HONORED BY ROTARIANS

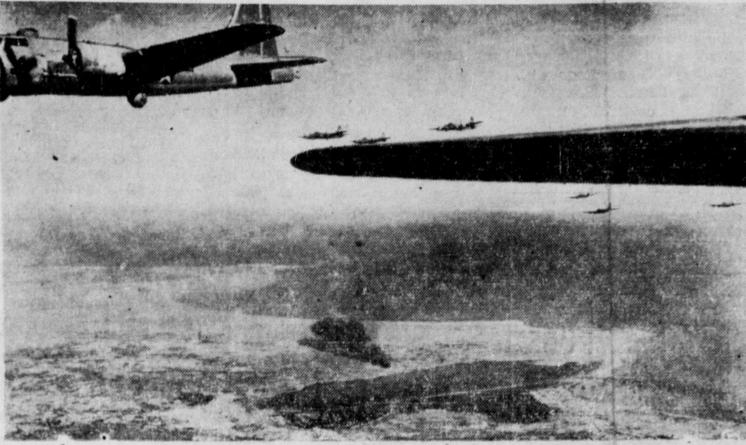

Service Club Pays Tribute To Memory of Senior Member, John Dybhavn.

Tribute to the memory of the ranking senior member, John Dybhavn, on the occasion of his death was paid by the Prince Rupert Rotary Club at yesterday's luncheon. After hearing an impressive eulogy by Col. J. W. Nicholls, the club passed a resolution of condolence to the widow and family and then adjourned without further proceedings so that the members might attend the funeral.

Col. Nicholls declared that, from the standpoint of business integrity the late Mr. Dybhavn was one of the finest men he had ever met. He was active in all institutions and organizations having as their principles the advancement of community and business life on ethical lines. His passing was a serious loss to the community in general and in particular to the Rotary Club the highest ideals of which he had so well personified and in which he had been a valuable and hard-working member.

SERVING OF PRISONERS

Summary Tells of Valuable Work Red Cross is Doing

The latest information regarding the food parcel acknowledgement cards received from British prisoners of war in Europe states that 18,377 parcels have been received between February 5 and March 10, 1943. Each of these cards was placed in a food parcel packed by our Society in Canada and returned by the prisoner who received the parcel.

All letters for prisoners in the Far East should be very brief and either typed or printed in block letters. Information as to the manner of addressing these letters may be obtained at all Post Offices.

The government also announces that more than 200,000 letters, some of them from Canada, have recently been distributed to nationals of the United Nations interned in Japanese and Japanese occupied territories and that a further 150,000 letters are now being sorted in Japan and are to be delivered to the prisoners shortly.

One thousand capture parcels are being prepared in Canada to be shipped to our overseas office for use in emergency. Twenty-four capture parcels were sent to Canadian prisoners from the London office during January 1943.

The Japanese government has announced that there is now postal communication with Thailand, Malaya, the Philippines, Java and Borneo, but that the only communication with the East Indies is by cable from Tokyo in the Japanese language. Unofficial press dispatches have announced that a very large number of letters have been dispatched from prisoners of war in Japanese hands and are expected to arrive in Great Britain shortly. This report is being investigated and an announcement will probably be forthcoming soon.

The inquiry bureau has recently been concentrating its efforts on seeing that a personal quarterly parcel is sent to every Canadian prisoner by his next-of-kin or his acting next-of-kin. It has been found that there are some prisoners whose next-of-kin have never received or applied for the necessary labels and that some next-of-kin, who have received labels have not sent forward their parcels. This is often due to confusion but it is possible that it may be due to lack of knowledge thus the local Red Cross can offer the necessary help.

COMMUNITY GARDENING

New Plan Suggested at Horticultural Society Meeting

A. O. Olsen, "the friendly gardener" spoke at some length at a general meeting of the Prince Rupert Horticultural Society last night and proposed that a system of community gardening was an important part of the war effort. Such an effort here was quite possible and should interest several hundred residents. Mr. Olsen stated that the military would be glad to co-operate as much as possible and he advocated organization at an early date. Possible sites were discussed along with various other considerations.

H. T. Lock, the chairman, was of the opinion that for this year individual effort should be encouraged owing to lack of time to organize any group method.

It was suggested that Mr. Olsen's radio talks and other articles dealing with gardening and the proposed community effort should be publicized as much as possible. Mrs. J. B. Gibson moved and Mrs. C. J. Norrington seconded a motion that the newspapers be approached with a view to having this done.

Mrs. R. L. McIntosh moved and S. A. Cheeseman seconded a motion that the president and Mr. Olsen should arrange for another meeting when they considered sufficient interest had been aroused to assure a larger turnout.

Mr. Cheeseman mentioned the subject of gardening as it might apply to school children. Some effort to encourage children's gardens is anticipated. Mr. Olsen mentioned the co-operative system of Norway which took into consideration this subject.

Present at the meeting were, H. T. Lock, chairman, Mrs. Gillett, Mrs. Dean Gibson, Mrs. R. L. McIntosh, Mrs. Norrington, Mrs. Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Lynam, Mr. S. A. Cheeseman, S. Massey, P. C. Miller, Mr. Olsen and Secretary C. G. Ham. The meeting was held at the Court House A. R. P. shelter.

Germany Quakes . . .

There are increasing indications that all is not well within Europe. Faced with a struggle to the death with the Russians on the eastern front, Germany is being given no rest at home. Pounded day and night by the Allied air forces she is also being harried by the people of the conquered countries who are showing an ever-increasing reluctance to subject themselves to dictatorial orders.

Reports state many French have taken to the mountains to avoid being conscripted for labor in Germany. Since France was overrun sabotage has been rife and untold damage has been done. In this regard France has not stood alone with the result that the Nazis have been called upon to place strong armies of occupation in all the countries they have conquered.

Faced with the necessity of securing more and more men to fill the ranks so rapidly being depleted on the Russian front, Germany must now be hard pressed to maintain the level of her war production. Added to this is the repeated bombings of factories and installations which in time will wear down the morale of the people. Possibly the break will come suddenly as it did during the last war. It may not come this summer but with the prospect of another winter of privations the German people will not accept empty promises with the same alacrity as in the past.

Why Ships are Needed . . .

It has been estimated unofficially that 12 or 15 tons of shipping are required to move one man and his equipment as a member of an original expeditionary force and that two tons a month are required to maintain him.

There are other factors that must be borne in mind when an offensive is being planned involving transport of troops overseas: It takes twice as much shipping to carry a modern armored division as it does to move an infantry division and an infantry division requires considerably more tonnage in this war than in the last because of the weight and bulk of the vehicles that go with it.

Never in the history of warfare has shipping played such an important part as today due to the global dimensions of the conflict and the weight and bulk of the equipment to be carried such vast distances. To illustrate this fact, it should be borne in mind that Britain kept 300 ships in constant use in moving men and supplies to the Middle East and one ship could make only three trips a year. In the long haul from this coast to Australia, a ship could not make more than four trips a year and that would make no provision for repairs or overhauls.

When we review the sinkings by submarine, and when we look at the war maps and see the distance our ships must travel it is indeed easy to realize why ships, ships and more ships are needed.

LAWN AND VEGETABLES, TOO

Many gardeners find it difficult to forsake their petunias for a cabbage or their pansies for a carrot. Not infrequently a beautiful turf has been installed at great expense and it is not easy to tear it up and plant vegetables. There's no reason why the two are not compatible. After all, there's such a thing as morale, a quality that has tremendous importance during war time. The answer to all this is keep your lawn and have your carrots, too. It's simply a matter of careful planning.

There are many crops that lend themselves easily to being spotted here and there throughout your garden scene. Most of the more common root vegetables fall in this general category. Why not use vegetables as a border plant and especially those that boast of attractive foliage. You might start your list with the carrot. The leaves of this vegetable are delicate and finely cut. Make every effort to plant this variety, as well as practically all others, in the sun. It's sunlight that causes vegetables to grow quickly and produce a bumper crop.

Beets may also be utilized as a border plant. The foliage seems rather coarse compared to that of the carrot but nevertheless it does possess real ornamental value. Moreover, you have two colors to choose from—beets with purple or green tops. Bear in mind that beet tops provide greens that may be cooked or eaten raw. They're quite valuable as far as vitamins are concerned. The soil in which beet seeds are planted should be quite moist. The seeds germinate irregularly if the ground tends to dry out. This is due to the spongy covering around the seeds which, while being a protective agent, absorbs great quantities of moisture which otherwise would be utilized by the seed itself.

"It's my war-job to keep my family fit!"

"That's why I'm following Canada's Official Food Rules and serving a whole grain cereal every day. Usually our whole grain cereal is Nabisco Shredded Wheat. It's 100% whole wheat with all the bran, minerals and wheat germ. We think it's a grand energy food for breakfast or any other meal." Look for the familiar package at your food store.

Parsley has never been an extremely popular vegetable. Yet as a hedge between ornamentals and food it possesses some value. For flavoring and garnishing it certainly knows no equal. Moreover the more it's picked the better it seems to thrive. The foliage of the curled varieties is most attractive, being dark green in color.

A row of lettuce should certainly be a desirable asset in any war time garden. This vegetable, too, may be used as a very low growing hedge. Of course, it's not a perennial and won't last as long as boxwood or heather. But it will furnish you with the kind of food you're supposed to eat and it's not too hot in your locality a lengthy harvesting season may be expected.

Beans may be trained alongside an unattractive fence for the purpose of hiding it. Bear in mind constantly that these plants must have plenty of sunshine; they must not be set in a dark or dank corner of your landscape. As the plants aspire upwards their foliage makes a very ornamental attraction.

VIAZMA'S CHANGES

At different times in its history Viazma, has been held by the Lithuanians, Poles and Germans.

PLANT A Wartime Garden

Home production of vegetables is needed now more than at any other time during the war. Help by growing the vegetables your family needs. Plan to have a good garden. A garden that is not a success is a waste of materials and man power. We cannot afford waste.

Make Your Garden a Success

Choose a good site: If your own yard is unsuitable, try to arrange for the use of a vacant lot with good soil and not shaded by trees.

Grow for your own use: Plan to grow only the vegetables you need for your own household.

What to grow: Select for planting only those vegetables you will use. The size of the garden is a factor. The small backyard garden might contain tomatoes (one dozen plants will give plenty of tomatoes for use fresh and for canning), beans, beets, lettuce, radish, carrots, onions, and spinach or swiss chard. In larger gardens, such additional crops might be considered as cabbage, cucumbers, squash, corn, peas, turnips, potatoes, depending upon the family's likes and dislikes.

Avoid waste: Buy only the amount of seed you will need. Seed which you waste might have been used profitably by someone else. Can the tomatoes, peas and beans that you cannot use fresh. Surplus potatoes, squash and root vegetables may be stored for winter use.

Have a good garden: Consult with experienced neighbours before planting your garden. Get advice on arrangement, seeds and seedling, setting out plants, cultivating, weeding, spraying, fertilizing and watering.

Many local horticultural societies, gardening clubs, and other organizations are sponsoring wartime garden programmes this year. A special pamphlet, entitled "The Wartime Garden," giving practical advice on how to grow vegetables and how to protect the growing crops against insects and disease, is available without charge, from the Publication and Extension Division, Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

...but DON'T WORRY about VITAMINS and MINERALS

You know authorities say the difference between husky youngsters and those who are poor eaters, underweight, and nervous is often simply a matter of an adequate supply of vitamins and minerals. But don't worry about them!

Youngsters who eat 3 average good meals including fruit juice, and drink 2 glasses of Ovaltine each day are getting all the extra vitamins and minerals they need. In addition to its well-balanced food values, the New, Improved Ovaltine adds significant amounts of Vitamins A, B₁, and D and the minerals Calcium, Phosphorus and Iron. So, if your child is not developing normally, remember this rule:

3 good meals plus 2 glasses of New, Improved Ovaltine will give him all the extra Vitamins and Minerals he needs.

RATION NEWS

Last Call for Canning Sugar
 You have less than a week—until April 15 to be exact—to send in your Application for Canning Sugar to your Local Ration Board. Fill out your own Application Form in your Ration Book. State the number of persons for whom you are applying. Then attach the Application Forms of others you will be feeding in your household, after you have filled in their serial numbers. Pin them to your application and mail immediately to your Local Ration Board.

Butter Coupons
 Butter coupons Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4 are now good. Coupon No. 5 becomes good April 10. All of these coupons expire April 30. Butter coupon No. 6 is valid April 17; No. 7 on April 24; No. 8 on May 1; No. 9, May 8. All these coupons expire May 31.

Home Canning Programme Objective
 The objective of the Home Canning Campaign is to have women do up the Greatest Amount of Fruit with the Least Amount of Sugar. This automatically puts the emphasis on Home Canning rather than on Jam or Jelly. Canning Sugar must not be used for canning Dried Fruits, Pickles, Vegetables, Marrow, Pumpkins, Tomatoes or making Homemade Wines. If sugar is used for any of the above it must be taken from your regular weekly ration.

Ration Book No. 1
 Before discarding your Ration Book No. 1, tear off the cover on which is printed the prefix and number which, for ration purposes, will be yours for the duration. Put it away in a safe place for future reference.

Boarding Houses
 If a boarding house keeper uses, for canning sugar, application from the Ration Book of guests, and if these guests later move to some other place, it will be up to the guest and the boarding house keeper to settle the matter between themselves. Neither the local Ration Board, nor the Ration Administration, can handle details of this kind.

Summer Tourists
 Tourists staying in Canada for longer than eight weeks who require sugar for canning, must make application to a Local Ration Board. If the application is granted, it will be on the same basis as the Canadian citizen's allowance.

This column will appear in this newspaper every week to keep you up-to-date on Ration News. Clip and keep for reference.
