PEARKES HITS CIVIL SERVANT ARMY

Sees Great Future for Prince Rupert But Community Must Assert Itself

Affirming the stand of himself and his party as supporters of "free enterprise," Major General George R. Pearkes V.C., Member of Parliament for Nanaimo, charged, before an audience of 150 in the Civic Centre last night that the federal government i servants and bureaucrats in order to sustain its wartime controls in post-war Canada.

The first World War V.C. winner and former First Canadian Division commander in World War II named the scrutiny of public eypenditures as one of the prime duties of an opposition member of Parliament and hit out at the "extravagant" failure of the government to reduce its wartime roster of civil servants which still numbers 150,000.

> The duty of a member of Parliament, he said, is to represent all shades of opinion within his constituency, no matter what his personal political attachments, a duty which requires both time and tact.

"I would much rather be looked on as a friend at court than a political wire-puller," he said. In assisting the drafting new laws, the Progressive Conservative members have caused the government to modify, and in some cases to abandon proposed legislation, the speaker declared. Different Methods Are Needed Now

"There is a tendency on the maintaining an "army" of civil part of the government to run the country now just as it did during the war," he asserted. "It is hard for people who have used vear. certain methods to do one job to realize that they must take over new methods to do another type of job. They can't see that winning the peace requires different methods than those used n winning the war."

Gen. Pearkes described tha Progressive-Conservative "shadow cabinet" which kept close scrutiny on the different government departments, and thus "With no reduction since the were able to offer well thought out criticism of government bill before they were presented in the General Pearkes predicted that there will be a federal election in Canada "within two years at the most," since the weakened Liberal administration cannot hope to retain control beyond that time.

He hit out at the present Old Age Pension system as "Canada's "number one disgrace" and said that the "Liberal government stands charged with neglect of the country's senior citizens."

UP, BUT WIND ACCENTS COLD

Overnight minimum temperature in Prince Rupert was 22 degrees, slightly higher than for the two previous nights but cold wind which lashed in from the northeast made it seem one of the briskest nights of the current cold snap.

However, the wind, which sent cold drafts shooting through city residences, did little to curb skating on frozen ponds around the area. Most popular among the young people seems to be one in the east end, near St. Peter's Church which last night was crowned with skaters from all over the city.

The rink which is being readied at Gyro Park by Fire Chief H. T. Lock was expected to go into service tonight, although the ice layer is still thin.

One result of the cold snap has been a boom in household fuel orders. Good Old Britain!

THOSE WHO MIGHT HAVE THOUGHT that the Attlee government of Great Britain was facing any serious crisis within its own political ranks will now know, as a result of the outcome of the vote of confidence over its foreign policy, that such is not the case. British governmental foreign policy-now known as Bevinism-close friendliness with United States and comfortable aloof-ness from Russia-has been the only cause for dissension in Labor ranks. The dissension now appears to have been little more than the typical kind of British "grousing." When the dissidients came down to brass tacks, they would not vote against the government so either voted with it or refrained from voting in order to make the expression of confidence complete. Also typically British, the government itself displayed a little obstinacy by refusing to permit the withdrawal of an unfavorable amendment. They choose to see the fight through.

The Conservatives showed their good faith by agreeing and announcing their intention beforehand of supporting the government on the one issue on which it could possibly have been in danger on a Parliamentary division even had the Labor dissidients been numerous and determined enough.

Everybody showed good commonsense. The critics of the government got in their say-so. The government strength was maintained in a critical time in international affairs. The world knows where Britain stands. If other nations of the world had the internal solidarity and the domestic democracy that Britain has, things would be easier on the international seene than they are and it would be easier to get some of the world's problems straightened out.

AMERICA'S LARGEST CITY had A a new type of man to wear its mayoralty robes when James J. Walker, product of Greenwich Village, pianist and composer of popular songs, became New York's mayor.

In the past, the city's mayors had come from many walks of life, but this was the first time "Tin Pan Alley" had seen one of its sons in the office. The new mayor boasted a versatile career.

Young Walker attended LaSalle College and then St. Francis Xavier, and later entered New York Law School where he studied three years. He starred in school athletics and one season played semi-pro baseball with a Hoboken team.

For a while, he held a secretarial position in an accounting concern; later he was member of a company launching an ill-destined subway project to go under the East River to Brooklyn, then a separate municipality.

Song writing was a hobby. His flair for the stage led Walker to an association with members of "Tin Pan Alley." He was a pianist of ability and for a while played the piano on the vaudeville stage.

One of his lyrics was set to tune by Ernest Ball, the song composer, and achieved something of a hit as the song, "Will You Love Me in December As You Do in May?"

He was always a Democratic partisan. He fought for Sunday baseball and movies, sponsored legalized boxing and the bill that bears his name, supported 2.75 beer (afterward declared unconstitutional), voted for the resolution to Congress asking modification of the Volstead Act to permit the use of beer and light wines under proper state restrictions, and helped pass the law which forced the Ku Klux Klan to make public its membership and the laws bringing about reduction of 25 percent in state income tax, workmen's compensation, widow's penpensions, and emergency rent laws. | Shines in the busy street."

In his campaign speeches for the mayoralty, Walker promised to dig new subways, maintain the nickel subway fare and give the city a clean, economical administration.

New York Democrats gave him a plurality of 100,000 votes over Mayor Hylan in the primary fight, And priceless Liberty" and the city elected him over Frank D. Waterman, Republican nominee, by a majority of approximately 400,000 votes.

Walker was not a great mayor of New York. He was typical of what one might expect from the combination of Tammany and "Tin Pan Alley." He was spectacular and colorful.

THESE CHILLY DAYS

THIS IS THE KIND of winter 10 p.m. weather that many places would glory in-clear ckies, bracing air, zestful frost, fine skating, happy coasting. Those of us who have lived in the parts of the country where that weather is typical remember how we enjoyed it—as much as the hopeful, trickling days of spring, the balmy, warm summers, the fragrant, colorful autumns.

But here in Prince Rupert it does not seem natural, we are afraid, even if some of the younger folk do get their thrills out of the skating and the coasting which are more navel than customary. The most of Prince Rupert people like their mild rain and their drifting breezes for winter climatic fare.

The coldest November days we have had in sixteen years seem a little hard for a lot of us to take, even though Old Sol does smile a few hours a day and the trees and undergrowth glisten.

THE THINGS THAT MONEY CAN'T BUY

HEALTH; A HAPPY HOME; opportunity for your children; your own peace of mind -these are priceless gifts. You can't buy them with money.

But reasonable financial security, based on a planned programme of personal saving, can help to guard and guarantee them.

Take your Victory Bonds, for example. Pretty reassuring to have them tucked away as a financial reserve, always "on tap" in time of opportunity or need. Pretty convincing proof, too, that you really can save when there's a real saving job to be done.

Perhaps today's rising costs or other factors are making it hard for you to carry on your savings programme. By the time you have met all your expenses, perhaps there's mighty little left for that all-important item marked "Savings".

Try putting savings first, not last, on your budget list. Owe yourself a definite amount each month, and make sure you collect it. It means careful budgeting, and putting off buying a good many things you'd like to have. But never forget-this is your share of what you earn. This is the part of your income which will help to assure for yourself and your family all the things that money can't buy.

PERHAPS YOU are already one of the hundreds of thousands of thrifty Canadians who have a savings account with the Royal Bank. If not, we invite you to come in and open one. Perhaps your first deposit will have to be small; don't let that worry you. The important thing is to start. It will be a pleasure to serve you.

PEOPLES DOWN RAINBIRDS IN MELON UPSET

The girls' league provided the surprise element 'n last night's four-game baske ball series at the Civic Centre gym wnen Peoples Store, browbeaten in all but one of their seven previous encounters with Bo-Me-Hi Rainbirds, turned on the waterfall and administered a 29-6 ducking, a bit of temerity which left, all concerned gasping slightly.

Watts and Nickerson, who have consistently trailed behind in the Junior league, did nothing to improve their position when they met Grotto although they lost only by a narrow, 23-20 margin. The clothiers, trailing by a 15-8 score at half-time, rallied in the second half to score 12 points, but were unable to overcome the margin which had been set earlier in the game.

High scorers were Kelly of Watts and Nickerson and Hebb of Grotto, both with 8 points. Individual scoring:

Expect the UNEXPECTED!

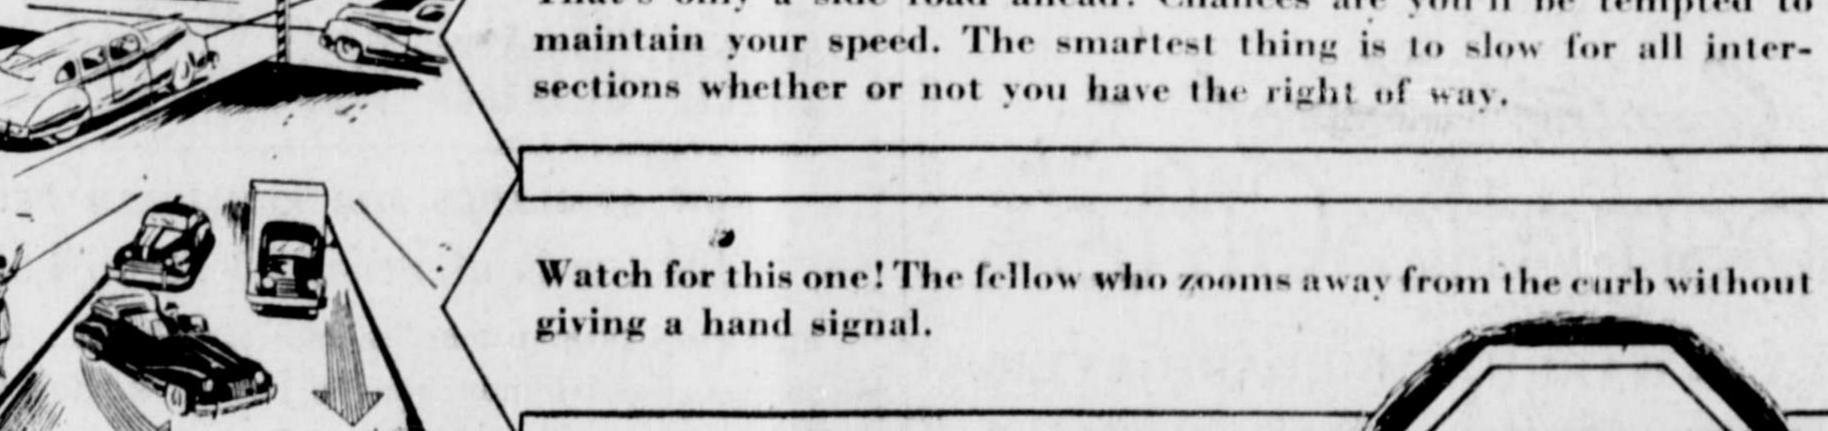

No matter how carefully you drive, you have no control over the traffic habits of other drivers. You can tell what's ahead on the highway only as far as you can see.

Many motorists speed up when they come to a hill . . . overtake the car ahead and try to pass. Tragedy may result. Always take hills slowly.

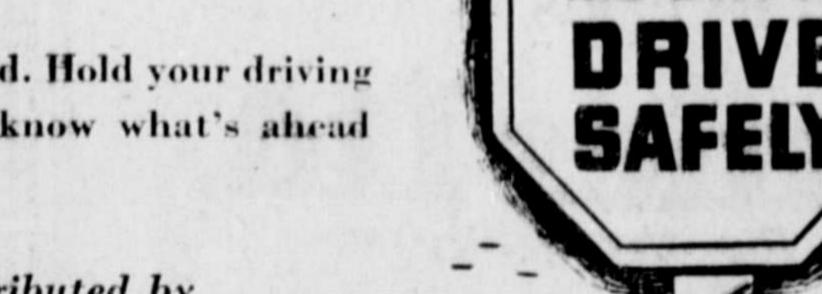

What's around the corner? Maybe someone has stopped his car or a truck has stalled-right on the highway. Expect obstacles around those corners! Slow down . . . don't go rushing blindly into them.

in time to stop before reaching it.

That's only a side road ahead! Chances are you'll be tempted to maintain your speed. The smartest thing is to slow for all intersections whether or not you have the right of way.

Yes, it's a good rule to expect the unexpected. Hold your driving speed down to a point where you always know what's ahead

... Yes, or no, the 95,000 light globes we used last year in our plants went a long way to help pay the wages of many Canadians.

We purchased these globes in Canada, just as we do a hundred other different types of supplies used in our various operations.

Whether it's light, cement, lumber, steel . . . or even paper towels, it's Canadian industry which gets the first consideration in our vast purchases.

To maintain a prosperous Canada there must be continuous, gainful employment which can only result from continuous production in all our industries. At Consolidated we keep that thought in mind . . . always!
