New Item of Railway Equipment Inspected at Montreal

MONTREAL, Nov. 27-"All of the ideas for safety and comfort that have been developed in the construction of hospital cars during the past three years are embodied in this unit," was the comment of Col. R. H. McGiobon, V. D., district medical officer, M. D. 4, when he and railway officials inspected the third Canadian National Railways hospital car as it came out of "It is truly modern in every espect and looks very satisfactory. I am sure the travelling casualties of all branches of Canada's active forces returning home from various overseas war zones will appreciate the many refinements which have been included and will find this hospital on wheels the most comfortable of any operating oc the North American continent" Co. McGibbon added.

This third Canadian National hospital car, converted from an all-steel air-conditioned parlor car, will shortly be turned over to the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps at Ottawa. It can accomodate twenty-eight bed cases. The interior layout was designed by Col. E. L. Stone of Ottawa, embarkation medical officer, in co-operation with medical officials and car experts of the national system.

The exterior finish is similar to that of an ordinary passenger coach but has large red crosses painted on either side of the car and extra wide doors so that stretchers can be conveniently lifted in or out. The interior resembles that of a hos-• pital ward with soft colors being used for the walls and ceiling. In addition, there are three compartments specially located as an admitting room, a combination diet kitchen and dispensary and wash rooms.

Schools have re-opened and the quarantine will in all likelihood come to an end in a few days. An informal census has disclosed that Terrace district now contains 2700 people and many of these have been immunized by Dr. Mills and his staff.

An accident to the bus which uns between the airport and Terrace might have been more serious than it was. The bus stalled in a soft spot and, being hauled out by a truck, smashed its radiator. Smoker, Parade and Theatre Party to be Held on Evening Of December 15

The first full unit get-together of the Prince Rupert Machine Gun Regiment, local reserve unit, will take place on December 15 in the form of a pre-Christmas smoker and theatre party, it was decided at a meeting of company officers in the orderly room last night. Lieut. T. N. Youngs was named chairman of the general committee which will consist of an officer and non-commissioned officer representing each of the five companies.

The plan is to arrange an interesting program for the smoker after which, led by the regimental band, there will be parade from the armory to the theatre where, through the courtesy of Lieut. D. G. Borland, manaoger of the Capitol Theatre, the technicolor picture 'This is the Army," featuring Irving Berlin, will be shown in
