CORVETTE IS SUNK

H.M.C.S. Weyburn is Lost in Mediterranean

OTTAWA, March 9 — The navy minister, Hon. Angus Macdonald, last night announced sinking of a second Canadian corvette, H.M.C.S. Weyburn, in the Mediterranean. The vessel is presumed to have blown up when hit by a torpedo. At first it was believed she had hit a mine.

Sixty-one of the crew of seventy survived the explosion and several were injured, some seriously. Lieut. Commander Thomas W. M. Goldby R.C.N.R., of Cadboro Bay, Vancouver Island, is one of those listed as missing and presumably went down with his ship, being killed in action.

Before the war Goldby, who was 37 years of age, was a merchant ship officer, serving as chief officer for the British Yukon Navigation Co., sailing out of Vancouver.

There were no other casualties from British Columbia.

The survivors include Lieut. William Garrard, 45, of the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve, Victoria.

The sinking of the Weyburn occurred in the Gibraltar area. The date was not announced.

The Weyburn was the twelfth Canadian warship of all classes lost by the navy since the war began.

The Louisburg was the previous Canadian corvette loss in the Mediterranean. She was sunk by air attack.

REDS NOT INFORMED

Statement Made by Ambassador Standley in Moscow Draws Attention

MOSCOW, March 8 —Admiral William Standley, United States ambassador to Russia, told a press conference that he did not think the Russian people are being told the complete story of American aid to Russia. Standley said he found no political motive but believed it was an effort to create the impression with the Russians that they are pulling themselves through by their bootstraps.

Pointing out that a new Lend Lease bill was now before Congress Standley said that Congress was generous but, if given the impression that their help means nothing, "there might be a different story."

WASHINGTON, D.C., March 9—Under Secretary of State Sumner Welles says that the statement made in Moscow by United States Ambassador Standley is without "consultation" or "reference" to the American government.

Under the old regulations no rations were granted to anyone for a temporary period of less than seven days.

The new ruling became effective on March 6.

Civilian visitors from other countries desiring temporary rations for from five to ten days will obtain, under the new regulations, a temporary card providing them with: 1 butter coupon, 1 tea and coffee coupon, 1 sugar coupon, 2 spare "A" coupons, 1 spare "B" coupon, 2 spare "C" coupons.

TAKE A PEEK AT NEW U.S. TANK

Here is the first picture of the American made M-5 light tank, released in Washington, D.C., by the war department. The M5 with its improved speed and manoeuvrability, effectively supplies the need for a light tank that can run faster and hit harder than equivalent weapons of the enemy. The M-5 is given credit for much of the Allied success against Rommel's forces in Africa.

GOOD BUT NOT GOOD ENOUGH FOR RED CROSS CAMPAIGN IN RUPERT

THE DAILY NEWS EDITORIAL

DAILY EDITION Tuesday, March 9 1943

Red Cross Campaign . . .

The Red Cross campaign is going on satisfactorily in Prince Rupert and is now well along towards the half-way mark of the $12,000 objective. We are sure that there are few people in the city who do not realize the importance of the Red Cross work and are anxious to give to the utmost of their ability. It should not be necessary to elaborate further upon the need.

Canvassers are endeavouring to reach every person in the city. There are, of course, some people who will not be reached by the canvassers. Such people who have not been actually canvassed and wish to give should find it easy to see that their gifts get to the Red Cross organization.

The Daily News reiterates its hearty endorsement of the Red Cross cause and if its facilities can be of service in assisting to actually bring in contributions they are gladly offered.

Just To Think of Work Being Done May Inspire More Adequate Donation

Prince Rupert has been doing well so far in the Red Cross campaign but it must do better yet. There are many who have not made donations at all as yet. There are many who have not done their best.

Think of the Canadian Red Cross like this! . . . See it in terms of a lad in prison camp . . . young and alive . . . shut away from all things that matter . . . looking to the day when Red Cross food parcels come as the greatest and most thrilling event on the calendar! The one little link between the free outer world . . . temporarily lost . . . because of a willingness to get into this war and get it over with! Boys like a 23-year-old aviator who says, "I guess it's because I am so young that I'm hungry all the time." And still another who writes, "Our friends ARE kind to us. Apart from the actual gifts, themselves most welcome, it is most uplifting to know that one is not forgotten, only temporarily mislaid."

And still another, "It's pleasing to be able to say that except for a few minor complaints and the INCESSANT wish to be home once more, life continues not TOO un-

The Canadian Red Cross has work to do and lives to save . . . but only through the prompt and generous gifts of Canadians can that work be fulfilled.

The campaign is now on. The Canadian Red Cross has the machinery, the stimulation, information and the "open sesame" to carry out its humanitarian ideals . . . but its motive power must come from Canadians who are noted all over the world for their response to the cry of need.

That "motive power" for which we are responsible and for which a considerable section of the world is living in daily need . . . is $10,000,000. Prince Rupert's commitment is $12,000.

THEY GAVE THEIR BEST

Humble Example of Real Sacrifice
To Make Contribution to Red Cross

Appreciation of the Red Cross and the work it is carrying out is being found in many quarters.

One incident was the call of a canvasser at a rather humble dwelling where a mother and a number of young children were found. It was quite evident that their circumstances were none too good.

The mother hesitated about giving when a girl, possibly about ten years old, pleaded with her, telling of the work she had been told the Red Cross was doing and saying: "Mother, can't you find just 50c?"

The fifty cents was found and then a little boy located 10c.

These gifts were "humble" but they probably represented a greater sacrifice than might have been involved for many ambitious donors.

Our men in the fighting forces take on a stern responsibility when they take up arms and for the time being, leave behind them country and kin. They do so eagerly . . . cheerfully . . . and they have every right to expect us to back them up 100 percent. Back the Red Cross.

Give to the Canadian Red Cross

pleasant. Parcels and cigarettes keep on arriving from the Red Cross in the wonted monthly quota, which conveys to us more than meets the eye. Please convey my thanks and best wishes to your staff."

What if those parcels stopped coming? Quite apart from the hunger element . . . what of morale? Brave lads who have given their freedom to keep us safe must be kept bolstered up . . . assured of their release . . . looking forward to the day when they will be back again with their fellow men . . . kept alive . . . in body AND spirit . . . and Red Cross food parcels do just that for them!

This year $5,500,000 must go for food parcels for Britain and Canadian Prisoners of War in Europe; $500,000 for good parcels for Canadian prisoners in the Far East; $3,000,000 for Hospital supplies and merchandise to make comforts for Armed Forces and Civilians . . . $250,000 will keep the Blood Donor Service functioning so that precious blood serum so necessary in saving lives on every battlefield may go in an uninterrupted flow to its need. Another $1,250,000 is needed for Disaster and Emergency including help to Allied Red Cross Societies.

The cause is JUST and WORTHY . . . The need is written in terms of humanity. Give even MORE than you intended! . . . Think what it means to those who WAIT and BELIEVE! . . . GIVE GENEROUSLY!

People must not die from hunger . . . while we go filled. Little children must not be unclothed and uncared for in our Allied countries. . . while we have so much to offer. Give to the Red Cross.

By supporting the work of the Canadian Red Cross, we can do a great deal for these men of ours who are facing a task that is grim and difficult at best.

Give - HUMAN SUFFERING IS GREATER THAN EVER Now!

The Red Cross helps war sufferers, soldiers, civilians, alike. It might help you.

"MEET THE STEWARTS"

William Holden and Frances Dee Co-Star in Popular "Candy" Stories

Candy and Mike Stewart, that pair of romantics whose marital woes have delighted Ladies Home Journal readers, come to the Capitol Theatre screen on Wednesday in "Meet the Stewarts." William Holden and Frances Dee are the carefree co-stars of the film.

"Meet the Stewarts" describes the domestic difficulties of a young couple who hadn't a nickel in their pockets and a million dollars worth of love in their hearts. They try to live on a budget but, when the bride can't even boil an egg, she's bound to keep her husband in hot water. Complicate their married strife with her family, which thinks Mike is a fortune hunter, and his family, which thinks Candy is a man-hunter, and "Meet the Stewarts" reaches a crescendo of hilarity particularly appealing to film fans.

In major supporting roles are such well known comedy actors as Grant Mitchell and Marjorie Gateason, who appear as Candy's wealthy parents; Ann Gillis and Danny Mummert, as her kid sister and brother; Anne Revere, as Mike's elder sister, who has her doubts about Candy's capabilities, and Roger Clark, who is seen as the innocent cause for a free-for-all which finally resolves all difficulties.

At last night's meeting of the city council a list of all employees of the city together with their duties and salaries was presented, a copy having been prepared for each alderman. Such a list was recently requested by Ald. H. M. Daggett.

The board of works reported to the city council last night that cutting of bush from around a number of city streets was proceeding. The work in the depression at the western junction of Sixth Avenue and Ambrose Avenue, where a motor fatality recently occurred, is also proceeding.

Staff Sergeant F. W. Gallagher announces that the police have received instructions to strictly enforce the city traffic regulations in regard to speed limits—20 miles per hour generally, 10 miles in school zones and fifteen miles in dimout periods. Stop signs and silent policemen must also be respected on pain of prosecution.

ACTIVITIES OF Y.M.C.A. AND Y.W.C.A.
 By DOROTHY GARBUTT
 The Hostess

Well you could have knocked me down with a feather! Guess who blew into town? Al Shipp, one of the three original Y.M.C.A. supervisors, when we first opened! He and Cliff Leslie and Breen Melvin took care of this area in those days and Al was stationed out at Seal Cove, remember? He's now in a special branch in the army and looks beautiful in his smart officer's uniform. Tall, dark and handsome! Al has been home on furlough in Vancouver and is returning via our town to Ottawa, where he is stationed or rather has his headquarters.

I told you I would give you all the news about the latest arrivals in the service babies ranks and here it is:

Petty Officer and Mrs. E. G. Rhodes, a baby boy born on February 27 weighing 9 pounds and called James Arthur Rhodes.

Fred and Mrs. Fulton (Army) a little girl on February 19 weighing 9 pounds and called Sharon Kathleen.

Sergeant Major and Mrs. E. G. Starrie, a baby girl on March 3 weighing 6 pounds 2 ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Chicoine (Army) a little boy on February 26 weighing 6 pounds.

Mrs. Hill-Tout was our hospital visitor this month and, as she has done such a grand job of it, I'm thinking of making her our permanent news scout. It had never occurred to Mrs. Muirhead or me to keep weight records.

We were sorry to hear that Mrs. (Sergeant) Isadore was in the hospital and hope she will have a speedy recovery. Mrs. Isadore is the little lady who played at the big army concert one of the regiments gave in the Aid to Russia Fund at the Capitol recently and mother of the small girl who recited on the same program.
