FIRE SWEEPS LARGE LINER

RIO DE JANEIRO, © — The liner Duque de Caxias, pride of the Brazilian transport fleet, is nearing port today under tow after a boiler explosion set her afire, killing at least 10 sailors and one woman passenger and imperiling 1060 other passengers. The 11,000-ton vessel was devastated by flames before dawn yesterday six miles off the coast. Several passengers were injured before British merchantmen and Brazilian warships saved them. Three submarine chasers brought 672 survivors to Rio de Janeiro. Members of the crew remained aboard. The Duque de Caxias has had a checkered career. One of her exploits was to aid in the rescue of passengers from the steamer Athenia which was torpedoed off the Irish coast as the Second Great War commenced.

WEATHERMAN DEPRESSED DURING JULY

An unpredictable fellow at best, the Weatherman slipped into a depressed mood during July, weeping copiously during the latter part of the month. His tears, in fact, covered the countryside to a watery depth of 6.53 inches, according to the Digby Island meteorological station's monthly report.

Finding little in human affairs to make him happy, he allowed the sun to shine through for only a brief 83 bright hours during the month, a comedown from the June total of 103.9 hours.

Total rainfall so far this year stands at 48.99 inches which is in fact, only a slight mist compared with the 52 inches which fell during the same period in 1945. Hours of bright sunshine this year so far total 563, which is a bit better than the 484 hours for the seven-month period last year.

Average temperature during July was 55.5 degrees, while the maximum was 68 and the minimum 46. Wind during the month reached an extreme velocity of 18 miles an hour from the southeast on July 11, 24 and 30.

Maximum barometric pressure was 30.39 inches while the minimum for the month was 29.68.

SPRINGFIELD, Illinois, ©—A pretty 19-year old crippled girl, confined to a wheel chair since the age of four, was released from police detention yesterday after the prosecutor termed the fatal shooting and stabbing of her stepfather justifiable homicide.

The girl, Jacqueline Colburn, is said to have killed Lawrence Barreary, 36, during a family quarrel after he knocked her from a wheel chair and yelled he was going to kill her.

General improvement in weather is expected today especially for the southern coastal districts as a high pressure area builds over the province from the west.

Frequent rain showers becoming widely scattered by evening today. Westerly winds (15 m.p.h.). Little change in temperature. Fears 'New' International

Solon Low Fears Canada Is Heading for Terrible Disaster

OTTAWA, ©—Canada and other countries of the world are "heading for disaster on a scale terrible to contemplate" and more menacing than anything in the past, Hon. Solon Low, national leader of the Social Credit party, said in a political broadcast over Canadian Broadcasting Corporation last night.

He called on Canadians to "awaken to the peril" of the new internationalism which he said was attempting to set up a "world socialist-communist dictatorship." Canadians, he said, must make loyalty to Canada "supremely dynamic."

Manitoba's New Deal

Agreement With Ottawa to Be Consummated at Conference in September

OTTAWA, ©—Premier Stewart Garson of Manitoba said yesterday that Manitoba and Dominion government officials will meet in early autumn to consummate a new formal tax agreement between the two governments.

Garson said, after three days of discussion here, that a draft agreement had been drawn up and will be submitted shortly to Manitoba and federal governments.

The agreement is on the basis that Manitoba would agree not to collect personal income or inheritance taxes for a period of five years and would limit corporation income tax to five per cent.

Rome Is Shocked Italians Are Painfully Impressed by Severe Terms of Peace Pact

Once Boasted War Machine Slashed Almost to Comic Opera Size—Mussolini's Empire Trimmed to Thin Boot

ROME (CP)—The government of Italy is "painfully impressed" by the "harshness" of the terms of the peace treaty which has been proposed to the Paris conference. "Economic clauses of the treaty threaten the whole future of the country," declares a government statement.

Italy's once boasted war machine would be slashed almost to comic opera size and the Mussolini empire that threatened to rival Caesar's would be trimmed to be a thin boot by the draft of the proposed treaty.

On these and other penalties for making war—notably the payment of $100,000,000 in reparations to Russia—Britain, the United States, France and Russia are agreed in the treaty submitted to the 21-power European peace conference.

But other disputed questions, such as the boundaries of the suggested free territory of Trieste and reparations due to France, Yugoslavia, Greece and other victims of Italy's participation in the war, were left open although the United States offered its own solution to the Trieste question.

In place of her "Mare Nostrum" navy of 717,420 tons, Italy may have two battleships, four cruisers, four destroyers, 16 torpedo boats, 20 corvettes, minor war and auxiliary vessels but no submarines.

Italy's air force would be slashed to 200 fighters and reconnaissance planes and 150 transport and training aircraft.

Gives Up African Colonies
The treaty provides also that Italy give up title to her African territorial possessions, future control of which will be decided by the four powers represented on the foreign ministers' council within a year after the proposed treaty comes into force.

France would get five thin slices of territory now on the Italian side of the two countries' border but Italy is guaranteed access to hydro-electric power sources in the lost Alpine areas.

Yugoslavia would get "all territory east of a line known as the French line" in Italy—the line France proposed after an Allied commission surveyed the area—"as well as the commune of Zara" and a group of islands in the Trieste area of the Adriatic Sea.

Greece would acquire the Dodecanese Islands, which British troops are to vacate within 90 days after ratification of the treaty. Italy waives all claims against Albania and Ethiopia, as well as her commercial interests in China.

Like other former enemy state for which draft treaties were prepared, Italy may seek membership in the United Nations upon signing the treaty.

Northern Boundary Terms Are Set
Of Italy's disputed northeastern boundary, the 78-article treaty draft says:

"The council of foreign ministers agreed that all territory east of the line known as the French line shall be ceded by Italy to Yugoslavia and the free territory of Trieste shall be constituted within the French line, bounded on the north by a line drawn from Duino to the French line."

Although the United States suggested a boundary lined in greatest detail, the treaty draft does not contain it, but proposes instead that an "exact line of the new frontiers" be drawn by boundary commissions responsible to the four major powers.

By contrast, the territory that France would acquire is defined to the last kilometre—Little St. Bernard Pass, Mont Genis plateau, Mont Thabor, Chaberton and an area lumped as Upper Tinee Vesubie and Roya valleys.

The draft provides that Italy "shall take all measures necessary."

IMMIGRATION POLICY

RESOLUTIONS will be submitted to the convention of the Associated Boards of Trade of central and northern British Columbia, urging the early resumption of an immigration policy, with special consideration of the admittance of relatives of Canadian citizens and of those people who were associated with Canada in the war.

This ought to be fully supported by the convention. In no part of Canada is there greater need for immigration than in central and northern British Columbia.

If farming is to be permanently profitable in this district we must have a tremendously greater production so that products can not only supply the local market in quantity and variety, but can be exported to the wider markets at the larger cities of the province and elsewhere.

Only by having big production can freight rates be reduced on rail and road, economies in production instituted by the use of machinery, modern public services in schools, roads, medical, health and welfare provided economically and without too burdensome taxation.

Each immigrant who comes here will bring his skill and knowledge that will ultimately add to the cultural and technical wealth of our district. He will be not only a producer of new wealth but a consumer of all kinds of products made and produced by the workers in our secondary and primary industries. He will be one of a new internal market of consumers as well as a producer who must sell and trade his products to others.

He will soon share in the taxation of the country. He will help to provide traffic and revenue for the railways and truckers. He will be more than welcome in this part of Canada, for here in these wide open spaces men and women are tolerant and hold broad views and possess kindly hearts.

This district has long languished in stagnation due to sparsity of population. Industrial expansion depends as much on a supply of labor being readily available as upon the investment of capital. New industries simply will not establish themselves in an area where there is a small population. Immigration is vitally necessary to increase the population in central and northern B.C. for all these reasons and others.

There are scores of good Canadian citizens in this district who are anxious to get relatives out and who can guarantee them employment. These relatives in many cases have been victims of the terrors of Hitlerism and Fascism. They should be allowed to come here without any red tape at all. Canada has a moral and ethical responsibility to admit such relatives without any delay.

Then the resolution urges that special consideration be given to those peoples who have shared the war effort with Canada. Here is something that can be supported without cavil.

Millions of our allies are in despair. We have sent them much food and clothing. How much better it would be were we to say, as the cook says to the men in the camp: "Come and get it!"

HELPING COMMUNITY

THERE are always the few old-timer stand-bys who are willing to carry the load of advancing the welfare of the community. There are a fair number of the newer businessmen who are live wires.

It has ever been so. A few men do the work for the community. They go to the trouble of proposing this and that for the good of the district and its people, oft-times only to get their efforts torn to tatters by uninformed critics and parish pump politicians. But he it said to the credit of those public spirited citizens who work in the Chamber of Commerce and other bodies that they never waver or get discouraged but carry on, giving fully of their time and experience for the good of all.

We salute those businessmen who do so. They are good citizens. They sow the fertile seeds of community progress that all may harvest the crop that eventually matures and ripens into the rich fruit of development.

GOLD MINES ARE HIT

THE gold mines of Canada and more especially those of British Columbia have received double blows to their industry. First by the reduction in the price received in Canadian dollars for the gold they produce due to the Canadian dollar having been put on a parity with the United States dollar, and secondly by the demand of the workers in the mines for considerably higher pay.

Many mines will be unable to operate and others will simply mill only their higher grade ore. This will have a serious effect upon employment, wages and the volume of money that forms the purchasing power which creates turnover of commodities in business.

The Dominion government, with the customary conduct of all governments, has at last granted some relief, but it is parsimonious and only of a little bit of help to most mines. It has reduced the handling charges at the mint where gold must be sold by 15 cents an ounce, and has increased the depletion allowance on gold mines from 20 per cent to 33 1-3 per cent of net profits with a minimum of $2.00 per ounce of gold produced.

These minor concessions will not replace the loss of $3.50 an ounce now sustained by mines through the parity of the dollar, nor assist the operators to meet the demands of their employees for higher wages.

What the gold industry wants is a free market in gold. In many countries outside of Canada a much higher price than $35 an ounce is being paid for gold. A few weeks ago the Federal Reserve Board of the United States gave out the information that the price of gold in many parts of the world was greatly in excess of that now received by producers in North America who are compelled to dispose of their gold to their respective government mints.

In March of this year gold was selling in Argentina at $46 per ounce; in Bombay at $67; in Chile at $43; in Egypt at $97; in Bagdad at $98, and in Greece at $110.

Unless the government does more to help the gold mines reduce their expenses or allows a free market or raises the price of gold, one of our important industries that employs thousands of workers and spends millions of dollars in capital and consumer goods will languish and some mines will perish.

SAYS PARIS MEET VITAL

H. G. Perry Chats of Industrial and Economic Crises—Vancouver Man Lauds Civic Centre

Speaking impromptu when called upon without notice at the Prince Rupert Gyro Club luncheon yesterday, H. G. Perry, publisher of Prince George and Prince Rupert, spoke of the pregnancy in possibilities of the current peace conference in Paris. From it might stem permanent peace or disastrous war, he declared. "But," he said, "I have great confidence that the strong policy enunciated by the United States Secretary of State Byrnes will be a good tonic for the recalcitrant Soviet Republic and what much good may ensue." The future of the world, indeed, was at stake in the conference and all people everywhere must be deeply concerned over its outcome.

Mr. Perry then turned to the disturbing industrial Canadian scene. It was a matter of gratification that the threatened fish handlers' strike here had been settled without reaching the point of a strike. "It seems a pity," said Mr. Perry, "that we should have developed a system of adjudicating industrial differences and yet industries are brought to the point of closing down, causing economic loss to most all of those who went on strike, and the country and the people, and disturbing the consuming public." The time was ripe, declared Mr. Perry, "to settle industrial disputes in a manner similar to legal disputes. It was time to develop labor courts. The question was not one of right or wrong altogether but one of adjudication.

Alluding briefly to economic matters, Mr. Perry said that, when the changing price levels of the United States were considered, it was to worry about the future economic state of this country. "I cannot but fear that, if the price level continues to rise in the United States, we shall have an unhealthy reaction here," said the speaker, who believed that the governments must continue a measure of control.

Another brief speaker at the Gyro Club luncheon was Frank Boreham of Vancouver who congratulated Prince Rupert on having such a fine Civic Centre

AMBASSADOR RECEIVES DECORATION—At the American embassy in Paris, U.S. Ambassador Jefferson Caffery is shown bestowing the Legion of Merit on Canadian ambassador to Paris Major-General George P. Vanier.

Not even in Vancouver was there anything like it. They were seemingly unable to even make up their minds in the southern city as to a site. "I would say to you: Get behind your Civic Centre. Take no chances of losing it." Mr. Boreham paid tribute to the director, Don Forward.

President W. D. Lambie was in the chair and guests were Miss Chrissie Montgomery, the Gyro candidate for Port Day Queen honors, Reg Moffatt of Vancouver, H. G. Perry of Prince George, T. N. LePage of Vancouver, Frank Boreham of Vancouver and Robert Orme, also of Vancouver.

SALISBURY, Eng. (P)—Police here are searching for people who are stealing kitchen waste from street bins. The city council was told that during the past month more than three tons put out for collection were stolen.

Our Civic Centre As Athletic Asset

There has been some criticism regarding the availability of the Civic Centre as a centre for athletic practices during the summer when owing to wet grounds outside games are not playable. This is a matter that can be easily settled, provided there is the proper appreciation of the situation by the players as well as by the officials whose responsibility it is to see that the basketball courts are cared for properly.

AROUND THE Playing Fields

The winning of the Canadian junior tennis championship by Lorne Main of Vancouver at the age of 16 years was not surprising to this reporter. I recall having seen Lorne play in Vancouver during the last few years and there never was any question but that he had the talent of which stars are made. Now only 16 years of age, Lorne has been a dominant factor in boys' tennis competition on the coast for some years.

At the Wimbledon tennis championships the biggest sensation was probably the defeat of the American hope, Jack Kramer, by the Czech Jaroslav Drobný. It is true that Kramer was handicapped by blisters on his hand but he would not admit that this caused his defeat. "If a ball is hit where I cannot reach it, sore hands don't make the slightest difference," was his comment. The game lasted 2 1/2 hours, the scores being 2-6, 17-15, 6-3, 3-6 and 6-3.

The international appeal of sports was shown at a recent contest in London. The 100 yards was won by a West Indian sprinter, McDonald Bailey, in 10 seconds dead. The high jump was won by Prince Adeyoyin, a slim Nigerian, with a leap of 6 feet 1 inch.

Basket Social Nets $1,500 for Pipe Organ for Native Church

GREENVILLE (Special to the Daily News)—When this native Naas River village really wants something, it throws its community weight behind the project and the objective is practically assured. Witness the case of the pipe organ for St. Andrew's Church.

A pipe organ being dear to the hearts of local communicants, they held a basket social to raise funds for it. As a result, they brought in donations from Kincolith and other villages totalling $1,515. The social was held at Arrandale cannery where most of the Naas River inhabitants are congregated during the fishing season.

Actually, the basket sales brought in $1,127 and other donations totalled $388, bringing the total to $1,515. The Greenville choir extended thanks to residents of Greenville, Kincolith, Canyon City and the cannery workers during an entertainment period which followed the auction. The Greenville concert band was in attendance.

"Well, she seems to have solved the problem of what to do till the doctor comes!" Pointing to St. Paul's Cathedral, the Londoner said to the American soldier: "here is a fine example of Wren's work." "Gosh!" exclaimed the American. "These dames are a mighty clever bunch." First Louie—"Tell me about your new girl." Second Louie—"Why should I?" "Because I'm your buddy." Second Louie—"Well, my girl is no buddy's business." First Shopper—"Why are you racing around on a hot day like this?" Second Shopper—"I'm trying to get something for my husband." First Shopper—"Had any others?" "Yep!" said the farmer. HOW CAN I ???
BY ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I remove a bruise from the furniture?
A. Take a piece of blotting paper, soak in warm water, and place it over the bruise. Apply a warm iron until all moisture is gone. Repeat operation if necessary.
Q. How can I soften hard putty?
A. Touch it with a brush dipped in nitric or muriatic acid. Let it remain for about an hour and the putty can be removed very easily.
Q. How can I prevent creases when laundering table linen?
A. Table linen should not be run through the wringer, which makes creases that no amount of ironing will remove.

Gyros Meet Candidate

Miss Chrissie Montgomery Lost Two Brothers in War
Members of the Prince Rupert Gyro Club were introduced at their weekly luncheon Wednesday to the club's Port Queen candidate, Miss Christine Montgomery, who they hope will win royal acclaim as ruler on Port Day, August 22. Miss Montgomery was introduced by Port Queen committee chairman Allan Armstrong, and was greeted warmly by club members. Robert McKay, Jack Lindsay and W. F. Stone were added to the campaign committee.
Born in Prince Rupert, 19 years ago, Miss Montgomery, who is known to her friends as "Chrissie," is employed as stenographer with Northern B. C. Power Co. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Montgomery and is a graduate of Borden Street elementary and Booth Memorial High Schools, completing a commerce course at the latter in 1945.

She swims, plays tennis, and is generally sports-minded and is treasurer of the Job's Daughters organization. She has three sisters: Mrs. Ina Hegman, Vancouver, Miss Mary Montgomery, Victoria, and Mrs. L. M. Shore, of Edmonton, and one brother. Two brothers were killed during the war—Donald, with the Canadian Army in Europe, and John, with the British merchant navy.

A. No. Merely use a little patience and it will soon be cool enough.

A. White paper is preferable.

sary to secure to all persons under Italian jurisdiction, without distinction as to race, sex, language or religion, the enjoyment of human rights, including freedom of expression, of the press and publication, of religious worship, of political opinion and of public meeting."

Of Trieste, the draft continues:

"The integrity and independence of this free territory shall be assured by the security council of the United Nations. A special commission representing the four powers of the foreign ministers' council shall be immediately appointed to consult with representatives of Yugoslavia and Italy and to examine the whole subject and present preliminary suggestions to the peace conference. A permanent statute shall be submitted for the approval of the security council which will report to the general assembly on the United Nations. . . ."

"Recommendations for a provisional government and for the formation of a permanent statute shall be made by the peace conference of 21 nations in accordance with the procedure adopted at the Moscow Conference."

General Principles Are Enunciated

"The provisional government and a permanent statute shall preserve the following general principles:

- "1. A governor shall be appointed by the security council after consultation with Yugoslavia and Italy.
- "2. A legislative and executive authority shall be established on democratic lines, including universal suffrage.
- "3. The rights of citizens shall be protected in respect of human rights and fundamental freedoms, particularly including religion, language, press, schools and access to public services.
- "4. Annual reports shall be submitted by the governor to the security council."

The reparations section of the treaty draft provides that the Soviet Union's $100,000,000 levy—over which the United States and Great Britain have expressed the fear they will have to pay that sum indirectly—must come from Italian factory tool equipment, from Italian assets in Romania, Bulgaria and Hungary, and from current Italian industrial production.

Deliveries from current production would be waived for two years.

"Claims put forward by other powers, in particular France, Yugoslavia, Greece, Albania and Ethiopia, will be considered at the peace conference," the draft says.

Under the draft terms, Italy would have to grant most-favored-nation treatment to members of the United Nations trading QUINT CALVES PAY THEIR WAY—The "Cornhusker Quints," world's only living quintuplet calves, visit the bank in Fairbury, Neb., to make a deposit in their personal savings account—money they earned at state fair exhibitions. At right is Dr. L. J. Smith, veterinarian, who became the Dr. Dafoe of animal husbandry by saving their lives during the first few critical weeks. Ruth Skidmore, bank teller, comes out from behind her cage to receive the deposit and meet quints personally. The quints were born last Nov. 20 and now weigh an average of 425 pounds each.

Local Chinese Passes Away

Wong Tai, who resided at the Chinese Freemasons Hall on Third Avenue, passed away at the Prince Rupert General Hospital last night after a brief illness. It is expected that he will be buried at Prince Rupert.

Arms and Ammunition Heavily Restricted

Besides restrictions on the size and equipment of its armed forces, Italy would be forbidden to maintain fortifications at the French and Yugoslav frontiers, as well as on the islands of Pantelleria—an Allied invasion stepping stone—and Pianosa, and the Pelagian islands of Lampedusa, Lampedusa and Linosa. The fortification of Sicily and Sardinia would be severely restricted.

The draft provides further that "Italy shall not possess, construct or experiment with any self-propelled or guided missiles or apparatus connected with their discharge, any guns with a range of more than 30 kilometres (18.64 miles), sea mines of non-contact types actuated by influence

DISCOURAGE SUICIDES

EASTBOURNE, England.—The Rev. R. Q. Nelson, curate of St. Mary's, wants the council to put up notices in Beachy Head "to change the minds of people contemplating suicide." He fears that more people may make the 500-foot death leap now that the war-time barbed wire has gone from the cliff-top.

mechanisms, or any torpedoes capable of being manned." Surplus ships and war material would be destroyed or turned over to the Allies as provided by an unpublished annex of the treaty draft. The army would have no more than 200 tanks and the air force would have no bombers. German or Japanese technicians would not be allowed to be employed in the Italian aircraft industry and Italy would be forbidden possession of planes of German or Japanese design.
