BATTLE OF ALEUTIANS IS ON

United States Forces Have Landed on Attu Island And Fierce Fight In Progress

JAPANESE ARE FIRST TO ANNOUNCE IMPORTANT MILITARY ENCOUNTER, WASHINGTON FOLLOWING WITH LATER STATEMENT

WASHINGTON, D.C., May 11 (CP) — United States forces landed on Japanese-held Attu Island in the Aleutians Tuesday and are now locked in battle with enemy troops, the United States Department of the Navy announced today, promising further details would be released when the situation clarifies.

First word of the landing of the Americans on Attu came when Japanese Imperial headquarters in Tokyo said in a broadcast communique today that the American forces had started landing Wednesday on Attu and that a fierce battle was in progress. Attu is the westernmost of the Aleutian Islands, 1778 miles from Tokyo as bombers fly and 196 miles west of Kiska, the other Aleutian island on which the Japs had had a foothold since last June.

The Tokyo broadcast was recorded by the Federal Communications Commission at New York. There was no immediate confirmation at that time from Washington or any other Allied source but frequently in the past the Japanese had been the first to announce important military encounters.

Military observers in Washington see the landing at Attu as a move to outflank Kiska, which is 72 miles to the east. Occupation of Attu would make it difficult for the Japanese to maintain a force of 10,000 men which are estimated to be there. Attu would also provide the Americans with a valuable weather observation post.

NAVY NOW IN ACTION

First Attack is Made by British Naval Craft on Pantellaria in Sicilian Straits

LONDON, May 14 (Desmond Tighe, Reuters News Agency correspondent with the Mediterranean fleet, reported today that units of the Royal Navy had shelled Pantellaria Island in the Sicilian Strait Thursday. It was the first naval attack of the war on these islands which served as Axis air bases during the Battle of Tunisia. The islands had been frequently bombed from the air, however.

Allied headquarters in North Africa announced officially today that a Royal Naval force had fired 20 broadsides yesterday into the harbor area of Pantellaria. The bombardment of Pantellaria, which is a fortified island 45 miles east of the top of Cap Bon Peninsula, was described as successful by the communique.

Now, with the capture of Tunis and Bizerte, the numbers of enemy combatants put out of action by the Eighth Army totals hundreds of thousands.

LONDON, May 14 (Canadian Press) — Berlin, Czech-Slovakia and the Ruhr Valley of Germany were pounded in great strength by Royal Air Force and the Royal Canadian Air Force bombers last night and the Berlin radio reported that American bombers had attacked the north German coastal area at noon today, extending augmented Allied air offensive to nearly forty-eight hours of incessant assault. The British force lost thirty-four bombers last night, eight of them being Canadian, in the swift sequel of the record punch at Duisburg the night before. SITUATION IN NORWAY

Germans Bolstering Fortifications And Preparing for Open Revolt

STOCKHOLM, May 14 — The Germans are intensifying work on Norwegian fortifications following a conference in Narvik at which the possibilities of invasion were discussed by Norwegian Quisling leaders and heads of the German army, navy and police, reliable reports from inside Norway said today.

These reports said that orders have been given by the Norwegian underground organization to prepare for open revolt, and that more snarls had developed in the total labor mobilization campaign.

In the province of Jaeren, on the southwest coast of Norway, between Stavanger and Kristiansand, the Germans have begun digging a giant anti-tank ditch, it was reported. Extension of the railroad line north of Mosjoen, in northern Norway also is being rushed and work is being hurried on an airfield at Orlandet, off Trondheim Fjord, and a submarine station at Trondheim, it was said.

Unconfirmed reports here said units of the German fleet had moved from Trondheim to the area of Tromsø, north of Narvik. While such a shift would put the fleet in a better position for action against any Murmansk-bound Allied convoys during the long summer days, reports of the move came following an increase in R.A.F. activity along the Norwegian coast.

Loyal Norwegians said a full-scale revolt would come when Norwegian officials gave the signal to co-operate with Allied summer offensive plans.

CHIEF JUSTICE SPEAKS— HIGHWAYS ARE HELD IMPORTANT

Cheerful Picture of Future of Northern British Columbia Painted by Judge

Now that it seemed reasonable to look forward to victory in this war and an era of lasting peace and contentment to follow, it was fitting to lay plans for post-war development which should mean much for the northern portion of the much-favored province of British Columbia. Chief Justice Wendell Farris declared in a luncheon address before the Prince Rupert Rotary Club on Thursday. His Lordship emphasized the necessity of a network of roads as the foundation for the opening up and development of this part of the country for tourist traffic as well as exploitation of new mineral and timber resources. The Alaska Highway he saw as an important step in that direction. As for the present war situation, the judge felt that there was good reason to be optimistic about the prospects of peace although there should be no delusions about difficult times still lying ahead. He expected to see a new economic period and conditions such as the world had never before known although no utopia was to be anticipated unless everyone was willing to put his shoulder to the wheel and do his share. Every man should be given the opportunity to earn a living but should earn that living himself.

At the commencement of his address, the Chief Justice, although admitting it was his first visit here, declared that he had always been a great believer in the north and its possibilities for the future. A man called Adolf Hitler, by his actions, had done more to speed up the opening of the north country and its potentialities than had ever been done before. His Lordship, who said he was prepared to correct all libels about Prince Rupert's weather, told how he had been actively interested 25 years ago in an undertaking for the establishment of a pulp and paper project here but the financial crash of 1921 had made it impossible to finance it.

His Lordship recalled now, after the last war, fifty thousand more soldiers had been discharged to British Columbia than had enlisted from the province. The same thing might be anticipated after this war owing to the attractions the province had to offer and he could see here a bottleneck which would produce serious difficulties. Therefore, it was most important that there should be development of the industries along extensive lines and, towards this end, roads would play an important part in opening up the country to tourist traffic and the exploitation of its natural resources. The judge enthused about the voyage up the coast from Vancouver to Prince Rupert. It was to him like a trip through fairyland.

Sees Victory Assured

Turning to realistic present day conditions, the judge said that for some years the prospects had seemed high but in recent months had come the flicker of light like the dawn of the day. Now there appeared the certainty of a bright shining day of victory and peace. There had just been a victory in North Africa the like of which none had even dared to dream of. Truly it seemed that "the beginning of the end" had come. "I think we have the right to be optimistic and realize that peace and victory will be ours but we should not be misled about difficult times still lying ahead."

In the last war, the end of which had been brought about by the Eighth Army Day . . .

Apr. 9: Apropos of Eighth Army Day today here in concise calendar form is the full story of the Rommel rout which may terminate in the opening of a second front through Mussolini's Italy:

Nov. 9, 1942: British Eighth Army passed Bardia.
Nov. 13: Recaptured Tobruk inflicting severe losses on the enemy and confiscating large numbers of tanks and guns.

Nov. 17: Still chasing Rommel, the Army passed through Bengazi.

Dec. 14: Montgomery and his soldiers entered and passed through Sirte and three days later were laying down offensive which on January 23 brought about the fall of Tripoli.

Jan. 25, 1943: The Eighth Army crossed the Tunisian border and on February 6 these gallant soldiers were 60 miles inside Tunisia. Two weeks later they were in Mendenine and on March 8 the famed attack commenced on the Mareth Line. This was a terrific battle and Allied troops captured thousands of men and much heavy equipment.

Mar. 30: Montgomery and his troops occupied Sfax and on April 7 were well past Gabes.

Apr. 12: They marched into Sousse. Here they took thousands of fleeing Italians prisoner and also picked up much valuable equipment which Rommel abandoned in his haste.

May 7: Will be remembered as the day when the Allied forces entered Tunis and Bizerte and had Rommel and his troops in a pocket with the sea at their back.

This completed the rout and future historians may well point out that the capture of Tunis on May 7 was the signal for the opening of an Allied offensive against Hitler and Mussolini.

More Satisfactory Conditions . . .

The paucity of criminal cases at the session of the Supreme Court Assizes at Prince Rupert this week once again indicated a satisfactory absence of major crime in this city and district. We have had some troubles with safe crackings, so far unsolved, and other incidents owing to the known presence of a considerable lawless element in our midst but, some criticism which may be heard notwithstanding, the situation is by no means out of hand. Therefore, we may be justified in expressing some satisfaction.

Conditions are, doubtless, much better here today than they were several months ago when liquor was so easy to get. This is in spite of prognostications about how terrible it would be if men were unable to get their liquor or if it were made more difficult for them to do so. We think that subsequent events have borne out our contention that absence or tightening up on the liquor supply would make for a better condition of law and order here.

Getting back to the Assizes, it is to be noted that liquor was at the bottom or had a prominent part to do with three of the four cases which were presented at the court.

Speaking hypothetically, it might be permissible to suggest that things might have been much worse had dispensing of liquor continued as it was before with a continuation of such disorderly and disgraceful conditions as existed for a time.

Canada Needs Nurses . . .

Adequate nursing care must be provided for the armed forces, for war industries, and for the home front, and this means a greater number of young women are needed to choose nursing as their career.

Nursing is indeed a war work with a future—with a future because there will probably be a great need for nurses during the period of post-war reconstruction. Opportunities for graduate nurses are many and varied—in the care of the sick in hospitals and in the home; in the prevention of disease and the promotion of health in district nursing associations, Victorian Order of Nurses, in industry, as stewardesses with airlines, and as teachers.

What are the requirements for admission to a school of nursing? First of all comes good health, physical, mental and emotional; then a pleasing personality, the ability to get along with people, and dependability.

Schools of nursing in British Columbia are all equipped to give an interesting and adequate training. They provide facilities for recreation and excellent care in case of illness of a student. Surely, nursing is a profession that many young girls will find most attractive and worthwhile.

SPORT CHAT

Cpl. Frenchy Alain, rushing defenceman from Three Rivers, Que., is serving with a Canadian squadron over there. He's a definite post-war possibility for monied ranks. Frenchy played in a game that wound up overseas hockey for the season and scored four goals as his team of Maple Leafs whipped a bunch of Boston boys 8-5 before a packed house in the west of England. One of Frenchy's opponents was Mill Schmidt while ranged on Frenchy's side was another member of the Boston Kraut line, Porky Dumart. The former Bruins each picked up a pair of goals.

Sqdn. Ldr. Norm Bretz, D.F.C., of Toronto, back home on a visit, can probably still show a red, puffed hand from catching the slants of Ft. Lt. Chuck Semple, also of Toronto. Bretz was the reception end of his Spitfire squadron's softball team while Semple showed plenty of speed in the box. Chuck also is a brilliant hockeyist. He recently was promoted to Flight-Lieutenant and placed in charge of a flight.

Sporting the kind of sun tan not acquired around Britain at this time of year, Ft. Sgt. Johnny Thornber of Westmount, Que., has been operating around the Piccadilly Circus entertainment sector by way of a change. He's on leave from another theatre of war. Big Johnny is a navigator in an R.A.F. Catalina flying boat squadron and time was when he could navigate quite expertly on a football gridiron. A lot of the opposition in the Senior O.R.F.U. found that out in 1939 when he played on the line for Westmount. For three years previous to that he was a pillar of the stong Westmount junior teams. Westmount High gave Johnny his sport grooming but he forgot about rugby in 1940 when he joined the R.C.A.F. after turning out with the Montreal Big Four entry. "I sure would like to toss a football around again," said 190-pound Johnny sadly. "The only sport we have down our way is a bit of tennis." He has more than 800 operational hours back of him and his aircraft has weathered three separate attacks by German fighters.

Two old baseball rivals from the mid-west found themselves together at a light bomber operational training unit here. Opponents in Winnipeg fields, they are Sgt. Pilots Ernie Pitt and Tom Sykes. Pitt played for Norwood while Sykes was with St. Boniface.

Formerly a well-known Western Canada jockey, Johnny Lake gets more kick these days riding in the mid-upper turret of a Lancaster than booting home winners in peace-time. Johnny used to race at 92 pounds but, flies at 132 and says his sky steed doesn't mind a bit. "And another thing," says Johnny, "You don't need a whip to urge this baby on."

Gyro Playground Program Is Now Being Planned

Preparatory to instituting the usual season's playground program, the Prince Rupert Gyro Club is sending a committee consisting of Frank Skinner, Dr. R. G. Large and Arnold Flaten to interview civic and military authorities seeking their co-operation in repairing the grounds. Some of these grounds have been encroached upon by defence projects and activities.

Objective for the year was among matters discussed at the regular monthly business luncheon of the Prince Rupert Gyro Club this Wednesday.

Arnold Flaten was appointed club auditor.

David H. Gibson of Toronto, Dominion president of the Navy League of Canada, is being invited to address the Gyro Club at its luncheon next week.

Easter Season At Kitwanga

Services and Sports are Held in Interior Village

KITWANGA, May 14 — The Easter celebration at Kitwanga was begun on Good Friday with a brief service in St. Paul's Church led by Mr. and Mrs. J. Hayhurst. In the evening Captain Edward Tait held a meeting in the Church Army hall.

Three services were held on Easter Sunday, the first at dawn, led by Captain Tait in which the group passed through the streets singing Easter anthems. At 11 a.m. J. Hayhurst led a service in St. Paul's at which Harold Sinclair assisted in the lesson reading. The Junior Women's Auxiliary sang an anthem "He That is Dead Liveth Again." The church was beautifully decorated with Easter lilies.

In the evening the Church Army service was again led by Capt. Tait. A sports day was held Easter Monday, featuring softball, races and football. In softball the Kitwanga Senior Football club defeated Campbell's Constructors 3 to 2, and the Lucky Strike team defeated the Blue Jay Singles 9-7.

A football game between Kitwanga Senior Football club and the Blue Jays ended in a tie of 1 to 1.

WORK UPON NEW FIELD

Football Expected to be Played on Grounds in Hays Creek Area By End of June

By the end of June the new sports field between Ninth Avenue and Hays Creek to the west of the McClymont Park is expected to be in readiness for use as a football field. Men of the forces are now getting along with the job and the work of stumping and draining is proceeding. There will be a network of box drains. A layer of two or three inches of sand will be placed on the surface which, once adequate drainage has been provided, is expected to be quite dry and solid.

Another clearing project which has been carried out by the forces is a fine new rifle range area behind Montreal Heights off the road to the Skeena River highway which is already in use with target ranges as far as four hundred yards.

HOW TO HELP MR. GOLD SEAL MAKE GOOD
You can get added wear out of your Congoleum floors with very little effort. Brush and mop them regularly and renew the brightness of their surface with an occasional waxing. Make sure too, that the floor underneath is smooth and free from crevices or knobs. If it's a rug, move it every few months to "spread" the traffic. Yes, a little care will pay big dividends.

"I've got a war job in my own quiet way, and it's for the duration," says Mr. Gold Seal, famous emblem of Congoleum Rugs and Congoleum by-the-yard. "It's to stand up under punishment as never before so that in spite of everything, your floors will continue to look bright and beautiful. You'll find it hard to replace them in a hurry: that's why the care we put into the making of Congoleum means extra value today. It's value that will show up quickly—if you give it a chance—in added wear and service. For years, as you know, I've stood for the highest in home furnishing values and today, my aim is higher than ever."

Don't Let This Be On YOUR CONSCIENCE

MANY TIMES in the early days of this war, battles were lost and lives were sacrificed because there was "Too Little Too Late". No words could be more tragic. They must not be heard now.

Canada's armed forces are fighting our battles. Shall we at home fail to give them every possible support? They left their jobs, their homes, their friends for the discomforts and dangers which are ever present, prepared if need be to make the supreme sacrifice. Are we going to let them down? Are we going to increase the dangers . . . multiply the hazards . . . prolong the struggle because of "Too Little Too Late"?

Our big job right now is to put over this fourth

Victory Loan. The need is greater than ever. It's unthinkable that we should falter or fail.

A lot of money to raise? Sure it is. But it can be done. It must be done. Have you gone the limit? Or, could you stretch the budget by a greater effort; by real self denial, by postponing the purchase of something you would like now but could wait until the time when you can buy with a clear conscience?

Canada needs every dollar you can lend.

There is still time for you to do your full part. Maybe it's your own son, or your neighbor's son, brother or husband who is depending on you. Don't let them down at this critical time.

break in German morale. Germany had anticipated that if she lost in war she might win in peace but this time there was no such hope. She knew that, because of her brutality, inhumanity and disregard of the laws of man she could no longer expect the sympathy of the world but, like a cornered rat, must fight on to the end which must be her overwhelming defeat on the field of battle. But the end was in sight.

The speaker emphasized the necessity of winning the war and the peace to follow. The Allies were united internationally and nationally as they had not been in the last war. All realized the necessity of a policy of "live and let live" if there was to be real peace and contentment.

As for the financial position after the war, the speaker referred to the demand there would be for such things as automobiles, radios, etc. There would be the modern machinery to produce these. There was to be expected a new economic period and condition such as the world had not known before. There would be no utopia, he expected, but there should be a situation in which every man who wished to earn a living should be given the opportunity to do so.

President George C. Mitchell was in the chair at the luncheon and thanked the speaker. Luncheon guests were Gus Orntegen, Nainaimo Rotarian, G. A. Hunter, T. W. Brown and W. W. Trotter.

The occasion was S. C. Thomson's birthday was mentioned and farewell was said to one of the members, Dr. Joseph T. Mandy, as he was about to leave for Vancouver to take up future residence. The winner of the savings certificate in the Queen's Fund

FLYING FORTS BLAST AXIS SUPPLIES IN ITALY

THE STORY BEHIND MEAT RATIONING

Food is a weapon of war, and we must share our supplies with those who are fighting to keep the war from our shores. After all special wartime demands are taken care of, only one half of the meat produced in Canada will be available for ordinary domestic consumption at home.

Meat supplies for our Armed Forces must be maintained at all costs.

Canned meat is required in large quantities by the Red Cross to send to our boys who are prisoners of war.

Great Britain has to depend more and more on Canada for supplies to maintain even its present low ration rate of 28 cents worth of meat per person, per week.

Places like Newfoundland and the West Indies, which previously secured their meat from other sources—must now depend to a great extent on Canada.

Since the war started the consumption of meat by civilians has increased in Canada. Great defense projects such as the Alcan Highway and the Shipshaw Power Development have created new and large demands for meat in areas where practically no demand existed before.

The many extra ships of the United Nations now calling at Canadian ports, must be furnished with meat.

RATIONING IS INTELLIGENT FORESIGHT — INTELLIGENT PLANNING

Coupon rationing is the only way of ensuring equal sharing of the meat available for civilian consumption in Canada. Those with lots of money will not get more than their share—and those with less money will be assured of getting their fair share.

Rationing will help prevent local meat shortages such as occurred last year from becoming widespread and continuous throughout the whole Dominion. The incentive for panic-buying which empties butcher shops early in the day, will be eliminated.

THE MEAT RATION WILL BE AMPLE FOR HEALTH AND NUTRITION

Fortunately, our meat production in Canada has increased. So, although only half our production will be available for civilian use, it will mean a reduction of only about 15% to 20% in the average household consumption.

The proposed ration of 2 lbs. (carcass weight) per person, per week, has been approved by the country's leading food and nutrition authorities, as ample for the health and nutrition standards of everyone—regardless of age or occupation.

DATES AND OTHER DETAILS REGARDING MEAT RATIONING—SOON TO BECOME EFFECTIVE IN CANADA—WILL BE ANNOUNCED LATER

Three Extra Inning Encounters are Played in American League On Thursday

NEW YORK, May 14 (Canadian Press)—Brooklyn Dodgers are still pacing the National League with a full two-game lead over the St. Louis Cardinals. The Bums took the measure of the Pittsburgh Pirates in a close game yesterday while the Cards were blanking the Boston Bees. The Cincinnati Reds continued in third place, taking both ends of a double-header from the Phillies. The New York Giants downed the Chicago Cubs and the two clubs are now in a tie for seventh place or the cellar.

The New York Yankees were idle in the American League but maintained their leadership with a margin of one game and a-half over Cleveland Indians who were dropping a close decision to the Washington Senators. Indeed, all games played in the American League yesterday were extra inning affairs.

Yesterday's Big League scores:

National League
New York 7; Chicago 4.
St. Louis 5; Boston 0.
Brooklyn 5; Pittsburgh 4.
Cincinnati 13-3; Philadelphia 2-1.

American League
Philadelphia 2; Detroit 1 (thirteen innings).
Washington 3; Cleveland 2 (twelve innings).
Boston 6; St. Louis 4 (twelve innings).
New York-Chicago postponed.

The standings to date:

Brooklyn	13	6 684
St. Louis	9	6 600

Pittsburgh	7	8 467
Boston	7	8 467

INVASION OF EUROPE IS NEXT MOVE

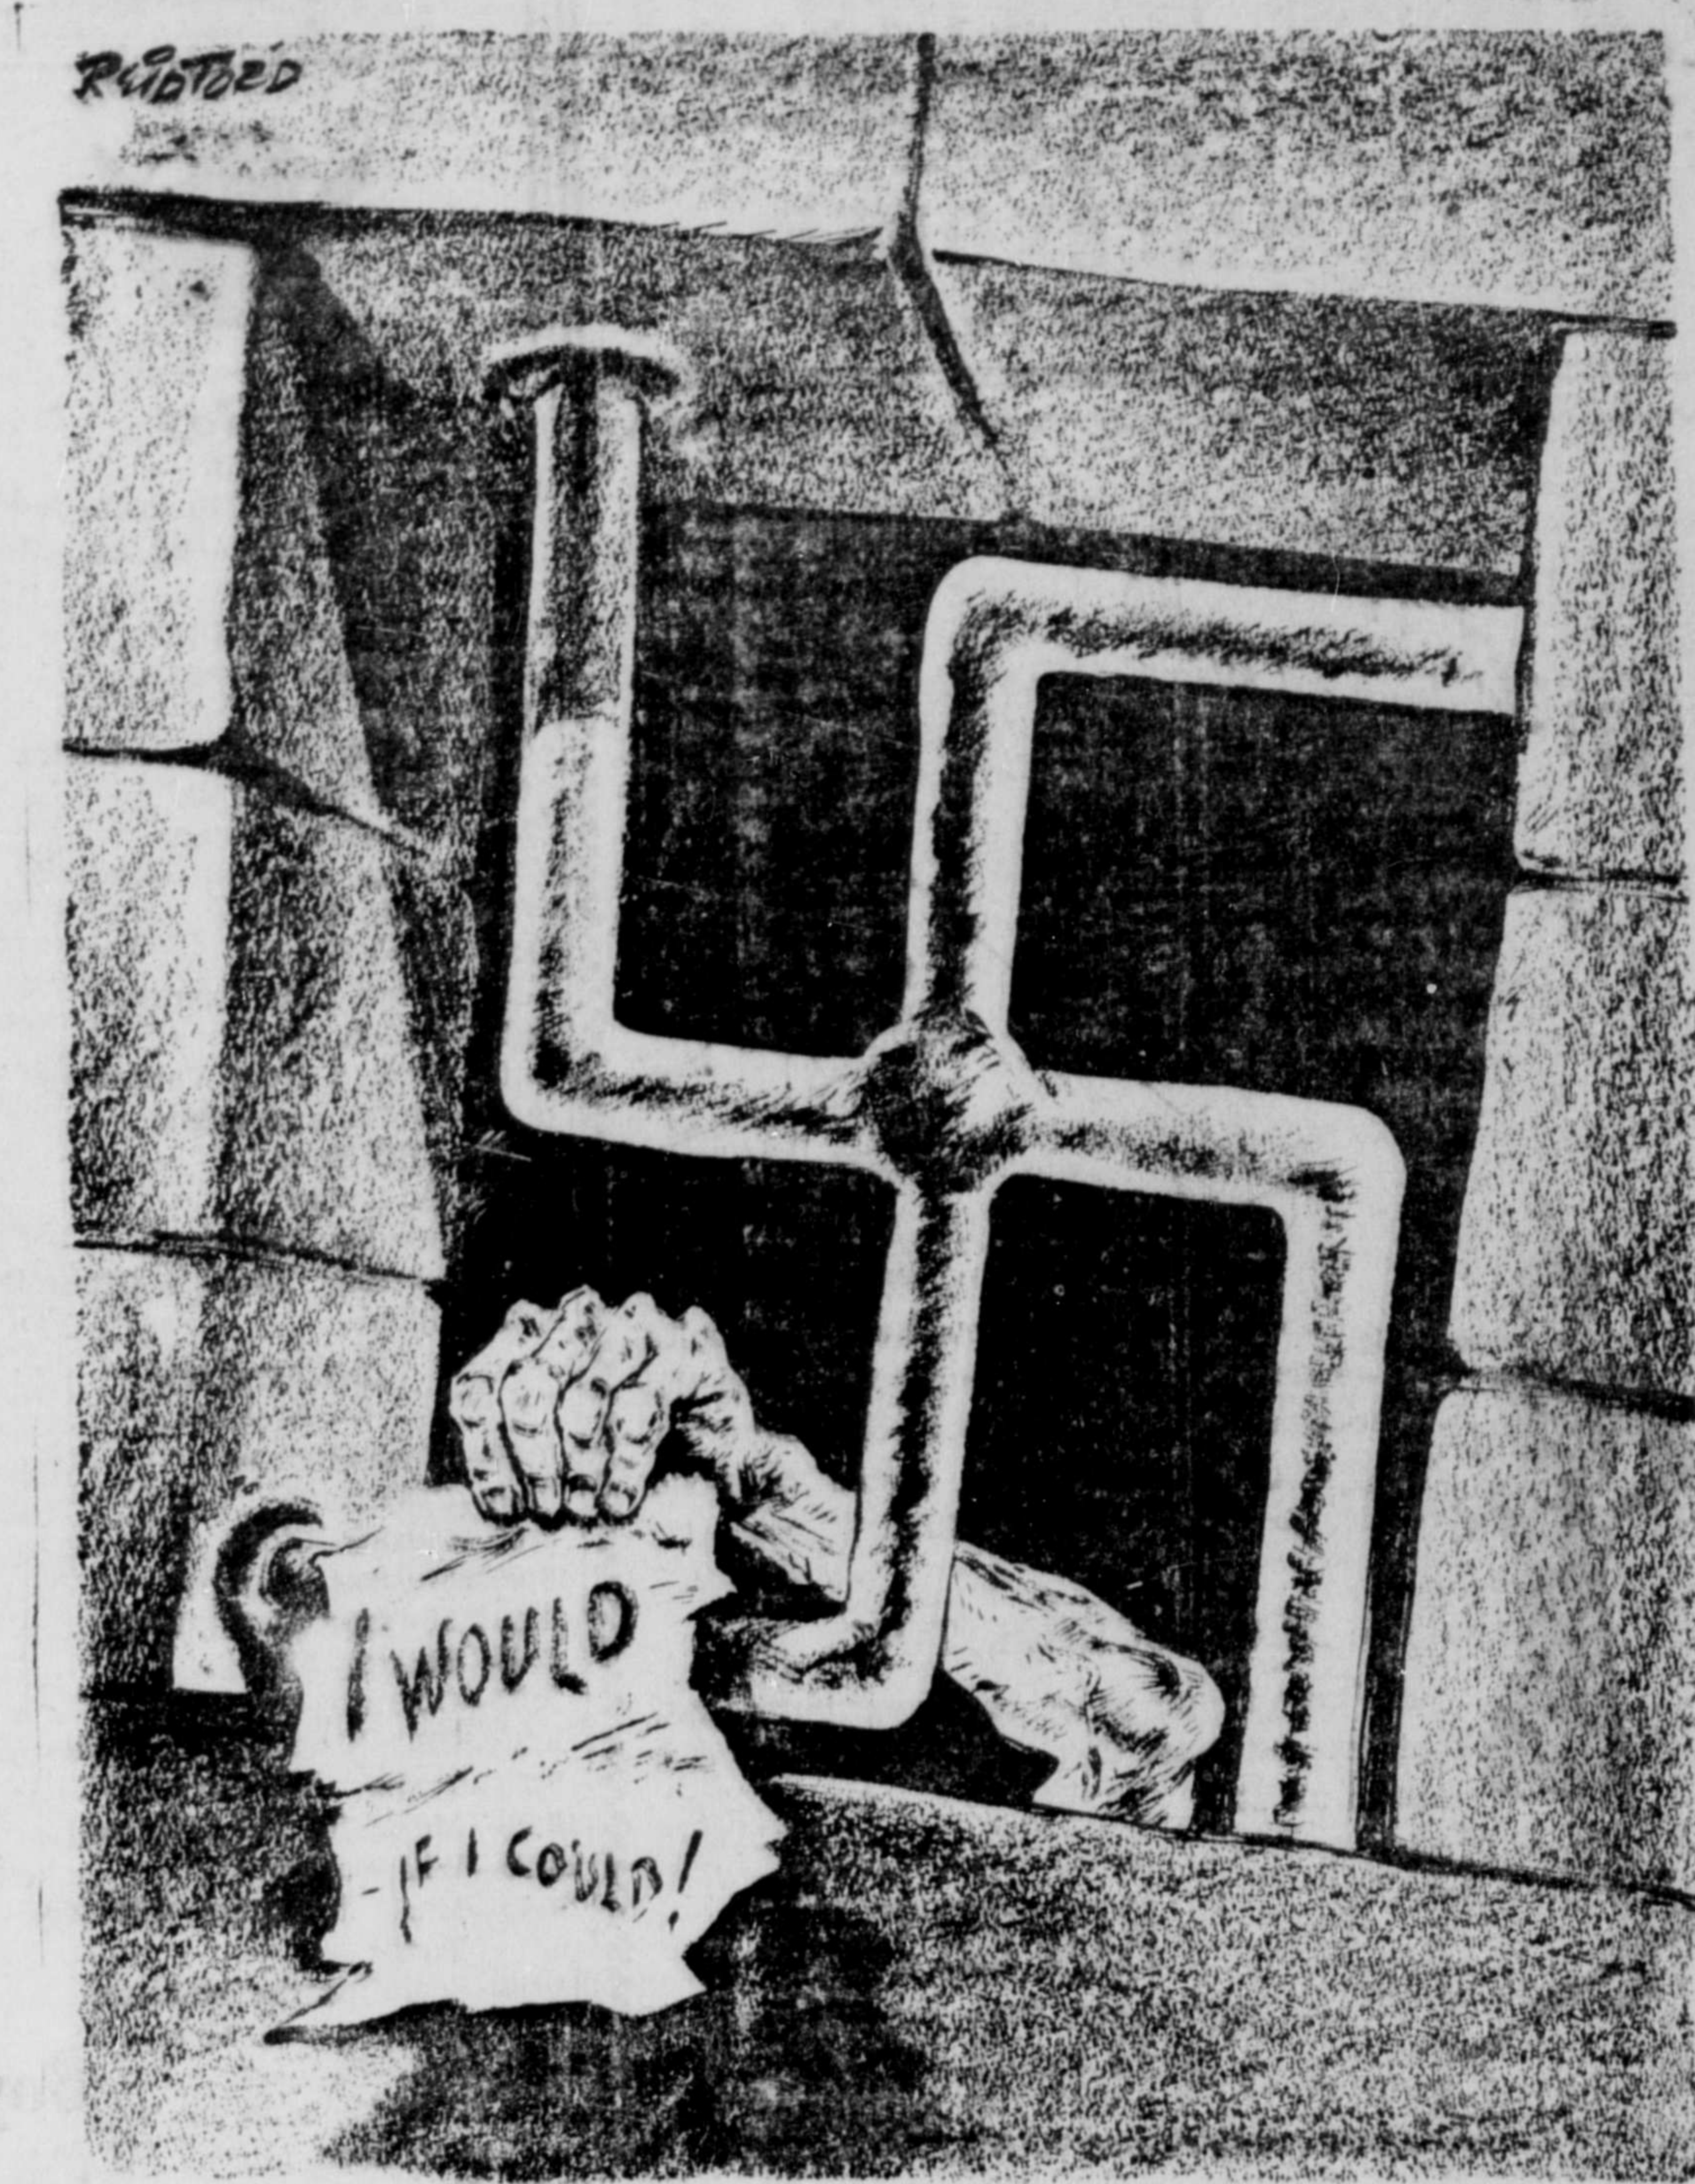

Axis Elimination From North Africa Simplifies Things For Allies

LONDON, May 14—The final defeat of the Axis in Tunisia means more than just clearing the enemy from Africa. It gives the United Nations control of the Mediterranean and eliminated the circuitous haul around the Cape of Good Hope for Allied convoys to the Middle East. The shorter route will treble the carrying capacity of Allied shipping and greatly simplify the patrol duties of the Allied navies. War materials will reach the Middle East area faster, more safely and in greater quantities than hitherto. The whole of the Mediterranean will become an Allied lake.

So long as the Axis retained as much as a foothold in Africa much of the Mediterranean was closed to Allied shipping, the southern coast of Europe was protected from invasion. But with the Axis eliminated from Africa Hitler's first line of defence will be the long meandering shore line from Spain to Turkish Thrace, from which the Wehrmacht must be ready to repel invasion at any point.

While the Allied thrusts against Europe's underside conceivably might come simultaneously at several points, geography somewhat limits the likely areas of the main thrusts. In point of distance, the Italian peninsula, which extends from Europe toward Africa like a truncated bridge, might seem preferable. But once they established a bridgehead in Southern Italy, the United Nations still would have a long way to go and high mountains to cross before they reached any vital objective.

Balkan Breadbasket
That is doubtless why the Germans are concerned mainly at present with their likelihood of a thrust through the Balkans. A blow there would be aimed straight at Hitler's breadbasket.

—Courtesy Montreal Daily Star.

For the Balkans are one of his chief sources of raw materials, both foodstuffs and oil. Any Allied force that got a foothold in the Struma Valley, that natural avenue into Southeastern Europe which served the Allies so well in World War I and through which the Nazi Panzers spilled into Greece in the spring of 1941, provides a convenient short cut through the mountains to the fertile Danube plain and the Rumanian oil fields, which also are within easy striking distance of Turkish Thrace.

It probably was this consideration that prompted Field Marshal Keitel's reported recent visits to Crete and Crete. The best Axis line of defence in this immediate area is provided by Crete and the Aegean archipelagos. But should Turkey throw in its lot completely with the United Nations, these would be by-passed and isolated.

Allied Strength Grows

In German eyes, suzerance is lent to those fears by the steady increase in the Allied military establishment in countries bordering on Turkey. From almost token strength less than a year ago, the Iran and Iraq Command has grown to a formidable army which comprises some of the finest units of the British Army, in addition to sizable contingents representing the occupied countries.

Men and equipment first began to pour into the area toward the end of last July, when the Nazis were driving ahead in the Caucasus and it looked as though the Middle East would have to meet an Axis attack from the north. Later, this danger subsided and finally vanished, but troops and arms have continued to arrive in ever-increasing numbers.

In addition to the British Imperial Forces which make up its bulk, this new army includes the largest contingents yet assembled of Allied troops representing the conquered countries of Europe. Besides the Fighting French from Syria, there are a Polish Army Corps, several Greek groups, a Yugoslav division, and Czech regiments. Jewish forces from Palestine, whose ranks include a considerable sprinkling of refugees from Nazi terror in Central Europe also are serving in this army of the coming invasion.

WATER NOW IMPROVED

Two booster pumps to augment the city's water supply have now been installed and are in operation. As a result, there is already a marked improvement in the local water situation. For eight or ten months the Acropolis Hill reservoir had been practically dry. During the past course of the past two or three days there has been as much as eight feet of water in the reservoir.

The result is that the city is now getting back in the position where it cannot only take care of the normal requirements but will have a reserve for use in the emergency of fire protection or other demands.
