Blow Easing Storm Spares Rich Florida Fruit Crop

MIAMI (CP)—Picking up speed as it breezed across Florida, the tropical hurricane approached Jacksonville area today and was expected to skirt the Atlantic coast as it swept northeastward.
Winds of gale force continued over a wide area, but the storm apparently lost much of its force as it roared across the Gulf of Mexico, and no serious damage has been yet reported.

Only light damage resulted to

SINO-CANADIAN TRADE PACT NOW IN OPERATION

OTTAWA—A commercial trade agreement has been signed by Canada and China.
It provides for the "most favored nation" treatment by each country of the products imported from the other. Specifically, this means that imports from China to Canada will be placed under the intermediate tariff and lower rates, rather than the general rate which applied before to China and a few other countries.
However, the special tariff treatment which Canada accords to British countries under the Empire preferential system is not affected by the terms of this Chinese-Canadian agreement.

FOR ONE YEAR

The trade pact is for a period of one year, but it will continue in force thereafter until either party gives three months' notice of its termination.
Value of Chinese-Canadian trade in pre-war years reached a peak total of about $30,000,000 in 1926 when Canadian exports to China exceeded her imports from that country by about $19,- 000,000. By 1941, however, total trade had fallen to about $9,000,- 000 of which Canadian exports to China amounted to over $6,- 500,000. Chief items of export from Canada to China before the war included: woods and wood products, wheat, flour and other agricultural products, nickel, aluminum, lead and other non-ferrous metals. Leading imports from China included: peanuts, walnuts and peanut oil, tea and spices, various textile products such as silk, cotton, flax, hemo, lace and other minor items.

BRITAIN Asking Ban On Military Use Of Atomic Energy

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Clement Atlee said today that Great Britain hopes to secure an international ban on the military use of atomic energy.
He also told the reopened Parliament that he was not in a position to announce the government's decision whether a royal commission should be appointed to inquire into the British press. He assured the house that the freedom of the press would not be restricted.
RESEARCH STATION
Atlee urged passage of the government-sponsored bill which would give the government full control of all British development of atomic energy and provide for establishment of a research station.
The program of work would cost about $120,000,000.
Richard Law, Conservative spokesman, said the opposition would support the bill.
After both Atlee and Law had expressed hope for an international ban on military use of atomic energy, the house agreed to accept the bill.

3 Convicted in Connection With Province Strike

VANCOUVER, (CP)—Three of 12

were convicted by an assize

W. B. Friesen, Robert Daniels

The jury acquitted seven others.
The men were arrested during the printers' strike at the Pro-

GENERAL'S AIDE

Chief negotiator, the only outsider permitted to enter the Lolo country is a Chinese general's aide, believed by Capt. Mah to be Col. Chow, aide to General Chang, who is the Generalissimo's commander in that region. Cedric knows both Col.
Chow and General Chang personally.
The region where the plane crashed is near where Capt. Mah had an outstanding exploit of his own a little more than a year ago. He was forced to jettison $844,000,000 in Chinese money to lighten his plane when the wings iced up.

MAY BE FRIEND

He also feels that a wartime friend of his may be a prisoner of the Lolos. Capt. Dick Green of Buffalo, New York, crashed in that area in September, 1945, and although the wreckage of his plane was found, there was no sign of Capt. Green.
"It is possible that he may still be alive, and a prisoner of the Lolos," Capt. Mah said.

the disputed territory, Connelly maintained.

Hans Jacobsen Missing Five Days on Deer Hunt

73-Year-Old City Resident Feared to Have Suffered Heart Attack

A search party of Prince Rupert fishermen left the city this morning to hunt through the rocks and muskeg of Porcher Peninsula on the west side of Porcher Island for Hans Jacobsen, 73-year-old local man who has been missing since Friday after disappearing into the rocky wilderness.
Word of Jacobsen's disappearance was brought to the city Monday afternoon by his partner, Martin Gunderson after a three-day search by Gunderson along with Einer Christiansen and Louis Anderson, other members of the four-man party which went deer hunting last Tuesday.
Jacobsen, an ardent hunter, despite his 73 years, disappeared into the bush near Flat Hill at the base of Porcher Island Peninsula at 8 o'clock Friday morning and has not been seen since.

HEARD ANSWERING SHOTS

Mr. Gunderson said this morning that he believes he was in touch with Jacobsen on Saturday when he fired a signal shot into the air. An answering shot from some distance to the north was heard.
Gunderson went back to the boats and informed the other two men of the shot signal which he had heard. The three men headed in that direction and Gunderson fired another rifle shot. An answering shot sounded in the distance again.
However the three men spent Saturday afternoon and Sunday searching the rough terrain in the vicinity from which the shots had come, but were unable to find any sign of Jacobsen.

WE'RE LOSING OUT
(From Financial News)

IN THE EXPORT of manufactured and processed products Canada's major competitor is the United States. Our lines and methods of production, our wage scales and standards of living and our natural advantages are more similar to those south of the border than of any other country. And like the United States, Canada came out of this war with capacity and plants undamaged, with many new processes that could be put to good use in developing additional markets.

By this time Canada should have been building up a record export trade. On the contrary we have been so crippled by strikes in key industries that we have been utterly unable to keep our own domestic wants supplied, let alone those of any new customers. We have close to 50,000 people out on strike and several times that number idle or working only part time as a result of strike-caused shortages in key products.

Compared to the United States our strike situation is far more serious. Tie-ups in our key industries have lasted longer. In comparison to total industrial populations, time lost has been greater. And because we are far more dependent on export trade than our neighbor, our losses in postwar markets, actual and potential, have been very much heavier.

It is probably only a coincidence that almost all Canadian labor unions are only branches of parent organizations in the United States and in some cases strikes have been called or prolonged here on direct orders from U. S. headquarters. Nevertheless if some American group had deliberately sought to put Canadian competitors out of the export field they could hardly have devised a better plan. Every Canadian member of an international labor union should remember that each day his plant is closed is a day gained by a producing American plant in the race for postwar markets.

DRESSING FOR TOWN

Pray the spider weave you a gossamer gown and spangle it with dew when you visit town.

Wear lady slippers upon your magic feet; a sprig of honeysuckle as your perfume sweet.

Upon each hand a foxglove and in your heart a song. The town isn't far away, the trip not very long.

There the swains will greet you with a jolly lay; and fan you with a light green fern to keep the sun away.

RUBY ZAGOREN

OUR AUTUMN BEAUTY

Wherever one may travel east of Prince Rupert at this time of the year the beauty of the autumn foliage captures the eye and kindles those latent artistic instincts that deeply lay in human hearts.

On every hillside borders of gold shine from the tips of the leaves and splashes of bright yellow are entwined with the sombre dark green shades of the humble poplars.

Here and there an impertinent tree thrusts out its scarlet leaves that have kissed the frost too ravishingly at night and, in gorgeous hues, looks like a beautiful lady richly garbed in sensual colors to display her loveliness and perhaps entice again the lingering touch and champagne breath of that old flirt Jack Frost.

Boulevards and man-made parks may be absent here. But old Mother Nature takes primeval forests, her lowliest trees and paints them with a heavenly brush into a picture of beauty beyond compare.

Free Market For Rubber Advocated In Great Britain

LONDON—British rubber manufacturers are exhausting existing stocks of synthetic rubber and "have decided to press the Board of Trade for the return to a free market as soon as the present agreement with the United States ends on Dec. 31," F. D. Ascoli, Chairman of the Rubber Growers' Association, said in a statement here.

Mr. Ascoli reported Britain has stopped imports of synthetic rubber and will use nothing but natural rubber for tires after October.

"We are anxious to stand on our own feet and to ascertain the real value of natural rubber as against its new competitor,

C.N.R. EARNINGS DROP SHARPLY

MONTREAL—Operating revenues for the Canadian National Railways System, all-inclusive, for the month of August totalled $35,038,000. Operating expenses were $32,347,000. Net revenue was $2,741,000. In August, 1945, revenues were 38,168,000; expenses, $30,056,000, and net revenue, $8,112,000.

The cost of the recent wage increase of 10 cents an hour retroactive to June 1, 1946, will increase this year's operating expenses by approximately $13,000,000. One-fifth of this sum, $2,600,000, is included in August expenses.

For the first five months of the year, operating revenues were $225,690,000, operating expenses $227,799,000, and net revenue, $27,891,000. The comparative figures for 1945 are: revenues, $291,882,000; expenses, $235,238,000, and net revenue, $56,594,000.

Letters to the Editor

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK
Editor, Daily News:

During this week of October 6-12, designated by Order in Council as Fire Prevention Week, civic authorities throughout the Dominion are campaigning all our citizens to a greater awareness of the dangers attendant to the careless use of even the simplest forms of heat generation.

We humans are helpless without the heat generated by the open flame or by electronic forms of heat, and from these two sources, a multiplicity of simple causes inflict an unreasonable amount of death and destruction by fire upon every community in this American continent.

Much we can and do legislate against in order to keep and maintain fire control, but the special appeal of this week is directed toward every man, woman and child in this, and every community, that we now, this week, whether housewife or businessman, householder or institutional executive, shall inspect and remove all conditions likely to cause or promote the spread of fire.

For, in spite of all the agencies working toward fire control, it is an alarming fact that fire losses and deaths by fire are steadily mounting each succeeding year. The months of this year show an increasing loss by fire over the same months of last year, and we seem powerless to prevent the increases.

Carelessness is shown to be the greatest factor in promoting these huge fire losses, too often with loss of life.

Locally, just last week a serious fire was averted by the prompt action of a fortunately on the spot resident of one of our larger apartment buildings. The cause—careless placement of kindling wood behind the kitchen range. Saturday night a domestic kitchen was badly scorched, curtains and clothing burned. The cause—sparks or backdraft from kitchen range set fire to a mop, a broom and other equipment, all of which was kept beside the range, much too close for safety.

We maintain that the installation of any heating equipment should be such that there could be no fire caused by the overheating of such equipment. Make your individual survey on that basis, and when in doubt, correct to a safe margin.

I am hoping to receive from Ottawa a short trailer in picture form on Fire Prevention, which can be shown at our local theatre. It will carry a potent message to all who see it.

Our Dominion Government considers the situation serious and issues to each of us a direct challenge. Reader, the rest is up to you.

H. T. LOCK, Chief,

365 VICTORIES A YEAR

"PEACE", they say, "has its victories as well as war". In textiles, these victories depend on the same things as in war; watchfulness, superior materials, teamwork.

The result is "quality". And quality means victories every day of the year—victories over wear and tear, over sun and wash.

Quality depends on everlasting superior tests of materials . . . and on rigid inspection finished goods to detect the slightest defect and on teamwork between all departments in all these things combined which give you the quality which you rightly expect in the products of Dominion Textile Co. Beer For Children As Water Polluted

AMIENS, France—Supplying of 100 new beds for the Holiday Camp for girls near Amiens, by the Save the Children Fund meant the reopening of the camp which had been shattered and pillaged by the Germans, it is reported by Lady Johnson.

The building has been rehabilitated and the camp is in the charge of a Mother Superior, who points out that the girls now take daily exercises on the roof. The youngsters, Lady Johnson reports, are given beer to drink in place of water because they dare not drink the water from the wells which were polluted by the Germans during their terrible looting.

B.C. Reforestation Program Expanded

VICTORIA — Further expansion of the government's reforestation program is being carried out with the additional planting of 7,000,000 young trees at the B.C. Forest Service nursery near Duncan. These trees will be used in 1948 to replant logged-off areas near Duncan and other island points.

The Green Timbers Nursery, near New Westminster, will have a crop of 4,000,000 trees ready by next February. These, together with the 7,000,000 trees of the Duncan nursery will augment the operations of private logging companies, it was announced by Hon. E. T. Kenney, minister of lands and forests. Concurrently, with this program of reforestation, the forestry department is working to reduce fire hazards on forest lands by clearing trails and constructing new ones so that fire fighters will have greater access to danger areas.

Cardinals Shut-Out Red Sox 3-0 to Tie Series Games 1-1

SPORTSMAN'S PARK, St. Louis—Harry (the Cat) Brecheen squared the 1946 World Series for St. Louis Cardinals Monday by shutting out the Boston Red Sox 3-0 with four hits before another capacity crowd of 35,815.

First double play of series was completed in first inning. DiMaggio grounded sharply to Marion who fielded the ball cleanly, raced over to second to force McBride and whipped to first to complete the double play.

For two innings play was scoreless but in the third Harry Brecheen's single to right field following Del Rice's double to left provided St. Louis with a 1-0 lead.

St. Louis base hits and jittery Red Sox infield helped Cardinals pile up two more runs in the fifth inning. Rice scored again, and Brecheen tallied second run of the inning.

In the sixth inning, Rice, whom the Red Sox have yet to retire, was purposely passed on balls and then Brecheen went down swinging on three pitches.

In the eighth Dobson, with a 13-7 won and lost record during the regular season, took over pitching chores for Red Sox, and in the ninth Walker replaced Dusak in left field for Cardinals. Walker ended game in ninth when he ran back close to left field wall to catch Doerrs long drive.

Plenty of Moose For B.C. Hunters

KAMLOOPS—Fears expressed by hunters that last year's kill of moose in British Columbia was too great were set at rest by James Hatter, University of British Columbia biologist, in a report to the game department.

He said the heavily-hunted sections of the Cariboo area need the present high rate of kill and that outlying sections suffer dangerously from rapid increase and light kill.

Lighter Side

The minister was imploring an old man to repent his sins.
"Well," said the old sinner, "if you will answer me one question, I will come to church."
"And what is the question?"
"Who was Cain's wife?"
"My friend," replied the minister, "you will never be able to embrace religion until you stop bothering yourself about other men's wives."

Tourist: "Your son just threw a rock at me."
Farmer: "Did he hit you?"
Tourist: "No."
Farmer: "Well, then he wasn't my boy."

"What are you looking for, darling?" called the wife, as she heard her husband creeping about in the kitchen.
"Nothin', just nothin'," was the reply.
"Then you'll find it in the bottle where the whisky used to be," was the cheerful reply.

RECALLS TIMES OF GREAT LACROSSE COACH

TORONTO—When St. Catharines Athletics romped away with the Mann Lacrosse Cup, emblematic of the Canadian championship and left the hard-working New Westminster Salmonbellies breathless, oldtime sportsmen began talking about Jimmy Murphy.

Now Murphy loved the sport, in season and out, until his death a decade or more ago.

MEMORIAL TROPHY

The name of the jovial Irishman also cropped up in the sport news with the formal announcement by the Ontario Lacrosse Association of the award of the Jimmy Murphy Memorial Trophy. The token, presented annually to the game's outstanding player, went to Gordon Gair of the Barrie-Lakeshore team.

When the presentation was made at Maple Leaf Gardens here one could almost see the jovial Irishman, with twinkling eyes, right there with the principals. But there was no Maple Leaf Gardens in his day. It was the old Mutual Street Arena where, between lacrosse seasons, Jim used to coach the colorful St. Michael's senior hockey team.

Born in Cornwall, Ont., noted name of the summer sport, he soon caught lacrosse fever under the tutelage of P. J. Lally, dean of the game for generations, and moved to Toronto eventually where he took over the Toronto Lacrosse Club of the National Lacrosse Union. The Torontos played on the Rosedale ground where, for games, Murphy established himself in a pigeon-hole window in the third floor of the clubhouse, long since disappeared. He shouted his instructions to the Blue Shirts through a megaphone. Murphy's vigorous coaching added both color and enthusiasm.

There was excitement when the Murphy voice boomed from the Gloucester, Eng., cathedral, largest of its kind in England and removed for safety during the war, is being replaced.

the clubhouse eyes: "Look at that! It's murder! Ah, look at that!" he'd shout when some rough - and - ready Shamrock from Montreal happened to hit Billy Fitzgerald or Eddie Kalls. "Did you see that?" the voice screamed at the referee. Naturally, the partisans took up the cry — which was what Jim wanted.

Murphy virtually made the thirteenth man on the field. As one looks back, Murphy was, in his day, perhaps the fore-runner of that hockey broadcaster, Foster Hewitt, with his "He shoots! He scores!" Only Murphy had just a mere megaphone.

Except for the three hours of a week-end match, Murphy was the most congenial of spirits. He ranked with the best as a raconteur, whose stories were spiced with Irish wit which he, himself, enjoyed as much as his audience. Like other sport veterans of the past generation, he did not take kindly to boxia.

As for hockey, Jim Murphy assembled as great a crew of Irish Greats as ever stepped on ice in the original Toronto St. Michaels senior brand. They swept through to championships regularly, thanks partly to his astute selection of promising players and also to his manner of coaching in seven-man hockey. There, too, the basis of his method was

"Get the odd man up there when we've got the puck."

Murphy smoked little, drank less and remained a celibate throughout his long and vigorous life. They used to say, however, that Jim was married to sport.

British Whalers Readied on Tyne

NEWCASTLE, Eng., ©—Tyne-side ship repairers are hustling to overhaul whaling ships to get them ready for departure this month in search of oil to augment Britain's scanty supply of fats.

The Southern Venturer, big whaling factory ship, is being overhauled at South Shields and smaller whale-catching vessels are at Tyneside ports.

Seven whale-catchers in the Tyne have been taken over by the Russians—former German ships taken as prizes during the war.

Seating Space for Hungry Hoop Fans Worries League President

With the stage set for the opening of the 1946-47 season next weekend, the only matter that seems to be bothering the Prince Rupert Basketball Association at present is whether or not they will be able to handle the crowds expected to attend league play this winter even though the association has been assured by Don Forward, civic centre director, that balconies for the gym are now in the blue print stage and that indications point to an early start on the project.

Fans will recall last year's rush for seats at the large Roosevelt Park gym and will this year be well looked after by the Civic Centre Association, according to Mr. Forward.

With close to three thousand paid admissions at each game of the annual Ketchikan Hi series and even larger crowds at the senior tournament basketball authorities were caught flat-footed with accommodation shortages and it was only selling all seats reserved that they were able to provide seating for the many supporters that flocked to the games when New Metlakatla played here.

SUPPORTING SPORT

Visitors here are amazed at the support, all lines of sport receive from the public and basketball certainly can claim its share. When our boys travel and play before sparse houses they return veyr thankful for the way they are cheered along at home and in order that the public be repaid for their generous subscriptions to the coffers of the Prince Rupert Basketball Association a provincial playoff will definitely be staged here this year if at all possible.

Mindful of the fact that travel distances are seemingly prohibitive from a financial standpoint, Association President Art Murray is convinced that we will either be able to send our team south in quest of the provincial senior B crown or entertain the southern champs here.

To have the southern champs here would be the better setup as it would assure both the B.C.A.B.A. and the local association of a financial success and it would also mean much to the fans here to see their boys in action against southern competition.

South African Is 116 Years of Age

GERMISTON, South Africa, ©—Peter Chandler Pringle, son of a Scottish teacher, recently celebrated his 116th birthday in this Transvaal town.

Mr. Pringle says he still feels quite well, though he suffers a little pain in his left side as a result of a fall he had about three years ago.

"Oom Piet" was born in the Bedford district of the Cape on July 17, 1830, but there is no documentary evidence of his age as his baptismal certificate was destroyed when the church at Craadock was burned out.

Mr. Pringle's home language has always been Afrikaans and he cannot speak English. He accompanied Andries Pretorius on the Great Trek in 1838.

21 KILLED AS RCAF PLANE CRASHES AT ESTEVAN, SASK. — A Dakota transport plane such as is shown here crashed, exploded and burned during an attempted landing at Estevan, Sask., carrying 20 pilots and one ground crew man to their deaths. The airmen had been ferrying lend-lease aircraft to the U.S.

Comb Scotland For Army Recruits

EDINBURGH, (C)—Two teams drawn from War Office personnel are conducting an all-Scotland army recruiting campaign, one team touring the highlands and the other the lowlands.

Minimum target for regular recruits is given as 100,000 by March 31, 1947.

WOOL PRODUCER

New Zealand is fourth among the world's wool-producing countries.

that this title of land, which derived from a Russian citizen, should not be subject to any alienation by restricted deed or otherwise. The petition asks that Parks and Secretary Krug be adjudged to have no right or title to control over the alienation of property, and that it is not property under control of Parks.

The suit seeks to remove a cloud upon the title—the cloud, of alleged obstruction in this case, being the trustee's deed restricting the power of the native owner to dispose of the land.

PHYSICISTS TALK ATOMIC THEORY

NEW YORK — In an atmosphere of expectation and aura of mystery and puzzlement surrounded the meeting here of the American Physical Society and associated engineers.

In a three-day conference, the most outspoken since the war, many of the world's leading physicists and mathematicians tried to synthesize a composite picture of atoms and sub-atomic particles and discuss the maze of conflicting theories and speculations concerning the energies involved in five kinds of cosmic rays.

ENGLISH SPOKEN

Though scarcely understandable to the layman, the language was basically English, with mathematical signs, symbols and figures the common meeting ground for all. The sessions were held because of the presence of so many distinguished atomic researchers in America from abroad. They came from India, Russia, England, South Africa, western Europe and our neighbors in Latin America. Papers and discussions were limited to 10 minutes each.

Dr. L. Rosenfeld of Dublin Institute for Advanced Studies proposed fundamental changes in the mathematics of theories on electromagnetic and gravitational conservation. H. J. Bhabha of Tata Research Institute posed the question of how much an electromagnetic field varies in a vacuum. Shuichi Kusaka of Princeton explained difficulties of the Meson theory of nuclear forces.

RESEARCH UNLIMITED

And these were but three of the foreign names prominently talked about. There were papers by F. Rasetti of Laval University, Javaratnam Eliezer of Ceylon University, while R. Peierls and H. McManus of the University of Birmingham discussed advanced methods in electrodynamic research. Bruno Rossi, David Bohm and Dr. Robert Oppenheimer were prominent American names on the program.

Conversi, Pancini, and Piccioni—Auer, Maze, and Chaminade—Tomonaga and Araki—Heisenberg, Bloch and Nordstiek—were a few of the authorities most frequently under discussion. It makes one realize that research in the field of nuclear physics is far from limited to the boundaries of the United States.

Processing Wood Waste Into Logs For Fireplaces

FORT WILLIAM, Ont.—Chilly fall days are back and the comfort of a small fire in the heating plant or fireplace is more than welcome. Many home owners find a coal fire too much and the Great Lakes Lumber and Shipping Company have found an answer to the problem.

Regarded as a major step in the utilization of waste forest products, their plant produces a synthetic log which has been found very satisfactory.

Process of manufacture is simple—the waste wood material is first ground down until all particles are a uniform size. The material is then dried and goes directly to the fabricating machines.

No binder is used to keep the particles together, it's all done by placing the material under pressures of 20,000 pounds per square inch. This breaks down the cellular structure of the wood and combined with the wood resin forms into a solid log.

Sawdust has been used for heat in lumber and mill yards and even for domestic heating where ample quantities were available. These new sawdust briquets will find favor with many householders and plans are under way to increase production.

SEPARATE SCHOOL P.T.A. GROUPS WILL ELECT OFFICERS OCTOBER 16

Formation of separate Parent-Teacher Associations for each city school will be undertaken at a meeting of Prince Rupert P.T.A. members Wednesday, October 16.

Officers for each organization will be elected at the meeting, the executive council decided at a special meeting in the Civic Centre.

Previously a canvass of members of the Prince Rupert P.T.A. in the city revealed that the great majority of parents favored separate groups.

GREATER SUCCESS

In her recent visit here, Mrs. C. G. McCall, Vancouver, corresponding secretary for the B.C. Federation of Parent-Teachers Associations, told of the better success of schools associations rather than city-wide associations.

Correspondence from Massett, Queen Charlotte Islands, indicates that the formation of a P.T.A. association is being considered there.

Plans were laid by the Prince Rupert P.T.A. executive to observe "Better Parenthood Week" from October 20 to 25.

A vote of congratulation was accorded Mrs. Becker on the success of the tag day for which she had been the convener.

C. H. Insulander reported that the moving picture projector ordered for the use of the elementary schools had arrived. It is the latest model manufactured.

Present at the meeting were J. C. Gilker, president; Mrs. E.

All For Lack Of a Door

"Did you hear about the house builder who couldn't find a front door to his house? Because he had no door he couldn't lock it. Because he couldn't lock it, the plumbers wouldn't put in any plumbing, fearing it would be too easy for thieves to rip it out and take away. Because the plumbing wasn't in, the plasterers wouldn't finish the walls. Because the plasterers couldn't operate, the paper hangers and painters couldn't decorate the house. Because the wallpaper and paint were missing, the floor finishers wouldn't finish the floors."

BADGE MISUSED

WALSALL, England (C)—Canon T. Jenkins, vicar of Walsall, said the badge issued to servicemen after the First Great War had been "prostituted" so that many people almost regarded it as a "badge of pauperism" rather than a mark of distinction.

"Many who wanted to prey upon society wore it because they thought it was the nearest way to people's hearts and pockets," he said.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CONGREGATION CELEBRATES 39TH ANNIVERSARY

Members and friends gathered last night at First Presbyterian Church to enjoy the annual anniversary banquet, held under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the church, in connection with the observances marking the 39th anniversary of the founding of the congregation.

The guests were welcomed by the president of the society, Mrs. J. G. Garrett, and after a bountiful and delicious meal, served by the ladies with the assistance of girls from the C.G.I.T. group, relaxed to enjoy an excellent variety program.

Greetings from other churches were extended by Adj. P. L. Gorie, president of the Ministerial Association, who recalled the strong and unequivocal stand of the Presbyterian Church in defence of the Christian faith, with particular reference to the Scottish Covenanters, and expressed the hope that the clear and decisive leadership given by the church might long continue.

The audience responded enthusiastically to the reading and clever impersonations of C. Aubrey Bate, and to the vocal solos rendered by J. A. Teng, popular local tenor and a prominent member of the church choir. Mrs. E. J. Smith was the accompanist in each case.

Joseph Franky also made a notable contribution to the program with his piano renditions of a group of Schubert waltzes, a Schubert scherzo, which were well received, while his concluding number, an unusual interpretation of "The Arkansas Traveller," evoked prolonged applause as the audience insisted on an encore.

In the address of the evening, Rt. Rev. J. B. Gibson, Bishop of Caledonia, whimsically remarked that it was his first experience of being bishop in the Presbyterian Church. He proceeded to draw attention to the extraordinary rate of progress in discovery and invention. "Of the 17 chief inventions now known, 10 have been developed in the past hundred years, while the

Much Ado About Nothing At All

(By The Staff)

Somewhere between Frank Buck, big game hunter, and the Pled Piper should the name of newsgatherer Jack McLeod be inscribed in history for all posterity to read.

He is deserving of this recognition because of a daring exploit this morning when he came face to face with a four-legged rat on Third Avenue, near the Daily News office.

Without fear, the newsmen acted quickly and kicked at the rodent. The rat snapped in return. They ran circles around each other, each wary of his opponent.

Heavy size 10 shoes were a formidable opponent for the rat, but its speed and sharp teeth repeatedly threatened to beat the reporter.

Then the rodent made a mistake. It backed itself into a store entrance. And that it made its last stand. The newsmen's manoeuvring and skill paid off.

The city's garbage collector came along just in time to give fitting burial to a game fighter. Interviewed later, "Jack the Rat Killer" asserted fiercely, "My hunter's blood was aroused."

Rev. Basil Proecker assisted in the hunt.

DOGGY SERVICE

All this reminds us of the story of a Graucho Marx party. After guests had partaken of an unusually sticky delicacy with their fingers, without benefit of napkins, Graucho brought in a little woolly dog and announced, "A little dog will pass among you in order that you may wipe your hands."

Smartest business calling card seen lately is that of R. I. Bradley, Edmonton, commercial supervisor for Canadian National Telegraphs.

The face of it carries a miniature telegraph blank and bears Mr. Bradley's name on the message portion.
