Revival of Old Vision

Mayor Speaks—Worship Believes Outlook Pioneers Should Be Recaptured—Discusses Local Needs

Strongly urging a continuation of the effective spirit of community co-operation which has found expression and recognition in such representative organizations as the Industrial Development Committee and the Public Relations Council, for which he bespoke the best of public support, Mayor M. Daggert, speaking yesterday before the Prince Rupert Club on the current subject of popular interest—"What the Rupert Needs"—expressed his opinion that many people in this city had never fully grasped the vision which had inspired the founders of Prince Rupert. It was a vision which he felt should be recaptured in the changing world of today in which he still had confidence. Prince Rupert was destined to be a part of major importance.

Incidentally, the mayor mentioned that it was the thirty-seventh anniversary to the day of his own first arrival in Prince Rupert and he remarked that he came here with only $25 in his pocket. I haven't much money today, he pretty well all in city taxes but I still have the greatest of faith in Prince Rupert.

"What does Prince Rupert need?" His Worship asked. "To start with I would say that we need strong and aggressive labor and businessmen who will sacrifice of their time to serve in the office both as members of the city council and the school board. We need strong organizations and strong members of commerce headed by progressive men who, in their outlook, can see the outlook and the future possibilities of building up a prosperous city with opportunity for all its citizens to enjoy a descent standard of living but cultural and recreational facilities as well. With this attitude and representation in such organizations as the Industrial Development Committee much can be done to foster and develop the establishment of new industries here."

Speaking for the Industrial Development Committee, Mr. Daggert expressed the opinion that while nothing much tangible may have yet resulted, important contacts had been made from which in time much benefit might accrue. It was his belief, that this committee should continue to function permanently. The members of the elements of the community had got together in an active way for the future.

The Public Relations Council had an important part to play and was as well deserving of full public support in its aims. The importance of compiling full and accurate information was emphasized.

Prince Rupert also needed the best support of community activities such as the Civic League and Rup-Rec programs leading to the building of strong bodies and strong minds. Full attention should also be paid to moral and spiritual values without these, the spread and development of juvenile delinquency could not be effectively combated. The value of developing public speaking talents was mentioned by the mayor in passing.

Realizing the need of more adequate parks and playgrounds, the mayor announced that he had taken up the matter while in Victoria recently with the Minister of Lands, Hon. E. T. Keeney, and had received much encouragement for the hope that new public park areas would be set up on Mount Hays and Mount Field here. Incidentally, he also went into the matter of securing suitable property in a new area just outside of the city for cemetery purposes. His Worship appealed for pa-

TRYING IT FOR SIZE—Just before his defence witnesses made their appearance before the international tribunal at Nuremberg, where they tried to present him as a misunderstood leader of a betrayed nation unjustly maligned as an aggressor, Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering took his place in the newly-placed witness box as a test for the judges. The box was originally nearer to the judges' bench. In this new position the witness can be seen more easily by the tribunal.

WINTER AIR OPERATIONS

Namao Field, Eight Miles North of Edmonton, Is to Be Used

EDMONTON—It was learned in Edmonton yesterday that operations of the winter experimental unit of the Royal Canadian Air Force and Royal Air Force will be moved to Namao Field, eight miles north of Edmonton. The unit now is situated at the Edmonton airport. To date the unit has tested practically every type of R.C.A.F. and R.A.F. combat bomber and transport plane. However, lack of cold weather has handicapped tests, including that of the Gloster jet-propelled planes. Preparations are already under way for operations next winter which officials hope will be colder than this one.

Giders similar to those used in troop operations over western Europe near the end of the war have been towed over Edmonton recently. They are being used by the R.C.A.F. Transport Command on the Muskox expedition. Another glider, known as the Flying Wing, now is at Namao Field and will be tested shortly. The Flying Wing was built by the National Research Council's aeronautical section.

Australia Blasts Russia; Says Challenge Unmet

NEW YORK (CP)—On motion by State Secretary Byrnes of the United States, the U.N.O. security council today shelved the Iranian case until May 6 but the decision came only after Australia's delegate had blasted Soviet Ambassador Gromyko's walk-out and accused the council of failing to do its duty.

Nine of the council's eleven members voted for the Byrnes resolution, based on Russia's promise to the council that her troops will be all withdrawn from Iran early in May, after Iranian Ambassador Ala Hussein had stated that his government would accept the deferment.

The council adjourned until Tuesday.

The Australian delegate demanded a full investigation into the Russian attitude, particularly as reflected in the walking out of Gromyko from the council sessions. There had been a challenge, he declared, which the council had failed to meet.

A statement signed by the four parties which boycotted the election and declined to put up candidates, described as "bogus" the parliament elected on Sunday and asked "the great allies to rectify" the situation.

Says France Missed Boat

Allied Attack On Germany During Polish Campaign Would Have Met Little Resistance

NUERNBERG—Field Marshal Keitel testified before the International Military tribunal today that only 20 divisions, including reserves, guarded western Germany during the Polish blitzkrieg and "a French attack would have met with no German defence."

Keitel, on the witness stand in his own defence, said that both allied and axis secrets leaked out "through the close connections of the Belgian and Italian royal houses." This, he said, was a factor in Hitler's war planning.

Russia and Iran

There is so much contradiction and so much inconsistency about the reports which emanate from the United Nations Organization security council in New York regarding the Russia-Iran issue that it is difficult to make a true estimate in comment on the situation. One day one thing is said or believed and the next the whole picture, as a result of new reports is completely changed. A crisis appears to be worked up at one time and a few hours later it appears to have been removed.

Some of the statements that are made are obviously ridiculous and not worthy of credence. But all lend to the general uncertainty. The whole situation now appears to be anti-climatic. Yet, there is probably more about it than strikes the eye and the ear.

It is too bad that diplomatic chicanery and vacillating propaganda should cause delay in the difficult task of perfecting the functioning of the instrument of international peace and security.

Caloric Intake

Food is the world's number one worry these days and speaking of food brings up calories.

Calorie is the scientific term for one unit of food-energy value. It is sort of a measure for the fuel that goes into the human machine.

To keep the body alive and moving the need is 1,500 of the units. Office workers are said to require 2,500, light muscular workers 3,000 and heavy duty men on continuous hard work 4,000.

Taking 100 calories as a measure, that amount of food-energy can be found in two tablespoons of ice cream, one strip of bacon, three tablespoons of flour or one large slice of bread.

Family Skeleton

The new Governor-General of Canada is evidently a humorist and does not mind a joke on himself. Field Marshal Lord Alexander, telling guests at a London dinner recently that his grandfather had spent some time in Canada, read out an extract from a newspaper of that time stating:

"A Viscount Alexander of the Coldstream Guards was up before a Quebec magistrate today for being drunk and disorderly."

The new viscount said he hoped that history would not repeat itself.

SECRETARY-GENERAL OF THE UNITED NATIONS—Trygve Lie, Secretary-General of the United Nations Organization, was born in Oslo and studied law at Oslo University. He began his career as legal advisor to the Norwegian trade unions and has been Minister for Foreign Affairs for Norway since 1941. He accompanied the King and government when it left Norway in June, 1940, after the German invasion and established its headquarters in London. He later returned to Norway secretly and travelled hundreds of miles, giving help to the resistance movement, before being smuggled safely back to Britain. He was chairman of the Norwegian delegation at the San Francisco Conference. He is married and has three daughters whom he has brought with him to the United States where the permanent home of the United Nations Organization is being fixed.

WHAT Prince Rupert Needs

(Being one of a series of suggestions by readers of the Daily News for the betterment of this city.)

It was not long after war was declared in 1941 by Japan on the United States that the strategic position of Prince Rupert against Japan was recognized. Immediately American money was spent to extensively develop this port and build up rail facilities to cope with the ever increasing war demands. Naturally, during the war years there was sufficient work for all with good wages and no one complained—in fact, the problem was to find enough men to do the work at hand. Now the war is over and the Americans have moved out and we find ourselves perhaps a little worse off than we did back in 1939. The question now is—

"What are we going to do about it?" We have several things that we can do which will be enumerated as follows:
The fishing industry has always been the main business of this port and has provided satisfactory incomes for the men and capital employed. However, it would seem that only halibut and salmon have been exploited, with not much interest being shown in other species of fish. Research should be undertaken immediately to examine all grades of marketable fish in order to build up this resource to its greatest capacity. One never knows when one class of fish might fail and then we would have enough of the others to carry us through.

The tourist trade was always a most profitable business in Prince Rupert, prior to the war, and it will come back again as soon as boats are available. The boats will call at Prince Rupert and we should anticipate this and be prepared. We need a new tourist hotel here where the travellers might be inclined to remain for a day or two in comfortable surroundings. An advertising program should be worked up describing Prince Rupert and the surrounding district for the benefit of prospective visitors.

We have one of the finest dry docks on the Pacific coast which has never been used to capacity except during wartime. A more aggressive attitude should be adopted towards new ship contracts and repair jobs. If this policy is adopted, it will provide jobs for at least 500 men.

Our grain elevator has been more or less a "white elephant" since it was built although during the year 1935 over 40 deep sea boats called here for cargoes. When one considers that each boat spends at least five thousand dollars in port, a steady movement of wheat through this city would be of inestimable value to the development of this port. Prince Rupert is five hundred miles nearer the Orient than our southern ports and this advantage should be capitalized. A concerted effort on the part of citizens would bring pressure on interested parties to examine our potentialities in this particular trade.

One of the tragedies of Prince Rupert's life is that men who have lived the best years of their lives here and accumulated a modest estate have finally moved away from the scene of their activities to retire to what they hope is a better climate. They naturally take their wealth with them and some other locality derives the benefit of their fortune. If these successful men practice a little more loyalty to their city, were a little more public-minded, they would remain and spend their savings in that place where they were acquired, giving at the same time to the oncoming generation the experience of their business acumen. As long as our leading influential citizens fall in this regard our civic growth is going to be hampered. Let us all adopt the policy of staying with Prince Rupert to the finish.

Before closing, mention should be made of our highway. If this road is kept in good condition, tourists will use it, as well as residents of the interior, and thus bring us closer to the residents of our hinterland. Added to all these suggestions, there must be a spirit of co-operation among all the people to further the best interests of the community because, without this co-operation, it will be impossible to achieve the best results which we all hope for in the future.

The entries for the first week have been judged but no announcement will be made until after the final closing on April 15.

TEACHING OF INDIANS

Tuition Costs Argued at School Board Meeting

Tuition costs of Indian children attending the city's schools will be paid by the Indian Department only in cases where the children's families do not live in residential property that pays school tax and only in cases where the residence period of the family in the city is of a very transient nature.

The School Board last night was informed by Indian Agent James Gillett in a letter that this was the ruling of the Indian Department in regard to a request by the board that the department pay tuition costs for all Indian children enrolled at the city schools.

Schools Secretary Mrs. M. Roper said that she had sent a list containing more than a score of native children's names to Mr. Gillett but that, under the Indian Department ruling, only about four children would have their tuition paid by the department.

The board feels that, since the education of Indian children is a responsibility of the Indian Department, it should also pay the tuition for such children when they attend school in Prince Rupert.

The Indian Department argues that, if the native families reside on city property that is assessed school tax, the department is relieved of responsibility for paying school tuition. Only in cases where the families' stay

Padre Durnford, who was a highly popular member of the community before the war, returned to England at the beginning of the year following a brief trip to Canada late in 1945. Mrs. Durnford remain in England. He served through the Italian campaign as chaplain to the Seaford Highlanders of Canada, winning the Empire's second highest award for gallantry for his work among the wounded during bitter fighting.

DEPARTING UKRAINIANS FAREWELLED

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. A. Smereka gathered over the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Hruschak to bid them farewell on the occasion of their departure for the prairies. Mr. Smereka has been employed at the dry dock for the last few years. The occasion was a double farewell, for Mr. Emil Hawryso, also a local resident for several years, is leaving for Vancouver and Victoria. Several speeches were made in Ukrainian and English on behalf of the large gathering present and suitable presentations were made. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, and afterwards the guests danced to the music of "Pop's" orchestra.

Mrs. Morris Menell and two children arrived in the city on Tuesday night's train from Ottawa to take up residence with Mrs. Menell's twin sister, Mrs. James Cowell, for the next two years while Sgt. Menell is in the Northwest Territories with the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals.

In the city is very temporary will the department assume the cost.

Tuition cost amounts to about $35 per pupil per year.

The board moved last night to try and seek a more satisfactory arrangement.

Organize Lacrosse

Enthusiastic Preliminary Meeting Held Last Night

Prince Rupert people will have the pleasure of witnessing some excellent box lacrosse games this summer if those who attended last night's meeting to organize a lacrosse association here continue with their initial plans. Sixteen enthusiasts, many former players, met in the Civic Centre and, after discussing the prospects, appointed three of their number to begin the groundwork. Rup-Ree Director George McGregor was appointed chairman of the temporary organizational committee.

Main concern of the lacrosse group is playing quarters and Fred Graves will make a survey of the city to see quarters to house the games and practices. Standard floor space is 80 feet by 180 but smaller quarters would suit if they could be found.

Assisting Mr. Graves in the hunt for playing space will be Bud Schuman, Adam Urquhart and Aid. T. N. Youngs.

Allan Sheardown was appointed to contact the provincial lacrosse association with regard to affiliation procedure and pricing equipment while William Sheardown will canvass the city seeking sponsors for the teams. It was suggested that, as a start, three intermediate and two children's teams should be created.

The enthusiasm which the sport would build up would undoubtedly cause a great demand for participation in the league. Mr. Sheardown felt.

When the information on organizing and other matters is collected by the committee, another meeting will be called to elect officers and make final plans for league operations.

SHORT SPORT

Hamilton Tigers arrived in Montreal today for the opening game of the eastern Canada senior amateur hockey final tonight against Montreal Royals.

The Stanley Cup final between Montreal Canadiens and Boston Bruins resumes tonight in Boston where a capacity crowd is expected to watch the Bruins try to halt the Canadiens' winning playoff streak at six games. The Canadiens hold a two to nothing lead in games in the best-of-seven series. They knocked off Chicago in four straight in the semi-final series and, if they repeat that trick against Boston, they will be the first team in the history of the N.H.L. to win the Stanley Cup in eight straight games.

The Cincinnati Reds announced that outfielder Eric Tipton has been released outright to St. Paul of the American Association. Tipton is a former Duke University football star. He played with Toronto in the International League before moving up to the Reds in 1942.

All previous overtime records were broken 13 years ago last night when Toronto Maple Leafs and Boston Bruins clashed at Toronto to decide the National Hockey League title. Little Ken Doraty gave Toronto the title when he banged in the only goal of the game after 164 minutes, 45 seconds of play. Montreal Maroons and Detroit Red Wings eclipsed the mark in the 1936 play-offs when they played 173 minutes, 30 seconds, Red Wings winning 1-0.

Johnny Dundee retained his world's junior lightweight boxing crown at Toronto 23 years ago tonight. The New Yorker, who later held the featherweight title, shaded Jimmy Goodrich of Buffalo in 10 fast rounds.

Tie Game Opens Western Allan Cup Finals—St. Mike's Whip Canadiens Again

TORONTO—Games in the western Canada senior hockey final and the eastern Canada junior final were played last night.

At Trail, Calgary Stampeders and Trail Smoke Eaters battled to a 1-1 overtime tie in the first game of the series to decide the west's representative in the Allan Cup finals.

At Toronto, the defending Memorial Cup champions—St. Michael's College of Toronto—walloped Montreal Canadiens 8-2 in the second game of their eastern junior final. St. Mike's need only one more victory in the best-of-five series to qualify to meet either Winnipeg Monarchs or Edmonton Canadians in the junior final.

Reasonable Ideas for Housekeepers

HOW CAN I ???
By ANNE ASHLEY

How can I make butter easily?
When spreading butter on slices of bread for making sandwiches, dip the knife frequently in hot water. By doing this the butter will spread easily.
How can I whiten handles of knives that look shabby and become yellow after a time?
To whiten them, use a solution of peroxide mixed with water.
How can I keep leather soft and pliable?
Rub the shoes about once a week with castor oil, or rub occasionally with vaseline.

TOPPING FOR DESSERTS KEEPS MENUS INTERESTING

There are two ways to keep menus interesting and up-to-the-minute. One is the adventurous plan of attempting to introduce entirely new ideas in food. The other is to give the family their favorite dishes. In following the former course you will find new desserts that you will want to add to your list of favorites.
The dessert course through the years has ever remained the highlight of the dinner menu. No other course brings greater reward to the homemaker's efforts, nor gives to her family that sense of lingering satisfaction.

The dessert must never be chosen entirely on its own merits. Select it with an eye to the courses which have preceded it. In other words, if the main course has been high in calories your dessert should be low. If the main course has been rich and heavy, then be sure to serve a dessert light in texture and tart in flavor.
The reason we serve desserts is to round out or complement the other courses. It is also the medium through which that air of festivity and glamor is added to the ordinary meal. This does not mean that your desserts must be fancy and time-consuming in their preparation. Make them as simple and labor-saving as possible. However, to make them "company fare" dress them up with a topping or a sauce.

The home economists of the Consumer Section, Dominion Department of Agriculture, have a few recipes which may be used as substitutes for the wartime casualty-whipped cream. Left-over egg whites may be utilized as the foundation for so many tasty dessert toppings. These toppings should be made just before serving and used up immediately.
The left-over egg yolks may be used in mayonnaise, custard sauce and baked custards. They may be hard-cooked by dropping them in simmering salted water for 15 minutes and then sieved. Use hard-boiled egg yolks in sauces, French dressings and as a garnish for salads.

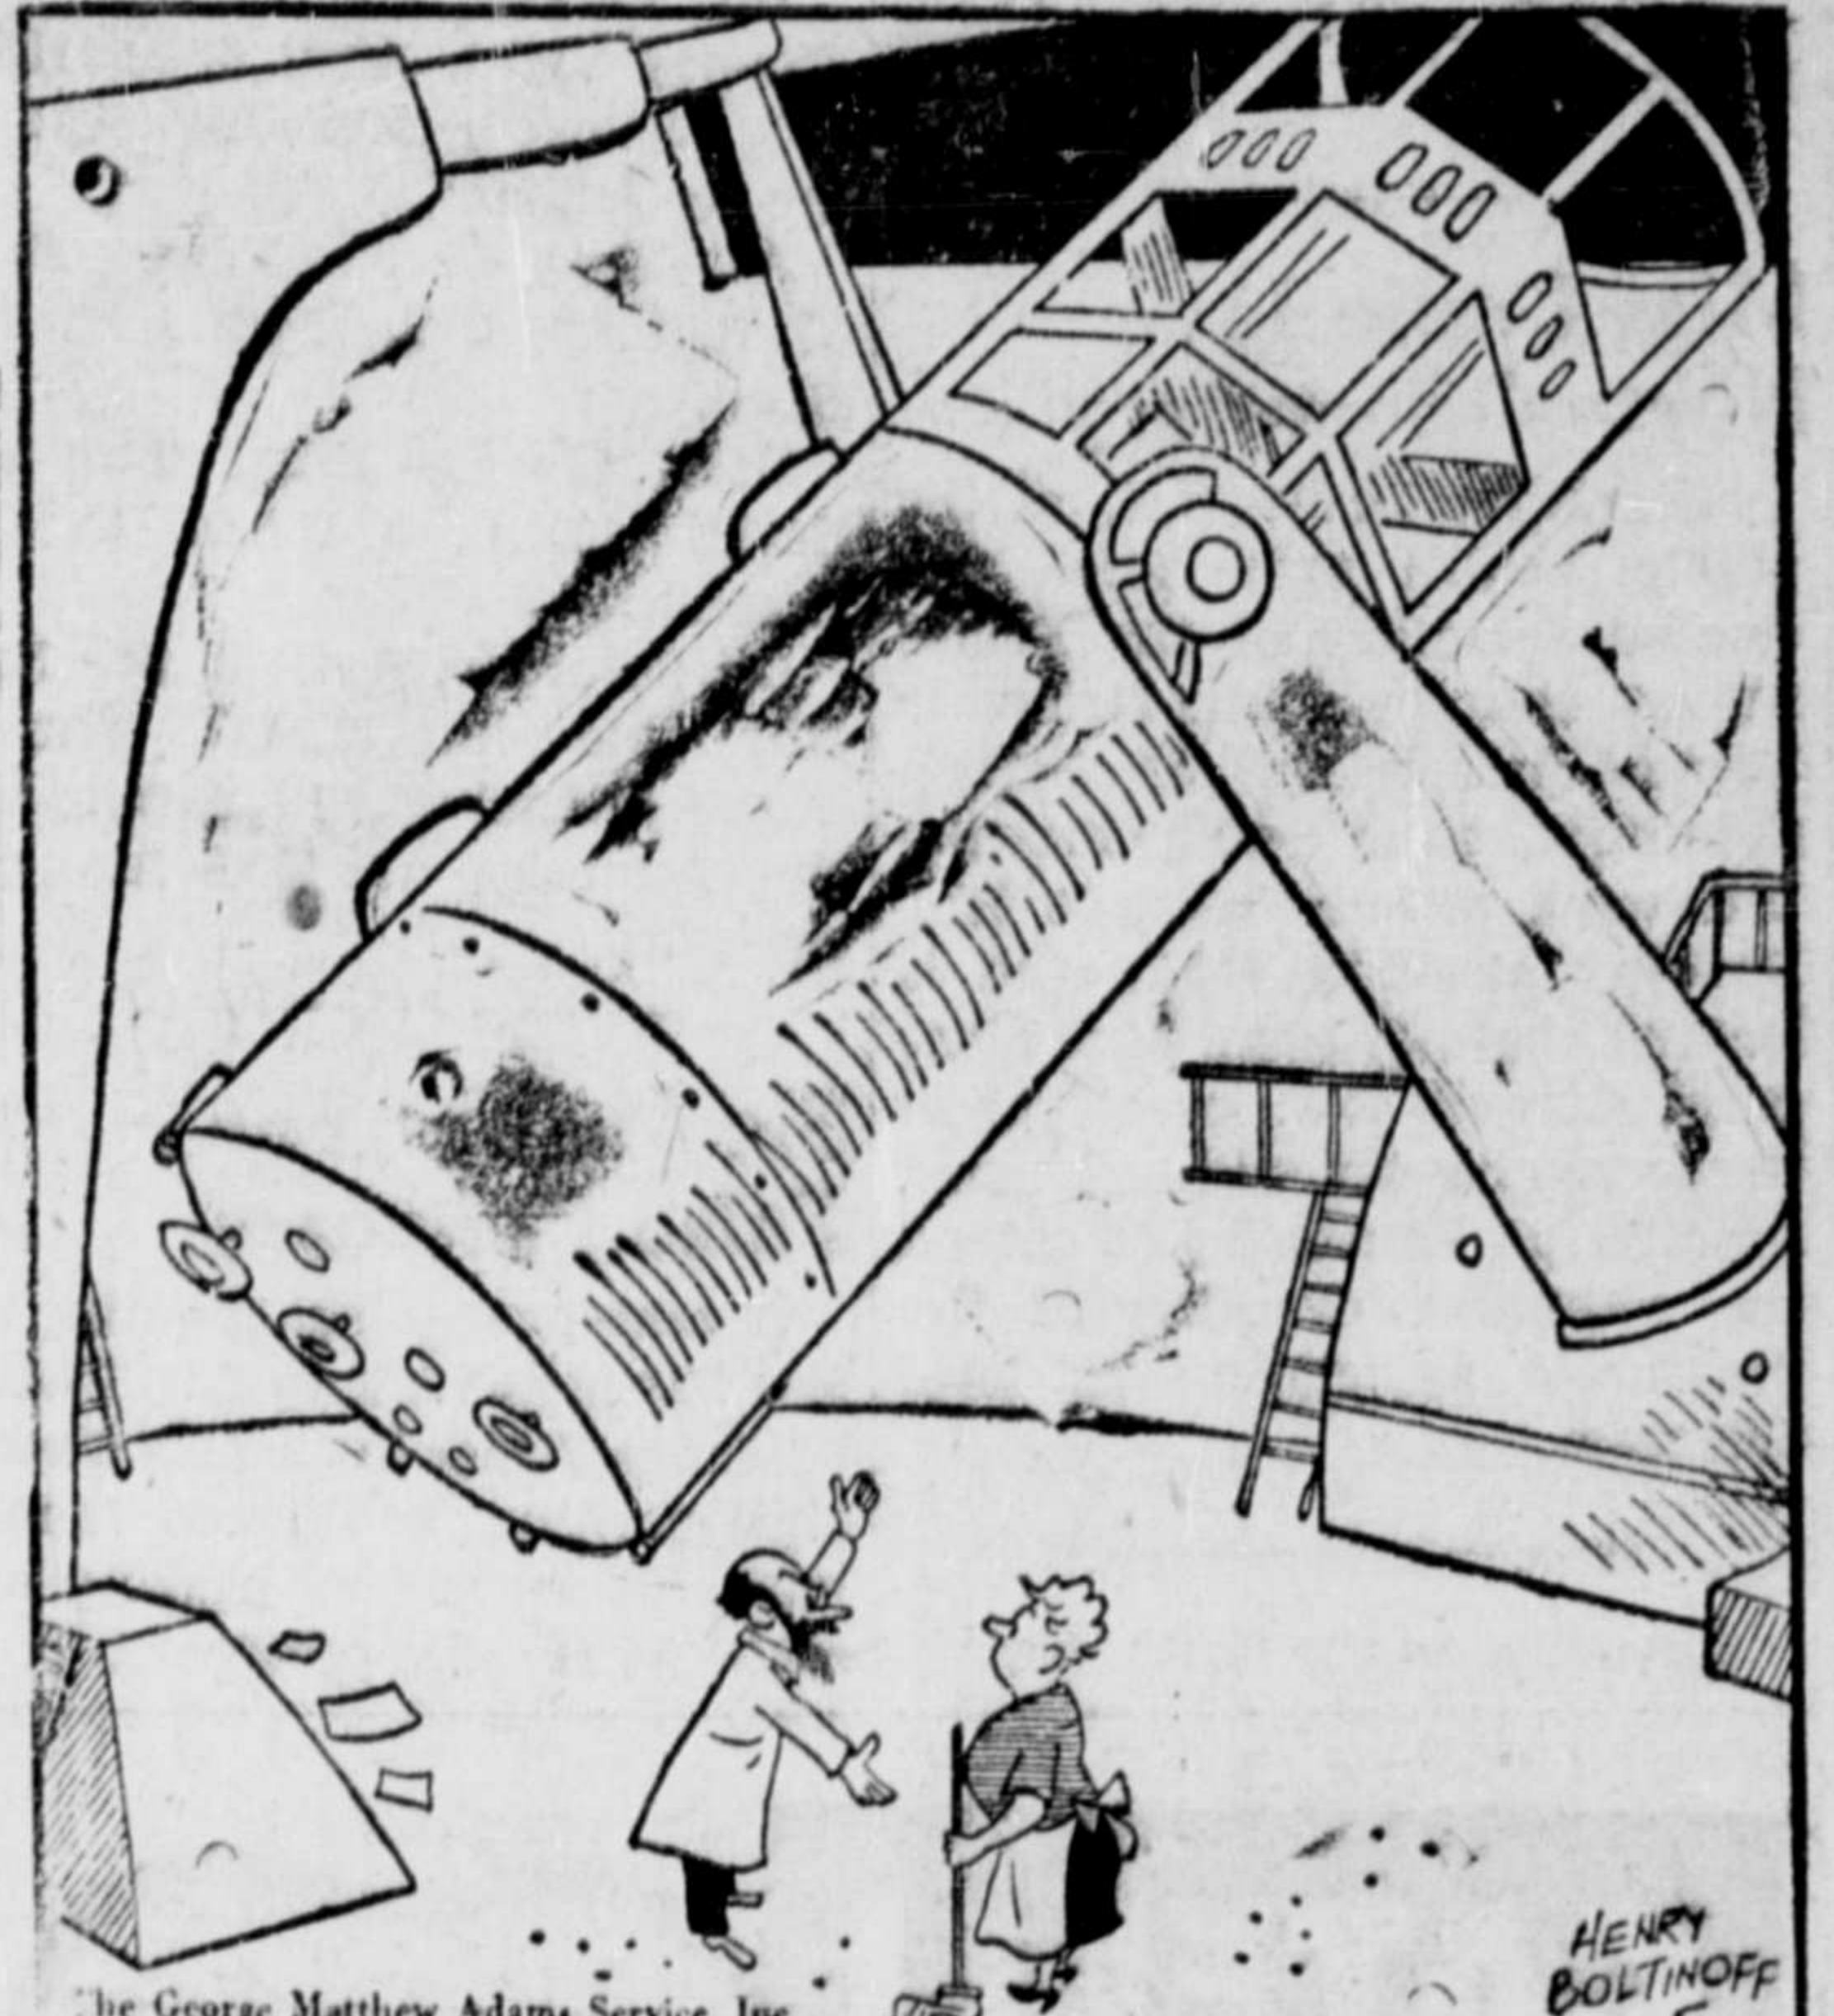

Foamy Fruit Sauce
1 egg white
2 tablespoons sugar
1/2 cup mashed fresh or canned fruit (bananas, apricots, peaches or stewed figs)
1/2 tablespoon lemon juice
Pinch of salt
Beat the egg white until stiff, but not dry. Gradually beat in the sugar, until the mixture will hold a peak. Then fold in fruit mixed with lemon juice. Chill and serve. Use bananas as the fruit when serving with warm gingerbread, chocolate blanc meringue or fruit salads. Six servings.

Mocha Chocolate Sauce
1 square unsweetened chocolate
1 cup strong coffee
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1/4 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
Grate the chocolate, add the coffee and water. Bring to the boil. Mix together the sugar, cornstarch and salt and add gradually to coffee mixture. Stir until mixture thickens and continue cooking for 5 minutes. Re-

QUART TO POUND
One quart of milk is required for a pound of evaporated milk.

PANAMIAN INDUSTRY
Industry in Panama is limited largely to brewing, distilling and the production of evaporated milk, furniture, clothing, soap and candles.

THIS AND THAT

"Miss Willis, you'll have to be more meticulous. I find there's plenty of dust all over the telescope!"

move from heat and add vanilla. This sauce may be served hot or cold with cottage pudding, whips and ice cream. Six servings.

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Q. Would it be all right to say, "Mrs. Jones sent invitations to Martha and myself?"
A. No. One should say, "to Martha and me," as both pronouns are objects of the preposition "to."

Q. What should a woman wear when she is expecting to be invited to several afternoon affairs?
A. If expecting to attend several afternoon affairs one should have an afternoon gown.

Q. What are the most appropriate gifts for a man to give to a girl?
A. Flowers, candy, and books.

LOW BOILING
In a vacuum, water boils almost at the freezing point.

The Experts Say - -

By HELEN BANNERMAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer
COOKING EQUIPMENT—Sometimes cooking failures may be due to improper equipment. Success in cooking as in everything else comes with the right tools for the specific task.

It is better to have a minimum of wisely selected kitchen equipment, well cared for and conveniently placed, than to have dozens of articles which clutter the kitchen and add little to the ease of preparing three meals a day. The needed utensils need good care and in the case of Dutch ovens and frying pans made of cast iron, special treatment is necessary before they can be used for cooking purposes.

This special treatment is called "seasoning." Rub the inside of the utensil and the cover with melted, unsalted fat. It is particularly important not to use any fat containing salt. Place in a warm oven for between three and four hours. Swab or brush the sides and cover occasionally with more fat. Allow the utensil to cool with the fat, then wash again, rinse and dry thoroughly. These utensils improve with age. If they show signs of rusting season them again. Use a trivet or rack in the bottom of the Dutch oven to prevent the food from sticking.

SPICY POT ROAST—Once a Dutch oven is ready for use, a spicy pot roast of beef to try it out is suggested.

The recipe for spicy pot roast lists a four to five pound pot roast (rump, round, chuck or blade), 1/2 cup of water, 1/2 cup of vinegar, four cloves, a small bay leaf, one small onion cut fine and 1/2 teaspoon of salt.

Put the meat in a bowl, combine other ingredients and pour over the meat. Let stand at least three hours, turning meat several times. Remove meat from liquid, dredge well with flour and brown on all sides in hot fat in a heavy pan or Dutch oven. Place a rack under the meat and add strained, speed liquid. Cover closely and cook over low heat or in a slow oven 300 degrees Fahrenheit until meat is tender. Allow 40 to 45 minutes per pound. Turn the meat several times during cooking.

BREAKFAST STANDBY—The old breakfast standby—oatmeal porridge—is due for a comeback with the swing away from wheat breakfast foods to free wheat for shipment to countries which need it more than we do. Here is what the Consumer Section has to say about making porridge.

First of all, don't guess at the amount of either the water or the cereal you use. Measure both, for no one likes very thick porridge one day and very thin the next.

We all like smooth porridge, free from lumps, and there is no reason why it should be otherwise. Smoothness is assured provided the water is boiling when the cereal is sprinkled into it and it is stirred constantly until the porridge thickens. If you do this your "lumping" difficulties are over.

Salt is put into the water before the cereal is added, in proportion to the amount of water; one-quarter teaspoon per cup is about right for most of us. You will never have burnt porridge if you give it just a few minutes cooking over direct heat, then finish the cooking over boiling water.

4 coupons	2 coupons	1 coupon	4 coupons	1 coupon

Sunday's roast of veal can reappear in Monday's stew, glamorized by a golden crest of sweet potato. A spaghetti dish for meatless Tuesday can be made interesting and wholesome with a spiced tomato sauce and grated cheese. Wednesday's fare is pork or lamb chops. On Thursday, unrationed kidney will stretch the beef round into a flavorsome and nutritious pie. Friday is for a fish dish. On Saturday, frankfurters accompanied with sauerkraut and jacket-boiled potatoes will give you a jiffy meal. The week's ration-budgeting provides for 1/2 lb. bacon for that occasional treat.

During the month of April three sugar-preserves coupons become valid, $5 on April 4, $6 and $7 on April 18, thus giving a family of four a total of 12 coupons with which to buy sugar and/or preserves. But planned buying is a requisite if your family's sweet tooth is to be satisfied. With the coupon value increased on preserves fewer coupons are used, and it becomes necessary to arrange your purchases so that you will keep your sugar-preserves supplies in balance with your family's preferences and food habits. The purchase pattern outlined above is suggested as representative of average consumption at this time of year when more sugar may be used because of the spring rhubarb season, when maple syrup is a ration bargain (its coupon value reverts to 48 fluid ounces May 31), and when sweet spreads may be useful alternates for butter.

From The Waterfront

Union Steamships vessels Cardena and Catala will return to their regular runs this week-end following the annual overhaul of the Islands vessel Cassiar withdrawal of which caused a change in the regular runs of Union's north coast vessels during the last month. The Cardena, which has been on the Queen Charlotte run up to last week, will arrive here Friday from Vancouver while the Catala, which has been on the Cardena's run, will resume its Vancouver-Prince Rupert-Stewart sailings, arriving here Sunday night. The Cassiar will continue on the Queen Charlotte Island route until about July 1 when, it is expected, the first of Union's converted corvettes will take over. The Venture, which has been operating between Vancouver and Stewart, will return to its southern operations.

The Ottawa Palette, second China coaster freighter built at the Prince Rupert dry dock, sailed on her trial run this morning. The vessel will be tied up here to await disposition by the government.

City Affairs

Are Discussed

Before closing, the mayor turned briefly to city affairs, particularly from a financial standpoint. In the first place, he announced the splendid record of collection of city taxes which had been achieved in 1945 when all but $8,534.93 had come in. There had been a surplus of $28,000 on operating account last year with $15,000 for the water reserve and $3300 on telephone.

Garbage collection was still a headache but the deficit had been reduced from a maximum of $14,949.31 in 1943 to $6,038.55 in 1945. The expenditures in this department last year had been $23,397.89 and receipts $17,359.33 as compared with respective figures of $29,030.59 and $14,081.28 in 1943.

Speaking of streets, Mr. Daggett declared that, as a result of new equipment that had been purchased last year at a cost of $10,324.98 and this year at $11,149.12, the city was now in a position to proceed with actual street improvement. Although no final agreement had yet been reached on the matter of federal compensation for war damage, something might be expected this year. New items of equipment which the mayor mentioned included compressor, rock crusher, dump truck, grader, asphalt and sand spreader.

The mayor, in opening, had acknowledged the excellent work over the years of the Gyro Club in playground and park development.

President W. D. Lambie was in the chair at yesterday's luncheon and guests included William Cumming of Vancouver.

Next week the Gyro Club will be having no luncheon but, instead, there will be a business meeting in the evening at the Civic Centre.

WETHERBY, Yorkshire, England—Wilfred Webster, 60, who once owned and trained 60 racehorses at one time, died recently.

LONDON—Noel Coward's "Billie Spirit" ended a record-breaking run at the Duchess Theatre with its 1,997th performance.
