HOT AIR AND RED TAPE

Department, Ottawa)

"DLAIN BILL" BRETT who likes to get down to brass tacks withtoo much beating around the ush, tells a Prince Rupert service h that he thinks there is too much tape and hot air at Victoria. is is what he says after his first raion of the Legislature as memor for Prince Rupert. Red tape and the Parliament buildings des one in getting things done. li ical talk in the House becomes ery boring and no one really pays much attention to it - except, of course, the folks back home who read in the newspapers about how their representatives are protecting the interests of their ridings and saving the country by their fulminations in the august chamber.

There are many things on which we may not agree with Bill Brett and his political group but we can be heartily in accord with the ideas about unnecessary red tape and hot air. And it comes well from one of his political stripe who are quite as bad offenders as either the Liberal or the Conservative politicians when it comes to disseminating through the Legislature hot air, political tripe or anything one might choose to call it.

Canadians spent $99,000 every day during 1945 to keep abreast of the news in Canadian daily newspapers.

IT IS A WORLD of disagreement. In the international scene, it seems impossible to reach common ground on disputes which have all the potentialities of future warfare. seems impossible to reconcile national considerations with the ability to reach international understanding. Within the nations, and United States and Canada are as bad as any, sectional considerations are permitted to stand in the way of composing disputes with resultant strikes and other troubles which impede our progress, hamper us in giving help that we might accord to less fortunate peoples of the world and, what is as bad as anything, arouse animosities which disintegrate our

It is a sorry picture all around and the pity of it is that it all stems from the inability or unwillingness to look at things in mutual interest and to compromise with the other fellow so that we might all work together for common welfare.

"The freedom of the press is an instrument of the freedom of the people and the newspapers must guard it for the people," says Lt.-Gov. R. J. M. Parker of Saskatchewan.

The Canadian Bank of Commerce has loaned millions of dollars to farmers through the years of expanding frontiers. Throughout Canada it has applied Banking in Action to help build this nation's thriving dairy and livestock industry.

LOURISHING FIELDS OF GRAIN—fat livestock, fruitful dairy herds and flocks-cereals, meats, milk, cheese, butter, eggs; the food of a nation and the hopes of starving peoples abroad; thriving communities, dependent for their welfare on the farmer-all these things flow from Canada's Agricultural Industry. That is Banking in Action.

Rod and Gun Club Tells Public Relations Council of Potential Tourist Attraction

Seeking co-operation in a move which would make lakes and streams in the vicinity of Prince Rupert more readily accessible not only to local sport fisher men but also to visitors, thus opening up a valuable tourist attraction in these parts, a delegation of the Prince Rupert Rod and Gun Club, consisting of B. The Council realized the value of opening up and making accessible of the resort swould be and offered its co-operation i assisting the Rod and Gun Club in making representations. Hon E. T. Kenney, minister of lands, and Hon. E. C. Carson, minis ter of Public works, both of whom will be visiting Prince Rupert soon, will be contacted.

The Rod and Gun Club was invited to be permanently represented on the Council and Mr. Bacon agreed to attend future meetings.

Reopening of Museum Here

The question of reopening the local museum now that tourist traffic was resuming, was discussed and Harry Black, for the museum board, promised early action on the matter. There had been deterioration in some of the museum articles owing to inattention during the war. There was also uncertainty yet as to quarters for the museum. There was a great deal of reorganization work to be done. The Council authorized the getting out of automobile windshield stickers advertising Prince Rupert. A guide card for tourists will also be prepared to show points of interest.

The Council expects to have issued early in June some sort of local pamphlet for distribution in answer to inquiries and for the benefit of visitors, supplementing a government booklet which has been published and will also be issued from here in large quantity.
