Nation Is Facing Grave Political Crisis While New Republic Is Born

Vetoes Anti-Labor Bill

President Truman Rejects Measure Compelling Men to Work in Peacetime Democracy

WASHINGTON (CP)—President Truman vetoed the Case labor disputes bill today because it "would compel men to work for private employers in a peacetime democracy."

Declaring the measure "strikes at the symptoms and ignores the underlying causes" of work stoppages, the President added: "Strikes against a private employer cannot be ended by legislative decree. Men cannot be forced in a peacetime democracy to work for a private employer under compulsion."

The provisions of the Case Bill included the creation of federal mediation board restrictions against any strike or lockout while the board sought the solution of the dispute. It also prohibited secondary boycotts. The President urged his own emergency strike control plan, and the enactment of his long-stalemate domestic legislative program. The House of Representatives upheld the President's veto, thereby killing the Case measure, at least temporarily.

In Rome 100,000 Republican demonstrators began a march on Viminale Palace, seat of government, to vent discontent at the cabinet's delay in proclaiming an end of the monarchy. Communist, anarchist and socialist banners mingled with the republican tricolor among the marchers.

ROME (CP)—Italy faced one of the gravest political crises in her history today as she tensely celebrated the birth of a new republic and King Humbert tenaciously clung to his tottering throne. Government officials, admitting civil war was a possibility, deployed heavy police and military forces to guard against violence in the greatest display of armed might since the war.

His Death Accidental

This Seems to Be Established in Case of King of Siam

BANGKOK, — There is nothing to indicate that the death of young King Ananda Mahidol, 20-year-old ruler of Siam, who was found dead in the Royal Palace on Sunday with a bullet wound through the head, was anything other than accidental. INTOLERABLE SITUATION

IT IS BAD ENOUGH to have many industries and services of the country tied up or curtailed by a labor-management dispute which has resolved itself down to inconsequential differences but, when food resources are threatened with complete waste and loss, as is the situation in British Columbia today, the matter is getting to an intolerable point.

Certainly public opinion is now being flouted and sympathy is being alienated from the cause of the loggers' union which failed to accept what appeared to be the very reasonable proposals of Chief Justice Sloan.

On the other hand, if the report is in fact that an operating company refused to reopen its plant yesterday when union men offered to work in order to turn out fruit containers in the emergency, there would appear to be an unjustifiable attitude there.

There is also disappointment at the failure of the authorities to find some way of ending the tie-up which, every day longer it lasts, is causing serious loss and inconvenience to the business and progress of the province. The situation is as intolerable as it is inexcusable.

MACKENZIE KING

A MAN largely impelled by a sense of posterity reached the zenith of history-making when he claimed the distinction of being Prime Minister longer than any other Canadian.

William Lyon Mackenzie King has survived many crisis in the rough and tumble of politics and has kept his eyes on his objective. At the same time he has contributed his share to the public that will rate him in future histories with the chief characters in the Canadian story.

At the week-end Mr. King commemorated Victory Day in London at the same time he observed his record as Canadian Prime Minister. He has served a day longer than the previous Canadian record-holder, Sir John A. Macdonald. Mr. King suffered only one defeat in his long years in public life.

Ancient Crockery Dug Up in Forest

BENTLEY, Hampshire, England.—Digging in the forest of Alice Holt, archeologists have unearthed rare specimens of early Roman tableware. Major A. G. Wade, who began the excavations, described the new discoveries as of "first-class archeological and historical importance." "We were digging a trench in the forest when we came across a discarded load of Belgis First Century A.D. pottery. It had been badly fired but was still in a good state of preservation."

"What the world needs is more good neighbours."

"Yes, Frank, there's a whole tangle of troubles to be straightened out all over the world. Makes your head swim to think of it."

"And yer, Jim, most of it springs from one cause . . . suspicion. You and I wouldn't be very good neighbours if we suspected each other of all sorts of skulduggery. Actually, what the world needs is more good neighbours."

"Yes, the life insurance business is a good example. British life insurance companies have had offices in Canada since 1833 and several of our Canadian companies are well known throughout the United Kingdom."

"What about American companies?"

"We found it good business to be good neighbours with the American life insurance companies. We welcome them here. They carry almost one-third of all the life insurance in force in Canada. And our Canadian companies are well liked in the U.S.A. where they do a large and increasing business. As a matter of fact, they are well and favourably known throughout the world. Nearly half the business of the Canadian companies is outside Canada."

Life insurance is truly an international business—a neighbourly business. At home Canadians buy their life insurance as they choose from British or United States or Canadian companies. And our Canadian life insurance companies abroad! Who can assess the value to Canada of the confidence in the Dominion which they have built up over the years in their dealings with tens of thousands of foreign clients and of their services in establishing Canada's reputation for financial integrity and security throughout the world?

A message from the Life Insurance Companies in Canada and their agents.

Aircraft Industry Planned For India

NEW DELHI.—India will have a completely self-sufficient aircraft industry within 20 years, according to a decision made by the government of India. Production will start shortly at Bangalore, where a repair and maintenance factory is already in existence. Planes will be turned out both for the Royal Indian Air Force and for the needs of civilian aviation. It is anticipated that the first aircraft will come out of the factory in less than 18 months. The decision is based on the recommendation of the United Kingdom Aircraft Mission which was invited to India in March, 1946. It has been decided that a special airplane should be manufactured to suit Indian conditions.

Choked Jackal With Bare Hands

CONGOEKRAAL, South Africa — R. W. Newcombe, a 70-year-old farmer who farms here in an area infested with jackals, choked one of these vicious four-legged pests to death with his bare hands. Although Newcombe has shot about 70 jackals, this is the first time one has tackled him. Jackals cause much damage to stock, and while stalking them recently the farmer scooped one near his home. He fired at it with a shot gun, apparently wounding it, and it crept behind a bush. Carrying a stick in one hand and his gun in the other, he approached the bush and as he heard it the jackal charged him. He threw the stick at it but before he could fire the jackal caught him by the leg. Newcombe tried to hit the jackal off with the barrel of his gun and it bit his hands. He threw the gun away, sat on the jackal, choked it and slit its throat with his pocket knife.

FORMER HEAVY CHAMP DEAD

Jack Johnson Fatally Injured In Auto Crash Yesterday

RALEIGH, North Carolina—Jack Johnson, former world's heavyweight boxing champion, was fatally injured yesterday when he reportedly lost control of the car he was driving, causing it to crash into a telephone pole. He was driving with a Negro friend at the time. The accident occurred at Franklinton and Johnson died later in hospital.

Johnson, 68 years of age, won the heavyweight title at Sydney, Australia, in 1908 with a technical knockout over Tommy Burns and held it for seven years until losing it to Jess Willard at Havana in 1915.

Johnson was the first Negro heavyweight champion in history.

RECORD FOR OCEAN TRIPS

Eighty-three-year-old Winnipeg Man To Make Trip

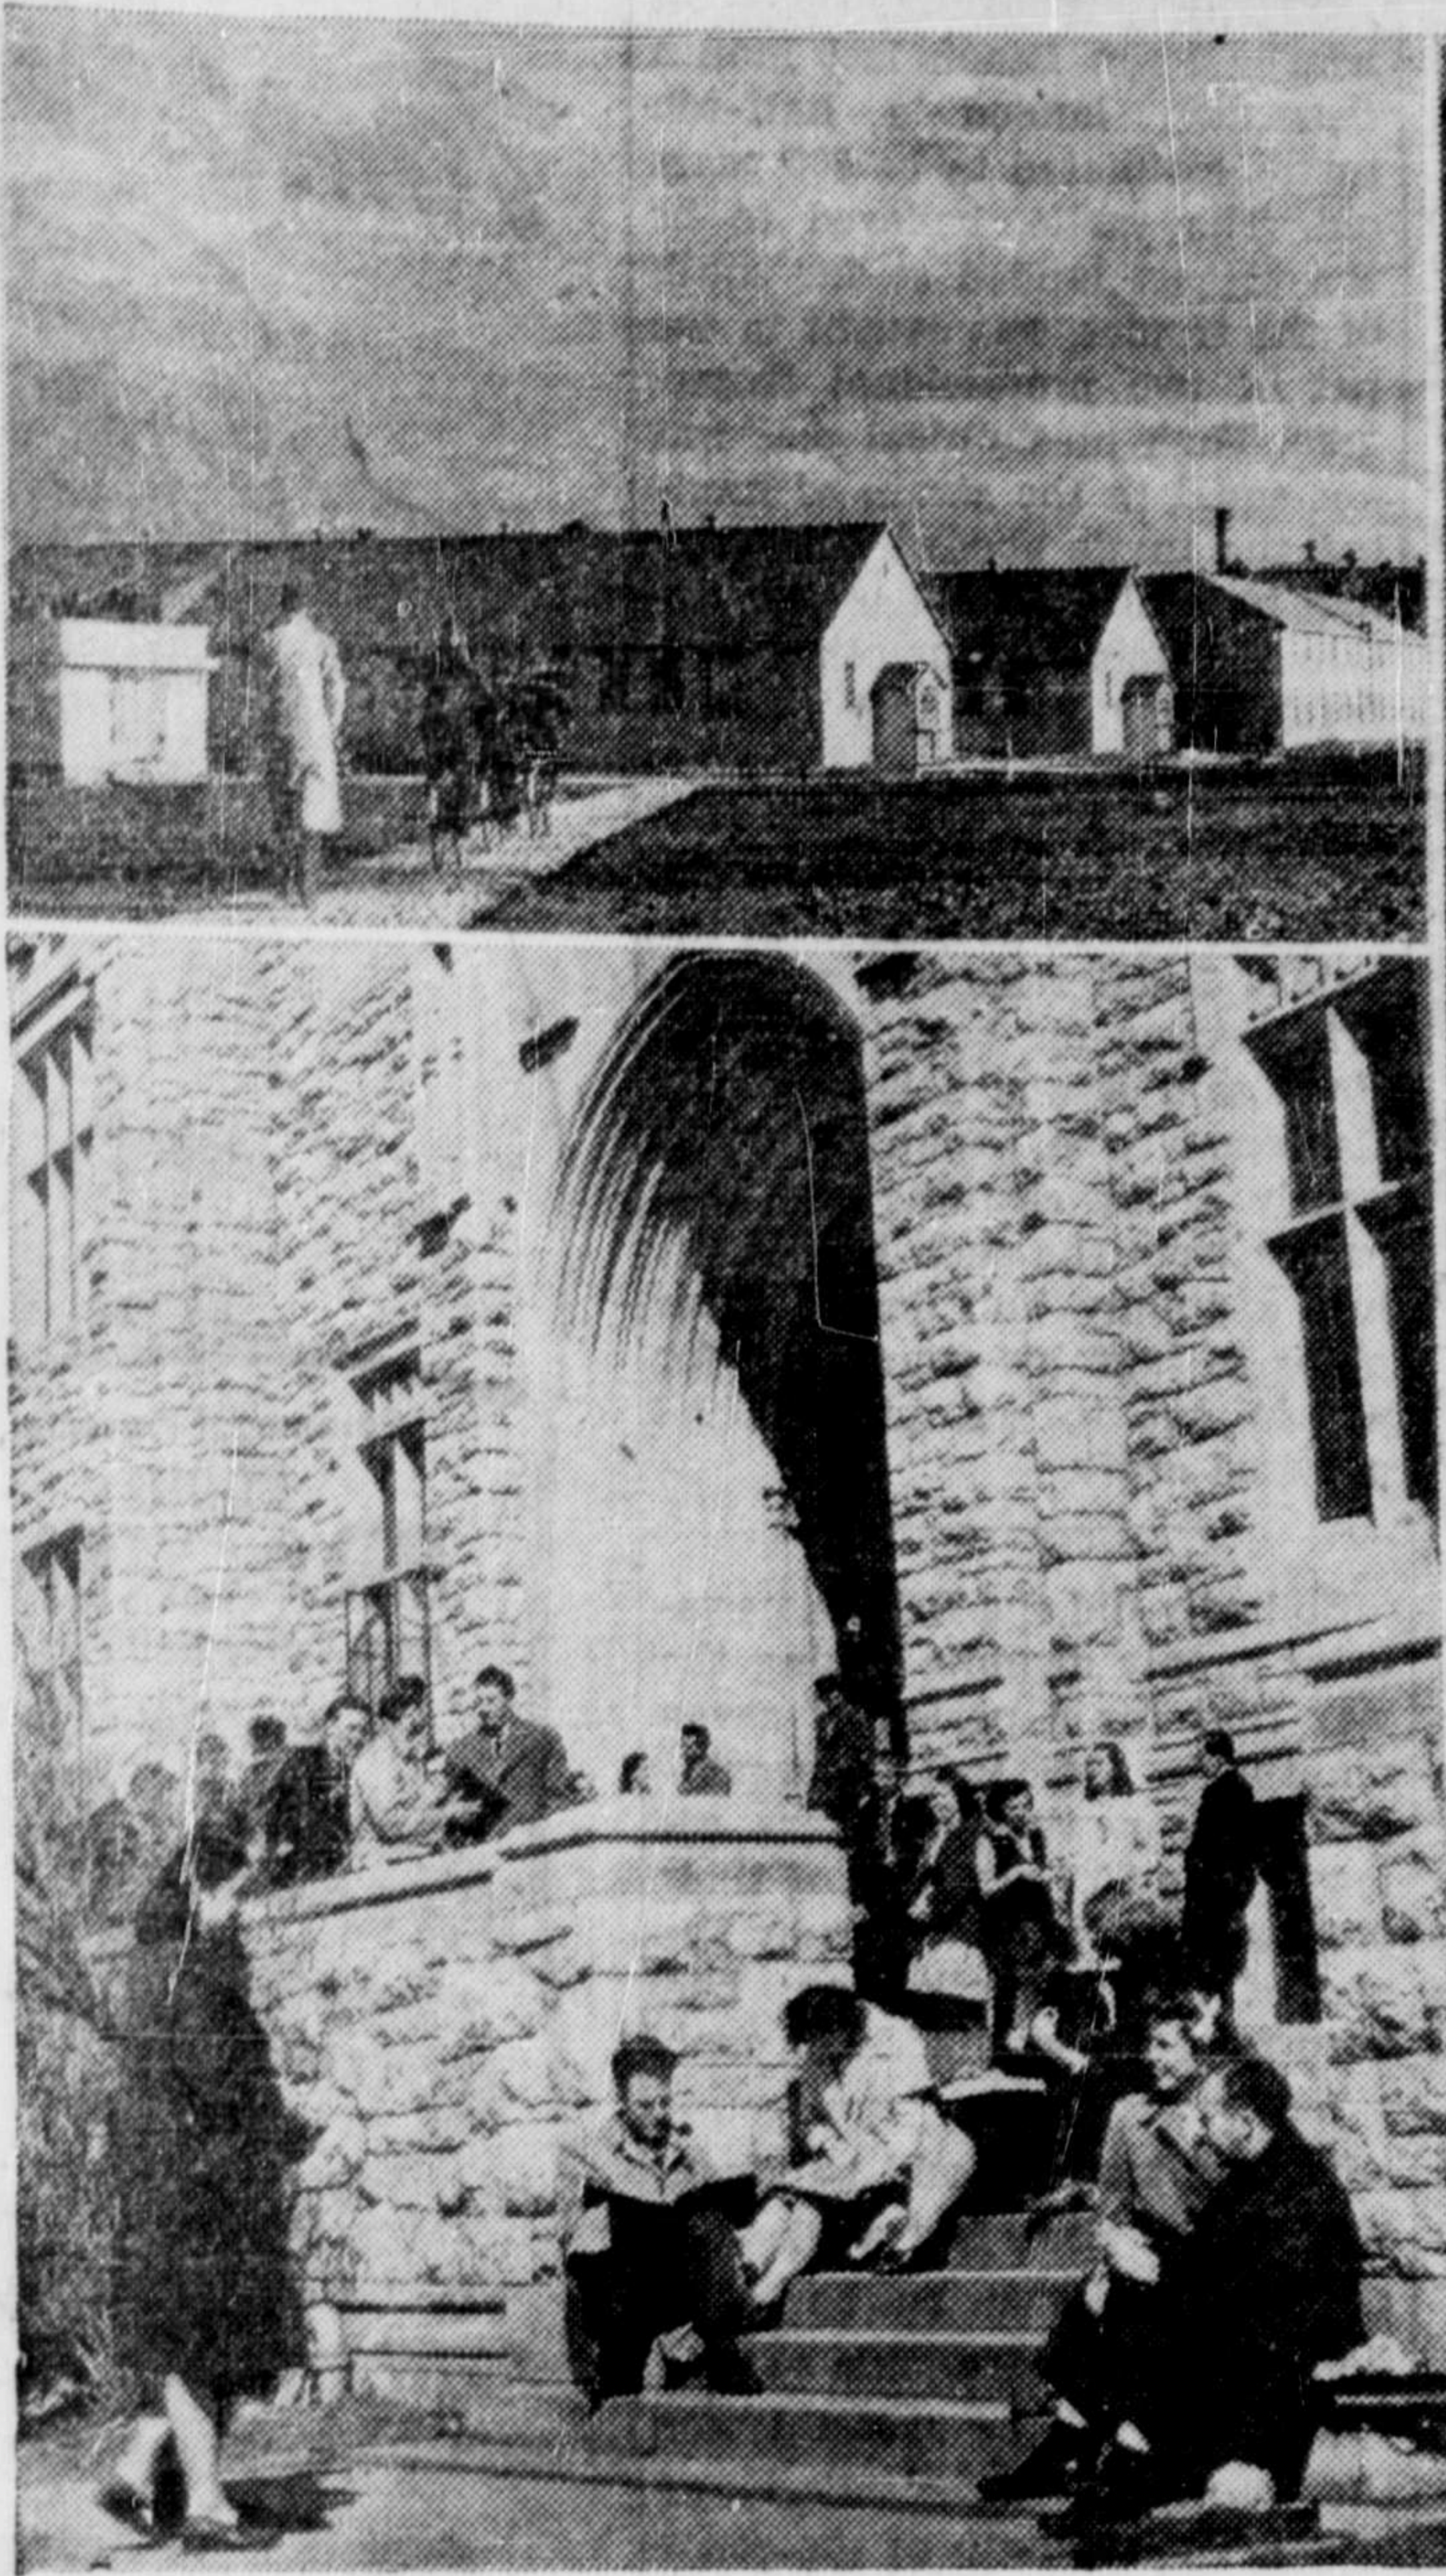

WINNIPEG—For someone not in the transportation business, Robert Johnston, president of the Western Trust Company, Winnipeg, has hung up some of the Canadian record for trans-Atlantic crossings.

Until war came he had 41 crossings to his credit. Wednesday morning he leaves on his forty-second, this time by trans-Canada Air Lines.

Now aged 83 years, it is Mr. Johnston's first trip by air and he is looking forward to the four-hour flight since it will contrast with one trip many years ago when he spent 31 days afloat en route from Canada to the United Kingdom. A real pioneer of the prairies, the octogenarian fledgling came to Miami, Manitoba, from Scotland in 1890. His father was a visitor to Canada in 1879 and recommended the country to young Robert as a land of opportunity if you are willing to work hard.

Mr. Johnston started his career as a farmer and is today the active president of a thriving western company.

Allies to Reward Wartime Inventors

LONDON ©—A Royal Commission is being set up to decide what awards shall be given to inventors for use during the war of their "inventions, designs, drawings or processes" by British and Allied governments.

Later the commission will arrange the procedure for submitting claims. Government employees will not be excluded from compensation for inventions but their contributions will be judged on the same footing as outside work.

American royalty rights on inventions will also be taken into account.

HUNGRY for Cotton

WAR ate up a lot of cotton—in military clothing, tents, tarpaulins, a thousand war uses—millions of yards of fabric, millions of pounds of yarn.

And, of course, war needs had to be served first.

Now that the war is over, it's the civilian market that's hungry for cotton—cotton for sheets and shirts, for dresses and underwear and for dozens of industrial uses.

The gap between supply and demand is world-wide. In Canada, though our mills are doing their utmost, it will take months for the cotton industry to catch up.

WE shall continue to distribute our production on a quota basis, playing no favorites.

PRESS KEPT GOING ALONG

"They Never Failed" is Story of Courageous British Newspaperman During War

By JOHN DAPHNE—Canadian Press Staff Writer
LONDON, ©—Newspaper offices were destroyed or damaged, staffs were cut beyond the danger point and newsprint supplies were only 20 per cent of pre-war quantities—but Britain's provincial press always came out on time.

"They Never Failed" is his story—an 80-page booklet written by Leonard Fletcher, public relations officer of the Newspaper Society. It is a record of achievement, persistence, difficulties overcome, and initiative.

Papers were printed within a few feet of unexploded bombs, under official orders to run the presses slowly to reduce vibration. Offices were wrecked and papers printed in other towns without the readers being told, because of wartime censorship.

These are some examples of war problems and how they were met:

The Exeter Express and Echo, bombed out, published 29 months from an emergency plant in the covered tennis court at the Earl of Devon's seat at Powderham Park, seven miles away.

All four Welsh dailies were produced under one roof when the Western Mail, South Wales Echo and South Wales Evening Post, all out of action through bombing, moved into the Newport plant of the South Wales Evening Argus.

The Coventry Evening Telegraph, smashed in 1941, put its staff to work in nine different offices in four different towns and still is being printed at Nuneaton. The Western Independent moved from Plymouth, badly wounded naval base, to Ivybridge where its power came from an old water-wheel generator and some of its lighting from oil lamps.

Demonstrate Jeep To Tough Customer

JOHANNESBURG, ©—Secure in the approval of most of the world's military authorities, the jeep will be tried on a more finicky type of customer shortly. The national parks board has bought three jeeps for experimental purposes prior to the re-opening of Kruger National Park. If the wild animals in the park don't mind having them around, jeeps will be permitted in the game preserve, which was closed to the public during the war years.

Switzerland Builds Children's Village

TROGEN, Switzerland, ©—Foundations of a village to shelter 350 orphans from various devastated European countries were laid recently on an 11 acre tract near Trogen, in the mountainous eastern part of Switzerland.

The first 15 dwellings will be built in Swiss farm style, surrounded by orchards and pastures. Three to five houses will be grouped to form a community where the children will be instructed by Swiss and foreign teachers.

The children's village was named Pestalozzi, after the famous Swiss educator who died in 1827.

gas and electricity supplies wiped out by air raiders, turned out 20,000 copies of a one-sheet foolscap edition on duplicating machines. The Bristol Daily Press published an emergency one-sheet edition during the height of an enemy attack, the type handset by lamp light in an air raid shelter. The Newcastle Journal and North Mail was printed in old pithead buildings at a Heddon mine, eight miles up the Tyne.

The Luton News, publishing a series of local weeklies, printed up to 1,000,000 copies daily of "Nachrichten fur der Truppe"—"News for the Troops"—the first daily airborne newspaper in the world which was dropped over German lines in Normandy and is credited with many surrenders in the Cherbourg area.

Sailors in "bell bottoms" manned lino-type machines in the Portsmouth Evening News plant, setting type for confidential D-Day documents.

The Newspaper Society, founded in 1836, has a membership of more than 100 daily and 1,000 weekly provincial and London suburban newspapers.

"Those newspapers enjoy a prestige higher than at any other time in their history," writes Sir William Bailey, the Society's wartime president, in an introduction to Mr. Fletcher's booklet.

"The provincial press will be equal to the opportunities and responsibilities of the peace."

WRENETTES IN BOAT PULLING

Sea Cadets Tag Day Was Success—New Equipment

Owing to the holiday and the fact that some had gone camping there was not quite as big a turnout as usual at the weekly parade of the Captain Cook Corps of the Royal Canadian Sea Cadets last evening but the Wrenettes were out in strength and had their first cutter pulling practice. With Lieutenant Commander A. S. Mitchell in charge the girls soon got into the swing and they stroked together well. They did so well that it did not seem possible that it was their first time out.

The results of the Cadet tag day show that the gratifying total of $429.75 was collected. This was taken as a tribute to the good work done by the taggers and an appreciation of the work being done by the Sea Cadet organization. Incidentally this is the fiftieth anniversary of the Navy League in Canada.

Keen competition between the cadets as to which should get the most was shown with Billy Sunberg and Eric Moore collecting over $60 each, only a few cents being between them. They were on the job early and stayed with it. Others were S. Hemmons, V. Tattersall, J. Hemmons, R. Wood, D. Large, Ethel Hemmons, Bruce Mills, F. Eady, J. Hebb, T. Holt, D. Leighton, C. Haugan, M. Sedgwick, H. Weiss, M. Shenton, R. Davies, R. Weiss, A. MacFarlane, E. Toderas, E. Mostad, B. MacFarlane, W. Stacey, R. Overgaard, A. Kimball and H. Mostad.

FISHERMEN LAND ANCIENT TURTLE TODAY

SYDNEY, Australia, ©—At nearby Palm Beach last month fishermen landed a half-ton turtle, estimated to be 200 years old. The turtle, believed to be the biggest landed so far south of the tropics, was caught in the net of two professional fishermen. Their mechanical gear was not equal to the strain of hauling the turtle aboard, and they had to trail it six miles and obtain the help of four other men before they could get it into their boat.

The meat was cut off and sent to the Sydney Fish Market, where it proved popular with the public. Local residents who cut off samples for both soup and steak said it was delicious. The fishermen who caught it spent nearly a day cleaning the barnacles from the shell to make it into a dinghy, and one of them plans to take his young son for a trip out to sea in the improvised craft.

So badly did the British newsprint supply dwindle during the war that for a period of seven months in 1943 British provincial daily newspapers were allowed only 26.7 per cent of their pre-war supply, and even by the end of 1945 the allotment had been raised to only 35.3 per cent.

advanced training will be given. Within the next few weeks the ranking for the various competitions will be decided, upon so that the results will be available for the annual presentation of prizes. The strength of the corps is being maintained with four new members joining the "teacher" division.
