Ridiculous As Ever

Of course, the Japanese have nothing to lose in making the ridiculous submission before the Far East war crimes tribunal that their surrender was not unconditional, that they do not have to accept all Allied orders and that the surrender was on the understanding that they would not be prosecuted as war criminals. The only answer to such claims is aptly made by the chief prosecutor who dubs them as the "height of absurdity." The elusive Japs, of course, will try anything once, ridiculous or not as it may seem. The wonder is that the court even takes time out to consider the submission that the court lacks authority to try the defendants. There can be no doubt as to what the decision on this technical point will be.

Should Reopen Museum

Prince Rupert, striving to recover from the battering of the war years and still bewildered about it, is going to have little enough to offer the rush of tourists who are expected to crowd all passenger-carrying facilities that come this way this season. Property adjacent to the waterfront is congested with shabby buildings which will be still standing and rapidly deteriorating or in the process of demolition with all its untidiness. The dilapidated and unattractive condition of the streets is notorious and, at the rate the work is going, it is doubtful if they will be in very good shape even by the time the tourist season reaches its peak in July and August. Some of the gardens are recovering from years of inattention and the railway company is taking a laudable lead in this connection but gardens in Prince Rupert will still this year be a far cry from what they were in the tranquil days before the war.

Tourists who visit Prince Rupert cannot be satisfied with good weather alone nor with merely hearing what a fine place we have here so we should do everything we can to make the hours spent with us happy and interesting. Thus we come around to the subject of the museum. Prince Rupert has one of the best museum collections in the country which has been in storage for the war years due to lack of housing accommodation. The time is now ripe to bring it out again and there is little time to be lost if arrangements are to be made whereby it will be available this tourist season. It is certainly to be hoped that such arrangements can be made.

Another item which also should be made available for creditable presentation to the tourist visitors is the valuable city totem pole collection in Alder Park which is badly in need of brightening up.

Should Practice Preaching

Vancouver and Victoria interests continually protest over discrimination by Ottawa and the east, claiming that the big financial interests are bucking western efforts to industrialize by imposing high freight rates and otherwise holding up development. While we sympathize with the south in one respect we nevertheless feel that these same interests could set a great deal better example right at home. It is a well-known fact that efforts to develop Central B.C. along with the port of Prince Rupert are blocked by Vancouver and Victoria for their selfish interests.

Patronage could begin at home.—Interior News.

Posture and Health

Good posture has long been a thing to be admired—something to delight the eye. From ancient times to the present an erect bearing has been regarded among all races as a thing of beauty. Soldiers marching; a man sitting in the saddle; an athlete publicly displaying his physique; bathing beauties on parade—none of these would have grace and charm without good posture.

It has remained for modern times to discover that erect posture involves much more than something pleasing to look at. Now we know that it is a foundation of good health. Good posture contributes to good health; poor posture to poor health. If some people of bad posture seem to live in a state of moderately good health, it is not imaginary to say that these same people, with good posture, would enjoy better health. In other words, they would live longer, more energetically, more efficiently, and more happily.

Since good posture and health go together on one hand and poor posture and disease on the other, it is highly important that every reasonable effort be made to correct postural defects in the formative years of childhood. The early correction of such faulty body mechanics as spinal curvature and inequalities in the length of the legs, will assure not only a healthier and happier childhood but likewise a healthier and more efficient adult life.

RAILWAYMAN NO STRANGER

J. M. Macrae, C.N.R. Freight Traffic Manager, Has Spent Most of Career in West

WINNIPEG—J. M. Macrae, assistant freight traffic manager, Canadian National Railways, Montreal, whose appointment as freight traffic manager for the western region, with headquarters in Winnipeg, is made by George A. Fairhead, general freight traffic manager for the company, has arrived in Winnipeg.

Mr. Macrae is no stranger to Winnipeg and the west, having spent most of his long railway service in this part of the Dominion. Born in Scotland, he commenced his railway service as a clerk in the audit department of the Canadian Northern Railway in 1906. After several years at various positions, Mr. Macrae was appointed district freight agent at Saskatoon in 1912.

In 1916 he returned to Winnipeg as assistant general freight agent and ten years later went to Vancouver as general freight agent where he remained until 1939. He returned again to Winnipeg as assistant freight traffic manager and in 1942 moved to Montreal in a similar position at system headquarters.

Mr. Macrae returns to the west with a keen knowledge of transportation problems and requirements and will assume his new duties at once.

Corvette, Converted to Coastal Service, Coming Here at End Of June—Disturbing Waterfront Breeze

First of the Castle class of converted corvettes to go into coastal service of the Union Steamship Co. is expected to be seen in Prince Rupert around the end of June when she comes north on the Queen Charlotte Islands run replacing the veteran steamer Cassiar. According to word from Vancouver the work of reconverting the vessel in adaption to the Island run is proceeding on schedule. She will have accommodation for 100 passengers and, in addition to handling the regular Queen Charlotte Islands traffic, is expected to carry a considerable number of tourists with which the Queen Charlotte Islands run to Prince Rupert was popular before the war and which is expected to again attract many people who are interested in the talking of a leisurely sea cruise along the British Columbia coast for holiday relaxation. With the commissioning of the new ship, there will be a ten-day schedule to the Queen Charlotte Islands from Prince Rupert for the summer.

"THAT'S A LOAD OFF MY MIND!"

Mrs. Mason's husband gets his pay in cash. Since he's working all day, his wife banks it for him, and she says she's always jittery 'til she gets it safely there. And her brother, who runs a store, says he worries too about the money from the cash register! Safeguarding your money is one of the prime services rendered by your bank.

What a relief it is when you have deposited your money in the bank! No more worry lest it should be lost or stolen! You need only keep a little ready cash in your pocket or in the house. Bills can be paid by cheque and your cancelled cheque is your receipt.

When the teller hands you your pass book, you glance at the balance and know to a cent how much money you have. You are so accustomed to your bank's accuracy that you seldom bother to check the figures.

The very fact that you—and some 5,000,000 others—take all these conveniences as a matter of course is a daily demonstration of your confidence in the dependability and efficiency of your bank.

Squadron Leader Kipp, Kamloops Overseas Hero, Meeting Local Senior High School Boys

One of ten officers who served with distinction overseas in the war and who have now been assigned to tour the province to talk to senior High School boys and place before them the possibilities of making permanent careers in the peacetime Royal Canadian Air Force, Squadron Leader R. A. Kipp, D.S.O., D.F.C., of Kamloops, who commanded the "City of Edmonton" mosquito squadron during its second tour with the Royal Air Force, is in Prince Rupert today. Tonight at 5:45 he will speak for fifteen minutes over radio station CFPR and tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock will meet the senior boys of Booth Memorial High School.

Squadron Leader Kipp, speaking to the Daily News this morning, made it clear that it was not the intention or desire of the Royal Canadian Air Force to take young men out of school. In fact, they were being urged to at least complete their Junior Matriculation so that they might be in a position to take the fullest advantage of what the Air Force had to offer in the way of a career. With their matriculation standing, they would be able, through proficiency, to obtain commissioned rank in the Air Force.

Squadron Leader Kipp also pointed to the new policy in Air Force pay and allowances whereby there was a trend to equalization as between the commissioned and non-commissioned ranks, the whole scale comparable with the remunerations which civilian trades had to offer.

I don't have much to do with "COTTON" says Mr Smith but... COTTON HAS MUCH TO DO WITH HIM!

HE'S WEARING a cotton shirt. His tie and suit are lined with cotton. His underwear, handkerchiefs, socks and shoe laces are cotton. So are his window drapes, the tapes and cords of his venetian blinds... Those binders on his desk are cotton covered, so are the wires of his telephone. The cover of his dictaphone has a cotton base, so has his carpet. His secretary uses a cotton typewriter ribbon. Yes, cotton has plenty to do with Mr. Smith, and with all of us. FASHIONS IN BERLIN POOR

Outdated, Poor-Quality Work Features German Shop Displays

BERLIN — Fashion, never a vital thing in Germany's capital, is closer to utter extinction today than ever and the few well-dressed women here are doing what they've always done: follow Paris, blindly and badly.

A few German designers are making clothes, with bad ersatz material or super-expensive black market cloth. But they are clothes that can be seen in last year's Paris collections or old copies of American fashion magazines.

Shop windows show the long suit jackets beloved of the Paris couturier, with the tight-fitting waist line. Dresses use material generously. Skirts are short. Detail work is coarse and the fine workmanship of France lacking.

Paris's occupation joke—those huge over-decorated hats—really impressed the German conquerors, for their women are still wearing them though France dropped them like hot cakes the minute she was liberated.

Still in evidence too are the hair fashions which are as dated as hats. Fraternizing frauleins and window-shopping fraus on Berlin's Fifth Avenue, the Kurfurstendamm, affect those high pompadours and elaborate coils of hair that disappeared before V-E Day. Others—brunettes—still copy the two-year-old Paris vogue of a single bleached forelock.

For the Wealthy

But these are things that the well-dressed and moneyed German woman is able to wear. What the average German woman in moderate circumstances wears on the street must be seen to be believed.

Slacks and ski pants are much in evidence, even now that warm weather has come to Germany. More women wear bandanas than hats—and the bandanas are worn much as one would put on a bathing cap. Coats are plain, drab black (Germany had a dye shortage) and badly cut. Dresses are straight cut, ill-fitted and utterly without style.

Few women have gloves, and their shoes are usually of leather, but so old, so run-over that it is painful to watch them walk. A few women have silk stockings, but they are thick, of disagreeable colors and usually with many darns in them. It is impossible to compare German fashion or German women with the French or the Americans, for both of the latter have a feeling for clothes. Germans apparently do not. Whether from necessity or taste they run to drab colors and shapeless clothes.

WHAT'S DOING AT PRINCE RUPERT RECREATION COUNCIL GYMS
BY JIM NAST

MOVIES TONIGHT — Mel Harper has returned from Vancouver with a number of National Film Board movies that he assures us are better than any previous educational films we have had. The first picture will be especially interesting to sports fans as it shows the breathtaking thrill of toboggan racing at 30 miles per hour. There is also ice hockey, played with broomsticks by a girls' team, which Mel says should not be missed, and baseball and basketball teams perform on the ice. In addition, the film shows skiing, ice-boat sailing, ice-skates sailing and stunts on skis. The other film pictures British Columbia's beautiful timber lands—all in lovely technicolor—and fire preventive measures that are taken each year. It ends up with a great pyrotechnic display, as forest rangers battle an enormous forest blaze. This picture is especially timely with the coming hot weather menace to the valuable timberlands.

John Thompson, who was one of three members of Rup Rec to attend the Pro Rec competitions at Victoria last week, returned on the Princess Adelaide Monday afternoon. Rup Rec director George McGregor, and Mrs. Eileen Yelland, who also attended the province-wide gymnasium sports meet, are expected to return Wednesday on the Prince Rupert. Although the Prince Rupert representatives captured no major prizes, they turned in a creditable performance. Kelowna was winner of the first prize for team entries, while a competitor from Rossland was winner of the men's individual honors.

LACROSSE PLAYERS — There will be the usual lacrosse practices this evening with Intermediate, from 7:30 to 8:30 and Seniors on the floor from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m.

GYM CLASS — The junior boys' class will be at 4:30 this afternoon. There is still a big turnout to this class and the boys have shown great progress in their gymnastic table. It is expected that some real athletes will go on from this junior class into the intermediates next autumn.

HIKERS — Let's hear from all you out-of-doors people so we can get our hiking club organized before the good weather returns.

HOW CAN I ???
BY ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I remove the skins of tomatoes easily and quickly?

A. Rubbing the back edge of a silver knife over the ripe tomato is an effective way to remove the skin. It is more simple than heating the tomato.

Q. How can I relieve the pain of a bee sting?

A. Extract the sting of a bee and then apply any of the following remedies: Bruised catnip leaves, moist clay, baking soda or ammonia.

Q. How can I loosen a door that sticks?

A. Try tightening the screws of the hinges. If the screws are too loose, replace them with the next size larger.

Queensland to Probe Paralysis Treatment

BRISBANE, Australia — The Queensland government has ordered an investigation into the Sister Kenny treatment of infantile paralysis. Sister Kenny, an Australian nurse, asked for the investigation on her return to Brisbane after five years in America. Her treatment has not been accorded full medical recognition in either Australia or America. She formed the Kenny Institute in America and interested the late President Roosevelt, a paralysis victim, in her methods.

Postal Rule Stops Letters to Uncle

CARDIFF, Wales — Margaret Griffiths, 22, is a sub-postmistress at Nantybwh, Monmouthshire, but cannot write her uncle, Health Minister Aneurin Bevan. At a conference of sub-postmasters she supported a resolution asking elimination of a rule forbidding sub-postmasters to write members of parliament.

FILED AND FORGOTTEN

The insecticide now known as DDT was first compounded in 1874, but its practical value was not determined until 1939.

Returning Service Personnel Records Are Being Sought

The Daily News is anxious to completely record the arrival of all service men and women returning home from the war. Accordingly, it is requested that information be made available to this office regarding the date of arrival home, the service with which the veteran has been identified, in what theatres of war, if wounded, ill, etc. If inconvenient to call at the office, the information may be written or telephoned in. Pictures would be particularly welcome. Street and Postal addresses and telephone numbers are also requested.

A. (Not often; the afternoon is preferable, between three and five.

Q. What is the meaning of "en casserole"?

A. Served in a small earthenware dish.

Dad's Music Score By Menuhin Child

LONDON — Yehudi Menuhin's playing may be to people the world's greatest music, but to five-year-old and six-year-old Zamira and daughter — it is an old scraping noise. Youngsters solemnly told porter that "Mummy" a piano plays much better. Parents say it is wrong to music to an unwilling child spoils them for life." Menuhin, "They enjoy more if it is not forced on early in life," said the father.

In Paris of the late seventeenth hundreds, ladies used to stop their carriages before the coffee houses to have coffee served to them by the porter.

A Pleasure to Serve... this Extra-Flavor Coffee

This superb coffee is particularly delicious. It contains Latin-American coffees specially selected for extra flavor, smoothness and body. This wonderful blend is then "Radiant-Roasted" to capture every atom of its goodness. It's always "Good to the Last Drop"!

Packed two ways: In Super-Vacuum Tin in both Drip and Regular Grinds or Flavor-Saving Bag in an All-Purpose Grind.
