Food Shortage Threatens Alaska Cities

Russian Planes Fire on U.S. Plane Near Vienna Airport

VIENNA (CP)—Four Russian fighter planes made runs on a United States army transport and fired from two to four shots close to the plane's wings today as the transport came into the United States army airport at Tulln, just outside of Vienna.

The planes were identified as United States-built fighters furnished to Russia by American lend-lease. They followed the transport right to the ground.

JAP CABINET QUILTS IN BODY

TOKYO — Premier Shidehara and his cabinet resigned in a group today under pressure from leading political parties who were expected to join the deposed prime minister in forming a new cabinet.

All the ministers agreed to submit their resignations after Shidehara and Cabinet Secretary Narashi explained to them that this action was "necessary to stabilize the political situation."

Shidehara became premier six months ago after a series of political shake-ups which followed Japan's surrender.

SEARCH FOR REMAINING C-47 CRASH VICTIMS—The snow-covered wreckage of the C-47 transport plane that exploded in air and crashed into a snowbound canyon north of Truckee, California, is examined by a member of the searching party. Snow and rain hindered efforts of the rescuers in their search for the remaining victims of the crash. Twenty-three of the 26 aboard the plane were removed before nightfall. This was one of the worst peacetime crashes in history.

Cannery Men Picket Ships At Seattle

Second Strike Leaves Territory Extremely Short of Food

SEATTLE — Members of the Alaska Salmon Cannery Workers' Union continued to picket Alaska-bound boats today, and officials of the Alaska Steamship Co. said that the strike virtually would cut off all shipping to Alaska points.

The union is asking a 20 cents an hour increase in pay with a 40-hour week, and an increase from $25 to $40 for "standby" pay.

The strike, coming on the heels of the Alaska longshoremen's strike which withheld food supplies from the northern territory for 19 days, is creating a situation regarded as critical in the Alaska cities.

The union is picketing Alaska-bound vessels to see that goods for the territorial canneries are not loaded on north-bound boats.

Complicating the food situation in Alaska is a storm which raged over the week-end hampering the sailings of small vessels which set out from Ketchikan and other points to bring food supplies to some of the southeastern centres. At least two boats were damaged in the storm, both managing to limp into Ketchikan harbor. One of the vessels was damaged on a reef in Canadian waters, but managed to make repairs and get to Ketchikan.

The cities of Ketchikan, Juneau, and Skagway are said to be running low on food as a result of the two succeeding strikes and it is thought that emergency measures may have to be effected to relieve the situation.

ORGANIZING OF LOGGERS

Officials of International Woodworkers of America Visiting District

Nels Madsen, president of the International Woodworkers of America local at Vancouver, and Charles Fraser, international representative, are on a tour of this district organizing various camps in connection with the demand which is being made for a 25c per hour increase in wages, a 40-hour week and union security. Unless a settlement is reached, there is possibility of a strike being called, Madsen and Fraser state.

The two union officials are making the trip in their own boat, Amart, and arrived on Monday of last week from down the coast, leaving Wednesday night for Terrace whence they will return here this Tuesday night and proceed to the Queen Charlotte Islands.

Jap Officers Go Underground

TOKYO — Frank L. White, Associated Press correspondent, reported today that many former Japanese army officers are forming groups and secreting supplies in the obvious hope of one day regaining power. White said that he had learned this from "reliable sources—Japanese, Allied nationals and occupation officials." In many instances the identities and locations of the groups are known. They are being watched. An authoritative source at General MacArthur's headquarters said: "To date there has been no evidence of any subversion on any extensive scale."

DIGGER'S DELIGHTS
The three most popular vegetables grown by amateur gardeners are, in order, tomatoes, string or wax beans and onions.

IRAN COURTS REBEL PROVINCE

TEHRAN — Premier Qavam of Iran announced today a seven-point program under which Azerbaijan province might return to the Iranian national government.

He said that his cabinet had "decided to permit the people of the province to have their ideals realized as far as the constitution and laws of the country permit."

He added that no action would be taken against the leaders of the "Democratic Party" in Azerbaijan and that the party would be free to operate in the future.

CHINESE DENY AIR INCIDENT

CHUNGKING — A Chinese government military spokesman today labelled as a "complete fabrication" a charge by the Chinese Communists that United States aircrafts has strafed their forces at Szepeingka, Manchuria, last week. United States authorities in China said that the statement had been made by the Nationalist spokesman after an investigation into the alleged incident.

CONTRACT FOR SOVIET STAR

PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa — A contract at a salary of £20 ($90) a week and all hotel and travelling expenses for six months has been offered to Halina Lipiawa by a film company which wants her to appear on the stage in the Union.

Halina, who came to Port Elizabeth from Russia to join Harold Seabourne, a South African ex-prisoner of war who denied that he had married her, is a ballet dancer and singer. She also plays the guitar.

She is unable to make any definite reply to the offer until the government has come to a decision about her. The immigration authorities have extended her immigration permit, which expired on March 8, to May 8.

Among the letters Halina has received recently was one from an engineer in Johannesburg offering to marry her.

WHALE FLEET IS GOING NORTH

VICTORIA — After four years of inactivity, Victoria's whaling fleet will head north from Victoria this season, Consolidated Whaling Co. officials announced today. Two of the five vessels of the fleet will enter shipyards this week for overhaul and repairs.

Vandenberg In Favor of British Loan

WASHINGTON — Chances of senate agreement to the British loan received a substantial boost here today when Senator Arthur Vandenberg (Rep., Michigan) came out in unqualified support of the three and three quarter billion dollar loan as "intelligent self-interest" on the part of the United States.

Senator Vandenberg said that if the loan would stabilize Britain's economy and return it to its pre-war position in world trade, it would be to the interest of the United States to approve it because Britain's prosperity would have a good effect on the United States.

Senator Vandenberg is the Republican party's leading senate authority on foreign affairs, and his opinion, it is believed in Washington, will greatly increase the chances of the loan being approved.

The loan would be repaid over a period of 50 years.

Pressure Charged in Iranian Case

NEW YORK — Australia's intention that the Iranian case would not be dismissed from the agenda of the United Nations assembly was given added support today with the release by the British government of a report by a diplomat recently returned from Iran.

The diplomat, Michael Foote, charged that he had learned from Iran that that nation's request to have the matter dropped from the U.N. agenda was made by a strong diplomatic pressure by Soviet Russia.

Others here believe that Russia's request to have the matter dropped is presented to the assembly tomorrow it is likely that the representatives of the nations will join Australia's Hodson in resisting the at-

ROYAL PLANE SAVES CHILD

CANBERRA — Nine-year-old Graham McFetters of Yass, New South Wales, was very sick. He had haemophilia and his doctor ordered that he be moved to Sydney more than 200 miles away immediately.

A car sped to Canberra, 33 miles away, with the boy and the doctor, but there was no aircraft in the Australian capital at that time.

There was one last chance. A telephone call was made to Government House and the Governor-General, the Duke of Gloucester, offered at once his private aircraft. The aircraft was roaring toward Sydney with the small sick passenger.

An Unjustifiable Closing Down

Hon. Colin Gibson, minister of national defence for air, has been talking about the future-minded policy of his department in connection with the development of aviation in Canada not only as an arm of national defence but also from the standpoint of commercial utility and service in the postwar era. An example was a recent speech delivered in Toronto entitled "Air Power in Canada."

The Department of National Defence for Air may have some progressive ideas about the future of aviation in Canada but they certainly do not appear to be evident here in Prince Rupert.

There is little compatibility to be seen between a forward looking Royal Canadian Air Force policy for Canada from a national standpoint and the complete closing down, as scheduled to take place within the next few days, of the million-dollar seaplane base at Prince Rupert, a point of vital strategic importance in one of the newest and most potential parts of northwestern Canada from many standpoints — certainly as far as aviation is concerned.

If there could be any more important point in Canada for the centering of military and commercial aviation than Prince Rupert it would be interesting to know where it is. If there is any air base in the country the closing down of which would seem to be unjustifiable it is Prince Rupert's.

Of course, it is completely in line with what appears to be a fixed policy on the part of the federal government and anything with which it is connected to neglect and "brush-off" this part of the country.

Support Civic Centre Now

Prince Rupert's fine civic centre has now been operating for over a month and its usefulness and popularity is becoming increasingly evident in many ways. Possibly, its most important function is as a gathering place for the young people of the city who, at long last, have a place for healthful exercise and wholesome recreation in a congenial atmosphere. It is also providing a meeting place for several institutions and, as time goes on, will be utilized to even greater extent along these lines. In these and many other ways the Civic Centre is justifying itself and fulfilling the vision which we had of it for so many long years.

Now we have the Civic Centre with all its benefits, we can be expected to do our part in financing it. Strangely enough, the people of the city have so far not been rallying in the way of membership subscriptions to the degree that might have been expected. In other words, now the time has come to pay, they are not responding. Possibly, a lot of it has been due to oversight rather than unwillingness which is for all of use undoubtedly an obligation.

A special appeal might also be directed in this connection to some of the business organizations with staffs here whose residence in Prince Rupert is made the more congenial through the existence of the Civic Centre. Possibly it may need nothing more than a reminder like this that their financial assistance as patrons would be appreciated by the Centre and would also repay these organizations themselves in benefits indirectly realized.

Control of News

The Premier of Saskatchewan, addressing a gathering of newspapermen in Regina this week, came out against government control of news, declaring that an independent press and independent news were essential. He voiced the complaint that the tendency of many newspapers was to become the voice of their owners, their news columns becoming too often the medium of editorial comment.

Mr. Douglas, the head of Canada's only Socialist government, possibly may not realize that the so-called "news" paper organs of his own C.C.F. party are possibly the worst offenders when it comes to being the voices of their owners and the mixers of editorial policy and comment in coloring their news reports.

As far as the editorial columns of newspapers are concerned, it would be interesting to hear whose views might be expected to be reflected other than those of the interests who own or control them. But, as for fairness and impartiality of news columns, it must be conceded that the so-called capitalistic press of this country sets an admirable example. There is much these newspapers publish in their news columns that might conceivably be considered inimical to their own "selfish" interests and which it would be easy enough for them to suppress if they were not free, impartial and generous in news column policy.

MEN OF VISION

Laurier - 1887

In 1887 LAURIER said:

"Form a great nation"

In 1622 CALVERT

said: "Prepare for the future"

FAR back in the 17th century Calvert wrote of the New World: "I see the future. Fair dealings will lead to union and friendship."

Famous English statesman and Secretary of State to King James I, Calvert founded historic colonies in Newfoundland and Maryland in the early 1600's. "I came to build. I intend to remain," said Calvert, "It is a good country."

Man of vision... clear-headed pioneer of unity... Calvert may well have foretold, three centuries ago, Canada's unbounded future. Every Canadian can be a man of vision today... help "form a great nation!"

Upon unity of purpose depends the full measure of our stature as a nation. There is only one Canada for clear-headed Canadians.

LETTERBOX

Editor, Daily News.—

I wonder if any of your readers really understand what an "entree" is. Well, those in the catering business might be interested in this information. An entree is a small serving of food which could be in the form of a shrimp or cheese souffle. It is served after the soup and fish and just before the main course. Therefore, a seven course dinner—table d'hote—would be hors d'oeuvre, soup, very small serving of fish (to save time the waiter could bring the two at once, often the customer will order soup and fish together), entree (which could be anything mixed up and served in small portions), main course, dessert, fruit.

I suppose finger bowls are out of date now but they might contain a rose petal. With them goes the demi-tasse.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Bernardson returned to the city on the Catala last evening from a trip to Vancouver.

Mrs. Earl Becker sailed today on the Cardena for Vancouver where she will attend the annual provincial conference of the B.C. Parent-Teachers' Federation as delegate from the local P.-T.A.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Allen will sail this Thursday night for Vancouver to take up future residence. Mr. Allen, who has been manager of the local dry dock, is being transferred to Vancouver where he will become assistant general superintendent for British Columbia.

Friends Honor Departing Officer

In honor of Capt. L. C. Davidson, popular officer of the Royal Canadian Electrical Mechanical Engineers, who is leaving on Thursday after serving at Prince Rupert and Terrace for the last three years, about 30 friends gathered at the Old Landmark Saturday night for a party given by Miss Jeanette McMillen.

Received by Miss McMillen, the guests enjoyed dancing to music by Andy McNaughton at the piano. A cold plate lunch was served at midnight.

Capt. Davidson expects to obtain his discharge in Vancouver, after which he will return to his home at Montreal.

BOXLA DISPLAY AT CIVIC CENTRE

Box lacrosse will make its debut in Prince Rupert tomorrow night.

Recent efforts to bring the game to life here will have their immediate culmination in a demonstration game in the Civic Centre gym at 7:30 Tuesday and it is hoped that this display will be followed by sufficient sporting interest to create intermediate, junior and juvenile leagues for the summer season.

Allan Sheardown, recently appointed secretary-treasurer of the Prince Rupert lacrosse organization, feels that the game should find magnificent support in this city.

"This town was made for lacrosse," he says. "It's a natural. During the spring, summer and fall, boxla can be played either indoors or in the open, and I think that there will be plenty of young people who will take an interest in it."

Tuesday night's demonstration game will feature intermediates, all of whom have had plenty of experience at the game. Some are former players on championship teams in the southern part of the province.

Following the game, those interested will have an opportunity to try out their ability on the gym floor under instruction by the players.

"I know lacrosse is going to capture the interest of this city, and I would like to see not 50 but 250 potential players out to watch tomorrow night's demonstration," Mr. Sheardown remarked.

Arrangements have been made with the B. C. Amateur Lacrosse Association for Prince Rupert players to purchase their equipment at cost, he added. A considerable amount of equipment is already on hand.

Hamilton Tigers of Big Four rugby fame 21 years ago today signed Pep Leadley, Canada's outstanding drop-kicker of his day. In the following season Leadley proved as big a cog in the Tiger machine as he was in the famous Queen's University team that won the Canadian championship in 1922, 1923 and 1924.

George Sutton, who played in the world's first 18.2 ballline billiards tournament at Paris, died at Chicago 16 years ago tomorrow. Resident of Toronto years before, Sutton won the 18-1 ballline championship from Jake Schaefer in 1907 and the 18.2 from George Slossom in 1908.

HUNTING PARTY ALASKA BOUND

A party of three New Yorkers bent on shooting a Kodiak grizzly bear for a sporting trophy were among the passengers on the Canadian Pacific steamer Princess Louise which docked here this morning on her first north-bound trip of the summer season.

Carrying 255 passengers, the Princess Louise was under command of Capt. Graham O. Hughes. Only three of her passengers disembarked at Prince Rupert. During the summer months the Princess Nora on the Alaska run from Vancouver.

In quest of at least one Kodiak bear, the fiercest species on the continent and the type most coveted by big game hunters, were Dr. and Mrs. M. Greer and Dr. C. Van Wegel of New York City, who were destined for Juneau where they will head into the wilderness.

Other passengers for the north included Fred Dawson, Dominion government architect, who is on his way to Whitehorse; Mrs. Rogers, wife of the general manager of the White Pass and Yukon Railway; Mr. Gordon, marine superintendent of the White Pass and Yukon, who is in charge of the river steamboats operated by the railway, and Mr. and Mrs. Drewery of Skagway.

Britons Migrate To South Africa

JOHANNESBURG—Hundreds of British ex-servicemen, most of them skilled artisans, are making every effort to come to South Africa to settle.

The London office of the 1820 Memorial Settlers' Association has become so busy that a man from the head office in Cape-town has been sent to England to help with the rush of work.

At least 500 former members of the R.A.F. who left their South African wives in the Union, will be arriving in this country in batches as shipping becomes available and will all reach the Union long before the end of this year.

Apart from these 500 men, there are hundreds of British ex-servicemen engaged to South African girls, most of whom have jobs to come to, and they too are trying to get to the Union as soon as possible.

"OLD SOBBURY" NEVER DIES

CHIPPING SOBBURY, England—Music hall comedians always found Gloucestershire's Chipping Sodbury good for a gag but now, with the amalgamation of Chipping Sodbury with the nearby parish of Old Sodbury, the village will be known officially as—Sodbury.

No villager, however, has any intention of allowing the full title to die. Said Murray Dowling, local antiquarian: "It is nonsense to suppose we will let the old name go. Old Sodbury—the mother of all the Sodburies—is mentioned in the Doomsday Book and you cannot destroy a tradition like that."

HEIGHTS OF EARLY SPECULATIVE FANCY RECALLED IN THIRTY-YEAR- OLD SCOTTISH ARTICLE ON RUPERT

A copy of the Scottish Geographical Magazine from way back in 1914 as the Grand Trunk Pacific railway was nearing completion has been unearthed by H. M. Foote, city treasurer, and is of particular interest because of a lengthy and interestingly illustrated article entitled "The New City of Prince Rupert" which it contains. The article was written by H. M. Foote who said that he did not know Prince Rupert with a view to advertising but "in order to give a correct and unimpeached account of the impression it produced on my scientific and geographical perception. In spite of his conservative attitude, however, Mr. Foote was able to enthuse over Prince Rupert's future and, in the light of developments in the thirty years and more since the article was written, his observations are interesting in the extreme.

"Here we have the interesting spectacle of a city in the embryo that hopes to rival Vancouver some day," says the article of three decades ago. Whether it succeeds in this noble aim or not, it is desired, no doubt, to become a highly important civic and industrial centre in the Dominion, some 6000 inhabitants, full of energy and youthful enthusiasm, busily laying foundations on an ambitious scale.

The Prince Rupert community has more than one permanent source of livelihood to look toward to. It can fairly lay claim to several distinct advantages.

"The sea terminus of what will become one of the great continental railways of Canada, bringing to the Pacific coast the fruits of a new era."

"A new Pacific seaport with a remarkably well sheltered natural harbor, the largest and most northerly haven on the west coast of Canada, and also the furthest west, 500 miles from Asia than any other Canadian port."

"The natural centre and distributing station of a great fishing industry on a coast rich with salmon, herring, and the Rocky Mountains in the territory to the north will have its western outlet at Prince Rupert."

Erection of the six-storey concrete plant of the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co. and the great copper smelter being established at the time at Granby Bay (Anyox) are mentioned as important industrial developments.

Heights of predictive fancy are reached as the article forecasts that "Prince Rupert will, no doubt, like Vancouver, burst its narrow limits and throw offshoots on the other side of the harbor or produce suburbs in the neighboring valleys and at the back of Kaien Island reached by ferries of lines of light railway worked by electricity from the abundant and never-failing water power in the mountains that is waiting in many places to be harnessed for the use of man."

And, in conclusion, the article says that, by the time a Peace River outlet reaches Stewart, Prince Rupert will be so well established that it will not need to fear competition for, if the present rate of Canadian progress is not checked, there will doubtless be both ample room and need for several good trade outlets on the Pacific coast and the more the seaports are scattered the better will the country be filled and he less congested are the centres of population likely to become."

Pictures which accompany this old article are quite as interesting as the reading matter. They include early street scenes typical of the day. One old landmark, long since removed, to be shown is the "Ark" which years ago stood on a trestle foundation on McBride Street at the present site of Gordon's Hardware.

halibut and many other useful kinds of fish.

"4. The centre of tremendous tract of uncleared forest land with several different species of timber of commercial value.

"5. An attractive resort for tourists, summer visitors and sportsmen in search of fresh air, good scenery, boating, fishing and game."

"Then the article becomes somewhat enthusiastically fearful lest it would be a public calamity if Prince Rupert were ever to grow into a dense seething mass of humanity, packed together like herrings in a barrel, after the pattern of New York or Chicago. This is apparently what will take place before long if the prices that are already being asked and given for real estate give any criterion to go by. Even now a grand hotel is to be fifteen stories high and tall buildings will soon be the order of the day on other expensive sites."

The article gave examples of some land values—one lot at Second Avenue and Sixth Street, 50 feet wide and 100 feet long, selling for $55,000 and the Dominion government paying $96,000 for a 100-foot square Post Office site. (Third Avenue across from the present Post Office).

With a municipal debt for street and service development already amounting to $2,000,000, the construction of a $3,000,000 dry dock under way and the great hotel about to commence, the article describes these as "only secondary to new and large developments of original local industry. It is to the growth of such primary industries that Prince Rupert must look for a permanent source of revenue and prosperity in the future. The first and probably the most important of these is agriculture and the wheat raised in the vast district between Edmonton

Ladies Co-operate On Diaper Service

PORT WASHINGTON, N.Y. —The diaper service situation being what it is, this report on the lengths to which friendship is carried in Port Washington should be of interest. A young married woman had been living with her parents here and using such a service for her baby. She moved away but another daughter and baby were due to move in two weeks later. To hold down rights to the service for two weeks, grandmother called on a friend, also a young mother, to obtain the requisite supply of soiled diapers daily. However, that friend's baby was partly trained and did not produce a sufficient supply of used baby linens to keep both services interested. So the friend enlisted the help of still another mother and baby on the project. Friendship is like that in the suburbs of New York.

ROMAN TRAFFIC CONTROL. Julius Caesar conceived the idea of one-way streets as traffic aids.

AN OLD ENGLISH SONG

"The words of an old English song I sang myself as a child.—Anonymous."

Underneath the gaslight glitter,
Stands a little fragile girl,
Heedless of the night winds bitter
As they round about her whirl.

While the hundreds pass unheeding
In the evening's waning hours,
Still she cries with tearful pleading:
"Won't you buy my pretty flowers?"

There are many sad and weary
Living in this world of ours,
Crying every night so dreary:
"Won't you buy my pretty flowers?"

Two year old training

Count Fleet was a very nervous high-strung youngster. In workouts he would break his stride to jump a shadow on the track. But, he steadied down and later ran the fastest mile ever made by a 2 year old — at 3 he outclassed all opposition.

By ROBERTA LEE

Q. If one is entertaining with just one or two tables of bridge, should a prize be given for the highest score?
A. This is optional with the hostess. Quite often a prize is not given unless there are three or more tables.

Q. Why should a wife visit her husband's office as little as possible?
A. Because it embarrasses him not to show her every attention and therefore distracts his mind from his work.

Q. What does petit pois mean?
A. Small peas.

IMPROVEMENT OF TERRACE

Young Business Men Get Together—"Clean-up" Is First Objective

TERRACE—The newly organized Terrace Progress Club, consisting of younger public-spirited men of Terrace, who have banded themselves together for the purpose of achieving various types of public improvements, have set out on a "Clean-up, Paint-up" campaign as their primary activity and started the ball rolling yesterday when the members turned out in order to tidy up the ball park. The campaign will culminate in the calling of an intensive clean-up week for the whole village commencing May 13.

Improvement of the highways and byways and the brightening up of the community generally is not, however, the sole activity of the new organization but it is also interesting itself in the sponsoring of sports and athletics and, with that end in view, a committee has been appointed to go into the possibility of sponsoring a ball club.

The officers of the club, non-political, non-racial and non-sectarian, are:
Chairman—Harry Seaton.
Vice-Chairman—L. H. Smart.
Secretary—John McLeod.

NEW HAZELTON

The highway between New Hazelton and Terrace is getting better every day as a result of the work of the provincial department of public works. "Shortly it will be a real pleasure to make use of it," says the Omineca Herald.

Saying that he had never seen so much rain in his life as that which he experienced in Vancouver, Gust Hildebrand returned home last week from a trip south.

Hon. E. T. Kenney, minister of lands, expects to pay a visit to his constituency about the middle or end of May, depending on when Premier John Hart and his party return from the conference at Ottawa.

Peter Ober, one of the real pioneers of Hazelton, having been there since railway construction days, died recently. He was a native of Germany.

Hazelton's first war bride, Mrs. Violet Simpson, wife of Hunter Simpson, has arrived from the Bahamas where she was born and spent all her life.

SMITHERS

The Smithers and District Chamber of Commerce is working on the possibility of enlisting the co-operation of the provincial government in establishing a pumping plant in connection with the power plant which it is proposed to instal near the river below the Bulkley Hill. This might be solved Smithers' long-veged problem of inadequate water supply.

Robert Clark of Forestdale has been appointed lineman of the Government Telegraphs for the district between Houston and Hazelton.

The office of assistant superintendent of the Canadian National Railways here has been closed. G. F. B. Middleton is being transferred to Melville, Saskatchewan, and E. N. Stewart of Prince George will combine the duties of master mechanic and assistant superintendent.

A passenger and express stage service between Smithers and Prince George has been instituted by Harold W. Smith of Prince George. Seven-passenger cars are used and there are three trips a week.

Churches Filled As City Observes Peacetime Easter

Prince Rupert attended church in force yesterday, observing the anniversary of the Resurrection of the Prince of Peace for the first time in seven years in a world which was officially without war.

Services in local churches were well attended in spite of the absence of bright sunshine usually associated with Easter Day.

Special Easter music was delivered by the choirs in all city churches, complementing the sermons of the Resurrection and its present day significance delivered by the ministers.

Weather during the day was dull, with occasional rain which somehow did not mar the striking newness of the Easter hats worn proudly by the ladies at church.

At some churches Holy Communion was received by the worshippers while at others the regular Sunday schools were cancelled for the day to encourage the children to worship with their parents in a family service.

In all churches the significant atmosphere of re-birth was enhanced by profusions of spring flowers which decorated the chancels.

GARDEN NOTEBOOK

No Rush Yet—Given about 12 hours of sunshine and a little warm weather at this time of the year and the average man or woman is liable to get in a dither about getting the garden planted. This is a natural reaction after a cold or tough winter, but experienced gardeners, and the medical profession too, advise caution. There is no need to rush the season in most parts of Canada. True; early, hardy flowers, all nursery stock, grass seed and some of the first vegetables can be planted just as soon as the soil is fit to work. And fit to work is important. There is nothing to be gained and sometimes there is actual loss by digging the soil when it is too damp. In clay that will result in mud and, later on, lumps that may take weeks of hard work to pulverize. If one can walk through the garden without getting the shoes muddy, the soil can be worked safely, but not before. If it crumbles when released, it is safe to proceed with digging or plowing but if it compacts into a ball then the experts say to leave it alone for a day or two. Beginners are cautioned, too, against planting all the garden in one afternoon. It is far better to spread out the planting. Beets, carrots, beans, spinach, lettuce, radish, etc., can be planted every other week or so right up to late June and the harvest will be spread accordingly. Flowers, too, can be spread over several weeks. Some things, however, like grass seed, nursery stock, garden peas, sweet peas, are best all planted early. Bedding plants like petunias, zinnias, stocks, spider plants, tomatoes, cabbage, etc., should not be set out until all danger of frost is over. Tender things like gladiolus, cannas, melons, corn, squash, etc., also come in this category.

Seed Is Cheap but Important—No matter how favorable the weather or how rich the soil, results are going to be disappointing unless one uses good seed. This costs but a few cents a packet but it is vital to success. Not only is it important to use good seed, but also seed that is suitable for Canadian conditions. Something that might give wonderful results in England or the Southern States may be no good at all when planted in Canada. On this account it is advisable to stick to purchases from Canadian seed houses which only carry seed suitable for growing in this climate.

Proper Tools—A few special tools will make gardening easier and much more enjoyable. In this category are the three and five-pronged hand-drawn cultivators, dutch hoes, narrow hoes, weed spudders, edging tools, digging forks and others. These are designed to handle special jobs and get into corners and close to growing plants. With long handles, too, they will save the back. Tools must be kept reasonably clean and sharp. An old file will do both jobs. Some gardeners keep a pad or bushel basket filled with sand into which some old crankcase oil has been dumped. Shoved into this the tools will keep clean and free from rust.

Transplanting—Watering is one of the secrets to successful transplanting. Boxes of bedding plants and nursery stock should be kept moist and when contents are set out, water should be added. Roses, shrubs, vines and trees should be watered thoroughly in drish weather, soaking the ground at least once a week until growth is well started. To conserve moisture cultivate ornamental trees three feet all around until mid-summer.
