When the smoke lifted the Left was four seats to the good and the Communists emerged as the strongest of the political parties.

First Election in Fourteen Years Being Held There

ST. JOHN'S, Newfoundland (CP) — Exercising their franchise for the first time in fourteen years, Newfoundlanders today voted to choose the national convention which will shape the governmental destiny of the British Empire's oldest settlement. It is an election devoid of contentious issues even to the point of absence of any organized parties among the 100-odd candidates.

- In electing 42 members to the convention, a representative body will be set up which will suggest the form of government to replace the commission which has governed the island since 1934.
- Ultimate choice of the people depends upon the outcome of a referendum, and here are some of the possibilities:
1. Resumption of self-government, lost since 1934.
  2. Continuation of the commission, responsible only to London.
  3. A combined form of government with both elected representatives and Crown-appointed members.
  4. Federation with Canada.

BRITISH COLUMBIA JR. CHAMBERS COMMERCE TO CONVENE HERE 1947

Local Man Named Regional Counsellor For Northern B.C.—Province Urged to Take Over Local Highway
Prince Rupert will be the venue of the 1947 British Columbia regional convention of Junior Chambers of Commerce of Canada, an annual gathering, the 1946 session of which drew to Prince George last week 125 delegates in motor cars from all parts of the province. The invitation to hold next year's convention was extended at the Prince George meeting by the local delegate, Alf Rivett, and was accepted with enthusiasm. It was the first time that Prince Rupert Junior Chamber of Commerce had been represented by an official delegate at any such gathering. Mr. Rivett was named district counsellor for central and northern British Columbia, his jurisdiction taking in the Junior Chambers of Prince Rupert, Prince George and Dawson Creek in the Peace River Block.

Mr. Rivett who returned home from the convention earlier this week, told the Daily News in interview of the proceedings. The local Junior Chamber offered one resolution and received the convention's endorsement. This resolution asked the provincial government to take over the Prince Rupert Highway and assume responsibility for its maintenance.

The local delegate presenting a report for the local Chamber, took opportunity to set forth the many advantages and opportunities of Prince Rupert as a city and port and evoked considerable enthusiastic interest among the delegates. They were particularly anxious to hear more about the local Civic Centre project which is becoming known as a model for the rest of the country.

Mr. Rivett arrived at Prince George about the same time last Thursday that the caravan of delegates was reaching the interior from the south to receive an official welcome from Mayor Jack Nicholson and George Haddon, president of the Prince George Junior Chamber. The Prince Rupert delegate was among those who were called upon to give messages over the Prince George radio that evening.

Friday morning the actual convention sessions got under way, continuing in the afternoon after a recess for luncheon at the Prince George Hotel. Dinner in the evening was followed by a dance in the C.C.F. Hall where visiting delegates, wives and friends were the honored guests.

Situation in North Ontario And Quebec Described As Explosive
TORONTO — Forest fires are raging in different spots in Ontario's northland all the way from the lakehead east to Timmins, Sault Ste. Marie and Cochrane. Foresters said the situation was "ready to explode." A battle is on to prevent the flames from reaching lumber camps.

At St. Anne des Monts in Quebec 25 homes of wood construction were destroyed by fire and about 200 persons are homeless at Colonie St. Bernard south of that settlement. The flames spread unhindered, there being no firefighting facilities.

CROPS NEED MORE RAIN

Scattered Showers and Heavy Falls of Past Week Helped
WINNIPEG — Western crop conditions have improved during the past week as a result of scattered showers and heavy rains which have occurred in many sections, but practically the whole west would welcome additional precipitation, according to the weekly crop report of the Department of Agriculture of the Canadian National Railways.

In sections which received little rain, additional moisture is required at once to ensure an average crop. This applies to some points in southern Manitoba and to central Saskatchewan, the latter having received considerably less than normal precipitation since April 1.

Warm weather and light showers prevailed in the Okanagan area where the fruit crop is progressing favorably. Cherries will be moved to market about June 25, providing containers are available at that time. Otherwise large bulk movement of ripe fruit is a possibility.

ORIENT AND PR. RUPERT

THE MARKET across the Pacific is seen by Hon. James A. MacKinnon, federal minister of trade and commerce, as one of two great new opportunities for the expansion of Canadian export business. Such a realization by Mr. MacKinnon is of particular interest and significance to Prince Rupert. It is hard to visualize any development of Canada's trade and commerce with the great outlets across the Pacific without taking into account Prince Rupert's strategic position. Therefore Prince Rupert may be expected to loom large in any attentions that Mr. MacKinnon's department may pay in that direction.

The Minister of Trade and Commerce, as is well known, has been very active in the development of Canada's trade with Latin America and there has been a good measure of success resulting from that activity. It is gratifying to hear that Mr. MacKinnon is now realizing the possibilities across the Pacific. An Edmonton man himself, he is doubtless cognizant and appreciative of the possibilities of Prince Rupert in that connection.

The Chamber of Commerce, at its last meeting, expressed desire that a federal cabinet minister should soon favor this place with a visit. There could be no more timely such visitor than Mr. MacKinnon.

THEN A FLYING CLUB

SUCH TOWNS as Terrace, Smithers, Vanderhoof and Prince George have their local flying clubs where competent instructors, many of whom are available these days in the personnel of new veterans of the Royal Canadian Air Force in the recent war, give instruction in various phases of flying to local enthusiasts. Such clubs were becoming popular in many of the larger cities even before the war. Now they are being organized all over the country—in almost every community, large or small, where there is a flying field.

No doubt there will be a flying club in Prince Rupert once the municipal air base, the opportunity for which is now available, requiring only the city to avail itself of highly reasonable terms, becomes established here. Aviation is still one of the newer vocations or hobbies, whichever one may choose to make it. To be able to encourage aviation among local young men and women will be another of the advantages of having a public air base here.

DON'T QUIT

THERE ARE TIMES when doubt and discouragement confront even the most valiant—when we seem up against a stone wall in which there is no gate. We see no way out of our immediate problems and these swamp us—mentally and spiritually.

Then is the time to stop and take stock of the situation. To look at things in their proper perspective, to see what in our own thoughts is the stumbling block.

It was Shakespeare who said "Our doubts are traitors, and make us lose the good we oft might win by fearing to attempt." Long before him, Seneca had said, "A great pilot can sail even when his sail is rent." To both men the cure for defeat—for doubt and discouragement—was action.

Be not afraid of the outcome. Your fear is of your own ability, not of outside circumstances. Have faith in yourself and go ahead. Don't be afraid of doing too much. It is better to wear out than to rust out.

There is something you can do. Decide what it is—and do it!

"Success is failure turned inside out—
The silver tint of the cloud of doubt,
And you never can tell how close you are,
It may be near when it seems afar;
So stick to the fight when you're hardest hit—
It's when things seem worst that you must not quit."
—Ruth Taylor.

His Career Is Thriller

Thrilling Career of Sir Bernard Freyberg, New Zealand's Governor-General, Dates Back to First Great War

By J. C. GRAHAM
Canadian Press Correspondent
AUCKLAND, N.Z. (P)—Lt.-Gen. Sir Bernard Freyberg, V.C., about to become Governor-General of New Zealand, has had a career that reads like a thriller and dates back to the First Great War. The men who fought under him in the last six years have another set of stories again—stories of times when things were particularly "sticky", when the men laughed at their general's indifference to danger and in the process restored their own failing spirits.

They told of how, going down the "Mad Mile" from the Casino front, a stretch never taken at less than flat out, he suddenly ordered his truck to be stopped in spite of heavy shellfire. Then he calmly walked over into an adjoining field to pick a bunch of flowers.

They told of how, travelling with his aide and a senior officer through a particularly dangerous sector, he suddenly called out "Listen!"

"Did you hear a nightingale?" demanded Freyberg.
"No, sir, I can't say I did," replied the astounded aide.

From the back seat of the jeep the senior officer growled, "Of course you heard a nightingale. Get moving."

Freyberg, who stands six feet in his socks and is broad in proportion, was invariably known as Tiny by his men. He was the very reverse of a rear area general. The troops declared that whenever they saw Tiny they began to get frightened because they knew they must be far too close to the enemy.

They told many stories of his concern for the welfare of his men. He showed a genius for obtaining the best hotel in each important city as a New Zealand rest centre. His technique was best shown in Venice. The capture of this city was assigned to an English division, but they arrived to find a New Zealand garrison already installed in the famous Danielli hotel and there it stayed until the hotel was officially assigned to the New Zealanders days later.

Conventions Scorned

New Zealanders are a very democratic race and take little notice of conventions observed in other armies. A senior English general complained to Freyberg that the New Zealanders never saluted him. "Try waving," replied Freyberg. "I always do that, and they always wave back."

Freyberg's decorations include the GCMG, KCB, KBE, VC, DSO and three bars, and numerous foreign awards. They take up six rows of ribbons on his tunic. The troops claim that a man in divisional workshops spent most of his time devising an elaborate frame for mounting the ribbons. He looked at the newspaper each day with dread in case Freyberg had won another award and he had to reorganize his frame all over again.

Trained as a dentist in New Zealand, he soon tired of so unexciting an occupation, and when the First Great War broke out he was fighting for Pancho Villa in Mexico. A great distance swimmer who came within half a mile of crossing the English Channel, he won his first DSO at Gallipoli. With his skin painted khaki he swam the Gulf of Xeros at night towing a line of flares. The manoeuvre immobilized a whole Turkish army, whose officers thought an attack was developing. Such single-handed exploits have remained dear to him until the present day. Field Marshal Montgomery had trouble dissuading him from swimming the Sangro in Italy to make a personal reconnaissance of enemy territory. Once in the Western Desert he cap-

Mr. C. has dreamed up this creation for the fall trade. He's counting on its being a sensational success. And it will be... but later.

In the meantime he's short of cash. He's used up most of his working capital to buy materials. He needs money to keep his factory going, to pay his workmen, to meet other bills.

So he borrows from the Royal Bank and doesn't lose a day. And when his customers pay him, Cholmondeley pays off the bank.

It's as simple as that—a typical everyday transaction between this bank and one of its business customers.

Whifflets
From The Waterfront

Canadian Pacific steamer
Princess Norah, Capt. Graham
O. Hughes, docked here shortly before 9 o'clock this morning with 109 passengers, 48 of which were round trip tourists, bound for the Alaska ports. There were no passengers for Prince Rupert. The vessel sailed again at 11:30 and will be back here next Wednesday afternoon southbound.

Possibility that the Union
Steamships Islands steamer Cassiar, Capt. Lorne Godfrey, may be required to make a special shuttle to the south Islands on Monday to transport loggers returning to the Queen Charlottes camps was foreseen here this morning by Purser Reg Stover of the Cassiar. The Cassiar docked here at 11:30 last night from Vancouver via South Queen Charlotte Island points, the earliest landing she has made here in a long time. The end of the logging strike may mean that the Princess Adelaide will be carrying a number of loggers here for the Islands which may mean a special trip for the Cassiar. The vessel brought two passengers from the south Islands this morning. She is remaining in port to connect with the Cardena, due here from Vancouver this evening, and will sail at 11 p.m. for Massett Inlet whence she is due back here Sunday.

Union steamer Cardena, Capt.
Alex McLennan, is due in port at 11 o'clock tonight from Vancouver and way points and will sail early tomorrow morning on her return south.

LONDON (P)—Gunners' mates
in the Navy will be called gunner instructors in future. The name
"mate" handicaps men trying different meaning in industry.

One Fight After Another—Aftermath of Heavyweight Title Bout

WASHINGTON, D.C. (CP)—Representative Donald L. O'Toole of Brooklyn, calling the Louis-Corn fight of Wednesday night a "national fraud and scandal" and asking for an investigation of the bout, said the "whole fight set-up in New York is false."

Promoter Mike Jacobs replied that O'Toole was "hollering" because he was refused free tickets.

Later O'Toole said he would sue Jacobs for $100,000 damage for the remark about tickets.

Jim Tobin tossed his second no-hitter for the season for the seventh-place Boston Braves two years ago, shutting out Philadelphia Phillies 7-0 in a National League game halted by darkness after five innings of play. Granny volunteered to after her four-year old grandchild while his parents went to pictures. Tucking him in she whispered:

"All right, my dear, get ready for your bedtime story."

"Not tonight, please, granny murmured.

"Then shall I sing you a lullaby?" asked the grandmother.

"No, thanks," said the year old, "No lullaby."

Granny was perplexed.

"Then what can I do for my child?" she asked.

"Well," proposed the "suppose you take a walk let me get some sleep."

THE NEW B. F. Goodrich SILVERTOWNS

OUTWEAR PRE-WAR TIRES BECAUSE THEY'RE BUILT IN A COMPLETELY NEW WAY

They are made of a new kind of rubber, developed by B. F. Goodrich. Because of this, they run cooler and they wear longer.

A newly designed tire body permits the use of better cords and more of them. This gives the new Silvertowns 35% greater body strength . . . greater resistance to bruising.

Both the Life-Saver Silvertown with its famous quick-stopping, windshield-wiper action tread; and the L.D. Silvertown, with its quiet-running circumferential bars, embody all the new longer-mileage features.

They are the greatest mileage tires of all time . . . built by B. F. Goodrich, makers of over 32,000 articles of rubber, including footwear and industrial rubber products.

Weekly Ration Fashion for a family of four

SUN.	MON.	TUE.	WED.	THUR.	FRI.	SAT.
Boiled Tongue	Veal Fricassee	Macaroni & Cheese	Stuffed Flank Steak	Cold Flank Steak	Fish	Frankfurters
unrationed	Group C	unrationed	Group B	left-over	unrationed	Group E
	1 1/2 lbs.		2 lbs.			1 lb.
	6 tokens		1 coupon 3 tokens			3 tokens
1 coupon for beef shank 4 tokens left over Monthly Sugar Preserves
	7 lbs. sugar		1 24-oz. jar jam or marmalade
	7 coupons		2 tins fruit
			1 coupon

Tongue can be served hot with a tangy sauce or cold in jellied form, according to the dictates of the weather. If you haven't had Sunday guests you should have a useful left-over for week-day lunches. Billed for Monday is a veal fricassee, toothsome and tempting. Macaroni, baked in a nippy cheese sauce is an excellent dairy dish for meatless Tuesday, and calls for a sprightly toss of salad vegetables. Your stale bread may be converted into a good dressing to stuff and stretch a beef flank to be served hot on Wednesday and sliced cold for Thursday. Friday is for fish. Frankfurters are suggested for Saturday, in keeping with the summer picnic spirit. A beef shank provides the base for a hearty vegetable soup. It can help to replace the usual sandwich lunch, thus saving bread for which the hungry abroad are crying. Also saved from the week's eating are four tokens.

On June 20th, two sugar-preserves coupons, S 15 and S 16 become valid. Accordingly, a family of four will have a total of eight coupons for sweets spending. The advancing season making fresh fruits more plentiful can mean many simply-prepared and sugar-saving desserts. It is therefore an opportune time to spare some sugar from your regular coupon allotment to preserve fruit for winter usage. Your present shelf stocks may need extending with a jar of bread spread or couple of tins of fruit which are budgeted for in the above purchase pattern.

Seasonable Ideas for Housekeepers

FROZEN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES BECOME INCREASINGLY POPULAR

Cold storage locker plants are sprouting everywhere like mushrooms. Home freezing units are also on the market. Although as yet few people own these home freezers and there are still many places where there are no cold storage locker plants, most people have heard of this method of food preservation and want to know more about it. Owners of large fruit and vegetable gardens are particularly interested.

Proof of the growing interest is apparent every day. It is with this thought in mind that the following information is given. The methods used are practically the same as those used commercially but on a smaller scale and the results obtained are very similar.

Containers for packing fruits and vegetables for freezing may include heavily waxed cylindrical cartons with slip-over or slip-in lids, oblong cartons with bag liners, honey or jam tins. (except for rhubarb) or glass sealers, particularly those with wide mouths.

In freezing, selection of fruits and vegetables is most important. Only the highest quality, picked at the right stage of maturity, that is, those at the perfect stage for table use, should be chosen. Variety is also important, as all varieties of every fruit or vegetable do not give equally good results.

FREEZING STRAWBERRIES

Choose firm, fully ripe berries. Wash, sort, hull. Slice or leave whole, and pack in containers, using the dry or wet pack.

For dry pack allow one pound (2 cups) sugar for each four pounds (about 12 cups) prepared strawberries. Sift the sugar over the berries in alternate layers in containers, or mix sugar and berries in a bowl, stirring and crushing slightly. Let stand until sugar is dissolved then fill containers leaving half an inch headspace.

For wet pack place berries in container and cover with a medium syrup made by dissolving one cup of sugar in one cup of warm water. Chill syrup before using. This amount of fore serving. Canteloupe is most suitable in fruit cup.

Strawberries and most fruits packed in dry sugar are ideal for use in pies, pudding and other desserts. Fruits such as strawberries, raspberries and peaches are excellent for shortcake or as a topping for ice cream. Whole strawberries, raspberries, blueberries and sliced peaches may be served as fresh fruit.

HOW CAN I ???

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I make a good and very simple dessert?
A. When there is no company and one desires to make a simple dessert, place whipped cream between two thin wafers and serve.

Q. How can I simplify the task of replacing elastic in a garment?
A. By sewing the new elastic to one end of the old, then pull the opposite end of the old. In this way the new elastic will be pulled through.

Q. How can I preserve cut flowers?
A. Immerse the stems in water containing a few drops of sulphate of amonia.

ANTIQUE BUG BITES HARD

Furniture Scarcity Big Factor in Demand For Antiques

NEW YORK ©—People now buying antiques want them first of all to be functional. Dealers say the scarcity of good contemporary furniture has driven man new customers to antiques. "Once a couple acquires a pair of 18th century chairs, a French table or old copper lamp base, antique shopping will be a chronic thing in their marriage," says decorator Evelyn Hope Daniels, niece of Josephus Daniels, ex-American ambassador to Mexico.

The last period to enjoy a craze, was the Victorian, which officially isn't antique yet. Present interpretation insists that an antique be more than 100 years old.

But, according to Miss Daniels, nostalgia may set in before antiquity. Right now things only 20 years old (hand-painted china, cut glass, and other characteristic pieces) which only a few years ago could be bought for a few dollars, suddenly cost fifty times as much. These cycles occur, she believes, because each generation gets a thrill out of collecting things from its own childhood.

Some sensitive souls, conscious of furniture trends, have tremblingly waited for the once-stigmatized Victorian furniture to be followed by a revival of "Golden Oak." But they needn't worry.

"The oak will come back only in bleached or pickled or some other modernized form, never with the hard shine it had originally," says a Connecticut dealer.

Dealers say everything sells in pairs today. Old vases, urns, fragments of columns can be made into lamp bases but must come in pairs to meet customers' demands.

MAORI MONUMENT
AUCKLAND, N.Z. ©—On the fringe of New Zealand's wild forest-clad Urewera country, in an almost hidden valley midway between Whakatane and Murupara, there is a unique monument erected by Maori farmers in memory of a Maori soldier who died in the Second Great War.

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Q. Is it good form for a girl to accept what is known as "a blind date"?

A. Yes, if she is willing to run the risk of being thrown into the companionship of a man who may not be desirable. It is better not to do so.

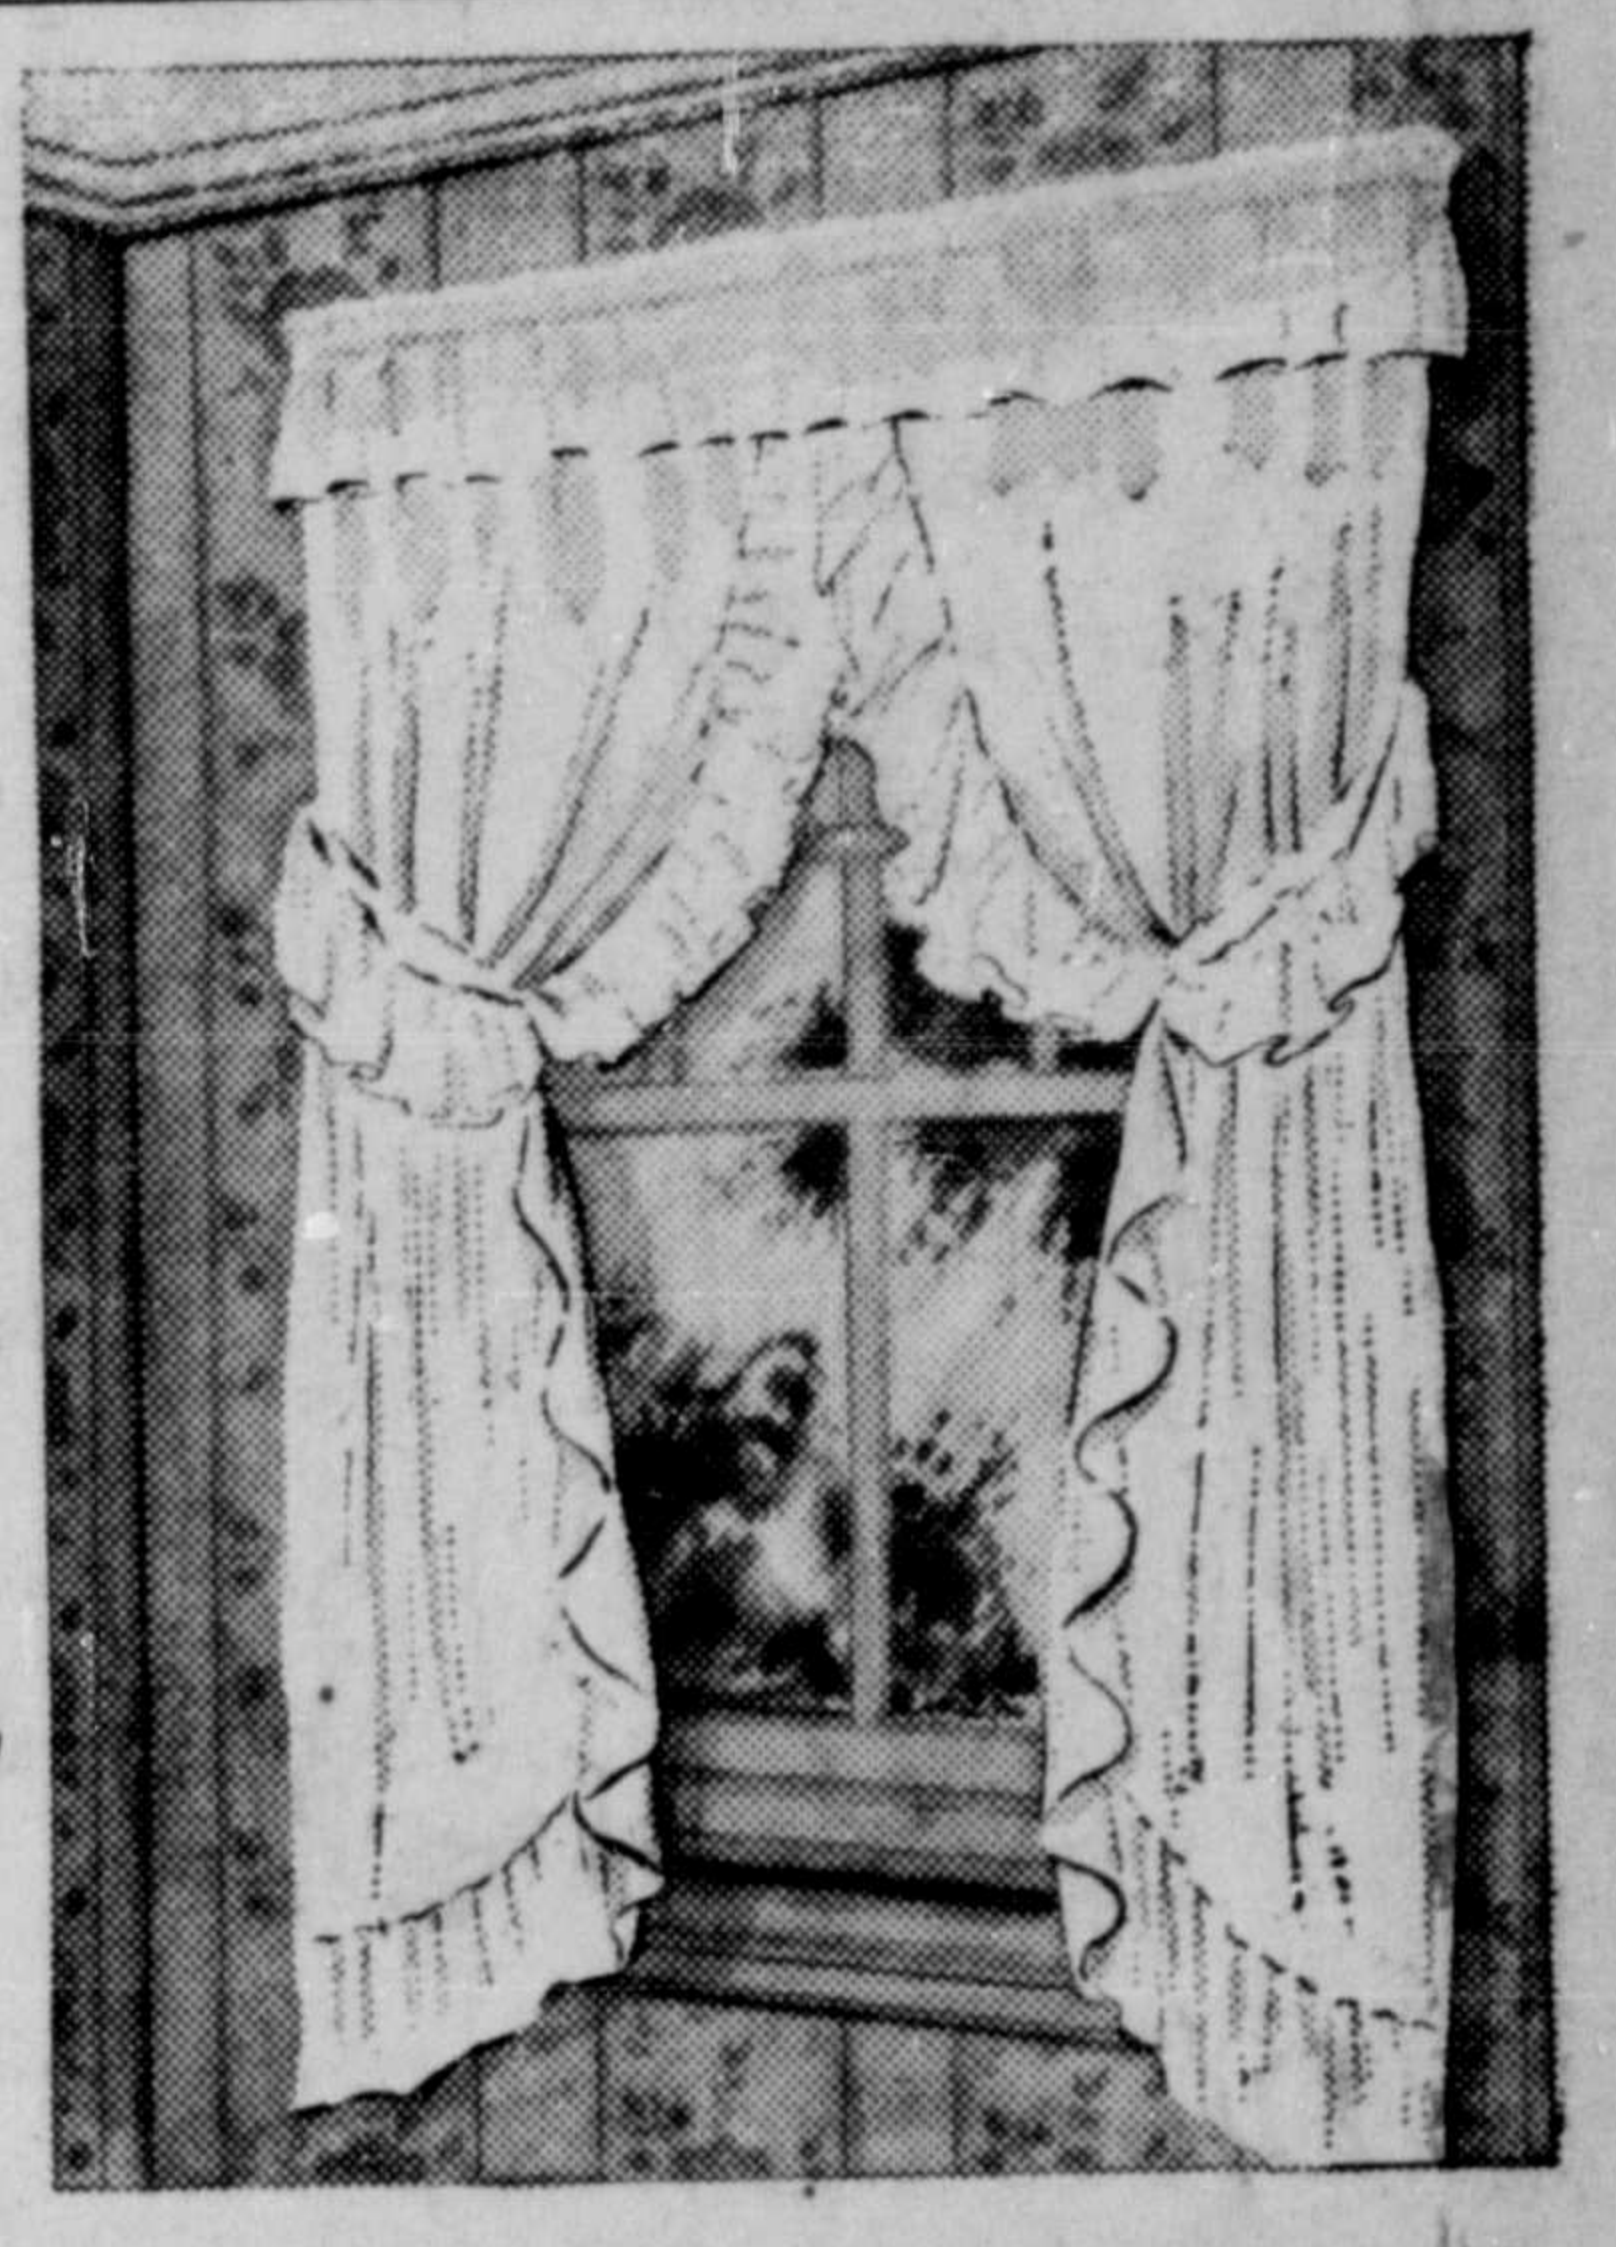

Q. How should one serve bread and butter at a luncheon?

A. Provide small bread and butter plates, with small knives, placing them at the upper left-hand sides of the plates.

Q. When a girl who is accompanied by two men, enters a public conveyance, should she sit between the two men?

A. Yes.

sound-proofing material called "Fibro-glass," and an entirely new type of heating system maintains the cabin temperature at an even 70 degrees throughout its length by automatic electronic controls. The wall coverings consist of materials developed by the plastics industry during the war. Color schemes were designed by an interior decorator to present a pleasing appearance. The side-walls from windows to baggage racks are powder blue and the lower walls, from the floor to the lower edge of the windows are blue-gray. Above the racks the walls and ceilings are cream-yellow. The carpets are deep blue. The upholstered chairs are of a dull shade of rose-clay, with side panels picking up the blue of the carpets and the arms rests of blue-gray leather.

The 21 chairs are arranged in a single row and a double row. They are provided with individual ventilators, reading lights, ash trays and call buttons. They are of the latest type, recently designed by the Douglas Company, and are adjustable to reclining position.

A new type of galley will enable the stewardess to serve hot meals to the passengers. It is finished in buffed aluminum. The cabinets are fitted with roll-top covers which slide down so that food and utensils are not exposed. There is, in addition to the heated food compartments, a space for vacuum bottles. Meals will be served on fibre trays with plastic dishes and lightweight cutlery.

The operation of 21-passenger type airliners will be in the territory between Montreal, Ottawa, New York, Chicago and Cleveland, to be followed by services in the Maritime Provinces and Western Canada.

Arvida, the home of Canada's aluminum industry, has one of Canada's finest recreation centres.

BEN PARKER IS MOURNED
Many Smithers People Gathered for Final Rites Over Retired School Teacher

SMITHERS—Citizens of Smithers and district are mourning the loss of a well loved citizen and friend in the passing of Ben Parker. About two weeks ago Mr. Parker suffered a stroke and was taken last week to hospital where he passed away on Tuesday morning at the age of 90. Mr. Parker was an active member of the Anglican Church choir and other church and community organizations right up to the time he was taken ill.

The funeral service was held on Wednesday afternoon at the Anglican Church with Canon C. A. Hinchliffe officiating. The choir was in attendance and Mrs. J. Ross attended at the organ. Rev. Canon C. A. Hinchliffe spoke very fittingly of the service Mr. Parker had rendered to so many people of Canada during the 57 years he taught school and also of the service to the community here since his retirement from teaching. Canon Hinchliffe ended his message by remarking that Mr. Parker's friends and relatives could best honor him by carrying on in his place in service to the community and church. Interment was made in Smithers Cemetery and pallbearers were Messrs. Kilpatrick, Workman, Champion, Hoskins, Fowler and Tordiffe.

Mr. Parker was born in Longbridge, Deveril, near Warminster, Wiltshire, England, on May 3, 1856. At the age of 16 he came to Ontario where he completed his schooling and entered the teaching profession in 1875. After teaching there until 1909 he moved to Edmonton and taught there until his retirement in 1934 having completed 59 years of teaching. His wife predeceased him in 1914. He was a past master of the Masonic Lodge in Edmonton.

Expansion Possibilities Are Surveyed by Terrace Organization

TERRACE, Terrace Co-operative Association held a meeting Tuesday in the Oddfellows' Hall with Fred Thomas in the chair and Floyd Frank acting as secretary. The hall was well filled with members and people interested in the Co-operative idea.

Statement of business done during the past six months showed a healthy growth.

Several important subjects were dealt with by Chairman Thomas and several others who joined in discussions on the prospects of local producers supplying other markets besides the local one which is limited in its scope. A committee was appointed to make a survey of local prospects in poultry products, fruits, dairy products, vegetables and roots, honey and both cut flowers and plants for setting out. It was felt that the conditions in and around Terrace warranted efforts to get into the markets in these lines.

An interesting item on the agenda was the offer on advantageous terms of one of the local sawmills. A committee was named to look into this as it was felt it might eventually prove to be a great boon to the locality. At present prices local farmers are finding it difficult to keep their buildings and fences in proper shape.

The Co-op will soon be setting up an up-to-date egg grading outfit with a view to capturing the Prince Rupert egg market.

Many other matters came up for some talk and, before the meeting adjourned, a vote of thanks was accorded to J. Campbell who is retiring from management of the store for his efficient help during the past months. J. Bird, the new manager, was introduced by the chairman.
