Seven-and-Half Million Dollars Worth Of Ships To Be Built In Britain

One Vessel Will Be For Nanaimo and Other Two On Vancouver-Victoria-Seattle Triangle Route

VANCOUVER (CP)—The News-Herald, in a special dispatch from Montreal today, said that plans had been completed at head offices of the Canadian Pacific Railway in Montreal and construction would start almost immediately in British shipyards of three "super-coastal" ships...

One of the ships will be on the Nanaimo-Vancouver run, the story said, and the others on the Vancouver-Victoria-Seattle Triangle service. Each will cost about $2,500,000.

A-BOMB TESTS BY U.S. NAVY

WASHINGTON — The United States navy raised the curtain today on its plans for testing the atomic bomb against a great armada of fighting ships...

A guinea-pig fleet of 90 vessels, ranging from carriers to small craft will be the atomic target in the vast operations which will start in May.

The laboratory selected is the anchorage of Bikini Atoll, one of the northernmost islands of the Marshall group which were wrested from Japan by amphibious assault two years ago.

The undertaking is not a combined or international operation alone. The question of permitting foreign observers has not been decided.

Will Probe War Crimes

Prosecutions to Be Launched With Court-Martial of all Enemy Offenders

LONDON — Royal Canadian Air Force headquarters announced today it is investigating crimes committed by enemy aliens against Royal Canadian Air Force personnel who landed in enemy territory during the war...

The Royal Canadian Air Force section of the Canadian War Crimes investigation unit now is functioning in Germany.

Venue of the court of number of cases to be tried will be announced later.

The announcement did not specify what crimes will be charged but it is known some airmen were murdered by enemy civilians or servicemen after landing.

Details of the attacks will be revealed in testimony. The statement said that witnesses will include survivors who saw mishandling of their comrades including one airman who was shot and left for dead.

ACTIVE INTEREST YET SPIRIT OF PATIENT FORBEARANCE IS URGED

H. G. Perry Breaks Away From Speaking "Retreat" to Address Inspiringly Local Club

At a time when the whole world is "looking for light," it is proper that here in Prince Rupert the Chambers of Commerce, the city council, the industrial development committee, the service clubs and like organizations should be trying to get what enlightenment they can as to the future from such responsible authorities as the governments and the railway companies on matters of vital concern.

It was indeed, essential, that they band themselves together to seek from those concerned information and leadership. "We are much concerned in what is to take place now in industries which, in the pressure of the war effort, absorbed our labor. It is right that we should expect to get some light from the higher authorities as to what the future holds for us — the workers and the communities — in such matters as dry dock operation, port developments, Oriental trade, tourist traffic, pulp mill, railway service."

SEES "LIGHT"—H. G. Perry, bright speaker at Gyro Club luncheon during visit to city.

He spoke H. G. Perry, eloquent publisher of Prince George and Prince Rupert newspapers and former British Columbia minister of education, as he emerged from a temporary self-imposed "retreat" from public speaking to address the Prince Rupert Gyro Club. The address took place at yesterday's Gyro luncheon and delighted and inspired club members and guests.

Mr. Perry caught an impromptu inspiration from way-side incidents as he travelled from Prince George to Prince Rupert—the man who had asked for a "light" at the railway station, the boys on the train from overseas who had expressed appreciation for the "light" which had been given them in a talk with reference to their postwar future. "It gave me the idea," he explained, "as I thought about what I should speak to you upon, to entitle my talk—'Give Me a Light.'" From there ensued a treat of reasoned and unadorned thought so typical of Mr. Perry.

Storm Down Coast—

Vancouver Is Snowbound

Heaviest Snowfall in Decade Driven by 40-Mile-an-Hour Gale

NANAIMO — The worst blizzard in more than ten years in the history of lower Vancouver Island almost totally isolated all east coast towns from Duncan to Nanaimo for several hours Wednesday. The storm started at noon Wednesday and raged for six hours, piling up snow to a depth of seven inches by 6 p.m. Driven by a 40-mile gale from the northwest, the storm seriously curtailed all bus and auto traffic as highways were blocked. Two sailings of the Nanaimo-Vancouver steamship service were cancelled. Telephone and telegraph communications were disrupted for a time.

The temperature began to rise at 6 p.m. and the snow was melting rapidly. It was a slushy scene today.

Weather Forecast

North Coast — Moderate to fresh north to northwest winds, decreasing to light tonight and Friday. Fair and cold today and Friday.

YOUTHS SHOOTING AT TELEGRAPH CABLES SEVER COMMUNICATIONS

Heavy Damage Done to Port Edward Military Line—Army Threatens Prosecution

Youths armed with .22 rifles have been causing serious damage to the Canadian Army's communication system between Prince Rupert and Port Edward by shooting holes in the lead-covered cable and army authorities are seriously considering prosecuting anyone found with guns in that area.

Damage to the line, which has occurred on four occasions, according to Sgt. Major E. W. H. Miller of the 9th Area Signal Company, has severed communications between military centres in Prince Rupert and Port Edward, causing considerable trouble in repairing it.

"It has kept a crew of four men busy during the last two weeks," Sgt. Major Miller said.

"If we had to pay civilian repair men it would have cost well over $1,000. We are short of army men, which adds to our difficulties."

The line also connects the Miller Bay Indian hospital with the city. Disclaiming any desire to "cause trouble," Sgt. Major Miller, however, said that if the thing kept up he would see that steps are taken to enforce prosecution of people found shooting guns in the vicinity of the telephone line.

He pointed out that it would not be necessary to actually see a person shooting, at the line to effect a prosecution because the provincial game regulations prohibit shooting on Kaien Island which has been set aside as a game reserve. "If we have to we can prosecute under the game regulations. It will be much more serious if we actually see anyone shooting at the line," he said.

All on Board Are Believed To Have Perished in Crash Near Coleman

CALGARY (CP)—The seven-man crew of an R.C.A.F. Dakota bomber is believed to have perished when the craft struck a mountain Saturday in the Crow's Nest Pass. A witness kept up he would see that steps are taken to enforce prosecution of people found shooting guns in the vicinity of the telephone line.

of smoke led Forestry Service men to the base of an almost inaccessible mountain ten miles from Coleman, Alberta.

They found the charred wreckage of a plane and three bodies so badly burned that they could not be identified. Three southern B. C. men were included in the crew.

Persia

Nobody will dispute the Persian government's decision to submit its case to U.N.O. That the Persian government should have chosen to make use of that right now is the Persian government's affair. It is a decision taken on the Persian government's exclusive responsibility. However, the United Kingdom government, in common with the U.S. and Russian governments, had hoped that a solution of Persia's difficulties might be found by more direct means. It was with that end in view that the United Kingdom and U.S. Foreign Ministers in Moscow put forward the idea of a three-power commission to advise the Persian government concerning the solution of its difficulties.

The reason why no decision was reached on this suggestion in Moscow is that the three powers wished to obtain the Persian government's assent to the plan. The basis of the proposal that an Anglo-Russian-American Commission should be appointed to assist the Persian government to restore normal conditions in Persia has led to recognition of the fact that the presence of foreign troops in Persia has led to certain of the difficulties with which the Persian government was faced and therefore it behooved the three powers which had maintained troops in Persia to help Persia to restore normality. The functions of the proposed commission were firstly to make recommendations with a view to accelerating the withdrawal of foreign troops, secondly to put forward suggestions concerning the establishment of provincial councils in different Persian provinces.

Britain and Refugees

Two important statements have been made by the United Kingdom Government which show Britain's anxiety to do as much as she can within her own country to help those who have suffered in concentration camps in Europe.

The first was the announcement that Britain will admit immediately those survivors of the Nazi camps who have close relatives in Britain able and willing to look after them, "and also other distressed persons who have been in hiding from the Gestapo or for various reasons are especially in need of care."

The other statement refers to naturalization. During the war naturalization was suspended, and the refugees who had settled in Britain were anxious about their future. Naturalization is now to be resumed, and priority is to be given to aliens who have served in the forces, or in science, industry and commerce.

Britain is a very crowded country with a population of 500 per square mile, compared with 44 per square miles in the United States. Yet during the war, Britain has shown her desire to help, whatever the cost. No refugee who reached Britain, even without a visa, was turned back. And in addition to the stream of refugees who came in the usual way, there were many others who entered under various British schemes organized to meet special circumstances.

There are many illustrations of sympathy and help which have been characteristic of Great Britain ever since the Nazis came to power. Estimates published in 1943 showed that the assistance in money or kind, given by private organizations and the individuals in Britain to refugees from German Europe, amounted to £9,500,000 ($38,000,000). In addition, the government helped, not only by giving every facility to the voluntary bodies, but also by providing funds in aid.

Intolerance In Canada

Now that we have succeeded in beating down one of the greatest examples of race intolerance in history—the Nazi system—it is interesting to see that here and there in Canada something is being done to eradicate the same type of thing, says Hamilton Spectator.

Recently Mr. Justice J. Keiller McKay, of the Supreme Court of Ontario, rendered null and void a clause in a deed which stipulated that a certain parcel of land was "not to be sold to Jews or persons of objectionable nationality." The judge said in his ruling that he could find no precise precedents for his decision, but made it on the grounds that such a stipulation was against the broad principles of British Justice.

Then more recently in Toronto, the City Board of Control paused in its business to hear the story of a Negro resident. He said that his son had been refused admission to an ice rink in the city on the grounds of his color. The Negro then apologized for taking up the time of Council, and was told by Mayor Robert Saunders that "I don't know that we have any work more important than trying to overcome things like this." He promised that the matter would be investigated.

Two isolated cases do not make up a trend, but at least it shows that there are persons in authority who are willing to sponsor the principle of tolerance. We have had enough of segregation, of narrow prejudice and discrimination. It works like a slow poison on the minds of men, and the terrifying success of Nazi propaganda should be enough to show how easy it is to make it grow and fester.

Newspaper Audience Constant

The newspaper audience is not only the largest of all audiences . . . it is also a constant audience. There is practically no seasonal variation in the circulation of weekday newspapers. The number of people who buy and read newspapers remains pretty much the same month after month throughout the year.

Just as many people read newspapers in July and August as in February and March . . . because the news is important to everybody every day.

With newspapers the advertiser can reach virtually the same number of people during any month of the year. For the advertiser who has a year-round selling job to do or a message to deliver the newspaper is the most practical and economical medium available.

WOMAN LOGGER IS NO SLOUCH

SUGAR HILL, Tenn., ©—They call Mabel Perry, a champion log-cutter, better even than her husband Eugene, who's no slouch. Full-time loggers, they contract to cut trees in a section, find a nearby roof to shelter them, work the timber for a year or two and then move on. Once Mabel got a job in a factory but, she said, "the work was too hard." When asked what she and her husband did for recreation she replied: "Nothing much. Sometimes we have a race to see which one can get a tree down first. Most times I win."

LETTERBOX

LOCAL FIRE SITUATION

Editor, Daily News,—

An announcement by the CBC news last night of four more deaths by fire in an Ontario town was followed by a statement by a Toronto official that, across the Dominion since last October, 85 people had lost their lives by fire.

This is an unreasonably high loss of human life and calls for some serious reflection on the part of all responsible people.

Few if any of these deaths were caused by what the jurors would term "an act of God." All others died from causes brought on by ignorance, neglect or just straight carelessness.

I know that by far the greatest fire hazard in our city is that caused by the indiscriminate use of electrical appliances in homes and apartments.

Most of our buildings were erected in days when electricity was used for lighting purposes only and a single circuit for a building was then adequate. But with the build-up of electrical home equipment, all of which develop heat and which, it seems, every home must have, the single circuit wiring of former years is not adequate to the load.

True, we fuse our circuits, which will give protection to a direct short, but no fuse is guaranteed against the relatively slow build up of heat by use of equipment, and often wires will burn before the fuse gives way. Only yesterday, a lady told me of a wire which, feeding a small electric stove, a heater, a toaster and the room lighting, became so hot it set fire to the woodwork wherever it touched. The fact is, with such a load, the wire couldn't do anything less.

Many of our buildings are not worth the cost of re-wiring and, where co-operation is not forthcoming, it sometimes becomes necessary to remove the source of supply.

THIS AND THAT

"The doctor said I should do something about this—wonder what he meant by that?"

BRITISH SAVINGS UP DURING WAR

LONDON (Reuters)—Britain's small saver has four times more money than he had before the war, Sir Harold Mackintosh, chairman of the National Savings Committee, said in a statement.

"Before the war the people of this country had deposits at the Post Office and trustee savings banks totalling £750,000,000 ($3,375,000,000). Today deposits are more than three times as large at £2,350,000,000. Savings certificates held before the war were, with interest, worth £500,000,000. Today the value is £1,850,000,000," the statement said.

During six years the small saver has increased his reserves of national savings from £1,250,000,000 to £5,100,000,000—a four-fold increase.

"But we must remember that these savings are potentially dangerous. If they were spent now they would bring on that inflation which their accumulation limited in the past."

THE CHEMIST, of all people, discovered that a tiny explosive charge tucked away in the hollow shank of a special rivet could revolutionize standard riveting practice, saving money and time.

Explosive rivets soon took their place by millions in the planes that helped win back peace in the world. And now, they'll be available to save time and costs in the new things you want . . . things like motor cars, refrigerators, radios and air-conditioning equipment.

This little rivet is a good example of chemistry finding a "better way" and a better product, applying its talents to help manufacturers make better and less expensive products for you.

Black Marketeers Meeting All Ships

Italy's Black Market Begins Where Foreign Ships Drop Anchor

NAPLES ©—Where a foreign ship drops anchor in this once beautiful port—whether half a mile or a mile from shore—that's where Italy's black market begins.

With cries of "Jonnee, bizniz," the ragged, swearing, smiling and imprecating "fishermen" of Naples paddle out from the war-littered shore, shaking fishbuis or lire towards crews and passengers of any ships that drop anchor while waiting for one of the few berths that is not encumbered with a rusting, shattered hulk of a once-Axis ship.

Only minutes after the Liberty ship that was carrying 8,000 tons of wheat for the hungry people of Italy let down its anchors the black marketeers paddled out of an early morning fog and to the side of the ship. Soon a score of them—some barefoot—had clambered aboard.

They darted through the ship, bickering, offering ten to 15 dollars in lire for 60-cent cartons of tax-free cigarets. Haggling became so intense that they were finally driven off ship with fire hoses. They took it stoically, paddling to just out of reach of the nozzles and scurrying away.

Mr. and Mrs. Browne will arrive in Prince Rupert on the Princess Louise on Monday, and a reception will be held at the home of the bride's parents that evening.

KINSMEN NAME COMMITTEES

Active Season Is Anticipated During Year 1946

Anticipating that 1946 will be filled with as much activity, or even more, than was 1945, Prince Rupert Kinsmen Club President William Jarmson last night appointed standing committees at the club's first business meeting of the year.

Proposed projects for the year were referred to the ways and means committee which will report back to the membership at the next meeting. However, it was considered likely that the projects carried out last year will be undertaken again.

These included the May 24 sports celebration, Halloween Shell out, and Christmas seal campaign.

Last night's meeting decided that the club would not act on a proposal by Fire Chief H. T. Lock that the club form a volunteer fire department to supplement the regular city fire department in cases of emergency. That particular project, it was felt, would be more in line with Junior Chamber of Commerce work.

The meeting was attended by 25 members, and guests were Fred Robinson, Vancouver; Earl Gordon, Rupert; Robert G. Moore and Ivan Cameron.

The following committees were appointed by President Jarmson:

Ways and Means—R. E. Montador, chairman; Pierre Le Ross, James Bremner.

Kin Education—Dr. A. Galbraith, Alex Armstrong, Sergeant at Arms—Alex Armstrong.

Entertainment—George Dibb, chairman; Stuart Johnstone, Ray Allen, Bruce Stevens.

Club Historian—Allen Morgan.

Inter-club Relations—Clarence Thomson, Maurice Irving.

Bulletin Editor—Norman Carter.

Publicity—Stan Saville.

House Committee—C. H. Collins.

Membership—The club executive. President William Jarmson, Vice President R. E. Montador, Secretary Harold Munsey, Treasurer Maurice Irving and executive members Allen Morgan, Alex Armstrong and Dr. A. D. Galbraith.

GAS TURBINE JET ENGINES

LONDON (AP)—A British aircraft company has produced the first gas turbine unit in the world to drive a propeller. The company claims that the new engine will give a cruising speed of 300 miles per hour at 20,000 feet. Fuel consumption is comparable to that of a piston engine. About four-fifths of its 2,600 horsepower is used in driving the airscrew and the remainder for jet propulsion.

Samuel Tait Now Greenville Chief

Samuel Tait has been elected chief councillor of the Naas River native village of Greenville for the ensuing year. Councillors are Stephen Wilson, Alex Angus, George Martin, Fred McKay, Leonard Douglas and Jonah Gray. The constables are Henry Aksidan, William Azak, Victor McKay, Gordon McKay, Andrew Robinson and James Leeson.

Religious Concert Is Greatly Enjoyed

KINCOLITH—A strong revival of religious interest is taking place here, aided by a visit from George L. Stewart, Prince Rupert evangelist. Mr. Stewart is a graduate of a Seattle evangelical school and is actively interested in the native people.

Mr. Stewart directed a program of religious songs and music sponsored by the Church Army and the Church Army sisters at the week-end. The Church Army hall was filled and the congregation enjoyed the varied program greatly.

The orchestra which supplied background music for the singers consisted of Arthur Nelson, violin; William Martin, saxophone; George Clayton, saxophone; Hubert Doolan, mandolin; Bennett Clayton, guitar, and Willie Stewart, piano.

PROVES ADEPT TO SHELL WORK

By KATHLEEN REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WOODSTOCK, Ont. ©—While she listens to her favorite radio program Mrs. Edna Davey of Woodstock sits before the family card-table working over delicate shell earrings and brooches which are bringing her fame throughout Ontario.

From as far west as Vancouver and as far south as Los Angeles her friends are setting the fashion with these dainty trinkets. A year ago a nurse at Bataan took time out from war duties to send a note asking Mrs. Davey if she would make her another set of earrings to go with a new off-duty costume.

But shell work is just a hobby with this artistic young woman. Like the average Canadian housewife she has a home, a husband and three young children to look after. She can allow herself only an hour or so a day with her jewelry and often not even that much. Acquaintances who have seen the gaily-colored flowers, brooches and bracelets which Mrs. Davey is turning out claim she is too modest about her work. They feel sure if she went at it commercially soon most of Canada's fashion-conscious women would be begging for shells to match their ensembles.

It may have been her early training as an artist which developed Mrs. Davey's innate sense of color combination. Even the smallest earring she designs is as pleasing to the eye as a good floral painting.

Shells Come From Florida

It was several years ago, during a trip to Florida, that Mrs. Davey first realized the possibilities in the tiny multi-colored shells she saw there. Eventually two years ago a relative began sending them to her.

With her shells, some light glue and lacquer, Mrs. Davey has turned out everything from earrings to bracelets and even ash-trays. The shells are of different sizes from the larger "cup" variety which she makes into the petals of her miniature water lilies to the tiny "baby conch" used as the stems of her flowers. Occasionally she takes them in their natural colors. More often she tints them with the oils she has on hand.

Where does she get her designs? Well, they come mostly from flower magazines and needlepoint patterns but "quite often I just make them up out of my head."

At the present time Mrs. Davey is thinking of turning out something really new in the jewelry line—flowers made of fish scales.

"The scales are harder to work with for they have to be moulded," she said. For two years in every kind of weather she has worn a rose boutonniere which she made entirely from scales. "And would you believe it," she said, "people have actually come up and sniffed at it—thinking it was real."

Make British Women Electrically Minded

LONDON ©—The Electrical Association for Women has inaugurated a trust fund amounting to £4,000 ($18,000) annually for scholarships and travelling exhibitions for British women in electrical housecraft. The fund bears the name of Caroline Haslett, the association's director, who has won an international reputation as a pioneer among British women engineers.

The scholarships are to enable girls of 17 or 18 to train as teachers of electrical housecraft. The travelling exhibitions will be open to women with practical experience of the domestic application of electricity or with wartime experience in the electrical industry.

More than 80,000 women in the forces and a large proportion of 8,000,000 women in industry were working on electrical apparatus. The association anticipates that this trust will make a valuable contribution to the development of United Kingdom—domestic electrical equipment.

HOW CAN I ???

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I keep ice cream hard for about 24 hours?

A. Place in a paper cooking bag, the ends of the bag folded very tightly to keep out the air, and then place in the refrigerator directly on the ice, or in the freezing compartment.

Q. How can I make attractive covers for potted plants?

A. They can be made by cutting covers for the pots from left-over wallpaper, to match the walls. Fasten together with pins and change when soiled.

Q. How can I increase the shine of stove polish?

A. The lustre of the stove polish can be increased by mixing thoroughly with a little cold tea.

THIS AND THAT

The George Matthew Adams Service, Inc.
"She's just doing it to break him of the habit, but he doesn't seem the least bit annoyed!"

"Compensation"

The streets of Prince Rupert are lonely and sad. We miss the people who went like mad, hurrying and scurrying along their way. As though not a minute or a day remained to finish a job begun. A job that meant "a war must be won."

But it's quiet now, this war is won. We've suppressed the Jap and conquered the Hun. That's what we're told by the press. But our trophy is grief and distress—

Grief for a heartbroken mother, distress for the boys who came back. They can't find a place to live in—not a room or even a shack.

A lad I met on a city street just back from overseas, released from a German prison camp where hunger, torture, disease had taken its toll irrespective of body, soul and mind, to him 'twas just a memory he would rather leave behind. They do not talk. You have to guess the torture they endured. For loved ones, home and freedom, these precious gifts "insured."

Against the ever deadly odds of sin and greed and gold, where Mechanism versus Man, and Soul and Body "sold."

"Compensation" . . . does that mean our boys should walk the street? To find a job, or set a room, or "maybe" he should eat. We've lots of gold to win a war. It came from great and small. Where is it now? We need it for the boys who answered the "call."

There are some this war made famous, others very rich. And why should the boy who fought over there come back to dig in a ditch?

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Q. Is it proper for a hostess to rise when a guest is leaving, as well as arriving?

A. Yes, always, and whether the guest is a man or a woman. It is exceedingly discourteous if she does not.

Q. Isn't it proper to date a social letter merely with the figures, such as, 6-19-46?

A. No. The date should be written, June 19, 1946.

Q. What are the foremost indications of a fine character?

A. Kindness, gentleness, sincerity, humility, and a desire to serve others.

Q. Would it be all right to have only a matron-of-honor at a church wedding?

A. Yes, the bride has the privilege of having as many attendants as she wishes.

Q. Is it all right to use either the fingers or the fork to eat asparagus?

A. The fork should be used.

Gyro Party Coming Here In February

A Gyro party of nine from Portland, New Westminster and Vancouver will be in Prince Rupert on the occasion of an official visit to the local club of District Governor Ray Clark of Portland on February 13, the club was advised at its weekly luncheon yesterday. There may also be others from Vancouver and Nanaimo. Those already signifying their intention of coming here are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Clark and Miss Mary Clark and Mr. and Mrs. Otis Anderson of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Williams and Bert Moukton of New Westminster and Clem Macdonald of Vancouver.

KUHN SINGS NEW TUNE

Former German American Bund Leader Pleads Love for U.S. Says He's Through With Politics

By JAMES KING

AUGSBURG, Germany, (AP)—Fritz Kuhn, the former German American Bund leader, is singing a new tune in the fortress prison here where he is being held as a security threat. He has been stripped of his American citizenship and deported as an "undesirable alien." Now virtually a man without a country, Kuhn pleads his love for the United States and stoutly denies that he is anti-semitic, or that he has ever been, and argues that the Bund had no connection with the Nazis. With a shrug, Kuhn admits he can't explain how the Bund happened to adopt the Nazi salute and the swastika nor how it happened to copy the Nazi storm troopers' uniform. Looking fat and fed up, Kuhn has developed a tremendous "persecution complex." "I want to be forgotten," he said. "I'm absolutely through with politics. I only want to be a chemist—my profession—if I can." He works in a dye shop at this old fort once used by Napoleon.

There have been allegations that Kuhn served as a German spy. "Absolutely not," he replied. "How could a man in the lime-light like I was be a spy? Anyway, I've been in prison since 1939."

He said the paid membership in the Bund at its peak was roughly a little more than 12,000. He endeavored to picture himself as a moderate and asserted that "most of the radical Bundists are free and have never been arrested." Saw Hitler Once

Kuhn met Hitler once, in 1936 when he led a party of 300 Bundists and sympathizers to Germany for the Olympic Games. "Ambassador Dodd made arrangements for me to meet Hitler," Kuhn said.

During the trip Kuhn said he met Nazi Labor Minister Robert Ley and some Nazis affiliated with supplying Nazi propaganda to Germans abroad but contended that they were only social visits.

The Auslands Deutschen Institute (Institute for Germans Abroad) in Stuttgart which supplied this propaganda once sent leaflets to the United States, Kuhn recalled, but he claimed he returned them. They sent them back and Kuhn admitted aiding in their distribution.

The only times during the interview that Kuhn showed any fire were at the suggestions that he and the Bund were anti-semitic.

"If you can find on record any reference in my speeches to racial prejudices against the Jews, Catholics or any group, stand me against; the wall and shoot me," he said. Kuhn said he denounced some Jews "but only as individuals." He claimed that some of his best friends were Jewish, a line frequently heard in Germany these days.

Kuhn has no idea what Germany is going to be like now. He has lived in North America—Mexico and the United States—for 22 years since leaving Germany after serving a one year sentence in a Munich jail for larceny.

CERTIFICATES FOR WARDENS

Work of ARP Leaders Is Being Recognized

At a meeting of Civil Defence (ARP) district wardens called by former chief warden J. S. Wilson, certificates issued by the Government of Canada were distributed to district wardens J. E. Boddie, A. J. Dominato and G. P. Tinker. Unable to be present at the time were J. L. MacIntosh and C. W. Wardale but the latter have since obtained the certificates for their workers.

These handsome certificates have been issued to those citizens who enrolled as volunteer workers in the Civil Defence of Canada during the war. The organization was first called the ARP. Not all the certificates have arrived yet and members who do not get them are to give in their names to their district wardens and application will be made to headquarters. Such former workers should also call at the showrooms of the Northern B. C. Power Co. Through the courtesy of J. J. Little, former controller of the Civil Defence Committee for this area, the certificates will be held there for applicants.

The certificates themselves are well worthy of being preserved. The lettering is artistically done in black with the Canadian coat-of-arms and the seal of the Department of Veterans Affairs both done in gold. Signatures on the certificates are those of Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King, Minister of Veterans Affairs Ian Mackenzie, Director of Civil Defence of Canada Alex Ross, and chairman, Provincial Civil Defence Committee, John Hart.

At the meeting Mr. Wilson once again expressed his appreciation of the fine job done by members of the local Civil Defence Corps. The Prince Rupert ARP had established a record that set the standard for the rest of the province. It was here that the first and most successful blackout was held. Mr. Little endorsed the tribute.

SOLAR BLACKOUT

During a total eclipse of the sun, the sun is virtually blocked out because the moon, which comes between the earth and the sun, has no atmosphere to send the sun's rays.

Weather Forecast

WHAT IS HOME WITHOUT A GARDEN?

SCIENCE OKAYS DEEP DIGGING; HINTS ON HOW TO HANDLE SOIL

While spading is the hardest work a home gardener has to do, it can be made easy by doing a little at a time. One hour's work a day will turn over spade depth 1,500 square feet, and leave its owner without even sore muscles.

Why spade? This question has been asked by progressive minded critics, who examine all traditional practices with a skeptical eye. One answer has just been given by tests made at Ohio State College dealing with soil aeration.

These tests showed that to insure maximum plant growth there must be a complete change of the air in the soil, to the depth of eight inches every hour. Compact soil interferes with this exchange; and it is easy to prove that garden soil is compact after a winter of rain and snow.

Spading loosens the soil lets air into it, and leaves it in the best condition for both water and air to enter. Spading also can be used to mix with the soil coarse materials which will improve its condition. Good soil, Ohio State experiments showed, is composed of 25 per cent "pores" containing air, and 25 per cent "pores" containing water, and 50 per cent solid matter.

Heavy clay soil has particles so fine that there are not enough "pores" in it. But it can be made good by mixing one inch of fine cinders or very coarse sand, an inch of manure or a substitute such as compost or peat moss, to four inches of clayey soil. This will give an idea of the quantity of coarse material needed to loosen heavy garden soil. Spread it evenly over the garden and try to mix it evenly with the soil, so that it will create "pores" all through it, and thus improve aeration and also water retention.

To make sure that the soil is turned over a full eight inches deep drive the spade straight down, to get maximum depth. Lift it high enough to enable you to drop the "spit" of soil bottom side up. Take your time about this, working not over an hour a day, and your garden will be ready in a surprisingly short time, with a minimum of sore muscles.

A good way is to mark out the area you intend to work at one time. Then open a trench at one end, depositing the dirt removed from it near the other end of the area. Now lift the soil adjoining the trench, so that a second trench is opened, and the earth from it deposited, bottom up, in the first trench, continue until the day's stint is done, filling in the last trench with soil removed from the first.

Add a sunny velvety pastel tone to your walls and ceilings—let your furnishings appear in a new setting. B-H Fresconette One Coat Velvet Finish offers today's most reliable. One Coat quick-drying, easily applied paint. Let us show you the color card.
