Great Britain Drastically Cutting Expenditures - Increasing Services

Budget Presented Today Presents Hopeful Picture

Budget Presented by Hugh Dalton Presents More Hopeful Picture

LONDON (CP) — Rt. Hon. Hugh Dalton, Chancellor of the Exchequer, presenting the budget today, announced United Kingdom expenditures during the coming fiscal year would be reduced by thirty-one percent. They will be £3,837,000,000 which is £1,728,000,000 less than a year ago. Mr. Dalton expects to be not far short of balancing the budget this year but he added that his estimates were based on obtaining the $3,750,000,000 loan from the United States and, if it should not be forthcoming, there will have to be some drastic cuts, especially in imports.

However, prospects for the year were "less dismal" than might have been expected. The budget provides for increased education, milk supply for children, old age pensions, family allowances and social services.

One document was a message from Churchill dated February 15, 1941, expressing concern that "the Japanese mean to make war on us or do something that would compel us to make war on them during the next few weeks or months."

The ceremony of renaming will take place on the occasion of the first anniversary next Monday of the death of President Roosevelt. The hill has as its central features a large sports ground, which has long been the venue of Prince Rupert's outdoor sports, a large gymnasium, which the city expects to acquire from the United States government, and the Exhibition Building. The main city reservoir is also situated on the hill.

Under the present system, Canada keeps thirty-five per cent of her lumber supply for the domestic market. If the embargo should be lifted it would mean American companies could ship entire blocks of lumber out of Canada from crown timber land leased to them.

VIMY BATTLE 29 YEARS AGO

Veterans of World War I recall that today is the anniversary of a glorious and costly moment in Canadian history—the opening of the Battle of Vimy Ridge on April 9, 1917. Persia Is Undecided

Soviet Boycott of Council Is Ended

NEW YORK — Russia ended its boycott of the United Nations security council today with the announcement by Ambassador Andrei Gromyko, who walked out last week, that he would resume attendance today. When asked if the Iranian question would come up he said: "Ask the President. He knows the agenda."

NEW YORK (CP) — The world security council seems to be on the verge of a new crisis over Russia's repeated demand that it drop the Iranian case.

Foreign diplomats in Moscow are saying that the Soviet Union was not "fooling" in its latest message to the United Nations—that it fully expects the council to take hands off. If the council does not, say the diplomats, the Russians will interpret that as being most "unfriendly." This view was based upon what the informants believed were reliable reports in Moscow that Premier Quavam would recommend to the council that the dispute be removed from its agenda.

When asked yesterday in Tehran if Premier Quavam supported the Soviet demand for withdrawal of the Iranian-Russian case from the agenda of the United Nations security council, the Iranian propaganda minister said that "action on Gromyko's request is entirely a security council matter."

However, one cabinet minister said privately that he believed, "in view of the friendly relations existing between Persia and Russia," Quavam will agree to dropping the case from the agenda.

DUMP EXPLODES, SCORES INJURED

SAIGON, French Indo-China — A giant French ammunition dump on the northern outskirts of Saigon exploded yesterday and two hours later a shattering series of explosions was still rocking the city. Truckloads of wounded, including women, children and French servicemen, were still streaming to city hospitals at noon.

More than 60 persons officially were reported to have been admitted to hospitals in the half hour following the first blast, but hospital officials said they lost count after that.

An official statement said that the blast was due to an accident.

WORKERS ARE HIRED HERE

Of more than 40 men now doing preliminary construction work for the new pig iron and steel smelter at Anxox about a dozen have been hired from Prince Rupert according to Unemployment Insurance officer E. Three local men sailed on the Catala Sunday night to take employment at Anxox where workmen are busy erecting accommodations and repairing the existing power house. They sailed on the Catala as far as Kincolith then transferred to a small boat to complete the journey. They were F. W. Revell, A. Arnould and J. Mihalenko.

Good Start for 'Teen-Agers

The civic centre administration is, evidently, going all out in making facilities available for the activities of the 'teen-agers of Prince Rupert and it is now up to the latter to avail themselves accordingly.

The 'teen-agers as an organization, are getting a better start in Prince Rupert than have those in the most of other places where finding of suitable premises has presented difficulties which taxed their enthusiasm, effort and ingenuity. Here there is none of that. In fact, the 'teen-agers are being handed a silver platter in some ways and we shall now see if they are appreciative and capable of making the fullest use of the splendid opportunity for organization.

No longer can it be said that there is "nowhere to go" and "nothing to do" as far as the 'teen-agers are concerned. The community has really done something for them and now it is for them to go the rest of the way. We have no doubt they are just as able and interested in doing so, as are the 'teen-agers who have done so much for themselves in other places.

Poor Speller's Lament

Did you know there is no such thing as pingpong? The name is Ping-pong.

To coin a paraphrase: Oh, English, thy name is inconsistency. And the truth of this statement those who speak it seldom realize. To be correct you should spell it flatcar, but flat tire; one-way but halfway; un-equalled but unequally; holdup and setup but make-up and tie-up.

There's little reason—although plenty of rhyme—in the spelling of the English language. The worst mischief-makers are those little fellows, the hyphens. They bob-up and bob down in words just like gremlins grinning and hiding behind a board fence, with utter disregard of logic, good sense, convenience, and the 40-hour week. Yet they are just as much a part of the spelling as ie and ei. There is manhole, but man-hour; prewar, but pre-eminent, mother-of-pearl, but right of way and port of call.

Those little hyphens et al require more editors on carefully edited newspapers for the purpose of preserving the purity—or the status quo—of the language.

We are not demanding an overhaul of the ably edited Webster's Dictionary or of the multifaceted English language itself. But, well—how do you spell it?

Taxation Stifling Business

Business can be hurt by too heavy taxation, but there has been a marked tendency in recent years to tax the right to carry on business, especially in the corporate form, says the Royal Bank of Canada Monthly Letter for April. The Royal Commission which reported in 1940 is quoted as saying the complexity of corporation taxation "is beyond belief."

The bank article, which discusses the basis and imposition of income tax, says in part:

"Taxation is the chief means by which a government obtains funds, and the tax represents a compulsory transfer of wealth from the individual to society. Wrapped up in this transfer is the danger that imposition of a tax may discourage production in private industry, because there will be less left for industry to spend on expansion of its facilities and less for individuals to invest in productive enterprise. This has to be taken into consideration as governments decide how much they should spend, how much they should borrow, and how much they should collect in taxes. Taxes are determined in the main by government expenditures. Some are forced, as in the case of war, for the country's preservation. Others are incurred by choice, such as social security expenditures and the amounts spent on public works. The inclination in late years is for people to seek satisfaction of more and more of their wants out of the public exchequer, and the state strives to meet these demands out of increased taxes. . . .

"Since excessive taxation damps down enterprise, initiative and effort, it is advisable to make sure the income tax is carefully integrated to the whole life of the country. This is just as necessary if a view is taken from the government's strong box as from the office of a business executive, because as a tax or tariff becomes completely absorbing, by its very nature it ceases to produce revenue. Industry is a living, progressing thing, and cannot be limited permanently to profits earned in a base period if it is to provide for the material wants of the people and the pecuniary wants of the government. It needs a continual supply of new capital, and over-taxation of individuals or corporations will kill the goose that lays the golden eggs. This seems obvious, but legislators and factions are often short-sighted as to the ultimate consequences of legislation. All idealistic visions to the contrary notwithstanding, the foundation of productive enterprise is laid through energy, skill, thrift and expansion, and care must be taken not to paralyze these virtues through indiscreet taxation.

"To make the income tax consistent with justice and good sense, it should neither add to the hardships of those in the lower brackets nor detract from the achievements of those in the upper range. Governments should be prepared to answer criticism of taxes of all kinds by pointing to necessary things done for the good of all society. Otherwise, they may find a lesson in an episode from Greek history: When Themistocles went to Andros seeking money, he warned that he had brought with him two goddesses, Persuasion and Force. He was answered that they, also, had two great goddesses, who prohibited them from giving him any money. They were Poverty and Impossibility."

BISHOP RECEIVES CHURCHILL PORTRAIT PRESENTED TO R.C.A.F. BENEVOLENT FUND

Flown from Britain to New York for Winston Churchill's signature, the first impression of the color portrait of Britain's wartime prime minister, is handed over to Air Marshal "Billy" Bishop, who received the collector's item on behalf of the R.C.A.F. Benevolent Fund, which he presides. Making the presentation is David Waddington, former R.A.F. aircraftsman, whose flowing red beard is as well known as his color portraits. In addition to portraying Churchill, Waddington has had special sittings granted him by His Majesty the King and prominent R.A.F. personalities. He is the originator of the idea of using color pictures to benefit air force funds, at the same time commemorating those who distinguished themselves in the service.

Impressions Of Tourists

Prince Rupert Would Be Well Advised to Institute Properly Organized Tours For Visitors

Importance of making a favorable impression upon tourists who will start visiting Prince Rupert again this summer in large numbers was emphasized by J. M. Alderson, general agent, British Columbia Steamships, who was a visitor in the city yesterday afternoon during the stay of the Princess Adelaide. The tourist remembers a place by what he is able to do and see and there is no more effective means of publicity—favorable or otherwise—than the accounts which the tourists take home after their trips and pass along by word of mouth. If they have something interesting to talk about, something leaving happy recollections, it is of great value in favorably publicizing the community concerned.

As for Prince Rupert, Mr. Alderson threw out the suggestion that one thing that might be done here would be the arrangement of properly organized and conducted motor tours for the visitors who would be arriving on the various tourist steamers. Enterprising bus or taxi concerns would be well repaid and would also be doing a good service to the city by arranging tours of points of interest—industrial, scenic, historic and business. The people who came here would then be able to go away feeling that they really knew something about Prince Rupert, rather than having gained only an unfavorable, haphazard impression. "The average tourist appreciates some interest being taken in him, some gesture being made to welcome and give him attention, simple as it might be," Mr. Alderson said. "It pays off, too, in the favorable publicity that is thereby derived."

Prince Rupert henceforth would have a new appeal to the Americans, who comprise 96 to 97 per cent of the tourists who cruise this coast, Mr. Alderson said, through the fact that so many thousands of American soldiers had been posted or had passed through here during the war. "American people will be keenly interested in seeing the place where their boys had been on war service," he said. "The fact that the Stars and Stripes had been here is something you might well capitalize on with the tourists."

Mr. Alderson mentioned among other things, how keenly interested the average tourist was in things historical. A comprehensive museum was always a centre of interest.

What City Council Did

City council last night showed no enthusiasm in regard to an offer by War Assets Corporation for the city to purchase several naval buildings, including the naval garage on Second Avenue. The naval officers ward room or the drill hall were not included in the buildings offered.

Council last night approved a recommendation of the licensing committee that a by-law be drawn up authorizing the registration and licensing of bicycles in the city.

On recommendation of the board of works, city council authorized the city engineer to extend the new Fourth Avenue East sewer to cover any additional lots that can be conveniently served by the installation.

On recommendation of the social assistance committee, council approved the payment of $10.80 to the Children's Aid Society, Victoria, for 1946.

Approval was given by council to a report of the licensing committee reporting that a contractor's license had been issued to M. J. Keays.

Approved by council was a report of the social assistance committee announcing the purchase of a kitchen range and automatic toaster for the Pioneers' Home and the receipt of a stretcher for the home, donated by Salvation Army War Services.

Council approved a report by finance committee which granted an option to H. A. Nelson to December 31, 1946, to purchase lots 7 and 8, block 3, section 1, on First Avenue at Eighth Street, for $590, in consideration of the payment of $59.

A request by the Prince Rupert Public Relations Council that the city should "paint and improve" the totem poles was left over to consideration of estimates on motion of Alderman Arnold.

Council last night approved the granting of the Easter holiday for the city hall staff from Thursday night to Tuesday morning, eliminating the necessity to open the City Hall on the Saturday morning preceding Easter. This is in line with the custom of other years.

Mayor H. M. Daggett, City Clerk H. D. Thain and Alderman Nora Arnold were named administrators of the estate of Cliff Ford; left to the city for charitable purposes among servicemen. The estate consists of city property valued at $27,000.

LETTERBOX

MOB INTELLIGENCE
Editor, Daily News.—
It is not often that the leading press deviates from the straight and narrow path of praising the upholders of law and order but the thirty-fifth anniversary of the Battle of Kelly's Cut was an occasion when such a thing could really happen. This historic event was, no doubt, seductive in view of the fact that the attacking party lacked modern weapons and the offensive was not planned, save by some bright "Pinkerton."
Anyway the tale has been hashed and rehashed until the only really tangible fact remaining is that a mob acts with the intelligence of a four-year-old. Hoping that these lines will eventually find a place in your valuable paper.

FIND UNDER CARRIER ACT

Pleading guilty to a charge of driving on the highway without a motor carrier permit, Joseph Van Walleghem was fined $10 by Magistrate W. D. Vance in police court. The charge was laid under the Motor Carriers Act.

Typical of newspaper support to worthwhile causes was the raising, through public subscription, of over $17,000 to buy and furnish a home for a blind veteran and his family in Canton, Ohio.

CO-OP WOULD HELP BUILD ACCESS ROAD

Seeking to obtain a road to the new Westview fishermen's floats and the site of their new cold storage and fish handling plant, Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative Association has offered to co-operate with the city to get the job done by the end of the year.

A letter before council last night from T. H. Sorenson, Co-operative manager and secretary, pleaded the urgency of getting road access to the site at Casey Point at which the floats are being built, and where the Fishermen's Co-operative has spent thousands of dollars on installations.

Council passed a motion to inform the Co-operative that the city engineer is already under instructions to seek the most suitable location for the road and that this would be done as soon as a surveyor is available.

Alderman Hills, speaking to the motion, impressed council with the need to get the road built so that the new floats and plant could be of full benefit to the fishermen.

"I know that we are thinking of making concessions to outside industries," he said, "I believe that we should also look after those we have."

Alderman Rudderham told council that he did not think that the Co-operative should have to assist in building the road, that it was in the interests of the whole city that it should be constructed.

Meantime Owen left San Antonio, Texas, by automobile yesterday after a telephone conversation with Branch Rickey of the Brooklyn Dodgers. Owen declined to say whether he would sign a new contract with the Dodgers but it was thought he would.

Takes Series From Hollywood Wolves and Will Now Meet Boston Olympics

VANCOUVER — Paul Thompson's Vancouver Canucks won the Pacific Coast Hockey League championship last night and the right to meet Boston Olympics for the United States senior hockey championship by downing Hollywood Wolves three to one here. The Canucks took the best of seven series four games to one. The series with Boston will commence here Friday night.

SHORT SPORT

Curtain is drawing down on the basketball season in Prince Rupert as spring advances and the lengthening evenings attract the people outside rather than inside. Intermediate and Junior League activities, which except for the Prince Rupert-Ketchikan series have kept the game alive during the past winter, are coming to a close. A highlight culminating event, of course, will be the Ocean Falls-Prince Rupert boys' and girls' series being arranged for Easter Week in Prince Rupert when a cup, now held by the local boys, will be at stake.

One of the great outfielders of the past decade, Joe Medwick, has been given his unconditional release by the St. Louis Browns. Medwick recently was let go by the Boston Braves and was receiving a trial by the Browns. He was a star on the St. Louis Cardinal team for years, was traded to the Brooklyn Dodgers and then continued on to the New York Giants and finally, the Braves.

Group Captain Douglas Bader, legless hero of the Battle of Britain, will be among the starters in the British amateur golf championships late this month. He has a handicap of four, which is the limit of the tournament.

Canadian amateur boxers have until midnight, May 4, to file entries for the 1946 Canadian boxing championships. An official of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, Dennis White, says entries will be received until that date. The championships are being held in Montreal for three days starting May 6. Competition will be held in all divisions from flyweight to heavyweight.

Herman Keiser Is Winner at Augusta

AUGUSTA, Georgia — Herman Keiser's victory Sunday in the Augusta, Georgia, Masters Golf Tournament, marked the first time the comparatively unknown Akron, Ohio, pro had ever won a major tournament. Even then, it was just by the narrowest margin—one stroke. Veteran Ben Hogan, the pre-tournament favorite, finished second with a 283 total.

CALGARY WINS OVER SMOKIES

Deadlock in Western Canada Allan Cup Semi-Finals Broken Last Night

CALGARY — The Calgary Stampede last night came roaring back to the form which led them to the championship of the Western Canada Senior Hockey League and went one up on Trail Smoke Eaters in the best of seven Western Canada senior hockey finals by downing the Trail Smoke Eaters seven to three here. The teams had played two draws—one all and four all—in the first two games. The fourth game will be played at Edmonton Wednesday night. The winners of this series will meet Hamilton Tigers in the Allan Cup finals.

Hamilton won the eastern final last night by defeating Montreal Royals two to one at Hamilton, scoring three straight victories.

It was one of the greatest upsets in Allan Cup playdown history as Hamilton won the eastern final from the highly-regarded Royals. The victory qualified the Tigers for the Allan Cup final against either the Calgary Stampede or Trail Smoke Eaters. The Tigers' winning goal was scored with less than five minutes to go.

The first game of the Allan Cup final will be played in Regina on April 18. The dates and venues of the subsequent games of the best-of-seven series to decide the Canadian senior amateur hockey championship will be decided after completion of the western Canada final.

TRAFFIC IN DRESDEN RUINS—An attractive German woman is seen here in the rubble-strewn, bomb-blasted city of Dresden. Due to the acute power shortage, the frauleins, most of them beautiful, have been relegated to handle the city's traffic. Dresden is in the danger zone and this is one of the first photos to come out of the area.

COUNCIL PASSES AGREEMENT ON BUS FRANCHISE

Granting of a franchise for the operation of buses in the city to Black and White Transportation Co. came a step closer last night when city council approved the signing of an agreement with the company governing the rules of operation. Of course, to the approval of the property holders in the city.

The agreement, based on the transportation company's ten-year agreement to city council two weeks ago, will be submitted to provincial Public Utilities Commission before it is given its approval as a by-law by council. It will be of five years' duration.

Following the first reading, the agreement will be presented to the city's property holders by council for approval or rejection.

The company will give the seven per cent of its gross earnings on a monthly basis. The company will post a bond of $1,500.

Bus fares will be reduced to allow adults eleven cents and children six cents. Schedules will be based on an hourly service, with modifications during slack times and holidays.

The company proposes two main routes to those now operating—one to Hays Cove and Seventh and Fifth streets, and another to serve Westview district.

The baby pulled brother's hair until he yelled from the pain of it. The mother soothed the weeping boy. "Of course, she doesn't know how badly it hurts." Then she left the room.

She hurried back presently on hearing frantic squalling from the baby. "What in the world is the matter with her?" she questioned anxiously.

"Nothing at all," brother replied contentedly. "Only now she knows!"

SNOW SLOWS BUSH WORK

Olof Hanson Says He Has Never Seen It So Deep

Never in the 39 years that he has been in Central B. C. has the snow lain so deep so late in the spring, says Olof Hanson, head of the Hanson Lumber Co. of Smithers, who is a business visitor in the city.

"There is between two and three feet of snow lying in the valley at Smithers and it is delaying logging and farming operations," he said. "If a sudden thaw comes I am afraid we might get a big flood."

Snow has been responsible for the considerable decrease in the pole and piling cut in the interior area last month, he added.

Mr. Hanson arrived in the city on Saturday night's train from Terrace where he attended a meeting of the Terrace Board of Trade. He will be here on business for a few days.

The agreement was approved with the addition of a clause which required the construction of a minimum of at least four shelters at bus stops.

GARDEN 'NOTEBOOK

Really Tender Vegetables— Practically any vegetable taken right out of the garden at the door will be infinitely tastier than those out of can or store-house, but as any experienced gardener knows there is a vast difference between those properly grown and the other kind. The real secret of tender vegetables is quick, unchecked growth. To get this means planting at the proper time, not too early with tender things that frost or cold may check, and then they must be harvested when just right. Old gardeners push growth along quickly with plenty of cultivation, fertilizer, and water when necessary, and if possible. They also spread sowings out over at least several weeks so that young stuff is coming along continuously. Another trick they use is to plant several different types, an early maturing sort, a medium and a late. In the seed catalogue usually will be listed the number of days to maturity. Thus we can purchase, say, peas that will be ready for the table in 50 days, some in 60 and some in 70. By using some of all three there will be a succession of good

Seasonable Ideas for Housekeepers

"Variety" Meats Are Of Interest To Family

Give the family a treat. Serve piquant dishes prepared from "variety" meats. These include liver, heart, kidney, tongue, sweetbreads and brains. You will find these meats not only delicious, but also economical. Each has its own characteristic flavor and texture and each has its own method of preparation.

However, "variety" meats have one thing in common—their perishability. Do not store for any length of time. Brains and sweetbreads spoil very quickly so should be pre-cooked as soon as purchased.

Liver is probably the best known of all the "variety" meats. Its distinctive flavor can be utilized to advantage by combining with other foods, such as bacon, mushrooms, tomatoes, onions and other vegetables. It is not necessary to sear liver before cooking, but for grinding or chopping, scalded liver is easier to handle. Liver is usually broiled or pan-fried. To retain its natural, delicious flavor, do not overcook.

Sweetbreads and brains are spoken of in the same breath, since they are prepared in similar ways. They are pre-cooked in salted water, to which vinegar has been added to whiten and to give a firm texture. They are both exceptionally good creamed, scrambled with eggs or served in a salad.

"Variety" meats they require a long, slow cooking, using moist heat. A large beef heart will require 4 hours' cooking and will serve ten to 12 persons. Port, lamb and veal hearts should be cooked 2 to 2½ hours. A lamb heart makes a generous individual serving; a veal heart will serve two and a pork heart one to two persons.

The home economists have been doing some experimental work on "variety" meats and recommend their favorites.

Calves Tongues
4 cups water
2 or 3 stalks of celery with leaves
1 onion, sliced
2 carrots
1 bay leaf
6 to 8 peppercorns
1½ teaspoons salt
1 tablespoon vinegar
2 calves tongues

Boil together for 3 minutes the water, celery, onion, carrots, bay leaf, peppercorns, salt and vinegar. Lower temperature to simmering and add calves tongues. Continue to simmer until tongues are tender, about 1½ hours. Remove the skin. Drain stock and thicken with flour, which has been mixed to a smooth paste in cold water. Season with salt and pepper and 1 teaspoon grated horseradish. Six servings.

Liver and Sausage Loaf
1 pound liver
1 onion, chopped
½ pound sausage meat
1 cup dry bread crumbs

1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ teaspoon pepper
2 eggs, beaten slightly
½ cup tomato juice

Fricassee Heart
1 beef heart (or 3 calves hearts)
½ cup flour
3 tablespoons fat (melted)
2 onions, sliced
1 cup diced carrots
1 cup canned tomatoes or tomato juice
1 cup hot water
1 teaspoon salt

Wash and clean hearts. Cut into ¼-inch cubes. If beef heart is used, slice and simmer for 30 minutes before cubing. Roll cubes in flour and brown in hot fat. Place in heavy saucepan or Dutch oven. Add onion slices, carrots, tomatoes, hot water and salt. Cover tightly and simmer for 3 to 3½ hours. More water may have to be added from time to time during the cooking period. Thicken gravy with flour mixed with cold water. Six servings.

H. G. Wells attributed the decline and fall of the Roman Empire to the lack of newspapers since there was no method of exchanging information between Rome and outlying regions.

Roast loin of lamb should prove a popular choice for ushering in another week of good eating. It calls for a flavor partner of mint jelly or sauce, and in honour of Saint Patrick serve a green vegetable favorite. On Monday the cold meat will team pleasantly with a fluffy combine of mashed potato and turnip and a dish of creamed celery. Well suited to the meatless Tuesday fashion are crisp waffles topped with creamed eggs and accompanied by some colorful vegetables to keep your family vitamin and mineral healthy. Braised short ribs of beef will provide a succulent meal for Wednesday, and sausages are a token-penny-wise purchase for Thursday. For Friday a jellied fish loaf centering a platter of salad greens would bring an amount of spring to the table, and could be preceded by bowls of warming soup. Minute steaks make a quickly prepared and taste-tantalizing meal for Saturday. Remaining will be two tokens to augment your purchases for the unexpected quest, or to aid your lunch-time problems.

COUNCIL GYMS
BY JIM NAST

ADULT PROGRAM — Tonight marks the beginning of the National Film Board movies to be shown every Tuesday at the Civic Centre with M. J. Harper in charge. Scheduled for tonight is an all-technicolor picture entitled "Plywood—The Miracle of Wood." This is a 45-minute movie which includes scenes from Hollywood. The technicolor pictures present the story of plywood from its beginning in the forests to the finished article. This film should be of exceptional interest to British Columbians in view of the province's lumber industry. The other film to be shown is called "New Scotland" and portrays the life of the Scots of Nova Scotia. This picture is a mixture of the old and the new. It shows the customs of the descendants of the sturdy pioneers from the north who came to the new land, bringing with them many of the Old World Ways. These films are for adults only.

GYM CLASSES—4:30 to 5:30. Junior boys class in the gym. BASKETBALL—Some exciting league games are promised for tonight at 6:30 in the "Centre" gymnasium.

"The newspapers, a local medium, give the closest contact with point of sale," states Bernard C. Duffy, president of Batten, Barton, Durstine & Osborn, advertising agency.

TWO MORE VETS
BUY CITY LOTS

Two more Prince Rupert veterans have taken advantage of the opportunity to purchase city owned lots at half their assessed value in order to build homes. Original sale agreement is for the full value of the lots, subject, however, to a rebate of 50 per cent providing a start is made at home construction by the purchaser within a year.

Buyers of adjoining properties of 37½-foot frontage on Fourth Avenue East between Young and Cotton Streets are Earl Gordon, who bought lot 3 and the west half of lot 4, block 4, section 6 for $787.50, and T. A. Johnston, who bought lot 5 and the east half of lot 4, in the same block and section for a similar amount.

Approval of the purchases of the city-owned property was made last night by City Council on recommendation of the finance committee.

Also approved was the sale of lots 9 and 10, block 13, section 1—on First Avenue between First and Second Streets—to A. E. Ferguson for $390.

FRIENDS HONOR
ENGLISH BRIDE

An English war bride, recently arrived in Prince Rupert, was guest of honor at a gathering given Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Stuart, 841 Summit Avenue. The informal gathering honored Mrs. Ruby Norton, bride of Don Norton, a local man who is now in the Customs service at Stewart. Mrs. Norton arrived in Canada recently on the Mauretania with her small son Robert, and was met in Edmonton last week by Mrs. A. E. Norton, mother of her husband.

On behalf of the guests, Mrs. Stuart presented Mrs. Norton with many lovely gifts, and following the presentation refreshments were served.

Musical entertainment was provided by Rusty Cameron who also provided the accompaniment for the fine exhibition of solo dancing by Donald Blake.

Mrs. Norton and Robert sailed on the Catala Monday to join her husband at Stewart.

Mrs. Alfred Dahlberg returned Monday afternoon on the Princecess Adelaide after spending a two-months' holiday with relatives and friends in Edmonton, Penticton and Vancouver.
