LABOR DAY

ON THE APPROACH of another Labor Day, it is natural if the people of Canada are concerned about the present industrial relations picture which, with strikes and threats of strikes, is anything but a pretty one. Indeed, there is nothing to be very jubilant about this Labor Day. It might rather be a day for sober reflection and resolve that thoughts and efforts should be directed towards the immediate end that another Labor Day should have more happy aspects than those which prevail on this.

It is a day this time for Labor and Capital alike to earnestly consider the responsibilities they owe each to the other and to the common weal in times when, instead of uncertainty and strife, there should be mutual work and effort in the tasks of reconversion from the conditions of war to those of peace.

Unfortunately, it seems today that, having finished for the time being at least the fighting of an enemy without, we are now engaged in the unseemingly and very dangerous business of fighting bitterly among ourselves. That is the sad picture this Labor Day.

ROOSEVELT PARK

ON MONDAY they will rename Acropolis Hill, scenic height of the city of Prince Rupert, Franklin D. Roosevelt Park. International dignitaries are coming to town. Withal there will be quite a celebration.

Nature has provided at Acropolis Hill as admirable site as any city could desire for the making of a beautiful park. Now, to permanently memorialize the historical association of this commanding ground with the presence of American forces at Prince Rupert during the Battle of the Pacific, the city of Prince Rupert has presumed to honor the spot with the name of a great champion and friend of humanity and democracy.

So it might not be out of place on the eve of the dedication that the ceremony be thought of as something more than a glorified publicity gag or a careless celebration, the responsibilities in connection with which will be over after the service has been carried out and the partying concluded.

Roosevelt Park today, it must be admitted, except for the natural panoramic view, is not a very prepossessing sight.

In sponsoring and participating in the dedication, the city of Prince Rupert assumes the responsibility of developing around the little memorial cairn which it presumes to mark with the name of Roosevelt a real park worthy of the name and the memories it perpetuates and something which we will be proud to exhibit later to those who will have heard and want to see.

The many prominent people who come here on Monday for the event will be better satisfied if some definite commitment along such lines is made among the words which will be heard. Otherwise, the dedication of Roosevelt Park will be nothing more than so much ballyhoo.

WELCOME, YANKS!

IT IS MANY YEARS since Prince Rupert, although it had the American Army here in large strength during the war, has had such a long visitation of United States fighting men of the sea as are here with the arrival today of U.S.S. Tucson for a friendly visit in the course of a training cruise. It is the largest American warship ever to visit here.

Capt. Harry Sanders and his four hundred officers and men are welcome in Prince Rupert and we hope their stay will prove an enjoyable one. Prince Rupert people may be trusted, as usual, to do their hospitable part towards making it such.

HOME AND CRIME

"THE WORST criminals in Canada today are between the ages of 16 and 19," according to Lt.-Col. Wallace Bunton, head of The Salvation Army Prison and Police Court Services Department. "The next worst age group is from 19 to 25. Veterans of service with the armed forces have not been responsible for even the share of crime that could be attributed to them on a percentage of population basis," he said.

It is possible to trace back to the home 99 per cent of the major crime in Canada, Col. Bunton declared. This does not always mean poor homes because some criminals come from prosperous homes. Too much severity by parents in some cases, not enough in others, deception of children by parents, the bad example of low-principled parents and broken homes are the background factors that develop young criminals, according to Col. Bunton.

"The home is first, the school second and the church third in the proper upbringing of the young," said Col. Bunton. "Home conditions are reflected in school conduct and where school conduct is bad there should be investigation of home conditions. Then, too, there is not enough church work among young children."

LIFE in this Prince Rupert

by BIDDIE JINKS

There was a sign in a Third Avenue window. Standing behind the glass it read "Pure Strawberry Jam!" Behind that again were just STACKS of jam! Frantically I made a mental tour of my ration books, counting coupons and hoping all the while that there were enough for at least four four-pound tins! Then I bashed down the ugly head that Greed had reared and walked in—with what I hoped was a perfectly innocent expression—humming to myself, "Three—Oh boy—three!" However, respectability must become somewhat habitual, for I distinctly heard by own voice saying, "and one tin of strawberry jam, please!"

Which all brings to mind the time not so long ago when my cupboards held certain vacancies. They weren't quite as bare as old Mother Hubbard's but they WERE jam-bare! That, by the way, is just the opposite to being jam-packed—a phrase I had never looked into until it showed me a clean pair of heels. It happened this way.

I'm one of those people that just love to make preserves, jellies or jams, but that year I didn't make any. The fruit came and went, finding and leaving me in a state of indecision—should I or should I not start my canning? You see, the Wartime Housing was building me a house in Prince Rupert and I was packed, then semi-packed in turn, daily expecting a wire which would read, I thought, something like this: "Dear Madam stop I have your house completed stop PLEASE come at once stop WARTIME HOUSING."

Of course a wire eventually arrived, but not like that, and not from that source! It did bring me westward, however, and with no preserves.

So I was a stranger in town and I didn't look like anybody else on earth and I couldn't get any jam! At first I could still feel hopeful when I finally did get to a clerk. Later, panic swept me for fear my voice would be treacherous with desperation when I tried to say in a I-don't-care manner: "I wonder, do you have any marmalade, molasses, syrup or jam?" I needn't have worried. My voice grew steadier and louder—so that when I reached the jam, people were turning to stare! The reply was automatic: "I'm sorry, Madam, nothing today!"—sometimes while she handed a carefully weighed two pounds of delectable something across the counter to another customer. I couldn't understand it. I was baffled, so I finally quit asking and tried to learn to love plain bread and butter!

Then came a day! My order placed, I am about to leave the store when the proprietor came over. He said something, I must have looked a bit dazed, for he repeated: "Would you like a jar of syrup, Mrs. —? And maybe a small tin of jam?" I pride myself in having a strong will. Even so, it was just nip and tuck that time whether I would stand quietly and politely say: "I should appreciate it very much if you would include those items in my order," or whether I would fling myself upon his neck, laughing and giggling and all the while covering his surprised countenance with lipstick! Once again respectability won!

But so did Greed who was instantly on the scene to whisper: "Don't wait for a delivery." So very tenderly I carried them home where I immediately got a slice of bread and butter and spread it with syrup—good and thick! Then I viewed it from all sides before eating it, very slowly, finding it good to the last smack!

Just the other day that container went in the garbage—the large glass jar with the small metal top, no longer in use. It wasn't being callous—there was really no choice. It was suitable for neither a shellacked or shell-covered vase, nor could it ever be camouflaged into any kind of door-stop. So—I lowered it into the ash-can and reverently placed the cover over it. I tried to be fittingly solemn but the morning sun streamed in through the open door to rest benignly on five pounds of syrup and one tin of Pure Strawberry Jam! Isn't rationing wonderful!

SKINNER BOWLS SINGLES WINNER

Defeats Morgan in Final of Novice Competition

In the final of the singles of the novice bowling competition at the Canadian National Recreation bowling greens, Frank Skinner defeated Bert Morgan by a score of 21-18. Both men played at the top of their form and at no time was there much of a margin between their scores.
However, Skinner was successful in getting the lead and holding to the end to win 21-18.

set in the last race in 1939. Flying a Mustang he made the distance in four hours and forty-two minutes.

ANNUAL BOWLS INTERNATIONAL

One of the features of the bowling season is the annual "international" at the local bowling greens. This will take the form of a Scots team captained by Dave MacPhee against the rest, captained by Sid Thomson.
The trophy at stake is the Mc-Clymont Cup. The Scots are very ambitious and even generous in their attitude towards this encounter. They challenge the rest, that is the pick of the best of all other nationals; and are confident they will be able to down them on Monday afternoon, Labor Day.

Motors Are Two Ahead

Won Over 99 Taxi In Splendid Contested Fastball
Play-off Game by 12-7

In a match featured by hard hitting, keen fielding and good pitching, General Motors took another game from 99 Taxi in the City Fastball play-offs and now need but one more game to win the city championship. The final score was 12-7 with the game called at the end of the eighth inning. The third game will be played Sunday evening at 6 at the Gyro Ball Park. A win for the General Motors will give them the series.

99 Taxi went out in short order in their first visit to the plate whereas General Motors chalked up 3 runs by Simundson, Johnson and Lindsay. However, in the first of the second 99 Taxi started scoring. Smith and Windle with successive 2-bag-gers, a walk to Ratchford, and a two-bagger by Montesano brought in three runs. General Motors went scoreless in the second inning. In the third 99 added two more when Calderone and Beynon scored, Ratchford's 2-bagger bringing Beynon in.
General Motors went scoreless in their half of the third and 99 led by 5-3. In the first of the fourth 99 was scoreless but General Motors got one run in when Howe scored. Don Arney's double and a couple of walks got Beynon in trouble and Schroeder took over. With bases full and none out the situation was full of possibilities but Gurvich took Johnson's fly and made a fine throw to home to get Don Arney at the plate and then Postuk's quick throw to third gave Smith a chance to get Ted Arney out. It was smart work, and 99 heaved a sigh of relief.

In the first of the fifth 99 threatened but Lambie's fine throw to home plate cut off Beynon. In their half of the fifth Lindsay started off with a 2-bagger and he and Davis scored to put the Motors in the lead 6-5. Both went scoreless in the sixth but 99 regained the lead when Windle and Ratchford scored. However Johnson and Davis scored on Davis' 2-bagger and Lambie's single and General Motors was one up.

In the first of the eighth 99 went out in quick order and then General Motors sewed the game up with four runs by Don Arney, Ted Arney, who hit a 2-bagger, Johnson and Lindsay.
The game ended with General Motors winning 12-7.

Lacrosse Feature Monday Evening

Prince Rupert Will Meet Aiyansh Indians at Roosevelt Park Gymnasium

The stage is all set for the lacrosse game on Monday evening at Roosevelt Park gymnasium when the Prince Rupert team will meet the Aiyansh team. The players from Prince Rupert are as follows: Bud Schuman, Harry Sheardown, Charlie Maudrel, Cliff Abercrombie, Al
Nelson "Nipper" Woods, Dave Chapple, Ted Arney, Terry Parsons, Ralph Smith, Lloyd Lahti, Bob Scarfe, Ralph Scarfe and W. Spring.

The local team will be without the services of Erickson who played such a sterling game on defence against the Uganda team, but Coach Woods is very confident that his aggregation will be able to hold its own against the Aiyansh team. The Indians will not arrive till this evening so Dick has had no chance to see them in action but his own players have improved since their game with the Uganda and feel sure they can match anything the visitors will be able to produce.

Seen and Heard in the Bleachers

This was definitely one of the best games of the season, and players, managers and coaches are all to be congratulated. Congratulations are also in order to the umpires. Ross at the plate and Ratchford on the bases.

Both teams played heads-up ball with few errors and many holding features. Houston took a very difficult catch at top speed and low down.

Fitch climbed into foul territory to snag a hard chance, even if a runner on third did come home after the catch.

A great throw by Lambie to home saved a run while Gur-vich's catch and throw to home plate was a fine double event.

Lindsay's drive that hit the wall of the Masonic Temple was one of the biggest hits of the season, though it went for two runs only.

Windle stole home while the opposition were congratulating themselves on an out at second.

Ted Arney pitched a good game. He struck out two, walked six and gave up seven hits for seven runs. His brother was very good behind the plate.

Beynon held the "murderers" row well in hand in the three innings he pitched. He gave up four walks, struck out none and allowed eight hits for four runs.

Schroeder took over in a tight spot and a double-play was a life-saver. He walked one, struck one none, and gave up 9 hits for 4 runs with the last inning the critical one. Postuk did a very good job as catcher.

For 99 Taxi, Windle hit two 2-baggers, Beynon a 3-bagger, and Smith, Ratchford and Montesano a 2-bagger each.

For General Motors, Lindsay hit two 2-baggers and Ted Arner, Joe Davis and Don Arney a 2-bagger apiece.

There was a big crowd and they had full value for their money, even the one who put in a dollar bill and the three who put in 50c each. It was worth it.

The third game is called for Sunday at Gyro Ball Park and if (mark that "if") General Motors win they win the series. 99 is going out to get their first win of the series.

Smiles'n Chuckles

"Those sausages you sent me were meat at one end and bread at the other."

"Yes, ma'am. In these hard times we can't make both ends meet."

Asked to write an essay on water, little Tommy, after chewing his pen-handle for a long time, wrote: "Water is a colorless wet liquid that turns dark when you wash in it."

One evening the young minister, who had seemed rather attracted to Grace, the older daughter, was dining with the family. Mayme, the little sister, was talking rapidly when the visitor was, about to ask the blessing. Turning to the child, he said, "Mayme, I'm going to ask grace."

"Well, it's about time," promptly answered the little girl. "We've been expecting it nearly a year and Grace has too."

Briefs from Britain

SNARESTONE, Leicestershire, Eng. — Bill Ridgeway got his first glimpse of the sea at 80 when he went to the seaside with a church outing.

HINKLEY, Eng. — Albert Alcoat made a tour from here through Wales in a 1904 car without a breakdown.

LONDON — Crops worth £200,000 ($800,000) will be gathered from garden plots along embankments of the London, Midland and Scottish Railway.

SHUSTOKE, Warwickshire, England — Church records here reveal 65 different ways of spelling the village's name.

LONDON — A letter addressed to "One-Eye Road" was correctly delivered to a house on Nelson Road.

EDINBURGH — Prospects are poor for the grouse-shooting season, with reports from the moors that stocks are little better than last season.

MIDDLESBROUGH, England — Work has started on Imperial Chemical Industries' £10,000,000 ($40,000,000) chemical factory scheme at nearby Wilton.

MELTON MOWBRAY, England — A couple married at the parish church were presented with a boot containing 480 threepenny pieces.

Looks Like Ocean Shipping Here—U.S. Cruiser Interesting Visitor—Last Halibut Boats In.

Stirring, on the basis of the slender shreds of information which have come out so far, are hopes that Prince Rupert's big terminal warehouse and ocean dock will be the key to open up this port as a world trading city. So far, the only definite data is the fact that Northwest Salvage Co. of Calgary has queried city council on their attitude toward granting taxation concessions for the two dockside installations should the company make use of them in a shipping project. Naturally, the council could make no commitment on behalf of the citizens on the vague information presented but the representatives of the company made it known that council's willingness to "consider" the matter when more information becomes available will be passed along to the company's backers and the proposition presented to council later. This possibility may come before the expiration of the option which Northwest Salvage is said to have on the dock and warehouse, in October. Local optimism, therefore, is based on the above development and on the statement of Transport Minister Hon. C. D. Howe in Commons this week that Prince Rupert should have ship coal bunkering facilities and a report that a $60,000 shipping subsidy between Prince Rupert and the United Kingdom is included in estimates of the present parliamentary session. If the developing pattern materializes Prince Rupert may achieve its rightful importance in the world trading picture.

Shipping port of scores of United States merchant vessels during the war, Prince Rupert today, nevertheless, welcomes its first United States Navy light cruiser with the arrival this morning of U.S.S. Tucson. The waterfront columnist joins the other citizens of Prince Rupert in welcoming Capt. Saunders and the officers and men of the Tucson. Their visit here is particularly auspicious since it coincides with the dedication of the former American Army cantonment in the name of Franklin D. Roosevelt, late Commander-in-Chief of the United States armed forces, and World War I Undersecretary of the Navy.

As far as can be learned, the last of the Area Three halibut boats have returned to their home ports along the Pacific coast. At least those of the Prince Rupert and Ketchikan fleets are back and, in the case of Prince Rupert, have just completed the biggest season on record, and probably, all-time record. Landings here since the opening of the season on May 1 total more than 14,000,000 pounds, the last half-million of which was added during the last week. Recorded total for the season's catch sold at Prince Rupert is 14,125,500 pounds. Arrivals last week by home-bound Seattle and Vancouver vessels was 525,000 pounds, of which 236,000 came from American boats, and 289 from Canadian. Altogether, both are Area Two and Area Three seasons were satisfactory, fishermen admit, especially for the American boats which sold at higher prices after the O.P.A. ceiling was dropped.

Black cod landings during the week ending Friday totalled 30,000 pounds from two boats.

Several of the Prince Rupert halibut boats which set out to try their luck at tuna fishing after the closing of Area Two in June are back in port with nothing to show for their effort while others are remaining in the south. Among those which have returned are the Arctic, Tramp, Morris H., and Oldfield, while those remaining out in the waters off Victoria, are Toodle, Clipper, Five Princes, Valiant and R.W. Reports from the south indicate that the tuna run now is better than it was earlier in the season.

HOW CAN I ???

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I remove a splinter and avoid soreness?
A. Fill a small bottle up to the neck with hot water. Place over mouth of bottle and press the hand down tightly, so that it is held by suction. Hold the hand this way for a few minutes. The splinter can be easily removed with a needle if the steam does not draw it out.

Q. How can I make a good mahogany polish?

A. Use two tablespoonfuls of olive oil to a dessertspoonful of vinegar. Mix thoroughly, apply with an old flannel, and polish.

Q. How can I remove the scuffed appearance from the toes of brown shoes?

A. Try painting them with iodine and then polish them as usual.
