MORE READY VOTING SYSTEM BUT NOT COMPULSORY FAVORED BY CLUB

British Columbia's electoral machinery should be such as to make the exercise of the franchise as readily available and simple as possible but it should not be made compulsory for people to vote in the opinion of the majority of the members of the Prince Rupert Gyro Club. This is summed up from answers given in a questionnaire on various proposals for electoral reform which formed the subject of discussion at yesterday's club luncheon. The questionnaire came from a special committee of the Legislature which is seeking to obtain the views of representative persons and organizations respecting certain aspects of electoral methods. There were 16 questions to be answered and the answers of the Gyro Club were as follows:

Q. Do you favor a modified Dominion system (under which voters lists are prepared prior to each election) with safeguards to prevent irregularities at the poll?
 A. No. (16 to 1).

Q. Do you favor perpetual registration?
 A. Yes. (16 to 1).

Q. Do you favor compulsory registration?
 A. Yes. (14 to 3).

Q. Do you favor compulsory voting?
 A. No. (10 to 7).

New Budget Due Tonight

OTTAWA ©—Finance Minister Isley today put the finishing touches on his budget speech which he will read in Commons tonight.

Canadians, given a reduction of 16 per cent in personal income tax last year, are looking for even greater relief this year not only in the income tax, but also in other tax fields.

Observers, however, feel that income tax relief may be offset by the new social security tax, revenue from which will be used in health and welfare programs.

It is expected that the excess profits tax will be discontinued and that corporation taxes will be cut from 40 to 30 per cent.

BUSY WEEK-END IS COMING UP

Canadian National Railway Expects Heavy Week-end Traffic

MONTREAL—This week-end will be one of the busiest in the history of the Canadian National Railways system. A. A. Gardiner, general passenger traffic manager, said here today.

Dominion Day week-end, he pointed out, had always been the heaviest of the year. This he accounted to departure of families to the country, commencement of the summer vacation period and the fact that Dominion Day is generally observed. Since 1939 the number of travellers had been successively establishing new records and in this, the first post-war July 1 holiday, the Canadian National Railways would be called upon to carry unprecedented numbers of persons.

In addition, the large movement of servicemen and dependents is still continuing. This week-end, 3,000 arriving at Halifax on three ships will require the equivalent of ten special trains. The number of tourists from the United States is the greatest since 1939.

SENATOR McRAE

THE late Senator A. D. McRae, who passed away in Ottawa yesterday, had his friends and his enemies. He had his admirers and he had his very severe critics. Be that as it may, he, nevertheless may be counted among those who played an important part during a period of nearly forty years in the opening up and development of the natural resources and industries of Western Canada and British Columbia in particular. He was a man of vision and courage and, while he may have profited himself, his initiative was helpful in providing profit for others in various ways.

The General was instrumental in development of the north through his organization of fishing, mining and lumbering industries. Incidentally, he had a plan to people the Peace River district which brought Dominion-wide notice in 1928. In the House of Commons he said: "The Peace River area is capable of supporting two million people if the government has sufficient courage to carry it out." Eighteen years later these words are still appropriate and of significance to Prince Rupert.

AN INNOVATION

THE Prince Rupert Gyro Club took time out yesterday from stereotype routine to consider a questionnaire from a special committee of the Legislative Assembly which is considering reform of the electoral system of British Columbia, the idea of the questionnaire being to assist in obtaining a cross-section of public opinion on various proposals in connection with electoral reform. There were sixteen questions and a general summation of the composite attitude of the club might be that they favored an electoral plan whereby it would be made as easy and simple as possible for everybody to vote although the members, in large majority, stopped short of making voting compulsory as being inconsistent with democratic practice.

It is not so much how Gyros or any other organization may feel in regard to electoral matters and issues that counts but the fact that they are interested enough in non-political public questions such as the franchise as to devote their time to discussing them. The program was an innovation as far as service organizations in Prince Rupert is concerned and other such bodies might find similar programs interesting and educational and a diversion from the usual humdrum of service club routine.

There is all too little practical, collective and sustained attention paid to public matters in such communities as Prince Rupert. The service clubs—as the local Gyros did yesterday—might well take the lead in developing thought along these lines.

EMPLOYING VETERANS

THE Department of Veterans Affairs is launching two educational campaigns on behalf of discharged service personnel. The first campaign is addressed to the employers of Canada and is designed to offset the impression that so many people have, that the time spent in the armed forces was time out of a man's life.

This was a war of machines as well as men and a number of highly skilled tradesmen were necessary to keep those machines running. As an example, the army alone had 216 basic trades, the navy had about 200, and the air force about the same number.

Many of these men, on their return to civilian life, are competent journeymen. Others have good basic skills and can be trained through the training on the job program which these departments may add to the income a man receives from his employer while perfecting himself in a trade. Many veterans learned qualities of initiative, teamwork, responsibility and discipline, that should be of decided value to industry.

The second campaign is on behalf of disabled veterans. Experience has shown that a physical disability need not be an occupational handicap. Unfortunately there is a hang-over of the old concept that elevator and watchmen's jobs should be reserved for those with physical disabilities.

There is also the tendency to consider the disabled only as coming within the bracket of those who have lost arms, legs or some other visible function. Actually, this group is only a small percentage and special placements have to be effected in such cases as those with heart and chest conditions, epilepsy, arthritis and so forth. Industry has been most co-operative in absorbing a large number of these men but it is important that they be placed having in mind their capacity, rather than their disability and that they be placed in a job in which they can be 100% efficient.

PRIEST IS FAREWELLED

Parishioners of Annunciation Pay Parting Tribute to Father Lantagne with Speeches, Gifts

Four handsome presentations went to make generously tangible the spoken expression of the people of the parish of Annunciation when they gathered in large number in the Knights of Columbus Hall last night to bid farewell to their highly esteemed priest, Rev. Father W. F. Lantagne, on the eve of his departure for Vancouver where he is to join the parish of St. Augustine's. Father Lantagne has been the spiritual and administrative shepherd of the local flock for eight years and has won the affectionate respect and admiration of the parishioners for his high standard of service as preacher, adviser and executive. The regret that is occasioned by his departure and the best wishes for his future were fully expressed in the proceedings last night at which all departments of the parish gathered to pay parting tribute.

Father J. A. Carroll, assistant parish priest, acted as chairman and the principal address was by Bishop Anthony Jordan, head of the vicariate. His Excellency felt that a real sacrifice was being made in yielding Father Lantagne to another parish. He had been a good and capable priest and administrator and his departure was a great loss, both from the spiritual and business standpoint. His qualities of mind and heart had endeared him to all and he was to be sincerely thanked for everything he had done for parish and vicariate. The impression of the good work would long remain. "It is with reluctance indeed," concluded Bishop Jordan "that we hand him over to St. Augustine's."

The presentation speakers were Charles Rimmer, on behalf of the men of the parish; Mrs. William Lahti, for the Catholic Women's League of which she is president; Emil Bisin, Catholic Youth Organization, and John Comadina, for the united parishioners. The high place that Father Lantagne had won in the hearts and the minds of the people of the parish, acknowledgement of the fine and successful service he had rendered through good years and bad and the fond good wishes that would accompany him on his departure keyed the addresses. The gift of the Catholic men was a handsome Gladstone bag; the Catholic Women's League, a beautiful pen and pencil set, and of the young people, a fine electric razor. Beautifully unique was an illuminated address from the united parishioners which was read by Mr. Comadina. This was, indeed, a work of art, being ingeniously and painstakingly lettered by the Sisters of St. Joseph.

Another speaker in tribute to Father Lantagne was Mrs. J. J. Gillis, president of the Diocesan Catholic Women's League.

Father Lantagne, in reply to all the unexpected honors that he had received, spoke simply but impressively. The kindness, generosity and goodwill that had been accorded him on this occasion was only a culmination of that which had been bestowed upon him throughout his incumbency and of which he was deeply appreciate. The amicable-ity and co-operation of all those with whom he had been associated since coming to Prince Rupert—the clergy and the laity—had been of the greatest assistance and encouragement to him in his work. If there had been any measure of success in his pastorate, it was due in large part to the support he had received. He was deeply grateful for the sentiments that had been expressed and the gifts which had been presented.

The evening's proceedings were rounded out with a brief musical program to which the contributing artists were Mrs. Terry Fortune, with vocal solos—"My Hero" and "Danny Boy"; Miss Frances Moore, piano solo, "Romance" (Tchaisowsky), and Father Lantagne, vocal solo, "Minstrel Boy" and "Shantytown."

Serving of delicious refreshments, featured by a handsome farewell cake which was cut by Mrs. Lahti, and a social hour in which personal farewells were Accidents frequently occur when drivers of motor vehicles are suddenly confronted by the unexpected. To make driving safer, highway signs are erected which carry warning words or symbols, to enable motorists to anticipate abnormal conditions on the road ahead. In addition, the signs are made in different shapes.

Motorists who familiarize themselves with these different shapes, will be prepared to act on the warning message of each sign, even before coming close enough to read the words or symbols. The shape of a highway sign tells you the "shape" of things to come.

SALVATION ARMY CONGRESS HERE

White and native officers and delegates will assemble in considerable number in Prince Rupert August 31 and September 1 and 2 when the annual Salvation Army congress for Northern British Columbia, which district extends from Prince George to the coast and from Queen Charlotte Islands to the northern boundary of the province, convenes. Dates of the congress, to be held in the local citadel, were announced today by Brigadier J. T. Gillingham, divisional commander. The principal visitor for the sessions will be Col. Archibald Raymond of Toronto, chief secretary for Canada and second in command to Commissioner Ben Orames, the territorial commander.

Rt. Rev. Anthony Jordan, Bishop of the Roman Catholic Church for Northern British Columbia, returned to the city on Tuesday night's train from a six weeks' visit to the Peace River section of the vicariate during the course of which he visited many isolated parishes. Next week Bishop Jordan will leave for Lejac where a retreat is to be held for priests of this diocese.

PRESENTATIONS TO TEACHERS

Miss O'Neill and Miss McKinnon Honored at Borden Street

At a meeting of the teachers of Borden Street School yesterday afternoon reference was made to the loss to the staff by the resignations of Miss Dorothy O'Neill and Miss Florence McKinnon. In making the presentation of framed pictures of the city J. S. Wilson, principal, expressed his regret at their departure. Both had given service of the highest quality, and their willing cooperation had always been an additional asset to the effective running of the school. Miss O'Neill had accepted a position on the staff of Port Alberni schools, while Miss McKinnon who returned to teaching after service with the R.C.A.F. (W.D.), plans on attending University of B.C. this fall. Both teachers thanked the staff for their kind gift. They had enjoyed teaching in Borden Street School and would have happy memories of their experiences there.

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Q. When taking a girl to the theatre, is it permissible for a man to go out between acts to smoke?

A. Yes; but he should not do so more than once unless there is someone else in the party to whom she can talk.

Q. Is it correct to send invitations to relatives and intimate friends who live in a distant city?

A. Yes; invitations should be sent even if one knows that these people cannot attend the function.

Q. Is it all right for a dinner guest to rest one hand on the edge of the table?

A. While it isn't exactly "bad form," the only place for the hands at the table, when not in use, is in the lap.

YOUR cream soups and sauces... desserts and creamy entrees—take on an entirely new and luxurious character when you make them with double-rich Carnation Milk. They're smoother, richer, finer in flavor. It's easy to use Carnation—if the recipe calls for milk, use half Carnation, half water; if cream is called for use Carnation undiluted as it pours from the can.

Carnation is just pure, whole, cows' milk, evaporated to double richness by removing part of the natural water, homogenized for smoothness, sterilized for absolute safety.

HOW CAN I ???

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I test a hot oven when baking a cake?

A. A good way to test the heat of an oven before placing in the cake is to put a pinch of flour at the bottom. If the flour turns black within a minute, the oven is too hot. If it turns a soiled yellow, the oven is not hot enough. If it turns a golden brown, it is the proper heat.

Q. How can I take good care of ferns?

A. About twice a week dilute a little sweet milk with a little water and pour on the roots of ferns and rubber plants. It promotes growth.

Q. How can I prevent flannel from becoming hard after laundering?

A. Do not soak flannel clothing before washing. It hardens the fabric. Wash quickly in warm, soapy water.

MICKLEBURGH LEAVE RUPERT

Farewell Meeting and Party in Honor of Founder of L.P.P. in Prince Rupert

On the eve of the departure of their founder and leader from the city, members of Prince Rupert's two Labor-Progressive Clubs met jointly in special session Tuesday night to hear a farewell speech by Bruce Mickleburgh. Mr. Mickleburgh urged those who had been his followers and disciples in political thought to keep up the good fight to "save Canada from Fascism and war." A general discussion followed and, before the close of the meeting, Stanley Boshier was elected executive secretary to succeed Mr. Mickleburgh.

On Saturday night the Labor-Progressives and other friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Boshier in a farewell social in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Mickleburgh. The evening was pleasantly spent and the highlight was the making of a suitable presentation to Mr. and Mrs. Mickleburgh. The committee in charge of the party consisted of Mrs. J. R. Blakey and Mrs. Alex Gomez.

Mr. and Mrs. Mickleburgh left last evening by train for Terrace, their first stop enroute to Vancouver where Mr. Mickleburgh is to be identified with party newspaper work. Other points they plan visiting on the way south are Burns Lake, Grassy Plains, Prince George, Quesnel and Squamish.

NOTEBOOK DELUGE THREATENS TO BLOCK HAYS CREEK, STUDENT SAYS

An "eminent scientist-to-be, who is now, however, in Grade Eleven, calculates that, if things been going as they are, the mouth of Hays Creek eventually will become blocked up and the frustrated water of that small rivulet eventually may threaten the safety of the city.

Basis of this gloomy prediction is the vast amount of debris that is dumped annually into the watercourse from the Hays Creek bridge. This material consists mainly of well torn school notebooks which are thrown exuberantly overside by scores of students in a high state of terminal delirium.

"I calculate that, by the twenty-fifth century, human beings will be able to walk across Hays Creek at street level without having to use the bridge," said the young man, who expressed a keen desire to remain anonymous. "Figuring the number of school books that are tossed down there every June by Booth High School students it seems reasonable to presume that McClyment Park and the swamps of Ninth Avenue will be flooded by the backed-up water by June 27, 2446."

This young man did not think that the odd cigarette butt and medicine bottle tossed over the bridge, in the ordinary course of events, would add materially to the dam of notepaper that is slowly piling up on the mudflat but felt that the occasional textbook would do some good. "Text-books make good ballast," he commented as he watched a storm of torn paper flutter downward like confetti below a group of busy students farther along the bridge.

Actually, while the foregoing might possibly be slightly exaggerated, the fact is that after school was dismissed yesterday, the area around Booth High School, and particularly the nearby bridge, suddenly took on the appearance of the aftermath of New York's reception to General Eisenhower.

School was out yesterday for more than 1,000 students of the city's four schools. Everybody involved, including the teachers, was highly relieved. How the teachers expressed their exuberance is not known. But the paper-whitened tide flat below Hays Creek bridge testified to the reaction of many of the students.

On a vagrant piece of paper blowing aimlessly along the street was written in immature hand the word "Geometry."

PUPILS HONOR MISS MERCER

Impressive and Sincere Farewell at King Edward School for Esteemed Principal

Pupils of King Edward School gathered en masse in the music room of the school on Tuesday afternoon to say farewell to their affectionately esteemed principal, Miss E. A. Mercer, who is retiring on superannuation with the completion of this term. Impressively and sincerely the children, led by the teachers, bade good-bye to their honored guest who has been identified with the school for so many years.

One presentation, made by Margo Brown of Grade Six, on behalf of all the pupils was a handsome engraved wrist watch. A novel souvenir was in the form of a recording of the voices of several pupils individually and the group singing of three songs, this presentation being made by Elsa Insulander. In addition, there were autographed cards from the pupils of the various classes, made by a class representative in each case.

It all came as a complete surprise for Miss Mercer who replied feelingly. Of the many friends she had made in Prince Rupert, those the closest to her heart were the pupils she had taught.

CADET CAMP IS POSTPONED

Lumber Strike Affects Arrangements for Gambier Island

In spite of every effort to get lumber for completion of the site for the Sea Cadet camp at Gambier Island word was received yesterday that, as a result of the lumber strike, it would be impossible to have the accommodation ready in time. It was originally planned for the local Captain Cook Corps to leave here Tuesday, July 2. Now it is hoped to be able to hold the camp at H.M.C.S. Discovery, Vancouver and, if enough boys can make the necessary adjustments, the camp will start on July 12. No transportation will be arranged if necessary. The executive of the corps had been very busy completing all organization and the news of the change came as a shock. However with lumber being unavailable there was no choice but to try to make other plans. Revision of all details already under way and it is hoped that the new arrangements will suit the lads.
