Rupert Included Serial Fish Jaunts

Prince Rupert is to be included as the only stop on the Los Angeles and Anchorage, Alaska, in a scenic-fishing air service for tourists which is instituted next year by the Sourdough Fishing Club of Anchorage and Ontario, California. A PBY Consolidated-Vultee amphibian United States Air Force plane is to provide the service and there will be two trips monthly in June, July and August and one in September. The ultimate destination will be fishing lodges on a lake beyond Anchorage. Arrangements for the activity of each party during the stay of a night and a day at Prince Rupert have been made by Sourdough Fishing Club by E. T. Applewhite, secretary of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce. Necessary hotel accommodation has been assured and a chartered taxi service will take each party on an extended sight-seeing tour up the highway with some fishing probably thrown in.

LAST VOYAGE AS TRANSPORT

Aquitania to Be in Halifax This Week-End
MONTREAL—When the Aquitania steams out of the Port of Halifax on Sunday homeward bound, she will be making her last transatlantic crossing as a British war transport, according to the Canadian National Railways. She will be carrying more than 700 persons, including a number of notables, world organization representatives, business and industrial leaders and a group of Canadian brides of Royal Air Force personnel going to new homes in the United Kingdom.

For the first time since she went into transatlantic reparation service, the Aquitania did not sail direct to Halifax. On this voyage she went by way of Cherbourg, France, bringing British and French delegates to the United Nations conference to New York where she docked last Sunday. The ship sails from New York on Thursday and will arrive at Halifax on Friday.

SCUED FROM COLLAPSED WALL

MONTREAL—The Montreal fire department, with a salvage team, was called to a fire on Monday night after a fire broke out on a midtown corner last night after the building had been trapped for seven hours. The condition is reported to be serious.

STRIKE HITS DETROIT PAPER

DETROIT—Detroiters had to rely on their radios for election news early today as the Detroit Free Press, the city's only morning newspaper, missed all its editions when mechanical department employees walked off their jobs in a wage dispute.

7,000 CUSTOMERS
Every second, night and day, 7,000 persons board a trackless trolley coach, street car or bus in the United States and Canada.

COMMONWEALTH SOLIDARITY WORLD NEED

LONDON—Lord Alan Brooke, retiring chief of the imperial general staff, said today that acceptance by each member of the British Commonwealth of a zone of responsibility is one of four fundamental defence requirements. He said that there must be recognition by British peoples that maintenance of world peace depends more on the solidarity of the commonwealth than on any other factor. He also said that there must be provision for ways and means for co-ordination of commonwealth defence requirements as a whole. He suggested that each dominion assume direct responsibility for land, sea and air defence in the areas connected with it.

Union Opens New Service

Steamer Camosun Will Operate on Vancouver-Prince Rupert-Ketchikan Run Weekly
Two of the new converted Castle class coastal liners of Union Steamships Ltd. will be in operation between Vancouver and Prince Rupert during the coming month, furnishing one additional ship in the service. The steamer Coquitlam is due here, taking over the Vancouver-Prince Rupert-Stewart route, on the coming Sunday afternoon. The Camosun will arrive here on November 22, instituting a new weekly Vancouver-Prince Rupert-Ketchikan service.

HART MAY BE EIRE MINISTER

VICTORIA—There was speculation in legislative circles today whether or not Irish-born Premier John Hart might become Canadian minister to Eire. Premier Hart kept his own counsel. Previous reports said that he would go to the Senate when he retires from the premiership.

TO TEST TANKS AT CHURCHILL

CHURCHILL—Tanks will be tested at Churchill this winter for the first time under Arctic conditions, along with improved snow plowing and removal equipment for clearing airfield runways. One hundred United States troops will participate in the test with about 400 Canadian soldiers.

THE WEATHER

Synopsis
Skies were mainly cloudy over British Columbia this morning but a trend to rising barometric pressures will bring clear skies tonight to the southern half of the province. Clouds are expected to reform early Thursday morning and clear again by noon.

Forecast
Prince Rupert, West Coast Vancouver Island, Queen Charlottes and North Coast—Cloudy with widely scattered rain showers today and Thursday. Westerly winds (10 m.p.h.), little change in temperature. Minimums expected tonight—Estevan 40; Port Hardy 38; Massett 36; Prince Rupert 38. Maximums Tuesday—Estevan 50; Port Hardy 50; Massett 48; Prince Rupert 46.

WOMEN OF LOLOLAND COME TO MARKET—Lolo women are pictured wearing long felt capes as they come from the mountains to do their shopping in Leipo, China. Wild Lolo bandits often storm Leipo and loot the village, according to Skyways magazine, which published an article on U.S. airmen who escaped from the land of the Lolos after being held there for 29 days. An expedition is looking for other downed U.S. airmen believed held prisoner by the Lolos.

PAPER COMPANIES SAID TO BE INTERESTED IN TELKWA COAL

According to reports current here, Powell River and Pacific Mills paper manufacturing companies are negotiating to take over two important coal mining properties—Bulkeley Valley Collieries and Telco Colliery—in the central interior, some 250 miles east of Prince Rupert, near the northern line of the Canadian National Railways. Immediate reason for the companies negotiating for these coal fields, it is said, is because their fuel oil contracts were recently cancelled so they are considering using coal instead. Coal, it is said here, would be mined at the rate of five hundred tons a day and shipped from Telkwa to Prince Rupert by rail for transfer to ship or scow. It would make a much larger and busier town of Telkwa and would involve installation of bunkering facilities at Prince Rupert. The properties concerned are located about twelve miles south of the railway line. Bulkeley Valley has been operated for many years by Frank Dockrill. Telcoal has also produced on a smaller and less steady scale.

Survey Shows Local Political Developments "Clear as Mud"

The uncertain and apparently indifferent state of Prince Rupert's civic politics was clarified to the consistency of thick mud today to an earnest Daily News reporter who endeavoured to get a line on what the citizens might expect in the way of candidates for civic government seats in the December 12 elections.

LOTS OF MONEY TO BE RAISED

"The city is going to have to raise money and lots of it. Prince Rupert has been operating for more than 35 years with utilities that were originally built with a 20-year life expectancy. To put them in decent shape we are going to need lots of money and will have to pass by-laws to do it. It will have to be done in the face of rising costs. The city will have to get out of its rut, and elect good business men as its leaders."

WINDSORS TO VISIT ALBERTA

Former King Sails From Southampton For New York
SOUTHAMPTON—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor sailed on the Queen Elizabeth today for New York where they will visit for a few weeks before proceeding to High River, Alberta, to spend a while at the Duke's ranch. They will return to England next spring. The Duke said he had thoroughly enjoyed this visit in England. He denied that he had been job-hunting.

Are Assured of Majority In House and Senate; Suggested Truman Quit

NEW YORK (CP)—Republicans won control of both House and Senate in the Eighteenth Congress today in a triumphant landslide that overturned the Democrats for the first time in fifteen years. The result means that Congress, meeting January 3, will be politically divided from the White House. Tradition pointed a favorable finger toward the Grand Old Party capturing the White House two years hence.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN
Of the United States.

REBUKED

In Philadelphia Senator J. William Fulbright (Democrat-Arkansas) said today that, since the Republicans have captured both Houses of Congress, "President Truman should appoint a Republican Secretary of State and resign his office. I am not asking the President to resign. I am merely suggesting it would be the best thing for the country as a whole."

LONDON VIEWS U.S. ELECTIONS

LONDON—The London press announced the results of the United States elections with headlines proclaiming "U. S. Landslides to Right." The London Star's banner said "Truman Voted Out," while the Standard said that while the world is turning more and more to the left, the United States has turned sharply to the right.

RETURNING TO ORIENT

C.N.R. Officials Who Were Jap Prisoners, Going Back To Pre-War Jobs
MONTREAL—Two former prisoners of the Japanese, who were interned at Hong Kong in December, 1941, when that colony fell, are returning to the Orient to resume their duties as traffic representatives of the Canadian National Railways. To J. H. A. Middlecoat, his appointment as general agent, Hong Kong, returns him to the scene of his unpleasant experience and to the office he was forced to vacate. S. P. Healey, agent at Yokohama before the war, is now going to Calcutta, India, as general agent of the railway there.

ARABS, JEWS APPROVE NEW BRITISH PLAN

JERUSALEM—Arabs and Jews expressed qualified approval today of a conciliatory new British policy designed to relieve tension in the Holy Land but the Jewish leaders declared that the struggle for establishment of an independent Jewish homeland will be continued. Tangible manifestations of the new British policy, which one British source said might "mark the turning point in the history of Palestine," included the release of eight prominent Jewish leaders from detention and the promise to free 120 more soon. It also included the release of exiled Arabs and the lifting of the curfew in Palestine.

The Republicans, in their comeback of landslide proportions, had elected 222 members of the House, a net gain of 57, while the Democrats had a net loss of 33 with 163. Representative Vito Marcantonio, American Labor member for New York, was re-elected for the only minor party representative.

Early in the day seventy-two contests remaining to be settled. The Republicans needed only a further net gain of 26 to have the 218 majority necessary to control the House of the Eightieth Congress.

In the Senate, including hold-overs, there are, as a result of the election, 46 Republicans, 41 Democrats and nine races undecided with the Republicans leading in six and Democrats three. The Republican net gain at this point was eight with a total of ten needed for control. Forty-nine seats are needed for control.

In thirty-four governorship races the Republicans had elected nineteen and the Democrats, eight.

A potential Republican presidential candidate for 1948, Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York, was re-elected, defeating Senator James Mead, Democrat. It was a fairly close race in New York City but all upstate went strong for Dewey. Senator Arthur Vandenburg is expected to be next President of the Senate while Joseph Martin should be Speaker of the House.

One noted figure to lose a seat was David Walsh who was defeated in Massachusetts by Henry Cabot Lodge, jr.

THIEVES TAKE JEWELS, CASH

VANCOUVER—Police here are seeking a lone bandit who ransacked the home of Mrs. Ben Colk, in the Angus Drive district, and escaped with $1,435 worth of jewels, $75 in cash, a quantity of cigarettes and a pair of nylon hose. The jewels included a $750 diamond brooch.

EDUCATION SHOULD BE NATIONAL

Canada's education system should be centered at Ottawa in the interest of national unity rather than in the provincial capitals and educational grades, textbooks, buildings and teaching requirements should be standardized, according to consensus of opinion at last night's Citizens' Forum in the Civic Centre which discussed the topic "Education and National Unity."

However, the group agreed, the autonomy of the local school board should be maintained since local control would continue to be necessary.

The discussion also resulted in opinions that:

1. French and English language should be compulsory subjects in all schools.
2. That controversial issues such as labor-management relations should be dealt with from junior high school grades upward, with the objective of giving the students the maximum of enlightenment on both sides of such subjects.
3. The problem of racial prejudice should be dealt with in the school room.

The discussion group also expressed the opinion that ignorance of past history is largely responsible for racial prejudice which exists at present; that there is a need for a stronger approach to vital issues, and that there is too much theory and too little "fact" taught in the schools.

Judging financially, Canadians do not consider education of very high importance, since annual teachers' salaries run from a minimum of $500 to a maximum of $5,000.

The Shell Touring Service of San Francisco, which gets out tour booklets for motorists and other travellers has been brought up to date on local information by E. T. Applewhite, secretary of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce. The latest booklet of this service had shown New Hazelton as the end of the central interior highway. Mr. Applewhite has advised the service that the road now comes through to Prince Rupert. He has also sent a local booklet and other informative material from here.

MINING TRAILS NEEDING REPAIR

Mezladin Lake Glacier Creek, North Fork of Bitter Creek, Mar-mo River and Woodbine trails in the Portland Canal district have been drawn to the attention of Hon. R. C. MacDonald, Minister of Mines at Victoria, as trails in mining areas of this district which are in a bad shape due to the lack of maintenance and in need of repairs. The minister had requested to be supplied with information as to such trails in view of the fact that more substantial departmental funds for trail work to deserving properties in process of development have become available.

SMITHERS IS INTERESTED

Feeling that the prosperity of the port of Prince Rupert is of vital importance to the central interior district, the Smithers and District Board of Trade has offered its support to the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce for any representations that interested parties in Prince Rupert may be making to the government. "We feel," says a communication from the Smithers board "that, by establishing a regular shipping route through Prince Rupert, an export market might be found for the products of this area, namely coal and timber."

The secretary of the Prince Rupert Chamber has written to the Smithers Board expressing appreciation of its interest and promising to keep it informed on all developments.

WOULD HAVE ROAD CONFAB

Suggested That District Engineer Be Called in For Discussion With Chamber

Expressing dissatisfaction with the condition of the Prince Rupert Highway west of Exstew and the lack of attention which it was receiving in the way of maintenance, J. E. Boddie, reporting for the highway committee at the meeting of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce Monday night, suggested that the district engineer, J. C. Brady, be asked to meet the Chamber and have a frank talk on the road situation.

The highway committee had nothing further to report on the matter of settlement of the status of the portion of the road which traverses Canadian National Railways right-of-way, which settlement Hon. E. C. Carson, minister of public works, suggested on a recent visit here might soon be reached. Meantime, full responsibility for the maintenance of the road is not being assumed by the provincial public works department.

The latest word from the minister regarding the road right of way, at present under control of the Canadian National Railways, was that it was the subject of negotiation at the present time and it was expected that a satisfactory settlement would be reached shortly after which the highway would be included in the provincial highway system and would, therefore, become a provincial responsibility. In the meantime, the road has not been taken over by the province and only urgent repair works are being carried out.

What Is DEMOCRACY?

MOST OF US HERE TODAY have always lived in a free country. Up to 1939, we little realized—and even now some do not realize—that our democratic way of life could be threatened. Our boys fought and died to preserve for us the life to which we have grown so accustomed. Let us not think that with fighting over in Europe democracy is safe. Far from it. We must fight, fight hard and continuously or we will lose it.

What is Democracy? Democracy cannot be easily defined. It means so much. It has given us the best kind of life. What it does mean: the protection of the rights of the individual as set forth in the following creed:

- The rights of the individual to work and the right to private property.
- The right of workers to band together and to act together within the limits of the public welfare to secure a just return for their labor.
- The inalienable rights of individuals to say what they think in private and in public—which is freedom of speech and of assembly; the right to publish opinions—which is freedom of the press; the right to demand an accounting from representatives in government and representatives in labor—which is freedom of petition. The right to worship God, according to your conscience—which is freedom of religion.
- The rights of liberty—that every man may exercise his God-given rights as he freely chooses to exercise them, limited only by the equal rights of every one of his fellow men.

All of these rights, we have enjoyed in this Canada of ours; all of these rights we would have lost, had the war ended differently. But possibly we have taken these rights too much for granted. We may lose them so gradually that we hardly realize unless we fight and fight hard for them.

UNITED STATES SELECTION

ITS DECLINE, speeded by the complete ineptitude and tactlessness of the chief executive himself and an uninspired and colorless administration, the expected happened in yesterday's off-year general elections in the United States and the Democratic party, in power for fifteen years since the great days of Franklin D. Roosevelt's rise, are out of legislative control it is apparent. What was started yesterday will doubtless be completed in the presidential election two years hence when it is safe to assume that the Republicans will take the administrative as well as the legislative reins. Meantime, of course, it will be hard driving and, at an unfortunate time, too, when it would have been so desirable to have courageous and strongly-mandated government instead of stalemate. Unfortunately, under the weakness of the Constitution, this is the situation which must be faced. Possibly, however, the legislative opposition may be a spur to reasonable administration. Certainly, the Democratic party, in its dying hours, may be expected to struggle to redeem the ground that it has lost since Roosevelt died.

The world was greatly interested in this election because foreign and economic policy of the United States has such a great bearing on world affairs now that the nation has abandoned any vestige of isolation as it was once known. Under the Truman administration, there have been economic trends in the United States that have been very disturbing and have made themselves felt in the rest of the world, especially Canada. Fortunately, there is no prospect of any change in foreign policy, no matter what happens in elections, and, more fortunately, the one outstanding member of the Truman administration, James Byrnes, has the guiding of foreign policy. It is to be hoped his position will not be made untenable in these critical days due to the political situation at home.

With no Roosevelt and no Wilkie on the scene now, presidential prospects, in the light of yesterday's election, are naturally a matter of keen speculation. With the almost certain prospect of a Republican for the next chief executive, attention focusses on such figures as Bricker of Ohio and Vandenberg of Michigan, who had thumping senatorial victories yesterday, and on Thomas Dewey, who received strong endorsement in the New York gubernatorial race.

FOOD IS VITAL

NAPOLEON is credited with having said that "an army marches on its belly." The truth of this assertion has always been recognized. Food is just as absolutely essential to the fighting efficiency of modern armies, navies and air forces as oil, gasoline, trucks, tanks, planes, ships, guns, ammunition, shoes, other clothing, and medical supplies and services are.

A new emphasis on food has developed since the outbreak of World War II. Not only is food essential in winning a war but more and more the nations of the world are learning that the surest means of attaining world peace is to remove and prevent want, starvation and malnutrition.

Herbert Hoover epitomized the truth of this in graphic language: "The first voice of war is guns but the final voice in making peace is food."

President Roosevelt in his "Four Freedoms" and the provisions of the Atlantic Charter envisages positive national and international action to this end.

Such is the new concept of food and its importance in the whole world economy and its fundamental position as a factor in maintaining world peace.

SENIOR CHAMBER INSPIRES JUNIOR

Enthusiasm and vigor which now characterizes meetings of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce was commented upon by Lloyd Morris, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, at Monday night's meeting of the senior chamber. It was something that might inspire the Junior Chamber in its deliberations. Mr. Morris was assured that every endeavour would be made to have the senior chamber represented at the monthly meetings of the junior chamber.

Premier Hart commended W. H. Tobey, general manager of the railway, for "the splendid work he has done in maintaining and operating the road during difficult times."

NO TIME FOR ORATORY DAPTO, Australia. (C)—At last year's official luncheon of this New South Wales town's annual agricultural show, two orators spoke for an hour and a half. The next show will not be officially opened because, the secretary explained, "we haven't the time."

Education Week
November 4 - 9

(By a Parent)
For a matter of 12 years, from five to six hours a day, a child is under the guidance of a teacher so the teacher is, or should be, a very important person indeed. Teaching is an art with a great responsibility because it deals with the human mind, a mind that may be developed or destroyed. Just how far either way depends to a great extent on the teacher.

There are several relationships involved in the school life of a child—that of the teacher to the child, of the child to his studies, of the child to other children and that very important relationship of the parent and teacher.

By the time graduation from High School is reached we no longer have a child but a student of 17 or 18 years of age. We parents hope that whether he continues to university or not he will still be a student in that he will have the desire to pursue his learning. He will have been so guided that he has been enabled to grasp more learning.

Of necessity, the teacher has to handle the group. Most parents understand that but I think we should like to feel that there existed an understanding of our own particular child; "a meeting of the personalities of the teacher and child."

Children will accept guidance only from one for whom they have respect. They early learn to recognize ability, dignity and understanding. The happiest relationship that can possibly exist is one in which the teacher is the child's assistant in making knowledge his own.

All subjects of the curriculum are there for a purpose and are the result of much research on the part of the educators who are constantly working to fit the curriculum to the child and to the times. In these days of so much cheap reading material a teacher will have accomplished much who can instill in the student an interest and taste for good literature. There are many clear lessons in history. From them a student should derive a consciousness of his cultural and social heritage and in such a way that he will have a fair working knowledge of it. He will see the place in the set-up of his own nation and his community, of his own family and himself. If he is to be a good citizen he must be aware of his duty to maintain this heritage.

The trend of today is towards more leisure for all. This will result in more time for mischief for all and more discontent if there is no cultivating of a profitable interest for these leisure might do well to consult the counsellors. We ask a good deal of our teachers but we cannot expect them to be altogether altruistic about it. What we wish them to give our children takes long and continuous training so the remuneration should be such as to induce the most capable people into the profession and people who will give of their best. I think all parents hope that during their school life their children will receive the training that will turn them out, whether to college or straight to the business of life, healthy, happy young people with alert open minds. Young people with a love of life and a zest for learning. We hope they will be capable of recognizing and assuming their responsibilities, capable of taking advantage of every opportunity and at the same time willing and ready to make their contribution to society.

Individualism must not be overlooked but group working and group playing should be the training ground for group behaviour in later life. Physical training and games are necessary but have the desired result only when supervised by qualified instructors.

It would seem too, in these days of counsellors whose business it is to study the aptitudes of the students that boys and girls should be trained for the place in life most suited to his and her native ability. There should be fewer misfits. Parents who wish a bit of advice as to the career of their children

PARENTS ARE IMPRESSED

Many Take Advantage of Education Week "Open Day"

The consensus of opinion at the close of the "open day" at the various elementary schools yesterday was that it had been a great success. Principals report that the parents had all been very favorably impressed with what they had seen. The visitors had been, to some extent, familiar with what their children had been bringing home in the way of work but, when they saw what the classes as a whole had done—the variety of achievement, the quality in different projects—they were enthusiastic in their appreciation of the opportunity offered by the observance of "open day."

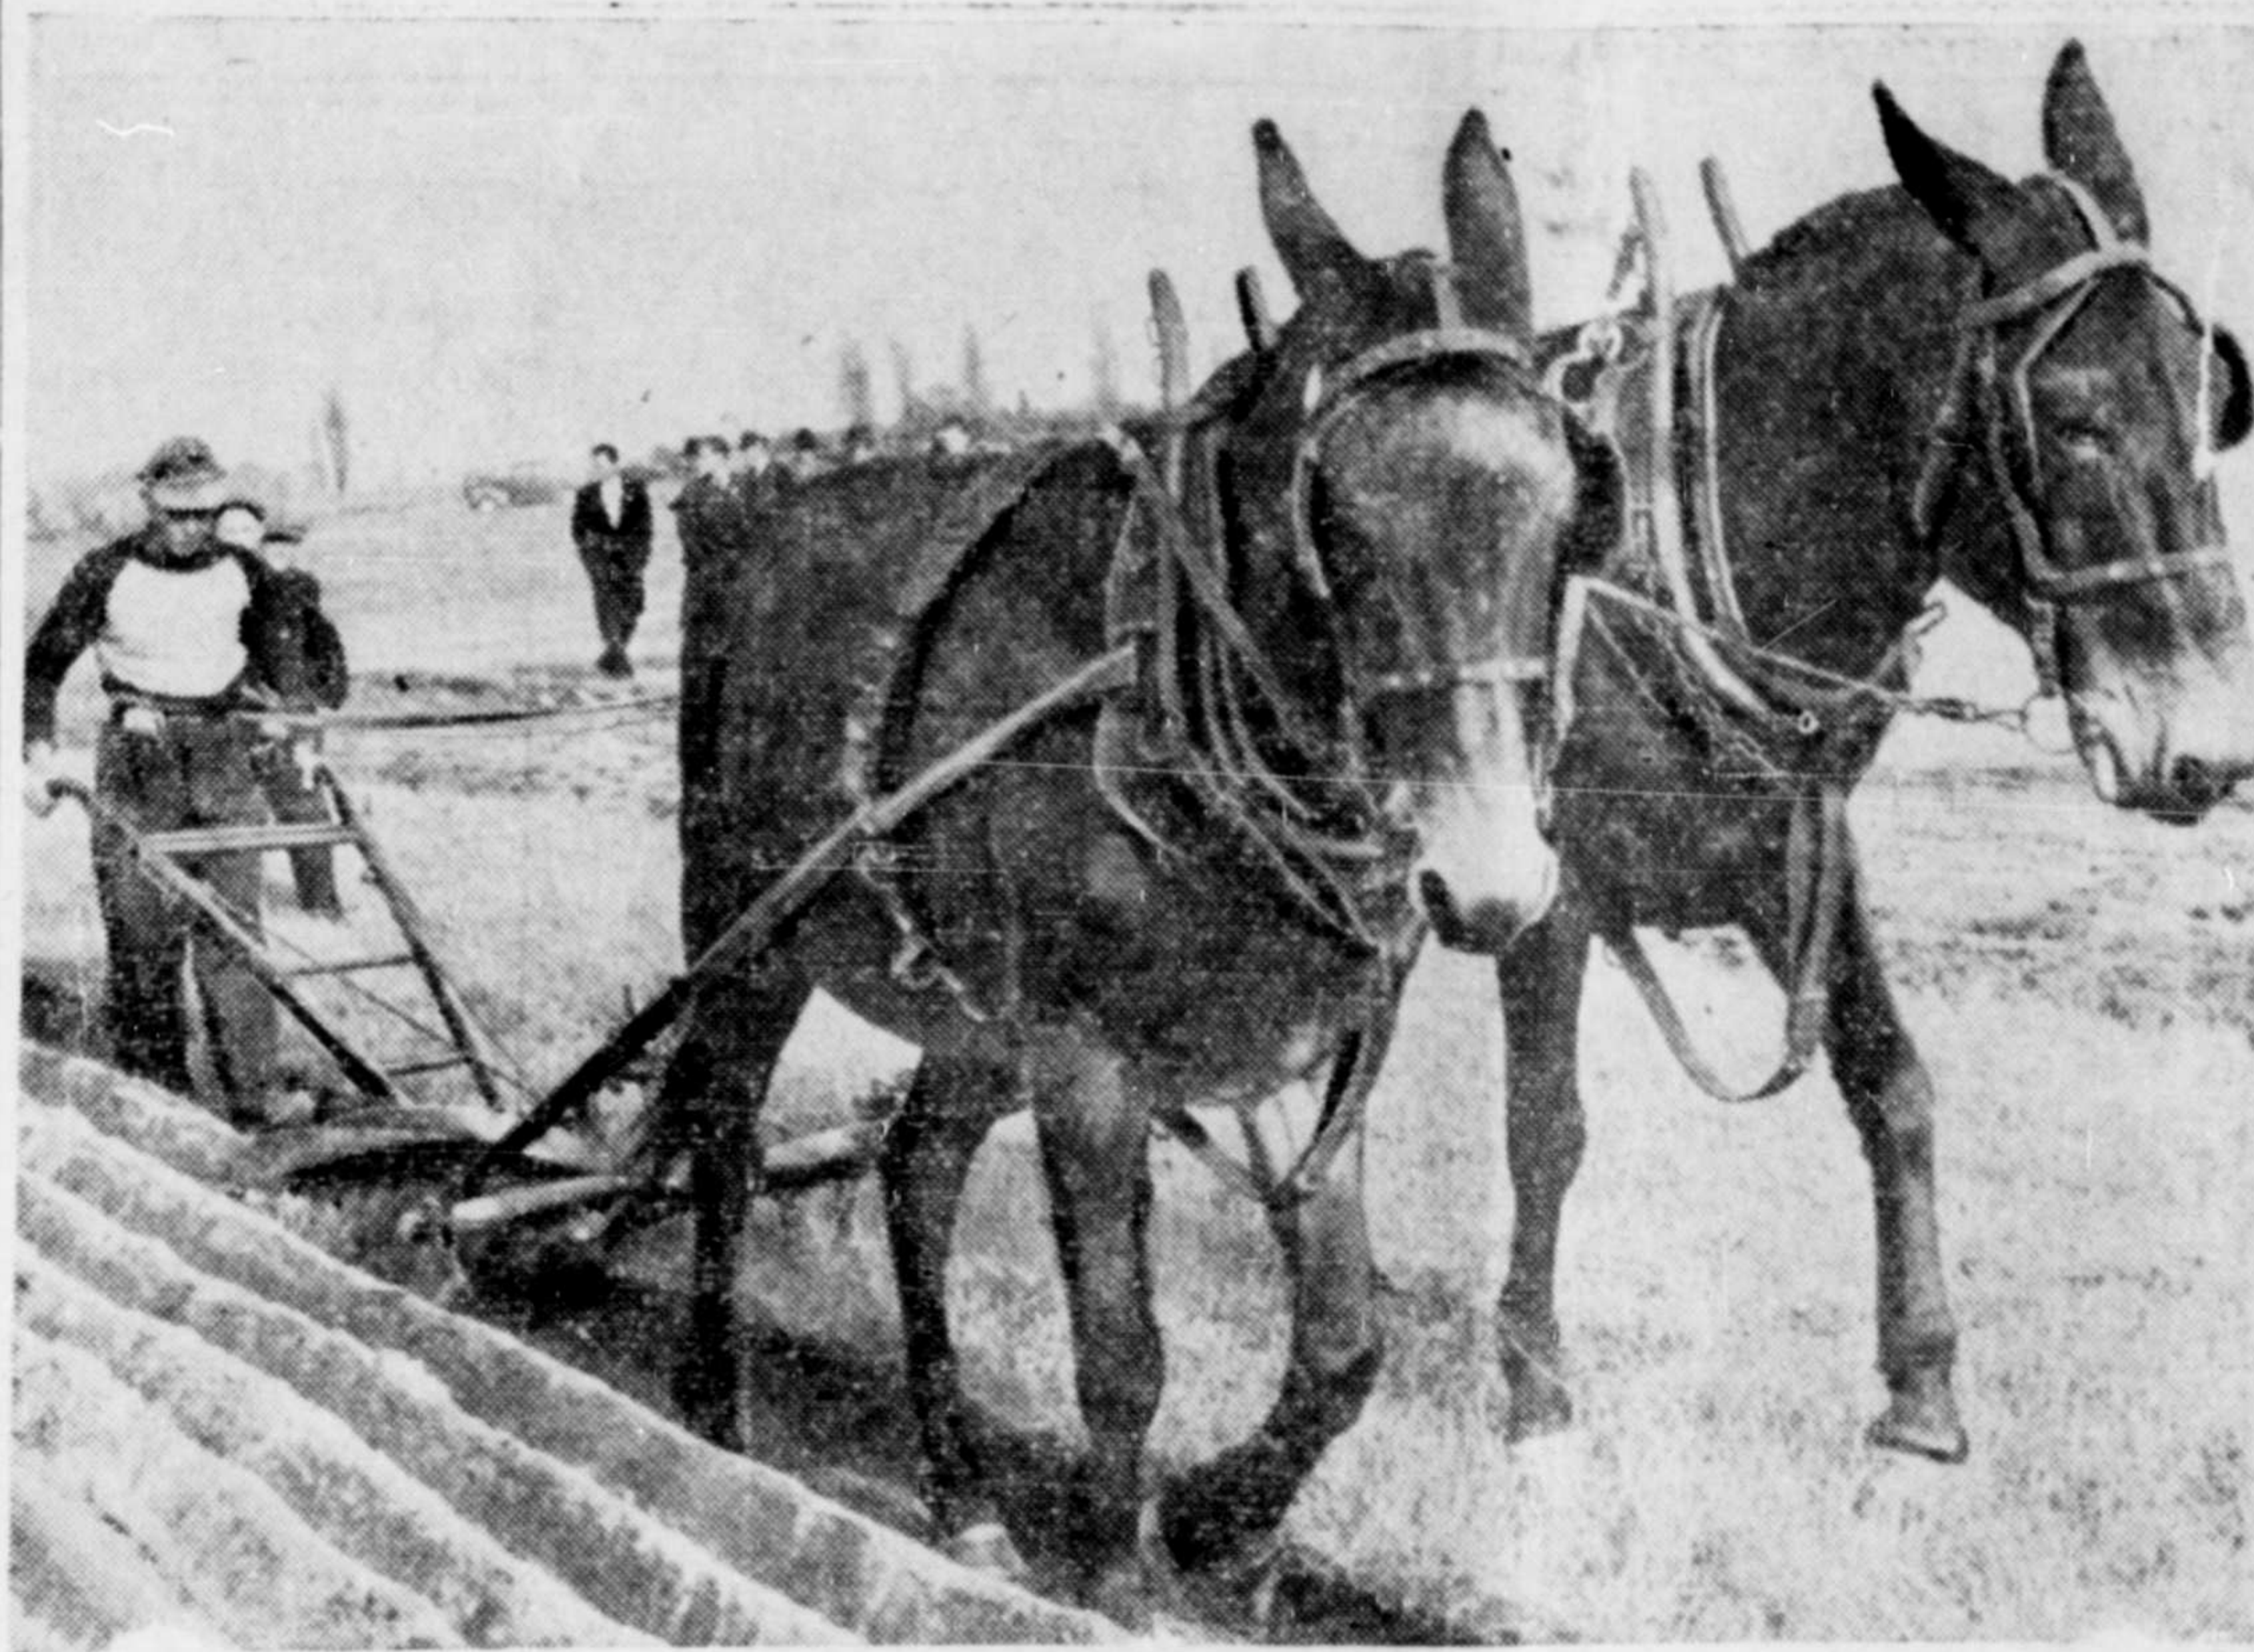

At Conrad Street School there were over 50 visitors. King Edward had over 100 while, at Borden Street School, 84 signed the visitors' book.

The children seemed glad to have their parents come to the classroom and this feeling was

Increase In Freight Rates Opposed Here

Opposition was expressed by resolution by the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce at its meeting on Monday night to the application which has been made by the railways of Canada to the Board of Transport Commissioners of Canada and the Wartime Prices and Trade Board to make a general increase in freight rates in Canada. Western provinces, feeling that they are already discriminated against in the matter of freight rates, have already gone on record as opposing the increase and are prepared to fight it. The freight rates committee of the local Chamber will draw up the local protest.

not confined to Grade One pupils. Parents of the beginners were probably the most impressed with the progress made in two short months. But parents of the older children found just as much to wonder at and admire in the accomplishments of their children, the methods employed by the teachers and the standard of attainment.

CANADIAN FLOWERS HOLD FIRST POST-WAR INTERNATIONAL MATCH—First international plowing match being held at Port Arthur, Ont., since the war was opened by Governor-General Viscount Alexander and features biggest display of farm machinery and appliances ever held in Canada. International events, in which recent winners of the U.S. championships are entered, will be held. When his turn came up in the contests at the airfield near Goderich, Ont., Hugh Simpson, of Teeswater, drew his team of mules by lot. He never had driven mules before, but after the contest said, "I like them. They're nice and slow and steady."

Demurrage Penalty Is No Problem Here

Answering an inquiry as to the effect on local shippers of a revised transport control order providing penalties in addition to demurrage where railway cars are held over for a free time period, the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, after investigation by its transport committee, has informed the traffic and transport bureau of Vancouver Board of Trade that Prince Rupert consignees are not affected by this order as they move their goods out with dispatch and do not incur demurrage. It is not a problem with shippers from Prince Rupert.

H. D. Thain, city clerk, has written to the secretary of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce acknowledging a letter which had been written by the Chamber expressing appreciation of the ceremonies in connection with the recent dedication of Roosevelt Park here.

FUND OPENED FOR AID OF LOCAL CRIPPLE BOY NEEDING TREATMENT

With T. Smith as the organizer and the co-operation of the Daily News, through which donations will be received and acknowledged, a campaign has been instituted to raise money so that a local boy, Leonard Campbell, who is suffering from a rare muscular disorder, may be assisted in receiving the proper medical aid or be placed in a crippled children's hospital where he could be made more comfortable.

Leonard recently returned from a clinic in Victoria because his parents, the parents of four other children, found the expense too heavy. If the response to the appeal is sufficient, it may be possible, it is hoped, to send Leonard again to a larger centre for treatment.

In view of the needy cause, confidence is being expressed that local organizations and individuals will give generous support to the fund.

Donations already received have been as follows:

At the meeting of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce Monday night, executive action which had been taken in asking the National War Labor Board to reconsider its refusal of an application of the Bulkley Valley Collieries to increase wages of its miners was confirmed. Refusal of the labor board to confirm the wage increase has resulted in the closing down of the mine by the management.
