ATOMIC BOMB MAY PREVENT WAR NEW GOVERNOR-GENERAL BELIEVES

LONDON (CP)—Canada's next Governor-General had something to say about the atom bomb yesterday. Field Marshal Viscount Alexander expressed the opinion that the coming of the atom bomb might prevent another major war for a long time.

Field Marshal Alexander said his opinion on the atomic bomb probably will be his last expression of opinion as a soldier for a long time.

He does not believe the atomic bomb will replace armies, navies and air forces. He said that the bomb is likely to revolutionize warfare as much as, if not more so, than the discovery of gunpowder.

ASKS FOR RATIONING

UNRRA Director Says Drastic Action Needed to Meet Food Shortage

ATLANTIC CITY — UNRRA director Gen. Herbert Lehman has asked the 47 governments represented in the relief organization to impose resolute, wartime food controls. He told the UNRRA council meeting at Atlantic City that such controls should include the rationing of commodities of which there is a short supply in order to meet the world's peacetime needs.

In opening the debate on the problems UNRRA faces in the coming months, Lehman insisted that voluntary measures are not enough, no matter how energetically they are pursued.

The recommendation for rationing was one of seven which Lehman presented.

B.C. GETS POOR DEAL

VICTORIA, — Opposition Leader Harold Winch, speaking in the budget debate in the legislature, said that, under any federal government proposal made to date at Dominion-provincial conferences, this province would either have to accept a cut in the provincial revenue or go through the unpleasant process of boosting other taxes.

Under the Dominion plan proposed at the last conference, Mr. Winch said, British Columbia would be entitled to $18,000,000 which would be less than that which would be collected if the province had its own taxes.

"British Columbia cannot be asked to accept a lower return from Ottawa because it automatically means a lower standard of government service than people enjoy if they imposed their own approved taxation," he continued.

Mr. Winch said there is no parallel to the case for this province. In all other eight provinces the Dominion proposals would pay the provinces more than they ever derived from their own taxes, he said.

Mr. Winch spoke for more than two and a half hours, covering a wide range of items and criticizing the government for failing to undertake a housing scheme. The Opposition leader compared grants mentioned in the Hart budget with those of the Saskatchewan Socialist government which he said were much higher and of great benefit to the people.

The officer told reporters that garrisons of Sardasht and Baneh in Kurdistan and Saqqiz on the Azerbaijan - Kurdistan border "have been under attack for a week but are holding out." He said that tribesmen from both Iraq and Iran were involved in the action and his agents had reported "strangers who speak a Turk dialect similar to that heard in northern Azerbaijan" were observed among the tribesmen. He estimated that the attackers numbered three thousand.

Meanwhile it was reported at Washington that Iran's formal charge that Russian troops have overstayed their term and Soviet agents were adding to Iranian worries appeared certain to gain attention of the United Nations Organizations security council.

TALKS ON SPY CASE

Minister of Justice St. Laurent Heard for First Time

OTTAWA — Canada's Minister of Justice has made his first comment on the espionage probe. He told the House of Commons last night that "it was never thought until recently that any government in Canada would have to track down spies in its own service. It is hoped that it will never fall on any government to do so again. I hope that if it does there will not be in office a government that will shirk its responsibilities."

For the first time the minister linked with the spy probe the name of the British scientist Dr. A. Nunn May, who is now under detention in Britain.

Fiction Preferred

Premier Drew, of Ontario, recently made a plea for the "honest teaching of history." He is not the first to do so. Nor will he be the last. The honest teaching of history is something that few people, unless they are scientific historians, would appreciate.

All nations in their histories prefer legends to facts. The foreigner, like the absent, is always wrong. They like to think of themselves as nations apart and far above the rest. All the world knows of the crazy history of racial superiority taught in the Nazi schools and the preposterous doctrine of the sun-goddess descent of the emperor inculcated throughout Japan.

But, in fact, every group of people in the world has invented history about itself which is nothing but an exciting to pride and self-esteem. Either it is a nation of conquerors, or an island of saints, or the pure-hearted founders of a new form of democracy, or the heroic revolutionaries who change the world's direction, or the exclusive begotten of a new civilization altogether. Anatole France satirized it all admirably in "Penguin Island," showing how deadly to human intelligence is the romantic school of history which exalts fable above fact. It was Gibbon himself who said that history is little more than "the crimes, follies and misfortunes of mankind."

"To a greater extent than any other medium of communication," newspapers have reported the day-by-day progress of industry, commerce and finance. Newspapers have reconditioned the minds of our people for all significant information on business and finance," states Emil Schraum of the New York Stock Exchange.

Irresponsible Citizens

There are a lot of people in Canada who talk and sometimes act as if their real allegiance is to Russia; that the Soviet is their spiritual and intellectual home — and we don't mean only some avowed Communists who are under Moscow orders.

It is this other group we are even more concerned about — those hundreds of the vaguely well-intentioned, the naive sentimentalists, the people who think it is smart and fashionable to praise nearly everything Russian and to condemn everything Canadian. It is this bunch who imperil us all with their inverted and irresponsible sense of citizenship.

Nearly everybody knows from his own acquaintance examples of this woolly-headed tribe. Only some of them would ever be likely to accept money for aiding any foreign power.

Only a few years ago it was these people who led the chorus of protest against what it called the fascist appeasers. Now it is this same bunch which screamingly protests anything but appeasement of the Soviet.

Canadian public opinion needs to wipe its spectacles and see clearly the difference between maintaining room on the one hand for those who dissent from and wish to reform public policy and on the other protecting itself against the deliberate or unintentional actions of those who imagine their spiritual and intellectual home is elsewhere.

PEACETIME RED CROSS

Harry Breen Urges Everyone to Become Member— Gives Reasons

"The current Red Cross membership drive is not a campaign for money as much as a call for everyone to become a member," it is pointed out by H. A. Breen, secretary of the local branch. At the recent provincial council meeting in Vancouver which Mr. Breen attended, the national commissioner stressed the fact that the occasion of the national membership drive presents the opportunity for the people of Canada to join together in a national peace-time effort for the betterment of every community in Canada.

After its great wartime activities which had included the contribution of $80,000,000 by the people of Canada and the performing of work by women estimated at $50,000,000, peacetime activities of the Red Cross are summarized by Mr. Breen as follows:

"The women's work committees are to be continued as long as there is a definite need for such hand-made articles as layettes, hand knitted socks etc.

"The present blood donor clinics are to be maintained and travelling clinics established so that donations may be received in all communities. The objective of the Red Cross is to have a supply of plasma available for every person in Canada.

"Home Nursing classes are to be continued and extended wherever possible. First Aid classes to be organized in places where no other organization is now doing that work. Swimming and life-saving classes will be held where facilities are available and a Red Cross instructors' course is to be held in Vancouver early this summer.

"An educational program on proper nutrition forms one of the post-war activities and a centre contemplating this work should get in touch with the nutrition expert at Divisional Headquarters.

"Junior Red Cross will continue to be a major activity. There are now 876,000 Junior members in 30,000 branches. It was suggested that each senior branch appoint a member to act as liaison officer between the junior and senior branches. Commissioner Roudy paid a fitting tribute to the school teachers in Canada for their work with the juniors.

"It will be the duty of the branches to assist in supplying surgical appliances, dentures, glasses, etc. to needy veterans whose cases are not covered by the Department of Veterans' Affairs, and to give whatever assistance possible to the wives and families of service men and ex-service men of both wars.

"Red Cross lodges are being built and maintained close to veterans' hospitals for the purpose of providing recreational facilities to patients and accommodation for next-of-kin when visiting their relatives in hospital. Financial assistance will be given by the Red Cross to assist next-of-kin to visit patients in case of dangerous illness if such assistance is necessary.

"Outpost hospitals are now maintained at McBride, Bamfield, Cecil Lake and Kyoquot and medical aid centres at Medicine Creek, Dease Lake, Clearwater, Alice Arm, Fort St. James, North Bridge Lake, Jesmond and Pemberton. LOCALLY-BORN CHILDREN ARE U.S. CITIZENS

Gerald George Madill, aged 4, and Sandra Jewell Madill, two children of Mr. and Mrs. George Madill, formerly of Prince Rupert, had the distinction in a Seattle naturalization court recently of being the youngest persons ever to be naturalized in a court in that city. The children, both of whom were born here, took their oaths with a number of foreign-born men and women.

Mrs. Madill is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peero of Prince Rupert and was born in Skagway. Mr. Madill, who was identified with the Family Shoe Store here before the war, served throughout the conflict and rose from non-commissioned rank to that of captain. He is now in the service of a Seattle department store.

FIGHTING OF JONES BILL

The long standing agitation in Western Canada and Alaska against the Jones Act is expected to spread to continental United States as the effects of the Act become felt on tourist travel. Representative Jones' unpopular legislation as now interpreted, forbids the transport by Canadian ships of cargo destined for Alaska ports which originates in United States territory. This might have a definite adverse effect on tourist travel to Alaska over the Prince Rupert Highway which otherwise might be expected to carry a large number of American motorists to Prince Rupert where they would expect to ship their cars to Alaska, possibly to complete their tour by returning over the Alaska Highway.

Ordinarily, such American tourists would travel to Prince

WHAT Prince Rupert Needs

(The Tenth of a series of suggestions by readers of the Daily News for the betterment of this city).

Here is an idea that worked splendidly in the early days of 1911—the establishment of a "Publicity Bureau" open all day to give information to visitors, tourists, and enquiries by mail. Such a bureau should be located in a special building on Second or Third Ave. (some American building would suit the purpose).

In that building should be exhibited samples of all products of the district like:

Gold, silver, copper, iron, clay, marble, limestone, brimstone, coal, etc.

Rupert by road, then ship their cars on Canadian National or Canadian Pacific boats to Ketcheman, Skagway or other ports

Forest products, agricultural products.

Pictures of the various fresh and salt water fish and game.

A large map of the district showing the location of the exhibits.

Pamphlets giving all information possible about the district, with proper illustration of points of interest or special importance for distribution to the visitors.

A permanent attendant able to give all information required, or suggest possible openings for business, like cooperage, plastics, engine manufacturing, elevator screenings etc.

This establishment could be in the same building as the museum and run by a permanent attendant.

OLD-TIME textile artisans owned their own tools — a spinning wheel, a hand loom. But when power machinery was invented, these private craftsmen could no longer produce enough. As machines became bigger, faster, more expensive, no one man by himself could buy enough machinery to keep up. So "companies" were formed to provide the tools of whole towns like Magog in Quebec.

In Canada, the Dominion Textile Company has consistently put money back into its plants to buy better machinery for its workers, so that today there is thousands of dollars worth of equipment back of every employee. In fact, now this Company has over $6,000 worth of "tools" in the form of buildings, productive machinery, power plant and working capital for each of its employees.

Dominion Textile workers are now busy turning out the many things that are so badly needed for our peacetime living. As long as the present tremendous demands and relative shortages exist, we shall go on distributing our production on a quota basis, playing no favourites.

Rhubarb is Good Spring Tonic; Has Many Interesting Uses

RHUBARB—With the coming of spring, everyone experiences that dragged out, listless feeling they call spring fever. To correct this condition, spring brings along her own remedies. Rhubarb is one of the earliest of these spring tonics. It imparts the needed color, tang and zest to so many appetizing dishes. Rhubarb makes a real contribution to spring menus and should be used frequently.

Long ago rhubarb grew wild in parts of Europe and Asia. Then about 150 years ago some enterprising person brought it to America. Here it was discovered that the stalks of this plant made delicious pies, and for that reason it was commonly known as "pie plant."

Nowadays, though, rhubarb is used in many tempting spring-time desserts, as whips, chiffon pies, upside-down cakes, short-cakes and sherbets. The early hothouse rhubarb is usually a delicate pink, while the later garden varieties vary from dark red to green. Usually more color means better flavor.

When purchasing rhubarb, the stalks should be fresh, firm, crisp and tender. Wilted, flabby stalks may be stringy and of poor flavor when cooked. Do not skin rhubarb, it not only gives color, but helps to retain the shape.

For a quick, ready-made dessert serve rhubarb sauce with hot tea biscuits or muffins. Home economists repeat their most popular rhubarb recipes which will no doubt become your favorites also.

summer Section, Dominion Department of Agriculture, repeat their most popular rhubarb recipes which will no doubt become your favorites also.

Rhubarb Sauce

Wipe rhubarb and cut into 1-inch lengths. Measure, then cover with boiling water and let stand 5 minutes. Drain and cook without water until tender, in the top of a double boiler. Add two tablespoons sugar for each cup of uncooked rhubarb and stir gently until sugar is dissolved.

If carefully watched, rhubarb may be cooked over direct "low" heat.

Rhubarb Whip

1 1/2 tablespoons gelatin
1/4 cup cold water
2 cups hot, stewed, sweetened rhubarb
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 egg whites
Pinch of salt

Soak gelatin in cold water for 5 minutes. Add to hot rhubarb and stir until dissolved. Add lemon juice. Beat egg whites with salt until stiff, but not dry. Add the jelled mixture and continue to heat. Turn into one large or several individual moulds and chill. Serve with custard sauce made from the two egg yolks. Six servings.

Rhubarb Raisin Upside-Down Cake

2 tablespoons mild-flavored fat (melted)
1/2 cup sugar
2 cups cut rhubarb
1/2 cup raisins
Four boiling water over rhubarb

The Experts Say - -

SAVORY STEW—"What is so good on a blustery night, as a savory stew that's seasoned just right?" A good stew no longer exists under a cloud of abuse and scorn as something mother makes on wash day because it doesn't require any special care. While it takes only a fair amount of skill to turn out a well-cooked stew, a mouth-watering stew, rich in flavor, filled with tender crisp vegetables and juicy cubes of meat, requires a real knowledge of cookery. Home economists say that, whether you prefer light or dark stew, the seasoning is important. A bit of spice or herb added to a stew lifts it out of the ordinary. Parsley, bay leaf, cloves, thyme, celery leaves, pepper corns or chili powder are just a few suggestions that you might try. The chief difference between a brown and a light stew is that the meat is dredged with flour and browned in hot fat when making a brown stew, while the flouring and browning are omitted in a light stew. To obtain that rich brown that doesn't disappear from the meat as the stew cooks, brown the meat slowly. To get those tender, crisp vegetables in place of the soggy, over-cooked kind don't add any of the vegetables to the stew too soon. If you have vegetables such as carrots, potatoes and turnips which require different cooking times, add each one to the stew allowing time for it to cook to just the right degree, but no longer. Some people prefer to cook their vegetables partially apart from the stew and add them five or 10 minutes before serving, to allow the flavors to blend.

VEAL CREOLE—This is one of the recipes recommended for use in March and it differs from the usual stew since it contains spaghetti. But it is a stick-to-the-ribs type of main dish that will soon be listed among the family favorites. To make Veal Creole you will require two pounds of veal (shoulder or other cut suitable for stewing), flour, two onions, one cup of diced celery, one cup uncooked spaghetti, broken into pieces, two cups of water, two cups of tomato juice, salt and pepper to taste. Wipe the veal and remove the fat. Cut veal into 1 1/2-inch cubes. Roll meat in flour, brown meat and onion slowly in the fat taken from the meat. Add water. Bring to boiling point and simmer 1/2 hour. Add remaining ingredients and season. Simmer one hour longer. Thicken with a paste made of flour and water. This makes six servings.

SHOP IN MENUS — You can help yourself to health and energy if you eat the right foods to keep fit. Whenever you eat in restaurants be a good shopper. Don't fill up on one line of food and miss eating green vegetables, fruit or milk. Don't let your food dislikes keep you from a round-up of all the foods you need.

BRIGHT SHOW OF WOOLLENS

LONDON—The woollen industry of Wales, sadly crippled when women ceased wearing flannel petticoats, shows it has recovered much of its vigor with a display of bright-colored checked blankets, honeycomb weave quilts and traditional flannels which were on show at the International Wool Secretariat here.

Nearly all had an air of individuality and freshness of color probably because the industry is still confined to small mills and factories. Many of the exhibits were handwoven and most of the wool was from local sheep.

The rugs and blankets were in a variety of mixed, rich colors with one spectacular one in peacock blue with an orange and black design. The honeycomb weave quilts were generally pink and white or blue and white while some of the Welsh flannels were in the traditional black and red stripes or checks used for the Welsh national costumes. Others were plain with a natural yarn spun with the colored threads giving flecked shades.

Lady Megan Lloyd George, in opening the exhibition, gave some background on this oldest of Welsh industries, its decline and hopes for the future. She said the Welsh woollen industry existed in the 11th and 12th centuries as a domestic craft and later on all parts of Wales had their own little industry and could cater not only for local needs but also had a surplus to export.

"But when," Lady Megan said,

"the pink flannel petticoats way to artificial silk the industry began to decline rapidly. Wales did not take advantage of the new machinery inventions, one reason was did not have the capital sources to do so and another small scattered units that try died out."

Today Wales can produce more than she requires for herself but the quality of the materials produced is high with the great demand for export trade the Welsh woollen industry hopes to obtain the help to reorganize to meet modern demands.

"STATE FAIR" SHOWS HERE

Delightful Musical Picture Coming to Capitol Theatre This Week-end

"State Fair," Technicolor production of a popular novel, is an outstanding attraction at the Capitol Theatre this week-end—Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Four of the screen's most brilliant young stars—Dana Andrews, Jeanne Crain, Dick

Gas 2, Lieut. J. Davidson. Members of the advanced class as well as the basic class will bring their respirators.

There will be a 22 range shoot at the miniature range Saturday at 1930 hrs. Those attending parade at Armories.

Haymes and Vivian Blaine have top roles and are backed with a fine supporting cast including Charles Winninger, Fay Bainter, Donald Meek, Frank McHugh, Percy Kilbride and Henry Morgan.

"State Fair" tells of the richly human, radiantly joyous adventures of a mid-West family during one enchanted and hectic week at the fair—a week on which they had pinned their fondest dreams of glory and romance. How they each realized their goal makes for a grand, heart-warming story packed with robust humor and thrilling romance throughout.

Hammerstein "State Fair" songs have been of every hit parade for a long time. "It Might as Well Be Spring," "That's For Me," "It's a Grand Night for Singing" and "All I owe Iowa," are among them.

Hockey Play-offs—CANADIENS AND BRUINS DRAW FIRST BLOOD IN STANLEY CUP

MONTREAL (CP)—The Canadiens and the Bruins, as expected, drew first blood in their semi-final Stanley Cup rounds. At Montreal last night, the Canadiens whipped the Black Hawks 6-2 while the Bruins were trimming the Red Wings in Boston 3-1 before a sell-out crowd of nearly 14,000. Slightly more than 12,000 watched the Canadian-Hawk battle.

Dutch Hiller sparked the Canadian attack with two goals. Elmer Lach, Billy Reay, Toe Blake and Maurice Richard scored the other four goals. Both Chicago goals were scored when the Canadiens were playing a man short. George Gee and Bill Mosenko were the scorers for them.

In the Boston-Detroit game, the Bruins' goals were bagged by Pat Egan, Bill Shill and Bap Guidolin. Detroit's lone counter was racked up by Harry Watson. The second game of the best-of-seven series will be played tomorrow night.

SHORT SPORT

Boston nosed New York Rangers out of a Stanley Cup play-off berth 10 years ago tonight. Deadlocked with Rangers in a third-place tie and with a game to play, Boston went ahead by holding Toronto Leafs to a 2-2 draw. It was the first time Rangers missed the series since entering the National Hockey League in 1925.

Boston Bruins' defensive trio, goalie Tiny Thompson and defencemen Eddie Shore and Babe Siebert, were placed on the sixth annual Canadian Press All-Star National Hockey League team eight years ago, the first time any team rearguard had received such unanimous acclaim.

BO-ME-HI CLIPS SAVOY TEAM FOR 67-49 VICTORY

Two top-place intermediate teams battled for dominance on the basketball floor at the armory last night and Bo-Me-Hi emerged victorious over Savoys with a score 67-49. In the second intermediate game Co-op downed Macey's 34-31 in overtime and, in the junior league, Junior High defeated Gyro 24-18.

Showing one of their best performances of the season, Bo-Me-Hi maintained a lead over Savoys from the start of the game, arriving at half time on the long end of a 25-20 score. In the second half, the students tore away on a scoring spree which netted them 42 points. Reg. Lavigne added to the color of the game by some fancy shooting.

High scorer for Bo-Me-Hi was Mel Thompson who tallied up 20 points. Joe Davis of Savoys garnered 18. Hartwig and Lavigne of Bo-Me-Hi scored 15 and 10 respectively.

In a session that went into overtime, Co-op eked out a 34-31 win over Macey's after Macey's had led the play through the greater part of the game. Co-op put on a spurt late in the game which tied the score at 22-22 at the end of the fourth quarter. The overtime showed furious scoring by both teams.

Top marksmen were Bob Menzies of Macey's, Boyo Gurvich of Co-op, both with 12 points. In the evening's opener, Junior High recovered from a slump to edge out Gyros 24-18. Wally Wong of Junior High sparked his team and led the scoring with a total of 8 points.

The scoring:
Bo-Me-Hi—Forman 6; F. James 14; D. Hartwig 15; M. Thompson 20; R. Lavigne 10; J. James; E. Ciccone.
Savoys—Davis 18; M. Holkestad 8; Arney 15; Alexander; Haugan 4; Leland 2; Eby 2.
Co-op—Gurvich 12; Viereck 8; Johnson; Peterson 8; Menzies 2; Sharpe; Shepherd 4; Nordgaard.
Macey's—R. Holkestad 2; Murray 4; Menzies 12; Haugan 11; Teng 2; Arnsten; Olafson; Pierce.
Junior High—Forman; James; Boulter 6; Lien 4; Wong 8; Carlson 4; Scharif; Davies; Eldsvick.
Gyro—Sunberg; Moore 2; Hauran 6; Pierce 4; Laarie 2; Forbes 2; Mostad; Shier 2.

ARRANGING FOR DAVIS CUP PLAY

MELBOURNE—The preliminary round of the Davis Cup competition between Canada and Mexico must be played by June 17. The winner meets the winner of United States and Philippines series. The series between the two winners must be concluded by July 1 and the victor must be ready to play the representative of the Pacific section by July 22.

Gregalach Wins At Tropical Park

MIAMI—One of the winter-book favorites for the Kentucky Derby, Calumet Farm's High Shine, went down to defeat yesterday before the Canadian-owned Gregalach, in the six-furlong feature race at Tropical Park in Miami. Gregalach, owned by R. S. McLaughlin of Oshawa, came booming through the stretch to whip the Calumet colt by two lengths. High Shine was an odds-on favorite and had the lead briefly in the stretch. Gregalach, ineligible for the Derby, paid $11.

Geese Stop Again At Bird Sanctuary

KINGSVILLE, Ont. (P)—Migration of Canada Geese northward has begun with the arrival recently of several thousand of the birds at the Jack Miner Bird Sanctuary here. Height of the migratory period will be the first week in April. A number of the birds examined wore bands placed on them by the late Jack Miner several years ago. Several organizations from the United States will visit the sanctuary in April to study the work done there.

SHIP MINK TO EUROPE

WINNIPEG—Indicating that Europe is making a start in rebuilding her fur business out of the ruins of war, the first shipment of live mink from this continent to Holland in six years was made today from Winnipeg. Thirty of the animals, worth more than $5,000 were shipped over Canadian National lines, bound for Rotterdam, via New York.

The shipment was made by Morley B. Pitt, owner of a mink farm at Charleswood, Man., to

H. Bos, Nunspeet, Holland. Hundreds more mink and a large number of fox are expected to be shipped shortly to Europe where many owners of farms turned their fur-bearing animals loose after invasion by German forces rather than see them starve or fall into the hands of the enemy.

The mink are all females and were bred prior to shipment because the high quality mink of Europe have either been destroyed or the animals suffer so from malnutrition that the breeding stock is exceptionally low.

gates were specially constructed for the animals for the 23-day land and ocean trip. Larger nesting compartments were installed along with tightly secured drinking cups and other feeding conveniences. Enroute they will eat horse and rabbit meat or fish and it is expected that 80 per cent of their diet in Holland will be composed of fish because of the scarcity of meat.

R. Pitt explains that the original agreement called for the sale of 25 mink but, being unable to secure insurance on the animals due to present ocean shipping facilities, he "wrote his own insurance by shipping five extra mink."

The new owner will not only pay for the 25 mink but all those over and above that arrive safely.

The mink consist of 24 standard dark, 3 silver sables, 2 black cross and one pure white.

HOW CAN I ???

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I clean white window shades?

A. Unroll the shade and spread on a sheet on the floor. Scrub with a soft cloth dipped in magnesia and water. Treat both sides in the same way. Allow the shade to remain on the sheet until dry.

Q. How can I steam wrinkles out of garments?

A. By hanging them in the bathroom, as near as possible to the hot-water faucet, turning on the water and letting the room fill with steam.

Q. How can I keep the legs of chairs and the ends of rockers from scratching the floors and baseboards?

A. Cut small pieces of leather from old shoes and glue to the chair legs and rockers.

BIG DIAMOND YEAR COMING

South Africa's Mines to be Worked to Full Capacity

JOHANNESBURG, C.—A new record in 1946 for the South African diamond industry, which last year produced approximately $108,000,000, is predicted by authoritative sources in the Union's second largest mineral interest.

The estimate for 1945 was $4,000,000 more than the previous peak in 1943, and the outlook for diamonds is considered to be better at the moment than for several years.

Extension of international diamond agreements for a further five years has stabilized the diamond industry and South African mines will be worked to full capacity with the assurance that everything they produce will find a market.

Sir Ernest Oppenheimer, mine director, said recently there is no intention of departing from the war-time policy of the Diamond Trading Company of keeping prices for diamonds slightly below the index of general commodity prices in the United States, Britain and South Africa.

"No exploitation" policy is envisioned to try to meet the present boom in diamond demand although the Premier Mine near Pretoria and the Jagersfontein deposits near Kimberley may soon be brought into production again. The demand will, apparently, still exceed the supply.

Speculative Demand

In diamond shares, as in gold, there is a big speculative demand in South Africa, with the small buyer playing a considerable part in the market. The marketing side of the diamond industry is being put on a new footing. The Diamond

Trading Company will still handle all sales of gemstones in the rough (possibly about £16,000,000 a year at current prices from all sources in South Africa, present and potential) but a new company is being formed to handle sales of industrial diamonds. Detailed figures of employment on all South African diamond fields are not readily available. But the general manager of the De Beer's Company Kimberley gives figures which indicate the trend of development. During 1939 De Beer's employed 1,058 Europeans and 1,100 natives compared with 1945. Kimberley will give no authoritative report on the prospects of the diamond industry, but it is thought there is good employment figures and a good augury for the industry expansion.

WHATS DOING AT PRINCE RUPERT RECREATION COUNCIL GYMS

BY JIM NAST

RUP REC SHOW — The big Rup-Rec show, which delighted so many enthusiastic children and teen-agers last week, will be staged again tonight for the benefit of the mothers and fathers, older brothers and sisters. It is hoped to have all the features that made the first show so successful such as expert mat tumbling, feats of skill on the parallel bars, gymnastics demonstrating precision and the harmonious co-ordination of mind and muscles. The same neat little chorines will tap out a fast number with their clever feet. There will, of course, be Bobo! What looked like a minor tragedy occurred in the program when five of the small girls, who performed so well in the junior girls' act, came down with chickenpox. These five little girls are going to be badly missed. However, another aggregation is swiftly being whipped into shape to take their places. The climax of the show will be the diploma presentation by Mayor Daggett. His Worship has kindly agreed to award these certificates to the leaders of Rup-Rec, those energetic and persevering young people who worked away under difficulties for many weeks. They earned their diplomas at the end of last November when the leaders' training course was completed.

WHAT'S ON TONIGHT? Why, the Rup-Rec Show, of course. And what else? A girls' class from 6 to 7 p.m. in the Civic Centre gymnasium.
