Winners in "What Rupert Needs" Contest

WINNING ARTICLE
Prince Rupert needs industry and should press hard for the possible ones.
We should insist that a mill be started by the Northern B.C. Power Co. before their franchise is extended—not necessarily a pulp mill though! The pulp market is getting overcrowded, and with the war over, other countries are entering world markets. Sweden for instance! But they could put in a rayon and dense plastic plant. There is an unlimited market for both these products with a higher profit and of course, they are made from the self-same wood pulp. The Power Co. has the capital and wide experience in mills and it would be a far more stable industry for Prince Rupert.
The American Can Co. is rumored to be interested in the large American warehouse here. It would be an ideal location for them. We have railway and ship facilities and a large percentage of their market lies around Prince Rupert. There is also plenty of timber for boxes etc.
Hammond Bros. of Vancouver have shown an interest in establishing a furniture factory. While not a large payroll it would help the district as a whole. We have plenty of timber and certainly plenty of available space for this.
However the city council must realize that very generous concessions are necessary to bring these or any other industries to Prince Rupert, with the resulting beneficial payrolls. They should do everything possible to make it advantageous for the companies to come here.
The government should be pressed to bring work to the Dry Dock. They should at least build one coastwise vessel here at Prince Rupert. Otherwise private ownership seems the only solution to bring competitive work to the yard.
We should also press the government for coal bunkers. They are a vital need if Prince Rupert is to expand. Also of course we must have a free port. Vancouver received considerable subsidies a few years ago to interest shipping, so why can't Rupert receive the same consideration. A free port, fuel bunkers and assurance of a full cargo will bring ships here. Why not try to have a shipping company open an office here to arrange these things.
For a smaller project, the Famous Players Corporation should now build the theatre they (as I understand it) promised. Materials are available now as other theatres are being built and the present theatre is a disgrace to any city half the size of Rupert.
For the social side we should get behind a "Teen Town" of our own and boys clubs etc. to keep the youth off the streets. An indoor swimming pool and roller rink would help. Also a supervised hostel for the native girls would help.
Yours for a bigger and better Prince Rupert.
INTERESTED CITIZEN.

George Strike Free

George (Special to News)—As a strike threat logging industry became in the south, Northern Lumbermen's Association last night prepared to meet local I.W.A. representatives Thursday over union schedule as between the two parties.
Arrangement was to permit operators to ascertain from what effect union demands would have on the industry and how far the operators were financially able to go in meeting these demands.
Since a conference over union measures they are to advance, operators are willing to accept reasonable proposal which they meet and continue to meet.
Employees of two of their mills had walked off merely on the news of the strike at the coast without any for the negotiations.
Member stated he was informed by the local I.W.A. business manager that no strike had called for this district.

Expressed Excitement Pervades Terrace, Having Its First Strike

TERRACE (Special to Daily News)—An air of expressed excitement pervaded Terrace this morning as groups of picketers left town in cars and trucks at an end to any logging operations which may be going on in the outlying areas. An uneasy prevailing as the mills, arteries of a gigantic industry upon which the livelihood of the people depend are silent. The hum of the rumble of trucks and the sound of logs and the other sounds characteristic of each day at Terrace are no longer to be heard.
About eleven o'clock yesterday the lumber mills went to work. Approximately 300 men were instructed from I.W.A. at five cents per hour in-

Eighty-year-old Inmate of Alaska Old Men's Home Gets $25,000 in Ice Pool
The ice in the Nenana River, on going out of which is based a large Alaskan lottery, went out at 4:40 on the afternoon of May 5, according to word reaching the city.
The pool this year amounted to $108,000 and was split four ways. Mike Johnson, an 80-year-old inmate of the Pioneers' Home at Sitka, was one of the winners. Others were Federal II of Anchorage, Lila Linko Poole of Anchorage and Foreseld Co. of Fairbanks.

U.S. YACHT HERE ON COAST CRUISE

The 84-foot U.S. motor yacht Deerleap put into Prince Rupert harbor shortly before noon Wednesday, sailing again in the early afternoon in continuation of her cruise up the B.C. coast to Ketchikan. The vessel, owned by Campbell Church, jr., of Seattle, was chartered by Keith Spalding, Pasadena, Calif., who owns a ranch in Ventura County. Mr. Spalding is accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hahn and Miss Lois Fraser, also of Pasadena. The cruise, which began on May 1, will last a month, and will go as far up the coast as the time will permit. The Deerleap is skippered by Capt. D. Denison, who commands a crew of three.

No Sign of Settlement

Big Timber Strike in B.C. Continues—Operators Promote $1 Increase
VANCOUVER (C)—Logging and sawmill operators proposed last night that a referendum vote be taken by the Department of Labor to test employee reaction to their recent proposal of a $1 per day wage increase. They said the present "phony" strike was called on the basis of a strike vote taken last February before any wage increase had been offered. A representative of the companies said: "Surely this province should not be paralyzed by an illegal strike called on the basis of a vote taken fourteen weeks ago and no subsequent consultation of employees to see how they feel about the operators offers of $1 per day wage increase."
Hon. G. S. Pearson, provincial minister of labor, said it was now up to the federal and provincial government to reach some basis of settlement. Mr. Justice Gordon Sloan, conciliator, said there was nothing more he could do now. Harold Pritchett, I.W.A. head, said the union was ready to negotiate. He however turned down $1 a day increase proposal.
Meanwhile British Columbia's sprawling lumber industry, which during an average day produces approximately 8,000,000 board feet of lumber, is virtually paralyzed as the strike of 37,000 logging and sawmill workers continued into its second day.
Both the operators and the International Woodworkers of America (I.O.-C.C.L.) awaited word of possible new moves by the Dominion government to whom Mr. Justice Sloan has reported.

Negotiations Are On For Large Warehouse On Local Waterfront; Bidding is Still in Preliminaries

A War Assets Corporation spokesman said today that negotiations are going on with a "couple of prospective purchasers" for the large warehouse on Prince Rupert waterfront. No public offering has, however, been made as yet.
The warehouse, a former United States installation, established during the war, is being used at present by the Corporation.
Further details of negotiations, still in the preliminary stage, are not available.

M.L.A. Speaks— "Hot Air-Red Tape"

Impressed Local Member at First Session of Legislature—Local Outcry Changed Road Policy
The amount of red tape that is involved in trying to get things done and which seems to almost hog-tie one when desiring to obtain action in governmental quarters and the prodigious amount of time that is taken up in "hot air" speech-making in the House were conditions which impressed themselves upon W. H. Brett, M.L.A. for Prince Rupert, as he attended his first session of the Legislature at Victoria. He told the Prince Rupert Gyro Club so in a luncheon speech yesterday as he recounted his impression of the session.
Mr. Brett was not suggesting, he made it clear, that there should be any abolition of the democratic right of free speech in the Legislature but he did feel that the ordinary run of speeches in which the members delivered themselves of "heaps and complaints" from their constituencies really had little effect upon the administration and to him they became "somewhat boring." The real work is done by the cabinet and in the committees, he declared.
The local member told how nearly every member at the recent session had taken the opportunity to "ride" the public works department. "Of course," he admitted, "I had to chip in too but when one considers the tremendous amount of work involved in attending to the roads of the province, it is understandable that those in charge might be inclined to feel each separate complaint rather insignificant."
Speaking of the road policy situation that had arisen in regard to the Prince Rupert Highway, Mr. Brett acknowledged the assistance of local groups including the Prince Rupert Automobile Association. "If it had not been for the tremendous hovel that you people here at home set up, I am sure they would have endeavored to throw the responsibility for this highway on to the federal authorities. It was only the pressure exerted from here that brought about a change of mind in policy. But it is going to be a costly undertaking and I still do not know what is going to be done."
Turning attention to major items of legislation at the session, Mr. Brett cited as most important the amendments to the School Act. However, the Act was now in such a mess that he did not think anyone could interpret it completely. Even school inspectors in session had been unable to do so. There were

6 PASSENGERS IN FLIGHT HERE

Importance of an airline service for Prince Rupert and the north coast was demonstrated Wednesday by the northbound flight of the Queen Charlotte Airline plane Haida Queen which arrived here after carrying a total of 39 passengers on different legs of her 550-mile journey from Vancouver.
Operators of the plane definitely did not crowd the 39 into the 14-passenger cabin at one time but that number took advantage of the flight to get to intermediate points. The Haida Queen arrived in Prince Rupert with six passengers, five of whom came from Vancouver and one from Massett.
Another passenger, P. G. Shallcross, insurance adjuster, travelled as far as Inverness Canyon where he adjusted the loss of the cannery net loss by fire early this week.
After stopping in Prince Rupert briefly last night, the Haida Queen continued on to Anxox, carrying D. S. Tait, president of the B.C. Minerals and Resources Development Co., which is developing the old Anxox smelter property as a steel mill. Other Anxox passengers were W. Murray, director of the company, and J. Waddell, a director of General Enterprises Ltd., of Vancouver.
Mr. Murray and Mr. Waddell remained in Anxox while Mr. Tait returned to Prince Rupert on the plane last night.
Passengers who arrived in Prince Rupert last night were: William Glass, B.C. Packers, from Pacific; D. M. King, from Massett; Arthur LaPointe, from Cumshewa; W. J. Wood, airline operations manager, Vancouver; Gus Anderson, from Massett; G. S. Stanbridge, from Vancouver; and Mr. Shallcross from Vancouver to Inverness.
Departures from Prince Rupert this morning were P. G. Shallcross, for Vancouver; W. J. Wood, for Vancouver; A. Trueman, Department of Transport, for Massett; Mr. Wylie, for Massett and Miss Lavina White and Mrs. A. Adams for Massett.

Statement Made By Spokesman Of War Assets

A War Assets Corporation spokesman said today that negotiations are going on with a "couple of prospective purchasers" for the large warehouse on Prince Rupert waterfront. No public offering has, however, been made as yet.
The warehouse, a former United States installation, established during the war, is being used at present by the Corporation.
Further details of negotiations, still in the preliminary stage, are not available.

Big Timber Deal Is On

Greatest Merger in History of Province Announced
VANCOUVER (CP)—Details of the largest timber and lumber mill deal in the history of British Columbia were revealed last night with the launching of a $13,500,000 company—B.C. Forest Products Ltd.—with a planned production of 200,000,000 board feet of lumber annually. Employment will reach 17,000 persons.
Merged in the deal are the Hammond Cedar Co., Industrial Timber Mills Ltd., Cameron Lumber Co., Hemmingson-Cameron Co., Osborn Bay Timber Buyers Ltd. and Renfrew Holdings Ltd.
E. P. Taylor of Toronto, who purchased the big sawmill at Chemainus, Vancouver Island, last year, is head of the new company.

HIGH WATER IN BULKLEY VALLEY

High water conditions continue in the Bulkley Valley east of Smithers, according to recent word from the interior. The highway in the vicinity of Perow and elsewhere is under water and has been closed to traffic although some cars are reported to have been getting around by detouring through the bush. Around Forestdale water is close to the railway tracks.

SCORE OF FISH CAMPS NOW OUT

Are Pouring Their Wealth of Salmon Into Port Now
Fish packers are pouring net and hook-caught wealth into Prince Rupert from more than a score of fish camps in the area as fishermen from up and down the coast congregate in adjacent fishing grounds in anticipation of one of the best seasons in recent years.
Located in sheltered coves near the fishing grounds, the camps are meccas for literally hundreds of small boats which make short runs daily, or often, to unload their catches of spring salmon, halibut and other varieties of fish there. In return, the camps offer convenient facilities for obtaining fuel and food, so that the fishermen can spend as much time as possible with their gear.
Actually, the camps are "mother ships" to the vast fleet of small boats which fish off the many islands surrounding Prince Rupert. Set on scows which are towed to their summer locations by utility boats, the camps are repositories for tons of fish which are picked up periodically by packers and rushed to the cold storage plants or refrigerator plants at Prince Rupert. Camps tributary to this city range from Dundas Island on the north to Princess Royal Island on the south. They are operated by the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative, the fishing companies and one private fish buyer.
Co-op Has Most Camps
Biggest camp operator in the area is the Fishermen's Co-op, which has five camps and a liver plant out, with two more camps yet to be sent out. The Co-op has camps at Henslung Bay on the north Queen Charlotte Islands, Seven Mile, also on the Islands, Goose Bay and Dundas Island, White Rocks on Banks Island, Squadaree on Stephens Island, and a liver plant at Skidegate, which went out last Tuesday.
In addition, the Co-op will operate camp at Naden Harbor and another at Surf Inlet. The latter, it is understood, will not go out until shortly before the beginning of the coho salmon

THE WEATHER

The weather system from the Gulf of Alaska is now moving inland over Northern British Columbia. It is not expected to affect the areas of the province south of Prince Rupert to any marked degree.
A high pressure area is building to the west of Vancouver Island and the flow of Pacific air over the coast is expected to continue warming in this air as it flows in over the province. It is expected to bring about somewhat higher than normal temperatures over the greater part of the province. Clear skies will be general over the interior and the southern coastal regions.
Forecast
Prince Rupert, Queen Charlottes and North Coast—Overcast low stratus and fog banks in the coastal inlets clearing slowly during the day, variable cloudiness in the afternoon. Winds, light, variable. Maximum at Port Hardy 58, Massett 56, Prince Rupert 60.
season later in the summer.
John Clausen, local fish buyer, has six camps dotting inlets along the coast. One is situated along Wark Canal, while there are two on Dundas Island—at Goose Bay and Boat Harbor. A fourth is at Sommerville Bay on Sommerville Island, and the other two are at Squadaree on the north end of Stephens Island and at Butler's Cove on the south end of the same island.
B.C. Packers have camps at Pacific and at Naden Cove on Princess Royal Island, while the Canadian Fish and Cold Storage Co., a subsidiary, has one on Wark Canal.
Canadian Fishing Co. has camp at Henslung Bay on North Island, Queen Charlotte Co. and Kitkatla on Porcher Island

BUY CHINA COASTERS

VICTORIA — The Chinese government has purchased three or four China coasters which were built at the Victoria Machinery Depot and early delivery is expected to be taken.

Plan Fresh Halibut Dinner for Edmonton Jr. Chamber Meet

Halibut, the economic king of Prince Rupert, may achieve fitting recognition at the national convention of the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Canada to be held in Edmonton next month—and Prince Rupert will thereby be showered with goodwill by scores of delegates on whose palates will linger the savory memory of the fresh-caught fish.
If a plan by the executive of the Prince Rupert Junior Chamber of Commerce matures, the national convention will sit down to either a luncheon or dinner in the Macdonald Hotel in the Alberta capital on June 19 and dine on fresh-caught halibut provided by the Prince Rupert branch.
C. Findlay, manager of the Macdonald, has been advised that the required amount of halibut will be shipped to Edmonton at the expense of the Prince Rupert Junior Chamber. The local executive has received offers from local fish packers to provide the fish free of charge.
Alderman Clifford Ham, president of the Prince Rupert Junior Chamber has been chosen as delegate to the national conference.

INDEPENDENCE DAY

TO OUR good Norwegian friends we extend best wishes for a happy observance tomorrow of the 132nd anniversary of the adoption of the constitution which gave them their national independence. It is appropriate occasion for us to pay tribute to them as worthy and esteemed citizens who form a very substantial proportion of the population of this city, being particularly prominent and successful in our keystone industry of deepsea fishing.

Imbued with the traits of thrift, industry, good judgment and integrity, our people of Norwegian birth and descent we have always classed as among the best exemplars of good citizenship. Ever in the forefront of worthy community activities and endeavours designed to make where they dwell a better place to live, they play a prominent, generous and valuable part.

We do not, generally speaking, hold with the idea of super-emphasis upon the retention of spirit of original nationalism by those who come from other lands to dwell among us. The Norwegians, however, have brought to us so many good customs and worthy attributes from the land of their origin that, in their case at least, we can most heartily and sincerely extend to them our felicitations as they go about celebrating the day of their national birth. May they have a happy time in so doing!

The college yell of the school of experience is silence.

MUST HAVE AIR BASE

IF THERE is one thing that Prince Rupert should essay at this time it is the making of a real effort to become equipped with proper terminal aircraft servicing facilities such as would be provided by taking over and properly organizing the Seal Cove seaplane base. With the crown offering to sell the base for a nominal $1 to make the deal legal, the difficulty with the whole thing is devising some scheme whereby the outlay of maintenance can be reduced to a minimum basis and provision made for the financing. It is something that will have to be gone in thoroughly but always having in mind the vital importance of establishing and maintaining permanent facilities which will insure Prince Rupert having its place on the map of aerial transportation. Without such facilities, we would soon be finding ourselves by-passed in the world of tomorrow which will be doing a greater and greater proportion of its travel in the air.

Of course Prince Rupert should have an airport but we must admit that there is no very immediate prospect of obtaining that so the next best thing is a seaplane base. Now we have one practically ready made for us, it is nothing short of essential that we find ways and means of availing ourselves of the opportunity.

It is to be expected that the federal authorities will be favorably disposed to doing everything in their power to make it as easy as possible to work out some practical plan which we would be able to carry out. As good a suggestion as any that we have so far heard is that of the mayor himself whose idea is that we might be able to obtain a portion of the enormous Seal Cove war-developed project that would meet the requirements of a well-equipped and adequate seaplane base. Certainly all the ground and property of various kinds involved in the base as it now stands should not be required.

Anyway, preserving at least part of the Seal Cove base for the peacetime needs of Prince Rupert in the way of commercial aviation service is something that we must get busy upon with as little delay as possible. We have been given the opportunity of helping ourselves and, if we do not do something about it, we will only have ourselves to blame if we find ourselves out in the cold a little later on.

THAT $16 SALAD

A GOOD DEAL of unfavorable publicity has come to Anchorage as a result of flying foodstuffs here during the recent shipping tie-up," says Anchorage News. Outside newspapers have also been carrying stories on various local strikes, including the unfortunate "school strike," all emanating from Anchorage via the rush telegrams of various press service correspondents.

These events were all legitimate news stories and had their proper place in the press of the nation but the unfortunate part was they left much of truth to the imagination of readers. Possibly the stories were written and twisted about by the receiving agencies but there is also the high possibility that over-zealous correspondents at Anchorage, anxious to write in the flourish of "big city stuff" flirted with the facts sufficiently to make the stories more eye-appealing.

The most unfortunate effusion was that of the $16 salad. It is true that Anchorage people could have purchased enough airplaned salad ingredients to make the concoction cost $16 but it was highly improbable unless the greenery was served at a banquet of some proportions.

Take for instance a salad for five persons and imagine it contained lettuce, tomatoes, cauliflower, green pepper, raw carrots, dressing and whatever other incidentals go into a salad. (We don't recommend this recipe).

Two heads lettuce at one dollar each; five tomatoes for 90 cents; a cauliflower for $2; a green pepper for 40 cents; two raw carrots at ten cents each, dressing, etc., $1; total $6.50. Take into consideration, too, that due to lack of policy concerning application of air freight to foodstuffs, some stores sold well beneath these prices.

It appears the salad was heavily flavored with some fancy figments of the imagination.

LETTERBOX

URGES STRIKE SUPPORT
Editor, Daily News:

Yesterday 37,000 loggers and mill-workers, members of the International Woodworkers of America (I.W.O.) walked off the job. Their strike, closing down an industry producing three out of every ten dollars earned in B.C., concerns every citizen of Prince Rupert.

It is a strike caused by the efforts of a handful of lumber barons to turn the clock back and snatch from the hands of the people the fruits of the war they have won.

Through its "No-Strike" pledge and unprecedented production records the I.W.O. gave unstinted support to the war. The Mosquito Bombers that hammered Berlin were built from Queen Charlotte Island spruce.

Now the operators have refused all the post-war demands of the union. They have refused the 25c an hour increase, needed for a decent standard of living. They have refused the 40-hour week, which would increase employment. They have refused union security—the logical outcome of genuine collective bargaining.

This is the opening round of the battle to win the peace for the workers, farmers, veterans, professional and small business people of Canada.

On the one hand—the people. On the other—a handful of monopolists.

The people of Prince Rupert should do all in their power to aid those in the front line across Escaate Straits.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for printing these few lines in support of a valiant body of men and women, I am,

BRUCE E. MICKLEBURGH,
Executive Secretary
Prince Rupert Labor-
Progressive Council.

UNJUST TREATMENT

Editor, Daily News:
Reading over the news of the city council has prompted me to write these few lines.

The city engineer, Mr. Phillips, says before the council that he is unable to get men to carry out work on city streets and other jobs he has to offer. Is it any wonder he finds it hard to get men when they are treated so unjustly. My husband, for one, who was let out of his job on the city garbage truck with no just reason, is only one example. He worked for the city last year and was forced to leave his job and Prince Rupert due to doctor's orders that I get to a more suitable climate.

He came back to Prince Rupert only because unemployment was so prevalent in the south and he thought, after 33 years residence in Prince Rupert, he should have seniority, and priority on a job in the city. He holds the best of references from the city.

Apparently others have heard of his plight and figure why take a job with the city if they treat their employees so unjustly. It is plain to see why the people in the south condemn Prince Rupert.

Historians Honor Scott Character

CASTLE DOUGLAS, Scotland, June 15.—Historians gathered at a ceremony in the churchyard of Douglas, during the night the pit bank collapsed and the entire family was buried alive. The churchyard stone described the father as a minstrel. Glasgow Galloway Association studies have shown that the soldier was the prototype of Scott's character. A tablet recording the facts has been placed at the grave.

'Hot Air' - 'Red Tape'

As for the Sloan forestry report, Mr. Brett approved the stand that had been taken by the government in keeping control of the forests in the government and rejecting recommendations of the Sloan report in the opposite direction. There were ever-increasing demands upon government revenue for education and social services and the only solution he felt was to exact more from the returns from the development of the natural resources of the country. Taking the forestry for example, there had been revenue of sixty million dollars in a year. Yet the government had derived only four million and it had to maintain forestry protection, carry out reforestation and assume such responsibilities. There was nothing left then to go towards the social services. It was obvious, therefore, that some of the control must be taken from private hands.

Mr. Brett also cited as an important business of the recent session the approval of the principle that, if the federal government relinquishes certain controls over business, the provincial government should take them over. He felt there should be some measure of protection for the small retailers from the big stores and chains and that there should be assurance of retail business being continued in an orderly manner.

The local member justified his own action in attempting to put through a bill providing for the setting up of a loan board with the object in view of helping Canadian fishermen to improve their fleet by financing the construction of larger and better boats which would be able to compete with the United States fleet. However, this bill, which would have been of much assistance to Prince Rupert, dependent as it was upon the fishing industry, had been ruled out of order by the Speaker. It might have been an arbitrary ruling, Mr. Brett suggested. "However, I feel that I was quite justified in bringing it up in the interests of this constituency." Concluding, Mr. Brett intimated that he was at all times anxious to receive the sugges-

Went For Bride; Brings Back Cows

ADELAIDE, Australia — A returned soldier who made a special trip to England to bring back his bride returned to Australia without his wife but with four prize bulls and four heifers. He is H. A. Burns of Adelaide. Burns met his wife while serving in England in 1940. He returned to Australia believing that she would follow soon after. He waited a year and then went back to England. In England he found, after waiting some months, that he could not get a passage to Australia for either his wife or himself. Finally, a single passage on a ship was offered on the condition that he groomed and fed a consignment of cattle during the trip. He escorted the animals to Sydney where he got the good news that his wife hoped to leave England soon.

HOUSEHOLD SHOWERS FOR BRITISH BRIDES

MERRITTON, Ont. — Something more tangible than a "hello" and a handshake is Merrittton's method of welcoming war brides who have come from overseas to make their homes here. Instead the Ladies Auxiliary, Canadian Legion, greets each new arrival with a shower of household articles.

"We gave our first shower last August," said Mrs. C. McGill, secretary of the organization. "It was just an idea and we hoped other groups might follow our example... we thought it was one way of repaying the people overseas for their kindness to our servicemen while they were stationed there."

So far the organization has held six showers for six brides, and there are 12 more in the offing for those yet to come from overseas. Every bride receives $50 worth of household merchandise. The bill is footed by the 80 or so members of the Auxiliary, each of whom contributes 25 cents a week toward the gifts.

The lucky newcomer receives everything from a 32-piece set of dishes, flat silverware, bread-box, to a kettle and a frying pan. In addition she is presented with a pair of woollen blankets, cotton sheets pillow cases, bath towels and a table cloth.

Said Mrs. McGill: "We gave approximately $250 a year to war charities during the war as well as the cigarettes we sent to the boys overseas... when V-J Day came along we decided to continue our war work with this new project."

DESERT STRETCH NOW GOLF COURSE

Area of Bush and Sand Made Over by Woman Professional
By EDDIE LEE

PHOENIX, Ariz., (AP)—Blonde Helen Dettwiler hardly looks like the type who would spend her time dreaming up devices to make a golfer's life miserable. But that is exactly what she has been doing for the last few months at Idaho, Calif., where she is engaged in converting a stretch of desert into a nine-hole golf course.

Miss Dettwiler is a professional golfer with a pretty smile and that outdoor appearance. She will be the professional at the new course when it opens this month.

The course is owned jointly by Jacqueline Cochrane, wartime head of the WASPS and woman flyer of considerable note, and Floyd Odium, New York financier. It will be open to the public.

Questioned about the business of building golf courses, Miss Dettwiler says it is "a lot of headaches."

"At first it was just a lot of desert, you know, bush and sand," she says. "We had to figure the acreage and then fit in the nine holes to the best advantage."

Weather Handicap
Water pipes had to be laid under the fairways and irrigation ditches built. The weather was not always co-operative. She had to replant one 20-acre stretch three times following sand storms.

She visited Phoenix to gather some information from the Phoenix Country Club on the upkeep of greens. The club is noted throughout the southwest for the condition of its greens. "The landscaping (that's placing obstacles so you can't miss them and making them attractive looking) was the toughest part," she says.

Miss Dettwiler started playing golf 12 years ago at Washington, D.C., and took her first lessons from Willie Low, present

Phoenix professional who at that time worked at a Washington course. In 1939 she won the Western Open championship for women at the Westmoreland course in St. Louis. She turned professional the same year.

She served in the WASPS during the war and has been working on the course at Idaho since her discharge.

"It's been fun," she says. "I drove a bulldozer and a tractor and built some of the sand traps by hand."

Why a STILL GREATER SHARE OF THE INCOME TAX may fall on INDIVIDUALS

There is a very grave danger that a higher percentage of the country's revenue than at present may have to come in the future from your personal income tax.

Tax-free co-operatives, crown companies, government and municipally owned corporations are rapidly expanding in numbers and scope. Because of the fact that they escape paying income tax, the government is already losing 125 millions of dollars of potential revenue annually (Estimate of Professor J. L. McDougall presented to a special committee of the Senate).

That means that all individual tax payers in Canada pay an extra $50.00 each, on the average, in income tax, so that these corporations may be tax-free.

4500 tax-free co-operatives

Some 4500 co-operatives in this country have been escaping income tax because they claimed that co-operatives make no profits.

A Royal Commission on Co-operatives has declared that co-operatives do make profits, and has recommended that their profits be taxed. But it has also recommended that profits paid out to customers in the form of "patronage dividends" should be treated as an expense in computing taxable income.

If this latter recommendation of the Royal Commission becomes law, co-operatives and other businesses will be at liberty to pay out all their earnings as patronage dividends, leaving nothing to tax.

Co-operatives and privately owned businesses would be entirely free to decide whether or not they chose to pay income tax.

All profits must be taxed equally

If this country is going to have an income tax law, then all profits must be taxed, and taxed fairly. We do not object to the payment of "patronage dividends" out of profits after income tax has been paid. But we do object to the recommendation that patronage dividends be classed as an ordinary expense of doing business. "Patronage dividends" must be placed in the same category as the dividends from any privately owned business.

Revision of The Income War Tax Act, insofar as it concerns Co-operatives, will come before the current Session of Parliament. It is of utmost importance that such revisions shall bring tax equality to all groups. We urge that the income tax payers of Canada insist that their elected representatives in the House of Commons see that the heavy burden of income tax is shared fairly by all.

The Income Tax Payers Association has no objection to the principles of co-operative trading. It should be the right of every Canadian to trade as he desires. Our objective is to ensure that no section of business unloads its share of income taxation and cost of the war on other business or on individual income tax payers.

All income tax payers (except employees of income tax exempt concerns) are eligible for membership in the Income Tax Payers Association. If you wish to become a member, sign and mail the attached application form and enclose membership fee of $1.00. Mail either to Winnipeg or Toronto.

GOOD BOXERS DOWN UNDER

SYDNEY, Australia (C)—Boxing is booming in Australia with record crowds attending big fights in the capital cities, and newspapers daily devoting columns to the activities of leading boxers.

The boom is both the result of the free-spending post-war urge and of a crop of Australian fighters who are rated among the world's best.

Ring Magazine, recognized as the boxer's bible, gives leading places to three Australians in its latest list of world ratings.

It rates the Australian welterweight and lightweight champion, Vic Patrick, fifth in the lightweight division, light-heavyweight and heavyweight champion Jack Johnson, fifth in the light-heavies and featherweight champion, Eddie Miller, fourth among featherweights.

Patrick, 25, has fought 45 contests since he started boxing in 1939 and has had only two losses. One was on a technical knockout, when he had an injured arm, and the other was on a foul.

Johnson, the heavy and light-heavy champion, is after a bout for the world's light-heavyweight title. He has issued a challenge to world champion Gus Lesnevich.

Tall and pale, Johnson has had 90 fights in Australia and lost two to men he subsequently knocked out.

Miller is rated by the critics as the best featherweight ever to fight in Australia.

INDIANAPOLIS RACE RESUMED

Day of Jet-Propelled Racers Still Remote at Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS, (C)—If any of the 200,000 guests the Indianapolis motor speedway is expecting at its May 30 resumption of the famous 500-mile auto race are planning the trip for a look at jet-propelled race cars, it's definite now that they'll need another reason.

There won't be any jet cars in the race for a number of reasons, and the best of these is that the applications for entrance are in the mails without any arrangements in the rules for these "three or four" jet entries predicted by Eddie Rickenbacker. Rickenbacker made the prediction on several occasions before relinquishing his position as president of the speedway corporation.

But a more permanent reason is cited by Cotton Henning, the master mechanic of the Mike Boyle racing team, who points out that better throttling arrangements would have to be worked out before a jet-propelled car could negotiate the turns at the speedway.

"The jets may have good pick-ups for the straights," says Henning, "but a driver would more than likely be over the wall on a turn before he could throttle down to a safe speed."

"Jet cars won't work on the speedway for some time—maybe never. It would be like running a jackies in the Kentucky Derby."

Twelve years ago Bruce Woodcock joined the London North Eastern Railway works at Doncaster as a 13-shilling ($3.10) a week laborer. On the eve of his trip to the United States to fight Tammi Mauriello, Bronx idol, men in oil-grimmed overalls presented a cheque for $4,527 to the Doncaster Infirmary to endow a Bruce Woodcock bed. They had raised the money in appreciation of the boxer winning the heavy-weight boxing title of Britain. Woodcock is expected to make about $27,000 on his trip to the United States.

Great Britain's 1947 amateur golf championship will be held at Carnoustie and the open championship at Holyhead, scene of this year's open. The open title has been played twice before at Carnoustie but never the amateur.

Charlton Athletic and Derby County, soccer cup finalists this year, are scheduled to visit Europe during the summer. Derby has been invited to Czechoslovakia and negotiations now are under way for the Athletics to play in France and Sweden.

The MacKinnon of MacKinnon, the oldest clan chief in Scotland, and the chief test cricketer in Britain, received a cricket bat on his ninety-ninth birthday April 9. He travelled 200 miles from his Forres, Morayshire, home to Glasgow for his birthday celebration where he was given a civic welcome by the Lord Mayor. An eight-year old MacKinnon presented the old Highland chief with a bat bearing 93 signatures of clansmen and former prominent cricketers. He toured Australia with Britain's test team in 1878 and was Kent County's opening batsman when

Second to Climb Nelson's Column

LONDON, (C)—When a former naval stoker, Henry Taylor, 41, climbed a repair scaffolding around Nelson's Column in Trafalgar Square, he was fined 40 shillings and given widespread publicity. But he was only following in the footsteps of the late Sidney Gedge, one-time member of parliament for Stockport, who climbed the column nearly 100 years ago when he was only 10. The boy Gedge was sent out to amuse himself and given one shilling to buy his lunch. In Trafalgar Square he found the newly erected column draped in scaffolding. He climbed to the top to find angry monumental masons waiting for him and Nelson lying on his side, not yet erected. The masons insisted Gedge should pay for his temerity and he handed over his shilling. Then he stooped down and kissed the face of Nelson.

PENSIONS FOR LEGISLATORS

Members of New South Wales Assembly Approve New Plan

SYDNEY, Australia, (C)—Members of the New South Wales Legislative Assembly who have served more than 15 years in the state parliament will get a pension of about $22 a week under a plan just approved. Members with less than 15 years' service will receive $18 weekly under the plan drawn up to provide for members who retire or suffer election defeats.

To enjoy the pension benefit members will have to pay $5.40 a week into a special fund.

Labor party members of the State House for several years have contributed about $7 each every month to what they call a "Waratah Fund" divided after elections among those who failed to be re-elected.

On one occasion, a member by the name of Tom Keegan, only Labor member not returned to his seat in state elections, pocketed the complete fund of something like $27,000. When the Labor party had a bad election time, defeated members have drawn as little as $35 apiece from the fund.

"Waratah" is the name of a native Australian flower which thrives in New South Wales.

NORWAY'S DAY... by RUDOLPH OLSEN

(Executive Member, Sons of Norway)

THE SEVENTEENTH OF MAY has always been a day dear to the hearts of Norwegians everywhere, for it symbolizes the Norwegian love of freedom and progressive spirit. Being the second seventeenth of May since Norway's liberation, let us all rejoice together with the people of Norway, who after five years of darkness — a reign of terror, hate and suspicion — once more can live up to Jefferson's immortal words: "Life, liberty and pursuit of happiness."

People of Norwegian origin throughout the world and freedom-loving men and women in all lands will wholeheartedly share the joy of the Norwegians at home in this glorious hour of their history. Their firm faith in the cause of freedom and justice, and their heroic fight for the victory of that cause over the forces of tyranny and barbarism have been amply rewarded.

Those of us who have had the good fortune to celebrate Norway's natal day on the home soil will always cherish the memory of it. Flashed on the screen of our mind we have the entire scene: "The tricolor of Norway flutters from every staff on land and on every mast on the ships in the harbor; the beloved national tunes resound from bands and the voices from young and old, and the old story of Norway's attainment of independence, which in short is as follows:

"Norway in the year 1814 was to become a vassal state to another great power for services rendered by that power during the Napoleonic war. Though standing alone, fighting as it seemed a losing battle against pressure from the great powers of Europe, she succeeded through the unity of her people and splendid leadership in maintaining her independence, made possible through the Eidsvold constitution, drafted, voted on and passed by the people long before the rest of Europe knew what had happened."

In an increasing degree the principles of the Eidsvold constitution became a vital force in the developments in every field of useful endeavour, until Norway in her government, in social order, in education, and in the art and sciences had attained a place in the front rank of democratic nations. So it was up till that fatal April night of 1940, and so it will continue now that Norway again is free.

Though Norway through all these years of occupation in every respect was exploited, though the ruins of Northern Norway still are smouldering, it may take years before all her wounds are healed, we know she has also gained something, deeper faith, deeper love and deeper understanding. Norway will now and always remain the arsenal of the spirit of freedom, liberty and democracy, and her people know, even as they wanted to take away from them their dear homeland, it is theirs today more than ever.

The ties of good friendship, of mutual respect, so natural and so important during the war years between Canada and Norway will for their own safety and for the good and welfare of all also in the future walk together in majesty, in truth, in freedom, in justice and in peace.

As lovers of these ideals, as men and women of goodwill, we SALUTE THE PEOPLE OF NORWAY on this, their historic INDEPENDENCE DAY, THE SEVENTEENTH OF MAY!

DIVORCEE JILTED HAIR NOW WHITE

SYDNEY, Australia. — A 45-year old divorcee claimed in the Supreme Court that her hair had turned white after her 60-year old lover had jilted her.

The divorcee, Mrs. Linda Crowley of Sydney, said that her hair turned white with shock when Leslie Dive, manufacturer, of Sydney, married another woman in February, 1945.

Mrs. Crowley said she had known Dive since 1937, had become engaged to him in 1940 and had kept breaking off the engagement and putting off the wedding.

She was granted $500 damages for breach of promise.

The Experts Say - -

SAVING CEREALS—Since the start of the "Save the Food" campaign food authorities have taken several major steps toward syphoning of surplus cereals so that famine areas can have some of it. Here are some of the steps. The government has made available an additional 15,000,000 bushels of oats and approximately 2,500,000 bushels of lower grade wheat for shipment to the hunger areas. In order to bring into the market all available supplies of wheat the government has modified income tax arrangements in such a way as to prevent the farmer from suffering by the immediate sale of stored grain. Since April 1 farmers can count the price of wheat they had not intended to sell at this time into their 1946, 1947 or 1948 income for tax purposes, as they wish. To release wheat for export a 10 per cent reduction has been made in the supply of wheat for domestic milling, on the basis of purchases during 1945 and the wheat available to distiller has been cut by 50 per cent, also on the basis of 1945. In addition to these measures affecting wheat, voluntary surrender of surplus meat coupons has the authority and backing of the Prices Board since every coupon surrendered means one coupon's worth of meat is shipped to famine areas within a few days. Victory gardens are getting as much encouragement this year as last, but the 1946 gardens help win victory over hunger instead of the Axis. The more feed you produce the more there is to share with others.

The Pioneers' Home building fund will profit by the proceeds of a bridge party sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club in the Civic Centre upstairs lounge last night. Twenty tables were in play in the attractively decorated rooms. Welcoming the guests were Mrs. Jocelyn Bolton, club president, and Alderman Nora Arnold, honorary president, while club treasurer Miss Jeannette McMullen was in charge of the door. Winners of the ladies' and men's first prizes were Miss Dorothy O'Neill and S. F. Parker. A novelty prize, a pound of butter, was won by Mrs. W. A. McBroom. The two adjoining lounge rooms in which the games were played were colorful with tulips, VICTORY GARDENS—Dietitians have discovered that a Victory Garden often produces more than one thought possible at first and getting the produce consumed while it is fresh and in season can become a problem. Radishes attracted their attention this week and they experimented with cooked radishes. We all know the delightful flavor of the raw vegetables, some may even remember nostalgically the French custom of splitting and buttering them but it is surprising how few of us cook them. The drawback to cooking is that they lose their bright red color; it fades to a delicate pink so they look like tiny turnips. They taste like mild turnips, too.

CREAMED RADISHES—This recipe for creamed radishes is one the dietitians liked best of those they tried:

Three cups of prepared radishes, two tablespoons of mild flavored fat, two tablespoons of flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 1/2 cups of milk and a few grains of cayenne.

Wash the radishes and if they are large cut them in half or strips. If small leave them whole. Cook until tender in a small amount of boiling salted water (about eight minutes). Melt fat in a pan and stir in flour and salt. Add milk gradually, stirring until thick. Add cayenne. Pour sauce over the hot drained radishes and garnish with paprika. This makes six servings.

ALWAYS READY FOR HER MEALS

SCIENCE has proved there are certain food elements everyone needs for health. If there aren't enough of them in a child's food, serious things can happen—such as loss of appetite, stunted growth, soft bones, poor teeth, faulty nerves, defective eyesight.

Ovaltine supplements the diet with elements frequently deficient in ordinary foods. Three servings of Ovaltine furnish a significant portion of a child's daily requirements of Vitamins A, B, D, Riboflavin (G) and Niacin and Minerals Calcium, Phosphorus and Iron.

In addition it provides the basic food substances—complete proteins to build muscle, nerve and body cells—high-energy foods for vitality and endurance. It thus acts as an insurance against food deficiencies that retard normal growth.

So if your child eats poorly, is thin, underpar, perhaps nervous, why not try delicious Ovaltine for normal growth and better appetite.

"WHAT!"

I CATCH ALLIGATORS FOR A LIVING?"

No wonder she is astonished at the idea. Yet, catching alligators has something to do with filling her pay envelope.

In a little tropical town, where the sun stands straight overhead at noon, alligator skins are a source of income. But while they can grow fine alligators, they cannot make paper. And in this far away town you will find Canadian paper being used for printing, wrapping and stationery . . . just as it is in many other places throughout the world.

So the alligator skins are shipped to Canada to make belts and bags, and this provides dollars for the tropical country to buy paper from us.

That's why the little lady who types letters all day for the paper company is deeper into the alligator-catching business than she suspects. She's in the banana and pineapple business, too . . . and many others she never thinks about.

But then . . . so are YOU . . . for at least 35 cents out of every dollar you earn comes because Canada buys and sells goods in other countries. Stop and think what it means. Over one-third of your income—more than you spend on food for the family—comes from Canadian export and import trade.

HOW YOU CAN CREATE GOOD TIMES

Because foreign trade plays such a big part in your life, and makes jobs and wages for you . . . of course you will want to see it grow.

Therefore if you have to wait a while, because merchandise you want is being sold abroad . . . your patience will help. And if you happen to be helping to produce any article for foreign trade, put your best into it . . . for it is a little part of Canada. That will help, too.

* Everyone who buys or sells merchandise abroad makes jobs in Canada. That is why we have a Foreign Trade Service in the Department of Trade and Commerce. It maintains able trade commissioners in 26 countries, and an experienced export and import staff at head office, to collect the most up-to-date information on foreign markets and give practical help to every business that wishes to buy or sell in other countries.

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Q. Is one under financial obligation when a friend offers to lend one his apartment while he is on an extended trip?

A. Yes; all running household expenses must be paid during this period, broken articles replaced, and if there are any servants they should be paid.

Q. In what way can a child be trained to become orderly?

A. By insisting that he put away his clothes and his toys in a neat, orderly way. This is the very best training, and he is never too young to be taught.

Q. Is it all right to take children to a town or country club?

A. No, it is better not to do so.

This matter to stand over until the fall.

The retiring secretary, Mrs. J. C. Gilker, who has given so much of her time in furthering the affairs of the association, was given a hearty vote of thanks.

First Report of Convention

Mrs. Earl Becker, the delegate to the provincial conference of P. T. A. held at Easter in Vancouver, gave a very informative and interesting and detailed report of the conference. She brought back many ideas suitable for this P.T.A. The meeting heartily thanked her for the splendid report she gave.

Music was supplied in vocal solos by Mrs. B. Higgins assisted at the piano by Mrs. J. C. Gilker.

Refreshments were served by social conveners Mrs. J. Hardin and Mrs. R. Munro.

"Our Vines Have Tender Grapes" Has Three-Day Run at Capitol Theatre

One of the outstanding dramas of the year, "Our Vines Have Tender Grapes," opened today at the Capitol Theatre here for a three-day engagement. It has been a widely discussed picture and local moviegoers have been awaiting its arrival here with keen anticipation. Expectation is that it will draw large crowds to the Capital.

The theme is a novel one and is replete with alternate sequences of simple joys and pathos connected with life in a Norwegian farming community in Wisconsin where life is ordinarily peaceful and stable although there are vicissitudes which make the way for play in the dramatic aspects of the film.

Edward G. Robinson, as a hard-working, thrifty farmer, and Margaret O'Brien as his little daughter, head the cast which also features James Craig, as a country editor, and Frances Gifford as the pretty school teacher, Agnes Moorehead is the mother and Jackie (Butch) Jenkins is outstanding in the second child role of the picture.

The picture is based on the widely read novel of the same name.

ROMSEY, England (AP)—R. A. Peppercall, chief regional marketing officer of the milk marketing board here, said it may be possible to supply cream in a year's time.
