Guidance Needed . . .

Each week there arrives at the Daily News desk a budget of news from the "Free French" movement, most of it attractively printed and all of it upholding the rights of General Charles DeGaulle as opposed to General Giraud. Formerly, the late Admiral Darlan came in for some interesting comments. Meanwhile, Allied officialdom continues to ride the fence between the two factions, and, seemingly, to favor General Giraud.

In the Balkans we have another complex situation, with the Allies apparently supplying arms of the forces of a former YugoSlavian army colonel. Draia Mihailovich. From press reports we learn that Allied officers are living among the troops of Mihailovich, while other press reports say that all active resistance to the German occupation troops is being supplied by the "partisan" guerrilla movement under the legendary "Tito" whose real name is said to be Joseph Brozovich.

Extreme contrasts in stories, and lack of an official declaration as to where we stand, leads one to believe that Allied leaders are as much in the dark as the man on the street, as to whether DeGaulle or Giraud. Tito or Mihailovich deserve our backing. Surely the military minds of the United Nations have accurate information which might lead to a declaration of policy in the matter. Such a declaration would put an end to the present deluge of conflicting stories which are being heard and would give either one side or the other the ascendancy.

Need Direct Action . . .

The increase in juvenile delinquency in Canada and the United States since the outbreak of war has caused not a little uneasiness in many communities across the length and breadth of the land. One of the difficulties which has arisen is that so few are willing to give their time and energy to its solution with the result that the burden has fallen upon the shoulders of a few public spirited citizens.

One of the best solutions so far advanced is that being undertaken by the Y.M.C.A. in Toronto where neighborhood gangs are being adopted and given leadership in activities which will direct the interests of the boys along constructive rather than destructive lines. Instead of bringing the boys to the "Y" centres, leaders go to the boys in their own neighborhoods. Direction is being given in the building of shacks for their meetings while they are being interested in the collections of fats and newspapers for salvage, the gathering of magazines for the navy and the making of toys for under-privileged children.

The one fact that stands out above all others in relation to the juvenile situation is that it cannot be solved by the holding of discussions. Action of a very definite nature is essential. It must be realized that the direct approach is necessary if there is to be any betterment of conditions.

R.C.N.V.R., is known to thousands of Canadians as one of the heroic survivors of the sinking of H.M.C.S. Weyburn, a Canadian-manned, Canadian-built Corvette. H.M.C.S. Weyburn had endured thirty-three days of enemy offensive action from sea and air in the Mediterranean when torpedoed, and was en route home after serving in the African invasion. Staying at his post until there was no alternative but to swim for it, Lieut. Milsom, one-time Toronto newspaper reporter, set an example of coolness and aided many of the crew to escape. He was the last to leave the ship.

"POSH" Famous Mascot of H.M.C.S. Weyburn, now at home in Victoria, B.C.

"DY the time 'survivor's leave' was up, H.M.C.S. Weyburn's crew-men and officers alike, were eager and anxious to return to sea. Some of us were lucky enough to get ships and get back into the fight right away. Those of us who weren't so lucky would give our eye teeth to be with them. When the ships your Victory Bonds will help to buy are completed, we'll be joining them.

"There's not a man living of Weyburn's complement who is forgetting the shipmates who were lost at sea, and every Seaman, Stoker, Petty Officer and Officer who is fit for sea-yes and those whose injuries will keep them ashore-everyone of them is truly sincere in his desire to get a ship and get back afloat.

"Our job is still out there. The convoys must still get through if we are to have more successes like Sicily. That's the reason we Weyburn survivors want to get off the beach and go back to the job we enlisted to do - and we'll stay at it until the last U-boat is sunk and unconditional surrender is won."

Just as the men of H.M.C.S. Weyburn want to serve on another ship-just as they feel the importance and responsibility of their work in fighting the enemy-so should we feel our responsibility in pushing every Victory Loan over the top till unconditional surrender is won.

Get the "Weyburn" spirit. Dig down deep and invest every dollar you can in Fifth Victory Bonds - both with cash and from income over the next six months.

HIDDEN EFFORTS!

Sprightly at 61, Sam Heapy good things at the Windsor track this month and it's worth two-bob bet if only to recognize sheer pluck. Sam figured he was all washed up as ockey when he escaped to England after Germany invaded Belgium. He had been riding on the continent for 43 years and holds what is believed to world's record in that he has been astride 3,260 winners. He has trained almost as many. Recently Sam did a bit of exercising on racers owned by Gerald Deane. That did it. Sam figured his still-supple frame would stand the pace. "One of my reasons for starting again as a jockey," said this old fellow, "is that I think Newfoundland is a strayer and I'm being given a chance to prove it. I have ridden in between 15,000 and 16,00 races, the total distance of which would, estimate, stretch halfway ar-

the distinction of being the old-

three years in Germany.

Over in neutral Eire, a colt wned by a Scottish patron of Irish racing won the Irish Cambridgeshire at The Curragh outside Dublin. Astrologer, suplementing James McVey's victories with Suntop in the Irish Oaks and Solfering in the Solferino in the Irish St. Leger, took the lead 50 yards from the inish of the mile grind to win by a head from Dunseerick. At just about the same me. Dick Sullivan, who manages McVey's bloodstock, announced that Suntop and Solferino will be retired to stud and mated. Racing circles conit a fortunate circumance that the blood lines of the Oaks and the St. Leger

The King will have some choicely-bred two - year - olds racing for the finish line next season. They'll be trained by Capt. Cecil Boyd-Rochfort, who ook over the majority of His Majesty's racers following the Willie Jarvis. One batch of six yearlings included by the successful Sires Salmon, father of this Derby winner, Herring-Hyperion, Fairway and Foxhunter. Best of the King's two-year-olds this season has been Knight's Daughter althe Royal Stables had only a few runners and none in the Classics which His Majesty's runners all but monopolized last season.

brother who is with the Eighth grumble about being in Prince Rupert we should bear these in mind. He says:

"I am very glad to hear that you are on leave and I sincerely hope you enjoyed yourself and had a real good time. I have been out here two-and-a-half years and in all that time I've only had four days leave. have just had my third Christmas out here. This last one has been the best of the three. For ner. one thing I was on our side of the line this time whereas last time I was inside the German lines on a commando raid with hardly anything to eat and had not had a smoke for days. My Christmas before I spent behind the Italian lines, about seventy miles inside enemy ter-ritory. I have spent as long as Bulkley Threshing five months on a stretch inside parties shooting up his supply columns and destroying airfields."
