CHURCHILL SOUNDS A GRAVE WARNING

Calls for Anglo-American Alliance Against Russia

NO ONE CAN TELL HOW FAR SOVIET WOULD GO WITH ITS PLAN FOR EXPANSION OF POWER AND DOCTRINES — SHADOWS FALL ON WORLD AGAIN

FULTON, Missouri (CP) — Former Prime Minister Winston Churchill of Great Britain called today for a virtual Anglo-American military alliance with a blunt warning against what he termed Russia's desire for "indefinite expansion" of its "power and doctrines."

Mr. Churchill asserted that "shadow has fallen upon scenes so lately lighted by Allied victory. Nobody knows what Soviet Russia and its communist international organization intends to do in the immediate future or what are the limits, if any, to their expansive and proselyting tendencies."

Britain's wartime leader, in an address prepared for delivery at Westminster College, gravely declared that the prevention of another war "can only be achieved by reaching now, in 1946, a good understanding on all points with Russia under general authority of the United Nations Organization."

While he said he does not believe Russia wants war, Mr. Churchill attributed to the Russians a "desire for 'fruits of war and indefinite expansion of their power and doctrines.'" He cautioned against releasing the secret of the atomic bomb at this time.

Mr. Churchill emphasized that he spoke "only for myself" and had no official mission.

Great Blessing Is Destruction

From the gleaming wings of science, which might have brought immeasurable blessing to mankind, might be precipitated a return to the dark age—the stone age.

"The time is short. There is no time for waiting," Mr. Churchill asserted.

"Now war can find any nation between dusk and dawn," he asserted.

Mr. Churchill charged Russian-dominated Poland with enormous and wrongful inroads in Germany.

Totalitarian control was being imposed behind an iron curtain which stretched across Europe from Stettin on the Baltic to Trieste on the Adriatic.

The outlook was also anxious in the Far East, particularly in Manchuria, the wartime premier asserted.

The world needed a new unity in Europe. He had not lost hope in the dark days, said Mr. Churchill. Neither had he lost hope now.

"But I do not see or feel the same confidence or the same hope today that I had last year that wars are over." However, he still did not feel that war was inevitable.

"The future is in our own hands." He urged the establishment of freedom and democracy as rapidly as possible in all countries. He warned against a policy of appeasement.

The Russians had admiration for strength and not for weakness, he felt.

"If western democracy stands together, their influence will be immense," he asserted.

He recalled how he had cried aloud against appeasement but no one had listened.

There never had been a war in history that could have been more easily prevented by timely action than the last. "We must not let that happen again."

"Let no man underrate the abiding power of the British Empire and Commonwealth." Mr. Churchill's subject was "The Sinews of Peace."

THE BULLDOG GROWLS AGAIN

Former Prime Minister Winston Churchill . . . sees grave Red menace.

CO-OPERATIVE IS TO ESTABLISH NEW $75,000 LIVER OIL PLANT IN RUPERT

The Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative, at their seventh annual meeting here, voted to build a $75,000 liver oil plant as soon as construction on the 3,000-ton ice-making and storage plant is completed. Over two hundred members from all parts of the coast were present and President Harry Hansen guided the discussions.

Full reports on business operations were made to the membership by directors and employees. D. G. Macdonald, secretary, Pacific Coast Fishermen's Mutual Marine Insurance Co., pronounced the association in excellent financial condition. A substantial amount was set aside for educational and welfare purposes including $500 to the extension department of the University of British Columbia. This will assist in establishing a branch office of the department in Prince Rupert to provide a broad adult educational program for the whole northern area.

Jack Deane, manager, Fishermen's Co-operative Federation, stated that markets for fish and fish products would continue to be good. Delegates nominated to attend the convention of the federation to be held in Vancouver next month were instructed to encourage plans which would continue the democratic participation of members as well as provide for further great expansion of the organization.

C. D. Clarke described the efforts of the Co-operative Union of Canada to persuade the provincial government to make a survey of co-operatives in B.C. A thorough revision of the Co-operative Associations Act and the appointment of an inspector of co-operatives is being requested.

Miss Lin Brown, field worker, extension department, University of British Columbia, spoke briefly of the need for adult education.

Karl Dybhavn attended in his capacity as manager of the United Fishermen's Co-operative (Vancouver) and contributed to the deliberations.

The membership in general discussed in great length the large expansion program being carried out by the association. They felt that this showed an McGeer favored continued gifts of money to Britain for a "thousand years" and, even then, Britain would never have been repaid.

Convention Under Way

Clergy Took Prominent Part In Official Opening—Well Into Business Now

PORT SIMPSON—Following the official opening yesterday afternoon, the annual convention of the Native Brotherhood of British Columbia here is now deep in business which is expected to engage its attention for the coming week with time out for numerous social and entertainment functions which have been arranged by the local community incidental to the important gathering.

William Scow of Alert Bay, Grand President, is in the chair over the convention which was officially opened by Indian Agent James Gillett. A short devotional period was conducted at the opening and speakers included Rev. Peter Kelly, Bishop J. B. Gibson, Rev. R. A. Wilson and Miss Lin Brown of the University of British Columbia extension department. Rev. Father Bradley, deputized by Archbishop Cody of Victoria, and Rev. Father Patterson, for Archbishop W. M. Duke of Vancouver, are representing the Roman Catholic Church.

The steamer Venture brought in more than 50 delegates and others had come by small boats from far and near including the Skeena and Naas valleys, Queen Charlotte and Vancouver Islands and Lower Mainland.

Among the district representatives are Johnson Russ, Greenville; Wallace Morgan, Kitwanga; Caleb Williams, Bella Bella; Edward Knox, Lower Mainland.

Unity Is Keynote

Unity was the keynote of speeches last night at a banquet tendered in honor of the visitors by the Native Sisterhood of British Columbia.

"We have an organization now that will take care of all our problems," declared President William Scow. "Its objective is to take care of the people as a whole but we must emphasize and practice the brotherhood of mankind."

Past President Ambrose Reid, an executive member, outlined the history of the organization which had been conceived by a few natives in 1931. The brotherhood was very close today to complete activity throughout the province.

Rev. Peter Kelly of Ocean Falls said "you have aroused the public" to the opinion that it is time to change the law. "The government now proposes to revise the Indian Act and create a new charter for the Indians of Canada. Every person should use his money and influence in support of the movement."

Heber Clifton of Hartley Bay spoke in the Tsimspean tongue.

The speeches were interspersed with music by the Port Simpson band and the program was recorded for rebroadcast over CFPB, Prince Rupert.

In the business session this morning resolutions and other matters were considered.

Civic Centre Association Asks Temporary Use Of Y.M.C.A. Building

Would Defer Final Taking Over Until After Price Has Been Arbitrated

Feeling that joint operation of the present Y.M.C.A. war services building here as armory and civic centre was impractical, the executive of the Prince Rupert Civic Centre Association, at a meeting last night, decided to ask the federal minister of national defence to implement an original agreement whereby the Civic Centre Association has the first option to purchase the building at an arbitrated price.

The boy had been sent by a welfare organization at Vancouver to work for Burns.

Road Talk Last Night

The present condition of the road also came in for discussion at the Chamber meeting last night when J. E. Boddie and J. H. Black reported on a visit which had been made to the slide blockade near Kwinitsa on Sunday, putting forth their idea of a trestle detour reinforced with rock fill as a permanent solution for snow conditions at that point.

Frank Dibb proposed that it should be ascertained from the provincial government how much of the major $50,000,000 road development and maintenance program which had been announced would be devoted to the Prince Rupert Highway. By motion, the meeting decided to make this inquiry.

A. M. Budinich, manager of the British American Oil Co. here, and G. J. Dawes, auctioneer, were elected members of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce at last night's meeting. A. J. Dominato and Peter De Jong were welcomed as new members.

IS KEEPING UP BRITISH ARMY

Two Million Men to Remain Under Arms Although Armament Reduction is Ultimate Objective

LONDON—Prime Minister Attlee has told the House of Commons that Britain will keep more than one million men in the armed forces for at least a year. The British prime minister added, however, that Britain hopes to see "a steady reduction of armaments" throughout the world.

The following was the telegram which was sent to the Minister of National Defence after the meeting:

"After careful consideration we find that, due to extensive requirements of civic recreational program and to extensive facilities required by reserve army, the suggested joint operation of war services building is entirely impractical. Civic Centre Association requests that you implement original agreement whereby we have first option to purchase building at arbitrated price and that, until such arbitration is completed, we be granted temporary use of building on basis recommended in letter December 5 to National War Services and agreed to in telegram from George Piffner to city of Prince Rupert. This matter is of great import to all citizens of Prince Rupert and deserving of your favorable consideration."

In the Iranian capital at Tehran, four persons were injured and six were arrested in rioting which broke out as a result of the crisis surrounding Russia's announced plan to keep troops in Northern Iran. The fighting started during a demonstration staged by the leftist Tudeh party and party leaders blamed the fighting on "rightists."

There about 700 tons of rock already crushed there and 100 tons more of this has already been spread.

Further indication of the government's intention to make improvements to this end of the highway was apparent yesterday when a grader was moved out of the departmental headquarters here to the vicinity of Galloway Rapids.

Bright Aspect

A brighter aspect of the reconversion picture in Canada is the contribution of labor-management committees within industry. A wartime development, they are now being sponsored by the federal government as one means towards easing reconversion troubles.

These committees, there are 419 of them representing 300,000 workers, are separate from the collective bargaining agencies. They are formed of people directly engaged in production and usually have an equal representation between employers and employees.

Many a valuable suggestion for war production originated from these bodies. The same approach to the problem of transferring back to peacetime standards may ease many of the Dominion's industrial pains.

Returning to Normal

Controls are being lifted from prices in Canada. The beginning has been made by removing restrictions on a list of 300 luxury items. They remain on such essentials as rent, wages, food and clothing.

Canada was the first of the democratic nations to adopt the policy of the overall price ceiling. That it paid dividends is obvious. Price increases have been lower than in any other belligerent nation.

The contrast between Canada of World War I and the Dominion of today is something to see, and more than murmur thanks. It was mid-1920 before the soaring cost of living headed downward. The cost of living chart for this war approached table top shape soon after the ceiling went into effect in 1941.

Compare this with other countries! It's a comparison to be proud of.

UNDERMINE FRIENDSHIP

Bruce Mickleburgh on Espionage Investigation

"Behind this manoeuvre," said Bruce Mickleburgh, speaking at a Labor-Progressive meeting on Sunday night on the federal espionage investigation, "lies the policy of British, and especially American, imperialism, to use Canada as a base for imperialistic military adventures against the Soviet Union. In order to do this they have to try to undermine the deep friendship of the Canadian people for the Soviet Union, as well as smash the labor, veterans' and people's movement for peace."

"Mackenzie King has involved himself in the dangerous game of trying to make a Finland out of Canada but he should be warned by the fate of Rysto Riili, former president of Finland and of the Bank of Finland."

The speaker dealt extensively with a number of what he termed previous "spy scares" during the past 28 years. "The spy scare, the witch hunt, the red bogey, were the traditional answer of finance capital to an upsurge of democratic opinion," he declared. "Today imperialism is weakened but, within the reduced orbit of imperialism, the influence of American imperialism had become dominant. American imperialists, faced with fantastic contradictions in their own system, aimed to convert Britain into a junior partner in its plan to subjugate the whole world. "Imperialism, and not Communism, as Bevin claims, is the root of the war danger in the world today. The Soviet Union, the new people's governments in Europe, the colonial peoples fighting for freedom, and the Communists and people's movements throughout the world are the backbone of the struggle for peace—that is why our finance capitalists are frantically trying to stir up the people against them all."

"The great mass of the Canadian people desire friendship with the Soviet Union which is in the best interests of both countries. That is why the spy scare is aimed not only at the Soviet Union but against the best interests of Canada and that is why we are indicting this vicious policy and calling on Canadians to repudiate it. Actually, most of the people I talk to have seen through it already while labor leaders from coast to coast have spoken up against it. "Labor must be the backbone of the fight for peace. In order to play their role in this, Prince Rupert unions must clean their ranks of Trotskyites."

Sounds Warning Against C.C.F.

Mickleburgh characterized the Trotskyites as "the vanguard of the imperialists within the ranks of the working class. Wherever they go they leave a trail of wreckage in their wake unless they are expelled. They boast of wrecking the Socialist Party of the United States. If local C.C.F. elements who are working with them are not careful they will find that they will wreck the C.C.F. One doesn't have to be bright to see the effects of their activities in certain local trade unions."

He outlined the history of Trotskyite activity throughout the world and quoted from a Trotskyite paper being circulated locally and summed up by saying "on every issue their program coincides with the objectives of finance capital, except that it is camouflaged in radical phraseology. They are the leading anti-Soviet agents among the people and the fight for peace demands that they be expelled from the labor and people's movement."

After appealing to those who were willing to fight "shoulder to shoulder with us for peace, decent living conditions and eventual socialism in Canada" to join the Labor-Progressive Party, Mickleburgh concluded by saying: "There will be no war with the Soviet Union if all the people of Canada gather themselves in a great democratic coalition around the labor movement and erip the power of the Canadian monopolists. Only a handful of men actually, linked with their British and American brethren, are breeding war and economic crisis. We must demand open trials are an end to the atmosphere of secrecy, the sharing of all scientific and technical information with our Allies and peaceful relations with the Socialist sixth of the world."

Chairman Stan Boshier announced a collection of $34, after which two resolutions were passed from the floor.

One called on the government to take steps to halt what was termed "a dangerous campaign of anti-Soviet incitement" and to re-establish and strengthen friendly relations between Canada and the Soviet Union, while the other called for the reconstitution of the local Canadian-Soviet Friendship Council which speakers declared was not functioning.

CAFE-PARLOR CARS RETURN

Lunch Counters Being Discontinued on Local Railway Line

A further improvement in equipment of trains on this line of Canadian National Railways has been made by the operation of a cafe-parlor car instead of the lunch counter dining car operated during the war and until recently. The latter served a very useful purpose in the faster handling of great numbers of diners but, with normal conditions now prevailing, the cafe-parlor car, in addition to serving high quality meals, will provide a lounge section where sleeping car passengers may relax and enjoy the scenery.

Recently Canadian National Railways announced the replacement of one of the older coaches on trains on this line by a newer type air-conditioned coach with a smoker and ladies' smoking and wash room of comfortable dimensions.

All passenger carrying equipment on this line is now air-conditioned except one coach.

Answer to inquiries which had been made was being awaited.

MARRIED WITH CATHOLIC RITE

A wedding of considerable local interest took place at 9:30 Saturday morning at the Church of the Annunciation, with Bishop Anthony Jordan conducting the nuptial mass, when Miss Stella Schorny became the bride of R. G. Wagner.

The bride, who was dressed in marriage costume of white, was attended by Miss Yvette Turcotte as bridesmaid and Mrs. W. Schneider as matron of honor, the former wearing pink and the later blue. R. Houde was groomsmen.

After the ceremony the bridal party proceeded to the Boston Cafe where a wedding breakfast was served for relatives and friends. Bishop Jordan proposed a toast to the bride to which the groom responded.

Later there was a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Schneider, Overlook St., where many friends went to extend their felicitations to the happy couple and present their gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Wagner have resided in Prince Rupert for some five years, the groom being in the employ of Philpott-Evitt here while the bride is in the service of the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative Association.

The couple are taking up residence at 1528 Overlook St.

BLACKOUT ON LONELY ISLE

During the war, Ald. Hilda Hesson of Winnipeg said in addressing the local Women's Canadian Club last week, the remote island of Tristan da Cunha was blacked out and, since the coming of peace, no word has been published on how its inhabitants fared.

The population is composed of descendants of a British soldier of a garrison placed on the island as a safeguard against the escape of Napoleon from St. Helena. The soldier, named Glass, returned to the island after the garrison had been withdrawn and, with his family, composed the original permanent population. Generations of shipwrecked sailors have joined the colony, marrying into the original family.

Only contact with the outside world is the annual arrival of a steamship which brings supplies. The island's strategic position makes it a possible air base of great importance.

JUNIOR CHAMBER CUTTING LOOSE

The Junior Chamber of Commerce wants a divorce from the Senior so that it may completely fulfil its affiliation with the Canadian Junior Chamber of Commerce, national organization. The Senior Chamber is not opposing the petition and, at its meeting last night, decided to release the Junior Chamber from its constitutional jurisdiction. It was suggested that the Senior Chamber might as well agree harmoniously for the Junior Chamber was going to move in with the national body in any case.

Three Rinks Are Unbeaten

SASKATOON — Three rinks, representing Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, are still undefeated after two rounds of play in the MacDonald's Brier bonspiel at Saskatoon. The Manitoba and Alberta rinks had close calls in their second-round competition before emerging victorious.

The Leo Johnson Manitoba rink barely edged out Quebec 11-10 while Alberta topped the British Columbia rink 13-11. Saskatchewan whipped Nova Scotia 14-7 while Ontario defeated Prince Edward Island 12-6 and Northern Ontario conquered New Brunswick 13-4.

The Manitoba rink, which is favored to retain its crown, did not forge ahead to stay until the eleventh end.

Alberta climaxed a sensational comeback with a two-ender in the twelfth end to gain their win over British Columbia by just that margin. None of the other matches was in doubt after the first few ends.

There were two draws scheduled for today, one in the morning and one in the afternoon. The morning draw brought Quebec against Saskatchewan, New Brunswick against Ontario and Manitoba against Alberta.

In the afternoon Saskatchewan plays against Northern Ontario, New Brunswick against Quebec, Ontario against Manitoba, Albert against Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia against British Columbia.

Correspondence relating to the retirement of Dr. J. T. Mandy, former resident mining engineer here, from the service of the Department of Mines, was read at last night's meeting of the Chamber of Commerce. Dr. Mandy has reached retirement age.

BASKETBALL POT SHOTS

There is every assurance that the basketball series between Prince Rupert and Ketchikan will be played to capacity houses this coming Friday and Saturday. Yesterday afternoon there had been no less than 400 seats sold out of the possible 1400.

The Acropolis Hill gym venue for the series was a scene of great activity last night as both the senior and girls' squads carried out the wishes of their respective coaches and worked their hearts out in preparation for the games.

Coach Eddie Gladding of the ladies' section seems to have overcome any scarcity of talent that might have held up ladies' basketball this year as he had a large turnout of former high school players all eagers to make the trip north. These girls will meet the Bo-Me-Hi lassies on Friday night's card and they are definitely not interested in losing before leaving for Ketchikan.

Never before has an all-star team showed such enthusiasm as is being displayed by the present outfit as far as workouts and general promotional interest is concerned and, to prove this, all one has to do is drop up the Acropolis Hill any night between now and Friday and there will be found many, if not all, of those picked for the team practising diligently.

On Sunday after having spent all afternoon arranging seating and later having a practice game, big Angus Macphee, Sev Dominato and Elmer Clausen returned in the evening to make sure of their penalty shots and stayed with it until nearly midnight.

Saturday night will see in the preliminary game the Bo-Me-Hi

ONLY ONE HOLD-OUT

"Peanuts" Lowery is Sole Remaining Chicago Cub to Come to Terms

MIAMI—The lone player missing from the Chicago Cubs camp now is outfielder Harry "Peanuts" Lowery. Outfielder Bill Nicholson ended his hold-out siege and arrived by plane yesterday. According to General Manager James Gallagher, Lowery had agreed to terms, and then changed his mind.

Tiger Pitchers Are Going Strong

MIAMI—A pulled hip muscle kept outfielder Barney McCoskey out of his Detroit Tigers uniform yesterday. Trainer Jack Hopel says McCoskey will probably take it easy for another week. The Tigers batters are making little progress against the practice offerings of pitchers Al Benton, Stubby Overmire, George Caster, Virgil Trucks, Hal Manders and Fred Hutchinson.

boys and the Macey outfit playing an exhibition game. Those who have not been able to see any of the intermediate basketball being dished up twice weekly at the armory are in for a surprise. Coach Alex Bill admits that in the series here with Kay Hi his boys just couldn't seem to get going. The writer agrees. Alex wants a chance to show the team before another large crowd so that there will be no doubt in the minds of supporters that there is a first class high school team this year.

PUCK RACE CLOSES UP

Detroit Moves Right Up With Rest of Leaders

TORONTO, Ont. — There were two games in the National Hockey League Saturday night. In Toronto, the Maple Leafs showed a reversal of form and trounced the second-place Chicago Black Hawks 9-4. Syl Apps scored four goals while Sweeney Schriner scored three goals to bring his all-time scoring total for the league to 199 goals.

In Montreal, the Detroit Red Wings and the Canadiens fought to a 3-3 tie with the Flying Frenchmen, coming from behind twice to earn the draw.

Sunday night, by defeating Montreal, Detroit Red Wings went right up among leaders of the league in a tie with Boston for third place. Chicago Black Hawks beat the Bruins and are now but one point behind the Canadiens.

Deal on Schriner And Carr Mooted

CHICAGO—The president of the Chicago Black Hawks, Bill Tobin, says that his National Hockey League club has not approached the Toronto Maple Leafs with an offer to buy or trade players for Sweeney Schriner and Lorne Carr. These two players have been reported as playing their last season with the Leafs.

VISIT WITH SEA CADETS

An Interesting and Worthwhile Evening
By JAY ESS

Outside it was chilly with a slight sleet falling but inside there was warmth and action. "Inside" was the Naval Drill Hall. And it was the regular training night for the Captain Cook corps of the Royal Canadian Sea Cadets.

arms smartly, heads up, and showing signs of soon qualifying for their uniforms. Then there were two squads doing rifle exercises. It made me think of the days when I first tried to handle a rifle. Rifles are heavy and the movements not very simple but here again the lads were handling the rifle with a fair degree of ability, and movements were beginning to be done as "one man."

WORRIES OF CHIANG PARTY

CHUNGKING — Chiang Kai-shek's powerful Kuomintang party is going through some new experiences. First, the group has to find ways to raise money on its own since the national treasury no longer is open to it. Secondly, the Nationalists are not hiding the fact that they are worried about chances of winning China's first general election since the Kuomintang took over. There are even rumors that the party may split.

ing the marches, marches that give the corps that zip that makes them march so smartly. And here and there busy on some activities could be seen the Wrennettes, some looking very smart in their uniforms, and evidently determined that they would be the equal in smartness of the male members of the unit. Altogether it was a good show.

Prince Rupert Needs

(The second of a series of suggestions by readers of the Daily News for the betterment of this city)

Well, you would like people's opinions on what we need in Prince Rupert. First, I would say we need a few active people who can figure things out for themselves and not just sit down and wait for the dry dock to do something. Prince Rupert has always been a fishing town and still will be nothing else but that unless those who have trades other than fishing do something about it. For instance, there are plenty of carpenters out of work. At the same time we have been getting every stick of furniture from outside. Now there are so many available places to work in, why don't we get together and start a furniture factory? Then we are short of dairies here and have to get some of our milk from other places. Why not start a dairy farm? That might be something for farmers who are already here. The florists get practically all their flowers from the greenhouses in the south. We have just as good winters as they have so why not start greenhouses here and in the summer sell flowers and vegetables to the local stores. We could also do with a few chicken farms to provide fresh eggs and market poultry. Look at all the silly magazines on the market. If here in Prince Rupert we started to print a real interesting one, it would sell I am sure. If everybody just sat down and thought what he or she could do, we would be going forward.

TO EDUCATE PUBLIC NOW

The Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce is to sponsor a campaign to arouse public opinion in regard to the necessity of a Pacific Coast railway outlet for the Peace River country at Prince Rupert in the best interests of the entire northwest country as well as the district and port specifically concerned. This will take the form of a series of addresses to local service and business organizations—both men and women. The publication of a series of addresses bearing on the subject by Page Rideout of Peace River is also being considered. Reporting for the Peace River committee at the meeting of the Chamber last night, E. T. Applewhite announced that it had been agreed it was a waste of time to make further approaches to either of the two railway companies. The only means now would be to arouse public opinion so that pressure might be brought to bear on members. Theo Collart, who has long been active on the Peace River outlet question, spoke on the latest proposal to have a new railway organization formed to build a line from Winnipeg across the northern prairies to the Peace River and on through to Prince Rupert by way of Hazelton.

RESOLUTION IS NUISANCE

Chamber of Commerce Not In Accord With Nelson Plan
Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, by resolution last night, dubbed as a "trouble-making nuisance" a resolution of the Nelson Chamber of Commerce which would have asked Premier John Hart to delay legislative implementation of the Cameron report on educational costs until taxpayers had been informed of the nature of the proposal and the means of financing some so that they might be allowed to make representations. Such a course as proposed at Nelson would only give the government the opportunity to delay action based on an exhaustive fact-finding survey by the commission. "Surely there can be no objection in asking delay of action by the government, whose duty it is to govern, on findings of a commission which at great pains and effort investigated the facts," said T. W. BROWN, barrister, who proposed the resolution of "definite opposition" to the Nelson proposal. Dr. R. G. Large, chairman of the local school board, held that Prince Rupert stood to benefit definitely from implementation of the Cameron report which would extend the boundaries of the local school district and spread out the costs of which the government would relieve the city considerably. The proposed legislation, as promised by Premier Hart, would relieve communities generally and its implementation rather than hoisting wa sto be desired.

Will Report on Treasure Hunt

MONCTON, N. B.—Ex-Master Sergeant Nathan Lindebaum, who has left here for Oak Island to search for Capt. Kidd's treasure, became interested in the matter while attending a radio network show in New York which took the form of a radio auction for bidding with the site of the treasure indicated. The ex-Master Sergeant was successful in securing the map and he then headed for Nova Scotia and Oak Island. He is due back in New York on March 6 to tell the air audience about his quest and the outcome. He will need the digging powers of Superman to find the alleged treasure which has been the object of several digging expeditions, none of which has succeeded in finding it.
