Hepburn Goes Over To Tory Party

RUPERT IN SPOTLIGHT

This and Edmonton are Regarded As Boom Cities of Dominion, Local Business Woman Finds

Northern British Columbia is much in the limelight in the East these days, says Mrs. H. S. Parker, who is just home from a six weeks' trip to such cities as Montreal, Toronto, Ottawa and Winnipeg. Everywhere Edmonton and Prince Rupert are being talked about as the boom cities of the Dominion. Mrs. Parker feels gratified that, at long last, Prince Rupert has won a place in the sun.

Mrs. Parker spent four days in Ottawa visiting with her daughter. She met Mr. and Mrs. Olof Hanson and had the opportunity of spending an hour in the gallery of the House of Commons while Prime Minister William Lyon Mackenzie King and Finance Minister J. L. Ilsley were speaking. It was an impressive experience.

Generally speaking, it was cold in the East, Mrs. Parker says, except in Toronto where she spent ten days and where it was almost as balmy as Prince Rupert usually is.

WARSHIPS ASSEMBLE

Germans Believed Concentrating Armada off Norway for Attack On Russian Shipping

LONDON, March 6—A powerful force of major German warships is reported assembled in the Trondheim area of Norway and renewed attacks on shipping to northern Russia are believed to be contemplated although it is possible the presence of the enemy fleet may be in fear of an invasion of Norway.

The Nazi fleet is said to include the battleship Tirpitz, two large cruisers, a number of fast destroyers and possibly the battleship Scharnhorst as well as the aircraft carrier Graf Zepellin.

If the enemy fleet should venture out, it is believed a major sea battle would be inevitable.

SUPPORT OF RED CROSS

President of Local Association Tells Gyro Club of Need—Proposed As International Objective

Speaker at this week's luncheon of the Prince Rupert Gyro Club, Arnold Flaten, president of the Prince Rupert branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society, advocated support of the proposal of R. G. Rutherford of Kelowna, international president of Gyro, that backing of the Red Cross be taken up as the principal wartime objective of Gyro. Mr. Flaten also sought the fullest possible support for the current Red Cross drive for funds which is being carried on both in Canada and the United States.

Mr. Flaten told how 48c out of every dollar of Red Cross money was now being used to provide parcels of food and clothing for prisoners of war. He described the machinery which ensured that these parcels reached their destination. This was through Great Britain and via Portugal and Switzerland to Germany and Italy. A very effective means of distribution had been set up. Eleven pounds of food each week was sent to each prisoner and the loss was negligible at only one parcel out of every 1250. Arrangements were also being made through the Red Cross for provision of medical supplies and instruments and educational and recreational facilities for these prisoners.

The speaker went on to tell how the Red Cross was using $3,000,000 for hospital and other supplies. Also there was to be $1,500,000 for disaster relief.

In regard to disaster relief, Mr. Flaten told how arrangements were being made to take care of casualties in the event of the need arising. There was mobile surgical equipment and the necessary supplies for a 25-bed hospital unit. Disaster relief clothing for women and children was also stored here.

Another function of the Red Cross was the looking after, where necessary, of the children of Canadian soldiers in Britain who married Old Country women.

Mr. Flaten referred particularly to the serious state of affairs in Greece where every inhabitant was in dire need, where hundreds were dying daily of starvation, where children fought with dogs in the street for morsels of food. Here was a nation which faced extinction through lack of food. It was another situation with which the Red Cross was endeavouring to deal.

The importance of both helping the campaign and giving to it was emphasized by Mr. Flaten.

President W. J. Scott was in the chair and there was a good attendance of members. Don Miller, the latest new member of the club, was welcomed. Corp. C. H. Clausen of the United States Army was a guest.

ARMY WINS ITS FOURTH

VICTORIA, March 6—Victoria Army defeated Vancouver Royal Canadian Air Force ten to five for the third straight victory in the British Columbia senior hockey best out of seven final. The fourth game will be played tonight.

AIR FORCE OUT AGAIN

Tenth Successive Night of Raids In Enemy-occupied Western Europe — Essen Main Target

LONDON, March 6—Bombers of the Royal Air Force and Royal Canadian Air Force raided Essen and other points in western Germany and occupied country in western Europe for the tenth consecutive night last night. Heavy explosions were heard in England and it was thought that positions around Dunkerque were among the target areas. Fourteen planes failed to return, indicating that 300 to 400 took part in the raids. Two German E-boats were sunk during the day off the Dutch coast and two others were damaged.

BACK OF BRACKEN

Mitchell Hepburn to Support Progressive Conservative Leader At Next Election

WATERLOO, Ontario, March 5—Mitchell Hepburn, former Ontario Liberal Premier, said that he will vote at the next election for the Progressive Conservative leader, John Bracken.

Mr. Hepburn told the Ontario Brotherhood of Threshermen that "I will let them read me out of the party if they like. I am going to vote for John Bracken, a decent, progressive, kindly man who is out to give all the people of Canada a decent government."

Trying to Get Schools Back To Fuel Oil

B. Thorsteinsen, inspector of schools, who is to make a trip south shortly, has offered to interview, on behalf of the board of school trustees, the federal fuel controller with a view to obtaining permission for the schools to go back to fuel oil for heating purposes in view of the coal shortage which caused a good deal of inconvenience in heating the local schools during the past winter. Recently some of the schools had been changed from coal to oil burning.

FAID PASS CAPTURED?

Allies Said to Have Taken it But Report is Not Confirmed

LONDON, March 6—There were reports last night that Allied troops had captured Faid Pass in central Tunisia, these reports, however, being not immediately confirmed. The only information here was that the Allies were threatening Faid Pass.

The British Eighth Army came in contact with General Rommel's forces and overcame resistance, the Mareth Line still being threatened.

There is little change in the coastal area to the north where German attacks have been beaten back.

School Children Active in Buying Savings Stamps

Pupils of the local public schools continue to put by considerable of their change in war savings stamps. At King Edward School in February there were 199 buyers of stamps, the purchases amounting to $212.25 to bring the total since last fall to $942. At Borden Street School the savings for February amounted to $174.14, making the total since September for the school, $923.34.

Protection For Children From Air Raid Gone

Principal S. A. Cheeseman of Borden Street School is not satisfied with the situation around his school as far as the safety of the children would be concerned in the event of an air raid. Removal of bush in the vicinity of the school has taken away considerable of the shelter. He has reported the situation to the school board.

STATEMENT INCORRECT

Ralston Says That Assertion of Thirty Ships Being Sunk Is Not Correct

OTTAWA, March 6—Hon. J. L. Ralston, minister of national defence, had no statement to make yesterday on the assertion of Onesime Gagnon, member of the Quebec Legislature, that thirty vessels had been sunk last year by enemy submarines in the St. Lawrence River except that the statement was not correct.

Hard to Obtain Substitutes In Local Schools

Considerable difficulty is being experienced in the securing of substitute teachers for the local schools. In view of the scarcity, the school board has agreed to Mrs. J. A. Rutherford, the secretary of the board, filling in occasionally in case of emergency although her secretarial duties take up considerable of her time.

They Take Parts In Sturdy Film

Hollywood Producing Screen Play on Work of Canadian Navy

HOLLYWOOD, March 6—Randolph Scott and Barry Fitzgerald have been chosen as the corvette commander and his right-hand man in the motion picture "Corvettes in Action", based on the work of the Royal Canadian Navy. The screen play was written by Lieut. John Sturdy, former Montreal newspaperman, and the picture is directed by Richard Rosson, who in 1939 spent more than a month in a German concentration camp. Rosson made five convoy journeys to obtain authentic sea-warfare scenes. His right wrist was broken in a storm during his final Atlantic crossing.

VICTORY FOR SMUTS

PRETORIA, March 6—L. J. Raudenseimer, United Party candidate, defeated H. Webb, Independent, by a vote of 2,390 to 873 in a by-election at Barberton caused by the transfer of Col. Denis Reitz to London as high commissioner.

BOMBING OF JAPANESE

Gasmata and Other Objectives in Southwestern Pacific Hit by Allied Planes

MELBOURNE, March 6—The Japanese air base at Gasmata on New Britain was bombed by Allied planes yesterday and there were also raids on enemy positions at Lae and elsewhere on New Guinea.

POST-WAR PLANNING

Committee of Canadian Senate Formed to Take up This Subject

OTTAWA, March 6—A committee of thirty-eight members of the Senate has been appointed to study post-war reconstruction measures with particular reference to health and social security. Senator J. W. deB. Farris of Vancouver referred to the importance of post-war planning.

IGNORED WORLD RUMOR

CAPE TOWN, March 6—Field Marshal Jan Christian Smuts, South Africa's prime minister, appears daily in good fettle at the sittings of the Union's House of Assembly and the Official Information Bureau thinks it "not worth while" denying the rumor on Vichy radio of a plot to assassinate the 72-year old statesman.

Subscribers Coming Back

Implementing a warning that we issued several weeks ago, the circulation department of the Daily News during the past few days cut off some eighty or so subscribers who were behind in their payments. The reaction was that almost a quarter of these have now paid up and are back on the list again. We would be glad to have the rest of our old friends back with us by payment of their subscriptions even if the rationing of paper is causing some concern as to how we are going to meet the demands of greatly increased circulation demand.

RED ARMY ADVANCE

Everywhere Along Great Front, Russians Are Successful Over Nazis

MOSCOW, March 6—The Red Army is sweeping on towards the important city of Smolensk.

In spite of stiff resistance west of Rzhev, the Russians advanced and recaptured one hundred towns, thirty since last night.

Far to the south, as well as everywhere else on the long front, the Soviet forces continue to move ahead.

Encroach On Playgrounds

Recreational Facilities For Children Here Being Interfered With by New Developments.

The Westview, Acropolis Hill and Sixth Avenue and McBride Street playgrounds of the Prince Rupert Gyro Club have been disturbed by defence projects, and operations here and Morse Creek swimming pool has been encroached upon. Now it is said that the McClymont Park playground may have to disappear.

The city council is getting in touch with the Gyro Club with the suggestion that a joint committee be formed to confer with the authorities concerned to see what can be done about it.

School Repairs Badly Needed

Lack of Finances, Materials and Men to do Work Constitute a Problem.

Badly needed repairs and improvements in some of the city schools are being held up in view of the inability to see where the financing is to come from to say nothing of the securing of the necessary materials and labor.

A case in point is the roof of Borden Street School which is leaking badly. The situation has reached a point where, if something is not done, it may be necessary to close the school. Already one room is unsafe.

The sanitary inspector has reported that lighting conditions in some of the schools are inadequate and to carry out the improvements which he recommends would involve a major job.

There are other lesser improvements that should also be undertaken.

PATTULLO AND HART

Had Clash in Legislature Yesterday Over Policy in Regard To Income Tax

VICTORIA, March 6—Former Premier T. D. Pattullo and Premier John Hart, his former minister of finance, clashed in the Legislature yesterday.

Mr. Pattullo demanded that Premier Hart make a clear statement of the coalition government's attitude toward jurisdiction in the income tax field. He said that the government should not surrender the right to participate in the tax after the war.

Mr. Hart replied that, if he were Premier at the end of the war, he would then make a statement of policy.

BOTTLENECK FOR LIQUOR

Biggest Line-up Yet Seen Outside Local Vendor's Premises Today

There was a real bottleneck at the local liquor store this morning and for almost two hours there was a crowd nearly a block in length awaiting admission. For the first time in a week hard liquor was on sale. Fully an hour before the store opened, there was a long line-up. At one time some three hundred persons, including several women, were in the string. Some of them waited from before 10 o'clock until after noon.

Yesterday afternoon beer was being sold and, while many were in line, the number was not nearly as large as today which constituted a record.

NORWAY'S SEAMEN

The Beveridge Plan . . .

The Beveridge Report to the British House of Commons on social security is under much discussion these days. Though some enthusiasts see in it a panacea for every ill, it represents, as its creator admits, only one small aspect of planning for the world of the future.

Basically the Beveridge plan seeks to provide a defence against destitution during periods of normal unemployment. In addition, it proposes to extend minimum financial assistance in special circumstances.

Sir William Beveridge is careful to emphasize that his recommendations will achieve their desired results only if they are accompanied by an all-out attack on the broader problem of maintaining full employment, the health and general welfare of the people. It is not a plan for prosperity, nor even a plan for the elimination of poverty. While it covers most contingencies which usually involve financial strain on the individual, such as physical disability, medical treatment, maternity, funeral expenses, widowhood and separation, the plan is not intended to solve, or even cope with, the problem of mass unemployment. In fact, the Beveridge proposals assume that idleness due to seasonal fluctuations and industrial turnovers will not exceed 10 per cent of the workers now employed in industries covered by present unemployment insurance schemes. Says the report: "Social insurance fully developed may provide income security; it is an attack on want, but want is one only of five giants on the road to reconstruction, and in some ways the easiest to attack. The others are disease, ignorance, squalor and idleness."

The Beveridge Report deals with but one of the problems which we must face in the New World. In the United Kingdom, many committees are at work on these other problems with the ultimate objective of maintaining employment and the national income, and improving the condition of the people. If these committees are successful, then the Beveridge plan will achieve its objective of eliminating destitution through providing a national minimum income for the population. Otherwise, Sir William's proposals would represent a pathetic barrier against destructive forces.

In spite of the author's emphasis on the need for stimulating initiative and the urge to work, certain of the concepts of the Beveridge plan are not always in tune with the more individualistic aspirations of a young country such as Canada. To some people the plan may smack of excessive state paternalism even though it seeks only to abolish destitution. None the less, there is no suggestion in Sir William's recommendations that satisfactory results can be obtained through the implementation of his proposals unless private enterprise under state guidance can supply the goods and opportunities which will abolish the need for widespread relief among the vast majority of people.

The state's concern in post-war years will not be the retention of the great bulk of wartime controls, but will be to secure on the one hand, the national income, and on the other the maximum output of goods and service.

The Beveridge Report is designed to take care of the mere basic financial requirements of dukes and dustmen. Whether or not it goes too far and impinges too much on what should be individual responsibility and on areas of individual activity cannot be discussed here. Nor are we able to deal with the vexing question of equal contribution and equal benefits for millionaires and paupers. None the less, it does provide an income base which, if strengthened by the development of private enterprise, can be used as a foundation for an expansion of goods and services which will so raise living standards as to reduce the urgent demands under the Beveridge plan to minor proportions. Certainly the publication of the Report has been a valuable stimulant in all the democratic countries

Job's Daughters Are In Session

A large crowd of Masons, Eastern Star members and parents gathered at the Masonic Temple last evening to witness the ritualistic work of the Daughters of Job.

The Honored Queen and the two Princesses looked very charming as they entered the Bethel in their long trailing purple velvet cloaks and jewelled crowns, followed by the Daughters in their Grecian styled robes.

During the business an outstanding invitation was read from the Grand Guardian of Washington, M. S. Reland Jungquist, asking Bethel No. 3 to be represented at the Grand Session to be held in Spokane on April 8, 9 and 10.

Another interesting item which took place during the evening was the presenting by the donors of emblems of the Order of Job's Daughters.

Mrs. May Gordon spoke fittingly when she placed the white Bible upon the altar. She hoped that the girls would live up to the teachings of that book.

Mrs. Vera Tinker placed upon the Honored Queen and the Princesses' heads the jewelled crowns she donated with a very encouraging and praiseworthy word to each.

The donor of the White Dove, Mrs. Agnes Rochester, expressed her feeling of happiness and joy in presenting the dove and knew that its symbol meant much to the girls.

In presenting the Urn of Incense Mrs. George Dawes spoke of how, in all the ages the incense burner always led to prayer and hoped that the Daughters would look upon it as such.

The meeting adjourned to the banquet hall where an enjoyable hour was spent in playing Bingo, followed by tea and doughnuts. The sugar march proved very successful. All this ended with the merry song of "The More We are Together." Job's Daughters will again meet on the first Friday in April.

BRAVE, RESCUED SEAMEN need your help!

EVERY DAY fearless seamen are snatched from the cold clutches of the sea. Their sole possessions are on their backs. Personal belongings and clothing have gone down with their torpedoed ship.

On board the vessels of the R.C.N. and the Merchant Navy, the warm, friendly hand of the Red Cross reaches out to each one of them. First Aid, food and shelter are provided. Each man receives a new dunnage bag complete with the things a seaman needs. The Red Cross heals their bodies, revives their spirits, renews their morale.

Will you take your part in this mission of mercy? Will you help to send food parcels to our boys in enemy prisons? Will you reach out a helping hand to suffering humanity in Greece, China, Russia? Today the need is great—and growing. Give generously.

Conference on Shipyard Working Conditions an Event of Week—Explosion And Fire on Fishing Vessel

An important event of the past week in connection with the local waterfront and its activities was the conference of Mr. Justice S. E. Richards of Manitoba, Royal Commissioner on shipyard conditions, with the management and employees of the local dry dock. Sessions were in progress on Wednesday and Thursday at the local Court House and evidently the get-together was of benefit in harmoniously discussing a variety of matters of mutual interest. In any case, a satisfactory understanding was reached on the matter of future procedure. The first step settled upon was that of making a joint application — employer and employee — to the National War Labor Board with a view to reclassification of rates of wages as proposed in findings of the Richards Commission in Vancouver in order to establish a uniformity of wages for the same work carried out in various coast yards, this to provide for an immediate increase in wages for some of the lower paid men in the local yard. Then will follow an application for a 15c per hour increase all around for the local shipyard employees in view of the high cost of living here. Numerous briefs on various subjects relating to conditions in Prince Rupert were presented and one of the most impressive of these was that of Harold Ponder, vice-president of the Boilermakers' Union, who stressed the sincerity of purpose of the local shipyard workers with a view to doing their part in bringing about the utmost production as their part of the war effort. Among others who submitted representations were M. Walters, dock and shipyard workers, J. M. Rae, puncher and sheermen; H. Varner and Gordon Brock, riveters and reamers; J. Lofthouse, moulders; J. Lewis, riggers, and W. Lawrence, painters. M. L. Otto, of the personnel department of B.C. Bridge & Dredging Co., was also heard and consideration was also given to employer-employee management matters.

A fishing boat owned by Hugh McKenzie sustained a badly burned fo'c'sle one afternoon this week when fire broke out as a result of an overheated stove, explosion resulting. Hugh McAuley and J. Kilby promptly turned in a fire alarm and themselves assisting in extinguishing the fire. For a time the blaze caused considerable excitement.

The launching of another 10,000-ton freighter took place under favorable auspices this afternoon. Mrs. H. G. Christensen, wife of a shipwright, acted as sponsor in the ceremonies which were of brief and simple character. Rev. A. F. MacSween blessed the vessel which is named Fort Turtle.
