The party, which consists of the circulation managers of western United States metropolitan dailies, including four San Francisco papers, is being taken on a tour of points of interest in the city, among them the Canadian Fish and Cold Storage Co. plant at Seal Bay and Franklin D. Roosevelt Park in the afternoon, and this evening its members will be guests at reception and dinner in the Commodore Cafe.

PRINCE RUPERT EXPORTS P'NUTS — UNRRA GETS 85 TONS FROM ASSETS

"Have a peanut, Tovarich. They come from Prince Rupert."
"Thank you, comrade. This changes my idea of royalty. Prince Rupert must be a fine fellow."
"Careful, Tovarich, do not be beguiled by peanuts. It may be a capitalist trick to undermine the Soviet state"

This imagined conversation may not be so far-fetched as it seems, for Prince Rupert, although a continent-wide away from any place where peanuts grow, has just exported a goodly supply of them, allegedly to the Ukraine Republic.

The peanuts, sealed in cans, might be considered Prince Rupert's contribution to eastern Europe, via UNRRA, and from the standpoint of commercial value the shipment was anything but "peanuts," for it had an estimated value at WPTB ceiling of about $78,000.

The shipment, which was loaded onto the Princess Louise for transit to Vancouver Saturday night, consisted of 85 tons, former U.S. Army stores which have lain in the overseas stock warehouse since the end of the war.

In the past few months efforts have been made by local wholesalers and retailers to have the peanuts released for sale had little to say when questioned about the shipments by the Daily News this morning. Orders to turn the peanuts over to UNRRA had come from Montreal, a spokesman said. He could

Lack of Active Charity More Likely to Destroy Civilization, Declares Cardinal

NEW YORK—Speaking of the condition where millions of people are starving in various parts of the world for lack of food while in some countries there is plenty, Cardinal Spellman said Saturday that "lack of active charity" was more likely than the atomic bomb to destroy civilization.

agent of the Canadian National Railways, was read with interest and approval at a meeting of the Prince Rupert Industrial Development Committee last week. This delegation will visit Prince Rupert early in June. The following statement was issued after the meeting:

"The continued development of Prince Rupert will depend primarily on the efforts of its own citizens. They must have faith in themselves first of all. They must recognize the possibilities of the city and the surrounding districts, as well as its limitations. They must then be prepared to invest their own capital, their abilities and their energies in developing the possibilities. Fishing is and will continue to be the primary industry. The success of the fishermen and the industry is a credit to their courage and foresight. We must continuously strive to make progress in other lines. One of these other avenues of progress

RUSSIA IS CRITICIZED

Franco Charges Soviet With Farce and Aggression

MADRID—Speaking of the world from a Spanish coal mining town yesterday, General Francisco Franco said that Russia had been engaged in a farce. The Soviet had destroyed the state, the church and private property and then had restored them. Russia was making an imperialistic attempt to dominate the world.

"When cries of 'Spain, yes, Communism, no' rang out, Franco was quick to express the hope that the cries would reach throughout the world."

Iran Has Civil War

LONDON—Armed forces of the Iranian government declared by the Azerbaijan government have been declared fighting at five points along a 150-mile front. The Iranian government itself denied the invasion.

Meanwhile the Iranian issue is scheduled to come again before the United Nations security council at New York today, having been postponed with a view to receiving a definite statement as to whether or not Russian forces have been completely withdrawn from Azerbaijan. As late as yesterday, Premier Qavam of Iran said it was not clear as yet whether or not the Russians had withdrawn and he intimated that he would not be in a position to give an answer to the question today.

CARDINAL SUCCUMBS

ROME—Enrico Cardinal Gasparri of Italy, age 74, prefect of the supreme tribunal of the Apostolic Signatura, died today. His death reduced membership in the sacred college of Cardinals to 66, four below the maximum of 70.

Strike Is 'Ridiculous'

VICTORIA—There is really little keeping the two parties to the strike dispute in the British Columbia lumber industry from getting together, says Hon. George Pearson, minister of labor. "It seems ridiculous that they cannot settle the dispute," he says.

What the Federal Department of Labor will do in the matter is still the next awaited development. Meantime there is no indication of an early settlement of the strike.

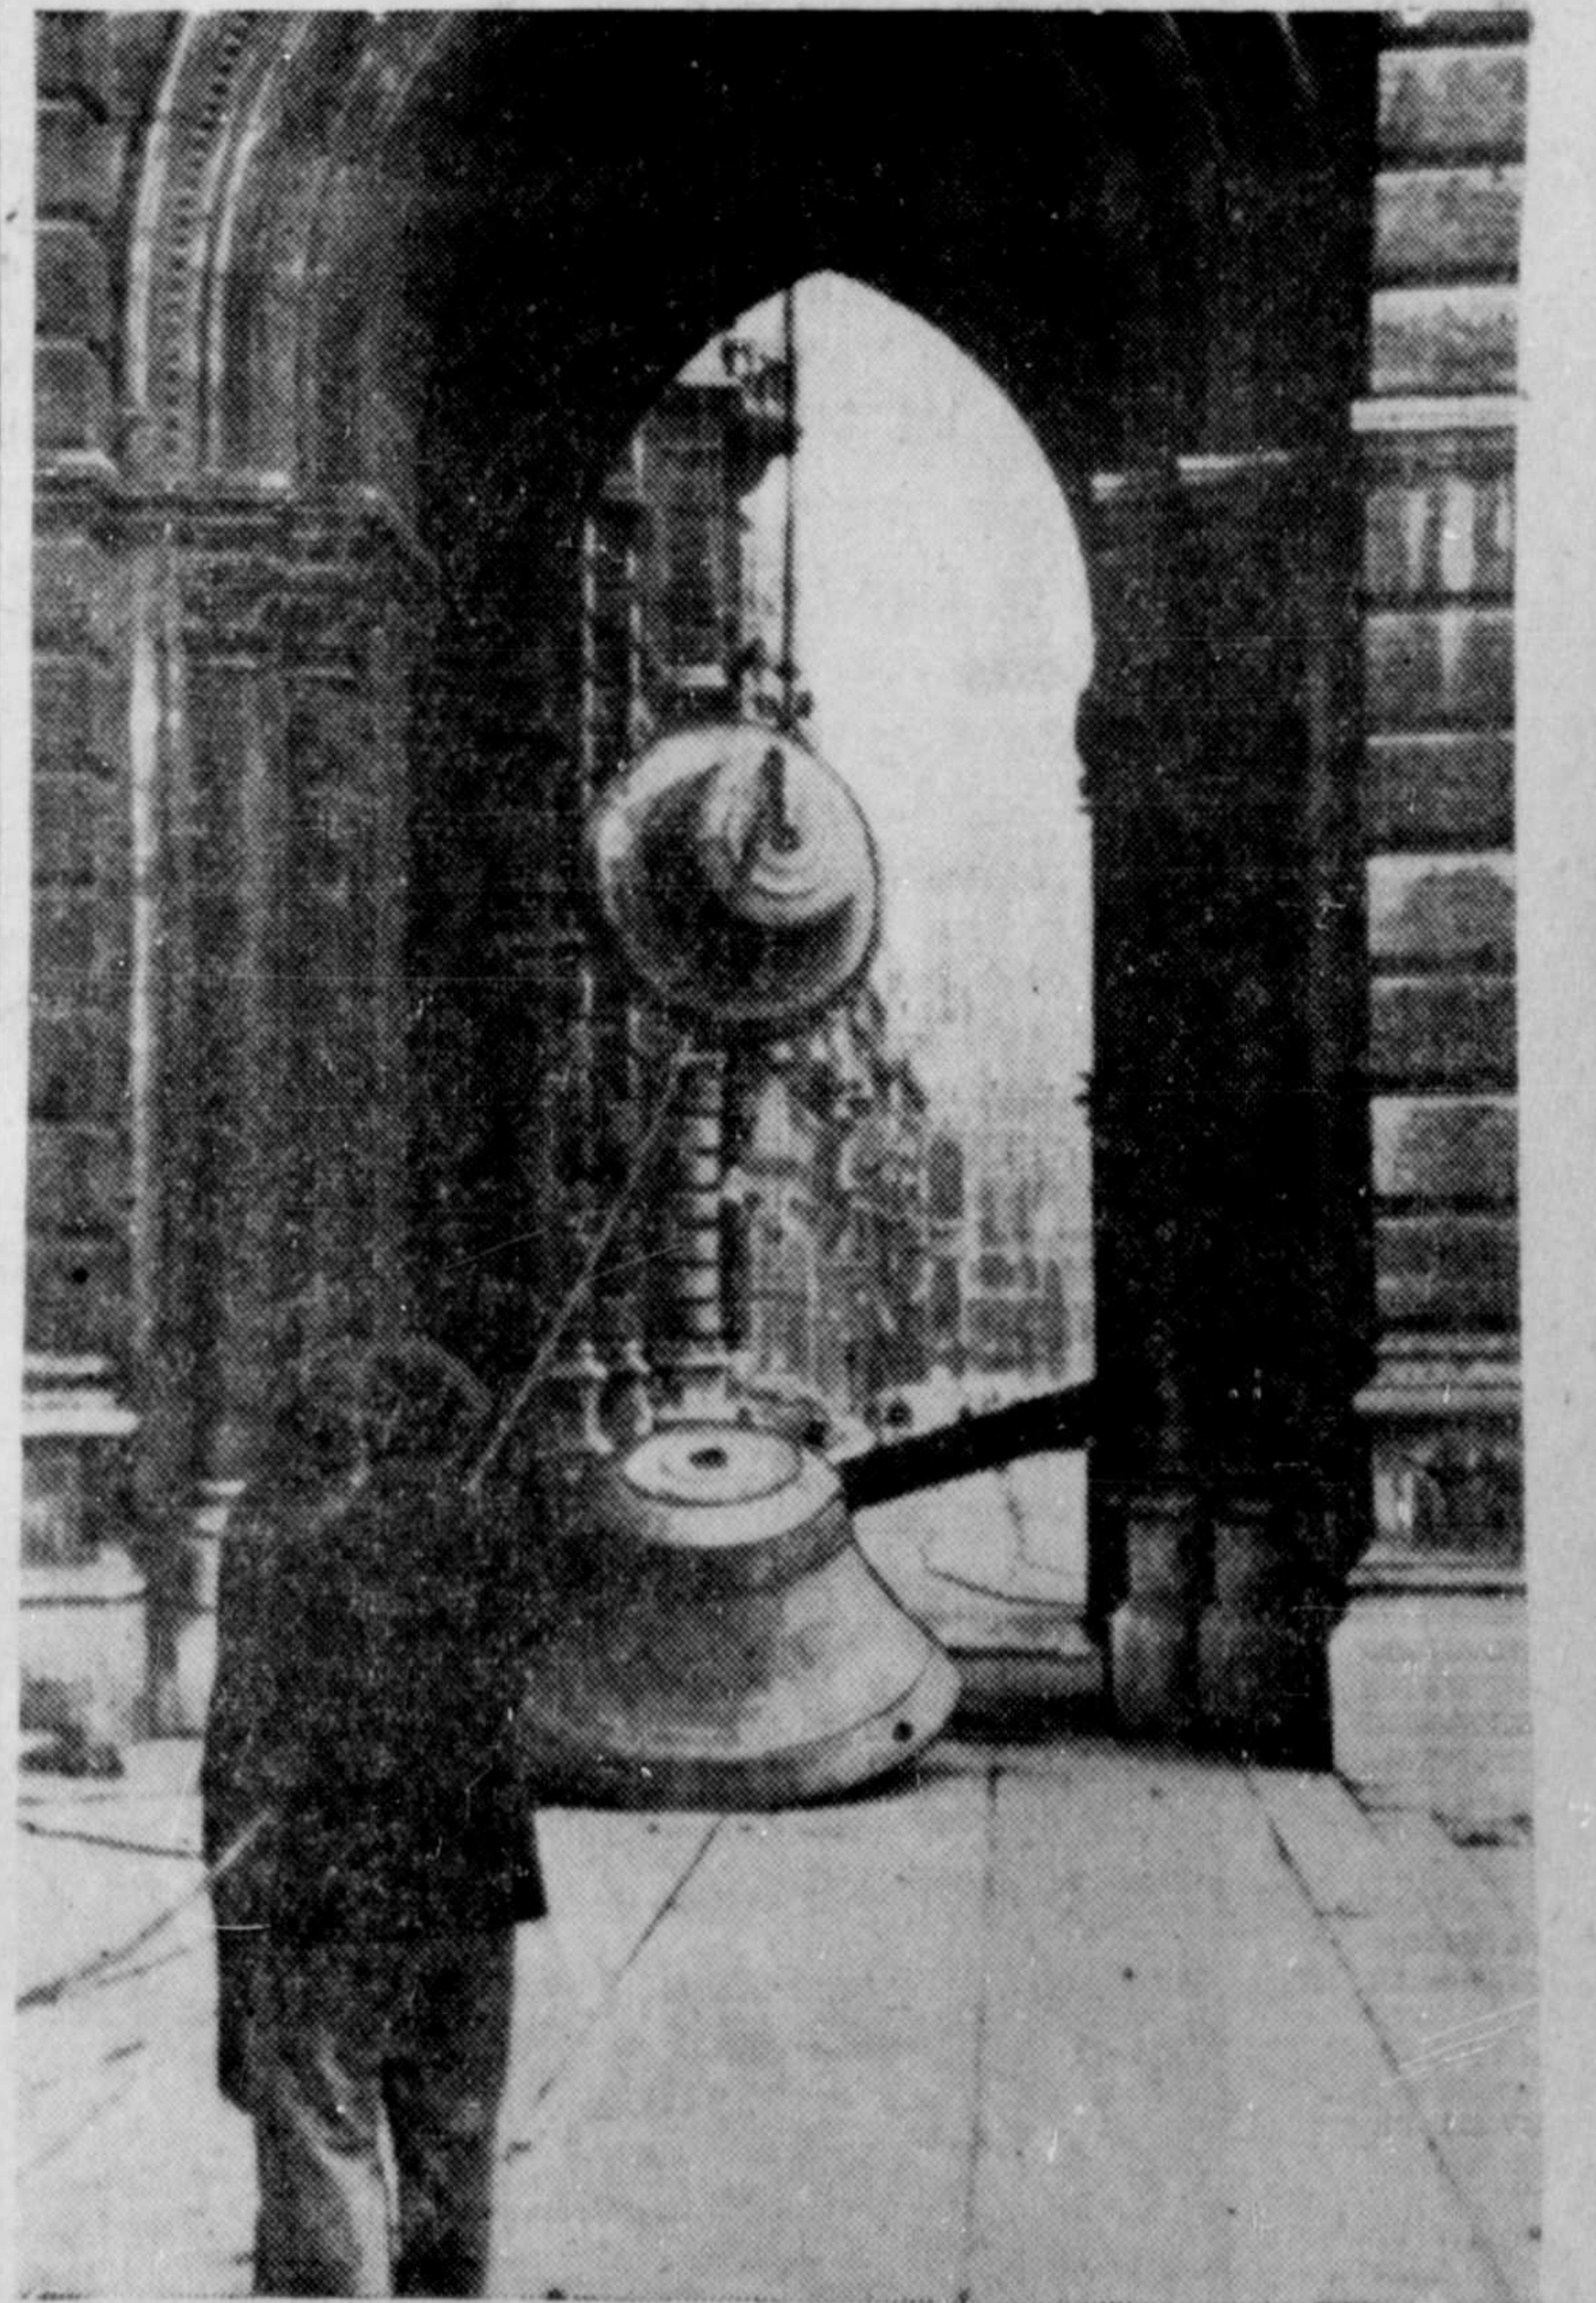

1,000 Are Back On Jobs Today
The number of employees involved in the lumber strike was down to 36,000 today, 1,000 less than the total number of men who left their jobs last Thursday, it was reported by I.W.A. president Harold Pritchett.

Pritchett said that since the strike began, 33 operations have accepted the union's demand, including two Princeton mills which gave 30c and 32c increases.

The union strike committee was scheduled to meet in Vancouver today to consider demanding that a Royal Commission be set up to investigate building contractors' claims that much B.C. lumber was directed to the black market before the

OF COAL MINES

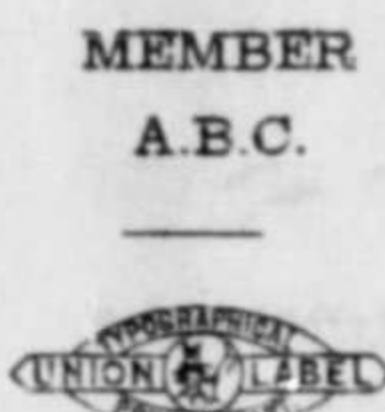

WASHINGTON—With still no prospect of the contending parties to the dispute being able to reach a settlement, expectation is that President Truman will order the seizure of the soft coal mines of the nation by the middle of this week. Second week of the two weeks' truce commenced today.

Here the bells of ancient Vienna city hall are being hoisted into place.

WE rather imagine that the possibility of a pulp and paper mill being established in Ketchikan has started considerable talk in Seattle.

The advantage, of course, is that under equalized freight rates now governing, the midwest market can buy from or ship to Rupert for the same rail tariff as to or from Seattle.

We don't pretend to know the shipping game but if its operators are smart turkeys, they had better set up some highly attractive rates for transporting paper out of Alaska.

Officials of the Alcoa Mining Company, which now has about 50 persons at work at Edna Bay, plan to contract with Foss Tug and Barge or a similar barge operator to carry limestone rock from the Edna Bay quarry.

This revolution not only would bring railroad cars into Alaskan ports for unloading and reloading but it also would let tourists drive to Rupert or Haines and take the ferry from one port to the other, truckers pick up perishables at Haines for hauling into interior towns, and would make Ketchikan a major distributing point.

DECISIVE ACTION PAYS OFF

DECISIVE action had at least deferred another serious industrial tie-up in the United States at the end of the week when the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, at the eleventh hour, postponed their nationwide walkout.

Meanwhile the truce in the soft coal miners' strike has entered the second of its scheduled two weeks and the coal miners are due to walk off their jobs again this week-end unless an agreement is reached.

Similarly, there are signs that government action in connection with the British Columbia timber workers' strike, most serious current industrial tie-up in Canada today, may likewise lead to an arrangement for ending the now five-day-old strike.

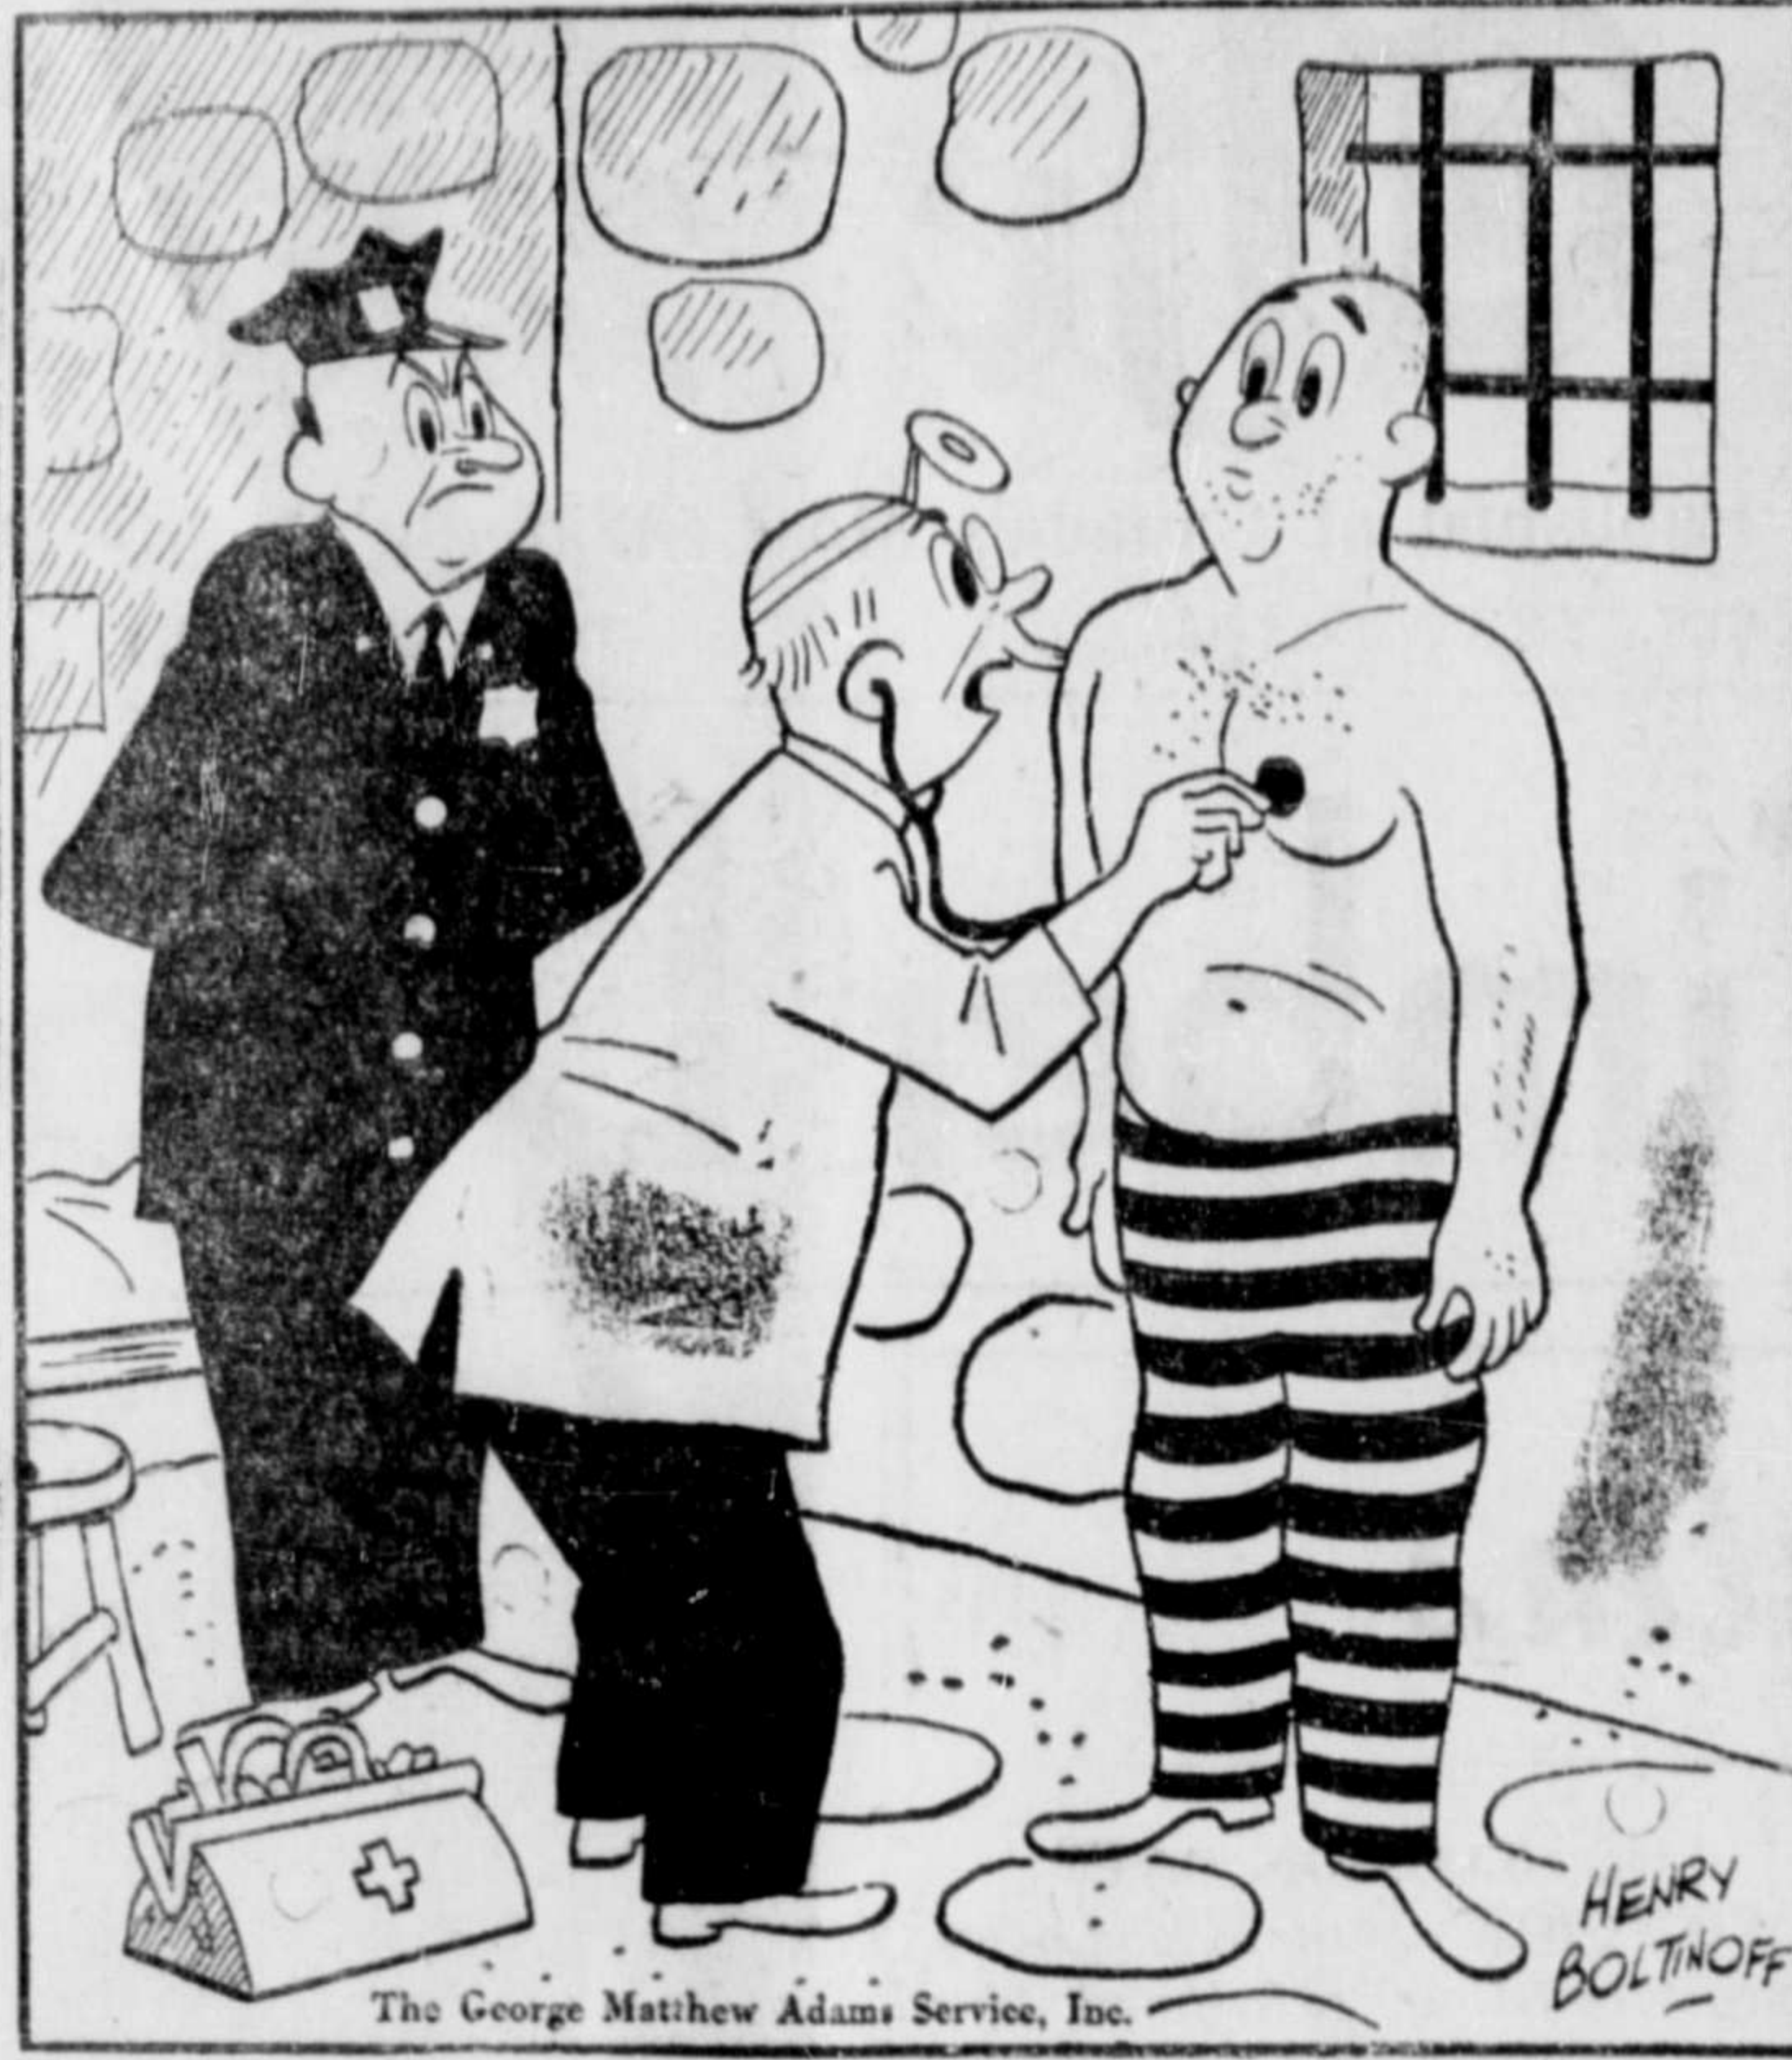

The week thus opens with a much more pleasant outlook as far as the industrial picture is concerned unless we are inclined to worry about the implications that may be involved by the failure of the two sides to industrial disputes to be able to settle their differences, thus paving the way for the virtual nationalization of industry in order to keep it going.

COMMUNICATION MILESTONE

TOMORROW will be one of the most important days in the history of civil communication services in this part of the country for it will mark the opening between Vancouver at one end and Prince Rupert on the other of all-land line long distance commercial telephone service through central British Columbia.

The benefits of the service will become more apparent as it comes fully into use. Meanwhile, we are making progress with the times in another important way.

APPRENTICES ARE NEEDED

Both Employers and Youth Should Show More Interest, It is Felt

Neither employers of labor or the youth themselves are showing sufficient interest in trade apprenticeship possibilities in Prince Rupert, it was felt at a meeting on Friday evening of the Prince Rupert Local Employment Advisory Committee.

Opinion was expressed that employees of the city have not kept themselves up-to-date in regard to apprenticeship developments and are still depending on the hit-or-miss policy of keeping their industries supplied with skilled help.

The value of counselling was also stressed, Col. Hamilton Grant of the Department of Veterans' Affairs quoted specific examples where, by the use of modern tests, the aptitude of individuals could be established.

In reply to an enquiry from the local committee, H. A. Jones, Director of Technical Education for the Provincial Department of Education, stated that it was hoped to send to all school boards within the next two weeks details of the Vocational Schools' Assistance Agreement.

ister of Education was expected soon and the matter of expansion of Vocational Training in the Prince Rupert High School would be indicated.

A. M. Crawley of the local boat firm of Crawley and Didricksen was present in response to the invitation of the committee. He said he was very definitely interested in the matter of training apprentices.

J. S. Black, for organized labor, also emphasized the need for skilled men. The matter of apprenticeship training had been frequently before the unions. They would be glad to co-operate in any move to ensure the training of competent workers for the different industries.

The office supervisor of Unemployment Insurance for the province, C. Cole, was present and expressed his pleasure at being able to be in attendance. Speaking from experience in other centres Mr. Cole felt that value of experienced counselling in the schools by persons familiar with practical conditions of the various industries could hardly be exaggerated.

E. Victor Whiting, manager of the local employment, and H. J. Whiffin were also present. J. S. Wilson was in the chair.

STRIKE-BOUND TERRACE QUIET

It is Open Secret That Married Men and Wives Did Not Want Strike

TERRACE—It appears to be an open secret that the married loggers and mill workers at Terrace did not want to go on strike and their wives were 100 per cent against it which leaves the responsibility up to the single men.

Camps are all closed, so are the mills. The town is quiet and, although small groups of loggers stand about on the streets, everything is orderly.

About 300 men are affected by the strike here.

Theft, Damage to Gov't's Gardens

Court House Gardener Arthur Bayne reports theft and damage at his gardens. One night last week some 20-odd fine tulips were lifted. There has also been damage to fine plants such as snapdragons by recreational activities such as ball playing on the grounds. "Keep off the grass" signs were also moved from the lawns and scattered about.

"There is no particular objection to outdoor recreation, particularly since we are so close to the Civic Centre, but we do think the young people should be careful about the gardens," says Mr. Bayne.

is to be able to convince outside interests that we have definite prospects and the courage to throw all our energies behind any move to develop them. The presentation of well-prepared briefs will be a substantial contribution to this end.

"The Industrial Development Committee is glad to note that matters to be considered for presentation to the visiting delegation will include briefs on coal bunkers, plywood industry, fibreboard plants, shingle mills, shipping, utilization of wharf at Port Edward, lights in Hecate Straits, revision of load-line regulations, future use of dry dock equipment and facilities, use of Seal Cove air base and development of industrial air-lanes, water and power resources, development of clay deposits in Terrace district, hot springs at Terrace and Port Essington, mica deposits, return of Fisheries Experimental Station to Prince Rupert, and the establishment of a brewery. The preparation of these briefs indicates that the community is a forward-looking one and is planning to build for the future on a sound basis, not a boom-time expansion. The growth of the city in its life of less than half a century is really remarkable. The next 25 years will show a greater expansion and on a solid basis."

The Industrial Development Committee will contact Ottawa again in connection with future developments or prospects regarding proposed subsidy for steamship service out of this port. H. G. Archibald, M.P., will be asked to inquire into the matter of the dry dock subsidy and the plans for reconditioning and improvement of pontoons. A letter from the Public Relations Council of the city indicated the support of that body in any efforts to interest private concerns in the operation of the local shipyard.

The meeting of the Industrial Development Committee was presided over by Mayor H. M. Daggett with W. F. Stone, Bruce Mickleburgh, Ald. T. N. Youngs and W. M. Watts also present.

TERRACE MAN PASSES AWAY

J. Warren Dies at Age of Seventy-seven Years

TERRACE—Shortly after 12 o'clock on Thursday afternoon, J. Warren, who was 77 years of age, passed quietly away at his home here. His daughter, Evelyn, who has been caring for him, was with him at the time. Although confined to bed for less than the week the deceased had been in failing health for some years.

Mr. Warren was Irish by birth and came to this country as a young man. He is survived by his daughter, Evelyn, and three grandchildren by another daughter, Mrs. Archie Hipplesley, who died a few years ago. The two boys are with their father and the daughter has been adopted by Mrs. J. H. Smith.

The Warrens have been in Terrace about ten years and came here from Chilliwack where they lived for about three years. Previous to that time, they lived in the Bulkley Valley where they farmed a half section of land for approximately 15 years and left there a few years after the death of Mrs. Warren.

The funeral took place on Saturday from the Knox United Church with Rev. Graham officiating. The number of people present and the many formal tributes received bore ample testimony to the respect and esteem in which Mr. Warren was held by the community. W. A. Kirkpatrick was in charge of funeral arrangements.

China Railway Ties Held Up

VANCOUVER—The International Woodworkers' Association strike of loggers and mill workers has resulted in holding up the filling of an order for ten million feet of railway ties for delivery to China.

Creston Sawmill Is Resuming Work

CRESTON—After 1400 farmers of the district had announced their intention of operating the mill themselves in order to make boxes so that their fruit crops would not be lost, Creston sawmill workers decided to go back to work at the old wage on the understanding that any subsequent increase will be retroactive. Now Kelowna fruit growers are taking steps to take over the operation of sawmills if necessary.

EDENBURGH—Forth Bridge is having its first overhaul for 25 years. There will be short night breaks in rail traffic till the end of 1947.

Drive Cars To Terrace

"With caution motorists may now drive with safety to Terrace," said J. Harry Black, president of the Prince Rupert Automobile Association, following such a week-end drive over the road. Many others, in addition to Mr. Black, made the trip by car.

The big snowslide near Kwinitsa, which blocked the road for months, has now been reduced to road level. Between Remo and Amsbury, however, there are a series of washouts over a distance of about a mile and it is necessary to drive over mounds of debris which have been rounded off. There will have to be some road rebuilding there.

The Shames River bridge is in use again but the course of the river there has been changed and it may have to be diverted under the bridge again by the building of a retaining wall.

Except for pot holes and the washouts, surface of the road is described by Mr. Black as "good."

"We've reached ONE verdict. We all want Fort Garry Coffee for breakfast."

Importance Of Tourists

First Impressions Count as Industry Resumes—Lists on Industrial Promotion

A bumper tourist season is expected all over Canada this year and, in order to foster this major industry for the future, a courtesy campaign is being promoted by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, it is reported by E. T. Applewhite, secretary of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, who returned to the city the latter part of the week from Prince George where he attended regional conference of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce. The importance of Prince Rupert exerting every effort to create a favorable impression on tourists this summer is emphasized by Mr. Applewhite. "Now that the war is over and tourist traffic is being resumed after five or six years, it is like a new start being made. The impressions the tourists take away with them—good or bad—will have lasting effect."

One tangible suggestion made by Mr. Applewhite is that some sort of a distinctively local souvenir should be developed here, something the tourists can permanently remember Prince Rupert by. "The tourists will not mind if such a souvenir costs a few dollars providing it is distinctive," he says. "The important thing is it should be peculiar to the place. It seems to me that here might be an opening for some small industry if something ingenious could be devised. There might be something in the plate totem carving line. It is peculiar to the district and can't be duplicated anywhere else. That is the only thing I think of off hand. There must be other suggestions and I think we should hear them."

Tourist development was only one of many subjects discussed at the Prince George meeting which devoted two whole days to the serious business of trying to promote more efficient work on behalf of their communities by Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce, better results generally of board activities, stimulated interest among members, greater membership and better and fuller co-operation with other local organizations working in community interests.

Industrial promotion within communities and districts came in also for a large doleum of attention. Emphasis was laid on the importance of small local industries, particularly those promoted by community interests themselves. As for the encouragement of outside capital for local industrial development, Mr. Applewhite referred to the importance of promptness, accuracy and the strictest of confidence in answering inquiries.

In the course of an interview with the Daily News following his return from the Prince George meeting, Mr. Applewhite referred to the general optimism which was pervading the central interior these days. "The people there are looking for a bigger tourist business by highway. They are also expecting sustained activity in the lumber industry and a resumption of interest in mining.

AUTHORESS GIVES LESSON IN ARCHERY—Daphne DuMaurier, famed British authoress, who is also a good feminine version of William Tell, is giving her children, Flava and Christian, a lesson in the ancient sport of archery at their home in Fowey, Eng. Miss DuMaurier, whose "Rebecca" made such a hit in America, is reported to have received a fabulous sum for the film rights of her latest novel, "The King's General."

"Delegates from every community along the line, certainly including Prince George, all seemed anxious that everything possible should be done to assist in the greater use of Prince Rupert which would become a bigger and bigger outlet for various products of the district," said Mr. Applewhite.

The purpose of the Prince George conference was not to adopt resolutions or make representations but to try to promote more efficient work by Boards of Trade generally. Naturally, in each region circumstances differ so local color was added by delegates reflecting the conditions of their own areas. Topics covered in discussions included advantage of laying down definite program of work, citizenship activities, membership and finances, industrial promotion, tourist development, duties of a secretary, lumber industry promotion, agricultural activities.

Mr. Applewhite mentioned the opportunity that the smaller Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce, each with their one vote like the larger boards, had in the formulating of national policy.

The local delegate recalled the hearty welcome given the visiting delegates by the live Prince George Chahbers—senior and junior. The visitors included Evan McCormack and H. A. Purdy of the field service division of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce; O. T. Sundal, Terrace; C. P. Bussinger, Telkwa; Verne Taylor and Mr. Francis; Burns Lake; Mr. Renshaw, McBride, and W. R. Johnson, Blue River.

Prominent among the Prince George men taking part in the proceedings were W. S. Russell, A. M. Patterson, Mayor Jack Nicholson and Martin Caine.
