Withdrawing Of Iran Case

Terms of Deal Between Russia and Persia on Oil Revealed

IRAN UNDECIDED
TEHRAN—The Tehran government, apparently, has not yet reached a decision as to its policy toward Soviet Union demands that the Iranian case be withdrawn from the United Nations security council agenda.

LONDON—The Moscow radio quotes Iranian Premier Ahmed Quavam as saying that the Russian withdrawal from Iran makes it unnecessary for the United Nations council to discuss the Soviet-Iranian dispute any further. At the same time, an Iranian general staff officer has told the Associated Press that he thinks that separatist movements in Azerbaijan Province and Kurdistan will end when the Russians complete their withdrawal.

In view of the agreement between Russia and Iran, Moscow demands the removal of the whole Iran case from the security council agenda.

Ambassador Gromyko, in requesting removal of the Iran case from the security council agenda, said that, in view of the settlement reached, there was nothing left to endanger peace and security and further discussion was, therefore, illegal.

The agreement on oil calls for a Soviet-Iran oil company being formed for a period of 50 years. During the first 25 years, the Soviet will have 51-49 control and after that there will be equal control. Russia will take half of the oil in northern Iran and Iran will have the right to sell the other half to the highest bidder which presumably would be Russia. The Soviet will bear all the expenses of oil development but Iran will retain title to the ground.

Premier Quavam of Iran says that he expects there will be no difficulty in the new autonomous government set-up in Azerbaijan.

Mutual messages of friendship have passed between Premier Quavam of Iran and Marshal Stalin of Russia, it is said here.

32 Years Since Line Opened

Few Prince Rupert people may have recalled that yesterday was a historic anniversary for Central British Columbia. It was, however, for on April 7, 1914, the last spike on the Grand Trunk Pacific railway line, linking Prince Rupert with the Great Lakes, was driven at Fort Fraser. About 1,500 people witnessed the closing act in the construction of the great railway as B. R. Kelliher, chief engineer for the railway, drove the spike. Two days later, on April 9, the first train from the east arrived in Prince Rupert and was met by thousands of cheering citizens.

The two pictures at the top record the final act of rail construction at Fort Fraser when the last spike was driven. They were supplied to the Daily News by D. Santerbane, a pioneer of Prince Rupert who was on the scene as a construction worker. A feature of the final period of construction was a race between the eastern and western crews to arrive at the appointed spot first. The eastern team won, defeating Dan Dempsey, well-known foreman who had held at one time the track-laying championship of America. Considerable money was lost and won on wagers.

Here is seen the arrival at Prince Rupert of the first through train on April 9, 1914. There is still a similar ramp and the "F. G. Dawson" warehouse is now occupied by W. H. Malkin Co.

This picture is another view of the final track-laying episode.

Father Kills Wife, Two Sons, Mother

Says God Ordered Him to Commit Rash Act

DES MOINES, Iowa (CP)—A mother, grandmother and two small children of a Des Moines family were hacked to death in the front yard of their home on Sunday. After a gun fight, police took into custody a newspaper printer who said "God had ordered me to kill my family."

William C. Irwin, 41, who was slightly wounded, was placed in a padded cell at the city jail. No charges were filed immediately. Those killed were Edith Irwin, 38, Irwin's wife; Mrs. Mary Alice Irwin, 64, his mother; John Irwin, 8, his son, and Henry Irwin, 5, another son. A third son, William 11, had gone to Sunday school before the slayings.

Detective Chief Paul Castelline said that he had asked Irwin whether he was crazy and Irwin told him, "I must be." Castelline said that Irwin had told him that he had been confined in a Chicago mental institution some years ago.

The weapon used was a double-edged grubbing tool with a flat blade on one side and a point on the other.

UNION WILL RAISE FUNDS

Striking Net Workers to Be Supported by Local

Prince Rupert local of United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union will start a campaign to raise funds to support the striking net workers who left their jobs along the coast last week in a demand for higher pay schedules. The decision was made at Friday night's meeting of the union after Secretary Boshier had delivered a report on the strike situation.

About 65 net workers in canneries in the Prince Rupert area are affected by the strike.

A report indicating the sympathetic attitude of native fishermen toward the strikers, prepared by William Beynon, northern business agent for the Native Brotherhood of B.C., was read. Mr. Beynon has gone to Vancouver to consult the executive of the union in regard to co-ordinating the activities of the union and the Native Brotherhood.

The meeting was informed that negotiations between the union and Atlin Fisheries and the Canadian Fish and Cold Storage Co. would come before the Regional Labor Board this week. The meeting was attended by more than 100 members. T. H. Elliott, union president, was chairman.

Onward and Upward

If the recent criticism of lack of policy on the part of the railway company as a part of the federal government organization has done nothing more than to stir the company to looking more aggressively to the possibilities of the development of this part of the country as a matter of national policy we have that much to be thankful for. While there may not have been much concrete accomplishment as yet, there are indications that a new measure of interest is being taken. That is all to the good and we are hopeful that it will be productive of real results in the ends to which we are all striving or should be. We are not satisfied that there is not still a considerable amount of apathy toward this part of the country on the part of both federal and railway authorities. However, there are, no doubt, some who are fully cognizant and earnest of the possibilities which exist and which, we believe, will lead to development and utilization if taken hold of in the proper spirit and with the adequate vision.

It is something that will need the fullest co-operation of all parties along unselfish lines. There is no room for lethargy or evasion of responsibility. Canada has not been built thus far that way and it will not progress until we all realize its possibilities and strive towards their accomplishment.

True greatness may not come in our day; our hopes and endeavors may not mean a great deal of direct benefit for many of us personally, but it is our duty to ever strive onward and upward. If we do not go forward, we go backward. There is no standing still.

Too Much Power

In a recent editorial the Vancouver Sun courageously denounced the autocratic powers invested in and exercised by officials administering the Income Tax Act and the Excess Profits Act.

The Sun quoted copiously from an editorial in The Prince George Citizen of November 29, 1945, which is out of print owing to the demand for copies from all over Canada.

It is fortunate for the freedom of Canadians there are newspapers who dare to challenge the powers that be and are not afraid of reprisals in their fight for the right, as are so many of the unfortunate victims of omnipotent officials.

Bureaucracy has taken over the functions and powers of the courts in many matters. The reign of justice under the rule of law, as interpreted by judges after deliberating upon evidence, no longer prevails. The situation has gone so far now that even those in the highest seats of governmental authority are pawns in the hands of officials, who have persuaded them to discard the elementary right of British citizenship—to be innocent until proven guilty after trial by one's peers—as indicated in the inquisitorial powers given to a commission on alleged spies held in detention and examined without charges being made and with counsel denied them. This is fascism, not democracy, and the ends do not justify the means.

It is time the people aroused parliament, which has slumbered too long, to assert its authority and demand a repeal of all the despotic powers granted and exercised by government employees.

Not only has the Dominion parliament abdicated its own authority to departmental proctors but it has invested them with statutory powers that superede the courts of law and make these agents of the government more powerful than monarchs.

British Columbia, too, has many statutes that need overhauling to remove therefrom those despotic powers granted to officials that give them total authority over the welfare and livelihood of the people who are denied any right of appeal.

Immigration Policy

The Dominion minister of agriculture, Hon. J. G. Gardiner, made the suggestion the other day that we should bring European immigrants to Canada instead of sending them food over there. There is something in the idea, although a lot of people are opposed to immigration at present. Yet the fact remains that with our population of 12,000,000 we cannot achieve the greatness that Sir Wilfrid Laurier predicted for us in the twentieth century. There must be no immigration until every person in Canada who wants a job has got one, but after that, selective immigration should be encouraged to develop our stupendous and incalculable resources.

We have untapped resources that we and many millions of people elsewhere can use, and it will take twice our present population to develop as much as we and they can consume or translate into manufactured goods.

NOW THE LID IS OFF

The battle of the Atlantic was on. German submarines were infesting the Atlantic, trying to choke off the vital flow of Allied war supplies going overseas. It was a life and death struggle. But the Allies were not leaving anything to chance. Even if the sea battle were lost, essential war materials would continue to stream overseas. How this was to be done was a secret until now. A secret shared by government leaders and high-ranking officers of the Allied Nations with no one but top officers of the Canadian National Railways, which was to play a very important part in the plan. The planes and munitions were to be flown across the roof of the world from the United States and Canada. Air bases for the service were established along the route at Winnipeg, The Pas and Churchill in Manitoba; Southampton Island, in the mouth of the Hudson Bay; Frobisher Bay, in Baffin Land; and Greenland and Ireland. To construct them, millions of tons of building materials and equipment and foodstuffs to feed the workers on the multi-million dollar project, and millions of gallons of fuel and supplies were carried as far as Churchill, the most northerly point on the C.N.R. system, 1,000 miles from Winnipeg. Several Churchill they were flown to. The service was ready.

was won. But the experience gained in flying the route was invaluable. There is no doubt peacetime aviation will benefit much from the pioneering done in 1942 to keep the life-line of civilization open. In the upper photograph a string of tank cars carrying high grade fuel oil to the far northern airports is shown leaving Winnipeg. Inset, equipment is being unloaded from a C.N.R. freight car by United States Army personnel at

EUROPE BETTER OFF THAN BRITAIN

Sgt. "Bud" Skattebol Did Not See Much Hardship in Germany and Holland

The long-suffering and patient people of England are worse off for food than those of the continent as far as it was his opportunity to observe, says Sgt. "Bud" Skattebol, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Skattebol, who returned home recently after three years overseas with the Royal Canadian Engineers. He spent considerable time in Holland and in Germany. In the Dutch restaurants one could buy almost anything one wanted even if the charges might be high. "That was more than one could do in England," Bud said as he recalled pheasant, partridge and chicken dinners in Arnhem. In Germany, the people whom he encountered seemed well fed and well clothed. Abandoned homes, for instance, had attics full of cured hams. Of course, this was in the country where people raised their own produce. The Germans were short of tea, coffee and cigarettes and went to every length to obtain these commodities from the Canadians.

Enlisting in November 1942, Bud landed in England September 1, 1943, and spent 10 months there before crossing to France one month after D-Day, landing on a beach near Vernier-sur-Mer with his unit, the Second Field Company, a Toronto outfit with the Second Division. They were assault engineers and their job, front line duty, was to clear mines and otherwise prepare for the advance of the main forces. They were in Oldenburg on V-E Day and the local soldier remained on the continent until February of this year.

Speaking of the German soldiers who were used to clear up the mine fields and engage in other work under the direction of the Royal Canadian Engineers following the armistice, Bud says they were good and willing workers, their only resentment, apparently being at being fenced in.

Skattebol did not remain for long in Germany but was sent back with his outfit to Arnhem in Holland where four or five months was spent dispatching Army equipment back to Canada or sending what was needed in connection with the occupation of Germany. Some of the material was being sold to the Dutch under machinery of disposal something like that of War Assets Corporation in Canada. The thousands of vehicles parked in Holland presented an almost unbelievable quantity. It was from Arnhem that "Bud" came home to Canada with a brief stay in England, crossing the Atlantic on the Ile de France. He will proceed to Vancouver after this month to receive his final discharge and then expects to resume his pre-war duties with the B. and N. Department of Canadian National Railways here.

Among Prince Rupert men Sgt. Skattebol met while overseas were Lieut. William Tobey, with the Sixth Field Company R.C.E. (Third Division), who took over in Holland from the company with which Skattebol was serving, and Sgt. Darrow Gomez whom he encountered in his historic Utrecht. Gomez has since returned to Prince Rupert and is now with the Hyde Transfer here.

GRANTHAM, Kent, Eng., 6—Joe Bland, 71, claims to be the first British subject to go to Nice as a tourist since the war.

CLOSING DOWN PRINCE GEORGE PRICES OFFICE

The Prince George office of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board is to be closed May 31 after which time the area now served by that office will be shared between Prince Rupert and Kamloops offices. The Prince Rupert office will look after the northern line of the Canadian National Railways and Kamloops will cover the area northward to Prince George.

District Air Force Men on 'Le De France'

Air Force personnel returning from overseas to this district who landed at Halifax from the Ile de France at the end of the week included Col. T. W. Crozier of Sandspit, Queen Charlotte Islands, and Leading Aircraftman B. O. Sandberg of Prince George.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

April 8, 1921
In spite of opposition, Minister of Lands Hon. T. D. Pattullo succeeded in having an appropriation passed in the Legislature for $200,000 for the court house building at Prince Rupert. The appropriation was for the year only, the ultimate cost of the building being set at $450,000.

A big halibut schooner, the Zilla May, was a complete loss after running on Strait Island reef. Capt. Hans Aarvold and his crew of 13 were rescued.

A resolution presented in the House of Commons by Col. Cy Peck, M.P., favoring the secession from British Columbia of the northern areas of the province, met with a cold response at a public meeting in Prince Rupert. While the speakers admitted that the north was "shabbily treated," they saw many difficulties in the way of secession.

BRITISH COLUMBIA AGRICULTURE, GREAT WAR, MUST BE GREATER STILL IN PEACE

No praise could be too high for the farmers and gardeners of British Columbia in regard to the successful efforts in increasing agricultural production during the war years. Now a new world-wide emergency has arisen and it becomes necessary make another appeal.

FOOD IS SHORT. PLANT A GARDEN

This appeal is made to everyone who can add our production of vegetables, fruits and other crops—from farmers and orchardists to the owner of the smallest home garden plot. The entire world tragically short of food. Canada, already exporting prodigious quantities of agricultural products, must send still more to those in dire need.

Canada's Government has already issued an appeal for more gardens. Household holders throughout B.C. are urged to plant vegetable gardens this year on a scale equal to or even greater than wartime. You are asked to "dig against famine" as the people of Britain are doing. Buy British Columbia seed, which is unsurpassed in the world—plant your garden and produce all you can.

METLAKATLA as a preliminary game to the finals next Saturday. Metlakatla boasts of a strong fast team, with a couple of boys who rack up 18 and 20 points a game. Should Co-op defeat Macey's it will give them a chance at revenge, since Metlakatla defeated them at Metlakatla a short while ago.

SHORT SPORT

Vincent Richards, one of the all-time greats of tennis, believes there will be open tournaments in the racquet game before long between amateurs and professionals. Bill Tilden's famed doubles partner says we will see open tennis tournaments with about 20 of the best amateurs competing against the same number of pros. Of course, that information brought questions and answers and they went something like this: "What makes you think so, Vinnie?"

"Well, tennis has been improving every year. The powers that be behind the amateur game finally are convinced that the sport has a better drawing power than golf and a lot of other competitive sports. We've been a little slow to recognize the value of the professional sport in this country but I wouldn't be surprised to hear quite a relaxation of amateur rules from now on. When you come right down to it, we've been playing as amateurs against pros in other countries for years. They had the advantage but we have managed to hold our own."

What about the Davis Cup, Vinnie?: "I think it takes two years to build a Davis Cup team. Many other fellows connected with tennis feel the same way. So now they are almost decided to play the matches every other year and hold the open tournament the alternate year. Of course, you know as well as I do that any kind of sport, even a flea race, would pack them in this year. But tennis has been gaining in spectator interest and it is ready to match any sport for popular interest."

Vinnie went on to tell about the pro tour that he, Tilden, Welby Van Horn, Frank Kovacs, Fred Perry, Martin Bundy and Jack Jossi have been taking this year. So far the top money has been $850 for the winner but

ONE-SIDED HOOP PLAY

Bo-Me-Hi 42, Co-op 18.
Savoy 43, Macey's 32.
Watts & Nickerson 52, Sea Cadets 17.

The basketball games played at the Civic Centre Saturday night turned out to be somewhat one-sided.

In the Junior game Watts & Nickerson defeated the Sea Cadets 52-17. High scorers in this game were Platen 14 and Skog 12, both of Watts & Nickerson's.

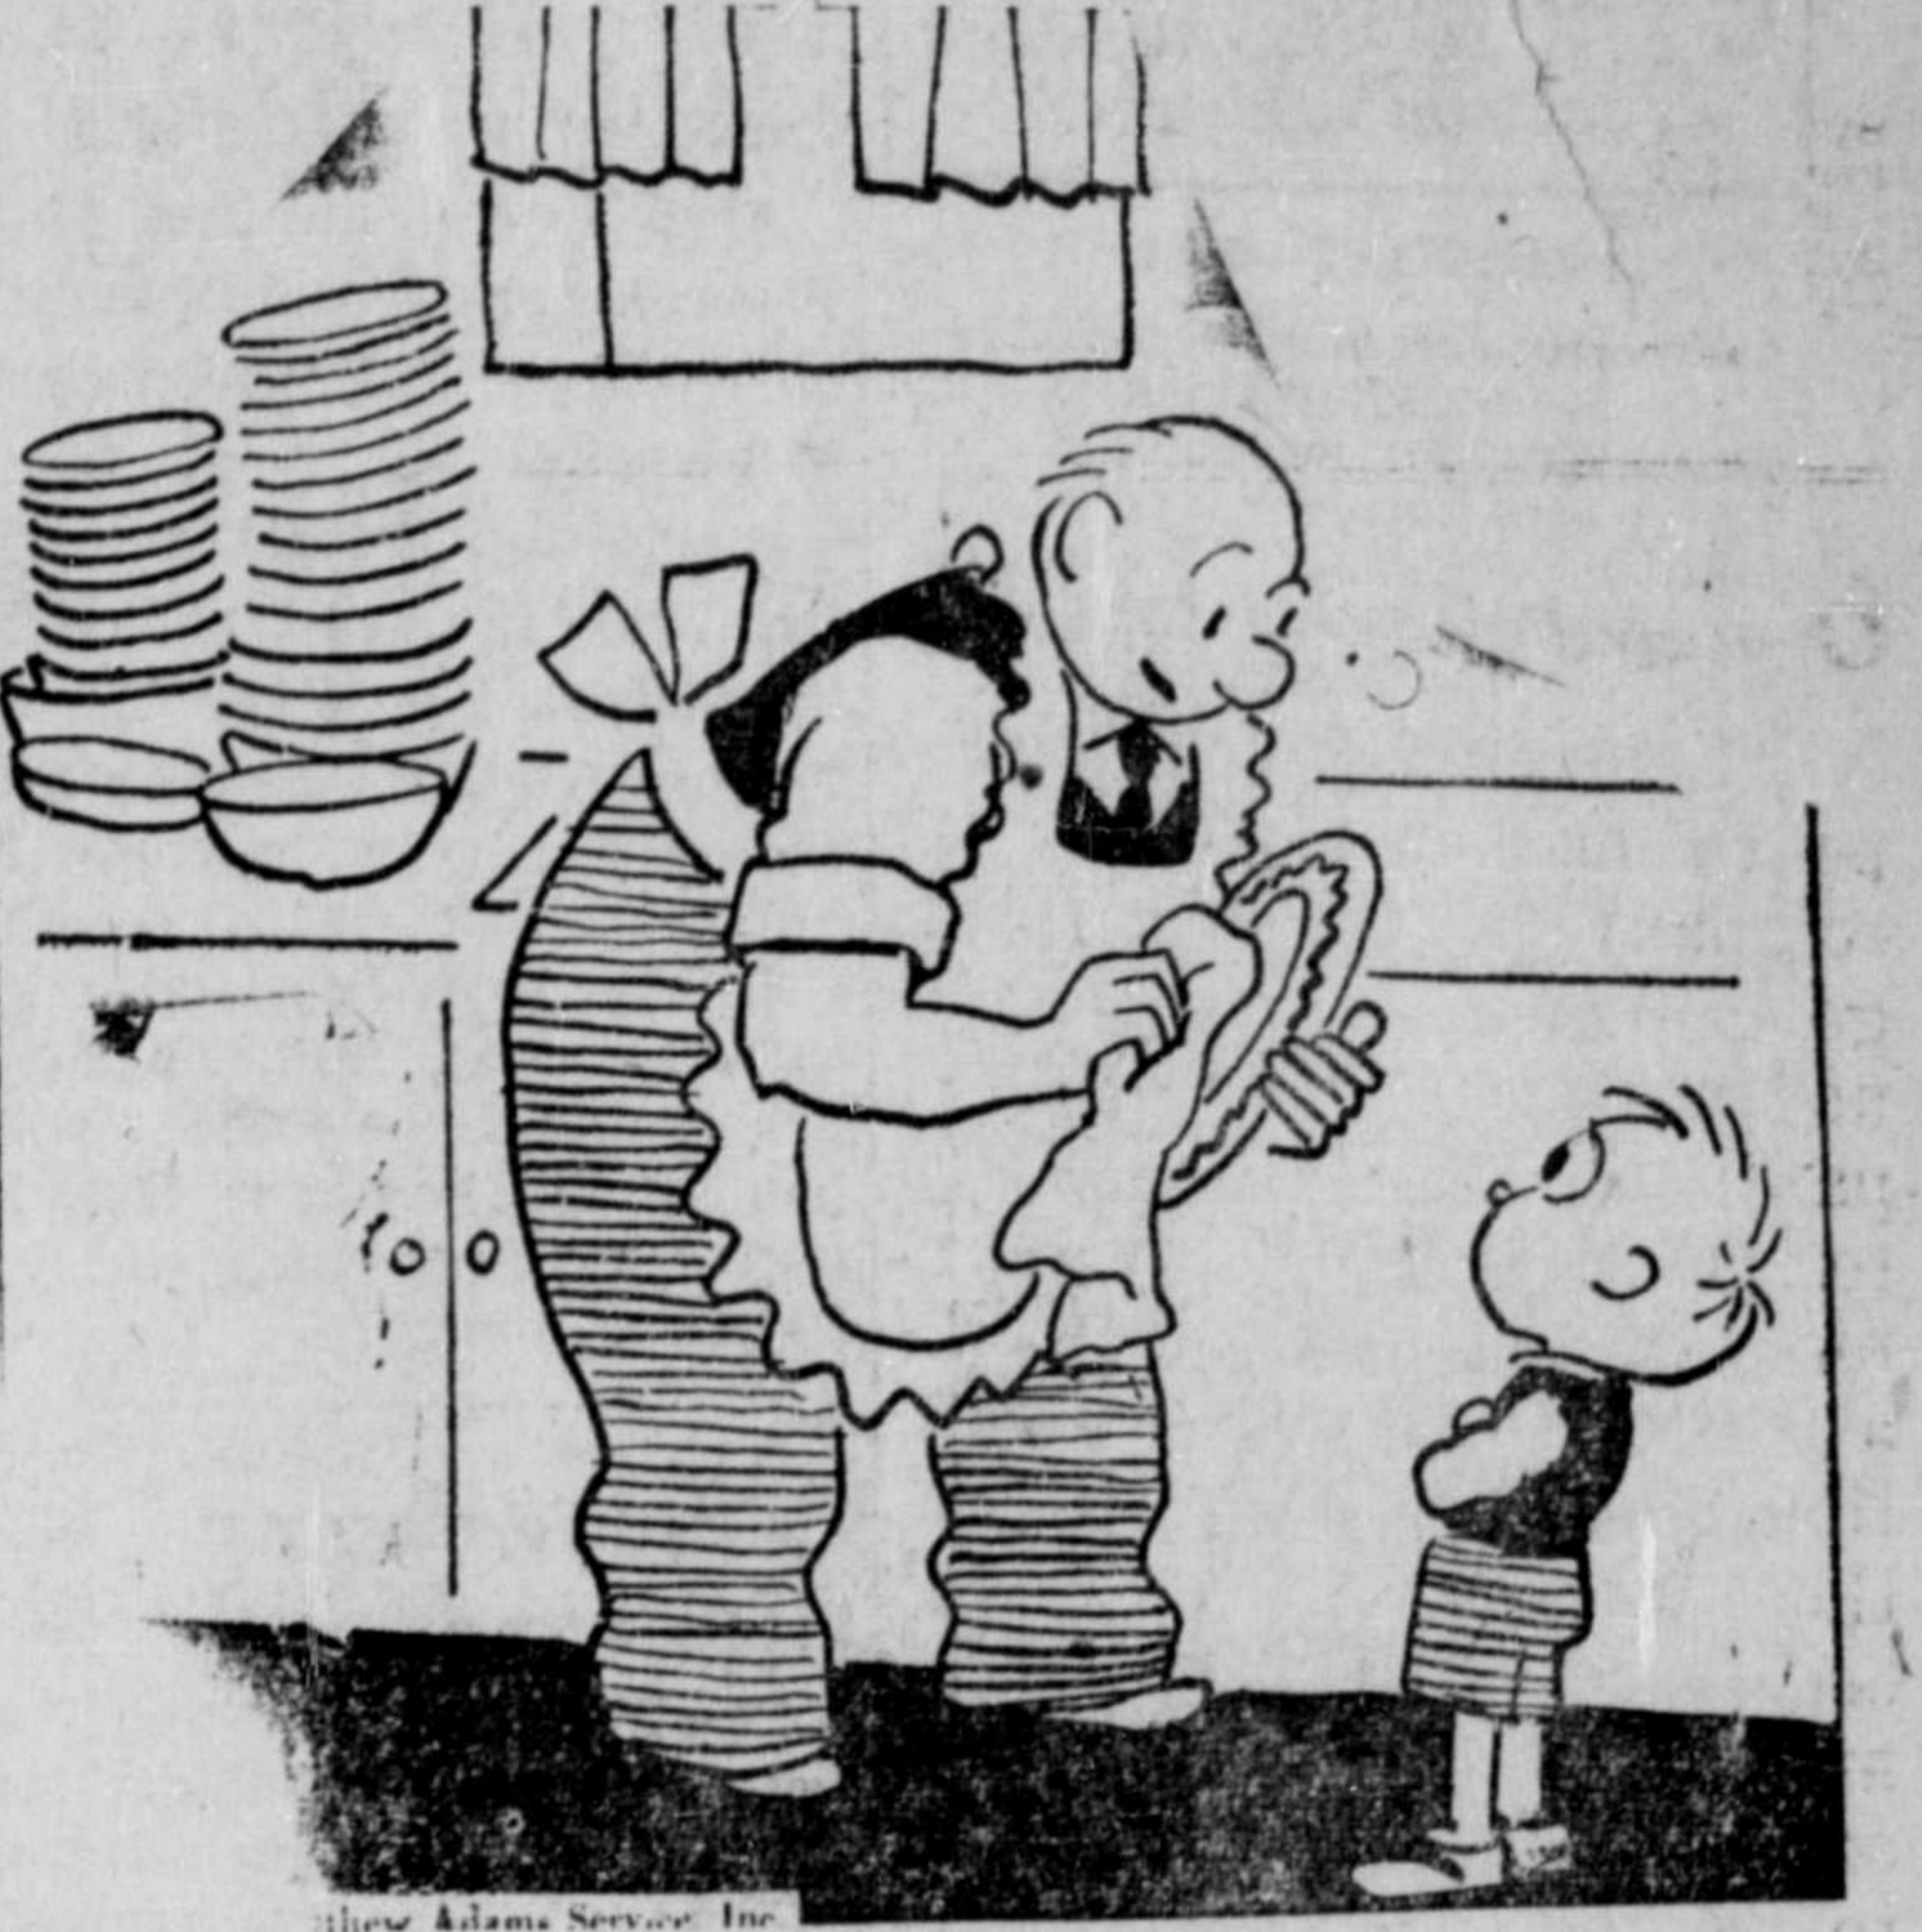

In the first Intermediate game Savoy defeated Macey's 43 to 32. Arney of Savoy, who was ordered off the floor during the last game, showed his teammates that he had the ability to do better and "swished" the net for a grand total of 20 points. Syd Alexander, star guard on the Savoy, came through with his usual 2 points. Mel Holkestad sat the game out on the bench. He is suffering from a leg injury but hopes to be in condition for the play-off game Tuesday night.

Bo-Me-Hi, the team that has been having its own way during the second half, swamped the Co-op by a score of 42 to 18. This win gives the students an enviable record, something they would like to have in their studies, 100 percent in the win column for the second half. The boys of the Green and Gold hope to continue their winning streak through the play-off games and thus retain the city Intermediate championship for another year.

Billy Bacon's Co-op have had the sad experience of losing numerous close games during the season. However they deserve a lot of credit for taking it on the chin so regularly and still come out with plenty of spirit after every defeat. They have had the crowd with them right from the start and next year promise "to produce the goods." In Saturday night's game, Co-op was minus its best man, George Viereck, who was "Best Man" at another affair. However, he will be out to make up for lost time this coming Tuesday when Co-op meets Macey's.

Individual scoring:
Watts & Nickerson—Skog 12, Platen 14, Intermela 6, Scherk 2, Nordgaard 8, Davidson 8, Graham 2, Total, 52.
Sea Cadets—Hebb 4, Currie 5, Youngman 4, Anderson, Owens 2, Watson, Johnson, Bouvette 2, Total, 17.
Macey's—Haugan 6, Murray 2, Pierce 2, Holkestad 8, Cruick-

brings Tea to your Table

CANADA produces no tea; India produces no Nickel. So Canada imports tea from India; India imports Canadian Nickel and articles containing Canadian Nickel.

Less than three per cent of the Nickel produced in Canada is consumed in Canada. The rest is exported, and the money received helps to pay for tea and other products necessary to good living in Canada. Canada cannot keep on importing from other lands unless Canadian goods are exported.

Also, we must continue to export Canadian Nickel if we are to continue to employ thousands of Canadians in the Nickel mines, smelters and refineries, and other thousands who produce the lumber, power, steel, machinery and supplies used by the Canadian Nickel industry.

By constantly expanding the use of Nickel at home and abroad, the Canadian Nickel industry brings additional benefits to Canada and Canadians.

C.W.L. Has Busy Day

Miss Ann McMaster, National President, Visitor—Large Meeting Sunday Afternoon

With Miss Ann McMaster of Vancouver, the national president, as their honored guest, the local Catholic Women's League has been busy since Saturday night when Miss McMaster arrived in the city by train after a successful organizational tour through the vicariate of Prince Rupert, new subdivisions having been formed at Smithers and Terrace.

Highlight feature of Miss McMaster's visit was a largely attended meeting of the local league yesterday afternoon at the Knights of Columbus Hall with Mrs. J. J. Gillis, the retiring president, in the chair and reading an appropriate address of welcome to the honored guest, Bishop Anthony Jordan addressed the meeting as did Miss McMaster herself. Election of officers of the branch ensued followed by a musical program and a social hour with serving of refreshments.

Bishop Jordan's talk was eloquent and inspiring, encouraging the women to further efforts and congratulating them on the splendid work they had done.

Miss McMaster was also impressive. She dealt with the early history of the League including its aims and objects, reminding the members of the work being carried on by the organization in all parts of the world. The object of the League was twofold—religious and patriotic—for God and for country.

During the war the League had worked in conjunction with the Knights of Columbus in war services in the four corners of the world. Wherever war raged, they were there with their cantens and entertainment. At the outbreak of war the League had given a donation of $25,000 outright to the government for war work. From coast to coast the League has taken part in every phase of the war effort. With branches in 750 centres, the League had a membership of 50,000 women.

Mrs. Lahti Is President

The election of officers resulted as follows:
President—Mrs. W. Lahti.
First Vice-President—Mrs. Leo Dioron.
Second Vice-President—Mrs. S. Dickens.
Third Vice-President—Mrs. R. Telseth.
Treasurer—Mrs. F. Hill.
Recording Secretary—Mrs. E. Smith.
Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. P. LeRoss.

The musical program included piano solos by Master George Gillis and Bernard DeJong and vocal solos by Mrs. Terry Fortune. Mrs. Arthur Murray was in charge of the refreshments with Mrs. C. P. Balagno and Mrs. E. J. Fitzpatrick pouring.

Q. What name should be mentioned first when introducing two women?

Q. Isn't it permissible to drink coffee or tea with the spoon if the liquid is very hot?

A. No; use the spoon for stirring only. It should then be placed in the saucer and remain there.

Q. What are considered the most popular hours for a wedding?

BRONCHIAL ASTHMA, ANTRUM, SINUS ALSO CATARRHAL AND BRONCHIAL COLDS!

What is LANTIGEN?
Lantigen is a specially prepared dissolved vaccine and has been used successfully in the treatment of various diseases. Lantigen is not a patent medicine. Lantigen is a bacterial vaccine in a dissolved state, is devoid of drugs and safe to take. Lantigen is a natural aid. It is produced from the bacteria which are peculiar to the particular disease requiring treatment. In the preparation of Lantigen the organisms are destroyed by a process of dissolution thus releasing the active principles from the bacterial bodies. Being in a completely dissolved state the vaccine is operative locally by absorption into the tissues of the tongue, tonsils, throat, and the intestinal tract and is further operative by means of its distribution throughout the system. More than 150,000 people in Australia have enjoyed relief from the distressing effects of Catarrh and allied conditions.

RIDEAU HALL
YOUNGSTERS

New Governor-General's Three Children—Rose, Shane and Bryan Will Bring Friend as Guest

OTTAWA. — Canada's new governor-general, Field Marshal Viscount Alexander, will be continuing a tradition when he and Lady Alexander move into Rideau Hall with their three children, Rose, 13, Shane, 10, and Bryan, 6. They will also have little Henrietta Scott, one of the children's friends, with them as a guest.

Nearly every Government House occupant has brought children who have taken advantage of the ideal playground of the rolling land around the big house. The Earl of Athlone and Princess Alice had their only surviving child, Lady May Abel Smith, with them for a time and her three small children spent all the war years with their grandparents.

Princess Patricia, daughter of the Duke of Connaught, who held office from 1911 to 1916, was the most famous and popular of the younger residents of Rideau Hall.

The Princess, now Lady Patricia Ramsay, had a Canadian permanent force regiment named in her honor—the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, generally known as the "Princess Pats" of Winnipeg, Vancouver and Victoria.

Two children of governors-general have been born in this country. In 1931 George St. Lawrence Newflize Ponsonby, son of the Earl and Countess of Bessborough, was born in Montreal and named after the great waterway which had impressed his parents on their arrival. Lord Frederick Blackwood, son of the Earl and Countess of Dufferin, was born in Ottawa in 1875.

The Alexanders' children are expected to continue their careful, quiet schooling at their new home. Rose, a slender girl with dark auburn hair, has been doing her lessons at home and also helping with the household work at the family's Windsor Forest residence. Shane has commuted to school by bicycle.

Fair-haired little Bryan's biggest job so far has been playing with his tanks and his favorite plaything, a much-worn hat his father sported throughout the Burma campaign. He was wearing it the day his nurse told him of the 8th Army's great victory in Tunisia.

Bryan's unimpressed reply was "Does daddy have to take orders from Sergeant Jack (Sgt. Jack Wells, the field marshal's driver)?"

Sgt. Wells, who has been with Alexander for years, is coming with him to Canada as chauffeur.

He was undersized, meek, diffident, subdued, and he had applied for a job as night watchman.

"Yes," said the manager dubiously, "but the fact is we want someone who is restless and uneasy, especially at night. Someone who sleeps with one eye open. Someone with remarkable hearing who starts at the slightest sound. Someone who is always listening, thinking there are bad characters around. We want a large, intrepid, aggressive and dangerous person, bad-tempered and revengeful. In short, the kind of person who, when aroused, is a fiend."

"All right," said the little man as he walked away, "I'll send the wife."

The young husband had just arrived home from the office.

"What's the matter, darling?" he asked. "You look flustered."

"Oh, I've had a dreadful day," his wife answered. "First Baby cut his first tooth, then he took his first step, and then he fell and knocked out his tooth."

"Well, and then what happened?" asked her husband.

"Oh, darling," she answered in a shocked voice, "he said his first word!"

They were a family of mechanics who usually came in very dirty and greasy from the garage. On this occasion, however, the boys were all spotless, as their sister was giving a select party. All went well until father, who had come in late, went upstairs to wash his hands, and bawled out from the top of the stairs: "Hey, mother, there are only clean towels up here! Shall I start one?"

Mother announced that a prize would be given every Saturday to the most obedient member of the family during the week.

Almost with one voice the five children protested: "Oh, that isn't fair. Daddy will win every time."

The child was out visiting with their mother. The stay was lengthy and the little girl became restless.

"Mother—" she said.

"Mary," rebuked the mother, "it's rude to interrupt while I'm speaking; you should wait until I finish."

"But," said the child, "you don't finish."

ONE-MAN MILK
BOARD CONTROL

Will Be Established in British Columbia to Safeguard Industry After Controls Are Removed

VICTORIA. — A bill creating a one-man milk board passed its third reading in the Legislature Friday. Hon. Frank Putnam, minister of agriculture, explained that the board was needed because of wartime controls coming to an end and the industry was fearful that there would be chaos and raising to sky high prices if complete control were taken off.

Arthur Turner, C.C.F. member for Vancouver East, thought that a three-man board might be better as it would not leave too much control in the hands of one man, to which Mr. Putnam replied that the commissioners would always be under the authority of the executive council of the Legislature.
