PEACE TREATIES ARE PUBLISHED

Axis Satellites to Be Thoroughly Stripped of Any Power to Make War

MINIMUM OF ONE BILLION DOLLARS IN REPARATIONS SET, MOST OF WHICH WILL GO TO RUSSIA

PARIS (AP)—A Master Plan to strip Italy and other Axis satellites of their military might, bill them for $1,000,000,000 in reparations, practically all of which goes to Russia, re-shuffle their frontiers and require them to guarantee "fundamental freedoms", was disclosed today with publication of proposed peace treaties drafted by the Four-Power foreign ministers.

The treaties, prepared by Britain, the United States, Russia and France, will be considered at the 21-power peace conference now in session in Paris. Final decisions will be made by the four major powers after the peace conference has considered the drafts in an advisory capacity.

The treaty drafts covered only phases on which the foreign ministers' council, at its recent Paris meeting, had reached an agreement. Matters on which no agreement was reached—such as the United States' demand for free trade on the Danube—were omitted.

Treaties with Germany and Japan will not be considered until the Allies deem those countries ready for full self government.

Military restrictions placed on the Axis satellites relegate the armed forces of those countries to the minor role of local defence. The following limitations are imposed:

Details of Demands Made on Italy
Italy—185,000 troops and 65,000 carabinieri (military police), compared with a 1939 army of 2,240,000 men and 5,175,000 trained reservists; navy devoid of submarines and composed of 67,000 tons and two old battleships, compared with a pre-war fleet of 717,420 tons including 130 submarines; air force cut to 200 fighter and reconnaissance planes and 150 transport and training craft.

Romania—Army of 120,000, compared with a pre-war force of 1,800,000; air force of 150 planes and 8,000 men, compared with estimated 1939 personnel of 15,000; navy of 15,000 tons and 5,000 men; anti-aircraft artillery of 25,000 men.

Finland—34,400 troops, compared with a pre-war force of 301,300; navy of 10,000 tons and personnel strength of 4,500; air force of 60 planes and 3,000 men.

Bulgaria—Land army of 55,000, compared with peak war-time force of 670,000. Anti-aircraft artillery of 1,800 men; navy of 7,250 tons manned by 3,500; air force of 90 combat type planes with personnel of 5,200.

Hungary—Army including frontier troops, anti-aircraft and river flotilla of 65,000 men, compared with 700,000 during war; air force of 90 planes manned by 5,000.

Is Minimum
The reparations figure of $1,000,000,000 is a minimum and may be increased.

The total amount Italy must pay, in addition to $100,000,000 to Russia, has not yet been determined. Likewise, the amount which Bulgaria must pay has not been decided. Hungary, Finland and Romania each has been assessed $300,000,000. The United States reserved the right, however, to oppose the assessment in the case of inflation-ridden Hungary.

Reshuffling of the map of Europe was one of the major undertakings outlined, but proposed territorial changes do not approach in scope the

MOLOTOV FOR TWO THIRDS

Russia Fears Bloc at Peace Conference if Simple Majority Adopted

PARIS (AP)—Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov of Russia fought today to establish a two-thirds majority voting rule for the Paris peace conference of 21 countries because, "if all decisions were by simple majority," the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics would be sure to find itself always in the minority. Molotov told the rules committee that a simple majority "would place the Anglo-Saxons at an advantage because it would form a bloc of from 12 to 13 votes." He feared the adoption of a simple majority rule would play the west against eastern Europe.

Holland and Greece have supported Australia against the two-thirds vote.

Car Crash In Interior

Telkwa Business Man and Police in Collision—Mrs. Bussinger Injured

SMITHERS (Special to Daily News)—C. F. Bussinger of Telkwa, accompanied by his wife, had a head-on collision near Houston with a Mounted Police car yesterday morning. Bussinger's car was badly damaged and Mrs. Bussinger suffered a severe cut on the head. There were no other parties injured.

Mr. and Mrs. Bussinger had left Telkwa for a short holiday trip to Vancouver but, owing to the damage to the car, were unable to proceed. The accident occurred near the bridge crossing the Bulkley River at Houston. The police car was coming up the hill around the curve when the accident occurred.

Owing to the heavy growth of bush and the position of cars drivers were unable to see one another until approximately eighty feet apart. By the time they had applied their brakes they had met.

The bumper of the police car rode over the top of Bussinger's bumper causing severe damage to Bussinger's car.

Mrs. Bussinger is out of hospital and quite comfortable.

The Bussinger car was covered by insurance.

Driver of the police car was Constable J. Ward.

ALL MODERN CONVENIENCES, IGLOO STYLE

"Hot jive with name bands! Cooler inside; smoking in the lounges," could be the billed attraction at this Canadian Arctic igloo. The eskimmo called Pork, his wife Hattie and grandson Ikkat, shown in a scene from the National Film Board's production, "White Safari," a Canada Carries On release following Operation Musk Ox almost to the North Pole and back, are not the uncivilized folk a lot of people think Eskimos are. They use modern gasoline stoves and lanterns, alarm clocks, phonographs. Expecting him to be amazed by the snowmobile, Musk Ox men were surprised when Pork asked, "How much gas does it use?" The expedition came across this Eskimo family at Baker Lake, a tiny settlement on Chesterfield Inlet, Hudson Bay, just before the Safari of the Snows reach the Arctic Circle. In this shot from the NFB film, Pork is working on a new snow knife, Hattie is making caribou moccasins and Ikkat is kibitzing on the conversation.

FINE RECORD MADE BY LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL IN MATRICULATION EXAMS

An analysis of the official departmental mark sheet for the University Entrance examinations reveals highly creditable work of Booth Memorial High School students here.

Of the 23 Grade 12 students writing for complete university entrance standing 14 passed in all subjects and received complete standing—one student—Dorothy Kergin—gaining an average of over 85 per cent in the required subjects.

In addition two other Grade 12 students wrote partial examinations and passed in all subjects which they wrote. Of the nine students not granted complete standing, eight passed in all subjects but one and the other student passed in all subjects but two. These students may complete their standing by writing supplemental exams in August.

Fourteen of the above students wrote in addition Senior Matriculation Science (Chemistry or Physics) and 10 passed, this making one subject less for them to complete next year in Senior Matriculation.

These Grade 12 students wrote a total of 110 University Entrance papers and passed in 100 of them which is 91 per cent of the test papers written.

BYRNES STATES U.S. POSITION

Smaller Nations To Be Considered—No "Peace Vengeance"

PARIS, (AP)—Secretary of State James Byrnes yesterday pledged United States support for any changes in the Big Four treaty drafts sought by a two-thirds vote of all 20 nations at the conference. His declaration, plainly stating American position against arbitrary rejection of smaller nations' recommendations for final treaty drafts, came after the rules committee had approved the principle of complete publicity for all conference deliberations. Mr. Byrnes also stated that United States would never again return to political isolation and said: "We do not want peace vengeance" that would plant "seeds of future wars."

OTTAWA (AP)—A budget resolution dealing with the taxation of co-operatives was adopted by Commons in a standing vote of 70 to 56 after the C.C.F. called a halt to its members' attempts to have the legislation withdrawn or amended. GEORGE DAWES GUEST IN FIRE-SWEPT HOTEL; LOST EVERYTHING

George J. Dawes, well known Prince Rupert business man, was among the guests in the Hotel Herbert at San Francisco which was swept by fire yesterday with the loss of lives of four firemen and the injury of several others. Edward Dawes received a telegram from his father stating he was safe and well but had lost all his effects. There were no other particulars. All guests had been safely evacuated from the hotel, the destruction of which marked the worst fire San Francisco has had in eight years.

Mr. Dawes plans on visiting Los Angeles before returning home.

STRONG WARNING AGAINST PLANNED MILITARY HATRED

"Caricatures of minorities, too, who could be by unscrupulous people, lead to individual freedom as was done in Germany in the 1930's. We must continue to fight against suspicion and under new guises just as we fought it during the last war," commented Rev. Basil S. Prockter, rector of St. Andrew's Cathedral, following a preview this morning of the short subject motion picture "Don't Be a Sucker" in the Capitol Theatre.

As guests of theatre manager J. Harry Black were more than two score civic, church, service club leaders and educators who expressed themselves as equally impressed with the powerful picture which will be shown here at the Capitol on Friday and Saturday.

"It exposes a real danger that the objects of the war can easily be lost after the war itself has been won," said another.

Scoring hate-mongers who strive to gain leadership by appealing to group and racial hatreds among the population, the picture carries a young ex-serviceman, who has just been listening to a rabble-rousing street address, back through a similar street corner in Berlin where a Nazi storm trooper advocated similar principles of hatred more than a decade ago.

Showing the similarity of the beginnings of planned intolerance, the picture moves on toward the inevitable result, depicting what happens when a few gamblers with other peoples' freedom.

"Don't Be a Sucker" was originally made by the U.S. Army Signal Corps for showing to the armed forces and is distributed without profit by Paramount Pictures as a public service.

CONSIDER OKANAGAN

HERE IN PRINCE RUPERT we may be inclined to grumble when a week's rain interferes with cleaning up the raspberry crop, for which we may not have enough sugar anyway, blows down our flower gardens, from which we have had a lot of pleasure already, or prevents us from mowing the lawn, which we reluctantly rise Sunday morning to do. We might, instead, consider sympathetically the plight of the Okanagan country after the big hailstorm and reflect on how inconsequential are our own little horticultural troubles.

One afternoon's vagary of weather has wiped out the whole fruit crop of many of the people in the Okanagan just as it was about to come into the height of harvest. The revenue which they had been counting upon as their financial maintenance for a year is wiped out with one terrific barrage of hailstones. And, ironically enough, the disaster, and it is a disaster for the people down there, came as the prospects were that they would be able to realize through market conditions and favorable prices one of the best returns in recent years.

Worried over shortage of box lumber early in the season and with their crops now wiped out with hail, the Okanagan farm folk are having troubles heaped upon troubles this first postwar year. When we consider their reverses, we can well conclude that we complain unjustifiably when we even think of frowning at a week's gentle rain, even though it may be mildly windswept at times.

RATIONING OF BREAD

BRITONS ARE NOT very happy just now about bread. Part of their troubles were caused by slowness of American action. Britain, after nearly seven years of a very monotonous diet, decided to ration bread—which had escaped rationing even during the war. Many sections of the British public have questioned the necessity. Bakers threatened to revolt and Parliament somewhat reluctantly voted to go through with the plan.

The London Government decided on rationing in order to release for emergency use in Europe 400,000 tons of wheat Britain had on hand or promised. This helped to make up the early shortages in American shipments—due primarily to the reluctance with which Washington moved in establishing set-asides and price bonuses to get the promised wheat.

Odious comparisons can do little good. It is perhaps only natural that the American people, not having been so close to the war or the famine, did not feel the same sense of urgency about relief that the British did. But certainly one can wonder at the political timidity of Washington in not being ready earlier to call for sacrifices which most Americans were eager to make. Beyond that, the world can be grateful for America's ability to make such a large contribution and for Britain's hard decision to tighten even further the belt of self-denial.

THE CHANGE-OVER

WAR INDUSTRY was heavily concentrated in the two central provinces and to a lesser extent in British Columbia and Nova Scotia and readjustment difficulties are obviously more widespread in these provinces. In the Prairie Provinces, where war manufacturing was of comparatively minor importance, there has been little perceptible decline in employment from the wartime peak. Ontario, Quebec, British Columbia and Nova Scotia, on the other hand, show a common downward trend, the sharper decline in the last three resulting from the fact that a much larger percentage of war employment was in industries like shipbuilding, aircraft and munitions, which have limited peacetime usefulness.

The real core of the change-over problem is, of course, the impact on specific local areas. In centres with a well-established and widely diversified industry, where many war plants could be converted and where the absorptive capacity of the civilian branches of manufacturing and of such industries as construction, transportation and trade was high, readjustment difficulties have been at a minimum. On the other hand, in places where employment had been abnormally inflated by the rapid growth of war industries with undeveloped peacetime possibilities, the change-over has been much more keenly felt. Prince Rupert is one of such latter places, but, eventually its strategic position as the gateway of a great hinterland must bring it permanent industrial prosperity.

DEVELOPING PT. DARWIN

Northern Australian Territory Is Gateway From the East and Europe

By JACK HOLDSWORTH
Canadian Press Correspondent

CANBERRA (AP)—The federal government has drawn up big development plans for Australia's frontier province, the Northern Territory, and its capital, Darwin.

The Territory covers an area of 523,620 square miles in the extreme north of Australia. It is of vital defence importance with Darwin and its harbor and airport providing the gateway to Australia from the East and Europe.

It is a tropical region of sweltering heat and torrential rains, of areas untrod by the white man, but roamed by aboriginal tribes, of contrasting barren and well-watered, timbered regions, sparsely populated and little developed.

The government's plans call for the erection of a garden city in Darwin with accommodation for 15,000 civilians and a garrison force of 10,000, as against a pre-war population of nearly 3,000 out of the Territory's 5,000 inhabitants exclusive of aborigines.

The project will cost $108,000,000. Darwin was heavily bombed by Japanese aircraft during the war, and is still largely in a blitzed condition. Only about 100 houses remain standing.

The portions of the ocean dock being offered for sale are in addition to the original pre-war portion which is still the property of the Canadian National Railways.

170 of the town's original 400 homes are inhabitable. It came under military control in 1942, and all civilians were evacuated. Since then it has been returned to civilian control, and about 3,600 now are living there.

The housing shortage has become so acute that many people are living in tents, iron and hessian huts and sheds made from packing cases. Many are also using abandoned army and air force camps outside Darwin.

Isolation Overcome
But the war, although it has created housing problems, has also solved one of the main problems of Darwin and the Territory—Isolation.

Darwin lies hundreds of miles from the nearest capital city and before the war relied mainly on shipping for its supplies. There were a few roads leading into the Territory from the south, but these were in bad condition and often impassable because of floods. Air services were few and not very frequent.

But during the war, a north-south highway linking Darwin with Adelaide in the south was built with a branch road running through to Brisbane. Dozens of airfields were also constructed.

Frequent air services have been started and these, in conjunction with the good overland route, have brought many parts of the Territory within 48 hours reach of a capital city.

This is expected to result in a big development of the Territory's potentialities. At present, the main industry is cattle grazing, with a goldfield at Tennant's Creek, and pearl fishing at Darwin.

STUDENTS RECEIVE BOARD, ROOM AND EDUCATION AT CANADA'S LARGEST REHAB BOARDING SCHOOL

The dormitory room, shown above, reflects the "college humor" of youthful veterans who live two to a room at the Brockville Training and Re-establishment Institute. Surrounded by books and pin-ups, they spend week-end nights listening to records, radio or playing their own music. The twenty-five cent meals are served in shifts. First to eat are those taking training like the she-repairers and (lower right) ex-Army student mechanics, Don Barringer, Sam Oxboro and Gordon McCoo, who listen intently to Instructor Charles Woodland. The Experts Say - -

CAREFUL WITH PRESSURE COOKERS—Many queries have been coming in as to whether it is all right to do home canning in a pressure sauce-pan. The answer is "No," unless the manufacturer gives specific directions for doing so.
It is necessary to have a cooker with a gauge which registers the pressure accurately for proper processing under pressure. It is also necessary to maintain the same pressure for a given length of time. The type of utensil satisfactory for canning is usually sold as a pressure cooker or pressure canner, while the small pressure sauce-pan without a gauge is suitable for quick cooking of meat and vegetables for immediate use.
When processing either in the pressure canner, water bath or thermostatically-controlled oven be a clock watcher.
Be sure to allow full processing time. Count the time from the minute the gauge on the pressure canner registers the required pressure or, if using the water bath, from the time the water in the bath starts boiling vigorously, or when the temperature of the oven returns to 275 degrees Fahrenheit.
The length of time for processing depends on the method used and varies with different foods. A table giving exact times for each is given in the bulletin, Home Canning, sent free on request by the Dominion agriculture department.
FRESH VEGETABLES—Many of the vegetables now coming into season have a sweetness and succulence that cannot be preserved for later use so they should be fully enjoyed right now. Others which will store well when mature are more tender when young and the flavor is more delicate. If they are gathered in the early morning their is a dewy freshness that adds something indefinable.
When two vegetables are combined the flavors blend and they seem a quite different vegetable. Carrots and peas are food twins that are inseparable as ham and eggs or liver and bacon. It is said that carrots and peas are served together so often that a visiting celebrity asked if they grew on the same bush in Canada.
Many people enjoy peas and carrots, but string beans with whole baby carrots or larger ones cut one inch thick in chunks are quite as interesting. Small white onions with cut string beans are good too.
CARROTS AND BEANS—Home economists suggest baked carrots and string beans for a change.
The recipe calls for four cups of string beans, cut in one inch lengths, two cups of sliced unpeeled carrots, 1/2 teaspoon of salt, pepper to taste, three table-spoons of water.
Arrange a layer of beans in a

HOW CAN I ???
By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I remove grass stains?
A. Grass stains will disappear if dipped in molasses. Allow the molasses to remain on the stains for a short time, then wash the article in the usual way.
Q. What is a home remedy for painful burns?
A. Apply a paste of common baking soda and water. Or scrape a raw potato and apply as a poultice.
Q. How can I remove car grease from wash materials?
A. By rubbing lard on the spots before laundering.

TODAY IN SPORT

SPORT PAGE Comments

In looking back over the arrangements made for sport in connection with the recent visit of H.M.C.S. Uganda and Crescent one is glad to give credit to the organization by the central committee that made the many functions held during the five-day visit so successful.

Surely it emphasizes what has already been advocated in these columns—that is, the formation of a co-ordinating committee for all the different sports in the city. These ships will be returning to Prince Rupert from time to time. Knowing this, it should be apparent to everyone that it is desirable to have a continuing committee, a committee that is familiar with what has been done and what perhaps was not so well done so that in future everything may be better done.

It is also desirable for our own city athletic activities. There was a tremendous amount of work done behind the scenes. The setting up of the boxing ring is a big job. Then it had to be taken down and stored away so as to be readily available for future shows. The arranging of the gymnasium for the lacrosse game entailed a lot of work. In this connection it will be necessary to have the whole of the spectator accommodation screened off. That will take time, equipment and organization. The marking out of football, baseball and fastball grounds must be properly done and done by people who know how.

The success of the past week's activities is a matter of congratulation to those responsible. The future success of such similar activities will depend on good organization and the answer to this is a city-wide co-ordinating council.

The Canadian Legion took the lead in calling the meeting that resulted in the formation of the committee that handled last week's entertainment. Perhaps they could take steps to see that this committee continues or a similar one is formed. The returned man knows the value of co-operation of "all arms." But it is every citizen's responsibility.

NEW FASTBALL SEMI-FINALS ARE LINED UP

Complicated Schedule Situation Revised to Give All Teams Equal Chance

The fastball committee went into a huddle over the rather complicated situation at the end of the league schedule and, having vented their wrath on Jupiter Pluvius, came up with what they feel is a very fair and satisfactory solution.

A draw was held to determine the teams which will meet each other in a best two out of three series. All six teams in the men's league will thus have an equal chance of catching a play-off berth. The three winners of these games will then be drawn for a semi-final and final play-off.

Games will be played on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, as before and, as soon as the winners of this series have been declared, the final draw will be made.

The schedule for the first games follows and if third games are necessary they will be played on the succeeding Wednesday or Friday.

SHORT SPORT

British soccer clubs whose finances and property suffered during the war have been given permission by the Football Association to stage exhibition matches Aug. 24 and during the following week. The league season opens officially Aug. 31.

The veteran George Patrick Hughes and young C. R. D. Tuckey, paired for the first time, upset all calculations in winning Britain's third successive victory in Davis Cup doubles 11 years ago. They defeated the U.S. team of Wilmer Allison and Johnny Van Ryn in five sets.

CIVIC CENTRE SWIM CLASSES ARE POPULAR

The Civic Centre sponsored swimming classes under Miss Marjorie Jackson are progressing favorably in spite of the weather.

Of a total registration of 50 would-be swimmers average classes of 30 have kept the instructional staff busy.

Miss Jackson has been assisted in her work by Laverna Linney and Betty Wide.

It is planned to present diplomas to participants at the classes if they have reached a minimum degree of efficiency by the end of the summer.

The Red Cross Water Safety awards are among those boys and girls may win and from the progress made to date by some of the pupils, it appears likely there will be many who win awards.

CASHING IN ON OUTDOOR LIFE

Central Interior Getting Organized for Hunting and Fishing, Local Man Reports

Famous for its outdoor attractions such as sport fishing and big and small game hunting, the central interior country will soon be cashing in on these resources in an organized way, according to C. H. Collins of the Daily News staff who is back from a motor tour which took him as far as Babine and Ootsa Lakes. At Pendleton Bay, Babine Lake, the provincial Forest Branch is clearing land which will become available to campers. At Ootsa Lake, a Southern California man is establishing a new lodge, which will cater to wealthy guests from the United States. There also Ed Van Tine, veteran guide and big game hunting organizer, is increasing his accommodation and he already has many big game hunting parties lined up for this fall.

Speaking of the interior crops, Mr. Collins says that hay is behind owing to the cool, cloudy weather which has characterized the season. Oats is well headed out now and looks like a good crop. Vegetables and field crops are also promising. Some of the interior farmers are beginning to lose interest in dairying, feeling they are not getting enough for their milk.

Building improvements in various interior towns were noted by Mr. Collins, particularly at Burns Lake where projects include two new garages and service stations.

Accompanied by Dick Wrathall, Mr. Collins made a real outdoor holiday of a week's motor trip to the interior. They camped alongside the road each night instead of staying in hotels. There was good fishing at Babine Lake—the average being 5 and 6-pounders with a high of 9 pounds. The fishing at Ootsa seemed to be off when they were there. Evidence of moose, bear and grouse were plentiful.

Speaking of the condition of the highway, Mr. Collins said that, except for some pot holes, the road was in very good shape.

ARE WEDDED AT TERRACE

Miss Hazel Coombs Becomes Bride of Ronald E. Cole

TERRACE — St. Andrew's Anglican Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Saturday evening when Miss Hazel M. Coombs was united in marriage to Ronald E. Cole, son of Mrs. E. Cole. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Roland Hills.

Given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Cecil Lever, the bride was a charming picture in a white sheer floor-length gown and net veil. Her bouquet was of red roses and white carnations with ferns.

Attending the bride was Miss Merle West who chose turquoise sheer, trimmed with silver lace, for the occasion. Her headdress was of turquoise blue silk roses to match her dress and she carried a bouquet of pink cluster roses and baby breath.

Garnet Jackson was groomsmen while William Donald was usher.

Music for the wedding march was played by Mrs. D. McMillan. Mrs. Fred Nash, Mrs. Norberg and Miss Freda Hall were responsible for the beautiful decorations in the church.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Terrace Hotel Cafe where over 30 guests sat down to a delicious supper. Mrs. E. Cole, mother of the bride, received the guests. The bride's table was beautifully decorated with summer flowers and centred with a three-tier wedding cake which was duly cut by the bride.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. R. Hills and responded to by the groom, while the toast to the bridesmaid was offered by Cecil Lever and suitably replied to by the groomsmen. Appropriate speeches were made by Nigel Sherwood, Frank Gavin and W. Donald.

Later in the evening the newlyweds held open house in their future home on Lakelse Avenue where many friends called to offer their felicitations.

STEWART NEWS

Latest from Portland Canal Mining Centre

STEWART—Dr. Wm. H. White, geologist with the Provincial Department of Mines, and his assistant, G. Wilcox, have arrived and will be in this district until September looking over the properties in operation and examining trail requirements. During the past week he has been over the Big Four and the and Hyder. It was a very enjoyable affair.

A fine looking Jersey bull was added to the herd of the local dairy when the Catala looked last week Bobby Hutchings had his hands full leading it to town.

Ernest McMullen sr. and his son, Ernest jr., arrived from Vancouver and they are now at work clearing the American Creek trail to the Alto Group. Mr. Alto brought in a horse to pack supplies.

NOEL TRAVERS, former resident of Hyder, Alaska, is visiting here renewing old acquaintances in both Stewart and Hyder. Mr. Traversy is now in business in Ketchikan. He was an active member of the Portland Canal Lodge, Loyal Order of Moose, when he resided in Hyder.

Manfred McGeer dropped in by plane on Thursday for a short visit and is much interested in the renewed mining activity.

Fire of unknown origin consumed the cabin rented by Lorne Dempsey and Leo Maloney. Both men were absent from the cabin at the time and when the fire was discovered it had too great a hold for anything to be recovered. The house was owned by Mrs. Fred Young and is not believed to be covered by insurance. The steamer Catala was in port at the time and everyone was busy with freight and mail.

The local union, United Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, staged the usual mid-summer sports day at Premier on Saturday, finishing up with a dance in the evening which was well attended by the residents of Stewart.

MARION KEEFE SHOWER HONOREE

Mrs. Sugden and Mrs. Cassidy Francoise Lake Hostesses

FRANCOISE LAKE—On Sunday afternoon Mrs. Sugden and Mrs. Cassidy were joint hostesses at a shower for Miss Marion Keefe who is shortly to be married. The gathering was at the Beach House and the dining room was bright with gorgeous cut flowers. After games and contests a model old-fashioned well was brought in. It had a green roof with a little green pail hanging on a rope and the well was draped around with green and yellow frills. The guest of honor sat beside this lovely model and unwrapped her gifts, which were passed around for all to see.

Several photos were taken of the gathering in the garden and then a delicious lunch was served. Miss Keefe thanked the hostesses and guests and invited any who were in Prince George later on to visit her in her new home.

WELLINGTON, N.Z. —The New Zealand government has paid out $18,000,000 in loans for the re-establishment of war veterans. Almost half of this has been paid for the purchase of homes. About $25,280,000 has been spent to buy farms and stock. The balance has been used for establishing veterans in business and for the purchase of tools and furniture.

Interior Town Receives Hundred Visiting Lodge Men

TERRACE—The Village of Terrace became host to a large number of visitors in the evening last Saturday when representatives from both Tsimpsan and Tye Lodges, Prince Rupert, and Omineca Lodge, Smithers, made a joint visit to Kitselas Lodge, A.F. & A.M., Terrace.

Following lodge in the I.O.O.F. Hall, when the officers and members of Tsimpsan Lodge exemplified the work, the visitors were entertained by Kitselas Lodge in the Terrace Hotel Cafe when over ninety members enjoyed a delicious luncheon. The Worshipful Master of Kitselas Lodge, John Hepburn, gave an address of welcome to the visitors in the course of which he made special reference to Walter Vance, thanking him in heartfelt terms for his help to Kitselas Lodge in the past. Mr. Vance replied briefly but feelingly.

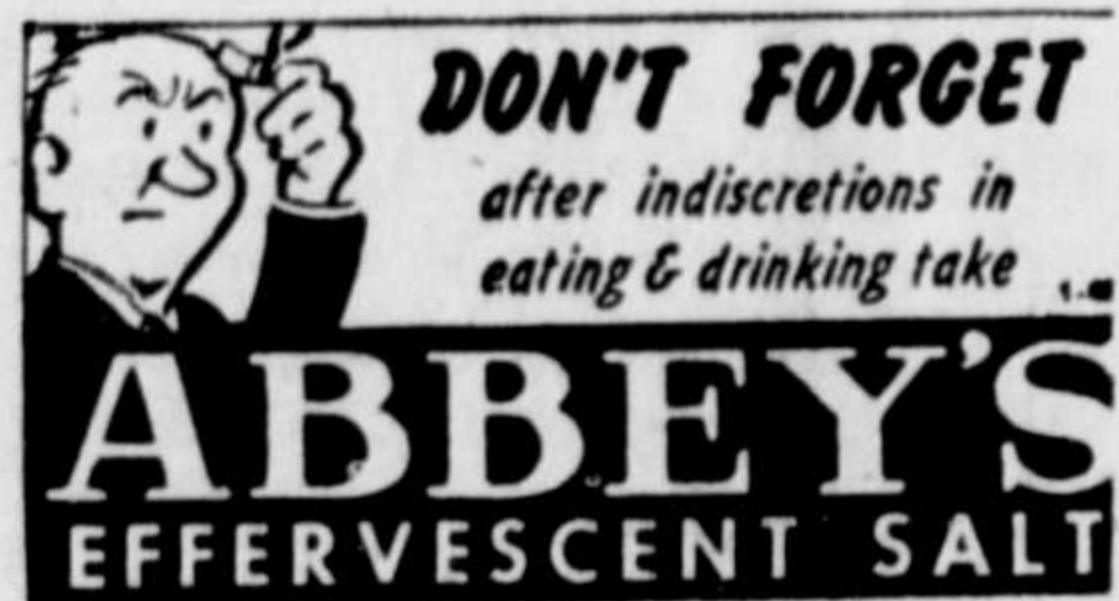

Frank Dibb, district deputy grand master, during his address made reference to the fact that there were two members present who had been members for over fifty years, namely John Hepburn and James McGlashan. There were many other distinguished speakers, several of whom made reference to the desirability of Terrace, owing to geographical location, being a suitable meeting place where the lodges located in the district could have future get-togethers which they felt would be beneficial to all.

On Sunday morning a Church parade was held, when over seventy members attended the Anglican Church. The sermon was delivered by Rt. Rev. Bishop Gibson and pertained to Masonry. He emphasized the similarity of lodge work to the work of the Christian church and hoped that first place would always be given to Christianity. The lesson was read by Harry King.

The visitors included: Gilbert Campbell, J. B. Gibson, H. Calderwood, Frank Dibb, R. W. Champion, S. E. Parker, C. H. Elkins, W. D. Vance, N. H. Kilpatrick, H. W. Birch, J. L. MacIntosh, S. A. Presentation of Gyro Candidate

After receiving a formal presentation at the weekly luncheon today of Miss Chrissie Montgomery, their attractive young candidate for the "Port Queen" contest during the forthcoming Civic Centre Carnival week, the Prince Rupert Gyro Club members resolved to get strongly behind her with active support. Allan Armstrong is chairman of the Gyro campaign committee. President W. D. Lambie was in the chair at today's luncheon and there was a good attendance of members with a few guests.

20 YEARS AGO

July 31, 1926

A species of jellyfish known as Portuguese Man-of-War invaded the waters of Queen Charlotte Islands in vast numbers. Averaging about 12 inches in diameter, the jellyfish were so thick that they made the water look "like a field of glass." Usually these jellyfish are seen only in tropical waters.

Premier Arthur Meighen was expected to arrive in Prince Rupert on a campaign speech after which he was scheduled to proceed east to Edmonton.

Crescoto piling to be used in the construction of the new Union Oil dock opposite P. Burns warehouse arrived in the city from Anyox. John Currie & Son had the contract.

Griffiths was the father of 12 children and he decided to take them all to the seaside.

They set off, reached the station, got their tickets, and were about to enter the train, when the proud parent was touched on the shoulder by a policeman.

"What have you been doing?" the "cop" demanded.

"Me? Why nothing!" stammered the surprised man.

The policeman waved his hand towards the family.

"Then why," he asked, "is this crowd following you?"

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Q. If a young man is engaged to be married should he present it if the girl's father asks him questions pertaining to his financial affairs, business position and health?

A. No; the father has a perfect right to be concerned about everything that might affect the happiness of his daughter.

Q. Isn't it all right for two persons who meet each other on the street to stop for a chat?

A. Yes, but they should always step to one side so that other pedestrians do not have to walk around them.

Q. In what way should invitations be recalled?

A. By telephone or by written note.

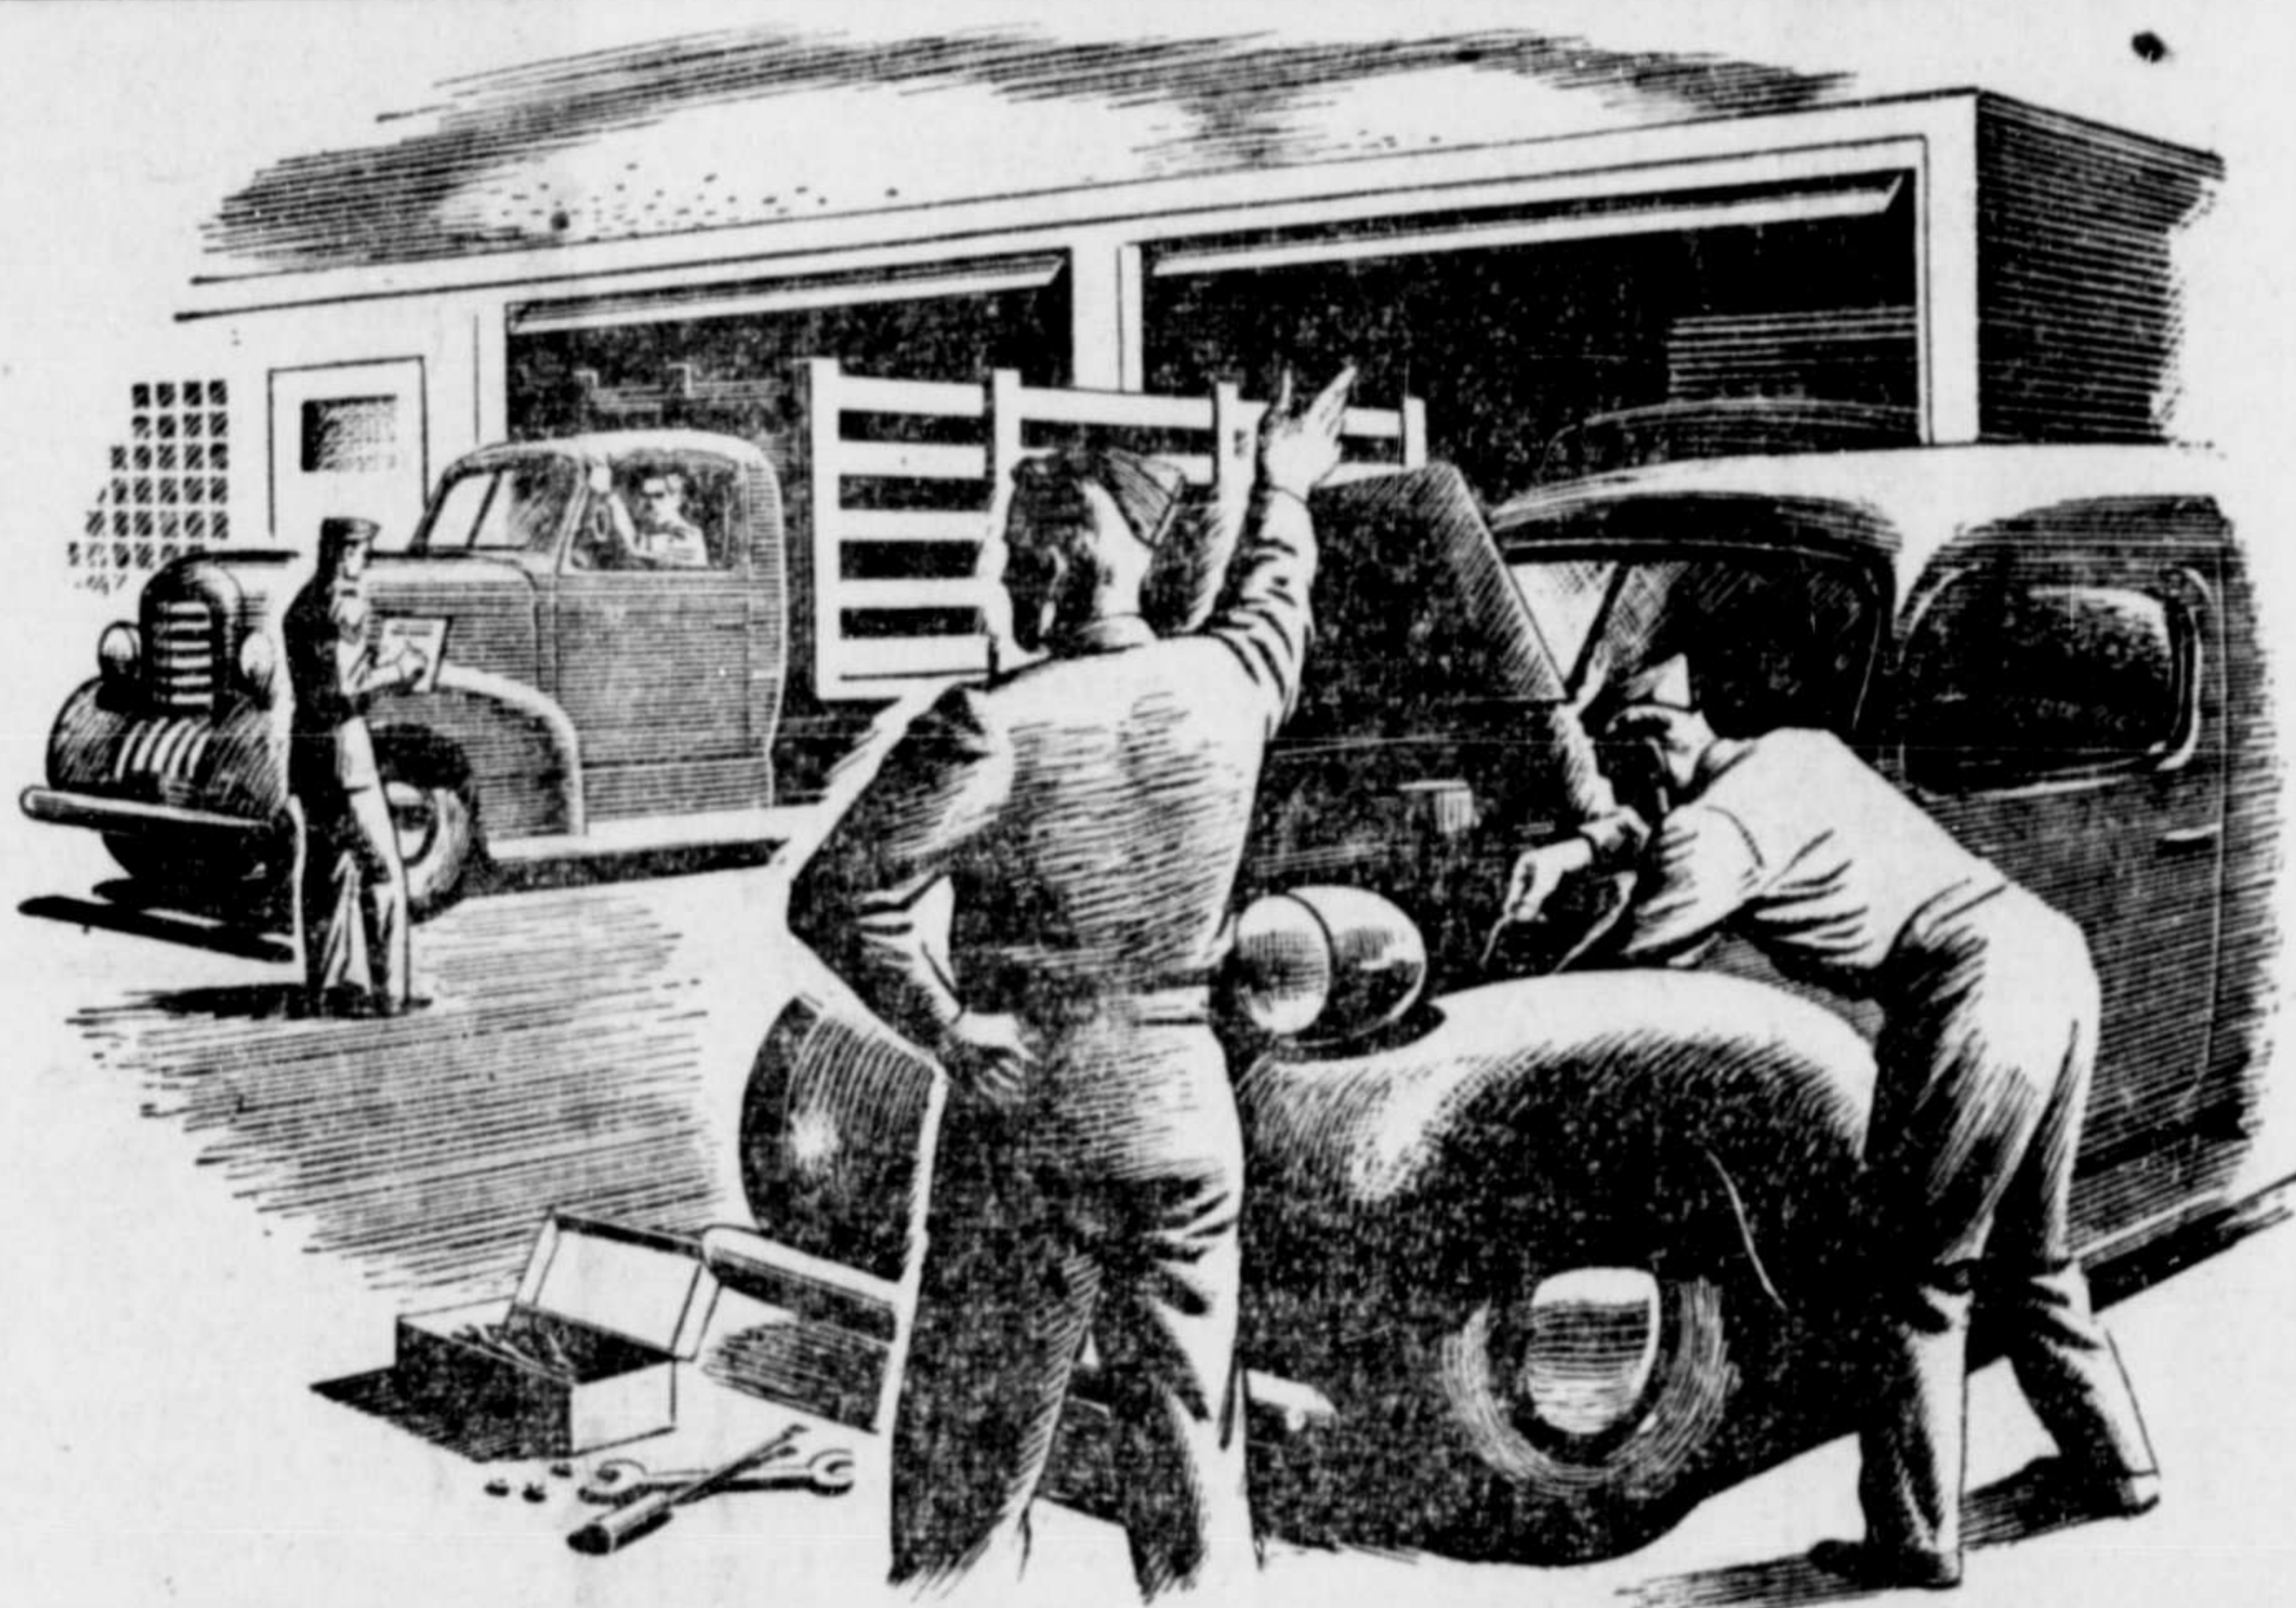

Mistress—"Marie, you were entertaining a man in the kitchen last night, weren't you?"

Maid—"That's for him to say, ma'am. But I did my best."
