STRIKE ACTION BEING FAVORED

Vote of Packing House Workers Deems It Necessary to Settle Dispute With Two Companies

TORONTO—Preliminary results yesterday showed the majority of members of the United Packing House Workers' of America (U.P.H.W.A.) endorsing possible strike action against two of Canada's three big meat-packing chains—Canada Packers and Burns & Co. Negotiations are still under way between the union and the Swift-Canadian Co. and Mr. Justice S. E. Richards of Winnipeg has been appointed commissioner of the dispute involving Canada Packers and Burns.

The union is seeking a weekly minimum wage of $35.60 for a thirty-seven and a half hour week. Union officials said negotiations with Canada Packers and Burns had collapsed last week.

LABOR POLICY IS CRITICIZED

OTTAWA—M. F. Coldwell, Co-operative Commonwealth Federation leader, urged the government yesterday to "re-move Canada" from the straight-jacket ten cents in which she has been placed and warned that the "great need is both to avoid inflation and serve the people is to produce more and more." He charged that the industrial relations committee had failed "to do what the House expected it to do" and said its report lacked "positive approach to the urgent labor crisis."

John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, in an address last night, said that "inconsistencies of government policy" made any further proceedings of the House of Commons industrial relations committee "worthless insofar as its endeavors to find a basis of settling the steel strike are concerned."

He criticized lack of co-operation of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board and Department of Labor and said settlement of the steel strike now rested on the government's doorstep.

Ultimatum To Yugoslavia Menacing World Peace

WASHINGTON (CP)—The American government's 48-hour ultimatum to Yugoslavia ticked away today with the United States ready, if necessary, for a showdown involving the whole structure of world peace. In a grave and angry indictment, the United States set Friday night as the deadline for the Soviet-backed Balkan state to free the imprisoned American airmen of one plane attacked by Yugoslav fighter planes, and to permit American diplomats to investigate the second incident of an American plane shot down near Tito's summer home.

The United States warned that unless those demands are met by 8 o'clock Friday night (Pacific Standard Time), the United States government "will call upon the Security Council of the United Nations to meet promptly and to take appropriate action."

Meanwhile at Belgrade, Tito summoned his number one foreign relations expert to help formulate a stand on the American ultimatum. The United States this morning reimposed wartime shipping controls on the country's merchant navy in the face of the Yugoslav crisis. In addition, foreign shipping has been ordered to report its movements to coastguard bases in the San Francisco area. The move was made in order to keep track of domestic and foreign ship movements off the American coast.

Canadian naval headquarters said this morning that no similar order has yet been issued by the Canadian government. Meanwhile, no word has come out of the tiny village of Bled on the Czechoslovak-Yugoslav border where the American ambassador to Yugoslavia is conferring with Marshal Tito. An unofficial report by the British news agency Wireless Telegraph stating that the American fliers interned by the Yugoslav government have been released has not been confirmed.

At Washington, top diplomatic authorities reported that the United States is considering fighter plane protection for American transport planes which may pass near the Yugoslav border, flying the Austrian-Italian route. Actual expiration time of the American 48-hour ultimatum is in doubt since it is not known whether the United States gov-

BOAT ACCIDENT TAKES LIFE OF LOCAL ENGINEER

Victim of an accident aboard the fish packer Quathiaski 14, Allan Maughan, 29-year-old Prince Rupert marine engineer, died at 5:45 yesterday afternoon at Gardner Canal a scant few minutes before medical help, which might have saved his life, could get to him by aircraft.

His leg badly mangled when his trousers were caught in the revolving tail shaft of the fish packer, Maughan succumbed shortly before the arrival from Prince Rupert of Dr. L. W. Kergin who made an emergency flight on the Queen Charlotte Airlines flying boat Haida Queen.

Word of the accident was radioed to Prince Rupert by Capt. Chris Nixon of the Quathiaski 14 which was operating along Gardner Canal for B. C. Packers Edmunds and Walker plant here. Maughan was engineer aboard the vessel.

Despite the fact that Dr. L. W. Kergin made the 100-mile flight in less than an hour, he arrived too late to be of help to the injured man. The body was returned to Prince Rupert on the Haida Queen last night.

A resident of Prince Rupert since coming here from Toronto three years ago, Maughan is survived by his widow, Mrs. Heather Maughan, an employee of the Northern B.C. Power Co.

The 50-foot Quathiaski 14, chartered by B.C. Packers, is owned by the McLean brothers, Seal Cove boat builders.

Croner M. M. Stephens said today that an inquest into Maughan's death will be held when the Quathiaski 14 returns from Gardner Canal. The vessel is lying in the inlet awaiting a new engineer.

DEMOCRACY

THE MEANING of Democracy is clear and simple. Abraham Lincoln, among others, expressed it in ten words:

"Government of the people, by the people, for the people."

Webster's dictionary defines it almost just as briefly:

"Government in which the supreme power is retained by the people and exercised either directly or indirectly through a system of representation."

And then it adds succinctly: "Brief in the practice of social equality; absence of snobbery."

It is the belief in the brotherhood of man.

It is the practical application of the Ten Commandments.

It is the knowledge that man cannot live by himself alone but that we must help each other and work together toward happiness, dignity and self-respect.

Democracy gives its citizens not only priceless privileges but imposes upon them duties of behavior and conduct.

In a true democracy there should be no tyrants, no leeches, no grafters.

There should be no room for grafting ward-healers, for overbearing cops, for selfish politicians, for caste-conscious officers and officials, for petty dictatorships and arbitrary directives.

In a Democracy every government employee should be the representative of the people and not of bosses of the people.

In a Democracy every citizen should exercise his right to vote and every one elected to office should consider the violation of his oath of office an act of perjury.

Democracy, in other words, is the principle of live-and-let-live put into practice and the realization that a nation is nothing but the aggregate of its citizens.

That is Democracy—and that's all there is to it.

CHOOSING A LEADER

PRIME MINISTER KING has announced that he will retire from leadership of the Liberal Party at the next federal election. Having held the reins of leadership for 27 years, and being in office now 20 years as First Minister of the Crown, Mr. King feels that he is entitled to a well-earned rest, as indeed he is, for his has been no easy task guiding the ship of state during the past years. It has been a job well done, and he deserves great credit from the Canadian people for the high position Canada holds in the nations of the world.

Much speculation exists regarding the man who will take his place. Approximately a half dozen names loom on top when the leadership question crops up: Hsley, Gardiner, St. Laurent, Chevrier, Abbott, Claxton and Martin.

There are of course several factors that enter into the choice of a leader: Is he popular, dynamic, a good platform man, a good mixer with all classes? Can he hold the trust of Quebec, and the English-speaking provinces? Can he unify the two great races of Canada into a compact, living and vibrant Canadianism? In addition he must have a good grasp of external affairs and a keen sense of Canada's place in the international scene. He should have the confidence and trust of business, industry and labor.

Letters to the Editor

MR. CHEVRIER'S "EXPLANATION"

The Editor,

I read with amazement, as many others must have done, the letter written by Mr. Chevrier, Minister of Transport, in which he gives his "reasons" why the contract for the construction of the new Canadian National coastal steamship should not be awarded the local drydock. I am surprised that there has not been a more widespread and volatile protest, from the citizens generally and from various local committees but probably the minister's "explanation" has left them speechless.

Mr. Chevrier states that letting the contract to the local shipyard would create a "serious unemployment situation" when the job was completed. Did a presumably responsible member of a government ever advance a more ridiculous argument as to why a contract should not be given? If the reason were valid then no contract should ever be let as, on its completion, there would be a cessation of work. We have felt all along that Prince Rupert was not being given a fair deal and this confirms it. It is not only a brush-off but is also an insult to our intelligence. And if it were true, why did Mr. Chevrier not tell us so months, yes even years ago?

Mr. Vaughan stated his belief that the cost of construction here would be 25% higher than elsewhere. We doubt this very much, but if it were true there would be some justification for awarding the contract to the lowest bidder. But if we follow out the "logic" of Mr. Chevrier's "reason" the contract should not be let anywhere.

Mr. Vaughan also said that he thought the people of Prince Rupert should be satisfied with their present rate of progress. Well, we are not, and I hope we never shall be so satisfied as to sit down and not try, and work for further progress.

Mr. Vaughan assures us of the genuine interest of his company in the development of this part of the Dominion. How does he show his interest? By taking off the Prince Henry, and the Prince David, by selling the Prince Charles and the Prince John, and by not replacing the Prince George until more than a year after its destruction? We are looking for evidence of Mr. Vaughan's assurance of company's practical interest in the development of this port and the whole area along the northern branch of the transcontinental railway. We would like visible evidence of the genuine interest of the C. N. system in this part of Canada.

And statements, such as Mr. Chevrier makes, do not give us any confidence in the intention of the government to initiate development of this port or district. It is up to ourselves to continue to press for the development of this part of Canada. If we do not fight for proper consideration, no one else is likely to do so. We who invest our lives and our material and intellectual assets in the area have a right to demand that the government does its share in not only making in the fullest use at present of the already big investment the country has in this district but, even more so, in developing and expanding the resources avail-

The Editorial Director of Britain's National Savings Committee wrote: "Local newspapers go into every home and are read by every member of the family. They play a vital part in the civic, religious, industrial and social life of the nation."

"A people without vision perishes" and a system without vision and courage will perish too.
Mr. Chevrier, we do not like your "explanation."

Gallery Protest In N.Z. Assembly

WELLINGTON, N.Z. — After listening for three days to an acrimonious debate in the New Zealand House of Representatives, W. Julius Hyde, a civil servant, became so incensed that he rose in the public gallery, shouted "God save my country. Here is something for Mr. Skinner (Minister of Lands) to wear," and hurled his Returned Services Association badge to the floor of the House.

C. F. Skinner has been a central figure in the debate, but the interrupter explained after he had been removed by attendants that his action was intended as a public protest against the "rottenness of party politics."

Mr. Hyde was suspended from his post with the state hydro-electric department but the suspension was later lifted. At the last general election he stood for Wellington Central against Prime Minister Peter Fraser, and polled 100 votes, against Mr. Fraser's 6,832.

HOW CAN I ???

By ANNE ASHLEY

- Q. Must boiling water be used for making coffee?
A. Cold water may be used instead of boiling water when making coffee. When cold water is used, heat the beverage only until the boiling point is reached.
- Q. How should cut glass be washed?
A. Wash in hot soap suds. Let the air dry it. Shine with a Turkish towel, as it leaves no lint and serves this purpose better than ordinary toweling.
- Q. How can I give a good polish to unvarnished furniture?
A. By rubbing well with beeswax and turpentine.

Throughout the day the wharves and other points of vantage along the waterfront have been crowded with spectators, testifying to the general interest that Prince Rupert people take in the life of the sea and the men on ships.

The visiting native bands—Greenville and Port Simpson—are alternating in providing lively music on the waterfront.

The regal ship, which took part in the grand parade, was the packer Cape Flattery, gaily decorated and with appropriate banner, with the Port Queen-Elect, Marjorie Wilson, and the maids-of-honor, Chrissie Montgomery and Dorothy Peachey, gracing her bridge and received the plaudits of the great crowds.

DURBAN YOUTHS SHOCK VISITORS

DURBAN, South Africa ©—Two young Capetown women who spent two days in Durban are shocked by the "spooning" that takes place on Durban beaches. "Spoonng in public to the extent to which it seems to be practised in Durban is disgusting," they say. They say that they could not sit in a cafe or walk about the beach without being accosted by young men "making passes" at them. However, Durban's pretty, blond Elvia Johnstone puts it down to Durban's many visitors, and adds, "Maybe it's just plain jealousy. Perhaps they find that Durban's 'Romeos' lack the technique of those in Capetown." A Durban man with a good knowledge of Capetown was of the opinion that the less said about the moral standard observed at some Capetown beach resorts, the better.

Plastic Wood!

SIX INCHES HIGH and carved from wood, Jean-Baptiste began life without a nose when his creator's knife slipped and eliminated that important part of his face. But plastic surgery saved him. His new nose is a product of chemistry. It came out of a tube in the form of C-I-L Plastic Wood; a C-I-L Paint & Varnish Division product for home, hobby and industrial use in healing holes and cracks in wood. C-I-L Plastic Wood comes from "Wood Flour", derived from nature, combined with a chemical bonding agent. The result is a product that "Handles like putty and hardens into wood".

LOST INDIA CITY FOUND

NEW DELHI (AP)—Archaeological finds, believed to be the relics of a civilization which flourished 50,000 years ago, have been discovered in the Narbada Valley in Gujrat and Central India, as a result of excavations conducted by the state authorities of Rajpipla. These remarkable discoveries include the remains of an entire city at Meheshwar in Indore State. This lost city is believed to be the fabled city of Mahismati, capital of the Narbada Kingdom mentioned in ancient Indian epics.

Antiquities such as pottery, terra-cottas, objects, beads, and brick structures found on the surface of the mounds throughout suggest that these sites were deserted during pre-historic times and were never occupied again. In addition, punch-marked coins, ston inscriptions and copper plates found at early historic sites have thrown new light on some hitherto unknown dynasties. These relate to a culture which existed from the early centuries of the Christian era down to the medieval period.

Mohenjo-Daro, another interesting relic of the pre-historic period, was discovered some years ago in Sind. It bears testimony to the fact that India knew the art of town-planning much before the West revived it. It had a number of wide streets, lined on either side with buildings, some of them two storeys high. Burnt bricks were used for building houses, all of which had kitchens and a bath. The sewage system was well-planned, consisting of brick-lined covered drains for the streets. Into them flowed drains from the houses, forming a complete network.

Fashion had its place too. Women used rouge and were fond of bedecking themselves with ornaments. Necklaces, headbands, earrings, nose ornaments, bangles, bracelets and finger rings—Mohenjo-Daro had all these. Embroidry was not unknown. Hand-spun and hand-woven cotton cloth was used. Men usually kept well-trimmed, short beards, but there were other styles too. Razors were in use and the excavations have revealed four different kinds.

Music, dancing and the allied arts were known to the people of the Indus Valley. So were games, which have come down to us through the ages. Some well-made marbles and dice are among the Mohenjo-Daro collections.

The people of these ancient cities were evidently non-vegetarians, fish, mutton and turtles being part of their daily food. As is evident from thousands of engraved tablets, they knew the art of writing. Apart from gold and silver, they had used for copper, tin, bronze and lead.

SHORT SPORT

John Cobb covered a measured mile in the fastest time man had ever travelled on wheels when he covered the distance in 368.85 miles per hour at Bonneville, Utah, seven years ago today. The Briton failed to set a new land speed record when motor trouble prevented him from making the return run required by racing rules.

Both Brooklyn Dodgers and Chicago Cubs were without managers at the finish as the Cubs gained a 6-2 victory five years ago in a turbulent contest in which ebullient Leo (Lippy) Durocher of the Dodgers and Jimmy Wilson of the Cubs suffered banishment after lively discussions with the umpires.

Bobby Pearce, sculling for Australia, defeated the best of the Empire's oarsmen at the British Empire Games at Burlington, Ont., 16 years ago yesterday. He was trailed by two former Diamond Sculls winners, Jack Beresford of England and Joe Wright, Jr., of Toronto. Pearce, who now makes Hamilton his home, turned professional in 1933.

Hammering Henry Armstrong was turned into an anvil by Lou Ambers eight years ago and absorbed possibly the worst beating of his career before outpointing the Herkimer, N. Y., Hurricane for the world's lightweight crown. Armstrong already held the bantam and featherweight titles.

A postponed game in the Mobey Cup football competition was played last evening between the Moose and Grand Terminals with the Terminals winning 2-0. Dickens headed the second goal for the Terminals, the first having been put through by a Moose defender. The play of Percy Tinker at left half for the Moose was a feature of the game.

The play of the Grand Terminals baseball team has been partly due to the work of their new pitcher, Loblic, a university student. Before coming here Loblic had won 30 out of 33 games. He has won both games he has pitched here. There are four games to be played in the local league and Terminals must win three of these to secure a place in the play-offs.

The intermediate football game scheduled between High School and Y-Macs was postponed on account of unfavorable weather.

Worry thrives on concealment of its causes. It usually happens that when the cause is discussed frankly with some trusted person, the load of worry grows much lighter. If it does not disappear altogether.

The combined tennis clubs of the city held a dance at the I.O.D.E. hall when awards for the season's competitions were presented. There were two competitions for which prizes had been given, the City Championships and the Prince Rupert Tennis Club championships. Winners in the City championships were: men's singles (Hellbronner Cup), A. H. Carmichael; ladies' singles ('Tobey Cup'), Miss Caroline Mitchell; men's doubles, R. T. Howard and E. J. Smith; ladies' doubles, Miss Pete Tremayne and Miss Caroline Mitchell; mixed doubles, Miss Pete Tremayne and R. T. Howard. Winners in the Prince Rupert Tennis Championships were: men's singles, R. T. Howard; ladies' singles, Miss Caroline Mitchell; men's doubles, E. W. Marentette and F. E. Robertson; ladies' doubles, Miss Grace Curtin and Miss Caroline Mitchell; mixed doubles, Miss Virginia Riel and E. W. Marentette. Arrangements for the dance were in the capable hands of William Cruickshank, president of the Prince Rupert Tennis Club and E. W. Marentette and A. R. Nichols, with Miss Pete Tremayne in charge of refreshments.

A preacher driving along the road crowded a truck off into the ditch. The truck driver jumped out and began, "Why you x!&$?!", I'll break your "E&X!?" neck."

The preacher responded: "I suppose you are aware that I am a preacher and unable to use such language, but I certainly hope that when you get home your mother runs out from under the porch and bites you."

Viscount Alexander Friendly, Informal On Coast Voyage

By LIEUT. GLYN LEWIS, Public Relations Officer, R.C.N. (R)

ABOARD H.M.C.S. CRESCENT—Canada's new Governor-General, Field Marshal Alexander of Tunis, during these last three days has seen for the first time British Columbia's rugged west coast from the bridge of this 2500-ton destroyer, H.M.C.S. Crescent.

To one of the Empire's most distinguished soldiers, viewing the deeply-indented coastline was described as "magnificent."

For Lady Alexander and the three children as well as the rest of the party, British Columbia provided one of the most interesting phases of travel for the Governor-General's entourage.

But the famed Governor-General didn't spend all of his time above decks on the bridge of this modern fighting ship. Field Marshal Alexander complete with scarlet cap and trim army uniform bedecked with campaign ribbons visited the men in the mess decks. He played cribbage with them and talked with them. And it wasn't an official tour of the ship; the Governor-General was enjoying himself and was getting acquainted with Canadians—in this case, the men of the Royal Canadian Navy.

From the time H.M.C.S. Crescent, under the command of 28-year-old Lt.-Cdr. Pat Nixon, R.C.N., picked up the vice-regal party at Twin Isles where they had been holidaying, the ship proceeded to Ocean Falls. There, the Governor General invested two veterans of the last war. P/O J. F. Oxenbury, R.C.A.F. received the Distinguished Flying Medal; "an air gunner who took part in many attacks against heavily defended and major targets in Germany." Engine Room Artificer Henry A. Gilchrist, R.C.N. (R) received the British Empire Medal "for good services after his ship had been damaged by enemy action in January, 1945."

A night spent in the paper town of Ocean Falls and Crescent with her distinguished passengers was again steaming north at 25 knots.

The only thing Field Marshal Alexander regretted as he viewed the magnificent harbor of Prince Rupert was that he could not stay in the city longer before catching a train for Jasper. He and Lady Alexander took keen interest in many landmarks of B.C.'s most northern city and were interested to know that it had played such an active part in the war effort. But the vice-regal party still had not seen Prince Rupert and they were looking forward to making an extended stopover when they plan their return visit next year. The Alexanders are seeing Canada to all her far-flung corners—and they're enjoying it.

Baby's Teeth Are There Before You Know It

THAT'S true — when baby's born, he actually has all twenty of his first teeth, and four of the permanent ones. They're hidden, of course, and still growing.

Doesn't that emphasize the importance of starting to build fine, sound teeth very, very early? That's where Carnation Milk can be important. It's rich in the bone and tooth building minerals. It's an excellent source of essential vitamin D. It provides all the other food values of good, pasteurized milk. Ask your doctor about a Carnation formula for your baby. And write for a free copy of the fine Carnation book "Your Contented Baby". Address The Carnation Co. Limited, at Toronto or Vancouver.

Governor-General—

standard bearer of Municipal Chapter, was the third member of the I.O.D.E. party.
During their stroll along the wharf from the gangway of H.M.C.S. Crescent to the special cars which waited them at the railway station, the Governor-General and Lady Margaret stopped in at the Canadian Legion W.A. Victory Hut where they were greeted by Mrs. W. F. Robertson and Mrs. W. Rothwell. In the register, which is filled with the names of hundreds of overseas soldiers, the Governor-General placed his signature, "Alexander of Tunis" and immediately, Lady Alexander signed, "Margaret Alexander of Tunis."

The pleasant Lady Margaret, in conversation with the local ladies, expressed appreciation of the impromptu gift and proceeded to enthuse about the beauties of the trip up the coast, the channels and inlets of which she said reminded her of the fjords of Norway. Her first impression of Prince Rupert was, apparently, very pleasing to her.
Sgt. Gomez was also called forward and received congratulations from His Excellency.

The Governor-General, during his drive around the city with the mayor, expressed keen interest in the history of the place. He also was intrigued with such things as the native trees, the names of which he was anxious to know. The brief drive took in Acropolis Hill from which the panorama of the city was viewed and around Westview.

Viscount Alexander indicated his intention of paying an official visit to Prince Rupert next year.

Other members of the vice-regal party included Major-General H. F. G. Letson, secretary to the Governor-General; Miss Bridget Vesey, Lady-in-waiting to Lady Margaret; Capt. W. H. Pope, aide-de-camp; Rose, Brian and Shane Alexander, the Governor-General's three children; and Miss Henrietta Scott, Miss Patricia Simmons and Miss May Turner, attendants.

U.S.-YUGOSLAVIAN CRISIS; DEMAND AIRMEN'S RELEASE

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The United States, in an ultimatum to Yugoslavia, has demanded that the occupants of two American transport planes, forced down by YugoSlav fighter planes while flying from Austria to Italy, be released by 8 p.m. Friday (Pacific Daylight Time), failing which the United States will call upon the security council of the United Nations to take appropriate action. Richard P. Patterson, United States ambassador to Yugoslavia, was to confer with Marshal Tito today in the village of Bied on the YugoSlav-Austrian frontier.
In a note to the YugoSlav government, United States Secretary of State James Byrnes said that, in the bringing down of the planes, force had been used without justification and in contravention of international law.

Expectation was that Tito would be guided by the advice of Russia in his answer to the ultimatum.

At Paris, Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin of Great Britain said relations between Yugoslavia and Great Britain would reach a grave state if Yugoslavia continued its present policy.

Marshal Tito, in a speech published yesterday, defended Yugoslavia's course in which the two American planes were brought down within ten days and declared that his country intended to insist upon its sovereignty. He shouted that Yugoslavia wanted peace but not peace at any price.

Saying that he had witnessed the downing of one of the unarmed American transport planes, Tito denied that the craft was lost in the clouds or was fired upon. However, he admitted that the American plane had been forced to land.

Previous eye-witnesses and official American accounts said the first plane strayed over YugoSlav territory from its course of flight from Vienna, Austria, to Udine, Italy, August 9 and was forced to land after YugoSlav fighter planes wounded one of the passengers.
