WELLS LAYS ROYAL BRIBERY
 Suggests Contributions Might Have Been Made to Fascist Cause
 LONDON — British newspapers today ignore an attack by G. Wells on the Royal Family. Wells raised the question whether the monarchy was involved in pre-war payments which a government minister had declared were made by Mussolini to Sir Oswald Mosley, British Fascist leader. Buckingham Palace spokesmen declined comment.
 Wells wrote: "The genuine democratic communities throughout the world need to know what is going on in this business of huge Mosley and how far our own Royal Family is involved in the affair."
 "If it is," he added, "There is every reason why the House of Hanover should follow the House of Savoy into the shadows of exile and leave England to return to its old and persistent republican traditions."
 The article offered no proof or basis for the question raised. The newspaper, London Journalist described the article as "the most serious thing since the abdication of Edward VIII."

FORMER ARMY OFFICERS IN BATTLE MEET
 Forty-one United States Army officers who were stationed at Prince Rupert during the recent war had a reunion not long ago and there seemed to be general agreement that Prince Rupert was the best place they ever served in spite of the fact that, since leaving here, many of them had been overseas and had seen a good deal of the world. It was resolved to perpetuate the associations formed in Prince Rupert with gatherings to be held as frequently as possible. Some day, it was hoped, there would be a reunion in Prince Rupert.

MINISTERS ARE INVITED
 MacKinnon and Mackenzie Asked to Attend Associated Boards Meeting—Prince Rupert Assisting Terrace
 The Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce has agreed to contribute to the extent of 50 per cent to the expenses of the annual convention of the Associated Boards of Trade of Central British Columbia which is to be held in Terrace on August 8 and 9. Special features planned, in addition to the regular convention sessions, include an official dinner and a party at Lakelse Lake. A party from Ketchikan and possibly other southeastern Alaska points is expected to join delegates from various chambers of commerce and boards of trade of northern and central British Columbia at the convention.
 Member boards have already been asked to start preparing convention resolutions and at Terrace accommodation and entertainment for the delegates is being arranged.
 Hon. J. A. MacKinnon, federal minister of trade and commerce, and Hon. Ian Mackenzie, minister of pensions and national health, have been invited to attend the convention.

THE WEATHER
 Synopsis
 Light rain and rain showers were general over British Columbia yesterday from the west coast of Vancouver Island to the Queen Charlotte Islands and inland over northern and central B.C. Prince Rupert again had the heaviest rain with a total of 1.2 inches in the past 24 hours. Some of the moist air which caused this rain reached southern Vancouver Island and the west mainland this morning and produced a few light rain showers. During the morning clouds broke up with clear weather again expected for this afternoon and evening over the northern part of the province. The northern half of B.C. will continue cloudy with rain showers.
 Forecast
 Prince Rupert, Queen Charlotte and North Coast—Cloudy with rain showers today and tomorrow. Light winds. Light change temperature. Minimum tonight: Port Hardy, 40; Massett, 50; Prince Rupert, 45; maximum Sunday: Port Hardy, 60; Massett, 60; Prince Rupert, 60.

START PLANS FOR CARNIVAL
 Carnival Queen Contest to Be Held in Connection With Port Day
 Prince Rupert's Civic Centre Carnival will feature a considerable number of high class entertainers and performers this year as well as an increased number of rides for children. A preliminary meeting of the carnival committee Friday afternoon laid initial plans for this year's affair which will be held from August 17 to 24.
 Carnival Queen contest this year will be held in conjunction with the Junior Chamber of Commerce Port Day and the queen will be the Port Queen. The carnival will be held in the Civic Centre building and on adjoining property. The committee plans to ask the city for the right to block off part of McBride Street as a carnival grounds.
 There will be no "Miss America" contest this year, the committee decided. The Port Queen, however, will be chosen on August 21 and will officiate at Port Day on August 22, then will be crowned officially on August 23.
 A further meeting of the committee is planned for next week and, in the meantime, local organizations will be contacted with the idea of obtaining their support for the annual week of celebration. Those who attended yesterday's meeting were Alderman T. N. Youngs, chairman; G. L. Rorie, secretary; A. P. Crawley, port committee chairman; Don Forward, Civic Centre director, and Neil Ross, Civic Centre physical director.

AGREE IN INTERIOR

Invisible Death Hanging About Atomic Cloud
 ABOARD U.S. APPALACHIAN — An invisible form of death filled the air for many miles around and far outside the great mushroom cloud which rose from the explosion of the Bikini atom bomb.
 One plane got its first warning when the meter registering the presence of x-rays unexpectedly began to record a dangerous amount of radiation. Since the plane crew was exposed to an unknown amount of radiation, they were evacuated to the mainland for observation.
 Mice that flew into the cloud are changing color. White mice became brown. All the planes brought back evidences of terrible radio-activity in or near the cloud.
Famous Windows Return to York
 YORK, Eng. — Reinstatement of York Minister's stained glass windows, removed for safety during the war, is being slow-ly so that where possible mutilated or jumbled panels may be rearranged. The Dean of York, Very Rev. Eric Milnor-White, said in a report on the work that a photographic record is made of every panel before and after treatment. At least 2,000 negatives and prints are required.

HEALTH UNIT ACTIVITIES
 Child Guidance Clinic Here—Chest Clinic Coming
 The outstanding event of the month for the Prince Rupert Health Unit was the first visit of the Child Guidance Clinic, consisting of a psychiatrist, a psychologist and a public health nurse. The first session was held at the Civic Centre because of the Child Welfare Clinic at the Health Unit. The remaining two days were spent in the Health Unit offices. Ten children were examined and valuable advice given. The follow-up work is being done which is an important part of the service.
 Vaccination clinics were held at the four elementary schools. The children were checked later and certificates given.
 Port Edward, Sunnyside and Terrace were visited.
 The semi-annual chest clinic will be held in Prince Rupert from August 21 to August 29. Dr. Blott plans to give two days over to the X-raying of Indian patients in the district.
 Preliminary arrangements for this clinic are now under way and it is estimated that there will be approximately 400 patients for x-ray by August.

LAST CANUCK SHIP LEAVES
 Rescue Tug is Final Vessel to Quit Newfoundland
 ST. JOHN'S NEWFOUNDLAND — The rescue tug Riverton, last Canadian naval vessel to leave foreign waters has left Newfoundland.
 Having completed its last job, that of escorting the U.S. Army Transport Bell Isle into port, the ship took the last remaining Royal Canadian Navy ratings to Canada.
 During the war, the ship, in addition to its regular duties, conveyed sick persons from isolated places to St. John's and rescued Newfoundland vessels in distress. On one occasion Lieut. J. C. Ellis, commander of the Riverton, received an emergency call at his home and 11 minutes later the ship was steaming outside the narrows.
 Included in the Riverton's adventures was the towing of the John Cabot from Trepassed and the rescue of the motor vessel Collier. The vessel also brought the schooner L.M. through heavy seas to safety.
 The Riverton was adopted by the Chrysler girls of Catham, Ontario. During the war the girls sent the sailors thousands of cigarettes, toasters, irons and a cigarette lighter for each man on board.

Centralized Plans For Blitized Towns
 ELACKPOOL, — Public purchase of the centre of badly blitzed British towns so they could be re-developed along planned lines was advocated here by the city treasurer of Coventry, A. H. Marshall. He told a conference of the Institute of Municipal Treasurers and Accountants that enemy action had thrust municipalities into the real estate business on a grand scale.
 It is felt that centralized planning will improve town layouts. In the past towns have grown haphazardly with business flowing into residential areas.

REMANDED ON MORALS CHARGE
 Wilfred August White of Port Simpson appeared before Stipendiary Magistrate David Cut-hill at Port Simpson this week on a morals charge and was remanded until July 11 for hearing. Offences are alleged to have occurred at Port Simpson during May and June.

FOURTH OF JULY TOLL IS LOWER
 On the Fourth of July last year 159 persons suffered violent deaths whereas the total this year so far is 142.
 Thursday marked the start of a four-day holiday celebration in the United States which the National Safety Council forecast would set a record of 1300 violent deaths.
 One of the most tragic accidents was at Portland, Oregon, where a man told his 14-year-old boy to climb into their private plane as he started the motor. Somehow or other, the plane got started down the runway. The man was killed by the whirling propeller, his wife sustained serious injuries but the boy had presence of mind enough to take control and escaped uninjured.

Terrace Sawmills Are Still Closed
 Most of the sawmills in the Terrace area are still inoperative in spite of the recent settlement of the International Woodworkers' Association strike dispute in the province generally. Little, Haugland & Kerr mill near Kit-sumkallum Lake has resumed but neither Little, Haugland & Kerr main mill in town or the Giggey, Pohle or Deep Creek mills have yet resumed. The Gordon Little mill at Kwinita and the Hagen mill at Copper City are in operation.

BOOST IN EXCHANGE PRICE MADE BY ILSLEY IN HOUSE

Change Hits Gold Mines and Export Companies — Other Reactions From Surprise Announcement
 OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian dollar, which for years has been discounted 10 per cent under the United States dollar, has been equalized at par with United States currency. In a surprise announcement last night Finance Minister J. L. Ilesley disclosed in Commons a major four-point change in Canada's stabilization program including the return to par with the United States dollar in order to maintain stability and independence of the Dominion's economic and financial affairs.
 The change became effective yesterday at 5 p.m., Pacific Daylight Time.
 Banks are now buying American dollars at one dollar, Canadian funds, and sell them at $1.01½.
Other Points In Fiscal Move
 1. A long, but simple and clear list of all goods and services which remain subject to price control. A number of less important articles suspended from price control.
 2. The principles of price control on domestic products remain unchanged.
 3. The policy of paying subsidies will remain in effect in order to prevent undue increases in the prices of articles of major importance.

SOVIET STILL OBSTRUCTIVE
 Would Prescribe Rules of Procedure Before Calling 21-Power Conclave
 PARIS — British-American opposition to Russian demands that the Big Four prescribe rules of procedure for the general European peace conference this summer blocked efforts of the foreign ministers council today to convoke the 21-power conclave on July 29, the date already fixed.
 The ministers met again today to renew discussion of the matter.
 Basic motivation for United States policy is to throw international problems into area where the veto could not be exercised. Russia is holding out against this.

QUAKE SINKS SEA BOTTOM
 VICTORIA — Officials of the Canadian hydrographic department announced that fresh soundings will have to be taken in waters off the coast of Vancouver Island due to the effects of the earthquake on June 23. Drops of up to 100 feet in the ocean bottom were reported.

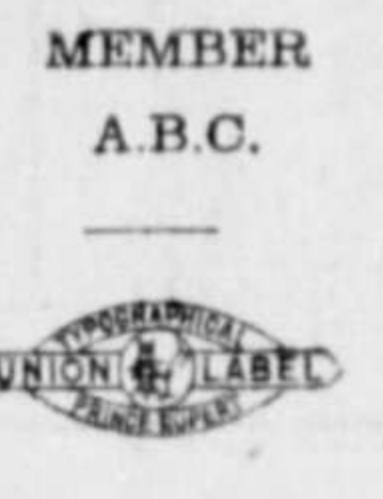

AUSTRALIAN VOTE ISSUE
 Tie-up of Dutch Relief Shipping to East Indies Draws Fire
 SYDNEY, Australia — A nine-month-old ban maintained on Dutch shipping by the Australian waterfront workers has drawn protest from the Netherlands minister to Australia and will almost certainly be an issue in the general election this year.
 The ban was applied by Australian Waterside Workers' Federation as an expression of sympathy for the Indonesian cause and has kept Dutch relief ships for the East Indies immobilized in Australian ports since last September.

Northern Senator
 That the claim of northern and central British Columbia to representation in the Senate of Canada be recognized by Prime Minister Mackenzie King when appointments are made to fill three vacancies for this province in the upper chamber of Parliament is being urged by the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, whose executive, at a meeting this week, decided to communicate with Mr. King with the request to this effect. It was felt by the executive that there was worthy and deserving material representative of this part of the province and that the district might be appropriately enough recognized.
 The Associated Boards of Trade of Central British Columbia, at its forthcoming convention will be asked to pass a resolution along similar lines.

SHEPHERDS' INCAPACITY

MANY MINISTERS of the Gospel are exasperating because they stray from the Gospel. The real minister is a teacher. He explains things of doctrinal obscurity. He tells his congregation of the happiness in being a Follower of the One who is supposed to be the Master of professing Christians. At the end of his sermons, members of the flock feel a desire to do better; they can be sincere in their intention to lead a better life. They are not asked to look down on, much less utterly to condemn, others.

The exasperating preachers are those who pray to parliament rather than to God. They instruct God. They point to man's failures and see remedies only in the hands of the police. They are willing to write the laws, detail the remedies, for the evils they see—evils which exist not because of an economic system or a method of government, but because man is yet selfish and prone to sin.

These parsons should not exasperate. They should, rather, sadden observers. For their proposals for making people good by decree are a confession that the preachers have failed in promoting goodness by the methods which ministers of the Gospel are supposed to have been following for more than 1,900 years.

Christianity is not Socialism. It is not Capitalism. It is not Communism. It is Christianity, and nothing less than that. If all preachers would cease to make Christianity less than it is and Christianity were made to work, it would not matter what system of government or economics one lived under. In a world freed of selfishness, any system would work.

Civic Centre SPORT VENUE

Lacrosse Practices Popular—Many Turning Out at Civic Centre

While there was no activity at the Gyro ball park last evening as the scheduled fastball games were called off on account of the wet state of the grounds, there was considerable activity at the Civic Centre. That is one place where athletics can be carried on whether the weather is suitable or not.

The chief activity was lacrosse practice although in one corner R. McCaig, a university student from Saskatchewan, was carrying on with a regular weight-lifting routine.

Two groups were practicing lacrosse. One was a senior and the other a junior group. The seniors were practicing shooting on goal, combination plays and goalkeeping. Dick Woods, veteran player, showed that he had lost none of his skill in getting a ball and shooting on the target with a variety of shots although he admits that his legs are not as good as they used to be.

Under his instruction young local players were learning the elementary and then the more advanced niceties of Canada's great game. Among the seniors were Dick Cameron, Cliff Silver-sides, Terry Parsons, W. Scarffe and Gus Stromdahl with Dick Chapple, a recent arrival from the south, showing lots of class in goal. Other players who have been getting in trim are C. Erickson, Cliff Abercrombie, the Sheardown brothers, Bud Schuman, Joe Gillis, Charlie Woods, Elmer Nelson and Minor Simonson.

At another goalnet Dick had some of the juniors under his instruction. Ronnie Davies was doing well in goal and Perry Mork was learning to take a pass and shoot or give a pass. Robert Berthelet was also showing signs of becoming a good player.

LETTERBOX

REORGANIZING BAND

Editor, Daily News:

I would like to refer to the problem of our local city band.

Up until the time of the recent war Prince Rupert had a boys' band which was an asset to this city. It was directed by a qualified bandmaster. When special events and holidays came along the city band was called upon to do its duty. It was always available to lead the parade whether in rain or shine. Yet, the man on the street has no knowledge of what it takes to build up and finance such an organization as this and make it possible, so we can have something to be proud of.

During the war the band was a part of the local wartime army. At different times during the course of the last four years, a drive was put on for new members to participate and bring the band up to strength. The ordinary citizen who played an instrument shunned the idea of having anything to do with an army band. At the present time the players are attempting to start a local civilian band. Whether we will have the city's full assistance remains to be seen.

Today players are becoming more scarce due to the fact that there is nobody to start teaching youngsters and bring them up to playing ability. Our main job is to attract the attention of youngsters right now who in a few years will be the main support of the local organization. If we cannot interest them now we never will.

It is well known today that most band audiences are made up of older people but, unfortunately,

School Pupils and Governor-General

Suggestion was made at the school board meeting this week that school pupils might turn out en masse to welcome the Governor-General, Viscount Alexander, when he visits here in August. The board, however, decided to take no action in view of the request of the Governor-General that this visit, in view of its brevity, be considered informal. In any case, it was felt that it would be for the mayor to take the initiative in any civic activities.

ly, they cannot be depended upon. In all parts of Canada bands are struggling along on "shoe strings" with the exception of Ontario, which is leading the Dominion for bands. Through an Ontario band tax law, the provincial government makes it possible for grants, approved by local ratepayers, and have it as part of the local financial setup. If, however, the present policy of bands persists, the younger generation coming up will gradually lose all interest whatsoever and the bands of today will pass out of the picture.

At present the local band has 11 to 12 players who are constantly on the job. There are many valuable players in town who should become members.

We hope that when the band attempts to start on its own we will have the whole-hearted support of the city.

LIFE ASSURANCE FIGHTS INFLATION
Policyholders' savings important contribution to War Effort and Post-War Reconstruction

One of the many distinctive services performed by Life Assurance in these urgent times is the mobilization of the people's savings against the insidious but none the less devastating enemy—inflation. Thus millions of men and women, advised by a worthy and highly-trained group of their fellow-countrymen who "sell" Life Assurance, withhold their savings from the luxury market and set them aside to secure protection and well-being for themselves and their loved ones in the unknown days to come.
In the past year alone, the million policyholders of the Sun Life of Canada have set aside $112 millions of their savings in the form of Life Assurance premiums.

TO THE PEOPLE OF PRINCE RUPERT Who Suffer With Their Feet

You will be interested to know that there is a man in town who has had a wide experience in the correction of fallen arches, and can make Arch Supports that will relieve that painful and tired feeling that only foot sufferers can explain.
Mr. Bill Terry, with many years of study of foot ailments, is at Hill's Shoe Store, and will be pleased to take an impression of your feet and let you know what can be done in your individual case.
Mr. Bill Terry is also in charge of the Shoe Repairing Dept. where your repairs are executed neatly and promptly. Call around and see him for either reason.

SATURDAY SERMON

THE WHITE ZULU

By GILBERT NORWOOD
(Reprinted from the Saturday Night of February 2 at the request of Rev. Basil S. Prockter)

Picture a throng of savages camping in some ancient cathedral. After a while they decide that the "heap big kraal" may serve as a permanent home and, despite drawbacks, quite tolerable home it becomes. They are not embarrassed by the saints that blaze from the windows for they are too busy turning the chair stalls into hen-coops and cooking on the tombs which make excellent tables now that the stone people atop of them are hacked off. The sides of these tombs, recording martyrdoms and crusades, lifelong piety or laborious statecraft or profound learning do not distract the settlers for they cannot read; they do not even know what reading is. Besides, why take trouble over learning a queen foreign language like English, when they can speak Zulu? In any case, what happened at Runnymede or Trafalgar or on the battlefields of Acre or in the Old Market Square at Rouen matters nothing to these hard-headed Zulus. They have pressing tasks in hand: to make and sell costume nose rings, flattering hair grease and the latest model in tom-toms. That is a picture of the Canadian nation as it will be if self-satisfied ignorance and parochial conceit go still unchecked. It is familiar to all who retain the idea of true culture; but these are few, and the nation which they would rescue from self-brutalisation consists largely of people who do not even know what the few are talking about. Defenders of genuine civilization often feel as if they discuss color with a man blind from birth.

A white Zulu is cut off from the past. Is it not curious that our generation, which congratulates itself so loudly on "annihilating space," feels no ambition to annihilate time? Glee-fu-ly outstripping the hurricane across oceans and continents, it placidly huddles down in a single period shorter than a century: its face grows blank, its eyes stupid at the mere thought of listening to Socrates, St. Augustine or Edmund Burke. Turning from the immense treasury of human experience, we live helpless and bewildered in a brief hour that cannot be understood without its context. Thus we fall a prey to "practical men" who corrupt education, some from within through a passion for showy "results," some from without through bribing youngsters to become machines. These false prophets are unchallenged by public opinion, for their poison has not yet reached its full effect—because the impulse of the sound old tradition is not yet exhausted. When it ceases, we shall find ourselves bereft of all resources save machines (which also we inherit from the past). Then too late we shall understand that a man might as well cut off his legs as ignore the tradition of ages.

That glorious discipline of the humanities, of those studies which bestow a liberal education, is as necessary to the intellect as love to the heart and food to the body. Such education trains and illumines the mind by knowledge and understanding of what through the centuries man has done, suffered, thought and created in art, science, literature, political institutions and doctrines, social expedients, religious and philosophical systems. It does not mould us into shapes which will fit the pattern of the hour: the good-sales clerk, the good teacher and the good company director are all produced by other means. Liberal education produces simply a man—as complete and enlightened a man as each is capable of becoming. To call such studies useless is to blaspheme the human soul.

If we stuff a lad with vocational training and deny him during his formative years all knowledge of the great fundamental studies, then (whatever else we are) we are not democratic. On the contrary, we create a slave class, a host of people who can never hope to be anything but what our jargon calls "regular guys." Very regular they will be! Neatly planned, trimmed and smoothed to suit the habits of a world which, blind to the past and terrified of the future, cannot hope to endure, which at this moment shrinks and writhes in ghastly transformation. The man of liberal education is able to face whatever can arise; for he lives at the centre of things which alone abides.

G. Aubrey Bate, who has been a teacher on the staff of Booth Memorial High School, sailed last night on the Cardena to spend the summer in the south.

Weather Hampers Sockeye Fishing But Some Averages Fair—O.P.A. Suspension Makes Itself Felt Here

Poor weather conditions have hampered sockeye salmon fishing along the north coast this week and boat averages were below what might have been expected had bright weather been prevalent. While complete reports of the situation at the close of the first week of the season are not available here, fishermen say that, due to the dull weather, the fish are running too deep for the nets. In many cases only a small portion of the fleets in the different areas have been active and averages reported by them have been low. Following a storm which whipped the lower Skeena on Wednesday, only about 25 per cent of the fleet was out. Average daily delivery on the Skeena for the week was 30 fish per boat. However, on the Naas River, the boats were averaging from 50 to 60 fish per boat daily. There are about 750 gillnetters on the Skeena and about 150 on the Naas. In the Grenville-Pince channel area, averages were 145 per boat on Monday, the only day for which reports are available. About 25 boats delivered on Monday. There has been no communication with that region since Monday.

On Fitzhugh Sound the average for Thursday was 12 fish per boat with 50 boats fishing. Twenty boats on Deane Channel averaged 20 fish each on Monday and there has been no word from that area since. Smith Inlet started off with an average catch of 10 fish on Monday. This jumped to 22 fish per boat on Tuesday. No reports have come in since. At Rivers Inlet the general average for the first three days was 10 fish per boat.

Following a two-week lull after the closing of halibut Area Two, landings at Prince Rupert are on the increase again, with a considerable amount of black
