VANDERHOOF WANTS ROAD

Advantage of Route Starting at Quesnel and Eliminating Prince George Seen

VANDERHOOF, May 19—That in their intention to construct a road connecting the B.C. highway system with the Alaska Highway, the British Columbia Department of Public Works should not overlook the advantages of the Quesnel-Vanderhoof-Fort St. John-Manson Creek route is the contention of a memorandum issued by the Vanderhoof and District Board of Trade.

Press reports indicate that survey parties are to be sent out to determine the most suitable connection with the Alaska Highway and that they are all to start at Prince George. The contention of the memorandum is that at least one of these surveys should start at Quesnel.

The fact that the Quesnel-Vanderhoof route is longer is misleading, the paper states, because there are actually 45 miles more of finished road on this route than on the shortest which runs from Prince George to Dawson Creek by way of Summit Lake and Pine Pass. The fact that it is now in existence requires little new in construction and presents few engineering difficulties is also in its favor.

The use of this road would eliminate the problem presented at Prince George, where well placed enemy action directed at the combined railway and traffic bridge could easily cut off communication not only with Vancouver and the south but with all points east as well, the memorandum states.

Potatoes have been placed on the lists of foods banned for consumption by dogs and other pets in Britain.

R.A.F. IS POUNDING

Heavy Attacks Against Enemy Continuing

LONDON, May 19 (CP)—Royal Air Force bombers, returning again to their air offensive, attacked targets in southern Germany while fighters swept through northern France and Belgium, it was announced yesterday.

Allied aircraft damaged five ships of an enemy convoy. Two supply ships of the convoy of eight merchantmen, and three escort vessels were left sinking, and were seen to be abandoned by their crews, the same announcement said.

NEW PLAN RECRUITING

Streamlines Induction and Standardizes Medical Categories

A new system of induction of both volunteers for the active Army and men drafted under the National Resources Mobilization Act has been adopted by the Canadian Army and is expected to eliminate much of the confusion formerly connected with recruiting, both the standpoint of the recruit and of the Army.

Under the new scheme local recruiting boards and medical boards are done away with and the work formerly done by them is now centred at an Army Reception Centre at Vancouver. At his local recruiting office the prospective soldier merely fills out an offer of service form and, if he is considered likely to make a soldier, he is despatched to Vancouver where he is medically examined and attested.

At the Army Reception Centre, men from all parts of the province are examined by the same panel of doctors and it is expected that this feature will eliminate the embarrassment of re-classification after they are in the service for the tests are standardized. A sort of assembly line method is used. The recruit passes before a series of specialists, each of whom examines a different part of him. The thing is done quickly and thoroughly.

A feature of this examination is what is called the "M" test, which is like an intelligence test except that it is calculated to reveal, through quick reaction tests, the speed and quality of the recruit's mental functions so that he can be placed in whatever department of the service he will be best adjusted to and thus not be a misfit.

Following the successful completion of these tests, the recruit is attested and on the basis of them he is assigned to a suitable unit.

MOPPING UP ON ATTU ID.

First Phase of American Campaign On Aleutian Island Is Climaxed

CLOSING PINNERS
WASHINGTON D. C., May 19 (Canadian Press) American pinners have closed a trap around Japanese positions on Attu Island and at least part of the enemy troops are in retreat toward a last ditch stand, the United States Navy reported today. There are no signs of the Japanese attempting to bring up reinforcements.

WASHINGTON D.C., May 19 (Canadian Press)—Capturing a ridge in the Aleutians, United States troops advanced north and south across the eastern neck of the island and were brought very close together if not actually joined by the victory, Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox announced.

The operation against the ridge apparently climaxed the first phase of the campaign for this island in the Aleutians and Knox reported to a press conference that, despite stubborn resistance, so far casualties have been much lighter than expected.

Army troops on the island, Secretary Knox said, had the full support of warships standing off to sea and planes operating from bases to the eastward whenever weather permits.

Capture of the important height, while its significance awaits further military developments to be fully measurable, may have brought the Attu campaign to a point where little remains to be done than mopping up.

The landings were made at Holtz Bay and Massacre Bay on the east coast of the island.

ITALY IS HARD HIT

Greatest Bombing Raids Yet Are Made

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, North Africa, May 19 (Canadian Press)—Planes of the Allied air force made the heaviest raid yet on the Italian Island of Pantelleria, only 4 miles from Cap Bon in Tunisia, it was announced officially today.

At the same time flying fortresses smashed at the important Sicilian base of Trapani, blowing up ships in the harbor and covering the docks and railway yards with bomb bursts.

Carrying on an unrelenting attack on Italy's Mediterranean islands, the Royal Air Force bombed the airfield and port of Alghero on the west coast of Sardinia the night before last, an announcement said.

Bomb bursts were seen in the town and port areas and one large fire in the centre of town appeared to be spreading beyond control returning pilots said.

Torpedoing of Centaur . . .

We may be horrified and shocked at the ruthless torpedoing of the Australian hospital ship Centaur but we may not be surprised. The deliberate sinking without warning of the vessel of mercy, for the type of which there is supposed to be protection under the provisions of international law, is but typical of the tactics employed by the enemy we are up against.

Here has been recorded another of the charges which we would do well to remember when the day of reckoning comes and which should guard us against getting too soft-hearted in the face of remorseful or rependant pleadings.

Our day of reckoning will come and, for the satisfaction of ourselves and the chastening of our enemy, we may be excused if we are not too charitable then.

ACTIVITIES OF Y.M.C.A. AND Y.W.C.A.

By DOROTHY GARBUTT
The Hostess

The Service Wives' Club meets again tomorrow afternoon in the Ladies' Lounge at the "Y." Joe Terry has brought in some curtain material to be made up for one of the fort's recreation rooms. The new Service Wives' pins are here and are quite the most attractive club pin I have seen. Since last meeting quite a few members have moved away from town so it's up to each remaining member to try to bring a friend to this meeting and keep up the membership.

Invitations have gone out for a Sergeants' dance at their own camp on Saturday evening. Junior hostesses will meet at the "Y" when transports will be on hand to take them out. Remember the dinner and dance they gave a few weeks ago, girls? They are the perfect hosts and we do have a good time out there. Besides I am issuing a challenge to all comers at darts.

Padre Garbutt turned up again today on a "forty-eight." He never forgets a face and it's like old home week having him around.

I had a letter from Audrey Hamilton which is so full of news I'm sure you'll find it interesting. She says "....." As you can see we have finally found ourselves an apartment..... Did the Crombies find a place to live and how are they? Say Hello to them for us—Tony was surprised the other day to look up from the deck of his ship and see Jack Regular standing there..... Sorry to hear about Dutch being poisoned..... Has Breen had the Hut redecorated?..... and her small daughter come down for lunch every Friday and then we go up to Beacon Hill Park and feed

LETTERBOX

Editor, Daily News:

Many of us are acquainted with what we call "two-job men," and it is my belief that none of these men are holding down two jobs for patriotic reasons. In these times it is understandable that men should work long hours but there should always be time left over for enough rest. But these "two-job men" do not get enough rest and so many of them are not fit to do their work. Their share is left for others to do and in many instances they are a menace to their fellow workers.

I think this "two job" racket should stop. It is hindering the war effort.

"Oh, light a Sweet Cap and forget it!"

Yes, Sweet Caps do help to relieve the long strains of war. That is their war-time job. At this very moment, they are helping our warriors to get the full benefit from their moments of ease . . . and doing it so well that they are the most popular cigarettes with Canadians everywhere.

GREAT WAR FILM HERE
 Described as the most ambitious historical document in motion picture form evoked by the war, covering as it does the whole of the victorious British army campaign against Marshal Erwin Rommel's Axis forces from the retirement to El Alamein to the rout through Libya, Cyrenaica and Tripolitania into Tunisia, "Desert Victory," largely of war documentary nature but also with some dramatic effects, is to be presented this Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Capitol Theatre here day. Events in the North African campaign having only a few days ago reached their climax and with pride still swelling in the hearts of all Britishers as the feats of General Montgomery's gallant Eighth Army are considered, this is a picture which few people will want to miss.
 The whole campaign from its inception is traced through clangorous artillery barrages, bombing raids, infantry advances, tank battles and all the paraphernalia of desert war right up to the victorious march in conquered Tripoli. It is naturally enough an exciting record but, by experienced camera craftsmanship, dramatic effects have been worked into the story to make it more impressive.
 This much-heralded film was made by a British Army unit at the cost of four camera men killed, seven wounded and six captured in the field. It is the picture that Prime Minister Winston Churchill admired so enthusiastically that he sent copies of it to President Roosevelt and Premier Joseph Stalin.

Prince Rupert Chapter No. 211, Women of the Moose, held its regular meeting at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Charles Graham. The evening was spent making card table covers.
 Lieut. George Darters, provost officer of the Navy here, leaves tomorrow night for a visit to his home in Victoria on leave.
