Controlling Jew Movement

Britain May Institute Full Scale Blockade of Holy Land

LONDON — Well-informed government quarters said today that Great Britain may institute a full-scale blockade of the Palestine coast to end illegal immigration into the Holy Land. An informant said that the British government is planning an all-out drive to end illegal immigration of European Jews into Palestine and land and sea operations involved may include a blockade of the coast.

"CANADA DAY" BILL BEFORE COMMITTEE

OTTAWA — The Senate banking committee suggested today that July 1 be called "the national holiday of Canada." The committee defeated by a vote of 16 to 15 a motion which would have delayed indefinitely a bill naming the holiday "Canada Day." The contentious bill already has passed Commons. Now it will be referred to the Senate and if it defeated there it will become a dead issue. If the senate supports amendments changing the name to the "National Holiday of Canada", the bill will go back to Commons for final approval.

Civic Centre Reorganized

Membership Simplified and Broadened—Constitution Amended Last Night

Broadening and simplification of membership in the Prince Rupert Civic Centre Association, which in the past has been more or less of a closed corporation confined to representatives of financially participating organizations, was effected last night at a special general meeting of the association. Henceforth any person who holds senior membership in the Civic Centre will be automatically a member of the Civic Centre Association. Last night's meeting, presided over by Ald. T. N. Youngs, president of the Civic Centre Association, was called for the purpose of putting through constitutional amendments effecting not only the broadened membership but also the constitution of the board of directors who henceforth shall consist of one representative from each organization applying for representing, two representa-

YELLOW RIVER DIVERSION CONFERENCE—Three care-worn conferees discuss China's age-old "sorrow", the Yellow River, during conference in Shanghai. This conference was called in an effort to gain compensation from UNRRA for farmers who will soon have to move from the old bed of the Yellow River when it is again diverted to its original course. The river had been diverted to stall Jap advance during the war. Left to right are, Gen. Chou Eng Lai, China's No. 2 Communist and chief delegate to peace negotiations with the Kuomintang government; O. J. Todd, chief American engineer of the Yellow River project, and Dr. T. F. Tsiang, director of the Chinese branch of the UNRRA. Until UNRRA, CNRRA and Gen. Chou agree, the projected altering of the course of "China's sorrow" will be postponed.

COMPANY FORMED TO DEVELOP COAL FIELD IN CENTRAL INTERIOR

New Railroad Would Be Built East of Prince George to Hansard on C.N.R.

Development of the Bowron River coal fields is to be undertaken by a company headed by four B.C. men, now in the process of formation. David Wells and his three Vancouver associates, Ernest Sherwood, Frank A. Millican and Harold Jones, have decided to build a light railway from the mine, which is situated 45 miles east of Prince George and 80 miles north of Barkerville, to the C.N.R. line at Hansard, a distance of 17 miles. Larger markets are afforded by shipping outside by this method than the original plan of only supplying the town of Wells and the mines there. More coal faces will be developed by this new plan.

Child Murderer Relates Slayings

CHICAGO — William Heirens, 17-year-old university student, calmly related Tuesday how he strangled Suzanne Degnan with his fingers as she lay in her bed, and how he slew two other women. Six-year-old Suzanne was kidnapped and killed and the body dismembered last January 7. After the murder, Heirens said, he returned to the university to "study."

Open Air "Dream" Televised Reality

BBC Telecast of Shakespeare Classic Proves Success

LONDON — First television broadcast from an open-air theatre was Shakespeare's "Midsummer Night's Dream", picked up from Regent's Park. Reception was good over an area of 40 miles from Alexandra Palace. Harold Cox, in charge of outside television broadcasts, said "The Dream" is the perfect Shakespeare play and its presentation in an open-air theatre, without stage and props or backcloths, will be "just as the author intended it." Three cameras were used for long, medium and close-up shots.

VANCOUVER — Release of 2,000 conscientious objectors, pressed into compulsory labor service on farms of British Columbia during the war, will be effective August 15 and will leave many farms short of skilled help as many objectors worked on farms during the war but are now planning to leave jobs on the land.

Doctors Sought By New Zealand

Japanese Occupation Force Asks For Volunteers

AUCKLAND, N.Z. — The New Zealand government has decided to prohibit doctors from going overseas unless they have had reasonably long service in the armed forces. This is because very few doctors have volunteered for service with the New Zealand occupation force in Japan. Instead many young doctors have applied for exit permits to study abroad, although they have done little or no military service.

Announcing the ban on permits for doctors to travel, the Minister of Defence, F. Jones, said the appeal for doctors for Japan had been most disappointing. It would be a great hardship to the medical officers due to be relieved in Japan, if they could not return to New Zealand with the present occupation force, which is in process of being relieved by a volunteer force. Many of the doctors serving in Japan were married men with long military service.

TENSE SITUATION AT PARIS PEACE CONFERENCE

Simple Majority Adoption Represents Triumph for Western Allies Over Slavic Section

PARIS (CP)—The western Allies won a clear-cut victory over the Slavic bloc when the rules committee decided 14 to 6 yesterday that simple majority decisions of the peace conference would be referred to the foreign ministers' council as recommendations but such tense crisis has now arisen as a result that it is feared the whole Russian group may leave the conference.

Russia had held out for the two-thirds majority. Yugoslavia has already announced it will not be bound by anything but two-thirds decisions. During bitter debate on procedure, Secretary of State James F. Byrnes of the United States had charged Foreign Commissar Molotov of Russia with attempting to dictate to the peace conference. In reply Molotov labeled Byrnes' speech as "violent and perhaps bellicose." He denied the charge and declared that his delegation was alone in defending decisions of the Big Four foreign ministers.

Glasgow Enters Milk Business

Citizens Pay Municipal Dairy Out of Taxes

GLASGOW — Glasgow corporation soon may seek legislative authority from parliament to supply 1,000,000 customers with 90,000 gallons of milk daily to be paid for with their taxes. Details of the plan now are being worked out by a civic committee instructed to report to a corporation meeting in September. Bailie Edward Hunter, an ex-miner who pioneered municipal milk supply in Wellington, N.Z., 20 years ago, is author of the plan for Glasgow.

Already the city government is the largest dairy farming unit in Scotland with herds totalling 1500 head and 4700 acres of land supplying 350,000 gallons of tuberculin-tested milk yearly to city hospitals. Co-operative societies supply one-third of the milk consumed in the city where there are 11,460 dairies of all types.

Under the plan the city would establish a monopoly making it unlawful for any person other than the corporation and its servants or agents to have milk in his possession for sale in the city. It would have power to place the milk supply on city taxes, buy and sell milk and manufacture and sell butter, cheese, ice-cream and other milk products.

THE WEATHER

Synopsis

Rapid clearing during the early morning has resulted in clear skies this morning across southern British Columbia with variable cloudiness over the northern interior and overcast skies persisting over the Charlottes and northern coast. The cool air that was over British Columbia for the past 48 hours has now moved over the prairies. Hence higher temperatures will prevail today and Thursday across southern B.C. The clearing has resulted from a high pressure area building up from the southwest.

DIVERSE BOAT BUILDING

THE FACT that a Victoria boat-building establishment has been able to secure contracts for the building of a number of pleasure type craft for lake resorts in the state of Wyoming is an indication of the diversity of work available for the shipbuilders these days. It suggests the possibilities that might be available for yards even as far removed as Prince Rupert if they could be adapted to modern requirements and demands.

THE DRY DOCK

AS FOR THE DRY DOCK, Mr. Vaughan, the president of the railway, took the wind out of our sails on his recent visit as to what might be expected in its future function at least as far as Canadian National Railways was concerned, giving no hope of the company using it for other than a repair yard. In spite of that, however, we cannot bring ourselves to believe that there is no chance for anything better at the dry dock than the present state of almost complete inactivity now existing there.

In fact, we have no excuse for accepting such a situation. It is up to us, the people of Prince Rupert, to keep agitating for a useful employment of the plant. If we do not, it is quite evident that no one else will.

WE GET MORE SUGAR

THREE MORE POUNDS of sugar for each Canadian for the rest of this year figures out at about one-third of an ounce a day for each of us. That is not a great deal when we come to remember how lavish we used to be with the sweetening material in the old days before the war. Still it allows us to make our coffee a little sweeter or to heap a little more on our cereal or dessert and it is the first step towards a further easing.

Next thing we will be hoping for the day when our butter will become a little more generously available too. In the meantime, that might not be so easy but it will come in time. Maybe by a year from now the supplies of these two goods, the shortage of which is about the only shortage we have noticed to any extent while the rest of the world was going so hungry will be nearly back again to the old normal supply unless something unforeseen happens in the meantime.

LIVING OFF GOVERNMENT

THE EXTRAORDINARY SIZE of our Federal Government payroll is shown in figures just issued at Ottawa. The Government, in March last, was directly employing 147,073 persons in addition to 105,000 employees in the Canadian National Railways; more than 1,000 in the TransCanada Airways; about 1,000 in the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation; and 1,200 in the Bank of Canada, a grand total of about 255,273. In other words, about one in fifty persons in our entire population, including children, is now in the employ of the central government. Add to these the employees of provincial and municipal governments and it is evident that a surprisingly high fraction of the Canadian people now work for and are supported by the state.

VETERAN WAR CARRIER HERE

Steamer General Zalinski Revisits Prince Rupert as Fish Transport

Veteran of half a dozen ammunition-laden wartime voyages from Prince Rupert to Alaska and the Aleutians, the American Army Transportation Corps freighter Brigadier General M. G. Zalinski docked in Prince Rupert again yesterday, this time engaged in more peaceful commercial pursuit.

The 3,500-ton Zalinski Tuesday unloaded 11 cars of frozen fish destined for rail shipment to the eastern United States from Alaska. Chartered for the southbound voyage by Northland Transportation Co., the vessel will return to her army duties on the completion of the trip.

Master of the Zalinski is Capt. J. N. Zardis, a rotund and friendly native of Crete, who has been in the American shipping service for the last 25 years. Most of his time was spent on the east coast until the outbreak of war, then he was ordered to the United States-Alaska service where he has been ever since.

Capt. Zardis said that in spite of the fact that he sailed Aleutian waters all during the war, he never had any brushes with the Japanese.

"Everything was quite normal," he said, "except for the blackout and an encounter with a Japanese bomb balloon."

This balloon, strangely enough, was sighted by the Zalinski just off Cape St. James at the south end of the Queen Charlottes.

"At first we thought it was some sort of patrol, but it kept floating aimlessly up and down, and finally we decided it was a Jap balloon," he said. "We fired tracer bullets at it until it exploded and sank burning into the sea."

When he told the American naval authorities about the incident later, he was asked why he did not make an effort to salvage the balloon.

"I told them I wasn't going to endanger my ship just to salvage a balloon for them to look at," he commented.

Capt. Zardis has a soft spot in his heart for the Royal Canadian Navy, which went out of its way to guide him through Dixon entrance on his first trip to Prince Rupert during the war.

"We went through the entrance at night and the weather was so bad that there was no visibility. I felt pretty scared about bringing my ship through those waters because of the currents and rocks, but a navy patrol vessel came out and guided me as far as T rial Island, where they stood by until a pilot came out from Prince Rupert."

The Zalinski is operated as a supply ship for the American Army in Alaska, and has refrigerated holds between decks, and dry cargo space in the lower holds. She was built on the Great Lakes in 1919 and operated there until she was placed in the deepsea service.

LETTERBOX

ANSWERS "CARPENTER"
Editor, Daily News.
It was gratifying to see from "The Carpenter's" letter to the editor that he had read my sermon of last Saturday and that he agreed with its main points. There are two statements in his letter to which I wish to reply.
First, I did not say that the question of whether or not Christianity was reactionary could be decided by appealing to anyone's "personal reaction thereto".
Secondly, "The Carpenter" claims that Jesus did not revise the Old Testament. The root meaning of "revise" is "to see again." If Christianity is not a revision of the Old Testament then the word has changed its meaning. Let me quote just one example. Exodus 21:22 and the verses following enunciate the law of level measure and declare that life shall be given for life, "eye for eye, tooth for tooth" and so on. Our Lord revises this and commands his followers not to resist evil, not to seek for even-handed revenge, but to turn the other cheek. Surely to see that the Law requires such conduct for its fulfillment is to see it with new vision or to revise it.
R. A. WILSON.

Q.C. ISLANDS SCENE OF BATTLE

Campaign on Between Sawflies and Hemlock Parasites
About 20,000 parasites, effective in combating the hemlock sawfly which is attacking the forests of the Queen Charlotte Islands, have been imported from Belleville, Ontario, by the Dominion Government's tree insect expert at Victoria.
The parasites have been flown in cold storage from Ontario and released in the hemlock forests on Queen Charlotte Islands.
The hemlock sawfly is a relatively new pest in the Queen Charlotte forests. So far authorities don't know if it presages a general infestation, but they believe the parasite may control it. The parasites are being provided by the Dominion Parasite Laboratory.

TERRACE FARM SUFFERS FIRE
Oscar Farkman Loses Barn in Blaze

TERRACE—What could have been a very disastrous fire occurred on Monday when a barn belonging to Oscar Farkman burned to the ground. With it, all his hay crop and farm implements were destroyed. It was only by the efforts of the Terrace volunteer fire brigade that the rest of the farm, including the house, was saved.

One fire started in the afternoon and appeared to have been put out before the fire brigade arrived on the scene. Again about 7:15 the siren was sounded but this time it was too late to do anything. The fire brigade concentrated on saving the buildings next to the barn. There was no other loss.

ELECTRIC REFRIGERATION SAVES ON FOOD BUDGETS

Maybe it never occurred to you that electric refrigeration would be inexpensive. Actually, the cost is only a few cents a day—and even that few cents is saved many times over through your food budget. Foodstuffs keep longer in an electric refrigerator and there's no waste from spoilage. Purchases, too, may be made in larger quantities—another saving in money and shopping time.
