MANUFACTURING INDUSTRY ORGANIZED LOCAL INITIATIVE

Determined to take the leadership itself in a move to industry on a substantial scale in Prince Rupert, Industrial Development Committee, at a meeting last night, resolved to dig its teeth in the organization of a veneer manufacturing plant here. A preliminary survey of the project has already been initiated and is to be a full report at the first meeting of the Committee in the New Year. It is proposed to institute a drive to raise capital for the project which is considered an "sure thing" for Prince Rupert.

A decision along this line was the principal item of discussion at last night's meeting over which Mayor H. M. Daggett presided with James Nicoll, A. T. Crawley and J. S. Black.

ATTLEE MEETS MOSLEM HEADS

LONDON — Prime Minister Attlee conferred today with Moslem leaders Mohamed Ali Jinnah and Liaquat Ali Khan in an effort to break the Moslem party deadlock in India. The result apparently was not encouraging.

The Moslems refuse to surrender their political and religious identity in any plan for Indian independence.

Bloody Fighting In Central Greece

ATHENS — Greek newspapers reported bloody outbreaks today in Peloponnesus and the interior of Greece. A responsible source said that the fighting was started by Communists to divert attention from recent northern border violence. Reports said that more than a score of gendarmes and at least 38 guerrillas were killed in actions in Peloponnesus.

But Irrepressible Senator Will Not Be Out of Hospital by Election Day

VANCOUVER — Senator G. G. McGee, 58-year-old mayoralty candidate in the civic election here, will have to conduct his campaign from his hospital bed. He is resting comfortably after an emergency appendectomy Monday but his physician, Dr. Lyon H. Appleby, reiterates that he will not be out of hospital by election although the senator, enthusiastic and cheerful as ever, says he will be. General peritonitis arising from a ruptured appendix had set in before Mr. McGee was rushed to hospital and operated upon.

Dr. Appleby said today that the senator's condition was "greatly improved."

TO DISCHARGE BOY SOLDIERS

OTTAWA — All boys below the age of 17 years and six months now serving with the Reserve Force are to be discharged immediately. Army Headquarters has announced. No figures are presently available but it is estimated that a considerable number of under-age youths training with Reserve Force Units are affected by the new ruling. Although there is no provision in the 1946 pay regulations for boy soldiers in the Reserve, they have, until now, been paid at the rate of 70 cents per training day.

YOUNG WOMAN SCHOOL TEACHER

OF QUARTER CENTURY AGO IS

CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR TODAY

Over a quarter of a century ago a young English school teacher came out to Prince Rupert to be with her brother who had become widowed with a little daughter to take care of. She liked it so well here permanently. Her capabilities were soon recognized and she won a position on the local teaching staffs. Later she married a prominent local businessman and, after he passed away, she took over his affairs actively. Now she is herself a prominent leader in local business, public and club affairs and has been pressed into candidacy for the mayoralty. If she wins on Thursday of next week, and her friends are confident that she will, she will not only be Prince Rupert's first woman mayor but Prince Rupert will be the most important city in Canada as yet to have a woman as its chief magistrate.

The woman is Nora Ethel Arnold. She was born in Wellingborough, Northamptonshire, England, the daughter of the late Elijah Rivett, an English farmer, and the youngest of eleven children. She received her education and training as a school teacher, in England and for a time taught in the schools of Northamptonshire.

In 1920, her brother, the late Reverses--What of Them?

WE HAVE SUFFERED quite a few dashed hopes in Prince Rupert of late. A year ago our train service was cut down. Then the dry dock ceased building ships or engaging in major ship repairing. Recently we were advised that the Prince Rupert-United Kingdom shipping subsidy was not to be implemented. Latest bad news is that the grain shipping of which we were assured this winter is not to take place after all. We are having a chapter of trials and tribulations and are possibly receiving more knocks than we had thought the postwar period would bring us—more knocks possibly than even the more realistic of us might have anticipated. However, things are never so bad but they might be worse and maybe we can derive some comfort from the reasonable assumption that we have just about reached the bottom and things will start to level out from this on and then move upward. We may again remind ourselves that basically we are in the same happy position that we always were. When production conditions become stable we may look for the further expansion of present substantial industries such as fishing and lumbering—if not in their present form in some other. We know that mining is coming back and that any revival of mining is going to bring about substantial activity in this area. Contiguous to us we have farming lands which will be settled and supported as development in the other industries takes place.

These are the dog days just now—not only because of the season of the year but because it is the depth of the times between the war boom and the postwar readjustment.

Even the Daily News knows of things that are under consideration which would entirely change the picture of this town and district. We can tell those of our readers whose spirit may be faltering that plans are being made the fruition of which would make us all happy again. And there is reasonable certainty that they will eventuate. Meantime, it is no time to get glum and downhearted. Even the way things are, none of us are suffering. Maybe we are worrying a little unduly about the future. Possibly a year from now we will be wondering what we were worrying about.

We do not preach complacency, nor do we suggest that we should sit idly by and just wait for things to happen. Instead, there is something that even the humblest of us can do to help along our city and district if nothing more than boost and be happy and courageous. Certainly, we are not helping ourselves or anybody else by merely worrying and doing nothing about it. People who do that are only knockers and ought to be moving along to some place where they would find things better to their liking. We would be better off without them.

AN ALARMING SITUATION

THE CONVICTION and sentencing of John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers' Union, on a contempt of court charge accentuates the tenseness of what has already become by far the most serious and far-reaching industrial crisis that the republic to the south has ever experienced. Already the unemployed, as a result of the strike, number in the million mark and the end is not yet.

The suffering of the public, after two weeks of the coal strike, has been that of inconvenience. Another few days it will be hardship. With the nation cold and in blackout and its people without work, the spectre of downright chaotic if not anarchic conditions looms realistically.

It seems incredible that common-sense and reason cannot yet avert a situation that may have almost the aspects of civil war.

It is indeed a serious situation within the United States and one over which Canadians may be excusably anxious and alarmed.

RADIO AUCTION DECEMBER 12-14

Civic Centre, Pioneers' Home, Salvation Army, to Receive Proceeds from This Year's Mr. Chamber Pre-Christmas Amateur Talent Show

Radio auction, the Junior Chamber of Commerce's triple-barrelled device for providing community pre-Christmas fun and raising money for the Civic Centre, Pioneers' Home and Salvation Army local Christmas cheer, is to be held on December 12, 13 and 14.

This year's committee, headed by Don Esselmont, plans to hold the show in the Civic Centre auditorium, which they calculate will hold an ample studio audience, and will provide a satisfactory atmosphere for the scores of amateur artists whose talents will be in demand.

In addition to the radio shows, which will be aired for an hour on Thursday and Friday nights and an hour and a half on the Saturday night, a considerable quantity of useful merchandise will be auctioned to the audience in the auditorium during each program. The merchandise has been donated by a number of local business firms.

LETTERBOX

FARMER'S REPLY

Editor, Daily News:

Your editorial, "The Farmer's Privilege", I think will make a good many farmers not under the collar to read it.

Under ideal conditions it would indeed be a privilege to own land but, the way it is now and has been since slavery was abolished, it is not the farmer who owns the land but the land which owns the farmer and it is the farmer, at least the first generation and sometimes the second as well, who sacrifices his whole life to create something where there was nothing before. If he finally decides to abandon his homestead before it is crown-granted, he gets nothing for his improvements, buildings, roads, etc., although the government sells his years of hard work to the next victim which helps to fill up the treasury at the expense of the farmer.

Has it ever occurred to you that the people who would farm but do not, because they have got wise to what it means, are as much strikers as those who withheld their produce in Alberta recently, or those farmers who have ceased to produce dairy and pork products except for their own use because they are weary of working such long hours for so little, especially when prices of implements have been allowed to rise, not two or three cents but several dollars, with no protest from labor unions or the housewives?

As far as "Society" making farmers into hired help, you can't make anybody do anything in this country. (Incidentally do not the farmers come under the heading of Society?) In some ways it might be better for the farmer if this was tried because then he would be relieved of some of his responsibilities and the government and the public would get acquainted with just what obstacles a farmer has to surmount in order to survive. They would know just how impossible it is to make a decent living when, for instance, he has to plow through several feet of snow to a possible market, because the policy has always been to keep town and city roads in shape for traffic but to let the farmer take care of his own roads. The thing that keeps farmers from striking is not that they don't have plenty of reasons for doing so but because they like to farm and, believe it or not, they are doing a good job try, even if it is not appreciated.

Anybody is free 'privileged' class Why don't they?

COMPLETING LIVER PLANT

The new liver plant of the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative Association, which is under construction in connection with the Association's centralized cold storage and fish packing facilities at Westview Bay on the far west end of the Prince Rupert waterfront, is expected to be completed and ready for operation by next April, according to the general manager of the co-operative here, T. H. Sorenson. From the present quarters at the east end of the government wharf in the old Atlin Fisheries plant, the Co-op will move the existing equipment to the new location and new equipment will be added.

The Co-operative liver plant will continue to produce liver and viscera extract from all classes of fish here. Its production now amounts to about $500,000 per year. There is a staff of some 15 workers in the plant of which K. F. Harding is manager.

Shipments are largely confined to the processed extract except when raw liver offerings become so heavy that some have to be dispatched without processing.

Norfolk School Teacher Carries On Lengthy Fight Against Driving Charge

LONDON, Eng.—Among lesser decisions to be made by the Labor government is whether Margaret Self, Norfolk school teacher and Red Cross nurse, can continue with some hope of success her 10-year campaign against a conviction for alleged dangerous driving.

Miss Self claims she was not the driver of a car when the alleged offence occurred and that the conviction was obtained by mistaken evidence. Now she has written Prime Minister Attlee, Home Secretary Chuter Ede and other members of parliament asking permission to make a further appeal beyond the courts which have heard her case.

She cited the recent decisions that there had been some irregularities in the trial of 243 paratroopers in Malaya and the subsequent quashing of their conviction for refusing to obey orders.

"The irregularities to which I have put my signature are as serious as those in the paratroop case and in the interests of justice the right of appeal is due to all citizens and the law should be revised," Miss Self wrote.

ATTENTION FOR MINING TRAILS

Minister of Public Works Says Department Prepared to do Work to Help Industry

The provincial department of public works is very anxious to see that there is no impeding of necessary mining development work through lack of maintenance on trunk mining trails but it is essential for the department to be advised that such maintenance is actually necessary before entering into any expenditures, the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce has been advised by Hon. E. C. Carson, minister of public works. The local Chamber is invited by the Department to be advised of any special operations which are being hindered by reason of mining trails not being properly serviced.

The communication from the minister of public works, read at the monthly meeting of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce Monday night, was in reply to a letter from the Chamber on the subject of maintenance of mining trails.

"I might say," said Mr. Carson's reply, "that during the present year we allocated a sum of money for the telegraph trail which enabled a party to go through from Hazelton to Telegraph Creek."

Claims He Is "Only" Independent In Field

Declaring that he is the only "absolutely independent candidate" to date in the aldermanic field for next week's civic election, Hugo Kraupner made a statement to the Daily News stating that, if elected, he would work for the good of the city and not of party. Out for civic betterment in all ways, he said he would endeavor to raise finances for needed public works provided that could be done without additional burden to the taxpayers.

COMPLETING LIVER PLANT

The new liver plant of the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative Association, which is under construction in connection with the Association's centralized cold storage and fish packing facilities at Westview Bay on the far west end of the Prince Rupert waterfront, is expected to be completed and ready for operation by next April, according to the general manager of the co-operative here, T. H. Sorenson. From the present quarters at the east end of the government wharf in the old Atlin Fisheries plant, the Co-op will move the existing equipment to the new location and new equipment will be added.

The Co-operative liver plant will continue to produce liver and viscera extract from all classes of fish here. Its production now amounts to about $500,000 per year. There is a staff of some 15 workers in the plant of which K. F. Harding is manager.

Shipments are largely confined to the processed extract except when raw liver offerings become so heavy that some have to be dispatched without processing.

MANY GOING TO KETCHIKAN

At Least Twenty Are Expected To Make Alaska Trip at End of Week

Some 20 or so persons are expected to make the goodwill trip to Ketchikan which has been arranged by the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce for the end of this week aboard the steamer Camosun, leaving here at midnight Friday and returning Saturday evening.

"The most effective thing we can do at the moment to foster good relations between Prince Rupert and Alaska is to make such a trip as this," declared J. T. Harvey Monday night at the meeting of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce. "It is most important that we should show the people of Alaska that we appreciate their business. Anything we can do to develop it most certainly should be done." He urged that all members of the Chamber who could possibly make the trip do so.

Regret was expressed by many of the members that transportation facilities were such that it was impossible to extend the tour to southeastern Alaska points beyond Ketchikan.

Those making reservations to date are:

W. F. Stone, president; G. A. Hunter, vice-president; E. T. Applewhite, secretary, and Mrs. Applewhite, S. C. Thompson, E. D. Forward, G. C. Mitchell, Frank Skinner, J. T. Harvey, J. H. McLeod, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hanson, Allan Armstrong, Martin Stewart, David Allen, Robert Elkins, George Dibb, J. C. Gilker and J. E. Boddie.

There will also be one delegate from Hazelton and two from Terrace.

Harry Rivett, became widowed and Mrs. Arnold, then Nora Rivett, came out intending to make a year's visit which has now extended to a residence of twenty-seven years. First acting as a substitute teacher, she was appointed to the regular staff of old King Edward School and later Both Memorial School. Returning to England on account of her mother's failing health, she remained for two-and-a-half years there and came back to Prince Rupert in August 1934 to join Borden Street School.

In 1931 Miss Rivett married George H. Arnold, real estate and insurance broker, who died in 1936 after which she assumed the ownership and active management of H. G. Helgerson Ltd. business which she has since successfully conducted.

Mrs. Arnold's first active interest in municipal affairs came when she was pressed into service as secretary of the Prince Rupert Ratepayers' Association. In 1942 she was elected alderman on a ratepayers' association slate in the first council following the lifting of the commissionership. In 1943 she was re-elected and her services were so appreciated that last year she topped the aldermanic poll. Now she has resigned aldermanship to become a mayoralty candidate.

While serving on the city council Ald. Arnold has acted on various committees including finance and during the last year as chairman of the health, police, relief and licensing committee.

Other activities of Mrs. Arnold include chairmanship of the Prince Rupert and District Unit Board of Health, the Prince Rupert Library Board, the Women's Canadian Club. She is past president and honorary president of the Business and Professional Women's Club and chairman of the finance committee of the Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs. She also finds time to be active in church work.

CROSBY-HOPE ON 'ROAD TO UTOPIA'

Comedy of Yukon Gold Rush Getting Four Day Stand at Capitol Theatre

"Road to Utopia," happy gag-a-minute laugh show which takes Bing Crosby, Bob Hope and Dorothy Lamour into the gold-studded Yukon, is being given a four-day run at the Capitol Theatre here commencing today.

The object of the misadventures of the trio is a rich mine buried in the snow-capped hills of Alaska. It is Dotty's inheritance but two shooting thugs are out to relieve her of it so Bing and Bob come gallantly to her rescue. The antics commence with the boat trip north when they mistake a porthole for a safe and throw their money into the sea.

In the course of the travels in the north a representative of the animal kingdom is met in a great Russian bear, the adventures with which produce a lot of fun.

The cast also includes such well known film figures as Douglas Dumbrille, Jack La Rue and Robert Barrat with blonde, statuesque Hilary Brooke playing a deadly, member of the female species.
