Fred Rose Loses His Appeals Against Espionage Conviction

Will Have to Serve Six Years After Unanimous Unfavorable Court Decision
MONTREAL (CP)—The appeals of Fred Rose against conviction on a charge of espionage and a sentence of six years' imprisonment were rejected unanimously today by the Court of Appeal. Mr. Justice Arthur Gagne delivered judgment, rejecting appeals on all counts.

Polish-born Labor-Progressive member for Montreal, was convicted and sentenced last June after a Court of Appeal Bench trial in which Gagne sought to link him with a ring of espionage agents passing information to Russia. The 39-year-old Member of Parliament was charged with trying to communicate information to Russia.

Lewis said the plant would employ some radioactive substances soon to Canadian facilities for research. Research could be started immediately at the University of British Columbia.

Churchill and Attlee Clash—Former Decries Steps to 'Dissolve' British Empire

LONDON — Prime Minister Clement R. Attlee announced in the House of Commons today that discussions had been held with Burmese leaders with a view to speeding Burma's progress toward self-government. Former Prime Minister Winston Churchill opposed this as a step toward dissolving the British Empire.

Churchill denounced the "appealing haste" and compared the Burmese situation to the turban in India.

Attlee declared that it was necessary to keep up public opinion in dependent countries. The British government is not so fast," he said. "It is too slow."

Churchill declared that the Empire was running out as fast as the British loan.

Attlee said there should be no more to keep unwilling people in the Empire.

Winch Meets With Premier

Demands Increase in Cost-of-Living Bonus—Criticizes Election Committee Work
VICTORIA — Harold E. Winch, C.C.F. opposition leader in the legislature, in a two-hour meeting yesterday with Premier John Hart, demanded an immediate increase in the cost-of-living bonus for old age pensioners on the strength of the new Dominion-provincial financial agreement which he said gave the province an estimated $12,000,000 in surplus revenue account and prospects of $9,000,000 more revenue next year than this.

Following the conference with the Premier, Mr. Winch said: "I didn't get very far." The C.C.F. leader also charged that there had been unwarranted interference with the work of a special committee of the British Columbia Legislature on revision of the Elections Act. He said the provincial government had interfered with the committee by instructing the legislative council not to draw up a new Election Act draft for presentation to the Legislature as proposed by the committee of which Winch is a member. He said he believed that this was the "grossest interference in a committee or royal commission that has come to my notice. I believe it is unwarranted."

Winch also strongly protested the provincial government's announced decision to discontinue the 20 percent rebate on motor licence fees next year.

WOULD CALL CONFERENCE

Bracken and Drew Ask Mackenzie King to Reassemble Dominion-Provincial Parley
TORONTO — Speaking at the annual meeting of the Ontario Conservative Association yesterday, John Bracken, national leader of the party, and Premier George A. Drew of Ontario called upon Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King for an immediate reconvening of the Dominion-provincial conference, particularly in view of the special agreements which had been made with certain provinces while others were outstanding.

Mr. Bracken suggested that such a conference be held annually if necessary. The agreements with separate provinces made only a piecemeal settlement.

ALBERTA GROWS ITS BIGGEST SUGAR BEET CROP — Japanese "exiles" from British Columbia during war years, and German prisoners of war made up most of the bog army of casual workers required to harvest the 1946 beet crop in southern Alberta, which amounted to about 400,000 tons. A Japanese worker is seen, left, topping beets. At right is seen a typical loading platform at Raymond, Alta., by means of which the farmer's load of beets are elevated, weighed, and loaded directly on a railway car. Beets are grown under contract to the factory, and field experts supervise and advise during the growing and harvesting season.

Banquet for Elderly Folk

Bright and Happy Affair Marked by Touching Scenes
The Christmas spirit brightened and glowed in a spirit of warm companionship Thursday afternoon when more than 40 of Prince Rupert's elder citizens were guests of the Women's Co-ordinating Council's fourth annual "over 70" Christmas party in the Civic Centre dining room.

Combined ages of the guests totaled more than 3,000 years but this arithmetic did nothing to detract from the youthful enjoyment with which the guests received the program which preceded the late afternoon dinner or to interfere with the healthy appetites with which the meal was enjoyed.

The meal was a culinary masterpiece of Christmas fare featuring roast turkey with an amazing number of attractive condiments and appetizingly served by the ladies of the Council. The tables were beautifully decorated.

Guests received by Mrs. J. J. Gillis, Co-ordinating Council president, and the other ladies, were Canon W. F. Rushbrook, Mrs. Helen Henderson, Mrs. W. W. Smeeton, Mrs. J. O. Reddie, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Holtby, Mrs. James Hampton, Mrs. Jeanie McCook, Mrs. Harry Leaper, Mrs. Henry Smith, Mrs. E. Goodall, Mrs. C. Boulter, Mrs. W. J. Jackson, M. M. Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Halvarson, Mrs. G. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Casey, C. J. Stevens, Rev. A. O. Aasen, A. C. Messer, M. Cromley, F. Manhold, Hugh McEachern, J. Sequin, John Currie, Joseph Garon, William MacLeod, W. Beresford, W. G. Smith, J. R. Slaggard, Samuel Haudenschild, John W. Peak, Eric Hellman, H. Shannon, V. Calderone, D. Cavalier, Neil MacDonald, George Bradbury, Richard Hancock, Mrs. A. Taylor, D. D. MacDougal and Bishop J. B. Gibson, who was a guest of honor.

Contrary to previous procedure, the program at this year's party came before the dinner but was, as usual, opened by a warm speech of welcome by Co-ordinating Council president, Mr. J. J. Gillis, who expressed gratification at the number of guests, which this year almost doubled those who attended last year.

Sheriff M. M. Stephens, who again acted as chairman, did so with a display of wit and good nature that drew smiles from the audience. Turning to a serious vein during an interval of the program, however, he paid tribute to the pioneers who had passed on, and listed with regret the names of Joseph Burns, Eric Forsman, Thomas Gifford, Harry Johnson, Thomas Lawson, F. A. Lindberg, Arthur A. Ross, Ralph Sether, B. M. Simpson, John Tkach, Charles Phillips, David Robinson and W. J. McCutcheon.

Bishop Gibson Praised Ladies
Bishop J. B. Gibson, in an address during the program, said that the efforts of the ladies of the Co-ordinating Council showed their awareness of the OTTAWA — Free trade is expected to develop between Canada and countries in the sterling bloc as a result of arrangements concluded between Canada and the United Kingdom announced last night by Minister of Finance Douglas Abbott.

France, Holland, Belgium, Norway and Czechoslovakia will be able to use Canadian loans to finance purchases by firms in Canadian-United States funds.

COAL SHORTAGE CLOSES PLANTS

LONDON — A lack of fuel closed one Midlands motor plant and another may close after Christmas. The Birmingham electricity company urged factories to close one day weekly, because coal reserves are almost exhausted. Transportation difficulties have delayed coal deliveries to the Midlands.

CHURCHILL IS MOST ADMIRER

Former British Prime Minister Remains World Favorite No. 1
A Gallup survey in Britain has revealed that Winston Churchill is regarded by an overwhelming majority as the most admired man in the world. The question was: "Of all men and women living today whom do you admire most?" The score was in percentages:

Churchill	24
Montgomery	6
Attlee	4
Bernard Shaw	4
Bevin	3
Smuts	3
Stalin	3

It seems that in America when a similar poll was taken Churchill was fifth, being preceded by MacArthur, Eisenhower, Truman and Mrs. Roosevelt. In Canada Churchill was first with 28%, with Prime Minister King polling 8%.

In France De Gaulle was an easy first and Churchill was fourth.

No POW's to Remain Here

All German Prisoners to Be Sent Home—Government Reverses Decision
OTTAWA (CP)—No German prisoners of war are to be retained in Canada, Arthur McNamara, deputy minister of labor, announced today. Decision of the federal government to ship all captives back to Europe before the end of the year, it is understood, is a reversal of an earlier order that some of them were to be kept in Canada as laborers.

Reports that some of the 2200 still remaining in the country were to be retained had evoked complaints in some quarters against this step, it was learned.

In view of the opposition, it was reported that the number of men involved in the government's earlier decision — 200 — was not considered enough to make an issue of the matter.

The deputy minister's announcement says that "all prisoners of war now in Canada will have been returned to Europe by the end of the month."

TRAIN HITS SCHOOL VAN; THREE DEAD

BIELD, Man. — The driver of a school van, George Gunchoski, aged 67, died at Kam-sack, Saskatchewan, last night after his van had been struck by a Canadian National Railways train and two children killed—Stella Titanich, aged 8, and Elaine Sawicki, six. Two injured boys are in hospital in a critical condition.

An investigation of the tragedy is being conducted by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

MILITARY TO BE TAXED FOR TRAVELLING

Tax-free travel for members of the Canadian armed forces became a peacetime casualty today as a government ruling went into effect cancelling the exemption from the federal 15 per cent travel tax which itinerant military personnel in uniform enjoyed during the war.

The impost has been added to the cost of travel for civilians for the last three years, but during that time military personnel in uniform have been exempt from it. It was the final travel concession to the military, and follows the cancelling of furlough fares last October 1.

However, military personnel travelling on duty will still do so on travel warrants, and in some special cases, exemption from the tax will be allowed for servicemen travelling outside the line of duty.

IS WINTRY IN EUROPE

Christmassy in United Kingdom But Not So Cheerful Elsewhere
LONDON — Ice blocked canal traffic and coated roads over a wide area of western Europe today in a bleak sub-freezing prelude to winter. In Germany and the Low Countries coal, food and other supplies were diverted from canals to railways while in France barge crews and tugs fought an uphill battle to keep waterways open for coal urgently needed for shivering Paris.

Temperatures as low as five degrees above zero were recorded overnight in Berlin.

Here in the United Kingdom there is also cold weather but the atmosphere is Christmassy. Stores in London are jammed with shoppers. The southern part of the country is covered with snow.

SECOND SLIDE DELAYS TRAIN

A small snowslide which came down onto Canadian National Railways tracks about 50 miles east of Prince Rupert last night delayed the arrival here of the westbound passenger train five hours. The slide came down about two miles west of one which blocked the tracks and temporarily delayed the east-bound train Wednesday night. Last night's train remained on the other side of the snow pile until it was cleared away by a work crew sent out from Prince Rupert.

THE WEATHER

Synopsis
A weak disturbance moving southeastward across the Queen Charlottes and north coast appears to be dissipating. Drizzle or light rain and fog are persisting on the northern coast. Cloudy conditions along the southern coastal areas are expected to show some clearing today. Clear skies have returned to the southern interior and variable cloudiness in central B.C. will clear during the day.

Time for Conference

WITH SEPARATE TAXATION agreements now arranged between Ottawa and four of the provinces, the time is undoubtedly becoming ripe for another Dominion-provincial conference. It cannot, of course, be satisfactory for some of the provinces to be running along on temporary agreements, no matter how satisfactory they may appear to be in individual cases, while with other provinces there are no agreements at all. The situation from a national standpoint that way can be only the more aggravated. Ottawa no more than the outstanding provinces could be satisfied thereby.

There are important outstanding matters between Ottawa and the provinces to be ironed out before Canada can go steadily into matters of economic and social import. Only by a conference, with spirit of understanding and compromise, can these matters be permanently settled. Provinces like Ontario and Quebec, as Ottawa will itself, must be prepared to be reasonable.

The way things stand now, almost ten years have elapsed and we are little, if any, further ahead in Dominion-provincial relations than we were when the Siros report first came out and the abortive conference following thereon was held.

Television in Canada

TELEVISION for Canadians, beyond mere generalization, is the exclusive property of the radio engineer and student of science. As a topic for discussion it has cropped up periodically for more than a decade but at all times it remained just that.

Only a few days ago A. D. Dunton, chairman of the board of governors of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, said that the board "has decided that studies should be made of the possibilities of establishing publicly-owned television facilities in Montreal and Toronto".

Both in the United States and the United Kingdom television, to a limited degree, has become public property. In the U.S., and especially in New York where there are upwards of 2,000 receivers in operation, there is talk already of a network. In the U.K., perched high on Highgate hill in North London, Alexandra Palace long has been known as the centre of television experimentation and broadcast.

For Canadians, however, television still means something to read about and discuss since television reception is possible only in areas where television broadcasting takes place. In Canada there is no television broadcasting and for that reason there are no television receivers. None will be bought until such time as someone establishes a broadcasting field where there is no audience.

Nevertheless a television broadcasting station in Detroit is directing programs to Windsor. Some television receivers undoubtedly will be in operation there. Perhaps, if there are enough of them someone will launch a Canadian broadcasting station . . . then more receivers will be in operation, and so on.

Hotel Fires

DESPITE recent demonstrations that hotels can be deathtraps, fire insurance underwriters generally consider hotels a good risk and back up that belief with a premium rate little higher than for private homes, considerably lower than for factories, says Financial Post.

Hotel fires, they point out, are rare; hotel fire deaths and injury rarer still. Well under 1% of Canadian fires occur in such establishments. But this observation, the same insurance men are quick to add, doesn't apply to the substandard hotel.

Just what constitutes a "fire-proof" building isn't clear, even to rank and file insurance authorities. Most consider the word a misnomer, though it is a generally accepted term.

For ordinary purposes, a building is called "fireproof" if its frame floors, walls, partitions, ceilings and roof are of fire "resistive materials."

Fire preventative and protective devices most often mentioned as effective are (a) automatic sprinklers, and (b) thermostat - controlled alarms on all floors and which sound loud warning if heat rises above safe temperature. But nothing much has yet been widely applied to lick the smoke hazard; when upholstery smokes it sometimes smolders, even without much of a blaze.

Fortunately for travellers—and as reflected in relatively low hotel fire insurance rates—strict bylaws regulate hotel construction and equipment in most of the Canadian municipalities.

Basketball—

PRINCE RUPERT ALL-STARS WIN TO EVEN SCORE WITH ALASKANS

Lively Tilt Between Metlakatla, B.C., and Macey's Proves Rousing Curtain-Raiser

A determined Prince Rupert All-Star team downed the New Metlakatla quintet in last night's basketball tussle by a score of 63-55 to even up the two-game count. With a howling crowd nearly bringing the roof down, Prince Rupert had to fight hard all the way to make this game a win. By holding down the ace of the New Metlakatla squad, David, to a mere 22 points was able to do much in disrupting the smooth ball handling that was displayed by the Alaskans on Tuesday night. The northerners seemed to have a hard time settling down in the first quarter and only in the third quarter did they have a strong offensive. But Rupert was supreme in the shooting—and that was what counted. The score at the end of the first quarter stood at 13-9 for Prince Rupert. Although they were outscored in the second period, Prince Rupert led at the half 24-20. Both teams came back from the breather and played bang-up basketball but Prince Rupert was "hot" and just couldn't be stopped. In the last quarter Lindsay of Prince Rupert found his eye and got most of his 28 points in this end of the ball game to emerge the high scorer for the night. The referee and umpire, Johnny Comadina and Ed Atkinson, were kept hopping in the game and handed out a total of 29 fouls. But, although this is a lot for one game, it was more of the aggressiveness of the two teams rather than deliberate fouling that the fouls were called for. Scorer and timer for the game was kept under control by Syd Woodside and Vern Ciccone.

It seems that one important factor for the All-Stars' win was a certain section of the crowd, among which ladies were much in evidence, which was cheering all others.

New Metlakatla
Brendible 15, R. Atkinson 5, David 22, Reece 2, Booth 2, Hayward, T. Atkinson 1, Milne, F. Hayward, Buxton. Total 55.

All-Stars
McPhee 19, Beynon 7, Lindsay 23, Houston 3, Dominato 4, Gurvich, Calderone 2, Viereck, Clauson, Hartwig. Total 63.

METLAKATLA AND MACEY'S
The preliminary game almost stole the show from the main event when Metlakatla, British Columbia, and Macey's battled to a 47-44 victory for the coffee drinkers. Led by F. Auckland, Metlakatla put up a strong fight and, right up to the dying seconds of the game, it was hard to predict who was going to win. Auckland was the high man for this game, looping in 18 points followed by B. Pierce of Macey's with 16. Right from the first jump it was as thrilling as any ball game could be with the visitors edging out Macey's 11-10 at the first quarter post. But the local lads came right back and outscored the opponents by three points in the second quarter to lead at the half 29-27. Going into the second half of the battle Macey's increased their lead by 3 more points to lead at the three-quarter mark 38-33. Then Metlakatla came right back, battling hard to outscore Macey's in the last quarter but their time ran short and, while still three points behind, the bell went ending a good hard game.

Officials in this match were: Referee, Montgomery. Umpire, Forward, Scorer, Woodside, and Timer, Ciccone.

Metlakatla
C. Nelson, A. Leighton 4, C. Leask 10, F. Auckland 18, R. Nelson 4, Casey Nelson 2, Ryan, J. Wilson 6, P. Robinson, S. Nelson, R. Robinson. Total 44.

LETTERBOX

FINANCING BASKETBALL
Editor, Daily News.

The Students Council of the Booth Memorial High School and the members of the Booth Memorial High School basketball team would like to make certain facts clear regarding the advance sale of tickets for the games to be played with the Ketchikan High School and the Duke of Connaught High School, New Westminster.

The entire financing of these games is undertaken by the Booth Memorial High School. The money from the advance sale of tickets is required to pay the considerable cost of bringing these teams from Ketchikan and New Westminster to Prince Rupert. The rent of the Civic Centre gymnasium is a small matter and does not have to be paid until after the games. We appreciate the assistance given to us at all times by the Civic Centre officials. Their co-operation and assistance have always been of the fullest and we trust that we shall always return their kindness and co-operation.

MARY ALCOCK,
President of Students' Council,

Civic Centre Is Explained

Rotary Club Hears Don Forward—Greater Public Support Urged

An explanation of the financing arrangements of the Civic Centre, coupled with an illustrative exposition of how that community enterprise touches the life of each local Rotarian, was given to the Prince Rupert Rotary Club at its weekly luncheon meeting Thursday afternoon by guest speaker Don Forward, Civic Centre managing secretary.

From personal observation, Mr. Forward named activities connected with the Civic Centre in which each club member, or some member of his family, has taken part, then continued to explain Civic Centre policies and their reasons.

In answer to a question which he said is often raised in the city as to why the Civic Centre does not use its $80,000 capital account to help cover operating costs, Mr. Forward said that, although the fund was originally raised for building purposes, the policy could be changed and the money used for operation.

"However," he declared, "that money might last four or five years and when it is gone then we would have to go out and raise money just as we are doing now. And it would be harder then because we would have to re-adjust ourselves to the idea of raising money."

Criticism that the Civic Centre management does not publish a budget, often heard throughout the city, was pushed aside by the speaker, who said that the $17,500 operating budget for the present year had been given wide publicity. The Civic Centre, he said, is operating well within that budget.

Mr. Forward urged sustained support by organizations that had pledged themselves to annual contributions and suggested a large membership roster as one way of helping the Civic Centre both financially and in its cultural and recreational efforts.

"If half the people in Prince Rupert took out annual memberships, contributions from organizations would be unnecessary," he declared. "And if everyone in the city became a member, the Civic Centre would be self-supporting."

On a strictly commercial basis, the recreational opportunities offered by the Civic Centre are inexpensive, Mr. Forward said, because a member could get full value from his membership ticket during the first week if he cared to take advantage of the things that are offered.

"Many people thought that, when we first took over the building, it would be too large," he commented. "Now it gets so much use that we are wondering where we can expand."
The Civic Centre board of directors.

ectors, which consists of about 30 members, is composed of two members from each organization which contributes more than $250 annually, while non-contributing groups are entitled to one representative each, he explained. Membership ticket holders are entitled to four representatives on the Board of Directors.

The Board of Directors elects an executive and officers who are the governing body of the association.

"Pay As You Go" Policy

Called to answer a question on the capital fund, Civic Centre

Association President T. Norton Youngs told the meeting that in his opinion, the capital fund should remain untouched until it reached $100,000 which would allow for construction of a swimming pool, or such other project as the membership favored.

In a brief business session, the Rotary club voted a $25 contribution to the Salvation Army Christmas Cheer fund and passed the hat for personal contributions to add to the $50 which had been voted last week to the Women's Coordinating Council "over 70" Christmas dinner fund. The members turned in $36, making the total $86.

An out-of-town guest welcomed by President Dr. L. W. Kergin, was William Anderson of Ocean Falls.

DRY DOCK SETTLES DOWN TO PEACETIME EXISTENCE

Substantial Activity Seen at Once Noisy Wartime Shipbuilding Establishment

Despite the quietness that seems to linger over the Prince Rupert Dry Dock, when viewed from outside the high fence that surrounds it on the landward side, the huge yard is one of the busiest places in the city, doing a large part of the marine and industrial repair work at present under way on the waterfront.

For the average person who feels that because the advent of peace has stilled the wartime shipbuilding clangor and reduced the staff that once numbered over 2,000 a minor surprise is waiting when he steps inside the wire mesh gate. Its 75 employees have a schedule of work ahead of them that will keep them busy for months.

NOT SPECTACULAR BUT SUBSTANTIAL
It is not the spectacular type of work, like steel ship construction, which made the city aware of itself by the power of a 2,000-man payroll and the thunder of riveting guns on hollow steel, but it is a substantial service to the city's waterfront and economy which at present involves servicing and repairs to almost a score of fishing vessels and a quantity of machine and iron work for other industries.

The flow of work to the dry dock this fall has been responsible for a staff increase of 10 men during the last week and, even with this boost in manpower, the pressure of work is considerable.

Despite material shortages, which are particularly pointed in the matter of hardwoods used in boat building—mahogany, teak and yellow cedar—the plant is rebuilding one halibut boat, plans to build another and is doing repair and overhaul work to many more.

Under the cantilever roof of the big ship shed is Harold Heland's veteran halibut Parma, undergoing re-construction from the waterline up. This job, being done at an estimated cost of the deck from amidships aft, with some small increase in her 65-foot length. The ponderous and serviceable Fairbanks-Morse diesel engine, which has been taken into the machine shop for overhaul while the vessel is being re-built, will be installed again.

VANCOUVER JOB RECEIVED HERE
Decking in the ship shed, which was placed during the war $12,000, involves some re-planking and re-ribbing, widening of so that the seaward side of the building could be used for an assembly floor, is being taken out to make room for a building berth for a new 45-foot halibut boat for Harold Simundson, well known halibut man, from Vancouver, who came here specially recently to place an order at the dry dock for the vessel.

Other fishing boat jobs being done, or recently completed, include John Wick's Johanna, in which new tanks are being installed, and James Donaldson's Two Rivers, receiving a new after deck and bulwarks.

The North Pacific Cannery boat London was taken off Number One pontoon Thursday after being re-caulked and has left for Vancouver. Charles Hann's Zenardi is receiving new bulwarks. Chris Park-vold's Takla is receiving general repairs to hull and deck. Otto Jerstad's Anker A, is having installed new beams and a new deck.

A new engine is to be installed in Paddy Ivarson's boat Signal while Axel Olsen's Oslo is tied up at the jetty having her deck re-caulked and an engine overhaul. Anton Martinussen is having the Dovre B. overhauled generally and Peter Hann's Seiner is receiving a new stem. A Bendix depth sounder also is being installed in the Seiner.

CAMP SCOW IS TO BE DOCKED

A large Atlin Fisheries camp scow is tied up at the jetty and soon will be docked on the pontoon for bottom repairs. Clarence Campbell's boat Joe Baker is receiving a general overhaul and Herman Rensvold's Advance II is to have a new Caterpillar diesel engine placed below.

On Number Three pontoon is Han Knutsen's Lorna H., being repaired after striking a rock at the north end of Banks Island a month ago. The Lorna H. will have to have a number of new planks, re-caulking, and a general overhaul in order to be put back in service.

The Crawford Moore logging camp's "A" frame is moored at the wharf while its winch engine is being overhauled and on the wharf, still aboard a railway flatcar is a 40-foot nameless vessel which was shipped from Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan, and will have a Grey gasoline engine installed at the dry dock before it is consigned to a new owner in Ketchikan.

An emergency job completed Thursday afternoon was repairs to the tiller of the 232-foot steel logging tug J. R. Morgan, which was damaged when she ran astern into a boom of logs. The Morgan was towed here and quick repairs made so that the vessel could get free to take several booms of badly needed logs to Ocean Falls.

The Larry H., a well known halibut owned by T. Sollien, has just had a new Caterpillar diesel engine installed and is now berthed with several other vessels near Number Two pontoon.

Among jobs being done in the machine shop are repairs to a huge steam engine owned by Carl Pohle of Terrace, and construction of a number of large steel tanks, with intricate piping systems inside for treatment of fish oils at the new Co-operactive liver plant which is under construction.

Union steamer Camosun, Capt. Ernest Sheppard, is due in port at 3:15 this afternoon from Vancouver and Ocean Falls and will sail at midnight for Ketchikan whence she will return here tomorrow evening southbound.

The Prince Rupert Dry Dock's senior employee, from a standpoint of long service, is to be retired soon. He is Adolph Ivarson, who has served at the plant for the last 33 years as a blacksmith. His retirement, on pension, will become effective January 6. He entered the plant shortly after it was begun in 1913.

PRESENTS FOR AILING VETS

Thirty-five pounds of Christmas presents for ailing veterans in southern military hospitals were dispatched this week to provincial headquarters of the Canadian Legion in Vancouver by the Prince Rupert branch. The presents were articles donated by the citizens to the collecting depot in several local stores and were made up of comforts for the veterans such as cigarettes, toilet articles and clothing. In addition, $10, donated by the Orange Ladies, was sent to Vancouver for the same purpose. Legion managing secretary P. M. Ray described the public response to the appeal as "very satisfactory."
