation between the two units is desirable and, indeed, necessary. It is hoped that the former members of the A.R.P. now in the Reserve will see that equipment obtained from the A.R.P. is returned immediately to their district wardens.

Arrangements for the showing of moving pictures in connection with A.R.P. work are being completed and the whole personnel of the Civilian Protection Organization will be invited to see these pictures when they arrive.

Those present at the meeting were J. Boddie, J. L. MacIntosh, J. MacGlashen, S. Dominato, W. Dunigate and J. S. Wilson who presided.

EDITORIAL

Teachers' Salaries . . .

The board of school trustees appears disposed to handle the old bone of contention — teachers' salaries—in a sensible and businesslike way. Faced with the likelihood of a considerably increased school population which will make additional facilities and teachers necessary and generally increase costs, the board has to consider its revenues and keep its expenditures to a minimum.

At the same time, the trustees have to face the fact that to obtain good school teachers and, what is probably more important, hold them, adequate salaries must be paid. Adequate salaries in Prince Rupert, it might as well be conceded, are salaries that compare favorably or more than favorably with those of other cities of the province. It is no use wishfully thinking that good teaching talent can be secured here unless such salaries are paid. Nor is any purpose to be served by any reflections as to whether the salaries we have been paying in the past have or have not been adequate to secure the best of teaching service. It would not do to suggest for a moment that we have not had a lot of good teaching service in Prince Rupert.

We can say, however, that conditions are such today that we need not expect to get anything more than we pay for.

The school board seems to be appreciative of both aspects of the matter—the standpoint of those who must pay the bill and that of those who provide the services—in setting about the task of revising the salary schedule.

ACTIVITIES OF Y.M.C.A. AND Y.W.C.A.

By DOROTHY GARRETT
The Hostess

There will be a show tonight at the Empress Club. Frank hasn't decided what he is giving but all we hope is that it gives and doesn't flicker out like at a certain time not so long ago at that.

A year ago today the Service Wives Club was born. It happened this-way. The Air Force wives had been meeting all winter and, to quote the "Y" diary, "they have decided to ask the Navy wives to meet with them." This proved so successful that a little later the Army wives were invited to join and thus was brought into being the very active and successful Service Wives Club you hear me praise so much about. Split infinitives galore, but who cares?

Still another letter from leading Air Woman Jeanie Cameron and, as usual, it is so full of interest that I passing it on to you. After apologizing for not being able to get up to say good-bye to me she goes on to say: "We have been having very cold weather here lately and no sign of a change yet. It has been between 30 and 40 degrees below zero for the past week and today it is snowing very heavily. I enjoyed my leave so much and hated to leave home but, now that I'm back at camp, I'm perfectly happy. They have started taking the girls from here for overseas service so I'm hoping to get a chance to go. They haven't called for anyone in my trade yet but I don't think it will be long. This station has changed quite a bit since I left. We have quite a few new officers and there have been several postings among the WFs. We have lectures three mornings a week now and go on parade at eight instead of 2:15 and work until 5:30 so that makes the day quite long. Hoping to hear from you soon about the good "Y" in Rupert.—Yours sincerely, Jeanie.

They Are Entitled to Their Beer

The men who are defending Canada are surely entitled to their moments of relaxation and those who chose beer in their moments off duty should not be denied. Owing to the order brought into effect by the federal government on December 17, 1943, the breweries are permitted to sell only a drastically reduced amount of beer. In addition, this order was made retroactive to the previous November 1st. The immediate effect of this was that the breweries unwittingly oversold their quota. These oversales have now to be absorbed.

These restrictions would in themselves be assured of creating difficulties in distribution and complaint were they not further complicated by the fact that no consideration has been given to the special concentration in certain communities of troops and workers in war industries since last year, greatly increasing the demand for beer. The result is manifest disappointment and injustice to the civilian population as well as to the armed forces in these communities.

We believe that supplies of beer to the troops should in any event be excepted from the rationed supplies of the civilian population. Because of the restrictions all people who enjoy a glass of beer will have to suffer despite the fact that there is an abundance of Canadian malt and hops.

Basketball Is Resumed

Dry Dock, High School and Yanks Are Winners

The Young Men's Christian Association Basketball League, after being defunct for nearly a month, due to lack of a floor, finally got under way at Seal Cove last night. In the opening games the Dry Dock, High School and Yanks were victorious. The High School downed the Co-ops 43-33, the Dry Dock laced the Air Force 54-30 and the Yanks nosed out the Ontario Regiment 30-29.

The High School had a very slight edge on the Grocers with Lanky Don McDonald leading the scholars with 13 points closely followed by Arney and Alexander with 12 points each. George Veireek and Pettenuzo led the Co-ops with 13 and 10 points respectively.

The second game of the evening was a humdinger with Angus McPhee throwing the melon from all angles to compile a grand total of 23 points. The first half of the game was fairly even, the Shipbuilders being out in front by three baskets. However, the second half was a different story with the elongated McPhee going on a basket-hunting spree. The old melon swished through the hoop for 15 points. Dominato, at guard for the Dry Dock, chalked up 12 points. Cpl. Rees, ex-Vancouver Stacy player, was the class of the Airmen, hitting the hoop for 10 points but he didn't receive very much help from his mate, Cato, Air Force guard, played his usual sterling game.

The third game of the night saw fire with a "Frank Merriwell" finish. The Ontario Regiment led 19-10 at half time and looked to be having it easy but the Yanks came to life and tied the score at 24 all on baskets by Snow the Yanks centre. The Ontario took the lead again with Ted Hunt leading the way and, with 30 seconds to play the score stood 29-23 in their favor. Bates, the Yanks guard, broke away and flipped in the winner for the side just as the whistle went to end the game.

The Navy failed to put in an appearance and lost the game to the Signals by default.

CHEMISTRY HELPS TO WIN THE WAR

Their Colours Come first!

BECAUSE we are in the fourth year of this war, some of the brilliant patchwork of peacetime colours may be missing from our lives, but war, for all its drabness, only tones down some of the colours used. Naturally enough, the service colours dominate the scene—Navy Blue, Airforce Blue, Army Khaki.

The dye chemist's first duty is to ensure that these service colours will stand up under all kinds of exposure and rough treatment. Gone, now, is the dependence of Canada (before the last war) on dyestuffs of German origin. Today, these are fully replaced by dyes from Great Britain and the United States.

For many years C-I-L's Organic Chemicals Division has served industries in Canada with their colouring needs—dyestuffs, pigments, etc.—for textiles, leather, paper, pottery, plastics and other materials. C-I-L's service involves constant search to provide dyes that keep pace with changing processes of manufacture and the development of new materials and admixtures of old. In addition to furnishing the serviceable dyestuffs required for hard-wearing uniforms, C-I-L has assured a plentiful supply of colour-fast dependable dyestuffs to meet every civilian need.

An assured supply of dependable dyestuffs is another example of how industrial chemistry aids Canada's war effort.

Few Changes in Halibut Regulations Anticipated—Departure of Japanese Benefits White Fishermen — Agreement on Salmon Prices

In spite of some rather wild reports such as that fishing might be reopened much earlier this year and permitted to continue throughout the year, there is now little reason to anticipate that regulations governing the North Pacific halibut fisheries for the 1943 season will be much changed. The opening of the season, it is expected, will be April 15, the same as last year.

No announcement has, however, been made as yet. It is expected the International Fisheries Commission may extend to thirty days following closure of all areas to halibut fishing the period in which halibut taken incidental to fishing for other species may be landed and sold. This time is now thirty days. Changes in the 1-7 ratio of pounds of halibut to pounds of other species is not anticipated.

There are definite indications that the removal of the Japanese from the fisheries of the British Columbia coast is proving economically beneficial to the white fishermen. Fishery production at Ucluellet on the West Coast of Vancouver Island has increased about four hundred percent since the departure of the Japanese, white fishermen in that area claim. These fishermen are urging the repatriation of Japanese to their own homeland after the war, suggesting that this provision be incorporated in the terms of peace.

After lengthy negotiations, agreement has been finally reached between the British Ministry of Food, the Canadian government and the canners for the 1942 pack of British Columbia canned salmon delivered, among other ports, at Prince Rupert or Skeena River rail terminal. The prices agreed upon, as compared with 1941, are as follows:

NOT VERY CHEERFUL

No Rejoicing in Germany on Tenth Anniversary of Rise of Hitler

BERLIN, Jan. 30.—The tenth anniversary of the rise to power of Adolf Hitler was celebrated with no fanfare or rejoicing in the Reich today. The course of events in Russia and North Africa is none too cheering for the Nazis or the German people. The people were forbidden to fly flags.

Vice-Chancellor Herman Goerring gave a radio address to the army and Dr. Joseph Goebbels, propaganda minister, addressed the civilian population, issuing a proclamation.

Chancellor Adolf Hitler was not heard from.

FUN TEAM FEATURED

Hailed as one of the most elaborate and funniest of Abbot and Costello comedies, "Ride 'Em, Cow Boy," comes to the screen of the Capitol Theatre here as the feature offering next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Headliners in the large supporting cast are Dick Foran, Anne Gwynne, Johnny Mack Brown, Samuel S. Hinds and Ella Fitzgerald.

The background is an Arizona dude ranch which is the parade ground for the antics of the two stellar zanies with Indians, rodeo acts, bucking bronchos, wild steers and feminine pulchritude including bathing beauties and stunning cow-girls.

Romantic interest is carried by Miss Gwynne, Foran and Brown. Miss Gwynne is a rodeo star and daughter of the dude ranch owner. Foran is the author of best seller western novels who has never been west of Broadway while Brown is the ranch foreman.

Ella Fitzgerald, queen of swing makes her screen debut as the ranch cook, singing her own one-time hit tune "A Tisket, a Tasket."

Seiners were out of this port during the past week prospecting for herring but the weather was so cold that the nets froze and the fish were still found to be swim-
