Assures From Canada Is First Class Mystery

OTTAWA (CP)—A Polish official today reported theft of part of a million dollar collection of Polish art treasures which had been sent to Canada for safe-keeping during the war. Eight trunks, holding Polish art treasures, were obtained, it is said, by a man from an Ottawa convent and 28 other richly filled trunks were removed from Ste. Anne de Beaupre, Quebec, church by three men.
Officials said that the password "The Holy Virgin of Czestohova" was used last May by a "man with a tumor behind his ear" to obtain the trunks in the Ottawa convent. Dr. Alfred Fiderkiewicz, Polish minister to

Bolshevist Birthday— Co-operation, Readiness Is Policy of Red Russia

LONDON (CP)—In a speech today marking the twenty-ninth anniversary of the Bolshevist revolution Marshal Govorv declared today in Moscow that Russia would "fight untriflingly for a lasting, stable and democratic peace." Soviet policy was one of co-operation among the nations.

GRAIN SHIPS COMING HERE

Several Vessels Will Use Port, Minister of Trade Advises
"We know of several ships that will be going to Prince Rupert (to load grain) and I can assure you that the Wheat Board will move to Prince Rupert all the grain for the handling of which arrangements can be made," says a letter which has been received by the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce from Hon. James A. MacKinnon, federal minister of trade and commerce.
The advice from the minister confirms other reports that grain shipments are to be made through Prince Rupert during the coming grain shipping season.
No definite word has yet been received as to when the grain will start moving in here.

TRYING TO GET SUBSIDY USED

Continuing efforts to have use made of the subsidy which was provided in the estimates at the last session of Parliament for Prince Rupert-United Kingdom shipping service, the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce Monday night instructed its transport committee to get in touch with shipping companies with a view to interesting them in taking up the subsidy.
Recently the local Chamber wired Hon. J. A. MacKinnon, minister of trade and industry, asking him if any steps had been taken towards utilization of the subsidy and if any interest had been manifested in taking it up. The private secretary wired in the minister's absence that no steps have yet been taken to utilize the subsidy.

RENEWAL OF FARM LABOR PACT SEEN

VICTORIA (CP)—Probability that a new farm labor agreement for 1947 may be reached between the federal Department of Labor and the British Columbia Department of Agriculture is predicted by Agriculture Minister Frank Putnam. He said that more than 30,000 farm placements were made in 1946.

IS ACQUITTED OF ESPIONAGE

Verdict of Not Guilty Returned Today in Case of Matt Nightingale
OTTAWA—Matt Nightingale, former intelligence officer of the Royal Canadian Air Force, was acquitted by a jury here today on charges of transmitting secret information to a foreign power, the charges having arisen out of the findings of the recent royal commission on espionage. The jury deliberated for three hours before reaching its verdict. Nightingale was then discharged by Mr. Justice Garland.

BOARD ELECTS RURAL MEMBERS

A slight Alphonse and Gaston touch was injected into last night's School Board meeting when the regular business was terminated briefly for the purpose of electing two rural members to the board. The formalities were completed when the two representatives present nominated and elected each other. Elected to the Board by reciprocal nominations were H. J. Brown of Port Essington and D. E. Alvey of Digby Island, both of whom had been named representatives previously by the ratepayers of their respective schools.
With everything "done up legal" by Schools Secretary Mrs. M. M. Roper, the Board settled down to its regular business.

KING NOT QUITTING

OTTAWA—Prime Minister Mackenzie King, in a press conference today, said he had no intention of retiring as head of the government or of the Liberal party "either now or in the immediate future."

President Truman Has No Intention Of Resigning

AIR BASE AT STAKE

War Assets to Take Over at Seal Cove at End of Month
Final disposition of the great war-established seaplane base at Seal Cove, Prince Rupert, may be precipitated before long as a sequel to the latest development in connection with the ten million dollar property the buildings in which, it has been learned, have just been declared surplus property and are to be turned over to the War Assets Corporation. With this eventuality, new arrangements would have to be made for the supplying of power and services to the base which, since the war, has been used tentatively by Queen Charlotte Airlines, operating commercially, and other air traffic at Prince Rupert.

CARIBOO M.L.A. SEES CLOSER LINK WITH HERE; NORTH SURE TO COME INTO ITS OWN SOON

Back in 1926 when Olier Besner made motoring history by bringing a car by steamer from Vancouver to Prince Rupert, shipping it from Prince Rupert to Hazelton and thence driving over the country roads of the central interior to Vancouver—thus achieving the first triangle trip over that route—Cariboo and Prince Rupert, indeed, seemed far apart. Since the opening of the Prince Rupert Highway the two communities have been brought into greater contact and today people from this city are frequently seen motoring through the mining and cow towns of the "finest riding with one of the greatest futures" in British Columbia. Next thing to be expected is that there will be a railway connection since the people of Cariboo are confidently looking forward to the completion of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway from Quesnel to Prince George and on to the Peace River. Then Prince Rupert and the Cariboo will be really close neighbors, said Louis Lebourdais, news writer and insurance agent M.L.A. for Cariboo who hails from Quesnel, to the Prince Rupert Gryo Club at luncheon yesterday. He invited the people of Prince Rupert to go into the Cariboo and, instead of high-tailing it on to Vancouver, stop over for a while in the towns of his bailiwick to see some real high grade cattle and potatoes, enjoy some angling in streams which had hardly been fished since Alexander MacKenzie went through back in 1757 and partake of some of the well known Cariboo hospitality.

government was embarking now after the difficult period in which the public works department had had the greatest difficulty in getting men and materials.
See Good Times Ahead For North
Mr. Lebourdais saw not only for the Cariboo but for the whole of the central interior, which had long paid tribute of taxes, gold, produce and even its young people to the south, a new phase of development. "Yes, we are entitled to good roads and a lot of other things which have been a long time in coming," he said, "but times have changed and I am confident that this whole north country is going to be really opened up and developed now. We can produce the goods if given the chance. I think we are lucky to be living in the north."

Talking about current prosperity and developments in Cariboo, Mr. Lebourdais told of recent big sales of high class stock at Williams Lake and Quesnel—2200 animals at Williams Lake and 1360 at Quesnel. Most of it consisted of fine beef cattle but there were show animals, too, and one bull had brought $950. No. 1 stock—there evidently is nothing else in that country—had been brought in from far and wide—some even from Anahim Lake, 200 miles distant—and had found ready sale at strong prices from eagerly competitive bidders. What might not be a generally known fact was revealed in that Cariboo produced more cattle than any other part of British Columbia.
Then there were the Cariboo potatoes—than which there were no finer anywhere, although around Prince George, in the Bulkley and Skeena valleys and around Terrace they grew just as good. Netted gems and white rose foundation seed potatoes, ungraded in the Cariboo fields, brought $83 per ton for shipment to California. Before long, Mr. Lebourdais predicted that in the Cariboo area they might be growing seed potatoes on 10,000 acres. They were scientifically rotating their crops between potatoes and grain and.

Letters to the Editor

SALMON AT STAKE

Editor, Daily News,
Please allow me space in your good publication to insert the following views.

I am a native fisherman and have thought of a few things in connection with our valuable fishing industry which might be of interest to our thinking fishermen.

A great task and an expensive one, entailing hard labor and millions of dollars has been the job of improving, protecting and maintaining our salmon spawning streams and fish hatcheries in British Columbia. Fortunately, however, our labor and expenses are not futile for it is encouraging to realize that our salmon are increasing in numbers in almost every fishing centre on the coast of B.C.

I am thankful to hear that United States, following an investigation, passed a bill in 1945 to take care of her off-shore fishing beyond the three-mile limit.

Before the war Japan employed large ships and mother ships, complete with canneries on board, down the coasts of Alaska and British Columbia, returning to Japan with holds loaded with valuable American and Canadian salmon. Of what value, then, would be our huge investments on conservation if we allowed foreign powers to continue fishing just beyond the three mile limit, while our salmon head out to sea 15 to 30 miles to feed and grow?

The "cocky" little Jap will be back to his old game very soon if we don't get together and provide a measure to prevent him.

I believe the boundaries of our territorial waters should be extended farther out and have coast guards on the look-out. If we fail in this, then let us stop wasting time and money on our conservation projects, for this is one sure way of permitting certain annihilation to our valuable salmon. This is certainly possible. What of new electrical devices which are able to detect fish schools and fish masses at sea? These instruments, combined with modern fishing equipment, present an undeniable threat to our already depleted salmon reserves.

A very heavy amount of various types of fish comes from Hecate Straits and it is a very valuable fishing ground to Canadian fishermen and highly profitable to the industry. So let us, as wise Canadians, make an earnest appeal through our members of Parliament to our government to make Hecate Straits strictly Canadian territorial waters since this body of water touches on Canadian territories on both shores. I believe this should have been done many years ago because the number of boats fishing off these banks is something terrific and boats fishing there are increasing every year, causing a terrible strain on its fish reserves. I also believe the United States would have done so if she had this body of water lying between her territories.

This large body of water, Hecate Straits, is where the major part of our young salmon go to feed, grow and play.

If these steps that I have suggested are ever taken, then we can happily say that we are protecting our valuable and wealthy industry for our good Canadian fishermen. Not only that, if these measures are taken we can then consider our hard labor, our taxes in the millions of dollars, well placed and well spent for the protection and prolongation of our salmon reserves and industry.

I want to thank you very kindly, Mr. Editor. Your paper has done and is doing a good job. We enjoy reading it and we surely pass it around; hoping to see this article in your paper soon and thanking you for the space,
JOSEPH R. DANIELS.

A PROMINENT LOCAL BUSINESS MAN, long active in public affairs and whose views, doubtless, are shared by many, suggests for our editorial consideration that the building of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway was Sir Wilfrid Laurier's greatest undertaking. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, he continues, put the Liberal party on the map and Prime Minister King owes his political success to Sir Wilfrid.

Continuing, the local man contends that Sir Wilfrid still wins elections for the Liberals not only in Quebec where Laurier's memory is kept politically alive but in Canada as a whole. "One would, therefore, think that a spirit of appreciation would flame in King's heart instead of permitting Canadian Northern satellites to sabotage the line from Jasper to Prince Rupert."

In the view of our friend, officials who say "we are interested in anything that will develop Prince Rupert" are merely parroting their superiors. "Can anyone point to anything they have done to develop Prince Rupert? If so they should trot it out. If, for instance, the new ship could not have been built at Prince Rupert as cheaply, if not cheaper, than at another yard owing to unproductive overhead here, a housecleaning is required."

There is at least one point in the views of our friend that most every one will agree upon and that is that the government and the railway company should take us into their confidence as soon and as fully as possible as to what is being done to develop Prince Rupert. Those who still believe that they have a spark of friendly interest in us would be bolstered up if they told us what is being done not only in general but in specific terms. It would also tend to foster the spirit of co-operation between the community of Prince Rupert and the interests whose active support we must have if, after these years of frustration, we are to soon have the development which we feel has long been our due.

Meantime, while the patience of some of our citizens may be tried in awaiting the concrete manifestation of same, there is reason we believe, to suppose that interest in the development of this part of the country is really on the rise. Possibly there are good reasons why certain things should not be too widely publicized as yet.

ACTION OF AIRPORT

WITH the buildings of the Seal Cove air base now being declared surplus to War Assets and the Department of Transport withdrawing from the property at the end of this month, the question of Prince Rupert's facilities for the mooring and servicing of aircraft—commercial and private—comes to the fore again.

A few months ago, considerable enthusiasm was displayed about obtaining the necessary buildings and accommodation there for a civic airport. The city was offered the property for a nominal rental of $1 per year but closing of the deal appears to have become bogged down on the failure to settle on the overhead entailed for the city in connection with insurance and maintenance. Now that the property is to be declared surplus, there will have to be an early decision as to its future disposition. It may involve the question of whether Prince Rupert is to have public airport facilities or depend upon private interests coming in and taking over the property and, possibly, its control. The advantages of the municipality possessing an airport have been explained and should be understood. Now the time comes to do something definite about it.

There is also the matter of maintaining services at the base in the meantime.

are preparing briefs in opposition. Every citizen in this country has a stake in this matter. It is in everyone's interest that our railways be prosperous, but if freights increase, so does the cost of living and doing business.

Without exhaustive examination of all the facts it will be impossible to determine the justice of the railroads' claims or of those who oppose the increase. That examination, for the time being, the public can leave with the transport board. But in addition to specific claims two other factors must be taken into consideration. These are competitive and service.

Substantially higher freight rates may be justified on the grounds of higher railway costs but, if they result merely in diverting a large volume of business into the hands of railway competitors, then higher freights may not be any solution. This matter must be treated not just as a railroad problem, but as one that concerns the moving of freight by any form of carrier.

And the service angle cannot be ignored. There are many miles of unprofitable railway line in Canada. We have lopped off some and can undoubtedly lop off more. But there are limits. It wouldn't be possible, of course, to confine operations only to the profitable sections of the railroads. If it were it would ruin us as a nation.

The railroads must provide some service to outlying parts of the Dominion whether that service is profitable or not. If they did not, both confederation and future growth would be impossible.

STAKE IN RAILWAYS

SOMETIME before next spring the Board of Transport Commissioners will have to decide whether freight rates in Canada are to be advanced. The railways are asking an increase of 30%, certain provinces and many other interested parties

As an example of the public service rendered by daily newspapers, one American daily, after persistent daily editorial comment, was able to unseat the civic leaders who had been abusing public authority.

OFFICERS FOR KIN ELECTED

R. E. Montador Again Heads Kinsmen—Dr. Galbraith Speaker—Hallow'e'en Fine Success

Election of officers for the ensuing term, an address by Dr. J. D. Galbraith, medical superintendent of Miller Bay Hospital, and a gratifying report on the Shell-Out campaign and Hallow'e'en celebration for children were the features of last night's regular dinner meeting of the Prince Rupert Kinsmen's Club.

R. E. Montador was re-elected president with R. G. Moore as vice-president, Pierre LeRoss, secretary; M. G. Irvine, treasurer; C. H. Collins, recorder, and Harold Muncey and A. B. Armstrong, directors. The installation of officers will take place at the first meeting in January.

Dr. Galbraith spoke interestingly of the rapidly extending activities and facilities of the Department of Indian Affairs in connection with the prevention and treatment of tuberculosis. He mentioned how it was being endeavoured to tie in with other anti-tuberculosis services. Work in the tuberculosis hospitals, of which Miller Bay was the latest to be established, was described.

Dr. Galbraith told the Kinsmen that there were now 75 patients at Miller Bay Hospital with 29 still in the General Hospital, Miller Bay was the third hospital in the province for treatment of tuberculous natives. The first had been established at Coqualeetza in 1941 and the second was that at Nanaimo.

Death rate of Indians from tuberculosis was disclosed by the speaker to be 800 in 100,000 persons with that for whites 47 in 100,000.

Discussed the revolutionary new preventative treatment for tuberculosis, expressing the hope that it might soon be introduced locally.

May files were now being sent at Miller Bay of nearly 3000 natives in the area between Queen Charlotte Islands, on the

As a result of the Shell-Out campaign, the gratifying sum of $250 had been cleared, it was reported by R. G. Moore. The appreciation of the enjoyment with which the children had been provided at the Hallow'e'en bonfire celebrations had been a matter of gratification to all concerned, all agreeing that the effort was well worth-while.

There was a good attendance at the dinner which was held in the Civic Centre. Guests were C. H. Insulander, Gus Shromdahl and Alex Bailie.

Speaker at the next meeting of the Kinsmen's Club will be Ober Hauven who will relate experiences in the Northwest Territories.

LOCAL GIRL IS REGINA BRIDE

Miss Ruth Nelson Becomes Bride of David Ebel

A marriage ceremony of local interest was solemnized in Grace Lutheran Church, Regina, Saskatchewan, on October 20 when Ruth Irene, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Nelson, 2129 Graham Avenue, Prince Rupert, became the bride of David Linton Ebel, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Ebel of Regina. Rev. Mr. Trett officiated.

Given in marriage by the bridegroom's uncle, Ted Kober, the bride entered the church to Mendelsohn's "Wedding March." She wore a white gown with matching gloves of transparent velvet. The ensemble was designed by Miss Betty Hutchison, formerly of Prince Rupert and now of Prince George. The bride's floor length veil was held in place by a headdress of sweetheart design. She carried a bouquet of tallismans roses.

Attending the bride was Miss Norma Gross of Regina, who wore a gown of pink sheer with chapel veil. She carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses and pink carnations.

Little Miss Viola Ebel, sister of the bridegroom, was flower girl. She wore a white dress and carried a huge basket of mixed flowers.

Groomsman was William Ebel, brother of the bridegroom.

BASKETBALL POT SHOTS

A lot of talk has been heard from the basketball fans and players in regard to the breaking up of the powerful High School Rainmakers quintet by sending up some of the team to either Savoy or B.C. Packers in the Senior "A" loop, thus weakening the students' line-up and supposedly evening up the Senior "B" teams.

The students take pride and enjoy playing for the green and gold of Bo-Me-Hi and practice diligently to attain such an opportunity. Some of the students feel it is not fair to be forced into breaking up their best team in many years.

But there is not much danger now that Joe Davis and Mel Holkestad have returned to the Savoy line-up. This will strengthen Savoy's and give them about 10 players while B.C. Packers is holding its own in the league with 11 players which doesn't leave much room for any High School players moving up.

The best solution to the Senior "B" troubles might be to strengthen Macey's and Co-op. These two teams can strengthen themselves by practice, by teamwork and by acquiring a fighting spirit.

There has also been rumor of the Rainmakers moving up as a team into the Senior "A" division. But the Rainmakers want the intermediate cup back in Principal W. W. C. O'Neill's office at Bo-Me-Hi at the end of this season and this can only be done with the Rainmakers remaining in the Senior "B" and winning it.

At present the Rainmakers are undefeated in their league with all their games won by wide margins and in the Senior "A" loop 99 Taxi seems to be doing the same. It would be a treat for the fans to watch these two in an exhibition game so that the fans could realize the difference in strength of the two Senior leagues. Still better, let the Rainmakers try and work their way up to the present champs by starting at the bottom of "A" league with a game with the Savoy. If they should defeat the Savoy they would meet B.C. Packers and if again victorious the green and gold tide would be eligible to play 99.

The talk of breaking up High School might end if the Savoy's stopped them in their first encounter. The Savoy were the nemesis of the students last year. After going through the second half last year undefeated Bo-Me-Hi let the championship slip away by losing 2 to 1 to the Savoy's in a thrilling best out of three play-off series. Last year the Savoy line-up consisted of Arney, Davis, M. Holkestad, Vukovich and Alexander and the Rainmaker five were Forman, Hartwig, Lavigne, Ciccone and Thompson.

If Bo-Me-Hi and Savoy were to meet this year their line-ups would be practically identical to the last time they met except that Savoy would carry the edge with the addition to theirs of R. Holkestad, D. Murray, D. Arney and R. Moxley.

Association President Art Murray is attempting to have the Rainmakers and Savoy matched in an exhibition game and thus have the school make a bid at working up the Senior "A" ladder. But, with the important Ketchikan-Prince Rupert series coming up next week he has as yet set no dates for what might be the game of the year.

The basketball executive has done a good job in the selection of players from various of the Senior "A" teams to take part in the inter-city hoop series between Prince Rupert and Ketchikan scheduled for November 15 and 16.

With Art Murray as team manager, the following 10 are selected as players:

Guards—Bob Houston (99 Taxi), Sev Dominato (99 Taxi), Don Fitch (B.C. Packers).

SHORT SPORT

Lionel Conacher, perhaps Canada's greatest all-round athlete, was bought by the Montreal Maroons from New York Americans of the National Hockey League in a straight cash deal 16 years ago. After his retirement in 1937 Conacher sat for a time in the Ontario legislature and served as chairman of the Ontario Athletic Commission.

Two outstanding Canadian athletes, Phil Marchildon of Penetanguishene, Ont., and Roy Conacher of Toronto, were sworn into the R.C.A.F. in Toronto four years ago yesterday. Marchildon, who placed ninth in the balloting for the American League's most valuable player the same year, is back on the Philadelphia Athletics pitching staff. Conacher, formerly a forward with Boston Bruins of the National Hockey League, now plays for Detroit.

profiting from the painful experiences of other areas, and growing potatoes as disease-free as could be found anywhere.

Mining activity was also coming back rapidly in the Cariboo. Mr. Lebourdais disclosed. Several dredging outfits were already in operation and others were setting up. The hard rock miners' strike had slowed things up but Cariboo Gold and Island Mountain at Wells were opened up again and promising lode properties west of Williams Lake at Kleena-Kleen and Tasko Lake were under development.

Even lumbering was becoming quite an industry in the Cariboo with no less than thirty-four sawmills around Quesnel alone.

With many new resorts opening up to give people a good time without pampering them, the tourist business in the Cariboo was showing a great expansion. The fishing streams and the guest ranches were attracting more and more visitors. Many came by car over the highway and the Pacific Great Eastern Railway was also carrying many in. In fact the railway line was running three well-filled trains a week now in addition to the freight and cattle trains.

Talking of the Pacific Great Eastern, Mr. Lebourdais explained that one of the reasons the Cariboo people were so interested in seeing the line completed through Prince George to the Peace River was that cheap hard grain would then become immediately available for the finishing of the Cariboo livestock.

President W. D. Lambie presided over the luncheon and other guests, besides Mr. Lebourdais, were W. L. Armstrong and Nelson Young of Prince Rupert and Kristian Sortland of Germansen Creek.

Gratifying financial success of two recent community service fund raising events was reported—the Apply Day sale netting over $200 and the Halloween Hoedown over $400. The respective committee chairmen—David Allen and W. F. Stone—were congratulated. They, in turn, acknowledged the energetic support they had obtained from the members as a whole.

Frank Skinner extended an invitation to all Gyros and their wives to visit the Union Steamship Co.'s new steamer Coquitlam next Sunday night when she arrives in port on her maiden voyage.

WALLY'S JEWEL CASE NOW EMPTY—Scotland Yafd is in a dither because this jewel case is now empty. Fifty of its best operatives are working on the daring burglary which saw thieves decamp with the million dollar collection of gems of the Duchess of Windsor, which she housed in this case. The duchess is shown receiving the jewel case at ceremony when she was the governor's lady of the British West Indies—It's empty now. It was emptied by the nocturnal visitors who staged a "welcome home" party for the recently-returned duchess (while she was absent) at the secluded Ednam Lodge of the Duke of Dudley at Sunningdale in Berkshire county, England.

HALLOWE'EN QUIET BUT ENJOYABLE; SEVERE SNOWSTORM HITS DISTRICT

STEWART—The Stewart Parent-Teachers' Association held a Hallowe'en party in the Moose Hall last Wednesday. There were many games with apples, and plenty to eat so the youngsters had a wonderful time. The old-time Hallowe'en hand-out was missed and, as one youngster said, "The party was all right but I like the Handout." Some of the older boys would like to have staged something rougher but they were forestalled by a patrol which kept them on the dodge and caused considerable dissatisfaction in their ranks. It was a very happy and peaceful Hallowe'en and no one regretted the absence of the pranks except the few would-be pranksters.

Stewart was visited by a severe snowstorm last Saturday. Over two feet of snow fell and the provincial government snow plow went into action clearing the main thoroughfares and the Salmon River Road as far as the Silbak Premier Mine.

The Carolan picture show is now a regular feature showing on Wednesday and Saturday and fills a long felt want. The long trip to Premier and the attendant expense has been a deterrent to the movie fans.

There is every indication that the Silbak Premier Mine will not operate this winter except for a few necessary repairs and some maintenance work.

Education Week

November 4 - 9

(By a Social Worker)
Education—What a Blessing!
That is what our young people at school should not fail to appreciate. If in youth they despise this blessing, they may later in life spend much time in gloomy regrets upon those sad words: "It might have been."

We could mention any number of men and women who ruined their own lives and saddened the lives of others by their ingratitude to parents and teachers. There was Absalom. What golden opportunities and blessings God showered upon that young man. He had a brilliant and wealthy father. He had health and strength of body. In short he never wanted for anything except the grateful recognition of his wonderful blessings. But, instead of making the most of all these advantages, he wanted more. He allowed covetousness to drive him to desperate and shameful courses. Thus he brought ruin upon himself, bitterness of soul to his father, and misery to thousands of others.

How different the story of Joseph, son of Jacob! The misfortune which befel that poor boy might have driven many a one to despair. But Joseph met every situation with unflinching courage and determination.

I am writing this especially for our young people who are now attending school, high school, college, or university. Some of these may feel their limitations. They may at times have difficulty in meeting financial requirements. They may be depressed because they are not as brilliant or gifted as others. However, why should I recount all that may be disagreeable or distressing? Each knows his own limitations and difficulties best. But, young man, young woman, do not dwell upon these things. Rather "count your blessings, count them one by one." Do not forget to be grateful for the privilege of attending school but daily make the most of your opportunities.

BOARD PONDER'S WAGE REQUESTS FROM TEACHERS

District School Board members geared themselves into a bargaining mood last night and set about framing counter-proposals to salary increase requests by the Prince Rupert District Teachers' Association which if granted would cost the board more than $19,000 a year above present salaries.

The counter-proposals will be presented to the salary committee of the Teachers' Association at a meeting later this month, when, it is hoped, a satisfactory compromise can be reached.

After reading a list of six requests by the teachers, which resulted from a meeting between the board and the salary committee last month, School Board Secretary Mrs. M. M. Roper explained the information that to grant the requests in full would cost the Board an additional $19,539 for the present term if made effective now.

"It would cost considerably more than that if it was made retroactive to September 1 as suggested by the teachers," Mrs. Roper added.

Basis of the teachers' claim is payment of the salary schedule set by the B.C. Teachers' Federation, plus $200 annually to cover the greater cost of living in Prince Rupert and with $100 annual increases.

Other clauses in the teachers' request were:

1. Increments (increases) to be based on one increment for each year's teaching in British Columbia and one-half increment for each year's teaching outside British Columbia.
 2. Teachers with temporary certificates, who who are otherwise fully qualified, to be treated exactly the same as those with permanent B.C. certificates.
 3. If the School Board finds it necessary to hire teachers above their place on the salary schedule (possibly owing to difficulty in obtaining teachers) then the salary schedule is to be adjusted to bring all other teachers' salaries into alignment.
 4. An unsatisfactory inspector's report is not to affect a teacher being put in the salary schedule but should only affect the pending increment.
 5. The salary schedule is to be made retroactive to September 1, 1946.
- The schedule set by the Teachers' Association asks a $1,500 minimum and a $2,600 maximum for teachers in the elementary schools and a minimum of $1,800 and a maximum of $3,200 for secondary school teachers. Both schedules are to have $100 annual increments.
- Mrs. Roper pointed out that no school in the province is paying as high as the Prince Rupert teachers are asking and that the present minimum salaries paid

Senior High Record Enrolment

October enrolment in the senior division of Booth Memorial High School was the highest in the records of the school. Principal W. W. C. O'Neill stated last night in his monthly report to the Prince Rupert District School Board. Senior enrolment was 220 out of a total school enrolment of 473. Mr. O'Neill reported.

Attendance record at the school during October was 96 per cent, the principal said. Junior high school enrolment was 253. Mr. O'Neill informed the board that the installation of fluorescent lighting in one of the Booth classrooms had been a progressive step that had "transformed the rooms."

Total enrolment in the city's four schools during October was 1,139 and enrolment in the rural areas of the district from which reports received, was 51.

At Borden Street elementary school, enrolment was 195, with an average attendance of 93 per cent. Principal J. S. Wilson reported. Grade Six pupils at the school raised $17 for the Junior Red Cross by a sale of hot dogs, and an additional $7, also for the Junior Red Cross, by a concert for other school pupils.

Enrolment at King Edward elementary school was 267, with an average attendance of 93 per cent, according to Principal Robert G. Moore.

Conrad Street Elementary School had an enrolment of 204 with an attendance record of 89 per cent, Principal T. G. Bateman informed the board.

In the rural areas, Digby Island school had an enrolment of 19 pupils, according to Principal Miss Gladys Foster, Port Essington had 20 enrolled, while Port Simpson had an enrolment of 12, Miss Jane A. Common, teacher, said. No report was received from Port Edward school.

MYSTERY AND DRAMA HERE

Picturization of Great Novel Features Ingrid Bergman and Gregory Peck

A film replete with gripping drama, high-pitched intrigue and poignant drama, is being featured tonight, Thursday and Friday at the Capitol Theatre in "Spellbound," the picturization of Alfred Hitchcock's great novel which was conceived in the blitz days in Britain. Ingrid Bergman and Gregory Peck are co-starred and supporting players include John Emery, Leo G. Carroll, Rhonda Fleming, Wallace Ford and Michael Chekhov.

Briefly, the story concerns a mysterious young man who, suffering from amnesia, becomes suspected of a murder and, with no memory of the deed, believes he might be guilty. A young woman psychiatrist falls in love with him and desperately tries to save him from punishment for a crime she is sure he did not commit. How she manages to reach into the recesses of his mind and bring back bit by bit the baffling secret his loss of memory has hidden from the police forms the basis of the fascinating mystery which passes through exciting sequences to a thrilling denouement.

The performances of Miss Bergman and Gregory Peck are said to be of exceptional merit.
