Boats Take Part In Search For Missing 'Skeena Queen'

Boats On Water May Be Key to Recovery of Lost Aircraft and Four Crew Members. H. M. C. S. Charlottetown In Charge With Sounding Devices Today

More than 200 determined Prince Rupert people spent their Sunday leisure to make final search for the missing Skeena Queen, but all rocky foreshore yielded no bodies or wreckage.

A buoy where the gasoline bubbles showed yesterday. It is believed that as the steel cable dragged along the ocean bottom, occasionally catching on rocks, it may have disturbed the aircraft, causing it to send small quantities of gasoline and oil to the surface.

Only other discovery yesterday which might have some connection with the aircraft, which has been missing since a week ago Saturday night, was the finding by a group of searchers on Findlayson Island of a number of apples, which may have been among the food stores on the plane when it crashed after its flight from Stewart.

Sunday's vast search party left the Standard Oil Co. floats between 8 and 10 o'clock in the morning, and the boats proceeded to designated spots on the coast where they unloaded the searchers on the beaches. Scores of small rowboats and motorboats chugged back and forth from the larger vessels to the shore, deeply loaded with passengers.

Radio contact throughout the day was maintained by the half-ton boat Embla, Capt. Alfred Anderson, the B.C. Packers cruiser Ochachuk, Douglas Soutar, and the C.R.C., Capt. Charles Currie, with the Kaien I, was dragging the sea bottom. The Embla, with Queen Charlotte Airlines radio expert "Shorty" Williamson aboard, acted as control ship, and maintained contact with the airlines office in Prince Rupert.

Active as liaison vessel between the boats which were without radio was the speedboat Swift Current, in which Henry and Raoul Wahl of Digby Island sped over the calm water carrying messages, probing into bays and inlets, and carrying searchers ashore.

The Kyrielle, Capt. Bert Hanson, explored the area around Findlayson Island, and one of her searchers found a pair of khaki coveralls, which were brought to Prince Rupert last night for possible identification as belonging to crew members of the Skeena Queen. Today such identification had not yet been made.

The Kyrielle dragged the marked area with hooks Sunday morning in the hope of grappling the wreckage of the plane, but with no success.

The searchers were fed with vast amounts of sandwiches which had been prepared by ladies of the Women's Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion, who worked late Saturday afternoon to prepare the lunches in the Civic Centre canteen.

Searchers who went out on the Embla with Capt. Anderson were John McLeod, Alf Rivett, Tony Crawley, R. Smith, J. Bowman, Fred Thornton, Jack Mussallem, Ethel McKinnon, Yvonne Simundson, Oscar Smith, Louis Van Pykstra, John Basso, G. S. Murray, J. Davidson, J. Harry Black, H. E. Amos, Gordon Durkin, Jack Sharpe, Bob Anderson, Harry Basso, Jack Wynn, Vaughan Tattersall, Jim Hebb, Jim Hemmons, Henry Dixon.

Those on the Kyrielle, with Bert Hanson, were J. C. Kurulok, J. Richerson, W. Halcrow, S. K. Johnson, R. R. Cameron, Carl Johnson, Bill Davidson, N. Skogmo, K. J. Christensen, M. E. Sandvar, Art Hardwick, G. W. Golds, J. F. Kurulok, Eddie Ciccone, K. Symons.

Other boats which took part in the search and the names of those searchers were not available were Victory Bay, Ogden, Phippen, Gladys U. and Ochachuk.

"Squatters" Take Apartment House In Mass Raid

LONDON—More than 1500 men, women and children seized possession of a luxurious apartment house Sunday, and overflowed into neighboring buildings in Communist-aided mass extension of the month-old "squatter" movement.

The mob took over 300 apartments in the Duchess of Bedford house which was taken over by the government during the war and was recently used as a hostel for a building trade school.

The squatters were people tired of waiting for houses. The cabinet met in special session today and mapped out strategy to check the Communist-led squatter campaign to seize public and private buildings for housing tens of thousands of persons.

$100,000 BAG EXCHANGED IN MAIL ROBBERY

VANCOUVER—The mail bag containing $100,000 which was recovered here last week was never sent to Victoria, its proper destination, postal authorities announced today. No arrests in connection with the theft have yet been made.

Authorities refuse to comment on the theft of the money from postal channels until the investigation is complete. In refusing to discuss whether or not it was an inside job, the R.C.M.P. admitted that no hold-up or violence was involved.

Postal authorities said on Sunday that the bag had been recovered with most of the money. It was believed to be destined to Willows race track at Victoria.

It is believed that the bag containing the $100,000 was taken from the mails in Vancouver and a similar bag containing worthless paper substituted and registered for shipping.

GOOD WEATHER FOLLOWS DAY OF PRAYER

LONDON—An official Air Ministry weather forecast of "fair" following Sunday's national day of prayer for better weather brought a ray of hope to rain-battered, water-logged British farm lands today.

Harvesting was resumed in east Yorkshire following fine weather Sunday, and Norfolk farmers, cheered by the change of weather, were hopeful that half their crop might be saved.

Unprecedented rains and storms have endangered Britain's food crops during the last several weeks, inspiring fear that only a fraction of the grain and fodder might be harvested unless the weather cleared shortly.

Jews Launch Terror Drive In Holy Land

Sabotage, Shootings Mount As Anglo-Arab Talks Open

JERUSALEM—A British information officer announced today that the Palestine railway had been cut in 50 places, the flow of oil to Haifa disrupted, and two persons killed on a series of outbreaks coinciding with the opening of the British-Arab talks in London.

Explosions and gunshots broke out in various sections of the Holy Land.

The information officer said that these incidents were "apparently part of the larger Jewish terror campaign which partially failed, because of a break in timing."

In London, an authoritative source said that Britain "might soon have to invite the Jewish agency to participate in the Palestine talks" on its own terms—"statehood within an adequate area"—to prevent the failure of the conference.

Such an invitation apparently would mean the abandonment by Britain of her plan to use the Anglo-American experts' equalization plan as a basis for the discussion.

TROOPS WILL NOT BE USED

United States Makes Announcement in Regard to Steel Strike

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The government has no intention of sending troops into the maritime workers' strike, it is announced. A general sympathy strike would be called if such intervention was attempted, it was said by union leaders on Saturday. Philip Pearl, an A.F.L. publicity representative, says talk of a general strike is ridiculous and without foundation.

DOWNED PILOT RESCUED TITO

ATHENS—Pilot of a Greek reconnaissance plane, shot down over Yugoslavia last week, was the same flier who during the war once rescued Marshal Tito and was awarded a decoration for the act. The pilot and other members of the crew of the Greek plane are being held in internment.

TERMS ARE REJECTED

HAMILTON—Hopes of an early settlement of the steel strike dispute dimmed again yesterday with over 2000 striking workers of the Steel Company of Canada rejecting the latest new terms proposed by the federal government. The increases proposed by the government ranged from 11c to 12½c per hour. The Hamilton workers intimated they would stay off the job until the full demand of 15½c per hour was met. Steel workers at two other basic steel plants at Sault Ste. Marie and Sydney were to vote today on the government's new proposal.

Pending the result of the vote in Sault Ste. Marie and Sydney, C. H. Millard, Canadian director of the United Steel Workers of America Union, reserved any comment. Pat Conroy said the government would have to come around to a 15c increase.

NEXT YEAR'S HARVEST

DELAY IN REVISING and broadening the immigration policy already is jeopardizing the 1947 harvest.

The hundreds of thousands of young people who left the farms in the war years will not return in 1947 in any greater numbers than in 1946. They don't really need to. When existing unemployment insurance payments run out there will be others. The promise has been made. And most people have better jobs in cities. Price control will prevent farmers from paying higher wages than city wages. There won't be German prisoners of war.

Present immigration policies are woefully inadequate. Close relatives of people already here may come. Settlers with capital may come. And there are to be 4,000 Polish soldiers.

There is talk that Canada needs professional men, technicians and others with special training. But what Canada needs in great numbers are farm hands and laborers—people who ask only the opportunity to work. The food shortage would be greatly relieved, the pressure on price ceilings greatly eased. And there would be more people to operate wheel-barrows, dig ditches, make drain tile and thus relieve some of the silly shortages that now exist.

One excuse for delaying approving a sensible policy which would bring many from West Europe, and maybe the United Kingdom, is shortage of shipping. But if young people in Europe were given permission to come by examining doctors and the regulations, it is more than probable they would get here. The eager-to-work immigrant never has asked luxury-liner accommodation.

MINISTER'S TRIALS

THE OTTAWA CITIZEN has risen editorially to the defence of Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, the minister of labor, saying in part:

"One of the hardest jobs in Canada today is that held by the minister of labor. It is being made harder by the barrage of unjust criticism under which he must work.

"Rightly or wrongly—and the great majority of Canadian people will say rightly—the Labor Minister for some years has stoutly maintained that price control is not possible without a reasonable measure of wage control. During the war years he played a leading part in setting up the wages boards throughout the country, to see that wages did not rise to levels that might force rises in prices.

"A life-long trade unionist himself, it takes some moral courage on the part of the Minister of Labor to maintain wage control now that the war is over. But he is convinced that it will be necessary for some time yet if the dollar in the worker's pay envelope is to be expected to buy more than fifty cents' worth of goods. Holding that conviction, there seems to be little likelihood that he will be stampeded by telegrams, resolutions, innuendoes do and plain abuse into taking any contrary course.

"When the present industrial turmoil and shouting dies, Hon. Humphrey Mitchell may then be accorded his due as a better and more long-sighted friend of the workers than those little sawdust Caesars who are now so active in sniping at him."

EDUCATION LOOKS AHEAD

PARENTS have been busy the last few days outfitting children with books and clothes for a new school term and now, probably more than at any other time of the year, their thoughts turn to the kind of education their boys and girls are to receive. The question is important because viewpoints formed now will determine the outlook of today's young people for years to come.

Many believe emphasis should be placed on international matters rather than on subjects of only regional, or even national, concern. As distances shrink before the strides of modern communications, it becomes increasingly vital that students come to regard people of other lands as neighbors instead of strange beings who inhabit areas indicated by green, purple or orange patches on a map or globe.

Canadians and Americans for years have exchanged business and vacation visits and many of them have gone at least once in their lifetime to the British Isles or to Europe. Now they can go farther afield. Trips to Mexico, Bermuda, the British West Indies, Alaska and parts of South America are coming within reach of Canadian vacationists and travel facilities are bringing people of other lands to Canada.

In the same way, new airlines almost daily add links to the network between North America and other continents. Great circle routes, airways men say, soon will put Canada at the hub of the world's communication lines.

To keep pace with new horizons, Canadian youth need a world outlook. They require not only new concepts of geography, history and economics but also special skills for working and travelling. For example, command of several languages soon may be requisite.

As Canadians more and more become world citizens, other nations are bound to return visits and to take increased interest in this country and to make vacation and business visits as commercial contacts develop. With the example of its peaceful relations with the United States a matter of history, Canada is in a good position to strengthen friendly ties with many other countries.

To do that, its youth of today must be brought up as world citizens. If they succeed in taking their places with grace and dignity in the family of nations, they will have done much to maintain international peace.

Health Unit Makes Report

Month of August Featured by Visits of Officials—Statistical Returns

Visits of several health officials marked activities of the month at the Prince Rupert Health Unit, according to the August report of Miss Joyce Leslie, supervisor of the unit, to City Clerk H. D. Thain. The travelling chest clinic, with Miss Doris Bullock R.N., nurse and technician in charge, was in the city from August 21 to August 29 and 127 persons received x-ray examinations. The session of the clinic here was climaxed by the visit as it concluded of Dr. Gordon Kincaid, tuberculosis control medical superintendent from Vancouver, who consulted with the local doctors in regard to the functioning of the tuberculosis program at the health unit.

Another visitor during the month was Miss Dorothy Tate, director of public health nursing for the province, who consulted with the inspector of schools and the Prince Rupert and District Board of Health in regard to fitting health services into the new school district organized as a result of the Cameron report. Miss Tate was accompanied from Victoria by Miss Noble, junior nutritionist of the Provincial Board of Health. A direct representative of the Provincial Health Officer is expected here soon to discuss and work out changes necessary under the new set-up.

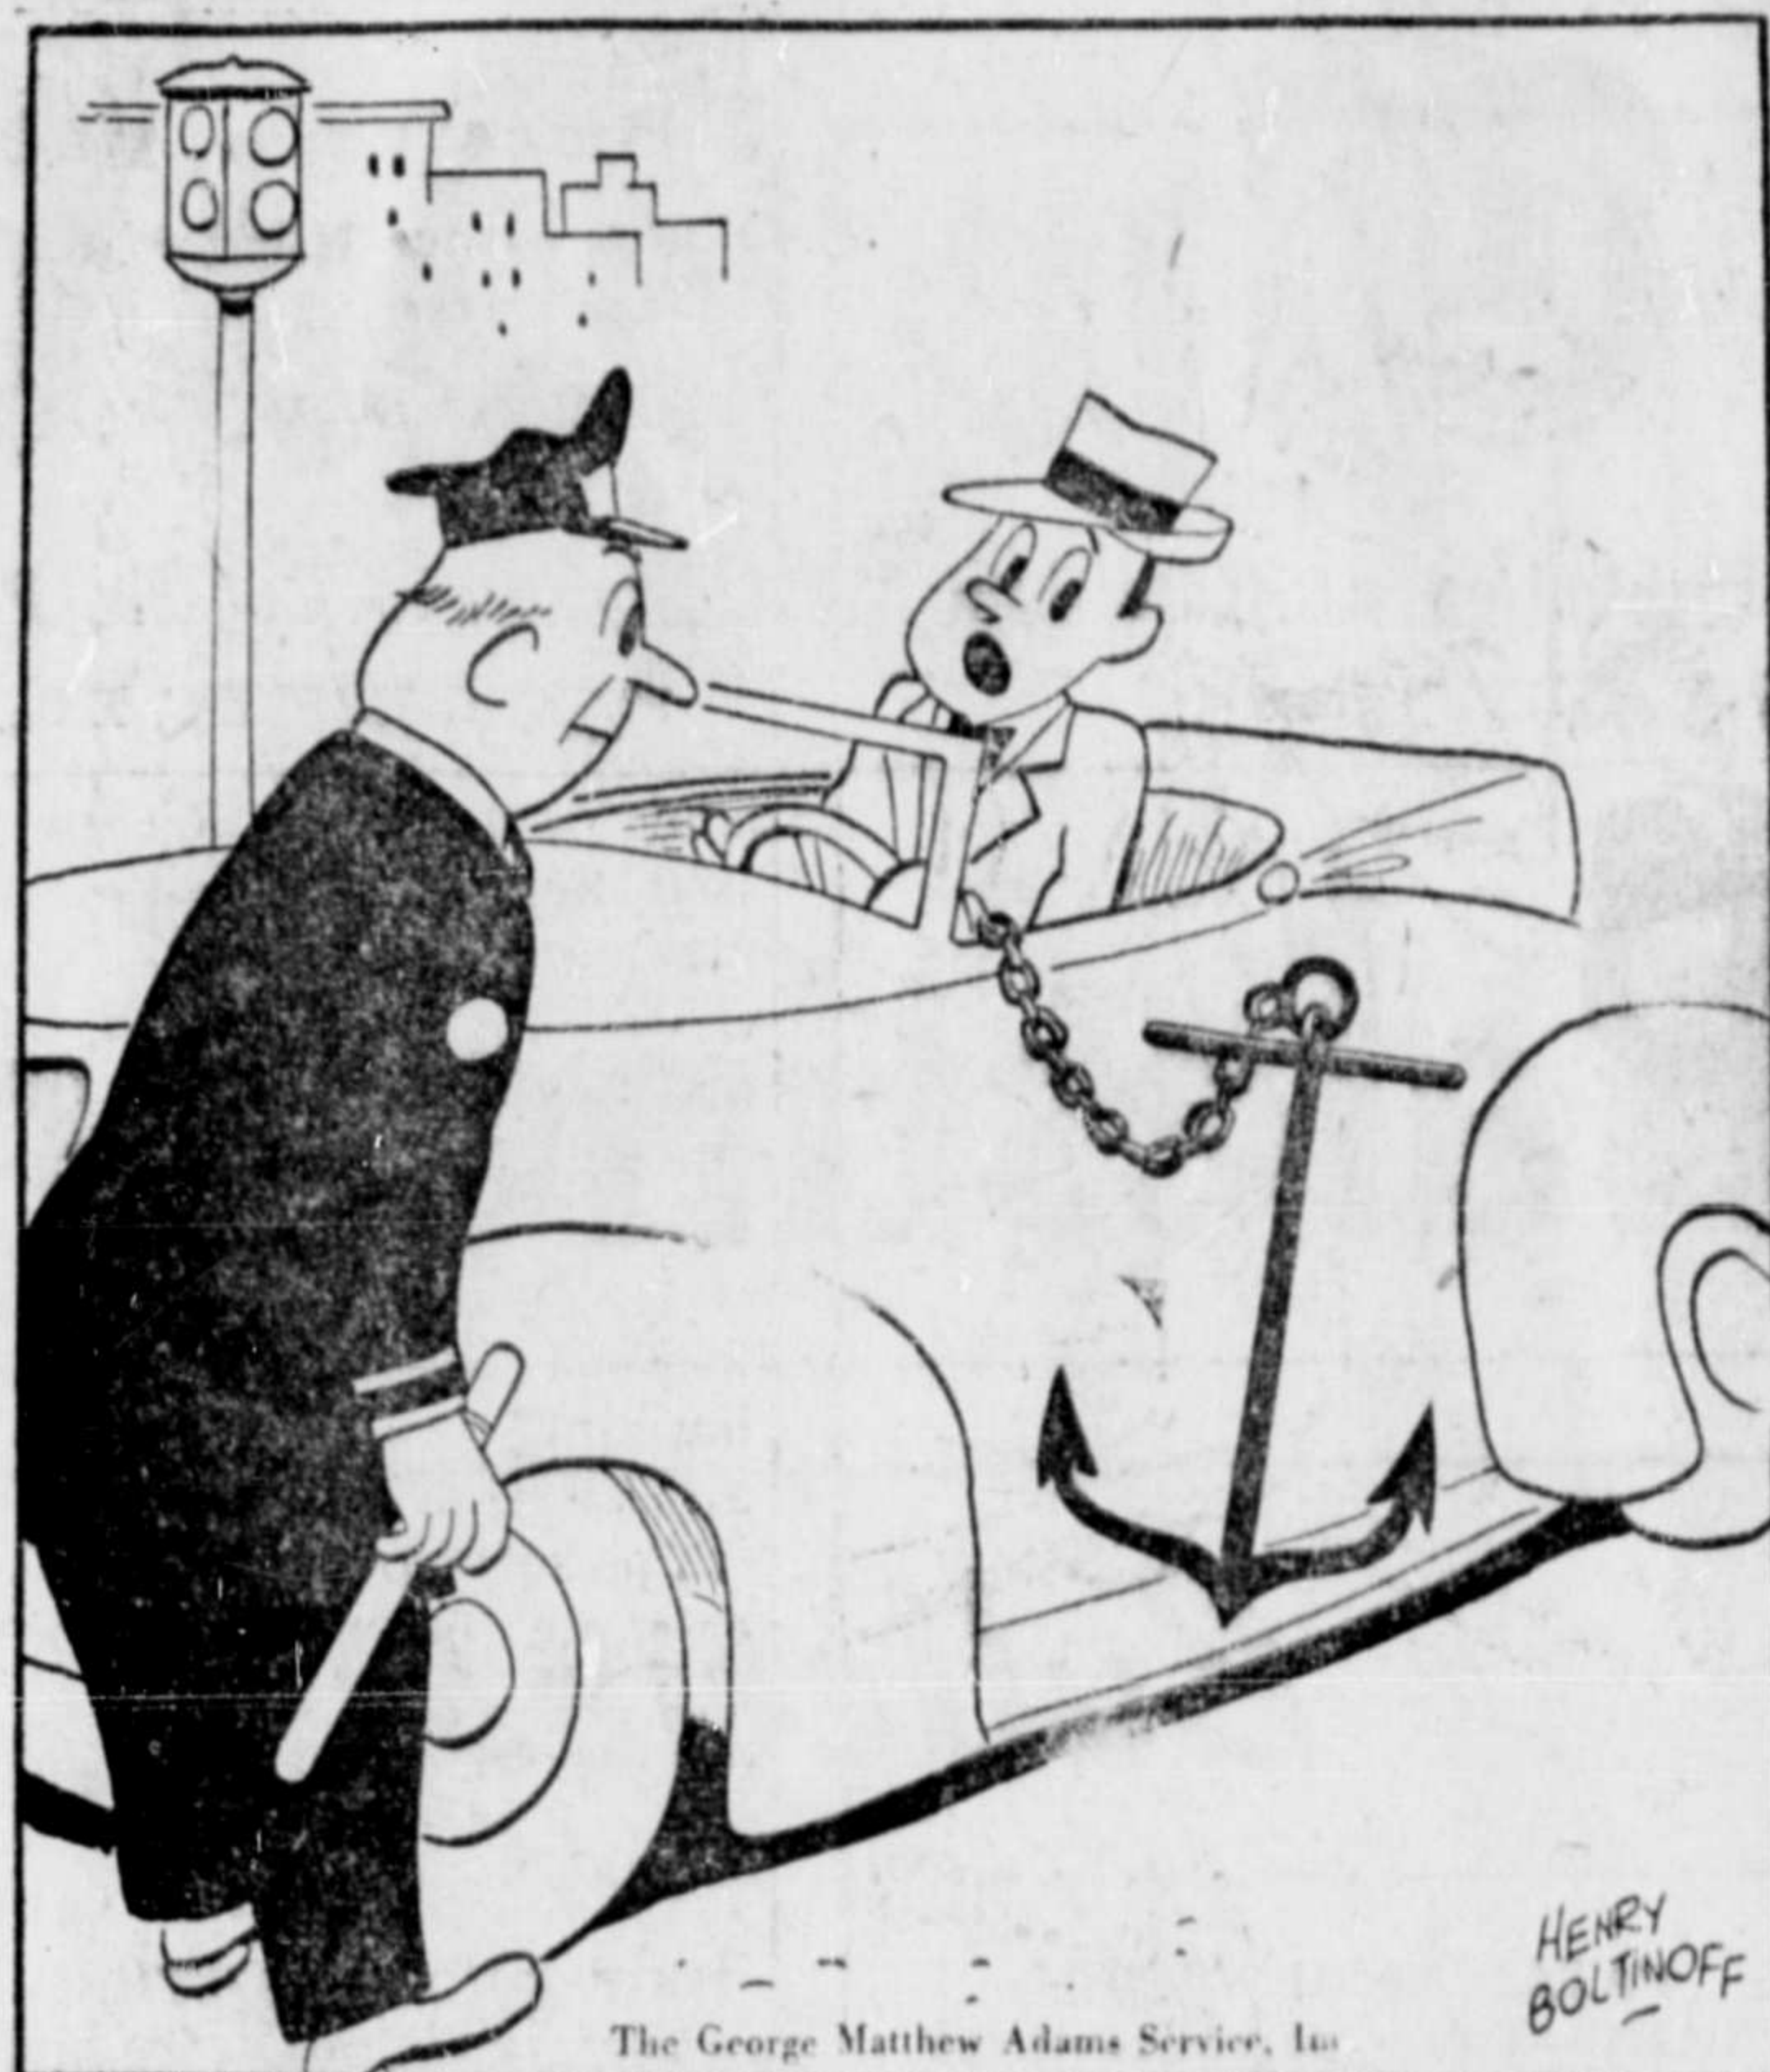

In connection with routine public health nursing activities in Prince Rupert, one important change has taken place. Miss O. Johnson, P.H.N. reports, this being the moving of the weighing station and immunization clinic from Central Street School to the Wartime Housing Community Club house. B. Beers, counsellor for the Wartime Housing Commission, has been instrumental in arranging the transfer and Mrs. Robert Cameron has been helping with the work. Increased attendance at the clinic is reported.

The statistical clerk of the unit, Miss J. Foster, has found filing work greatly increased and requiring constant revision owing to the turnover of population in the city.

According to the report of M. J. Harper, unit sanitarian, restaurants, lunch counters, meat stores and bakeries have maintained a fair sanitary record. Water analyses at Prince Rupert, with one exception, were negative but the bacteriological report of the water supply at Terrace was positive. It became advisable to place a small automatic chlorinator in operation at Miller Bay Hospital to make safe the water there. Bacteriological counts of Prince Rupert's milk have been largely within minimum requirements. The Gyro swimming pool at McClymont Park was regularly chlorinated and samples of the water were constantly negative. The sanitarian had to order action to allay a great accumulation of waste paper near the bus stop on Third Avenue.

Statistics For Month: The statistical returns of the local health unit for the month were as follows: Sanitation: Complaints 6, re-inspections

"Perfect Marriage" For Diving Couple

"I Love You" Code Signal Startles Submarine World

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — A code signal that says "I love you" sounds a bit out of character in deep-sea salvage diving. But when an attractive brunette is one member of the diving pair... well, that's a barnacle of another color.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Bailey are one of the few "two-man" teams in the diving business and their livelihood depends upon co-operation. The 24-year-old wife of the veteran diver assists her husband in all operations.

"She knows all the ropes, that is with the possible exception of the diving end," Bailey asserted, "and I have been teaching her the rudiments of that phase."

"We lead a perfectly happy married life," said Mrs. Bailey. "We have to," added Bailey. "When I am down in the deep on the other end of the air hose, my life is in her hands. I have no choice in the matter."

The Baileys have a code system all their own for underwater operations. One tug on the lines means "up," two tugs—"down," three tugs—"hold it," and four tugs—"I love you."

Regina's "Referee" Retires From Post

Mrs. Grace Hodgins Ends 30-Year Career in City Hall

REGINA, P.—It took 30 years to get around to it but at long last the white-haired mistress of ceremonies of Regina's civic affairs has stepped out of the council chamber ready to do some of the travelling she promised herself before joining the city hall staff here.

Mrs. Grace Hodgins, 58-year old Regina city clerk, probably the only woman in the Dominion to hold such an office, is retiring from the position she took over in 1913. That appointment followed 27 years as stenographer and clerk in city hall offices.

The soft-spoken arbiter of aldermanic disputes came to Regina a widow with a son from the Ottawa valley town of Portage du Fort, Quebec, where she had been a school teacher. She joined Regina's city hall staff in 1916.

Mrs. Hodgins has seen 11 mayors come and go. She began her civic career when Dr. W. D. Cowan was in office and ends it with Mayor T. G. McNeill.

Coolness has been her mainstay during stormy council sessions which have sometimes seen outspoken aldermen forced to leave council chambers. Mrs. Hodgins has never left under such circumstances.

She says aldermen are at times like a group of "out-of-hand" school children. She was at times forced to inform the presiding mayor that they had exceeded the rights of procedure.

When she was studying stenography in 1915 she planned to become employed with a businessman who would require her services while travelling. However, when the position in the city hall was offered she accepted it immediately and has not had much time for touring plans up to now.

Only two women aldermen have served on Regina city council during Mrs. Hodgins' term but she believes the feminine element in civic affairs is a necessary benefit.

G.M. WINS OVER NAVY

Motors Defeats Charlottetown in Exhibition Fastball Game

Once again showing their hitting power, General Motors defeated a team from H.M.C.S. Charlottetown in an exhibition fastball game on Saturday evening at the Gyro Ball Park by a score of 20 to 7.

The local team was inclined to take things easy at the start but soon found that they could not take liberties with the Navy and they then settled down to serious ball playing. The Charlottetown boys scored three in their first inning with Currie, Printz and Busby counting. General Motors scored two in their half with Simundsen, who hit the first ball thrown for a safe two-bagger, and Johnson crossing the plate. The Navy added two in the second with Hayworth and Bennett, who hit a two-bagger, scoring. General Motors went out one-two-three, with Marsh striking out two. The Navy counted one in the third with Baron scoring and the Motors scored two with Johnson and Davis, the latter making a two-bagger. From then on the Navy team was leading but was unable to score while General Motors hit hard and often. In the fourth the motormen scored seven—Arney, Parlett, Simundsen, Johnson, Davis, Lindsay with a two-bagger, and Fitch all crossing the plate. They added one in the fifth with Davis scoring and then seven more in the sixth with Lambie, Howe, Arney, Simundsen, Johnson, Lindsay and Fitch all coming home. Arney scored the single run in the seventh and they went out in quick order in the eighth.

Box scores:

The game was well contested with the sailors giving a very sporting exhibition. They fielded well and are to be particularly congratulated on their strict attention to the game. They took all decisions without questioning and their conduct was a credit to the highest traditions of the services. They were not able to stop the heavy hitting of the locals, however.

Lindsay pitched for General Motors and showed a lot of speed, fair control and a deceptive change of pace. Ted Arney caught.

Lindsay gave three walks and struck out three, while Marsh issued two walks and struck out two.

Big Score Over H.M.C.S. Charlottetown in Friendly Game

In a friendly game of baseball a Prince Rupert team won over a team from H.M.C.S. Charlottetown by a score of 28-7 before an interested crowd of spectators at Roosevelt Park yesterday afternoon. Alex Bill pitched for the local team and held the visitors scoreless for the first seven innings. Durruchier and Hayworth scored for the Navy when King hit a two-bagger in the eighth. In the ninth inning the visitors scored five runs when Blythe, James, Durruchier, Hayworth and Crossley all crossed the plate.

Runs for Prince Rupert were scored by Ted Arney with 4, Forbes 3, Johnson 4, Lindsay 3, Vuckovich 1, Bury 3, Pierce 5, Curvich 4, and Bill 1.

100 PERSONS INTERESTED IN FLYING CLUB

More than a hundred local young men and women have signified their interest in the creation of a flying club at Prince Rupert, and the organizers have received assurances of financial backing from four citizens keen on promoting the project.

Temporary chairman Fred Jensen feels that the display of interest carries strong assurance that in spite of the fact that the club will have to use sea planes in the absence of a landing field here, an active club can be formed to train private fliers.

"The fact that we have to use float planes will make things more difficult than if we could use land planes," he said, "but I don't know of any reason why we cannot do it." If Terrace can organize a flying club with 20 members, we should be able to do it with a hundred.

It is likely, Mr. Jensen said, that the Terrace and Prince Rupert clubs will co-operate in training, giving the trainees the chance to learn the methods of land and seaplane flying.

A suggestion has been put forward that the local club employ a Piper "Cub" plane for training. The Terrace club uses a Tiger "Moth."

Assurance of financial backing for the project have been received from W. D. Lambie, Clarence Thomson, W. J. Scott and Robert McKay.

The following have given their names as prospective members: Crawford Moore, Carl Wilson, Myrtle Sather, Art Rye, David Baillie, Neil Sheppard, David Murray, Billy Wallace, Mrs. Rikki Telford, Mrs. Ann Linney, Robert Keays, Walter Ward, Ken McCrimmon, A. Lose A MOMENT Save A LIFE

After nearly every traffic accident, the claim "I had the right of way" is heard. But having the right of way—and taking it—does not help much if it lands you in the hospital or cripples someone for life. When approaching an intersection, it's a good idea to assume that the other driver has never heard of "the right of way." You may lose a few seconds but you may save a life.

WIESBADEN, Germany (C)—A U.S. Air Corps chaplain's wife, who arrived in Germany recently, is the first and only licensed woman "ham" radio operator in the American occupation zone.

She is Mrs. Hilda B. Andrew, wife of Lt.-Col. J. D. Andrew, staff chaplain for the U.S. Air Forces in Europe. The couple formerly lived in Skyland, near Asheville, N.C.

In Wiesbaden, Mrs. Andrew and her husband both operate amateur radio transmitters assembled in a studio that is believed to be the finest of those run by 350 "ham" operators in the zone. Both are deluged with requests from Air Force personnel and their dependents eager to contact friends back home.

Tiny Premature Tot Grows to Womanhood

32-Year-Old Marguerite Cardinal Weighed Only 12 Ounces at Birth

MONTREAL (C)—Dr. Pierre Herbert, Montreal's joint coroner, possibly may hold the record for delivering the smallest baby to survive.

The story dates back to July 18, 1914, when he brought Marguerite Cardinal into the world. She weighed 12 ounces.

"It was one o'clock in the morning when she was born on a farm at St. Michel, Napierville County," Dr. Herbert said. "Of course she was premature. Six and one-half months to be exact."

"I must admit I had little hope that the child would live. However, she breathed well enough shortly after she was born. I wrapped the infant in a bit of linen and weighed her

She tipped the scales at exactly 12 ounces, including the wrapping.

"A short while after the birth, from which the mother emerged quite well, I wrapped the baby, put her in a basket and placed the basket in a heated oven. It had to do for an incubator," Dr. Herbert said with a smile.

"In order to feed the baby, I had to use an eye-dropper. For a number of days, all I used was a little milk mixed with a few drops of cognac. I prescribed that the baby be swabbed with olive oil. With this treatment, the infant soon picked up weight and she was out of danger."

Marguerite, now 32, still lives with her parents on the same farm. Marguerite's mother never had any other children.

"She was the tiniest living human I ever saw or hope to see," Dr. Herbert said.

JASPER VISIT PLEASSED HIM

Could Have Spent Two Months at Resort, Says Monty

JASPER PARK — "Only two days. One really needs two months." This was the parting message of Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery to those who gathered on Saturday afternoon to bid him au revoir on the conclusion of his visit to Jasper Park Lodge. It was a day of cloudless sky and bright sunshine with the peaks snow-capped against a blue background.

From early in the morning Viscount Montgomery had been on the golf course following the 36-hole final in the Jasper Totem Pole tournament and the time had come for him to resume the program of visits to Canadian and United States cities.

At night from Edmonton Lord Montgomery sent back the following message: "Please convey to Carl Haymond my congratulations on his victory in the Jasper Park Totem Pole golf tournament and tell him I was greatly impressed by his play. Also please give my best wishes to Mr. Cleat, runner-up, for better luck next time—Montgomery of Alamein."

Lord Montgomery is receiving a replica of the famed silver Totem Pole trophy from R. C. Vaughan, chairman and president of the Canadian National Railways, as a memento of his visit.

Before his departure the Field Marshal asked General Manager Robert Sommerville of the C.N.R. hotel system to have the cooks, bell-boys and all other members of the lodge staff who had served him brought to Outlook Cabin to receive his thanks. Lord Montgomery occupied the cabin used by King George and Queen Elizabeth during their stay in 1939.

Look Closely To See If It's THE REAL THING

Sorry we can't pull Genuine Duroid Roofs out of a hat for you, although we'd like to. Right now, MORE Genuine Duroid Roofs are being made than ever before, but the demand is so great that temporary shortages occur. That does not mean that you must settle for a "second best" asphalt roof. No, it simply means you may have to wait a little longer for the Real Thing, a Genuine Duroid Roof.

It's well worth waiting for too, when you consider the long years of service and protection you get. This exceptional durability is possible because Genuine Duroid Roofs are STILL made with a base of the best rag-felt.

So be sure you're getting the Real Thing by asking for a GENUINE Duroid Roof, and looking for the Sidney Seal of Quality on every bundle.
