COLLEGIATE IN HAMILTON, ONT., DESTROYED—One of Ontario's oldest and most famous colleges, "Old Central," was destroyed in a $2,000,000 fire in Hamilton, Ont. Over 40 houses surrounding the edifice were threatened by flames which could have been seen for miles. Three firemen narrowly escaped death when they were trapped on the top floor of the three-story building, but were rescued by aerial ladders. Investigation is being made into cause of the fire.

British White Paper Makes First Statement On Incident Near Here

SEES RUPERT AS AIR HUB

More Companies May Operate Here
Prediction that Prince Rupert will become the hub of north coastal air transportation was made before the Prince Rupert Rotary Club Thursday afternoon by George H. Stanbridge, local agent for Queen Charlotte Airlines, who saw possible competitive air service with reduced rates in the offing.
Along with an announced increase in service of Queen Charlotte Airlines starting next month, Mr. Stanbridge made it known that both Canadian Pacific Airlines and TransCanada Airlines are seeking to obtain federal licenses to operate sea-planes on this coast.
"That will mean that this coast will see a lot of activity," Mr. Stanbridge said. "It might result in daily service between Vancouver and Prince Rupert. Competition will result in increased service."
Queen Charlotte Airlines hopes to obtain an air mail contract but before this can be done the line must have at least six months of scheduled operation behind it, Mr. Stanbridge said. At present, the line is operating on a non-scheduled basis. Licenses for scheduled operations are at present not being issued by the Transport Department, he added.
Real value of aircraft in the development of Northern British Columbia is the fact that it can reach places where no other form of transportation can pene-

Long Term Wheat Contracts Out

OTTAWA — High government sources say the suspension of British-Canadian talks on long term wheat contracts arises from Canadian reluctance to make commitments for large scale annual shipments and not because of reported United States opposition to the proposed agreement.

Incident Occurred July 9, 1942, With R.C.A.F., Navy and United States Coastguard Collaborating

LONDON (CP)—What is believed to be the first official mention of the sinking of a Japanese submarine off the Queen Charlotte Islands on July 9, 1942, was disclosed today in a British white paper which showed that Canadian naval and air forces bagged 49 of 996 enemy submarines destroyed by Allied action during the war. The white paper credits the sinking of the submarine near the British Columbia islands to Royal Canadian Air Force aircraft operating with the United States Coastguard.

QUEENSLAND EMERGENCY

SYDNEY, Australia —A state of emergency has been declared in Queensland where 6,000 meat workers, who have been on strike since last March, were joined by waterside workers and coal miners. Queensland authorities were able to draft the workers back to their jobs despite the possibility that continued strikes may cause unemployment of up to 100,000 workers. MORE RAIN IS NEEDED

Only Certain Points on Prairies Have Had Enough Moisture
WINNIPEG—Light showers to good rains have occurred at many points in western Canada during the past week but, insofar as southern and central Manitoba and central Saskatchewan are concerned, have been insufficient for normal crop development, according to the weekly crop report of the Department of Agriculture of the Canadian National Railways. Many points in these sections report wheat in shot blade six to ten inches in height and a few earlier crops in Manitoba are heading out from ten to fourteen inches in height.

Trade Ass'n Not Coming to City

The Pacific Northwest Trade Association has communicated with the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce advising that, since Vancouver has already been promised the meeting, it is impossible to accept an invitation from Prince Rupert for the holding of the quarterly conference of the Association here in September. However, the invitation was appreciated and hope was expressed that it may be possible to have a conference in this city in the not too far distant future.

BUILDER OF GREAT WEST

Career of Senator McRae, Prominent Industrialist and Politician
OTTAWA, —The late Senator Andrew Duncan McRae, farm boy, banker, colonist, industrialist, soldier, Parliamentary leader and politician, achieved the greatest victory of a career devoted to organization when he directed the Conservative party triumph in the Dominion election of 1930. He died in hospital at 12:15 noon Wednesday. He had entered the institution last Wednesday for treatment for a blood condition.

Falling to receive the cabinet post he desired, Gen. McRae accepted appointment to the Senate in 1931 following retirement from party organization except for a brief period in 1942 when he spearheaded the drive to rearm Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen as leader. It ended with Mr. Meighen's defeat in the York South by-election of that year.

Maj.-Gen. McRae had worked hard for the 1930 victory. Appointed chief party whip in 1926 after his first election to the Commons in Vancouver North he organized the national Conservative convention at Winnipeg in 1927 which elected Richard Bedford Bennett, later Viscount Bennett, leader.

When the election was called the Liberals had held power for almost 10 years, except for the three months of the Meighen "shadow cabinet" in 1926, and were strongly entrenched. Introducing business methods into party organization, Gen. McRae was widely hailed as the architect of the Conservative victory. Engrossed in the national fight, he met personal defeat in Vancouver North and expected Mr. Bennett would appoint him to the cabinet and find a seat for him through a by-election.

He was reported at the time to have been offered the post of high commissioner in London but was interested only in a cabinet seat. His appointment to the Senate closed the breach between him and Mr. Bennett only slightly.

Born at Glencoe, Ont., November 17, 1874, son of Duncan and Mary McRae, he attended public school and farmed with his father for a few years before leaving for Duluth, Minn., and a business career. By the time he was 24 he had saved $1,000 and ran it up to $50,000 in five years in a small banking business.

With that stake at thirty he returned to Western Canada and organized the Saskatchewan Valley Land Company, bought 500,000 acres of farm land from the Dominion government for $1 an acre and prepared to capitalize on the great trek to the west that was then in full swing.

He and his associates increased their holdings by purchases from railroads and other interests and sold about 5,500,000 acres, bringing 50,000 families to the Canadian West and increasing its population by 250,000 persons. In the process they made $9,000,000.

In 1907 he moved to the Pacific Coast and established the Canadian Western Lumber Co., one of the greatest timber concerns in the province, and Wallace Fisheries, one of its most important fish-packing and whaling companies. He also became one of British Columbia's most extensive landowners. Further, he acquired extensive mining interests in the Yukon. (His interests in the north took him frequently to Prince Rupert.)

He had a distinguished career in the First Great War at the outbreak of which he was appointed director of remounts for Western Canada by the Dominion government and served until he went overseas early in 1915 with the 2nd Division. In July of that year he became director of supplies and transport for the

GOV'T TAXES ARE ASKED

VANCOUVER —A resolution demanding that the federal government pay taxes on property required for the defence of Canada and for military training was unanimously adopted by the national conference of Canadian Mayors and Municipalities. Mayor G. W. Woodwin of Ottawa told the conference that there should be a government subsidy on homes built for veterans.
Provincial Finance Minister Anson said at a dinner meeting that some labor unions overlook the fact that they have a responsibility not only to their members but to the employers and the people as a whole. Unrest in the ranks of organized labor is the gravest problem facing the elected representatives of the people, he said.

RECORD MEAT SHORTAGE IN UNITED STATES

CHICAGO —The severest meat shortage of modern times grew worse in United States today. It hit butcher shops, black markets and restaurants. In New York, even on the illegal market, there was no meat to be bought. Livestock marketings reached a low all over the country.

Half Million Fewer Taxpayers Next Year

Exemptions Are Being Increased—Corporation Income and Excess Profits Imposts Cut—Provinces Offered Deal

OTTAWA (CP)—Income tax reductions which will remove between 500,000 and 600,000 persons from the income tax roll were announced by Finance Minister J. L. Isley in his budget speech last night along with decreases in corporation and excess profits taxes and offer of a new agreement to the provinces. Succession duties will be doubled but this, like all other tax changes, will not be effective until January 1, 1947.

Conference Air Better

PARIS (CP)—Secretary of State James Byrnes of the United States is pressing hard at the foreign ministers' parley to get the 21-power peace conference started before the end of July but there is growing belief that it may not take place until autumn. Today Byrnes served notice that he would demand a decision tomorrow on the calling of the 21-nation conference.

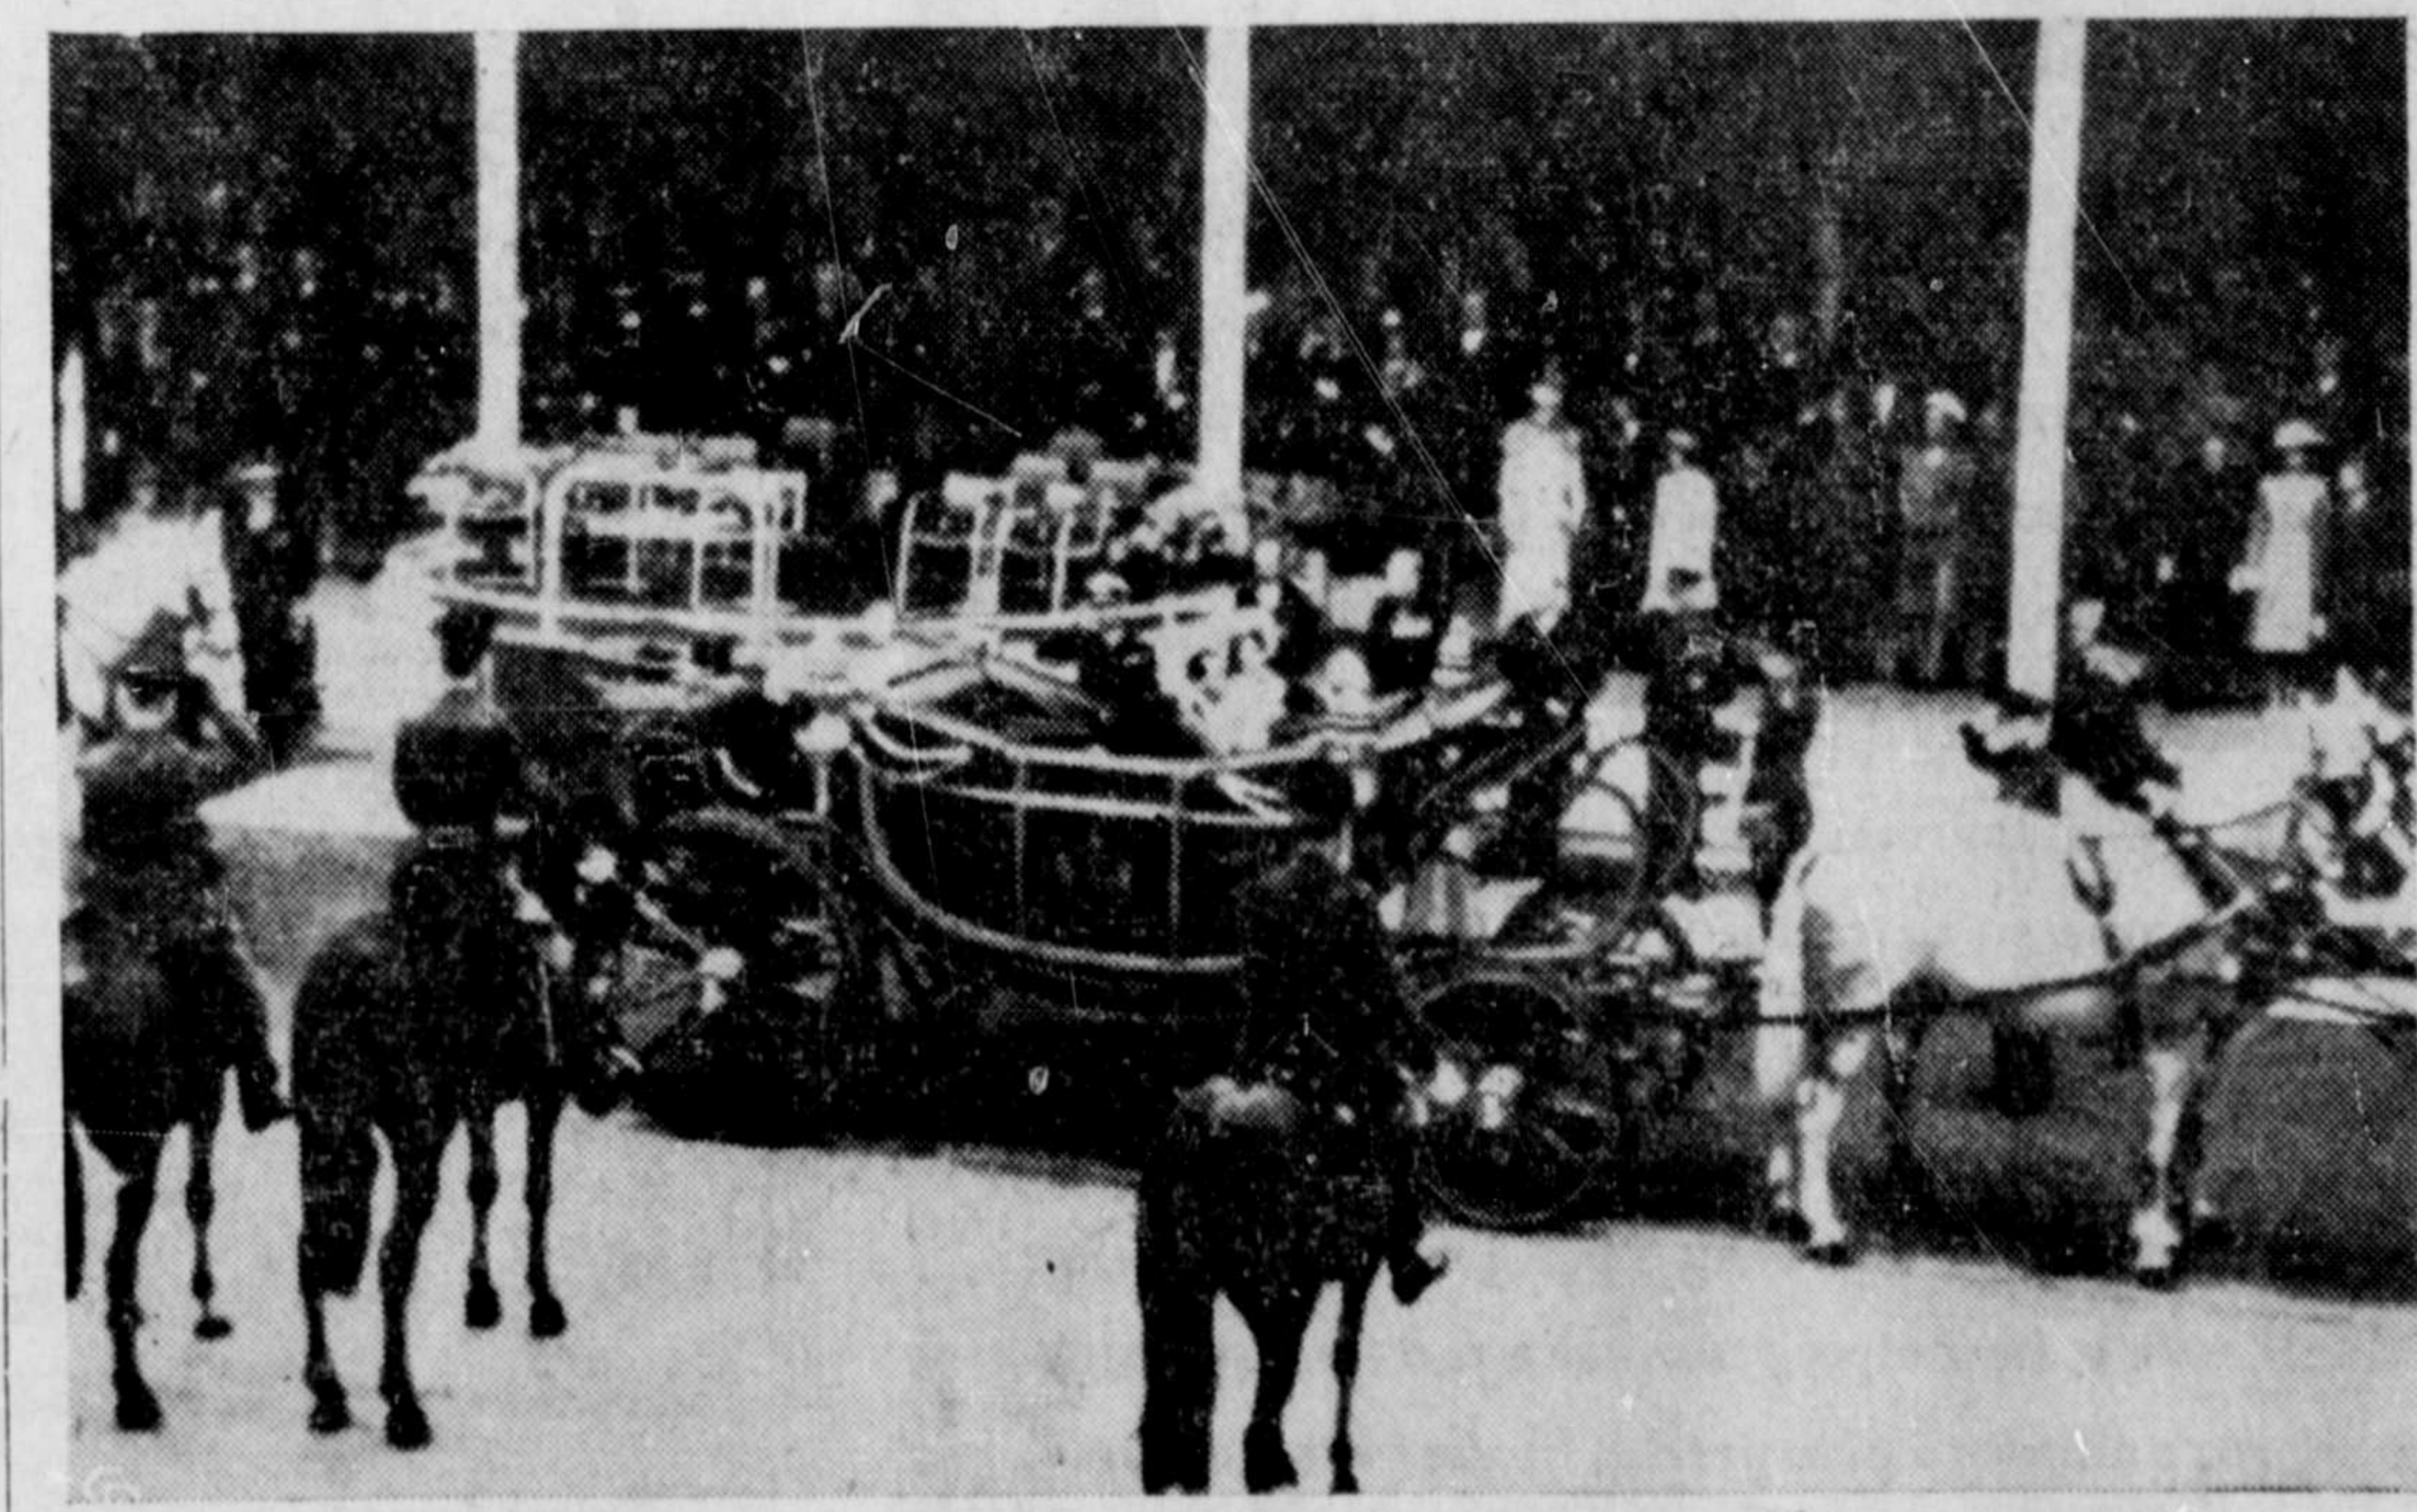

Meanwhile, Soviet Russia appears to be showing a more conciliatory attitude and the outlook for the conference appears improved.
Yesterday Russia agreed with the rest of the Big Four to give the Dodecanese Islands back to Greece.

Excess profits tax is removed from partnerships and sole proprietorships.
Patronage dividends on co-operatives and similar payments are allowed as tax reduction.
Co-operatives starting business after December 31, 1946, will be given a three-year tax exemption.

Twenty to fifteen percent above 116 2/3 percent of standard profits.
No major tariff changes were contemplated. There are a few minor adjustments but no increases.

Agreement With Provinces Plan
The budget speech announced revision of federal proposals for new Dominion-provincial agreements making participation on the part of each province optional.

There is a proposal for a two-year agreement term with the provinces and the provinces accepting would agree to vacate the personal income tax field. A uniform five percent tax would be collected for the provinces by the Dominion.
The Dominion's payments to the province would be in accordance with its offer made at the April-May conference which failed to reach an agreement.

THE BUDGET

CERTAINLY it cannot be said that Mr. Ilsley's budget exceeded any hopes or expectations that might have been entertained in the way of taxation relief.

What measure of relief as has been accorded has been conservative enough and such amelioration of the personal income tax as is granted does not even become available this year but its application is deferred until 1947. Therefore, when it comes income tax payment time again next spring, the basis will be still the same as it was this year.

Reductions in taxation on business, certainly due, are not as substantial possibly as might have been hoped for. Such as they are they are welcome.

Mr. Ilsley is grimly realistic when he reminds us that there are bills still to be paid and that we must raise the money to pay them. It is to be noted that he also mentions the differences between the Dominion and provinces on taxation matters were so irreconcilable that the possibility of an agreement being reached could not be taken into account in budget plans for this year.

THREE VESSELS DOCK AT C.N. WHARF AT ONCE

Prince Rupert's C.N.R. dock experienced a busy time Wednesday afternoon when its length was taken up by three vessels—Canadian National's Prince Rupert, Northland Transportation Co.'s North Sea, and Canadian Pacific's Princess Norah.

Lying end to end, the three vessels occupied the full length of the wharf at the freight shed. The area bustled with moving cargo through which leisurely tourists picked their way to and from the vessels.

The Prince Rupert docked at 11:30 Wednesday morning and sailed at midnight for Ketchikan, while the North Sea docked at 1 p.m. to unload five carloads of frozen fish from Sitka, Wrangell and Petersburg for rail shipment to the American market. The shipment was handled by Royal Fish Co.

Princess Norah, southbound, docked at 3:45, sailed at 5:30, carrying round trip tourists and Alaska passengers. She took the Canadian Army fire truck from Prince Rupert to Vancouver as deck cargo.

Farther along the wharf, near the naval reserve headquarters, was moored the Department of Transport lighthouse tender Alberni.

In these army jobs he applied business principles, slashed red tape and made such a reputation for himself that in 1918, at the request of Prime Minister David Lloyd George, he was loaned to the British government to organize the Ministry of Information under Lord Beaverbrook. He was director of the ministry until the end of the war with the rank of major-general. In 1917 he was made a Commander of the Bath for meritorious service.

After the war Gen. McRae organized the Western Canada Colonization Association and continued the work that had made him rich. He first turned to politics in 1925, becoming leader of the short-lived British Columbia Provincial party and in 1926 was elected to the Commons for Vancouver North.

His plan to people the Peace River district brought him Dominion-wide notice in 1928. In the Commons he said: "The Peace River area is capable of supporting 2,000,000 people if the government has sufficient courage to carry it out."

Senator McRae made a suc-

New president will be Dr. L. W. Kerwin, replacing President James S. Thompson, and incoming directors are Lee Gordon, Alex MacKenzie and J. Harry Black. Successful hobby of his 2,000-acre farm at Qualicum, Vancouver Island, was a noted horseman in his earlier years and enjoyed shooting and fishing. During the Second Great War he gave his paternal Vancouver home—Hydrocroft—to the government for use as a military hospital.

In 1900 he married Blanche Howe of Minneapolis, who died in 1942. In 1943 he married Mrs. Allen Rhodes of El Paso, Texas. There were three daughters of the first marriage: Mrs. R. B. Chapman of Los Angeles, Mrs. Lucille Paul of Seattle, and Blanche, who died in 1945.

AUDIENCE IS IMPRESSED BY ART SHOWING

A highly sympathetic reaction to the black-and-white and pastel drawings of Bjorn Selvig, noted Norwegian artist, was plainly evident among the visitors who viewed the 30 works during the opening night of the three day exhibit in the Civic Centre lounge last night.

Comparisons between the rugged Norwegian mountain country which are the subjects of many of Mr. Selvig's pictures, with British Columbia coastal scenery, were the basis of much comment by those who viewed the exhibit. The economy of line and clarity achieved with all forms of black and white mediums, pencil, pen, charcoal and crayon, won favorable appreciation.

Most popular exhibit, however, was a pencil profile of the artist's father, done in 1936, shortly after he left Prince Rupert to return to Norway. This striking work impressed the audience with its presentation of character, as did other portraits, of which possibly there were too few in the group. Witnesses to last night's exhibit were unanimous in the hope that the artist's skill will be used to present British Columbia's beauty on drawing paper. Proceeds of the exhibit are being shared with the Civic Centre by Mr. Selvig.

Miss Margaret Kirkpatrick of the Both Memorial High School teaching staff sailed last night for Vancouver on the Prince Rupert to spend the summer holidays in the south.

RESERVE ARMY JUNIORS WIN

Co-ops Also Show Good Form in Junior Fastball

Instead of the regularly scheduled double-header in the Junior Fastball League last evening one game took place with the Reserve winning over the Co-op by 8 runs to 4.

Battery for the young players was Shier and Currie while Don Scherk, later relieved by Sunberg, pitched for the Co-op with Sharp catching. Both teams played good ball and there is every promise of many of the players developing into good players. The fielding and throwing are good and they are rapidly picking up the finer points of the game. The boys should be thankful to their coaches, Rudolph of the Reserve, and Foreman and Bergs of the Co-op.

Runs for the Co-op were scored by Don Scherk, Sunberg, Sharp and Forbes. The Reserve scorers were Bob Currie, 2; Shier, 2; Acheson, 2 and Mostad and Bates one each.

Teams:
Reserve Army Juniors—Currie, Shier, Mostad, Acheson, Olson, Anderson, Basso, Micky and Bates.
Co-op Juniors—Don Scherk, Sunberg, Shier, Sharp, Forbes, Lawrie, Basso, Haugan, Moore, Scherk and Overgaard.

Olson and Mostad starred in the field for Army while Forbes and Basso showed advantage for the Co-op.

Reports are to the effect that the Sea Cadet team has withdrawn from the League. This may be due to their regular summer camp.

AROUND THE PLAYING FIELDS

There is talk of a three game series at Terrace on July 1 with the Moose playing against Terrace and Usk.

Rumor has it that there may be a team travelling to Smithers.

Tonight's sporting events: Senior Men's Fastball, Gyro Park.

General Motors vs. Co-op and Bo-Me-Hi vs. Grotto.

SPRING SALMON ANGLING PROVIDES GOOD HARBOR SPORT; BOY'S LUCK

While the rush of the halibut season is over along the waterfront there is considerable excitement with material rewards for those who are successful in catching the spring salmon. "Bud" Pierce is tops so far with three dandies in the last few days. Wednesday it was a 43-pounder and yesterday a 33-pounder.

Then young Jack Flewin landed a 31½ pounder. Photographs were taken of the latter with his catch so that there will be proof of the big one that didn't get away.

One youngster was not so lucky. He hooked a big one, and it was a big one. He got it to the surface but, in the excitement, he gave the fish a little slack line and it was away.

Just what makes a salmon from A. H. Carmichael 6-8, 6-3, 6-3.

In the Senior League baseball game Gyros won from the Sons of Canada by 3-2. Lambie pitched for the Sons and Schlenker for the Gyros. Sons of Canada—Balfour, Lambie, V. Menzies, Farquhar, W. Mitchell, H. Menzies, Ratchford, Clapp, Gurvich. Gyros—McKeown, Schlenker, Fritzell, George Mitchell, Moran, Haveland, Tulloch, G. Hill, Skinner.

pick out one line between two others is a mystery. When "Bud" Pierce landing his third fish there were fishermen on his right and one on his left but the fish picked his hook. The other fishermen would like to know just why. One veteran observed that Pierce had a white line while the other two had the usual green line, recommended generally as being less noticeable by the fish. The assumption is that the fish does not notice that the bait is attached to the line and presumably reasons out that the herring is an honest-to-goodness fish and provided for his consumption. Alternately someone suggested that the white line catches the attention of the salmon and then it notices the herring and—swish! Pierce has another one. In any case any visitor, or local resident for that matter who can catch a 30-pounder off the wharf would be a "rest of his life" booster for

Players Try for All-Star Team To Meet Ketchikan

In preparation for their forthcoming international series in baseball with Ketchikan a practice game was held last evening at Roosevelt Park. Regular line-ups were changed from time to time to give the coaches a chance to try out various players.

Pitchers trying out their arms were Lambie, Lindsay, MacDonald, Stiles and Bill. Catchers were Scoop Bury and Postuk. The veteran Lambie showed lots of speed and control and Lindsay was also effective.

Other players in the try-out were Minor Simonson, Bruce Simonson, Walter Johnson, D. Kerr, T. Arney, Pavlikis, Dell, Terry, Vuckovich, Gurvich, Foreman, Sunberg and D. Wood.

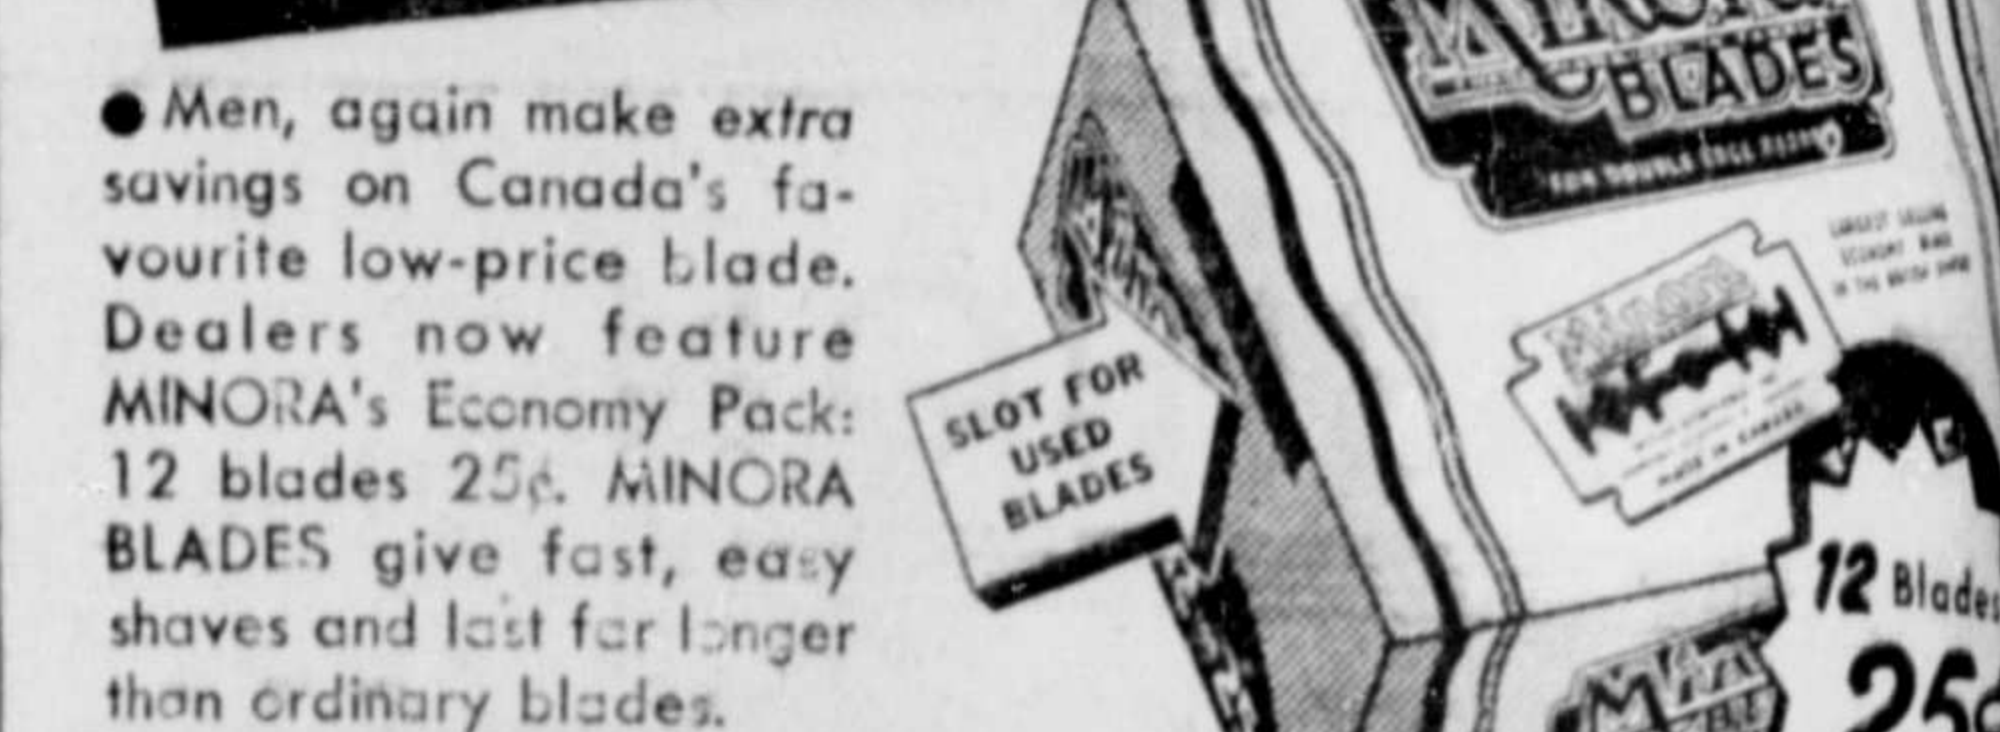

So keen were the players that even after the game some of them remained behind for batting and fielding practice.

Mrs. John Odowes and daughter sail tonight on the Cardena on a holiday trip to Vancouver.

MEET AND MIX FROM COAST TO COAST IN CANADA

Victoria the Beautiful

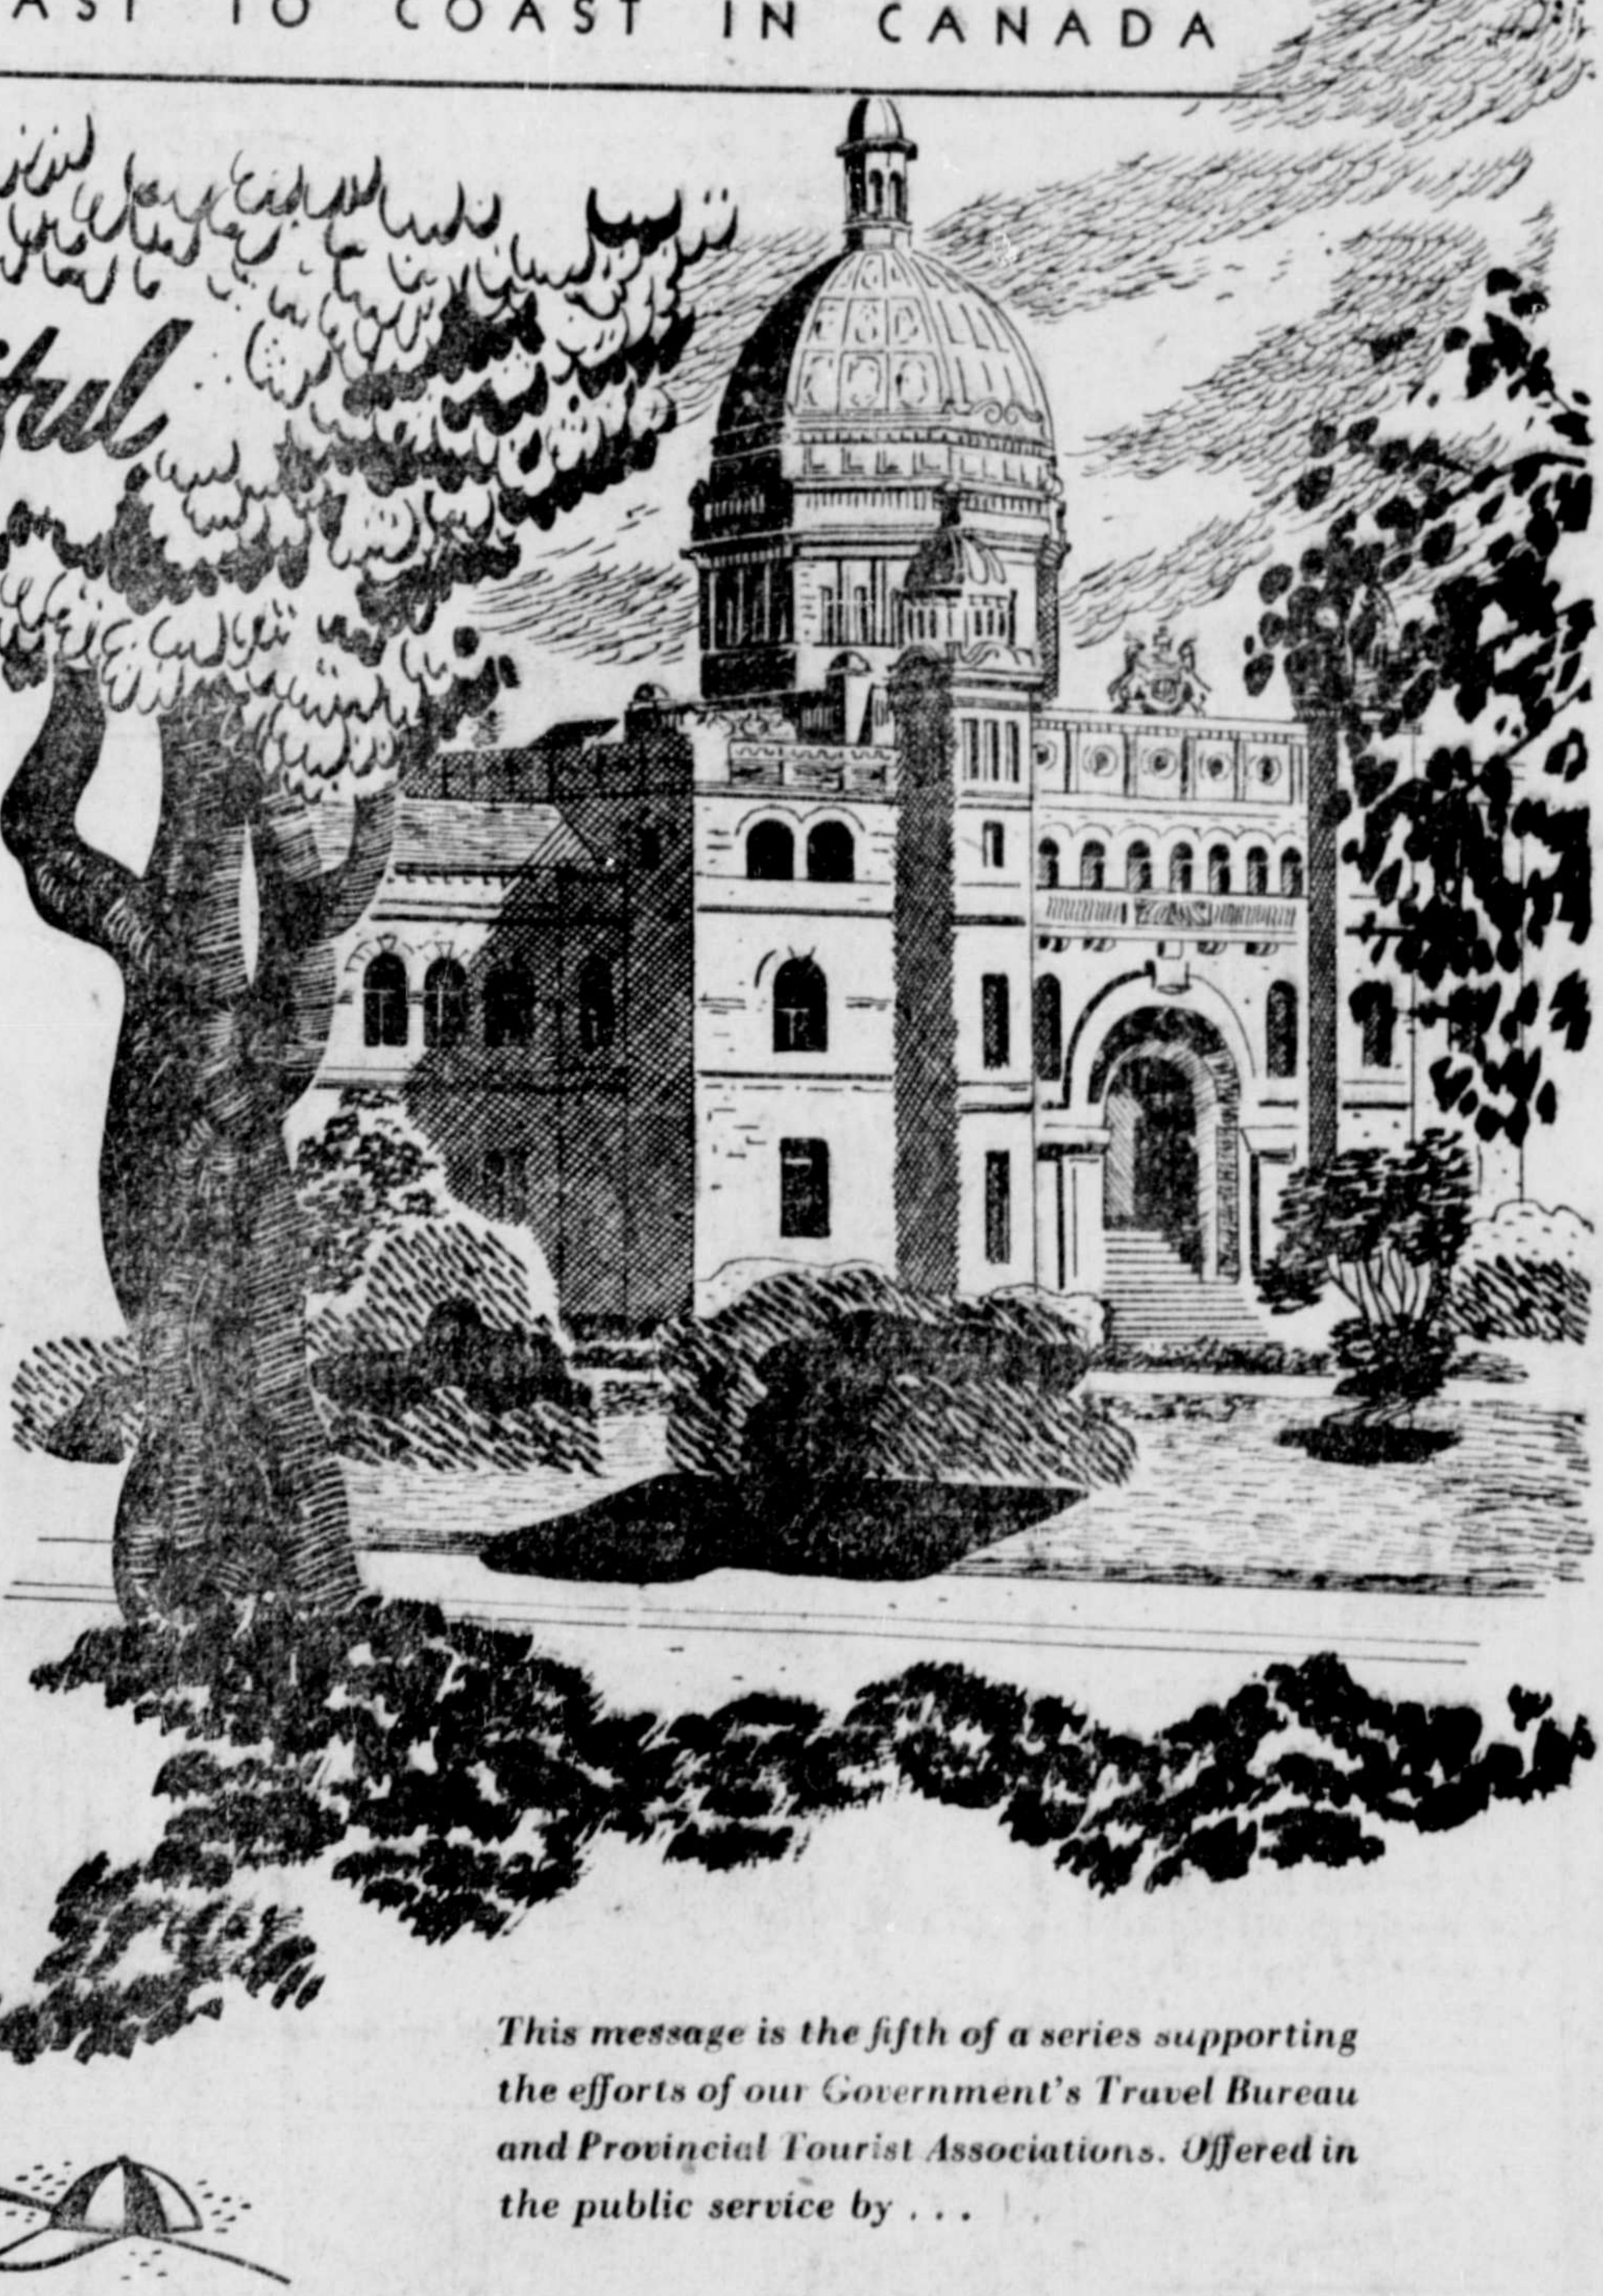

KIPLING captured the gracious charm of British Columbia's capitol when he wrote: "To realize Victoria, you must take all that the eye admires most in Bournemouth, Torquay, the Isle of Wight, the Happy Valley at Hong Kong... add... the Thousand Islands and arrange the whole around the Bay of Naples with some Himalayas for the background."

Oak trees, holly, hedge-bordered homes, unbelievably lovely gardens and the great stone pile of the Legislature conspire with the ivy-wreathed walls and towers of the Empress Hotel to offer scenic attractions for visitors unequalled on this continent.

Every part of British Columbia has its own beauty spots in amazing variety, and this year the greatest influx of tourists in our history is expected.

We can all do our part in making these welcome visitors feel at home. Friendliness and courtesy cost nothing, but they are the essence of true hospitality.

The tourist industry benefits everyone.

DOMINION DAY AT SMITHERS

Varied Program of Sports Offered at Interior Town

SMITHERS — The Smithers Athletic Association is working feverishly these last few days to offer a large and varied program of sports for their annual celebration on Dominion Day, July 1. One of the feature attractions of the two-day program will be the horse racing on Monday afternoon. This is the first time that this popular "sport of kings" has been included in the association's list of events and every effort is being made to offer an attractive bill for turf enthusiasts. The usual baseball and softball competitions will feature the visiting Hazelton and Telkwa men and girls' teams, with two games being played on Sunday and two finals on Monday. Several midway attractions will be offered to avoid any monotony and to satisfy the gambler's blood of those who like to take a chance on the odds.

The two-day week-end holiday is expected to bring many Prince Rupert and lower Skeena residents to Smithers.

MR. AND MRS. A. E. DICKENS, SR.

More than forty descendants—children, grandchildren, great grandchildren and in-laws—assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Edward Dickens, sr., 219 Ninth Avenue West, last night to celebrate Mr. Dickens' seventieth birthday. Highlight of the proceedings came at midnight when, during the serving of buffet refreshments, Albert (Sonny) Dickens, on behalf of the family, presented his father with a handsome gold watch chain saying that he hoped all the children would live as long as father and would be as good a "Dad" as he had been. Mrs. S. E. Alexander proposed a toast to her father, wishing him many more happy birthdays and a good time on the forthcoming trip to his native England. Speeches were also made by Son-in-law Jack Bond and grandson Syd Alexander. The serving table was covered with a beautiful lace cloth centred with a vase of early summer flowers. The handsome birthday cake had 35 candles, one for each two years. In addition to the family other callers were Mr. and Mrs. W. Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Ronalds, Mr. and Mrs. Trestien and Robina, James and Guy Corville.
