A SERIOUS MATTER

WASTAGE of valuable and much needed food product the incipient strike of fish handlers at Prince Rupert has already made itself felt through fish having had to be dumped because the fish handlers refused to touch it Saturday afternoon and Sunday. Next Monday, unless there is a settlement of points in dispute and a calling off of the strike in the meantime, the full force of the strike will be felt at Prince Rupert not only in wastage of food but in widespread loss of work and a crippling generally of the community's most important industry. All of which emphasizes the serious responsibility of those who permit such a tie-up to eventuate.

A strike in the fish handling industry would constitute the most widespread industrial tie-up Prince Rupert has ever had. It would affect every business and activity of the city. It is very important that all those concerned with the dispute should exhaust every reasonable effort to reach ground so that such a tie-up would be averted.

When you mix genius with a little sweat you've got about as good a recipe for success as there is.

AIR TRAVEL TAKES

NOVEL CEREMONY at the Seal Cove air base yesterday afternoon when the christening took place of the Skeena Queen, second of the air liners to be placed in service between Prince Rupert and Vancouver, served to accentuate the fact that the pioneering of Queen Charlotte Airlines in commercial aviation from here has, in its so far brief span, done much to make Prince Rupert and its people air-conscious. We have long looked for the day when

Research Outlined For New Laboratory

NEW DELHI—India is planning to establish a national chemical laboratory upon a 430-acre tract of land at Poona at a cost of about $2,500,000. The main divisions projected are: Inorganic chemistry, including analytical chemistry; physical chemistry, including electro-chemistry; chemical engineering; survey and intelligence; the chemistry of high polymers; and organic chemistry. Among the immediate problems of national importance which the laboratory will study are surveys of raw materials and their industrial potentialities, utilization of by-products from existing industry and the development of key industries.

Notice

As H.M.C.S. Uganda and Crescent will be in Prince Rupert from July 24th to 29th, I urge all business men and citizens to assist the committee in charge of the entertainment of the Officers and Personnel in every way possible.

I respectfully request that you also show your co-operation by decorating your stores and business places.

such a regular service would be available here. Now it is an accomplished fact. All that is needed now is a reduction of the rate tariff to a more reasonable figure to make air travel between Prince Rupert and Vancouver as well as other points on the coast an accepted thing which will demand a much more frequent service than the two regular flights a week which have now been instituted.

HIGH SCHOOL DOES WELL

CONGRATULATIONS are due staff and pupils of Booth Memorial High School on what appears to have been a very creditable record of achievement in the matriculation examinations, results of which we published at the end of the week. There were 23 candidates and of those it is already known that fourteen were successful in passing clear in all subjects. No doubt, when the detailed results are transmitted here, it will be found that of the remaining candidates several have obtained substantial partial standing and, with the writing off of a supplemental or two before fall, will have qualified to proceed with academic studies either here, if the Senior Matriculation course is instituted, or in the south at university or High School. Prince Rupert High School has made a gratifying come-back and it is a matter of satisfaction for all concerned.

HOME-MAKING VITAL

HOMEMAKERS are in a peculiar position. They contribute so much to the family, community and state, yet are classed roughly as non-workers because they appear in a column of statistics headed "not in gainful occupations." One homemaker has kept a scientific record for 15 years. She has proved to her own satisfaction that the average woman who prepares meals, cans, preserves, produces substantially the equal value of the man's economic contribution in industry. Men who think back over the past six years will realize the wonderful job their womenfolk have done in spreading thin and making ends meet.

A plow-horse never won the Kentucky Derby. But if all farmers owned racehorses lots of us would be lots leaner.

ALCOHOLICS REGENERATED

Members of Alcoholics Anonymous Help Themselves and Others

By JACK RUTLEDGE

DALLAS (AP)—Two hundred veterans of the struggle against alcoholism leaned forward tensely. The auditorium was quiet as the weekly meeting of the Alcoholics Anonymous was called to order.

"Folks," said the speaker in a husky voice, "tonight we're celebrating two birthdays. Bill is two years old, and Mary is one."

The crowd broke into cheers. Bill and Mary stood up, beaming proudly. Bill hadn't taken a drink for two years, Mary for one.

"We'll hear from Judge Joe Hill, who handles drunks by the hundreds, later on," the speaker said. "But first we'll let Bill and Mary say a few words. Now, you don't have to give your last names unless you want to," he said.

The man spoke first. He was frank and unashamed. He gave his name and occupation. He told of the lives he'd wrecked, of the happiness he'd blasted, of the physical damage his drinking had caused.

"Preachers preached about me, my mother prayed, and my wife cried," he said. "I just couldn't stop drinking. I know now that it's a disease, just like diabetes. Alcoholics Anonymous cured me."

"It's the most exclusive club in the world. Only reformed drunks can join. It doesn't cost a cent to belong, but it costs a fortune to get in. I figure it cost me at least $50,000—money I've lost because of my drinking."

Then Mary spoke. She was a beauty parlor operator. She had lost most of her customers because, they just didn't like to have a drunken operator mauling over them. But now—

"I don't say I'm cured for keeps, I saw an alkie boast that he was on the wagon for life, that he'd never touch another drop. The next night he was drunk and in jail. I know that I'm just one drink away from being a drunkard. All I can say is that I'm sober tonight, that I have been for a year, and if I just stay sober a day at a time, and let each day take care of itself, I'll be okay."

"I used to think drunks were funny," Judge Hill said with a grin. "When I first sat on the bench, I handled a hundred or so drunks a day. After a while I began to learn things about drunks—and alcoholics. There was the character who appeared time and time before me, and I finally lost patience and told him he just didn't have any will power."

"This fellow told me with a sort of pitying look that I didn't know what will power was. He said he had become so desperate for a drink that he got a pair of pliers and pulled the gold fillings from his teeth to trade for money, and drink."

"Judge, could you do that? You got that much will power?" The judge went on to say that of all the people he knew, he liked alcoholics best. They are the most honest men in the world, he said. While most people try to alibi for mistakes, an Alcoholic Anonymous member who has taken the pledge has, first of all, "got right" with himself and admitted he was an alcoholic and could not handle his liquor. Then, said the judge,

Prairie Visitor Cannot See Why Prince Rupert Should Be Inactive and Run-down

"It certainly seems a pity to us that a town like Prince Rupert, with its great possibilities, its wonderful setting, its natural beauty, its superb weather and so many attractions should be so inactive and run-down," agreed J. H. Gammon and E. H. Gammon, railwaymen from Wilkie, Saskatchewan, who left by last evening's train on their return to the prairies after having been called here to attend the funeral of their brother, Robert H. Gammon, a local railway employee, who died suddenly last week.

"If I had $3,000,000 I would come right back to Prince Rupert and start an industry for you," said J. H. Gammon. He saw opportunity here for the manufacture of lumber and products such as sashes and doors, etc. Speaking generally, he did not see it economic that the natural resources of this district should be shipped away, say to Vancouver, manufactured there and then shipped back. He did not see why local enterprise did not embrace the opportunities that offered here.

J. H. Gammon is a locomotive engineer for the Canadian Pacific Railway running out of Wilkie. E. H. Gammon is a retired locomotive engineer.

"This year there's beauty in our budget"

"Look at the difference in Gladys already," said the mother proudly. "She's just brimming with health."

"Yes, this year there's beauty in our budget," said Hugh. "Another six weeks of this will wonders for you and the youngsters... and long week-ends here for me... it's swell!"

"But it's not really in the budget, Hugh."

"No. It's over and above the budget, certainly; but it's the budget that enables us to live this cottage without worrying. Once we've set aside our year-round expenses and our life insurance premiums, the rest is surplus. We can be extravagant with it. Until I had enough insurance to take care of the future I always felt a bit guilty about spending in the present. But now my mind is at ease. You and Tom and Gladys are protected so long as we don't dip into what's needed for that, we don't need to worry any more."

When life insurance is properly taken care of in the family budget, present expenditures can be planned with a carefree mind. Future protection is of first importance. Once that is insured, the greatest source of worry is banished from every home.

Now you, wherever you are, in a neighbour in the life insurance business. Ask him for advice in planning your future. It is good counseling to have insurance.

PROGRAM FOR NAVAL VISIT

Alterations Made in View of Coming of Crescent With Uganda

The information received Monday that the destroyer Crescent would be accompanying the cruiser Uganda has necessitated some changes in the original program of entertainment, it is announced by the committee.

There will be double-headers in both soft ball and basketball on Wednesday, both ships being opposed by Prince Rupert teams, and there will also be a similar double-header in the baseball fixture arranged for Sunday afternoon.

H.M.C.S. Crescent has been asked if she can field a football team to play for the Hanson Cup on Friday evening, and if she is able to do so, then a draw will be necessary and the holder of the bye will play the winner of Friday's game in the final for the Cup on Saturday afternoon.

It is expected that the Crescent will have additional boxing talent to add to the card arranged for Thursday night and weights of fighters will probably be received before her arrival.

General Motors Wins From 99 Taxi 22-1, and Co-op From Grotto 12-7

In the feature event of last evening's softball doubleheader the General Motors nine always had the game against 99 Taxi well in hand. Ted Arney pitched well, allowing only 5 hits, striking out 2 and walking 2. Pavlikis was behind the plate. When it came to hitting it was all General Motors. Joe Davis had a perfect evening at bat. He hit five two-baggers in succession and was given a walk in the last inning. But everybody was hitting. Minor Simonson also had five hits and a walk. Their fielding was good with Lambie's catch in the outfield the highlight. He took the ball in the gravel heap and fell but held it.

For the Taximen it was their night off. They had few safe hits. Fitch took 4 in the outfield. Simonson handled two very hot drives at third base that otherwise might have meant runs. They tried hard but were clearly outplayed. Bynon was driven out of the box and was relieved by Windle with Gurvich going in at the end. Altogether they gave up 27 hits, 8 walks and struck out 3. Pustak got a two-bagger and Smith a 3-bagger. Bynon scored the only run.

Teams:
General Motors—Ted Arney, Minor Simonson, Johnson, Lindsay, Davis, Pavlikis, Fitch, Gibson, Lambie, Parlett batted for Lindsay in the last inning.
99 Taxi—Houston, Pustak, Ratchford, Windle, Montesano, Calderoni, Dominato, Bynon, Smith, Gurvich.

Co-operatives
Win Again
The men from the waterfront co-operated nicely to defeat the Grotto team by 12-7. Kellett allowed 14 hits and Moxley 13 hits but, where Kellett gave up no walks, Moxley walked 9. He struck out 6 while Kellett struck out 4.

Both teams went scoreless in the first two innings. Moxley did well to strike out Kellett with the bases loaded. Co-op scored 4 in their half of the third after Moxley had two men out and then walked 2. Nordgaard had 3 hits and 2 walks and scored 3 runs. Hewick had 2 hits and 2 walks and scored 4 runs. Hewick, Nordgaard and Edgar had a two-bagger each. Minterko brought off a nice catch in the outfield from Moxley's big drive. Bellis did his usual good job behind the plate.

For the Grotto Ralph Smith and Bruce Simonson each had 3 hits. Simonson scored twice. Dell, Moxley and Duncan each hit a two-bagger. The fielding feature of the evening was Ralph Smith's catch of a Texas-leaguer. He came in very fast, took the ball very low and held it. He well deserved the round of applause that followed. Duncan caught.

Co-op—Bellis, Astoria, Hewick, Nordgaard, Ward, Kellett, Minterko, Edgar, Murray.

Boys' Wilful Damage Impedes Rebuilding

LONDON — Hooligans are endangering London's housing program by malicious damage. Magistrate Basil Henriques said in juvenile court as he bound over three 11-year-old boys who broke into a house, stole workmen's tools, drilled holes in the floors and upset containers of water and paraffin.

"Unless something is done quickly the whole housing position in London will be worse this winter than it was last," said a police inspector who gave evidence. "The damage seems to be work of organized gangs of hooligans."

He said the ministry of work has warned the police hundreds of houses in the course of erection had been damaged recently.

BERLIN REAL ESTATE SLOW

Uncertainty Over City's Future Puts Curb on Buying

BERLIN, — Nobody wants to buy ruins, inquiry among Berlin real estate dealers reveals. This fact somewhat surprised real estate brokers, who at first blushed thought investors might want to acquire ruins cheaply, tear them down and rear new structures.

Investors, however, reasoned differently. First of all they don't know what is to be the position of mortgages on property now standing in ruins. Next, there is the question of whether real estate valuations will undergo a change in view of the unprecedented situation created by mass destruction of entire city sections through bomb and artillery action.

Take downtown Berlin, for instance. Real estate before the war naturally commanded top prices. But, can the centre of the city which "has had it" ever be rebuilt? If so, will it again become the commercial centre or will it, as some city planners have it, be turned into a series of settlement projects? The uncertainty about the future of the city is putting a curb on speculative buying or purchase for investment.

On the other hand, anybody who has a roof over his house is anxious to hold onto his property. Hence, although countless would-be purchasers of homes are registered with real estate agents, properties are being offered for sale only by people who need cash badly or by heirs who have no use for the real estate. Vacant lots, like ruins, are not wanted. One main reason is the dearth of building materials outside of bricks. Bricks are as plentiful as the sands on the sea.
Louis Amadio said this afternoon on the Catala for Vancouver, accompanied by his daughter, Louise. They took their car with them and will motor to Los Angeles to pick up Mr. Amadio's son, Victor, who is coming home with them for a visit.

Public Works Men Are Doing Good Job

The Prince Rupert Highway between here and Terrace is now in the best possible shape, says Jeff Lambly of Terrace who drove in to the city last night for a brief business visit, accompanied by Mrs. Lambly. Mr. Lambly feels that the local public works crew, especially the graderman, is doing a fine job, taking into consideration the difficult stretch of road and the limited equipment available.

HOW CAN I ???

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I remove all dirt and grease from the hair?
A. Wet the hair with warm water and then rub into the scalp the juice of a lemon, instead of soap. Rinse the hair thoroughly and dry with a soft towel. This will leave the hair soft and glossy.

Q. How can I keep oranges for any length of time?
A. If oranges are bought in quantities they will keep better and longer if wrapped in tissue paper, so that they do not touch each other.

Q. How can I prevent damp cupboards?
A. All the moisture in a damp cupboard will be absorbed in a few days' time if a box of quicklime is placed in it.

OPENING OF HOSPITAL PROBLEM; INTERVENTION IN STRIKE SOUGHT

STEWART—At the regular meeting of the Board of Trade held on Tuesday last the question of re-opening the Stewart General Hospital was discussed. The financial aspect, as brought out in the discussion, under present conditions is apparently an insurmountable obstacle. It was estimated that it would require approximately $1,000 per month to maintain the services of a doctor and the maintenance of the hospital building. Taking all into consideration, with the present population, the best solution would be expected from individual settlements. This fact was brought out at a public meeting held on Wednesday in the Legion Hall. W. R. Tooth, chairman of the village commissioners, was in the chair and the principal speakers were Bert Flack, recording secretary, and Arnie Paulsen, member of the executive. Local 694, U.M.W. & S.U. A resolution was passed authorizing the union to ask that the government take immediate steps to bring operators and employees together on a district-wide basis so that they can come to some agreement regarding wages.

The formation of a group of Cub Scouts is under way with Earl Jenkins and Mike Babington acting as scoutmasters. About 15 boys from 8 to 12 years of age camped on the Big Missouri flats during the week-end. The weather was a bit wet but the youngsters seemed to have enjoyed their outing and are looking forward to more. The Parent-Teacher Association, the Portland Canal Community Fund and the Canadian Legion contributed toward the expense of the outing. Apparently, the strike situation continues blocked. Nothing will, appar-

question as to whether the organization will be called Scout Cubs or a boys' club has not been decided.

Fred Behnsen of California, brother of L. A. Behnsen of the Crawford Transfer Company, has been visiting here during the past week.

There are prospects of the Indian Mine being reopened in the near future. A new company has been formed under the title of Indian Mines 1946 Limited and Seymour Campbell, an old-time prospector and operator, who is well known in this district, is looking over the property. B. W. W. MacDougall, mining engineer, is consulting engineer for the new company and is expected here within the next few weeks. There is a considerable quantity of ore already blocked out and prospects look bright for the new concern. The property is situated on the Big Missouri ridge in the Salmon River district about three and a half miles from the Silbak-Premler mine.

HARD ON WORMS
 The female platypus or duck-bill of Australia eats heavily while suckling young. In one instance, a female weighing only two pounds consumed one and three-quarter pounds of worms and shellfish overnight.

NEW AIRCRAFT IS CHRISTENED SKEENA QUEEN

Latest addition to Queen Charlotte Airlines' west coast flying boat service, the Skeena Queen, was christened by a native tribal queen at a colorful ceremony at the mooring wharf at the Seal Cove air base Monday afternoon. The ceremony was attended by more than a score of invited guests who later were taken on a flight over the area in the newly christened plane.

The Skeena Queen, which recently commenced service on the run between Vancouver and Stewart, was christened by Mrs. Alvin Leask of Metlakatla, who broke a bottle of champagne over its aluminum bow after the vessel had been blessed by Rev. Basil S. Prockter, rector of St. Andrew's Cathedral.

While photographers' camera shutters clicked, the flying boat received the blessing of Rev. B. S. Prockter, and the congratulations of Mayor H. M. Daggett who spoke briefly in behalf of the citizens of Prince Rupert. Mayor Daggett touched on the great value of regular air service on the west coast. Reply to the good wishes of the citizens was made by G. H. Woods, operations manager for Queen Charlotte Airlines.

Mrs. Leask then christened the flying boat, after which she was presented with a large bouquet of summer flowers by Miss Margaret Anfield, small daughter of Indian Agent and Mrs. F. E. Anfield.

The party then clambered into the yellow-and-black flying boat, and were taken on a half-hour tour over the harbor, Metlakatla, Port Edward and the Skeena canneries. Those making the flight were Mayor and Mrs. H. M. Daggett, F. E. Anfield, Mr. and Mrs. Leask, Mrs. G. H. Stanbridge, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Hunter, Alderman and Mrs. C. G. Ham, Jack Wrathall, Mrs. Court,

School Boy Police Cut Auto Accidents

CASTOR, Alta.—A junior police force has solved the traffic problems of this southern Alberta town. Established by Chief Constable A. S. Russell, the force consists of a captain, two lieutenants and seven constables, all school students. The most important task of the junior force is to patrol corners when children are going to and from school. It was organized by Russell following a fatal accident at a busy street corner. Five minutes before school is dismissed the young officers, clad in neat uniforms, hats and gloves, take up their posts of duty in the town. Authorized to direct traffic, they halt all speeding motorists, warning them against fast driving. So far none have needed a second warning and police have yet to receive a complaint. Each week the members hold a meeting to discuss rules and regulations. Given a test by an inspector of the highway board they showed their eagerness in the job when he failed to stump them.

Mrs. Hope, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Strickland, Hugo Kraupner, Mrs. R. H. Browne, Rev. and Mrs. Basil Prockter, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. McLeod, and J. H. Black. Following the flights, a reception was held at the Prince Rupert hotel for the invited guests.
