SEES WORLD REVOLUTION

Solon Low Critical of CBC's
Free Political Time Allowance

OTTAWA — In a "free time political broadcast last night, Solon Low, national leader of the Social Credit party, said he saw a world revolution coming with international power maniacs endeavouring to set up a world dictatorship.
Mr. Low criticized the "political free time" policy of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation in allowing his party, with 13 members in Parliament, the same amount of time as the Communists whose only member was serving time in prison for treason.

LABOR DISPUTE DELAYS SHIP'S ARRIVAL HERE

A renewed outbreak of labor trouble on the Ketchikan waterfront has delayed arrival of the American freighter Palisana, which was due here today to unload 30 carloads of frozen fish for rail shipment to the eastern United States.

According to reports reaching here, the Palisana is tied up at Ketchikan because of a dispute between ship's crewmen and Ketchikan longshoremen over which group should provide an operator for a cargo winch. The ship, apparently, was lacking one winchman and, when the longshoremen offered to provide one,
the crew refused and a deadlock ensued.

IS CRITICAL OF UNITED NATIONS

Cautious Comment by Smuts of South Africa—Wants German
Southwest Africa

PRETORIA, South Africa.—
Prime Minister J. C. Smuts of South Africa last night criticized the workings of the United Nations organization and expressed disappointment that the world body had rejected his plea for incorporation of the former German colony of Southwest Africa into the Union of South Africa.

In the longest broadcast of his career, Smuts asserted that the United Nations "has much to learn" and he hoped the organization would "evolve a working technique which will avoid much of the disheartening mistakes now being made at the beginning."

Prime Minister Smuts said the Russian attitude towards veto procedure in the security council would only hurt the United nations.

Must Provide Separate Home, Not In-Laws

TORONTO—A Toronto judge has ruled that it is up to a husband to find a home for his wife other than the home of his parents. A Canadian Army lieutenant sought an annulment from a Scottish bride on the grounds that she would not come to Canada and live with her "in-laws." The judge refused the annulment, finding that it was up to the husband to provide a separate home.

ATLANTA HOTEL TAKES DEATH TOLL OF 121

A mysterious fire which started before dawn at the Winecoff hotel in Atlanta, Georgia, has claimed 121 victims. Many of the 285 guests in the 194-room hotel leaped to their deaths. Others were burned fatally or suffocated. Here firemen use a ladder bridge from a 15th floor window of the building.

A fireman was killed when a woman jumped from an upper storey and caused the ladder he was on to collapse. Here he hangs from the marquee. Emergency morgues were set up and the municipal morgue reported it had 34 bodies and could take no more.

Post Office Community Hub at Pre-Christmas Mail Deadline

Prince Rupert's downtown post office reached a hectic pre-Christmas climax Wednesday afternoon when it was deluged with outgoing and incoming mail which kept an augmented staff working far into the night.

Wednesday was the mailing deadline for outgoing postal matter and Postmaster J. R.
Morrison and his staff anticipated a rush. They were not disappointed. However, what they did not quite expect, was a deluge of incoming mail that swept over them just at the peak of the outgoing rush.

As the postal staff worked to clear the mass of outgoing parcels that were being passed over the counter from the lines of waiting citizens in the lobby, stacks of mailbags were being piled in the sorting room from Tuesday night's train and the steamships Prince Rupert and Cassiar which arrived here Wednesday morning.

Tuesday night's train brought in 270 sacks from the east, the Prince Rupert brought in 126 sacks from Vancouver and the Cassiar unloaded between 40 and 50 sacks from the southern Queen Charlotte Islands.

To cope with this mountain of Christmas mail, Postmaster Morrison increased the regular staff of 17 to 24, of which 21

NO APPEALS ARE LODGED AFTER CIVIC ELECTION

The initial vote count in Prince Rupert's civic elections a week ago has been accepted by all candidates without appeal and those declared elected by Returning Officer H. D. Thain on election night will enter office on January 1.

The five-day period following the elections, during which appeals must be filed, expired at 8 o'clock last night without any appeals being entered, despite the close margin of four votes which constituted Alderman Nora E. Arnold's victory over Mayor H. M. Daggett in the mayoralty race.

Under the Municipal Elections Act, appeals must be filed with the County Court registrar within five days of the election and no such appeal was made at the County Court registry office here.

Mr. Thain, who has now reverted to his title of city clerk, said this morning that he had invited the incoming members of the city council and school board to appear at the city hall to be sworn into office at 2 p.m. on December 30. However, the actual time of swearing in is up to the members themselves to decide although it must be prior to January 1.

SOVIET CHARGE AGAINST IRAN

Moscow Says Central Government Troops Forced Way Into Azerbaijan in Violation of Agreement

LONDON.—The Moscow radio charged today that Iranian central government troops had shot "hundreds" of persons in Azerbaijan Province and had in-sulted "attacks" on Soviet citizens in the provincial capital of Tabriz. The broadcast contended that the government troops had broken the agreement of Premier Ahmed Qavam of Iran to enter the province of Azerbaijan, which borders on the Soviet Union, peacefully.

Progressive Platform Plan

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Announcing here that he would seek the Republican presidential nomination in 1948, Harold E.
Stassen, 39-year old former governor of Minnesota, said he would present a definite, constructive and progressive program and work with the Republican majorities in Congress to steer the party along a "truly liberal path."

"Upon the press of the U.S. now rests a tremendous share of the responsibility for solving the problems of peace. I know well that this responsibility will be met in full."—President Truman.

BRITAIN TAKING HAND IN MOVE TO OUST FRANCO SPAIN REGIME

LONDON—An authoritative government source said yesterday that a British diplomatic mission in Spain is engaged in the unusual task of making contact with various political groups in that country with a view to supplementing Generalissimo Francisco Franco and that it would not be "surprising" if the United States were doing the same thing. The source admitted that such procedure was "unusual" but added that relations with Spain were already so "unusual" that it did not make much difference.

In Washington the United States Department of State said the United States government is standing on its contention that the Franco problem is one for the Spanish people to work out for themselves and that the government was not undertaking any study if the possibility of a new coalition government such as was reported under discussion by British diplomats in Madrid.

Improved Peace Outlook

DELEGATES to the General Assembly of the United Nations have left New York for their homes in many lands. The world has sighed with relief that, after the ominous clashes which a few weeks previous were proving so alarming and making the world doubt if world peace could ever be arranged, such an improved understanding as now appears to exist could have been recorded.

Treaties for five former Nazi satellite nations have been perfected and the ground work has been laid for the peace treaty with Germany which will be completed early next year.

The most encouraging thing, of course, arising from the latest United Nations session was the progressive plan for an international arms limitation program and the agreement on the outlawing of the atom as an instrument of warfare.

While there remain numerous controversial details to be composed before the peoples of the world will feel convinced that the Charter which emerged from the San Francisco Conference last year is eventually destined to be the working instrument to outlaw war as national and international policy, the discussions and agreements produced at this latest meeting of the United Nations have cleared away much of the debris hindering practical progress.

Fire At Christmas

EVERY YEAR, some Christmas festivities are marred by fire accidents to the Christmas tree, or to the decorations, or to the flimsy fancy dresses of little children. At times, the results are tragic. Without care, the kindest people may only be setting a danger trap for their children. Christmas decorations generally are made of inflammable material, and it is, courting trouble to have a naked light anywhere in their vicinity.

For example, lighted candles in paper lanterns suspended from the ceiling or hung on a Christmas tree, or an improperly insulated string of electric lights may prove beacons of danger. With children romping about in their flimsy finery, the greatest care must be exercised that under no circumstances would it be possible for the children or the decorations to come into contact with a naked light, whether it be from gas, candle, or a gust of wind may blow curtains or decorations across a naked light, and the damage is done.

Great danger lurks in using strings of electric lights that have done service the year before unless they have been thoroughly examined and tested before being put up. Each inch of every set of lights should be carefully inspected for worn places in the insulation or outer cover. If a worn place is on the outer cover, a strip of friction tape wrapped round it will help to prevent accidents. If the inside insulation is worn, the job is one for a practical electrician. Broken or damaged plugs should be discarded. Bulbs also should be tested before being fixed.

The Native Voice

"THE NATIVE VOICE," official organ of the Native Brotherhood of British Columbia, has made its initial appearance and we hasten to welcome this first and very creditable journalistic effort of the native peoples of the province. It is particularly interesting to note that the editor of "Native Voice" is Jack Beynon, hailing from Port Simpson, a veteran of World War I who suffered wounds which make it possible for him to get around only with the aid of crutches. The journal which he conducts is a credit to him.

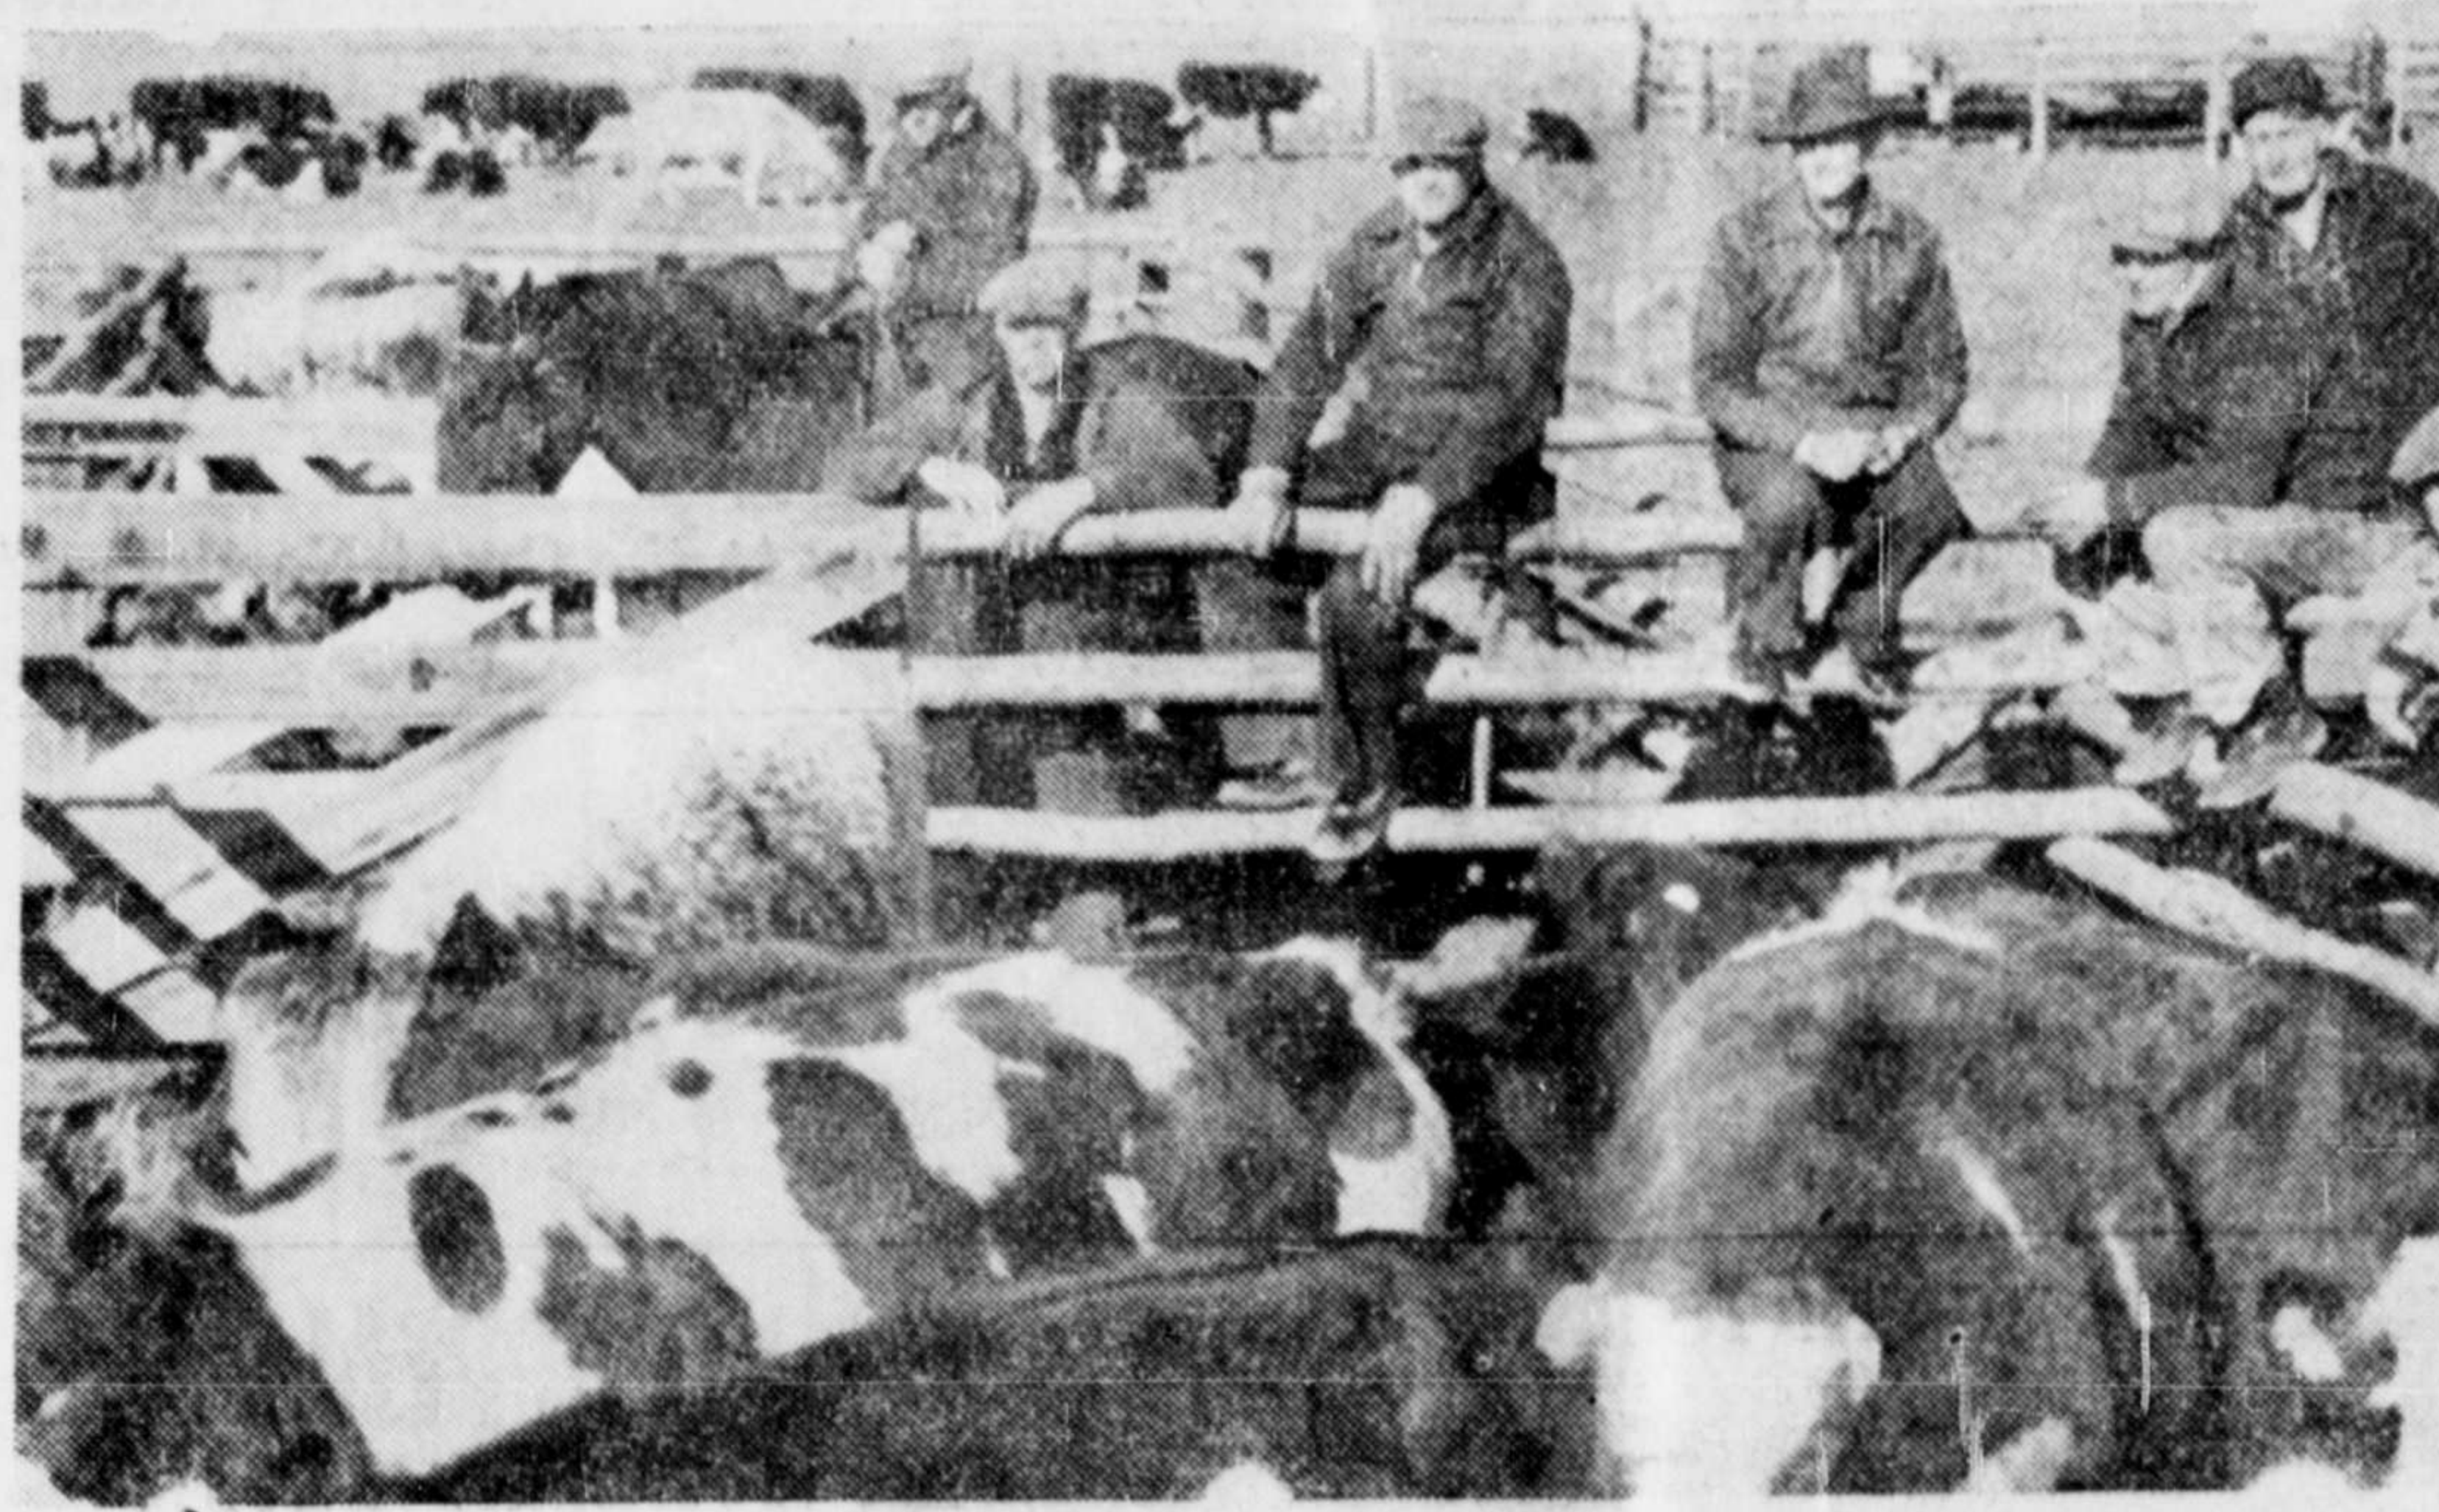

"Native Voice" is an eight-page tabloid which should fill a real need as a medium for assembling and presenting the news of the native peoples of the province as well as advancing their interests in an editorial way.

The Daily News, which for many years has devoted considerable space to news of the native people and hopes to be able to continue to do so, extends its congratulations and best wishes to "Native Voice."

High School Plays Have Second Night

A larger audience than on the opening night and a very appreciative one was on hand for the repeat presentation of three one-act comedies as the school's Christmas entertainment. Each of the farces went off well with credit to all concerned. Presentations were made to Miss Deane, Aubrey Bate and James Clarke, the directors. After the plays, refreshments were served to the participants.

COMMUNITY PASTURES PROVE SUCCESSFUL IN SASKATCHEWAN—A million and a half acres of land that not so long ago was a dusty desert is now a money-maker for farmers in the dry-land areas of Saskatchewan and Manitoba as a result of a community pasture scheme started in 1936. It's round-up time in the western pastures now and the dry farms turned into rangeland are paying dividends. From the corral fence, farmers in the Swift Current-Webb (Sask.) area, who have participated in the scheme, look with satisfaction at result of their efforts, as their cattle, fattened on what were once burned out farms, are rounded up ready for shipment to market.

LETTERBOX

RESENTS STORY

Editor, Daily News:

The story told by Mike Negraiff in the Daily News November 26 regarding the mail boat Monk has caused considerable stir up here. I do not see that there is any truth in the whole thing. I don't seem to know a thing about all the time that we were supposed to be on the beach with some sardines and a loaf of bread. In fact, we were in Arrandale all that week. Mr. Negraiff was getting three meals a day and a bed to sleep in from some friends of mine at Arrandale.

Furthermore, my boat Monk is open for inspection to anyone at anytime as far as food is concerned. There is probably more food on it right now than there is in Mr. Negraiff's pantry.

I would also like to thank the native family who risked their lives to save ours if he could tell me their names.

As far as I know my boat, the Monk, went every place we had to go under its own power and still is able to do so.

I would like to have this thing corrected. People coming up here will certainly change their minds if they read bogus tales like that.

I now have on hand no less than four papers from throughout Canada with the same story and I do not like it.

I would suggest that your reporter interview Mr. Negraiff and get the truth from him.

Thank you,
TED HASSE.

Alice Ann.

Canuck Announcer On British Stage

GLASGOW—Starring in a new Laurence Olivier production, "Born Yesterday," which recently played at the Theatre Royal, is Bill Kemp, former Toronto radio announcer discharged last January from the Canadian Army in England. The play, by Garson Kanin, produced in New York last winter and still running there, is described by theatre critics as a "slick cynical and sophisticated" drama of "newspapermen, racketeers and dumb but successful chorines." Kemp, until recently playing at the Embassy Theatre in London, is cast as an American newspaperman and his companions are Bessie Love of "Broadway Melody" fame and American Hartley Power who has been acting in Britain 20 years. After a tour of the provinces "Born yesterday" is to be produced in London.

BRITAIN IS WORRIED ON FOOD CRISIS

Grain Export Cut From United States Threatens Bread Supply

LONDON—Newspapers today headlined a grain export cut by the United States as a threat to Britain's bread ration, announced a one-third slash in the bacon ration effective January 5 and reported widespread electricity stoppages as the United Kingdom shivered in the winter's first real cold snap.

Britain is making an effort to maintain the nine-ounce daily bread ration, asked the United States for 150,000 tons of grain during January but Washington announced that the allocation was only 84,000 tons.

Minister of Food Strachey told the House of Commons today that the "main difficulty" in the present British wheat supply situation was the inability of Canadian authorities to move wheat in sufficient quantities to ports. He said that the United States had promised Britain enough wheat and flour between now and January 31 to avert "a very grave emergency."

In addition, the United States promised rail priority for the moving of additional quantities of Canadian wheat across the United States.

The Experts Say - -

BUYING THE TURKEY—Today's column is written especially for that housewife who, market-basket in hand, probably right now is heading for her favorite butcher to see what he has in the line of a Christmas turkey (if she is lucky) or goose, or chicken.

If she is a young housewife, new at this game of buying festive birds, she had best keep in mind that most turkeys and chickens are graded. Home economists recommend the purchase of graded poultry as grading takes the guess-work out of buying. The three grades are A, B and C.

A Grade A turkey or chicken is best choice for the dinner which is going to be a special occasion. Well fleshed with a cover of fat, it will be tender and juicy.

Appearance is important too if the bird is to look well when roasted. Clear white skin cooks to a smooth glossy brown.

Bruises and abrasions are difficult to repair and conceal.

There can be no set rule for roasting poultry since the length of time required for different types depends on the size, shape and weight of the bird as well as personal taste. However the agriculture department economists give the following table of approximate times and temperatures:

Chicken, 4 to 8 pounds—300-325 F, 30 minutes per pound.
Turkey, 8 to 10 pounds, 300 F, 25 minutes per pound.

Turkey, 12 to 16 pounds—300F, 20 minutes per pound.

Turkey, 16 to 25 pounds—300F, 18-20 minutes per pound.

Duck, 3 to 8 pounds—325F, 20-25 minutes per pound.

Goose, 10 to 12 pounds—325F, 20-25 minutes per pound.

Cranberries are taken for granted with every Christmas dinner, but as a change from the good old-fashioned cranberry sauce you might this season try a cranberry and orange salad.

Put one full cup cranberries and one large orange through a meat grinder, then add one cup sugar and let stand one and one-half hours. Dissolve one package of lemon jello in one cup boiling water, with one tablespoon vinegar. Stir in cranberry and orange mixture and put in glass pan to set in refrigerator. To serve, cut in squares on lettuce leaf and use with other fruits if desired.

Potato Cheese Soup — Three medium potatoes; two cups boiling water; two to three cups milk; one slice onion, three tablespoons fat; two tablespoons flour; one teaspoon salt, pinch of pepper; one cup grated cheese; one tablespoon chopped parsley.

Xmas Recipes

Shortbread

1/4 cup mild-flavored fat
1/4 cup butter
1/4 cup brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 egg yolk
1 1/2 to 1 3/4 cups all-purpose OR 1 1/4 to 2 cups pastry flour
Soften fat and butter slightly but do not allow to become oily. Stir in sugar, egg yolk and salt, using a wooden spoon. Mix in flour, adding a little at a time, until mixture is too stiff to work with a spoon. Turn onto a flour-ed board and knead lightly, working in rest of flour as needed until the surface of the dough begins to crack. Roll out about 1/4 inch thick and cut with small cookie cutter. Bake in a moderately slow oven, 325 degrees F., about 20 minutes or until delicately browned. Makes 3 to 4 dozen 1/2-inch shortbread.

Holly Sauce

2 tablespoon sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
Pinch of salt
2 egg yolks or 1 whole egg
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1 1/2 cups milk
1/2 cup maraschino cherries, coarsely chopped

Mix sugar, cornstarch, salt and milk (1 cup). Heat in double boiler. Beat egg yolks slightly with remaining milk. Add slowly to the hot milk, stirring constantly. Cook until mixture is thick and will coat a spoon (about 10 minutes). Remove from heat, add flavoring and cherries. Six servings.

Cook potatoes in boiling salted water until tender. Put through strainer. Measure liquid and add enough milk to make four cups. Scald with slice of onion. Cook three minutes. Add cheese and beat until smooth. Sprinkle parsley on soup before serving. Serves six.

NEW DRESS FASHIONS FOR 1947

SCOOPED OUT WAIST—The fashion trend this year will emphasize shoulders and hips, minimize the waistline, as shown in this smart suit worn by Georgie Clifford, one of Britain's famous models now visiting in Canada. A "must" is her sheer, full-fashioned nylon stockings, with delicate back-seam and fashioning marks to emphasize leg-slimming.

TWO SISTERS RUN CENTRE

Melbourne Nurses' Plan Relieves Heavily Overtaxed City Hospitals

MELBOURNE, Australia — Two sisters, both of them fully qualified nurses, have set up a suburban surgical dressing station in Elsternwick, Melbourne. They believe they have hit upon a new idea which will serve a two-fold purpose, proving helpful to the community and relieving the strain upon the out-patients' department of public hospitals.

During the first three weeks of its operation the station has been doing pretty brisk business. When the venture becomes better known, the nurses—Margaret and Florence Symons—do not expect to have an idle moment. This will be all to their liking, since they have volunteered to maintain a 24-hours' service.

The two girls feel the existence of a local dressing station can spare elderly patients and mothers the trouble of frequent journeys to the city as out-patients of public hospitals, and will also relieve busy doctors of routine, time-wasting tasks.

Dark-eyed Margaret Symons, the elder sister, recently returned from six years' war service in England, Egypt, Palestine, Italy and Greece. Nursing runs in her family for, besides Florence, she has another sister nursing in a Melbourne public hospital, and the girls' mother was also a nurse.

HISTORY CLASSIC LIKED BY AUTHORS

NEW YORK — Forty-four authors listing "books I'd like to read" in a Herald Tribune survey showed more interest in "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire" than in any other work. Five named Gibbon's monumental study.

"Das Kapital" by Karl Marx was chosen by three. Dante's works were mentioned four times, oftener than any but Gibbon. Novels by Dickens, Tolstoy, and Laurence Sterne were listed three times, with Dostoevsky, Homer and Plato once or twice.

Norman Corwin, radio producer, had a lengthy selection: Encyclopaedia Britannica ("all the way through"), the works of Freud and Sterne's "Tristram Shandy."

Robert Sherwood, playwright, said he couldn't boil down to three the books he'd like to read. Franklin P. Adams, once noted as a columnist and now as a radio quiz star, answered: "I can't tell you the books that I want to read because if I want to read them, I read them."

UPGRADE BURMA WORKERS
BURMA —The status of all grades of laborers in Burma is likely to be raised so far as the standard of living and salaries is concerned, said U. Kyaw, Burma's adviser to the British delegation to the I.L.O. Conference, on returning from Montreal.

"Now children — let's remember we are all ladies and gentlemen"

"Please, please — don't rush me! There's plenty of nutty-rich, nut-sweet Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes for everybody, and then some, in this giant economy package. And there's plenty of nourishment, too — for Grape-Nuts Flakes give you carbohydrates for energy; proteins for muscle; phosphorus for teeth and bones; iron for the blood; and other food essentials. "And if you're good, I'll make delicious Grape-Nuts Flakes for later on, from one of these recipe packages. "Grape-Nuts Flakes are the grain cereal—made of wheat malted barley. That's why they're twice as good to eat—twice as for you!"

COTTONS IN FAVOR NOW

New Textile Processes, Better Working Conditions Give New Life to Lancashire Industry

By DENISE DALTRUFF Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON — Cotton is being dressed up. It is no longer used only for summer gad-about frocks but is being woven, printed and dyed so it can take its place as a substitute for silk or wool.

Lancashire, centre of the English cotton industry which began there nearly 800 years ago, has seen many ups and downs. The new processes for making cotton a material suitable for afternoon frocks, evening dresses and evening cloaks, has brought a spirit of optimism into the mills.

One of the biggest cotton manufacturers is using cotton to make "velvet" and guard's cloth evening coats, "velveteen" afternoon frocks and "organdie" evening dresses. One of the evening dresses has a full-gathered skirt and low square neck. The bodice and short sleeves are made with deep horizontal tucks.

A brown corduroy velveteen suit has a three-quarter cuffed sleeve and shows a long-sleeved blue blouse at wrist and neckline. The skirt has pleats at back and front.

War Losses
Until the First Great War Lancashire supplied two-thirds of the world's cotton textiles but by 1918 India and Japan had imported modern British machinery and, with their cheap labor, were able to capture a large part of the market.

Again in this war cotton manufacturers suffered by concentration on war production, requiring the moving of operatives to more essential work. In one town alone the number of workers was reduced by half.

Now manufacturers, anxious to fill the shops with gay tablecloths, curtain fabrics, sheet, bath towels, and dress fabrics at reasonable prices, find it hard to attract workers back to an industry in which the work is often monotonous and drab. They are trying to counteract this by freshening up the mills with cream paintwork and fluorescent lighting, by providing bigger windows and air-conditioning and new machinery which makes less noise.

Canteens, hospitals, day nurseries where workers can leave their children, and organized recreational activities are planned by most big mills. One factory springs surprise outings now and again on a fully-paid day. Although the day's work is lost, a company director said, production is more than made up on other days since the workers are happier and more interested in their jobs.

WOMEN ARE VALUABLE CIVILIAN JOBS AFTER WAR

Demobilized War Vets Now Busy at Work, Schools, On Farms and In Own Homes

By KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — As Canada set her sights for the year 1946 saw the 24,000 women left in the services pack their uniforms in mothballs and enter head into the busy world of civilian industry, work to school or university classes for further training. Although a number were either married or enlisting or married in the services, and those who went to private life, officials of the Department of Veterans Affairs say the figure is not as high as has been generally supposed.

Within the next year D.V.A. officials expect the total number of women formerly in the Armed Services, who avail themselves of the government's provision for training of veterans, may exceed 20 per cent of the women who enlisted. At the present time more than 8,000 are trained, or undergoing training, for more than 100 different occupations.

Approximately 6,000 took vocational training under the D.V.A. plan, and more than 2,000 chose university training or other professional or semi-professional training in various non-university schools or colleges.

A D.V.A. report reveals that women veterans in universities are studying everything from law, architecture and medicine, to journalism and social work. Many are training as nurses. On the vocational side they're taking such things as hairdressing, stenography, book-binding, linotype operating and photography. Although no exact records are available it is understood that a little more than 30 per cent of the women were married at the time of discharge. However, officials lay to "wishful thinking" the occasional newspaper report that most servicewomen are married and not interested in training or employment.

"Many of those who are married must work to supplement their husband's earnings," said one official. "Others have abilities and skills which are as urgently needed in peace time as in war."

vicewomen than it is among servicemen, said D.V.A. officials. The women have gone back into the civilian stream more smoothly than the men.

VOTING IN RUMANIAN ELECTION THAT BRITAIN AND U.S. DID NOT LIKE

Dr. Petre Groza, Rumanian prime minister, is shown casting his ballot in Bucharest during the recent elections in which the Communists scored an impressive victory. At right is Gheorghe Tatarescu, vice-premier and minister for exterior affairs, as he waited for his turn at the ballot box. The U.S. and Britain have withheld recognition of the Rumanian government on grounds that the elections were not free. A group of peasants in a village south of Bucharest are shown in photo at right reading a government poster which says, "Vote for the Sun" as Rumanians recently went to the polls in the parliamentary election. One of them holds a voting card, showing only government candidates, which was picked up in the street of this village where only 30 out of 500 families were said to have received voting cards, none of which listed the opposition.

SENIORITAS FIND CANADA IS COLD

From Below the Rio Grande They Came to Winnipeg to Study English

WINNIPEG — Usually at this time of year Canadians take one look at their parkas and heavy boots and start dreaming about the sunny south, but snow drifts and a north wind didn't deter two winsome young senioritas who arrived here from Mexico recently.

They admitted they had been shivering as the train had carried them through "colder and colder" places and 19-year-old Enriqueta Morales said, "Oh, it's so very cold. I've seen snow before, but oh, it's terribly cold."

The girls — Esther and Enriqueta Morales of Mexico City — were sent here by their father to study English. Last year he sent the sisters to a business college in Quincy, Illinois. They roomed together and did all their chatting in their native Spanish... which didn't help their English a great deal.

However, this year things have been arranged differently. The sisters will stay in separate homes so that they may learn to speak the English language more quickly and adapt themselves to the Canadian way of life.

Mr. Morales, a manufacturer's agent in Mexico, last year sent his 15-year-old daughter, Carmen, to a convent in Ottawa to learn English. But the cold weather defeated her and she scurried home early.

The first thing the sisters did when they arrived here was to buy warm coats. Now they are settling down to routine—sight-seeing, classes and extra-curricular activities. They have enrolled at the YWCA for swimming and basketball and joined a business sorority.

And a year from now, when they return to their native land, it is planned that the girls will be thoroughly conversant in both English grammar and idiomatic English and also have pleasant memories of their visit "up north."

KINSMEN HOLD LADIES' NIGHT

Kinsmen club members last night put their gallant feet forward, exchanged their regular meeting procedure for a turkey dinner to which they invited their ladies, then wound up the evening by attending the theatre in a group. The dinner was held in the Civic Centre cafeteria and was featured by Christmas fare, after which a turkey was raffled, being won by Edward Garner. Following the dinner, the group, consisting of about 15 Kinsmen and their ladies, attended the Capitol Theatre.

11 1/2 MILLION PAPER TOWELS PER YEAR!

Is paper YOUR business? If it is, the wages of your workers are paid, in part, by people like ourselves who purchase huge quantities of paper products every year. Even if paper is not your business, the prosperity of paper workers means additional dollars circulating in the Canadian market—and that concerns every one of us. True, this Company is in the business of mining, refining metals and making chemicals and chemical fertilizers—but we use the amazing amount of 11 1/2 million paper towels a YEAR in the normal course of our business.

Production of these towels means money paid in wages, contributing to the wide variety of jobs needed to maintain the many thousands of workers in Canada's great paper industry. Paper towels are just one of a myriad supply items needed in this Company's operations, each of which items means wages and jobs in other Canadian industries and in the various services which bring these supplies to our door.

CHRISTMAS AT BORDEN STREET

All Grades Participated in Splendid Concert Yesterday

In spite of unfavorable walking conditions there was a large attendance of parents and friends at the Borden Street School concert held in the music room yesterday afternoon. An attractively decorated stage extended warm Christmas greetings to all.

The program included chorals and rhythm band from Grade Two, also a sketch, "Honesty is the Best Policy." Grade One had two smart recitations, "This Little Hand" by five girls, and "Here is the Beehive" by a group of boys. From Grade Three came a piano solo by Margaret Johnson, two choral recitations, "Long, Long Ago" and "The Child and the Shepherd," and a chorus "The Carol Singers." This grade also presented a pleasing playlet, "The Sleeping Beauty." A joint number by Grades Three and Four was a dance, "The Chimes of Dunkirk."

Grade Four's contributions were a dance, "Gustaf's Skool," and two musical numbers, "A Round" and "Silent Night, Holy Night" rendered very effectively in two parts. From Grade Five came a good recitation by Margaret Youngman entitled "Santa's Workshop," two well played piano selections by Olive Strand and a chorus by the girls, "The First Noel." Nick Christy recited "Jolly Saint Nicholas" well. Grade Six staged a Christmas scene with two carols, "Silent Night" and "We Three Kings." Solo parts were taken by Alice Nickerson, Elvin Phillips, Jimmy Holt and Keith Young with Barbara Moore accompanying. With Mrs. Seaman at the piano the grade also sang, "Good King Wenceslas." The school choir sang two numbers very pleasingly, "The First Noel" with descant, and "Alouette."

Penlo Penoff made an efficient chairman while Ronnie Rhodes saw that Santa Claus extended appropriate Christmas greetings.

Alice Nickerson was pianist for "O Canada" and Anita Brue for "God Save the King."

During the program Mrs. Ed. Saunders presented to Grade Five the Parent-Teacher prize for the grade obtaining the highest number of Parent-Teacher members. William Blackaby received the prize on behalf of the Grade and thanked Mrs. Saunders suitably.

Following the program the parents were taken by their children to visit the rooms, all of which had been attractively decorated and, with gaily ornamented Christmas trees, presented a very merry appearance.

SHARK FISHERS
PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad @
Three demobilized English servicemen who arrived in Trinidad recently have purchased a boat and ordered equipment from England in order to carry out large scale shark fishing. They are Andrew W. Sparks, former intelligence service officer, Jack Packbury, naval machine gunner and Robert Head, seaman for over 14 years.

NEW METLAKATLA WINS FIRST OF INTERNATIONAL HOOP SERIES

The powerful New Metlakatla team from Alaska took the local All-Stars for a 56-54 count last night in the opening game of a two-game series being played here in Rupert. Featuring fast breaks and sharp shooting the Alaskans had to come up from behind to win the game. The score at the end of the first half being 29 to 27 for Prince Rupert. Although the first quarter was the highest scoring period of the game it was not until early in the second half that the pace was increased to a furious tempo. Early in the second quarter the All-Stars lost a player when "Sonny" Beynon was sent to the showers—not by the referee—but by his coach. Coach Art Murray kept his team fighting hard but they just could not seem to hold David of New Metlakatla down. He was high scorer for the night netting his team 27 points. In the last quarter David was the only scorer for the New Metlakatla squad and, although lanky Angus MacPhee was batting down shot after shot, he just couldn't seem to stop them all. In the closing 15 seconds of play, Rupert was behind by two points when Jack Lindsay made a break-away which threatened to tie the game up. But by one of the odds of the game he missed a clear shot just as the whistle went to end a hard-fought game.

Tonight will see the second game of this series with the local stars determined to see victory. But then New Metlakatla is just as determined, so all in all it should be a bang-up ball game. The evening starts with a preliminary game.

New Metlakatla — Brendible (f) 14, Atkinson (f), David (c) 27, Reece (g) 11, Booth (g), J. Hayward (s), T. Atkinson (s), Milne (s), F. Hayward (s) 4, Buxton (s), Total 56.

All Stars—McPhee 12, Beynon 6, Lindsay 17, Houston 4, Dominato 12, Calderone 3, Gurvich, Viereck, Clausen, Hartwig, Total 54.

Gyro Wins Jr. Opener

The Junior League preliminary game between Gyro and Legion turned out to be a first class exhibition with Gyro emerging the victors after three minutes of overtime. The score at the end of the full game time was 35-35. In the overtime Gyro had that extra something that gave them a 6-point advantage to bring the score to 43-37. It was wide open ball right from the start with neither team having the edge until the overtime period. The score stood at 14-13 for Gyro at the end of the first half but Legion came right back and tied things up in the fourth quarter forcing the overtime. High scorers for the night were Shier of Gyro and Wong of Legion both with 15 points.

Gyro—Shier 15, Haugan 7, D. Scherk 11, Mercer 1, Sunberg 3, Moore 4, S. Scherk 2, Donaldson, Total 43.

Legion—Lien, Olsen 2, Boulter 6, Wong 15, Carlson 10, Eidsvick, Hill, Forman 4, Total 37.

SHORT SPORT

The hockey, for long a top attraction in the American and Canadian sporting worlds, bids fair to gain a parallel place in the affections of the British sporting public. As an organized sport attracting the paying customers, it took its first bow in that country in 1934. It rapidly gained a big following and would have gained a bigger one but for the advent of world war two which put the rinks "on ice" for the duration. But the first post-war season proved that the interval had failed to cool the enthusiasm of the fans. The present season, now in full swing, underlines the fact.

There are now more than 20 rinks throughout Great Britain. Each is forced to close its doors at every match with many customers, cash in hand, still on the outside. Wembley, London's premier rink, has a capacity of 8,000. Hundreds of fans, ready and willing to pay from 2s. 6d to a guinea for admission, are disappointed at every fixture. Wembley estimates that crowds of secer proportions will be common in the near future. That, by English standards, is a lot of people.

The British game, cradled in Canada, still owes much to this country. While many young Britons of note now figure in the major teams, the Dominion supplies most of the star players. Prominent in the Wembley Monarchs line-up are Les Annand and George Steele, both 19-year-olds, who recently arrived in Britain from Ottawa. Harrington and Streatham also, recently welcomed a new batch of top-ranking players from Canada, while in Scotland eighty newly-arrived Canadians are divided around the seven Scottish rinks. Note also the titles "Monarchs," "Lions" and "Tigers," so reminiscent of the Canadian rinks.

All players have amateur status. They are paid expenses and, particularly in the case of the Canadians, provided with jobs of work outside their rink activities. The same system prevails in other sports, notably minor league soccer. Sports purists are inclined to question it. The game is controlled by the British Ice Hockey Association.

TOP SHAPE FOR LEGION FIGHT CARD

With both contenders in the feature bout of Saturday night's boxing card in top condition and the preliminary fighters waiting the opening bell with muscular eagerness, Legion boxing chairman Jim Nicoll allows himself the modest assertion that fight patrons will see one of the best, if not the best, card in recent local pugilistic history.

Mr. Nicoll bases his forecast on the known qualities of the principals and on the earnest training which they have undergone, particularly Benny Windle and Len Hitchens, whose 10-round encounter, he predicts, cannot help but be a triumph of pugilistic artistry and vigor.

Benny Windle, whose ability to stand up to the 10 two-minute rounds of action has been questioned by critics, presumably those who lean toward Hitchens, is going to give someone a surprise, since his speed and footwork are those of a far younger man. To see Benny wear out sparring partners in training would give Hitchens fans cause for serious thought.

On the other hand, Hitchens also is in peak form, and he has indicated his confidence that he can close out Benny before the 10 rounds are up, although he will not go so far as to say in just what round the contest will end. Due to his rigorous training, Len probably will fight a little under his regular weight of 147 pounds.

In the meantime, it would be safe to say, that whoever wins in the various bouts, members of the Legion boxing committee are going to be a busy group both Friday and Saturday nights. Owing to the constant use of the Civic Centre gym, the ring and seating arrangements will have to be completed within 24 hours before the fights, and cleared out immediately afterward, in order to allow the gym to be used for badminton on Sunday.

CANADA - UNITED STATES TIE HAS BECOME CLOSER THAN EVER TODAY

Expect Greater Progress On St. Lawrence River Development With New Republican Majority

By C. R. BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (CP)—A year that saw representatives of almost every country coming to Washington with pleas or complaints left apparently unchanged the serenely efficient relations between Canada and the United States.

On the surface at least the mutual respect and friendly feelings that have made

Canadian-American relations a model, remained unruffled by the terrific play of world events which made 1946 memorable.

The Republican victory in November putting Congress in the hands of that party for the first time in 14 years brought no foreseeable threat to continuity of these relations. There was a possibility that the Republican majority might handicap the administration in its program of multilateral free trade agreements but these negotiations are so closely tied in with foreign policy that it seemed unlikely that high tariff influences would operate.

It was reasonable to expect that the Canada-United States agreement on development of St. Lawrence River power and navigation would make greater progress toward achievement under the new congressional regime, for two reasons.

1. The great congressional proponent of the scheme is a Republican, Senator Aiken of Vermont.

2. Two soft coal strikes in 1946 emphasized the necessity of establishing greater resources of hydro-generated electrical energy for industrial and domestic use.

The agreement under which Canada took over maintenance of the Alaska Highway, and other post-war settlements of projects jointly handled during the war, seemed to be working smoothly. Negotiations were going forward to improve border-crossing formalities with respect to both persons and materials, and the year brought considerable simplification.

Each country handled its price control and de-control problems without seriously affecting the other.

EMBASSY CHANGES

Late in the year the popular Canadian ambassador, L. E. "Mike" Pearson, was moved to Ottawa to become under secretary for external affairs. He was succeeded by Hume Wrong, one of Canada's most experienced career diplomats, who easily fitted himself into the Washington scene. Mr. Wrong, familiar with Washington because of his service here when the embassy was a legation, found no difficult problems awaiting his attention.

Probably the most delicate existing issue between the two countries has to do with fairly secret discussions, in the joint defence permanent committee and elsewhere, on development of defence, weather and flying facilities in the Canadian Arctic for the benefit of the whole continent. So far as can be learned these long term planning talks are proceeding without rancor and without great differences of opinion.

Visits of Prime Minister Mackenzie King to the White House

were not as frequent as when President Roosevelt lived but that was not surprising. The late president and the prime minister were old friends. President Truman at once sought to perpetuate the close relations between the Canadian prime minister and the White House.

But both Mr. Mackenzie King and Mr. Truman have been busy men this past year, particularly the president, and fortunately for Canada that country has not been involved directly in many of the problems bedeviling Mr. Truman.

However the prime minister did visit Washington once, was entertained as the head of a friendly state in Blair House, the government's hospitality centre, and had a long talk with the president on all matters of immediate and common interest to the two countries.

BIG EDUCATION PLAN

HYDERABAD, India — Hyderabad in a 14-year plan aims to provide educational facilities for 500,000 more pupils in the primary stage, about 282,000 in the lower secondary and 131,000 in the higher secondary stage. The state government also is taking steps to induce young men to take up teaching.

Seasonal Holiday Recipes

Poinsetta Cookies
¾ cup mild-flavored fat
½ cup fine granulated sugar
2 egg yolks or 1 egg

2 cups pastry flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
Pinch of salt

Cream fat and sugar well together. Add beaten egg. Then blend in flour mixed with baking powder and salt. Roll to about ¼ inch thickness on a floured board and cut with 2-inch cookie cutter. Make four cuts almost into centre of cookie at equal distance. Fold the four points to the centre as a pinwheel. Place a piece of candied cherry in centre. Bake in a moderately slow oven, 325 degrees F., until cookies are delicately browned—about 15 minutes.

BIRTH IN IRON LUNG—Mrs. Rosemary Kelleher, pelvic victim who gave birth to a baby 6 pounds, 10 ounces in an iron lung at the General Hospital in Los Angeles, Calif., is pictured with her husband, William, left, and a nurse. Doctors could not move the mother to the delivery room and so the baby was born in the lung in the contagious ward.

GREATLY INCREASED VITAMIN "D"

The vitamin D content of Carnation Milk has been increased from the former 162 to 400 International units per reconstituted quart (half Carnation, half water) . . . nearly 2½ times as much as before.

This additional irradiation assures a margin of safety for the prevention of rickets in normal infants, and provides the vitamin D needed for good bone and tooth development and excellent growth.

So now, more than ever, Carnation Milk ranks as a preferred food for bottle-fed babies, for their growing brothers and sisters, and for grown-ups, who also need "sunshine" vitamin D. This greatly increased amount of essential vitamin D is provided at no extra cost.

CONVICTED OF ASSAULT AT SMITHERS

SMITHERS (Special to the Daily News)—Larry and Irvine Wade, trappers, were found guilty in County Court here yesterday of a charge of assault and assessed $250 damages to cover the cost of doctor and hospital bills to the complainant, James Cumming, Smithers bowling alley proprietor.

The two brothers were found guilty by Judge W. E. Fisher of Prince Rupert of assaulting Cumming in his bowling alley on November 22 in a fracas, which sent Cumming to hospital with chest and face injuries.

Sentence on a second charge of assault will be handed out to the Wade brothers today, Judge Fisher indicated. The complainant was Paul Pichl, who was injured when he attempted to aid Cumming during the assault. He received a blow on the head with a bowling pin.

Counsel for the Wade brothers was P. E. Wilson, K.C., of Prince George, and W. O. Fulton of Prince Rupert acted for the crown.

The case was described as the first of its kind to take place in Smithers, and local sentiment was aroused.

In another case before Judge Fisher, S. J. Edmondson won an appeal against an Indian Act conviction. Edmondson was represented by J. T. Harvey of Prince Rupert. W. O. Fulton acted for the Crown.
