Truman's Veto— OPA Bill Is Rejected

President Exercises Prerogative In Order to Head Off Inflation in United States

WASHINGTON, D.C. (P)—President Truman today vetoed the controversial Office of Price Administration bill. The President said that the cost of a low-priced automobile would jump by $225 to $1250 if the bill became law. He declared that, to figure the exact total cost would be like trying to estimate the cost of a fire about to sweep a city. He estimated the cost of building materials would rise an average of twenty percent and there would be major rises in food, clothing, farm machinery and many other items.

The President took action which Economic Stabilizer Chester Bowles had urged in resigning in protest at the bill—an action which Congressional Democratic leaders said would mean the death knell of all price controls Sunday night.

Mr. Truman said that extension of the bill presented to him by Congress offered no choice between continued price stability and inflation. "The bill continues the government's responsibility to stabilize economy and at the same time destroys its power to do so," he said.

The President called upon Congress to "act now" on a bill to give the United States adequate assurance of completing a successful transition to sound peacetime economy.

CALVES GO TO SOUTH AMERICA BY AIR—This bunch of pure-bred Guernsey calves are carving out their own niche in history. They are the first cattle to be shipped to a distant port by air. They took off from Teterboro airport, N.J., in a DC-3 of the Willis Air Service, Inc., of New York, bound for Colombia. The trip will cut approximately 50 days from the time it takes to go by sea. The Guerneys are to be used in Colombia for breeding purposes. Agricultural experts are interested in the venture, pointing out that hitherto cattle transported by sea have taken from six months to a year to recover from the rigors of a sea voyage.

ABOARD U.S.S. APPALACHIAN AT BIKINI ATOLL (CP)—Those concerned with "Operation Crossroads" made ready today to evacuate Bikini Lagoon, leaving only a ghost fleet of fifty old warships as "guinea pigs" for the world's fourth atomic bomb explosion. The first was in an experimental area in New Mexico during the war. The second and third were at Hiroshima and Nagasaki in Japan.

Vice-Admiral W. H. Blandy, commander of the atomic task force, will announce Sunday morning (3 p.m. Prince Rupert Standard Time today) whether the bombs will be dropped as scheduled. He explained that the test can be made any day now when the sky is not more than half covered with clouds. He thought conditions would be favorable either Monday or within the succeeding three or four days. There is a fifty-fifty chance the bomb will be dropped Monday as planned.

YOUTH HURT AS CAR, MOTORBIKE HIT ON STREET

A youthful motorcyclist narrowly escaped possible serious injury last night when his motorcycle collided with an automobile at the corner of McBride Street and Sixth Avenue. The accident interrupted a fastball game and caused a traffic jam as bystanders crowded around the two vehicles.

Benny Olsen, driver of the motorcycle, suffered a hand injury and shock when his machine piled into the right hand fender of a car driven by Miss Alma Dybbavn as the latter swung off McBride Street onto Sixth Avenue East. Olsen was travelling north on McBride. Both were moving at low speed.

The collision hurled Olsen into the air, and wedged the motorcycle tightly under the mud-guard of the car, where it was removed later with considerable difficulty. Andy McNaughton, a passenger in the car, called Dr. C. H. Hankinson who treated Olsen at the hospital. The youth was taken home shortly afterward.

HELPING TO FEED WORLD

Mass Starvation May Be Prevented, Declares Hoover—Tribute to Canada and Other Nations

OTTAWA (P)—Paying tribute to Canada's contribution to world food supplies, former President Herbert Hoover said last night that it now seems assured the tragic gap of about 6,600,000 tons of minimum supplies can now be solved, thus, apparently, preventing mass starvation around the globe. Upon four countries—United States, Canada, Argentine and Australia—much had devolved in feeding the starving nations of the world, Hoover declared.

Mr. Hoover spoke to a Canadian radio audience, being introduced by Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King.

Members of the government, together with Mr. Hoover, sat down last evening to an "austerity" supper, bread and other such articles as are in short supply in the world being absent from the table. Fish was a prominent part of the menu.

SHOWDOWN OVER VETO

Australia Is to Again Demand That Offensive U.N.O. Weapon Be Killed

NEW YORK (P)—Final showdown on the question of United Nations veto looms as an aftermath of a bitter security council session in which Russia three times invoked the much-debated weapon to block moves in the Spanish case.

Dr. Herbert Evatt of Australia is reported ready to ask for a full airing of the whole issue at the September meeting of the general assembly and, perhaps, may demand that it be killed. From the start—even at San Francisco—Australia has fought the veto.

DOMINION DAY

PEOPLE OF CANADA may turn wholeheartedly next Monday to observe another Dominion Day, the seventy-ninth anniversary of the formal coming into being of this Confederation. It can be a happy Dominion Day for, after six anniversaries the full spirit of which could not be entered into because of the existence of war conditions in which this nation was playing a major role, the firing of the guns is over and our men are home. It can be a sober one, too, since there are so many problems to be solved, so many difficulties to be overcome before lasting peace is assured.

The great stature which we have achieved among the nations, particularly during these war years, immeasurably increases our duties and responsibilities in the world.

To thinking Canadians the approach of another Dominion Day may be the cause of deep reflection rather than mere frivolous celebration. Seventy-nine years is a ripe age, even among the nations, and, as the birthday of this nation comes again, we may view with satisfaction the years which we have come through and anticipate with hope and courage the prospect of things to come.

So may it be a happy birthday for Canada, the closing of one year during which war ended and the opening of another which it is to be hoped will mark the return of world peace which, as we view things about us, we cannot say has yet arrived. Canada itself may play an important part in that restoration.

LABOR—MANAGEMENT

LABOR and management cannot agree they are inviting the state to step in and take over. If that is what capital and labor want, they can just keep on failing to agree. It will come of natural consequence. Labor does not want government intervention unless it is to make industry knuckle under. Industry for its part cannot perform efficiently with labor dictating. In between, the great, long-suffering public is caught in the squeeze. Concessions to labor in the way of vast increases in wages bring the cost of living up. It cannot be otherwise without consumer subsidies, and these are going out as V-E Day recedes further into the dusk of history.

Everyone wants labor to get its just dues and to be well paid, to have security and all the other things in life they are entitled to.

Capital for its initiative and effort is also entitled to make a reasonable profit.

But for both to be unreasonable, and the little man to be caught in between, is becoming hard to take and alarming. There must be more reasonable and more sensible ways out.

BELFRY BATTERIES

THE BRAIN must have rest. It is like a telephone exchange with five times as many telephone wires as there are people in the whole of the world. Your brain consists of 10,000,000,000 cells, each of them like a tiny battery with a wire running from it to carry the current. As we walk, and run, and read, and write, those telephone wires are humming with messages to and from the brain.

When the brain is tired, it gets its messages muddled. You may forget things, or drop things, and not hear what people are saying to you. They need to be switched off so that your mental batteries are run down. They can charge up again, and it is sleep that switches them off—or nearly so.

of a fountain pen to I. M. Mackinnon, who for the past several months has been supply manager here. Mr. Mackinnon has transferred his office to Edmonton. The presentation was made by M. L. Strukland.

Those who were honored were Miss Vera Holoka, who has been transferred to the Vancouver regional office, and Mrs. Phyllis Grey, P. T. Hay, George Dumas, Frank Myers and J. Grady, all of whom have been transferred to Edmonton. With the exception of Mrs. Grey, those transferred to Edmonton left on last night's train. Mrs. Grey will leave next week.

The evening was spent pleasantly with dancing to music by Andy McNaughton at the piano.

The staff changes are a result of the transfer of the local office from jurisdiction of Montreal to that of the Vancouver regional office. The change becomes effective July 1.

LIVING IN CHRIST

(By CANON W. F. RUSHBROOK)

"For me to live is Christ; to die is gain."—Phil. 2:2.

Note first the sure affirmation of the text: "For me to live is Christ." Christ within manifesting Himself outwardly in every thought, word and deed of this greatest, yet humblest of His followers, Paul.

Gone forever the legalism of the Jew-gone the wisdom of the Stoic or Gnostic philosopher. Paul, in Athens, had tried "sitting on the fence." Whether he fell down or climbed down, we don't know, but thank God he got down and, going directly to Corinth, he later wrote "And I, Brethren, when I came to you I came not with excellency of speech or of wisdom . . . for I determined not to know anything among you save Jesus Christ and Him crucified."

For this faith and teaching Paul, when he wrote the letter from which the text is taken, was a prisoner in Rome, chained to his guard. But for him "stone walls do not a prison make." His soul is free. He writes to his friends in Philippi: "I would have you understand, brethren, that the things which have happened to me have fallen out rather to the furtherance of the Gospel so that my bonds in Christ are manifest in all the palace . . ."

The Praetorian Guard was responsible to the Emperor Nero for the safe keeping of Paul. The prefect and captain of this famous guard was Burrus. Burrus and the stoic philosopher, Seneca were close friends and colleagues. Seneca was the intellectual magnate of his day and so wealthy that he incurred the jealousy of Nero who tried unsuccessfully to poison him. Thus there was in Rome, at this time a sort of triumvirate of three world famous contemporaries, Paul, Seneca and Nero.

The infamous Nero, who had gained the whole world, politically speaking, and who was sacrificed to and worshipped as Diety well knew the claims of Jesus, possibly from the lips of Paul himself. He was well aware that the Kingdom of Jesus was a spiritual one, that the followers of Jesus would pray and did pray for him, but not to him, yet for his bestial pleasure and that of the degraded public he had Christians thrown to the lions, tortured, crucified and beheaded—possibly Paul among the lating, and Seneca were friends and colleagues for, after the accession of Nero, Seneca and Burrus co-jointly controlled the imperial government of Rome. Burrus must frequently have talked with Paul and discussed his prisoner with Seneca. Seneca too had probably heard from his brother Gallio in Corinth concerning Paul and his teaching for Paul, you will recall, had been hailed before Gallio in that city after leaving Athens. So Seneca too in every probability had the opportunity of accepting the Gospel of Christ. He did not. He too gained the whole world and lost his own soul and by his own hand went out into the blackness of the unknown.

You may call this, if you wish,

ter. Yet, from that very "palace" in which Paul tells us the Gospel had been preached, one day the friendless Nero stole, fleeing to the home of a former slave where he ended his own life physically and spiritually. "What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?"

What of Seneca, who had gained the whole world of human reason and was possibly the richest man in the world?

It is more than likely that he had met and talked with Paul. Critics of his writings tell us that they are tinged with apostolic thought and teaching. We do know that Burrus, the prefect and captain of the guard responsible for Paul's safe keep-

JOHN FISHER TO PRINCE RUPERT

Ald. Ham says that conversation at Edmonton John Fisher, noted radio commentator, the latter informed him that he planned to visit this city during the summer. He had a brief conversation with Mr. Fisher, who was a speaker at the Junior Chamber of Commerce convention. Ham said, "However, I shall have an opportunity to question him very closely about the nature of his visit or what he planned to do while here."

Mr. Fisher is well known radio listeners for his colorful stories about Canada.

the tragedy of a hopeless pessimism but it is a tragedy which place daily in our national Christian land—in our own life—possibly in our own lives—ever we baffle eternal peace for pleasure, influence or power or worse still mere indifference. "For me to live is Christ and to die is gain." Is it realistic? It should be and may be.

NOREEN GIBSON IS JUNE BRIDE

Daughter of Bishop and Hamilton Man United At Cathedral

In the presence of a few family friends at St. Andrew's Cathedral at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon, Noreen Grace, younger daughter of Rt. Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Gibson, Bishop of Caledonia, became the bride of Alexander Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Parker of Hamilton, Ontario. The ceremony was performed by the bride's father, Bishop of Caledonia, assisted by Rev. Basil S. Prockter, rector of St. Andrew's.

Wearing a floor length gown of white flowered organza, with long veil, the bride was given in marriage by Dr. J. P. Cade. She carried a shower bouquet of red roses. Bridesmaid was Miss Eileen Gibson, sister of the bride. She wore a pink floor-length gown and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

The cathedral was decorated with vases of pink peonies and white snowballs for the occasion. Groomsman was G. Percy Tinker and Peter Lien was organist.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was held at Bishop's Lodge. The wedding cake was cut in traditional fashion by the bride, using her husband's commando dagger. Toast to the bride was proposed by Canon W. F. Rushbrook and was responded to by the bridegroom. The toast to the bridesmaid was proposed by Rev. Mr. Prockter and response was made by the groomsman.

At the conclusion of the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Parker left by car for Terrace where they will spend their honeymoon at Mrs. R. L. McIntosh's summer home, The Crossways. For travelling the bride wore a bronze suit with yellow hat and topcoat.

Mr. and Mrs. Parker will make their home at Stony Creek, Ontario, near Hamilton, where Mr. Park is an accountant with the Royal Bank of Canada. Both Mr. and Mrs. Parker were in the services during the war. Mr. Parker was with the commandos, while his bride was a corporal in the R.C.A.F. Women's Division, only recently receiving her discharge.

LOCAL BOXERS TO KETCHIKAN

International sports competition between Ketchikan and Prince Rupert has broadened to include boxing during the July 4 celebration to be held at the Alaska city next week. The sports committee of the Canadian Legion here is sending three fighters to take part in a card on the evening of July 3.

The fighters are Len Hitchens, 147-pound welterweight, who showed against Billy McDonald of Vancouver at the last Legion boxing card here still has some of the fans arguing in his favor; Bobby Anderson, a 115-pounder of phenomenal speed, and Jimmy McDougal, 138 pounds, whom Legion promoter Jim Nicoll says has plenty of hitting ability and speed.

The boys are going north on the invitation of Ketchikan Promoter Ray Smith whose ring talent is well known here since he won the Alaska welterweight championship in the American Army tournament in Prince Rupert a year ago.

What opponents Smith has lined up for the local boys is not yet known here but the Legion committee calculates that they will be able to give a top flight showing against anything that Ketchikan has to offer in the way of fighters. The fighters are leaving for Ketchikan Monday night on the Princess Louise.

CROWDS ENJOY BALL GAMES

Bo-Me-Hi Wins From Grotto and General Motors From Co-op

In the first fastball game at Gero Ball Park last evening General Motors won from a hardplaying Co-op team by 11 runs to 8 while the second game the snappy Bo-Me-Hi nine won from the Grotto by 8 to 0.

Co-op got off to a good start with Belis and Smith their first men up both scoring. But the heavy hitting General Motors batted round and scored six runs in their first to gain a commanding lead. However, a run in the third and a five-run rally in the fourth by the Co-op put them back in the running. But with the Motors adding two in their second, one in the fourth and two more in the last half of the sixth they won by a three-run margin.

Kellett and Bellis were the battery for the Co-op and Parlett and Pavlikis for the General Motors. "Minor" Simonson scored three runs, Walter Johnson, Lindsay, and Lambie two each and Fitch and Pavlikis one each for the Motors. For the Co-op Smith scored three times and Bellis, Astoria, Hewsliek, Ward and Perlstrom one each.

George Howe's bunt was badly fielded and with a bad throw to first George was safe and a runner came in. Johnson's home run in the sixth and Lindsay's three-bagger showed the power that the motor men had.

Smith starred in the field for

LEGION HONORS DEPARTING RUP-RE DDIRECTOR

Rup-Rec director George McGregor, who is leaving the city Monday night to take the physical directorship for the Y.M.C.A. at Winnipeg on August 1, was honored at a presentation by the sports committee of the Canadian Legion last night. The presentation was made in recognition of his work among young people here during the last 10 months.

In presenting a red leather writing folio following a sports committee meeting last night, Legion President Dr. R. C. Bamford paid particular tribute to the man in which Mr. McGregor had assisted the Legion in putting on its fight card earlier this month and to his general recreational leadership.

"I think that the city is incurring a loss when Mr. McGregor leaves," Dr. Bamford said. "Our personal regards will follow him."

Appreciation of Mr. McGregor's work was also expressed by other Legion members, including Vice-President Vic Houston and sports committee chairman James Nicoll.

The Co-op and he and Astoria hit well.
Teams:
Co-op—Bellis, Smith, Astoria, Norgaard, Kellett, Peterson, Perlstrom, Murray, Hewsliek, Ward.
General Motors—T. Arney, Simonson, Johnson, Lindsay, Lambie, F. Fitch, Pavlikis, Dewar, Parlett.
Scores: Co-op—

General Motors—

Students Too Good

Bo-Me-Hi's win over Grotto pleased the big crowd immensely. The sympathies of the public generally are with the younger players and on top of that the lads played bang-up ball.

Both teams scored twice in the first inning but the school picked one to go ahead in the third and held the Grotto scoreless in the next three innings. Then they added three in the fourth. Grotto also had three but the school lads scored two in the fifth while holding their opponents to one in the seventh.

Battery for the winners consisted of Wesch and James while Moxley and Gillis were the battery for the Grotto.

Teams:
Grotto—Kerr, Gillis, Dell, Moxley, R. Smith, Howe, Holkestad, F. Gomez, D. Gomez.

Bo-Me-Hi—Ciccone, Hartwig, Forbes, Forman, James, Sunberg, Wesch, Holkestad, Scherk.

Score by innings:
Grotto 2 0 0 0 3 0 1—6
Bo-Me-Hi 2 1 0 3 2 0 —8

Moxley struck out eight of the students, who are too anxious to "knock it out of the park" while Wesch struck out three. The fielding of the lads was very good with Ciccone's one-handed catch off second with the bases full the highlight of the game. There was only one out at the time and the double play saved a critical situation.

SEE SKETCHES OF NEW MUSEUM

May be in C.N.R. or Alder Park
—Getting Temporary
Quarters Ready

An indication of what Prince Rupert's future museum may look like was displayed at a Museum Board meeting last night by Indian Agent F. E. Anfield who showed sketches of an Indian community house done in color by Henry Dudoward, who is currently engaged in painting the city's totem poles.

The sketches confirmed the board's previous inclination to have the proposed building constructed along aboriginal design, thereby making the building itself a striking tourist attraction. Two sites were suggested. One was the hill in the Canadian National Park, subject to railway approval, and the other was Alder Park on Fraser Street where a number of the city's totems now stand.

Discussion of the proposed building followed a session in which the problems of arranging the former Red Cross rooms as temporary museum quarters came before the members. It was suggested that the Red Cross rooms will be ready for occupancy by the museum early in July.

The board decided to set aside $50 a month as remuneration for a curator during the four summer months and $10 a month during the rest of the year. Selection of a curator was left to R. H. Hawkins and Rev. Basil Brocketer. Admission charges will be increased from its former level of 10 cents to 25 cents for adults.

Weather Man Worry Cause

Dominion Day Week-End Holiday-Makers Keep Fingers Crossed As Southeast Wind and Showers Predicted

With gorgeously warm and clear weather prevailing today although the Weather Man is talking about southeast winds and rain showers during the week-end, people in Prince Rupert and throughout the district for that matter are keeping their fingers crossed in view of the great plans which have been made for the biggest celebration of Dominion Day in seven years or since the war began.

Indications are that the Prince Rupert Highway will be crowded as motorists take to the road with Terrace and Smithers as the principal points of attraction. Much interest has also been taken in the railway excursion to Terrace on Monday where, like Smithers, a full sports program is planned.

And, of course, there is no need to go away from Prince Rupert since the international baseball series with Ketchikan is to be staged Sunday and Monday.

Unless Jupiter Pluvius interferes, this should be the most general "out of doors" holiday in many a year.

Terrace Expects Many Visitors

TERRACE — Residents here anticipate that possibly as many as 500 or 600 visitors will come here for the July 1 celebration which is currently in a state of preparation. A program is being prepared which includes sports and games, a parade with decorated floats and a dance in the army drill hall which is considerably larger than any hall in the village. With the weather warm and sunny at present, it is hoped that it will continue until after the celebration. A new restaurant is being opened in the Terrace Hotel.

CHESTER, Eng., ☉ — Gifts totalling $45,643 were received on behalf of the Y.M.C.A. War and National Service Fund by the Princess Royal when she visited here recently.

FISH MAKE HIT AT CONVENTION

The halibut dinner and souper of canned salmon which the Prince Rupert Junior Chamber of Commerce provided at the national convention of the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Canada in Edmonton last week were highly successful publicity factors, Clifford Ham, Prince Rupert delegate, said on his return from Edmonton Thursday.

However, the local Junior Chamber's three resolutions failed to make any impression on the conference. Mr. Ham said that, in spite of his efforts to have the resolutions considered, they failed to come before the meeting.

"Apparently they were lost after they had been discarded because of technicalities in the way they were supposed to have been presented to the resolutions committee," Mr. Ham said. "They were not even brought up before the resolutions committee."

The three resolutions, one urging a national policy for Canada, the second a planned immigration policy, and the third a national housing plan and government assistance to municipalities, however, will be presented to the executive through the regional headquarters for consideration later.

The fish dinner, Mr. Ham said, inspired favorable comment among the 130 delegates and their wives, the latter receiving the canned salmon much to their delight. The chefs at the Macdonald Hotel apparently took extra pains with the Prince Rupert fish.

Entertainment was provided on a lavish scale throughout the conference, and much of the program was of great interest. Speakers included Henry Kearns, president of the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce, John Fisher, radio commentator, L. W. Brockington, former head of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation and Premier Manning of Alberta.

Mr. Ham, who arrived in the city yesterday, drove back from Burns Lake where he left his car when he went east. Roads in the Houston area were almost impassable with mud, he said.

Speaking of the regional convention of the Junior Chamber of Commerce held at Prince George earlier, Mr. Ham said: "We certainly missed the boat by not sending a motor caravan to Prince George. Delegates there asked us if we had a good highway why didn't we use it? A caravan would have been excellent publicity."

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Ross arrived in the city on the Cardena last night from Vancouver. Mr. Ross comes here to succeed George McGregor as recreational director at the local Civic Centre.

BASEBALL -- Ketchikan vs. Pr Rupert - SUNDAY - MONDAY - 2:30 p.m.

TRAPPERS FLY SUPPLIES TO LONELY SPOT

The use of aircraft, it would appear, is taking much of the primitive hardship out of the lonely trapper's life. Just how much these men who live for months in remote places are benefitted by modern air travel is illustrated by the case of Matt Teigen and William Rudell who are heading into the hinterland 180 miles northeast of Stewart on July 11 to prepare for the winter trapping season.

Instead of packing supplies on their back to remote Teigen Lake, a five-week foot journey over rugged country from Stewart, these two modern trappers are going to make the journey in a little more than an hour, accompanied by two and a half tons of supplies.

Teigen and Rudell, who are now in Stewart, have contracted with Queen Charlotte Airlines to fly the supplies from Prince Rupert, pick up the two trappers, and take both trappers and equipment and two dogs to Teigen Lake—two hours flying time from Prince Rupert.

On foot, the two men and their dogs would take about 350 pounds of food and equipment per man and, by the time they arrived at their destination five weeks later, all the food would be eaten. The party would then have to live off the country until the trapping season is over.

The supplies, including stoves and lamps for the trapline cabins, will enable the men to live in a manner formerly impossible. Use of aircraft also will enable the trappers to get their furs to the market next spring at a time when the prices are most advantageous for selling.

The food and equipment which is to be flown in was purchased from local business firms.

Boat Owners and Fishermen Disagree On Tuna Cut—Gill-Netting Falls Off.

The quest for tuna fish which is to be undertaken by a part of the Prince Rupert halibut fleet has run into an obstacle over division of the catch between the fishermen and the boat owners. While the boats are being rigged in preparation for sailing next week, the owners and crewmen, the latter through the Deep to lure the tuna on trolling line, do not incur such expense, the fishermen are sitting back and waiting for a more equitable distribution of the catch.

A number of the tuna boats plan to fish directly out of Prince Rupert, if they find any of that type of fish off shore. If they do not, they plan to work their way south, scouting possible tuna grounds as they go.

With a "zero-two" tide due at the low ebb on Sunday morning, several local people are planning to go abalone hunting at Triple Island and other places in the area where the succulent mollusk abounds. Sunday's low tide will be two-tenths of a foot below zero, and will afford a fine opportunity to pull the abalone from the rocks without getting wet. Ordinarily they are about two feet under water at low tide.

We like to give credit to anyone catching a fine red spring and we certainly give credit to the fishermen who admit that when he got the one we saw him with, it was gutted and cleaned.

Spring salmon gillnetting on the Skeena has fallen off considerably during the last week. However, the fishermen are looking forward to the opening of the sockeye season at midnight Sunday and are predicting a good season on the basis of the indications of a large number of fish in the river.

On her regular weekly voyage on the Vancouver-Skeena River-Prince Rupert run, Union steamer Cardena, Capt. Alex McLean, arrived in port at midnight last night from the south, sailing early this morning on her return to Vancouver and waypoints.

Laden with 232 passengers, more than 22 of which were round-trip tourists connected with a convention of an American industrial firm, C.P.R. steamer Princess Louise docked here northbound at 11 o'clock yesterday morning. The vessel sailed for Alaska ports at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Members of the tourist party were representatives of the American Equipment Distribution Co. with their wives and families, and came from all over the United States.

A meeting of the Port Day committee of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and other interested persons discussed details of the harbor celebration scheduled for August 22 Thursday night. Matters relative to the disbursement of prizes, courses for racing events and fund raising were discussed.

LOCAL STORY IS CONFIRMED

The announcement yesterday that War Assets Corporation is calling for tenders on local American-built port installations, confirms a story to that effect published in the Daily News on June 4, which stated the installations would be sold at tender, subject to the stipulation that all proposals must indicate the intended use of the property and the anticipated employment figures, which for economic reasons, will be determining factors in the consideration of offers.

The dockside installations will be advertised for sale through-out Canada for use as industrial units here, with the probable result that Prince Rupert will acquire a new industry of considerable proportions.

Two-and-half Tons Of Clothing Here

Shipment of two-and-a-half tons of good used clothing for shipment abroad to needy countries is being made from Prince Rupert to Vancouver this weekend. Mrs. J. J. Mr. and Mrs. A. Kryger and children, George and Gooden, of Ladner, are expected to arrive in the city tomorrow evening on the Catala to pay a visit with Mr. and Mrs. S. Didricksen.

COMEDY PAIR IN FILM FUN

Abbott and Costello in "Hollywood" at Capitol Theatre This Week-end

Patrons of the Capitol Theatre this week-end are finding "Bud Abbott and Lou Costello in Hollywood" one of the laughingest comedies in which this ludicrous team have yet appeared. Bud is a barber and Lou is a porter in a barber shop but they give up these jobs in the hope of making Robert Stanton a movie star. The zany comedians crash a movie lot and get into hot water at every turn.

Pretty Frances Rafferty plays the romantic lead opposite Stanton and Jean Porter, Rags Ragland, Warner Anderson and Mike Mazurki also have important roles.

The chinchilla averages about two litters a year, each litter consisting of two animals.
