Sizzling Fight is Due Now on Floor of Senate

WASHINGTON, D.C. (CP)—The House of Representatives banking committee today approved legislation ratifying the $3,750,000,000 loan to Great Britain by a vote of 20 to 5. The legislation, already approved by Senate, goes to the floor of the House where opponents promise a sizzling battle.

James Byrnes Leaves For Paris to Meet With Molotov and Others of Big Four
WASHINGTON, D.C. (CP)—Secretary of State James Byrnes and advisers left today by air for Paris and a showdown meeting with Russian foreign commissar Molotov on the restoring of peace to Europe.
Diplomatic authorities say the meeting opening Saturday will prove finally whether the great powers are capable of settling European peace in unity.

STRIKE BLAME BEING BANDIED

Operators Deny Pritchett Claim That They Will Not Negotiate Further
VICTORIA — Harold Pritchett of the International Woodworkers' Association, in a statement, claimed that operators have "flatly refused" to negotiate further with the I.W.A. He said: "In refusing to negotiate the employers reject collective bargaining and must accept full responsibility for continuance of the dispute." He added: "We are prepared at a moment's notice to enter into negotiations with the assistance of Chief Justice Sloan. The government and the public must insist that both parties immediately enter into negotiations until a settlement is reached."

King Humbert Leaves Italy

Italian Council of Ministers Proclaims Premier Gasparri Chief of State
ROME, — The Italian council of ministers today authorized Premier Gasparri to assume powers of provisional chief of state. Later the Royal Palace announced that King Humbert had left Italy for exile in Portugal.
Earlier King Humbert had said that he would remain as chief of state until the Supreme Court rendered a definite verdict on the recent plebiscite which, by northern preponderance, went in favor of a republic over continuation of the monarchy.

Price of Civic Centre Building to be Made Known Next Week

Arbitration Board Concludes Hearings and Deliberations — Simultaneous Announcement of Findings to Be Made Here and at Vancouver

Price at which the Prince Rupert Civic Centre Association may assume ownership of the former M.C.A. War Services building, now used as a Civic Centre, will be made known simultaneously to government authorities in Vancouver and to the Civic Centre Association here within the next week, possibly on Wednesday, it was announced last night by H. G. Perry, chairman of the board of arbitration, which met here to arbitrate the price yesterday.

The board, consisting of Mr. Perry, Col. Hiram Wooster of Vancouver representing the government, and J. T. Harvey of Prince Rupert, representing the Civic Centre, deliberated until 9 o'clock last night after a public hearing which began at 2:30 and ended at 4:30.
At stake is the amount of money the Civic Centre Association will have to pay in order to assume ownership of the $160,000 Crown-built structure which already has taken its place as a centre of community life.
Decision of the special commission was formally completed and signed by Mr. Perry and Col. Wooster today. However, the signature of the Civic Centre representative, Col. Harvey, must wait until Col. Wooster takes the document to him in Vancouver late this week or early next week. Col. Harvey left this morning by aircraft for Vancouver before the formal decision was ready for signing.
Mr. Harvey will return next Wednesday, at which time, it is expected, formal announcement of the arbitration's findings will be made by him here. At the same time Col. Wooster will officially release the decision to the government.

Erroneous Road Report

Prince Rupert and Seattle

Reports are circulating in Prince Rupert and Seattle that the Prince Rupert Highway is impassable, according to American motorists in the city. Mr. and Mrs. Dillingham of Freer, Texas, started a motor tour to visit friends in Prince Rupert, left their car in Vancouver and continued by boat after being advised that they could not get through to Prince Rupert by the highway.
Mr. Dillingham said that he was advised by American Automobile Association offices in Seattle and Vancouver, that the highway could not be travelled. The A.A. based its statements, Mr. Dillingham said, on the latest information from the Prince Rupert branch of the Automobile Association—sent out on May 9, when they left their car in Vancouver and continued on by boat.
Mr. and Mrs. Dillingham and family are visiting with Mr. Dillingham's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Lovin.

Great Subway

Vancouver — Peter McCallister, Liberal Industrial Minister, today proposed a subway from University of British Columbia to Vancouver Island, a large shipbuilding industry at the mouth of the Fraser River and a radium and uranium experimental station here.

Lord Louis Mountbatten, cousin of the King, received the highest award, a viscountcy.

Fire Damages City Restaurant

Fire Chief H. T. Lock laid the blame on a carelessly-thrown cigarette for a fire which broke out in the bathroom of Katy's Kleen Kitchen on Fulton Street at 5 o'clock this morning, destroying a cupboard and sweeping up the walls and into the attic of the building before it was put out by city firemen. Damage both to the building and contents was covered by insurance. The fire was discovered by Mrs. Kathleen Smith, proprietor of the restaurant, who was awakened by smoke. Damage was confined to the one room and the attic.

Railways to be Improved

Falling Revenues and Increased Costs Not Detering Canadian National
MONTREAL — While falling revenues and increased expenditures are creating serious difficulties for the railways, the Canadian National system will not restrict its improvement program this year, R. C. Vaughan, chairman and president, said in a brief informal address to the sixteenth annual meeting of the system committee union management co-operative movement maintenance of way department in session here.
Delegates representing nearly 19,000 employees on all parts of the system in Canada and the United States began their discussions today.
Mr. Vaughan reminded them that maintenance of way and structures on the C.N.R. cost $70,000,000 last year, which was twice as much as was spent in 1939. "We hope to continue our improvements," he said "but it will be necessary for the railway to watch expenses carefully in the future, unless some means can be found to offset our additional costs."

Duthie Mine at Smithers To Be Reopened After 16 Years Lapse

Vancouver Concern Has Acquired Control and Plans Active Program of Development and Exploitation
Early resumption of operations at Duthie mine, 12 miles south of Smithers on Hudson's Bay Mountain, was foreshadowed with arrival there Tuesday of Lt.-Col. C. B. (Cy) North, internationally known mining engineer. Col. North had a distinguished career in two world wars with the Royal Canadian Engineers and was prominent in the making of Gibraltar defences.
Col. North represents a Vancouver syndicate which recently acquired control of the property from Smithers Mines Ltd. in liquidation. He is quite familiar with the property, having been in charge when the Atlas Exploration Co. of Toronto secured control from the Duthie Mines Ltd. during a period of refinancing.
A vigorous program of development and exploitation is planned by the new owners. Exploration for new silver ore bodies will probably centre around the Henderson and Fault Plane veins, according to those familiar with the property. It was in a junction of these two veins that strong ore occurrences were indicated when the mine was closed down in 1930.
A good road connects Smithers and the mine and the 50-ton flotation mill at the property is in fair operating condition, despite 16 years of idleness. Capacity of the mill could be stepped up considerably with the installation of another ball mill.
Spectacular values in ruby silver, ranging up to 2000 ounces per ton, were uncovered at Duthie mine during the peak production period in the late 20's when 125 men were employed. Secondary values consist of lead and zinc, with minor gold recoveries.
According to Col. North, adequate financing has been arranged to conduct an aggressive exploration program.
Announcement of the reopening of Duthie mine has rekindled interest in lode mining at Smithers and other interior points. Reports are current that other properties, including extensive copper outcroppings at Owen Lake, south of Houston, will soon come in for attention.
The variety of difficulties encountered by the newspapers in wartime is illustrated by the engineer's helper of a Manchester newspaper who had to dive in ice-cold water to keep the sewer open in order that water from a burst main would not ruin the newsprint supply.

Wage Control Being Changed

Resignation of Chairman of National War Labor Board Expected
OTTAWA — Revision of the government's wage control regulations, preceded by change in the chairmanship of the National War Labor Board, is being predicted in informed quarters.
It is reported unofficially that Mr. Justice M. B. Archibald, chairman of the board, will resign shortly to return to the Nova Scotia bench.

Charlottetown Due Tomorrow

Southbound after a training cruise to Alaska waters, H.M.C.S. Charlottetown, with party of university cadets on board, is due in port at 4:30 tomorrow afternoon and will remain until Sunday morning. One of the events in connection with the ship's visit will be a whaler race tomorrow evening off the C.N.R. and government wharves between crews of the frigate and the local Sea Cadets. Girls of Wrenettes and Job's Daughters will also pull in a cutter race.

Local Man Shot Sea Elephant—Evidence Sank

Capt. William Bussey, skipper of the well known halibut vessel Attil, believes that he killed a sea elephant on his last trip to Area Two—but because of his marksmanship, he hasn't anything to prove that he encountered the rare creature.
Fishing off the west coast of the Queen Charlotte Islands, Capt. Bussey spotted the mammal, which he estimated weighed between two and three tons. He hit it with one shot of his rifle and pulled alongside with his boat. The creature still had some life and remained afloat.
While crewmen endeavored to put a line around the creature, in order to attach floats, Capt. Bussey decided to put a final shot into it. He did, killing it—and it sank immediately, like a rock.
"If only I hadn't put that last shot into it, I could have kept it afloat with buoys and towed it to harbor," Capt. Bussey recalled gloomily. "I didn't even have a camera to take a picture of it but I think it was a sea elephant."
Capt. Bussey said that he believes he saw the same creature during an earlier trip to the same area. He followed it in his boat as it swam just under the surface of the water.

Tough Year for Britain

Herbert Morrison Tells Labor Conference Auster Conditions Will Still Prevail
BOURNEMOUTH, Eng. — Herbert Morrison, Lord President of the Council, told the Labor Party conference today that British reconversion will be completed this year "but 1947 will still be pretty tough."
"The famine may well dominate next year," Mr. Morrison said. "It will be a year of tight supplies and lack of elbow room but we can reasonably look forward to an increase in imports." Increased production would be obtained by intensive mechanization.
In co-operation with the famy, the presses of one British daily newspaper turned out 1,200,000 leaflets, in addition to publishing the local daily newspaper regularly.

BEVIN TAKES LEAD

IT IS GRATIFYING to read the forthright statement of British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin that, if the Big Four foreign ministers cannot come to some basis for the formulation of peace treaties, the British government itself will go ahead making separate pacts to bring an end to war which it should be remembered still is only in a state of suspension through armistice.

The statement of Mr. Bevin before the British Labor Party on this subject is also timely. Possibly it may provide the spark of leadership that will bring something definite in the way of agreement at the conference of foreign ministers which is about to convene again. Certainly some sort of initiative is required.

Mr. Bevin mentioned no names but it was clear to whom he was referring when he said "no one nation is going to keep me in a state of war forever with other countries." There will be general agreement with his comment that "We cannot go on this way. It is indefensible."

QUITE UNREASONABLE

THE CITY COUNCIL has been informed by the federal architect, under whose department the control of the local Post Office buildings comes, that local business people and others who like to get their box mail early on mornings after trains come in cannot do so until 7:45 a.m. because the Post Office was being used as a waiting room for the bus and the lobby could not be opened earlier. The city council says that they can do nothing about it.

If such is the case, it is to be supposed then that nothing can be done about loitering in Post Office premises at any time although signs warning against such practice have often been seen. By the same argument should people persist in loitering within the lobbies, the lobbies could be closed at any time of the day and the public further inconvenienced.

The Post Office, as we see it, is a public utility whose primary purpose is to move the mail according to the people's needs and requirements. It should be simple enough, we would think, if necessary to maintain a reasonable postal function, for the city to have the simple police patrol provided necessary to prevent the building being "left littered with papers and cigarette stubs." As it is now the public has to be inconvenienced in its business because no authority is willing or able to provide such a patrol for a public service.

It seems quite an unreasonable situation which could be simply enough remedied.

ON WATERING A LAWN

ABOUT THIS TIME of the year the man for whom watering the lawn and garden is a rite as well as a contenting pleasure begins to have his innings. From now until September he can loaf away an hour or so in the evening while seeming to be industrious, supplementing nature's contribution to the green of his lawn and the color of his garden and widening his philosophic horizons through contemplation.

The true lawn watering enthusiast is definitely not the type who attaches the hose in a hurry, directs a blasting stream to the grass for a few minutes and then tosses it back into the cellar. Nor is he the type who uses a sprinkler and goes about things he considers more important.

The real enthusiast takes at least an hour about it and scorns sprinklers. He works best if he has a garden chair or verandah step on which to sit. There should also be a stretch of lawn or garden well within the limit of the stream of water he controls. Larger plots involve tiresome walking about, and dragging of hose across grass, both destructive to contemplation. A deep, well-filled pipe that will last a long while is almost a necessity.

Given these our man is almost content. But he must first adjust the nozzle to just the right spray, fine enough to provide a light fall but strong enough to reach the far border. He scorns those who cannot make up their minds and are forever whirling the nozzle from one spray to another.

And then there is the matter of the sun. Perfect conditions call for a chair facing so that the setting sun will shine over his shoulder and into the spray, dreaming up delightful rainbows that can be moved to and fro with the easy swing of a wrist.

Making your own rainbows is one of the nicest things about watering the lawn under this system. Another is shooting the water high into a tree so that it falls through the leaves, giving all the delights of cooling rain with none of its discomforts.

Most important of all is the time all this affords for contemplation. Some will hold that a man lazy enough to sit for an hour watering a lawn won't think of anything useful. But it's our idea that some of the most satisfying thinking ever done has been done on front lawns in the cool of evening with the music of water falling a peaceful accompaniment.

Letters to the Editor

ALD. HAM THANKED

Editor,
Daily News:
May I take this opportunity through the medium of your publication to thank Ald. Ham for his noble effort in trying to convince his colleagues that the work being done on our city streets is far from satisfactory. Ald. Ham shares the opinion of at least ninety percent of the motoring public here and, if that portion of Seventh Avenue East from McBride to King Edward School is an example of the engineering skill and general ability of our hired help, something had better be done about the matter before it goes too far.
ART MURRAY.

ALCOHOLICS ANONYMOUS

Editor,
Daily News:
May more power be bestowed upon this organization whose motives are based upon love—regard for unfortunate men. The alcoholic slave must first revive his love for himself, regain his self respect, just as the sinner must first open his heart and make himself receptive before Christ will enter in. The foundation of Christianity is love and service, not religious sects or creeds; although some religionists thinking that ritual is the only suitable thread, spin a cocoon around themselves and expect to find eternal life therein.

Christ's parable of the man who fell amongst thieves is symbolic. Hatred, indifference breed destruction, but love is constructive. May multitudes of drunkards live until they can say "God, using Alcoholics Anonymous, saved me from a drunkard's grave and by the power of Jesus Christ raised me from spiritual death to be a dear son and worker for him."
MARVIN BAUER.

CHARGES OF "PIRACY" BY TAXI DRIVERS

Charges of "piracy" among the city's taxi operators were made public in city council Tuesday night. Taxi operator Joseph van Wallegham complained to council that certain other drivers were using his parking stand to get patronage.

In a petition signed by several operators with taxi stands on Third and Second Avenues, council was asked to put a stop to such unethical conduct. Mr. Van Wallegham complained that, within the last three or four weeks, his business had been "seriously hampered" by other drivers using his stand.

His communication named three other operators who allegedly parked in front of his stand to grab customers meant for Mr. Van Wallegham. Council didn't know just what could be done about it.

Alderman Arnold pointed out that operators are not given exclusive parking rights on Third Avenue and, therefore, anyone could pull up in front of a taxi stand.

Alderman Youngs recognized the signs of unfair competition as a result of the city being "overrun" with taxis.

The matter was referred to the licensing committee with power to get legal advice.

Freedom of the press has been dearly bought. The first newspaper issued in North America, appearing September 25, 1690, was suppressed before the second issue could be circulated.

NOT EVEN PRIDE

Editor,
Daily News:
"Pinning back of the ears" seems to be a popular pursuit among city aldermen. May I be permitted to explain to Alderman Hills the remarkable phenomenon of living and healthy people in the town of Terrace. If there were the same number of people in Terrace as in Prince Rupert spitting on and otherwise contaminating the streets, it would be reasonable to suppose that Terrace dust would be equally as efficient in producing airborne infections. I must apologise, Mr. Editor, for taking up valuable space for such an obvious explanation.

Let the city council take a look at Third Avenue and I defy them to show us another city with such dirty, filthy streets. Pride alone, to say nothing of public health, should dictate that something be done. Thanking you for your courtesy, I am,
R. G. LARGE.

PERRY ENTHUSES OVER HIGHWAY

One of Loveliest Scenic Routes in Canada—Urges Repairs

"One of the most lovely scenic highway routes in Canada with a climax of beauty amid mountain grandeur in the lower Skeena between Terrace and Prince Rupert" is the way H. G. Perry enthuses following his arrival by motor from Prince George.

Outside of two or three spots which need prompt attention, the highway is in excellent condition, said Mr. Perry.

The most difficult part of the road is the Hazelton-Kitwanga section but nearer Prince Rupert are a few spots where conditions arising from winter slides mar the driving—conditions which need "immediate but inexpensive repairs."

Mr. Perry has been here to preside over the board of arbitration to settle the price at which the Y.M.C.A. war services building will be taken over as the return to Prince George at the week-end.

NORTH COUNTRY IS ATTRACTION

The tourist attractions of north central British Columbia were affirmed again today by an American tourist who arrived in the city last night after a 2,000-mile motor trip from San Francisco. "You have a beautiful country and, with a little promotion, you could have lots of people from the United States as tourists," W. A. Imeson told the Daily News.

Mr. Imeson, who spent the war years travelling over the globe as chief engineer in the American merchant marine, is on a holiday, visiting his uncle, Charles Sieh, at Smithers. He sees great progress in the country since a former visit here ten years ago.

"Your roads up here aren't bad at all," Mr. Imeson said. "Of course, they aren't super highways like we have in the States, but they aren't too bad. I drove up as far as Smithers ten years ago, and the roads really were bad then."

Mr. Imeson, who made the trip in five and a half days driving time, expects to stay at Smithers for a few weeks to get in some fishing and possibly some hunting. He drove Mr. Sieh to Prince Rupert for medical treatment. The two will return to Smithers tonight.

Carnation MILK

What Does "Largest" Mean?

WORLD'S largest-selling brand of evaporated milk! Canada's largest! There are many brands of evaporated milk—but of them all, more homemakers and mothers consistently buy Carnation than any other brand. That's a great tribute to a great product!

Of course it isn't an accident. It is the result of a long record of dependable quality, carefully maintained . . . of doctors finding Carnation a fine food for bottle-fed babies; of mothers seeing children thrive on Carnation as a drinking milk; of whole families enjoying milk-rich dishes made with Carnation. For drinking or eating or "creaming" — you'll find that Carnation will become your favorite milk.

YOUNG BRITONS WANTING PALS

Ask Governor-General's Aid In Finding Correspondents

LONDON, ©—When Viscount Alexander came to Canada as Governor-General, he probably did not expect to inaugurate a pen pal club. However, five young Britons decided His Excellency would be just the person to find them Canadian friends so they wrote to him for help.

In a letter addressed simply to "The Governor General of Canada," seven-year old Anita Hill, writing on behalf of herself and her five-year old sister, thanked Canadians for sending her chocolate.

Her letter reads: "Dear friends of Canada—Thank you very much for the chocolate you sent us. My sister and I like it very much. I must thank you for my sister as she hasn't been to school long. Love to all the boys and girls of Canada. I remain, Anita Hill, aged seven, and Pauline Hill, age five."

Their address is 179 Union St., Middlesbrough, England.

Two letters from 15-year old boys at Portora Royal School, Enniskillen, County Formanagh, Northern Ireland, asked the Governor-General to put them on "the list of would-be pen pals." They specified they wanted to correspond with girls.

A neat air letter to His Excellency's secretary came from 18-year old Sylvia Trigg who described herself as "an English working girl" who wanted to correspond with a girl pen pal. Her address is 7 Benty Road, Green Lane, Dagenham, Essex, England.

GYROS MAY ADOPT OPEN AIR SWIM POOL IN McClymont Park AS BIG OBJECTIVE IN FUTURE ACTIVITY

CENTRES ARE SECOND HOMES

Australia Finds Clubs Are Answer to Youth Problems

SYDNEY, Australia. (P)—Australian parents and social workers are meeting the problems of over-crowded homes, child delinquency and the occupation of leisure time with youth community centres.

The centres try to compensate youngsters for the break-up of normal neighborhood life in areas fast becoming industrial or business districts.

A typical centre is run by Rev. Alan Walker at Bondi, where rooms have been opened under his church. There he caters to the interests of local children who learn gymnastics under an expert instructor, carpentry, printing (the centre has its own hand press), play games, borrow books from the library, or join a drama group.

"The centre is not denominational," says Rev. Walker. "If the children don't belong to our church it makes no difference. We hope to make it a meeting place for children and their parents, with interests for all ages."

Inspired by the centre's success various civic organizations are attempting to raise $17,500 for a new building to accommodate 700 members. The new centre will include a theatre, library and instruction rooms for weaving, handicrafts and painting.

Australia Plans Export of Furs

AUSTRALIA. (P)—Wartime has brought Australian furs into their own. The soft, long-haired honey beige Australian fox and russet-toned natural fox are in the forefront of fashion as autumn wraps. In view of the popularity of these furs Australian manufacturers now are planning to produce the furs in exportable quantities.

The undertaking was, however, considered a little too ambitious for the club to undertake this year. However, it will be further studied as a possible major objective for the future.

Meantime, as one means of building up the club funds for its work of providing outdoor recreational facilities for the children and young people, the club decided to revive the formerly popular hoedown dance events and the first of these will be held on Hallowe'en night. Committees will be appointed soon with a view to making it a real outstanding event. An Apple Day sale shortly before Hallowe'en is being planned as another money raising event.

The club decided to support the National Clothing Collection drive, now in progress, appointing Frank Skinner to marshal help from among club members for the work of packing and shipping clothing received here.

A questionnaire from the provincial government on various aspects of electoral reform should, it was decided, be made the subject for consideration at a luncheon of the club two weeks hence.

For the summer, at least, it was decided to give up business meetings of the club in the evening and revert to noon meetings.

President W. D. Lambie was in the chair at last night's meeting and there was a fair attendance of members.

A recent social event of the Gyro Club was a dancing party last Saturday night at Reid's Cafe when the attendance was not large but an enjoyable evening was spent. Music was by Andy McNaughton.

Patrick Henry, early American patriot, said: "In all free government and in the estimation of all men attached to liberty, there are certain rights inalienable and of so sacred a character that they cannot be guarded with too much caution. Among these are liberty of speech and of the press."

New York Yankees invaded Columbia University 23 years ago to sign Lou Gehrig, pitcher and first-baseman. Joining the American League team after the college season, "Columbia Lou" started making baseball history. He was the circuit's most valuable player in 1927, 1931, 1934 and 1936.

Germany's Max Schmeling gained the world's heavyweight title 16 years ago on a foul called against Jack Sharkey in the fourth round of their titular bout in New York. He lost the title to Sharkey two years later.

Jimmy Braddock jumped from relief roles to the world's heavyweight boxing championship when he dethroned Max Baer at New York 11 years ago tonight. In dire financial circumstances the New Jersey battler scored one of the biggest ring upsets in years. The bout went 15 rounds.

The Rugby League code of football, second in sports interest, is also booming. Attendances at many big matches in Sydney have already set new records, and these are expected to soar when the English Rugby League team, now in Australia, plays its scheduled matches in Sydney. Gates aggregating $400,000 and crowds totalling 1,500,000 are expected in New South Wales for the season which has just begun. A similar jump in receipts and crowd attendances is expected in Queensland, the only other state in Australia in which the Rugby League game is played. Both states expect the Australia vs. England matches to be played in Sydney and Brisbane to draw record crowds of more than 70,000.

Boxing is drawing big crowds down under and big amateur international contests at the end of the year are planned. A team of U. S. "Golden Gloves" boxers is expected to visit Australia in November and a team of Australian amateur boxers will probably tour South Africa. If successful, the two visits will be the biggest international boxing moves outside the Olympic Games.

FIGHT FANS POISED FOR TONIGHT'S LEGION CARD IN CIVIC CENTRE GYM

The air of suppressed excitement hovering over the city today has nothing to do with fear of a war with Russia. Most of the level-minded citizens feel fairly free of the danger of proletarian atom bombs for the moment and are concentrating on tonight's Legion fight card in the Civic Centre. Promoter Jimmy Nicoll approves this attitude.

Sometime during his past life, Jimmy has encountered the Hollywood adjective "colossal" and in recent references to tonight's events, the adjective has trembled on his lips. But he is said to his eternal glory, the word has never yet been uttered in the presence of a reporter. In spite of his delicate reticence, however, Mr. Nicoll is obviously thinking in terms of "colossal."

At latest word, Mr. Nicoll and his colleagues had lined up eight bouts for the fans tonight. These will be topped off by a battle between Len Hitchens and Bill McDonald of Vancouver which has seemed to capture the interest of the sporting gentlemen throughout the town.

Mr. McDonald, who is a tidily built 18-year old as one would want to see, is in the city today in company with his trainer, Tommy Ganns of Vancouver's Western Sports Club. Here, too, is Colling, a 167-pounder who will mix with Terry McCarthy in the light-heavyweight semi-wind-up. Colling is also 18.

On the other hand, Len Hitchens, the local headliner, is very much in the offing. Trainer Benny Windle sees Len as the rising star of the north, and with all due respect to whatever may appear over the horizon, Mr. Windle knows a fighter, and knows how to handle one.

In the semi-windup, it is understood that the scales will show a considerable advantage for McCarthy over Colling. Mr. Ganns, who picked his boys for ability rather than for the number of pounds they carry, was notably undisturbed yesterday at mention of McCarthy's advantage in avoirdupois.

In both the feature and semi-windup, the fights will run for five two-minute rounds, barring "workouts, while in the preliminaries the fights will be of three two-minute periods each.

Here is the card as it stood today:

- Feature bout—Len Hitchens 147, Billy McDonald 148.
- Semi-windup—Colling 167, Terry McCarthy, 177.
- Preliminaries:
 - Leo Adolpe 155, Johnny Richards, 155.
 - Bud Collins 175, Glen Carlson 175.
 - Bill McChesney 80, Bill Toderas 80.
 - Vic Johnson 175, Walter Carlson 175.
 - Jordan Smith 70, Carl Markey 72.
 - Alex Gomez 140, Bill McDougall 140.

WALKING CAN BE DANGEROUS!

On country roads, and in districts where there are roads without sidewalks, the toll of pedestrians killed and injured by motor vehicles mounts year by year. Just consider that at night on a dark road surface, a pedestrian in dark clothing, walking in the same direction as a motor vehicle is moving, cannot be seen by the driver under normal conditions until he is within 100 feet. If the car is being driven over 30 miles an hour it would be impossible to stop, under average conditions, before reaching the pedestrian. And yet walking isn't dangerous when pedestrians walk the right way, the safe way and the lawful way.

R. BAMFORD HONORED

Leaving City Soon for Victoria, having Disposed of his Practice.

The Canadian Legion meeting tonight was made the occasion of a "farewell" to Dr. R. C. Bamford, president of the local branch of the organization, who has disposed of his practice in Victoria and will be leaving early in July to enjoy a summer holiday in Victoria for the benefit of his health.

In the presentation of a silver shaker, complete with glass and tray, was made by Vice-President Vic Houshago, in a few well-chosen words, expressed the sincerest wishes of the members of the Legion at losing an officer who devoted so much of his time and energy to Legion work.

Wilson also spoke eulogically of Dr. Bamford's many years of valuable service as a member of the local executive and as five times president of the local branch.

In replying to these speakers Dr. Bamford expressed his appreciation for the presence and the kind references to his efforts while in office. He stated that he had taken great deal of interest in the activities of the Legion and during his years of membership, he has grown from a "stranger in the beginning" to the vast organization of today, recognized throughout Canada as the leading veterans' organization in the world. He thought the time had come when the veterans of World War II—who had returned to "Clevy Street" under far more favorable conditions than the veterans of World War I—should be taking a leading part in carrying on and increasing the activities of the Canadian Legion for the benefit of war veterans and their dependents throughout this great continent.

It was the regular monthly meeting of the Canadian Legion which was held last night at the Legion headquarters with Dr. C. Bamford, president, in the chair.

A large number of veterans of World War II were initiated and welcomed to the Legion. The routine business a letter was read from the Queen's Chapter, I.O.D.E., advising that they will hold their annual Decoration Day ceremonies Sunday, June 23, and hope that a large attendance of members of both wars will be present, both at the Cenotaph as well as at the cemetery.

J. S. Wilson suggested that the Legion make a request to the proper authorities to have the dates of World War II (1939-1945) inscribed on the cenotaph.

The Experts Say - -

FRESH VEGETABLES

Canadian home-makers who are rising to the present famine emergency and doing their utmost to conserve the needed foods: meat, wheat, eggs and cheese, are finding the fresh vegetables now on the market a special asset in meal planning. Reduced helpings of meat, eggs and cheese are not noticed when large quantities of well cooked vegetables are served. Less bread is eaten with the meal, too. New potatoes, green peas, string beans, baby carrots and other vegetables served when they first appear in the garden will make bearable as well as appetizing vegetable plates with no meat at all. The colors are so bright and the texture so delicate it does not matter which are used together. Cook in a small amount of water and for the shortest time, is the advice of the Agriculture Department. To be at their best the new vegetables should be "tender crisp." Plain boiled vegetables are delicious but sometimes a special touch may be added by scalloping or baking one of those used on the vegetable plate.

BETTER ENGLISH

By D. C. WILLIAMS

1. What is wrong with this sentence? "Their observation of the Sabbath is very strict."
2. What is the correct pronunciation of "room?"
3. Which one of these words is misspelled? Vanilla, Manilla, umbrella.
4. What does the word "levity" mean?
5. What is a word beginning with n that means "to render void?"

CREAMED NEW VEGETABLES

A meal in a dish made with a combination of vegetables is a time-saver and equally good. Creamed new vegetables in a potato crust is one of them. Use the last of the old potatoes for the crust and new peas, baby carrots and cut string beans for the sauce. Wee new potatoes may be added, too. The recipe for Creamed Vegetable in Potato Crust follows. The crust requires one egg, three cups of well-seasoned mashed potatoes, one tablespoon of milk. Beat the eggs well and set aside two tablespoons. Mix remaining egg into the potatoes. Spread mixture into a nine-inch pie plate making it about a half-inch thick. Crimp the edge and prick the bottom of the shell in several places. Mix the milk into the remaining two tablespoons of beaten eggs and brush the shell with the mixture. Bake in a very hot oven, 425 to 450 degrees F., until golden brown, about 16 minutes.

Remove from the oven, fill present, both at the Cenotaph as well as at the cemetery.

J. S. Wilson suggested that the Legion make a request to the proper authorities to have the dates of World War II (1939-1945) inscribed on the cenotaph.

3. Manilla.
4. Lightness, buoyancy. "He gave the form of levity to that which ascended; to that which descended, the form of gravity."
5. Nullify.

COLOR VALUES FOR CHILDREN

SYDNEY, Australia — Putting color into the lives of children is the aim of an unusual school in Sydney. Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Townsend, the founders, believe that color plays a very important part in the education of children, and their co-educational school caters to the color-tastes of its students.

The youngsters wear bright overalls or smocks at school, work at colored desks and use colored table napkins. Boarders sleep in beds with brightly colored covers, and for daily rest periods the young children are covered with sheets of their favorite color.

Pupils are encouraged to choose their own colors for clothing. The Townsends maintain that the choice of certain shades indicates characteristics of the child's nature and upbringing. A preference for red, for instance, may mean that the child has been restricted and needs to express himself more freely.

All lessons, in every grade stress color values; most of the classes are held out-of-doors. Meals are served on the lawns on fine days, and a swim in the harbor is a daily event in summer time. Languages, including Spanish, play an important part in the school's curriculum, and freedom of speech is encouraged. Homework is treated as part of the regular course.

Housewives Seek Kitchen Gadgets

NEW YORK, N.Y.—Pent-up demand for equipment and accents on the kitchen as a livable part of the home have caused a boom in kitchen planning services. Utilities, manufacturers and dealers all are co-operating in working out complete kitchen plans of every type from efficiency budget installations to the most elaborate de luxe arrangements. Public response to the program has been greater than the most optimistic anticipated, industry sources said. Surveys show that 65 per cent of women plan some alteration of their kitchens as soon as possible. The new merchandise trend stresses replacement of worn or inconvenient equipment according to a complete plan. Complete efficiency installations for the small kitchen or the limited budget have been developed.

FLYING TO TORY MEET

Local Delegates Left By Air For Vancouver

Prince Rupert's delegation to the British Columbia Conservative Association meetings in Vancouver Friday and Saturday for the purpose of choosing a new provincial leader in succession to the late Hon. R. L. Maitland left by Queen Charlotte Airlines flying boat Haida Queen this morning. They are Dr. R. G. Large, J. T. Harvey, Alex MacKenzie and G. J. Dawes. C. H. Orme will join them in Vancouver. Dr. Large will return next Monday on the Princess Adelaide. Mr. Harvey will return on the Prince Rupert Wednesday.

Further evidence of the lengths to which British publishers went to keep faith with the reading public is illustrated by one daily newspaper that had to transport their paper 60 miles before delivering a single copy, but despite this handicap, was never more than a few minutes later reaching the streets than in peacetime.

STEWART LOTS CHANGE HANDS

STEWART—In addition to the selling of business and residential property incidental to the revival of mining activity in the Portland Canal district, a number of town lots have also been changing hands and the board of village commissioners has been ridding itself of some tax reverted property. As soon as materials become available, there should be something in the nature of a building boom here.

As a recognition of the role of the British provincial press in wartime, the King in his 1946 New Year's list conferred a knighthood on the wartime president of the Newspaper Society.

PROBLEMS OF RAILROADING

"Dynamic Not Static" Declares C.N.R. Chief to Maintenance-of-Way Men

MONTREAL—Delegates from all parts of the Canadian National Railways system in Canada and the United States representing 18,824 maintenance-of-way workers, meeting here, heard S. W. Fairweather, vice-president, research and development, say that the problem of operating and maintaining a railway was "dynamic not static" and commend to them the scientific point of view.

"We should be keenly alert," he said "to the changing content and form of railroading to the fact that old methods are replaced by new and that the old materials give place to better. We have the promise of even greater changes in the future than we have experienced in the past. In your field of activity I commend to you the scientific and engineering point of view. With access to the best information, with our own inventive ingenuity and with co-operative action, the Canadian National will continue to be in the forefront."

Attending the sixteenth annual meeting of the system committee, union-management co-operative movement maintenance of way department the men were meeting with representatives of the management to discuss mutual problems regarding a department which required the expenditure last year of $70,000,000 on the 24,000 miles of lines.

Speaking of highway competition Mr. Fairweather said that the first factor in the problem was informed public opinion. The railway had made an intensive study of it and a new economic approach was being developed. The commonsense expressions of the railway never failed to carry conviction with the sensible-minded public. The public must be convinced that the problem was a national one which must be dealt with nationally.

Forty-seven hundred daily and weekly newspapers, the largest number ever used at once in the United States, were recently used by one concern for advertisements regarding wheat conservation.

FILM COMEDIAN LOSES HIS LIFE

LOS ANGELES, (C)—Charles Butterworth, 46, whose subtle drooleries and tangled metaphors carried him to success as a film comic, died early today after his automobile had struck a lamp-post, catapulting him to the pavement. Avoiding Bread Waste In Canada Will Save The Lives Of Thousands Of People Facing Famine

Waste of bread, unforgivable at any time, is criminal today, in face of the famine which threatens so many of the world's people. This garbage dump might belong to any Canadian town. Homes, restaurants and bakeries, all can help prevent this appalling waste. One slice of bread wasted by every Canadian is equivalent to throwing away over 500,000 loaves of bread. If the daily waste of even this much bread were eliminated, these half million loaves would not find their way into the garbage. The flour used to make these loaves would be saved. The wheat required for this flour, remaining at the elevators, would then be shipped to those in need. The wheat thus saved would give 900,000 hungry people 1,000 calories a day. Their life lies in our hands. Use less bread. Waste nothing. Share with the hungry!
