President Truman's Life Threatened

Alleged 'Executioner' Is Held By Secret Service

WASHINGTON, D.C. (CP)—The secret service reported today that "an alleged self-proclaimed executioner" is being held for grand jury action on charges of threatening the life of President Truman. The statement did not give names, places or dates in the case. It described the arrest and confinement of accused as "most significant" of activities in protecting the President.

'Run Around' Is Charged In Bus Franchise Appeal

With a confusing gush of words, City Council's bus franchise appeal to the provincial Executive Council went flat last night as the aldermen read a "decision" by the provincial cabinet body which informed them in effect, that their appeal was premature and "should not have been granted."

10,000 MEN IN CANADIAN NAVY

CALGARY, (CP)—Canada is planning for the greatest permanent navy in the Dominion's history. Vice-Admiral H. E. Reid, chief of naval staff, said in an interview here Friday. "We plan to build up to 10,000 permanent force by the end of next year," he said.

CONTRABAND BY CHINESE NAVY

Admiral Dismissed After Arrival With "Gift" Ship

SHANGHAI, (CP)—Chinese naval officers, who sailed back from the United States with a fleet of eight "gift" warships, smuggled in so much contraband that it appreciably rocked the economy of Nanking.

Fleet commander Lin Tsun was dismissed and two of his top officers were arrested on smuggling charges. Almost every officer of the fleet was a participant in the smuggling of four automobiles and sizeable quantities of watches, fountain pens, cosmetics and cigarettes.

IMPROVEMENTS FOR HIGHWAY

Special $200,000 Appropriation and Increase in Maintenance Vote to $50,000 Will Be Asked

A special maintenance vote of not less than $50,000 a year for the maintenance of the northern transprovincial highway and for the preparation thereof for blacktopping and the appropriation of a sum of not less than $200,000 for a number of major projects thereon to bring the road up to proper standards are asked for in a resolution to be presented by the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce to the Associated Boards of Trade of Central British Columbia convention at Terrace next week.

The projects asked for in order to bring the highway up to standard and for which the special appropriation of $200,000 is sought are as follows:

Filling in of two hairpin bends between Kitwanga and New Hazelton.

Partial rebuilding of Hagwilget, Gull Creek, Whiskey Creek and Copper River bridges.

Completing of approach at east end of Terrace bridge.

Rerouting and new construction between Kitwanga and South Hazelton.

As for regular maintenance vote, the resolution submits that the requisite maintenance of the highway during the next few years will involve a greater financial outlay than can be provided out of regular maintenance votes, particularly as the highway should be put in shape during the next few years for blacktop.

The resolution points to the major factor the Northern Transprovincial Highway will become in the economic development of British Columbia providing it is maintained in a reasonable state of repair and safety.

"In the first year of peacetime operation," says the resolution, "great interest has been evidenced by correspondence received from all parts of Canada, the United States and Alaska and by the amount of travel this year by cars from nearly all provinces and states."

The Iran embassy expressed mystification over the movement.

There have been strike disturbances in southern Iran.

The Iran embassy expressed mystification over the movement.

RUSSIA FEARS U.S. MILITARY

CO-ORDINATION COULD MAKE MORE BUSINESS BETWEEN CITY, DISTRICT

Need of a business co-ordination between the business and distributing centre of Prince Rupert and the communities and districts along the tributary to the line of the Canadian National Railways in the central interior is seen by T. Norton Youngs, who is home from a motor trip through the country.

It would be something like a "trade commissioner" for Prince Rupert.

Ald. Youngs admits that he does not know just how it could be worked out but he does feel that there is room for further development of markets all through the interior for goods that might be distributed from Prince Rupert. Agricultural and other products from the interior also might have, he thinks, an even greater and more profitable distribution in Prince Rupert.

"Possibly," he says, "the time might be ripe for a revival of something like the former city market idea."

Ald. Youngs foresees a continuation for some time of flourishing times for the sawmills of the interior. "They are not half keeping up to their orders now," he says.

POLICE FINES $1,289 IN JULY

FREE PORTS

JUST HOW that magic key to freer commerce—the free port—applies to Canada's ocean gateways in these days of growing exports and a general disposition to knock down world trade barriers is not widely apparent.

But some ports—notably Quebec, Halifax and Saint John, N.B.—have gone on record as supporting the idea. Others, such as Prince Rupert, Montreal, Vancouver and Victoria, have expressed a keen interest. Transport Minister Chevrier recently announced in the Commons that an inter-departmental committee headed by J. Emile St. Laurent, vice-chairman of the National Harbor Boards, is studying briefs from several of the ports and will have a report for the next session of Parliament.

Meanwhile, Quebec has taken the lead in the agitation and is showering Parliamentarians and Trade Boards throughout the country with dodgers urging a free zone near the old citadel.

While not so vocal, Halifax and Saint John also have made bids. The two Maritime ports have introduced a rivalry into the issue by coming out for year-round open ports—an argument which would rule out Quebec Harbor, closing during winter months.

Transport Minister Chevrier has been non-committal on the project because it was under study by the inter-departmental committee.

The spurt of enthusiasm for free port zones, in the opinion of some informed circles, may be cooled when the full implications of freer international trade are discussed at the world trade conference scheduled for next spring. Free ports may be one of the subjects on the agenda under new economic concepts may be discussed.

Most persons have a hazy idea of the general definition of a free port as a place in which merchants of all nations may load and unload goods, unaffected by the country's custom regulations as long as the goods remain in the free port zone.

A United States department once gave this fuller definition: "A free port is a segregated, fenced and guarded area in which goods, not otherwise prohibited may be unloaded and stored, subject to varying restrictions as to sorting, grading, repacking, manipulation and manipulation and manufacture, and in which such goods, or authorized manufactures therefrom, may be re-loaded and shipped to foreign destinations, all without the imposition of the customs formalities and duties applicable to similar goods entering custom territory."

When the shipment of such goods into customs territory is permitted, they immediately become subject to the duties, rules and regulations prevailing.

Free ports now are in operation in New York and New Orleans in the United States where there are no comparable regulations to the Canadian bonded warehouse system which has been described as a "Junior Free Port."

CONTROLLING ATOM

THE BIKINI TESTS suggest change in the structure and handling of warships, but do not plainly say, "Surface craft are useless; put your effort and money into planes." It is safe to say that navies will go on being built.

But the tests have strongly reinforced the impression that the atom has redefined sea power. One bomb may not destroy a fleet. But even one bomb can so damage a fleet either in harbor or on the high seas that dispersion is going to be the first rule of naval warfare. We may never again see armadas such as that off Normandy on D-Day. And manifestly overseas invasions are going to be increasingly hazardous unless or until offensive bombing has ended bombing by the defenders.

Even without the Bikini tests it was clear that there is no naval defense, as there is no military defense, against the A-bomb. This failure of defense is the key meaning of atomic warfare. It tells us that no nation can fulfill the first obligation of national sovereignty—the protection of its citizens. Individuals in every nation must recognize this and insist on effective international control of the atom. Ships are not obsolete, but sovereignty is.

THIS AND THAT

"And now, gentlemen, to our future success."

DEDICATION PLANS PROGRESS

Plans for the dedication of Franklin D. Roosevelt Park by Major General G. P. Hays in honor of the commander in chief of the American wartime armies and the American troops who served on Acropolis Hill, were further advanced last night at a committee meeting at which detailed plans were outlined.

The dedication will take place on Labor Day, September 2, and will be featured by the dedication of a cairn and plaque at the entrance to Roosevelt Park in which Mayor Daggett and General Hays will take part.

The dedication will be followed by a sports program, and will include civic leaders and representations by the local military reserve unit, Col. S. D. Johnston, unit commander, in charge of the dedication program.

Construction of the cairn is expected to begin shortly, and the bronze plaque has already been ordered. City council has set aside a sum of money up to $500 for the construction of the cairn and for the plaque.

LANDS MINISTER REACHES RUPERT

Hon. E. T. Kenney Here Today On Way From Queen Charlottes to Terrace

Winding up a tour of the entire province to inspect timber resources and logging operations in order to have a first hand picture of the situation to aid in the framing of further legislation in implementation of the Sican report, Hon. E. T. Kenney, minister of lands and forests, arrived in the city yesterday from the Queen Charlotte Islands and left early this afternoon by car for Terrace and Smithers. He will attend the Associated Boards of Trade of Central British Columbia convention in Terrace next week and then return to Prince Rupert whence he will fly back to Victoria via Queen Charlotte Airlines early the week following.

Mr. Kenney is accompanied by C. D. Orchard, deputy minister of lands, and G. P. Melrose, assistant deputy minister. They came north from Vancouver on the headquarters cruiser Syrene, Capt. Hauch, and visited all major logging operations on the Queen Charlotte Islands—including Moresby Island and Massett Inlet—on the way. They motored from Queen Charlotte to Port Clements.

Speaking of the Cemar report, Mr. Kenney stated while here that a large proportion of its 58 separate recommendations had already been implemented by legislation, important among them being one regarding the grading of hemlock and another the adoption of the cubic scale in measuring pulpwood. "The major issues of sustained yield and working circles are still, however, before us," the minister said.

The only portion of the province remaining to be visited by Mr. Kenney is a small area in the Nakusp and Slocan area.

Letters to the Editor

CITY EXPLAINS

Editor, Daily News:

As there has been an undue amount of publicity given recently by the local press to certain actions of the city council which has resulted in criticism of the council both by the press and local bodies, I have been instructed to publicize the following facts which evidently are not known to those who have been most vociferous:

(a) The Council granted the application of Chin Jon to re-establish a piggery on Block 39, Section 8, Eleventh Avenue, having in mind the following points:

1. The applicant was previously engaged in this occupation at this locality for several years and no complaints resulted from his activities.

2. His property was confiscated by the Canadian Army on the understanding that it would be returned to him at the expiration of hostilities.

3. The location is one of a very few which are suitable for farming and similar enterprises.

4. The applicant had previously contributed to improvements to that portion of 11th Avenue which provided access to his property, in addition to paying taxes for many years.

When Mr. Clark made application to purchase his property he enquired as to the possibility of establishing a mink farm at the location chosen and was told that this would be allowed. He purchased six lots and received the usual reduction granted to ex-servicemen on the two lots which he intended to use for residential purposes, paying full price for the other four. Subsequently his property was inspected by a representative of the Veterans' Land Act with a view to deciding whether it was suitable for a small enterprise such as mink ranching.

The Council is well aware that both piggeries and mink farms can be highly objectionable unless properly conducted, and it is their intention to see that any such projects located anywhere in the city conform to the requirements of city bylaws and provincial regulations regarding health and sanitation, all of which are rigidly drawn so as to preclude all offensive features.

In order to avoid embarrassment to the School Board, the settlement which the Trustees have termed generous has been made by the city and accepted by Mr. Clark.

H. D. THAIN, City Clerk.

CHRISTIANITY REACTIONARY?

(By Rev. R. A. Wilson, First United Church)

Is Christianity reactionary? In a changing world as ours it is important to answer this question. In this discussion we shall confine our attention to Christianity as expressed in the "New Testament." It ought to be recognized that Christianity is found in various degrees of purity in a multitudinal forms. Here we examine the attitude of the church rather than the preachers. To define Christianity more fully we shall use "reactionary" as meaning a return to an earlier condition. On this we can answer the above with both a "Yes" and no. Christianity is reactionary. In the past it is the enemy of the world and the friend of the church. The Nazis swept into the world and found that one of the best ways to attack their enemies was to use the language of Christianity. Here the bishops of the church declared in 1937 that when the government is unjust and the church cannot keep silent, it is the duty of the church to speak. This is a word which is suggested by a word in the Bible. Jesus responds to each with a quotation of the Bible. "It is written." In His word translated "It is written." Legal papers are stamped with "It is written." We have a document today which is recognized certain and proven and binding. Christianity's roots are in the past and it will always seem reactionary to those who violate its principles. On the other hand Christianity is not reactionary. Notice Jesus' attitude in the sermon on the mount. In Matthew 6 he quotes scripture only to revise it. We might translate His words in verse 21 by writing: "In olden times they have said, 'Thou shalt not kill'... But I command you, 'Whosoever is angry with his brother without a cause shall be in danger of the judgment.'" Here the command of our Lord is not a contradiction but an addition to the scripture. It does, however, suggest His attitude to change and represents a criticism of the past. I should not want to place too much weight on the meaning of the words Jesus uses to introduce scripture but they are suggestive. To the devil He declares adamantly that there is an unchangeable principle that cannot be altered. To His disciples He criticizes the ancient law and radically commands a new one. Christianity is both reactionary and radical. In the face of the dehumanizing power of the machine age it is reactionary and calls us back to a simpler life where people are more important than things. In the face of injustice imbedded in privilege it is radical. To quote the words of the Oxford Conference report the Christian standard of life, the law of love, "must challenge any social system which provides social privileges without reference to the social functions performed by individuals, or which creates luxury and pride on the one hand and want and insecurity on the other." In a world of change Christianity provides a standard. Against every new enemy of man it is reactionary, a stone breaking those who fall against it. Against every ancient wrong it is radical, "sharper than a two-edged sword" summoning men to a new and better day.

SYDNEY, Australia. (P)—Traffic experts are drafting a master plan to meet Sydney's traffic needs to the year 1999. Experts say that more than 4,000 vehicles a day are delayed by traffic congestion in Sydney proper, causing a big loss in labor hours and money.

CIVIC CENTRE DIRECTOR ALREADY PREPARING FOR FALL AND WINTER

New Badminton Courts Being Marked Out—Full Program of Seasonal Activities

Already the executive director of the Civic Centre is busy preparing for fall and winter activities. It is this ahead-of-time preparation that makes for smooth running of later activities.

New badminton courts are being marked out. The gymnasium on Roosevelt Park is being conditioned for lacrosse too. Lighting is being brought into conformance with city regulations.

And what will be needed is the full co-operation of all players and spectators. Players must be properly equipped. That means specially that they will wear rubber soled shoes. It is up to the persons in charge of the various sports to see that his players are properly shod. If a player has not the proper footwear he must not be allowed to play or practice. Incidentally, all playing accommodation is readily available at the Civic Centre so long as there is some responsible person in charge. In this connection there is a special word of thanks due to Alex Bill. His interest in training and coaching teams is fairly well known and recognized. This week he had a group at the Civic Centre where he was giving them tips in basketball. The court was made available to him and his players, and of course there was no question of any charge being made for light or use of any other convenience.

There are others in the city who, like Alex, are only too glad to help out with coaching and training of young players and teams. It is these who will benefit most from the use of the Civic Centre and who will make the greatest contribution to the advance of sport and athletics in our city.

To these people "behind the scenes" the city owes a debt.

Organization Important

It is only as one maintains a close contact with sport and its supporters that he realizes how much goes on behind the scenes, and how much depends on what goes on behind the scenes.

Take for example the organizing of leagues. Schedules are drawn up. But that is the easiest part. The important thing is to see that the schedules are carried out. This means that the fixtures must be made public. It also means that the captain of each team sees that his, or her, players are advised, and that they turn out when the games are to be played. Finally it means that each player must know when the team is to play and then must be on hand.

The executive is also charged with the responsibility of seeing that the equipment is on hand. This is most important. It is often a thankless task for it entails getting the equipment, taking it to the playing field and then collecting it after the games. In these times it may be particularly trying.

This matter came up in course of a talk with the executive director of the Civic Centre recently. In some lines of sport it is quite impossible to obtain equipment for the simple reason that it is not available. The shortage is not only city-wide, it is Dominion-wide. Fastballs, baseballs, basketballs, lacrosse sticks are all in short supply. Rubber goods will probably be even more difficult to obtain and that means bladders for basketballs, footballs and volleyballs.

Here again the manager has a big job "behind the scenes". He has to see that when the equipment is available it is checked before and after the game. Balls lost during a game should be returned by any who find them. In baseball, the local association is up against the same problem.

INSECT CUNNING

Many insects, including the monarch butterfly, play 'possum' on occasion.

FASTBALL PLAY-OFFS

General Motors Outclass Bo-Me-Hi and Grotto Doubles Score on Co-op

First found in the fastball play-off series got under way last evening at the Gyro ball park when in the first of two games the powerful General Motors nine outclassed the Bo-Me-Hi team to win 23-0 and in the second game Grotto defeated the Co-op by 10-5.

In the first game the General Motors had always too much power, experience and drive for the younger Bo-Me-Hi team. General Motors played their usual bang-up game while the school boys put on one of their poorest displays of the season. They seemed to be unable to untangle themselves and played away below form.

For General Motors Arney, Pavlikis, Vuckovich and Parlett scored 3 each while Simonson, Johnson, Lindsay, Davis and Fitch scored twice each. Their fielding was very sure. Simonson took two very hot drives at third base and then doubled the batter at first for two double plays.

High School had no luck. Their fielding was slack and breaks often went against them. Their hits went straight to their opponents.

Parlett and Pavlikis were the battery for General Motors and Wesch and Sharp for Bo-Me-Hi.

Teams: General Motors—T. Arney, Simonson, Johnson, Lindsay, Davis, Pavlikis, Fitch, Vuckovich and Parlett.

Bo-Me-Hi — James, Pierce, Forbes, Hartwig, Forman, Holkestad, Wesch, Sharp and Scherk

Scores—
Gen. Motors. 7 3 1 1 5—22

Grotto 10, Co-op 5

The Grotto-Co-op fastball game produced an interesting contest. Both teams played hard. Grotto went ahead in their first inning but Co-op went ahead in the first half of the third only to have Grotto overcome the lead and win 10-5.

Moxley had trouble with his control and finally took himself out of the game. He gave 4 walks in the second inning and walked in a run. He got into similar trouble in the third and walked in a couple of runs. Then he turned the pitching over to Bruce Simonson and the latter did a good job. Duncan was catcher. Simonson hit a 2-bagger and scored twice, doing some fast baserunning in doing so. Ralph Smith and Dell also hit a two-bagger apiece. Other runs were scored by Kerr and Moxley with two each and Carl Smith, Ralph Smith, Dell and Teed one each.

Slater pitched good ball but Grotto scored twice when in trying to get runners between third and home the ball was thrown wide. Runs for Co-op were scored by Hewick with two, getting on base each time on a walk, and Edgar, Nordgaard and Ward. Ward hit two 2-baggers.

Teams: Grotto—B. Simonson, C. Smith, Kerr, Moxley, R. Smith, Dell, M. Holkestad, Duncan, Teed.

Co-op—Bellis, Astoria, Edgar, Nordgaard, Hewick, Ward, Slater, Mintenok, Pederson.

Scores—
Co-op 0 1 3 1 0—5
Grotto 3 0 3 4 x—10

There's been a lot of football changes since then, Bill observes philosophically. The game was not organized like it now is and he recalls how Rough Riders used to go "ranging" the Ottawa district, playing teams at Arrprior, Smiths Falls, Perth and Carleton Place looking for competition to keep in shape.

A football injury that caused a floating cartilage ended Bill's football career and in 1900 he married an Ottawa girl and came west to Edmonton. It was years later that his sons, Bill and Albert, found their hockey legs.

Young Bill was about ready to sign an N.H.L. contract when he lost his foot in a railway accident. His only hockey activity after that was coaching the Edmonton Maple Leafs when they were championship calibre. Young Bill toured Europe with the Edmonton Superiors hockey

Baseball Double-Header Tomorrow

Endeavouring to bring the schedule up-to-date following recent interruptions owing to bad weather and the visitation of the Canadian Navy, a baseball double-header has been arranged for tomorrow afternoon at Roosevelt Park. In the first game, Watts & Nickerson is all set (that's what they say) to take the measure of the so far unbeaten Savoy. In the night-cap a rejuvenated Moose outfit will also try its luck against the league leaders.

Rain in Ketchikan interfered with sports as the following extract from a recent issue indicates: "Yes, there will be no ball game tonight. Prexy Edgar Anderson of the city league decided early this afternoon that the exchequer would not warrant the purchase of row boats enough to navigate the two ball teams on Lake Nickeyville. Maybe a game will be played Sunday afternoon, and again, maybe not."

club a number of years ago—old Bill can't remember just when.

W. J. got his first printer's job on the Ottawa Sun when he left school and later worked in the composing room of the Ottawa Citizen. On coming to Edmonton he joined the composing room staff of the Bulletin but he's going to "retire on pension" out of these days.

Bill's most pleasant memories are of his school days in Ottawa when the lads played a game called "hookstaff." Two blocks joined with a length of heavy twine and a stick with the game played much like lacrosse. Though Bill has no material memories of those school days, he still carries the inscribed and now worn gold watch presented each member of the Ottawa Capitals Lacrosse club on its world victory in 1893. "What's more," says Bill proudly, "it still keeps time."

claim that "we would be far-sighted to have such a resolution presented. It could well be the master resolution of the whole convention."
In conceding that the measure was indeed far-sighted, Dr. R. W.
Alward favored the provincial government being kept minded of its obligations.
Further discussion resulted in a decision to embody both measures in an all-embracing resolution, as follows:
"Whereas there remains only approximately 80 miles of new construction, between Sinclair Mills and McBride, to complete the Northern Trans-Provincial Highway; and
"Whereas the construction of this link will open up a large agricultural area as well as serve a great lumber industry and afford connection with the Jasper-Edmonton Highway, the Jasper-Banff Highway, the Big Bend Highway, the Cariboo Highway and the Peace River Highway, thereby increasing to an enormous extent the possibilities of the tourist industry from all parts of Canada and the United States, and creating new opportunities for employment; and "Whereas, a portion of the sources of Canada and especially in central and northern British Columbia; and

"Whereas the heavy cost of governmental operations and services with its consequent high taxation bears too heavily upon the productive and consuming resources of our people that can be eased by increased productivity necessitates greater efficiency, higher skills and more especially an increased population who will also increase consumption;
"Therefore be it resolved, that the convention — recommends the early resumption of an immigration policy, with special consideration of the admittance to Canada of relatives of Canadian citizens and of those people who were associated with Canada in the war."

HOW CAN I ???
By ANNE ASHLEY
Q. How can I give a white layer cake a good flavor?
A. When baking a white layer cake, a very delicate flavor may be obtained by placing two or three rose-geranium leaves in the bottom of the pan. Remove them when the cake is put together.
Q. Should iron utensils be boiled before using?
A. Yes; before using new utensils of ironware boil them with soda. When in the store they are greased to keep them from rusting.

CANADIAN WRÉNS DEMOBILIZED AFTER FOUR YEARS' SERVICE

girls in navy blue, the Wrens, are all returning to life. Active duties of the Women's Royal Canadian Naval came to an end on Wednesday, July 31, and such Wren as may be seen across Canada during the coming will be those worn by Wrens on demobilization leave or the right to wear the uniform for 30 days after leaving the service.
LEFT—With a kit bag on her shoulder and a smile on her face, Leading Wren June Whiting, of Belleville, Ontario, is seen arriving overseas for duty in the United Kingdom.
considerable period the Women's Royal Canadian Naval had a thousand Wrens serving outside Canada in Newfoundland, the United States and the United Kingdom.

UPPER LEFT—Scrubbing decks was one of the less romantic duties which Wrens undertook while serving their country. The two girls pictured here, Wren Chris Greig, of Montreal, and Wren Sally Hawkins, of Charlottetown, are giving a final polish to the floor of a Wren residence in Ottawa as the building was vacated to return to civilian uses.
UPPER RIGHT—Wrens did many jobs which had previously only been done by men. In this picture Canadian Wrens in a signal tower high above the harbor at St. John's Newfoundland, are seen sending a message to a warship by means of Aldis lamp. The winter winds howling around their lofty signal platform must have made home seem a long way away to Wrens Marian Wingate, of Victoria, B.C., and Margaret Little, of Kingston, Jamaica.
LOWER RIGHT—The first atomic bombs had fallen and so had Japan when this picture of the Wrens saluting His Excellency the Governor-General, the Earl of Athlone, was taken on VJ-Day in Ottawa. (R.C.N. Photos)

Waterfront Whiffs

Elderly Troller Westerner Rebuilt and Is Still Stout, Attractive Craft — Halibut Landings Here Over Twelve Million Pounds.

What many fishermen believe may be the oldest fishing boat out of Prince Rupert harbor, the 35-foot troller Westerner, owned by Helge Anderson, has been rebuilt by her owner, who plans to start fishing next week, probably off Squadrae. Her history, confusing in antiquity, the Westerner is something of a mystery boat. While her exact age is not known, even by her owner, the vessel is known to be at least 30 years old, and probably is considerably older. "I have been on the waterfront here for 30 years, and the Westerner was an old boat at that time," commented one grizzled fisherman. "She used to fish halibut in the early days." It is doubtful if Westerner is actually today the same boat that was built in that far-off day. A succession of re-building during her long life has left her with little of her original construction, which was destroyed by the ravages of weather, sea life and dry rot. However, today she is a sound, fine boat which should give her owner several years of service. Westerner was a pretty run-down vessel when she was berthed two months ago at the Cow Bay Boat Works where her owner, a boat builder by trade, commenced rebuilding. "I tried to sell her for months, but no one would make an offer to buy her," he remarked ruefully. "Now that I have rebuilt her, I have had several offers." Because her hull planking was sound, there was no need to put a new bottom in the boat, but Mr. Anderson put in new ribs for almost the entire length.

Mayor Delegate To Trade Parley

City council last night delegated Mayor Daggett to represent the city at the convention of the Associated Boards of Trade of Northern B.C. which is scheduled to be held at Terrace next week. Mayor Daggett also is representative of the Prince Rupert Industrial Development Committee at the convention.

PAPER-THIN LEATHER

Leather no more than a hundredth of an inch thick can be produced by the huge splitting machines used by modern tanners.

re-decked, and constructed a new stern and upper works. Westerner now is one of the smartest looking boats in the troller fleet.

The Vancouver yacht Deerleap, operated by Campbell Church of Seattle, was in port here at mid-week northbound on another pleasure trip as far as Ketchikan. Skipped by D.C. Dennison, Deerleap carried a crew of five, and several passengers.

The ancient, sagging plank leading to the Yacht Club floats has been removed and replaced with a solid new runway, which makes "walking the plank" less hazardous. The substantial gangway should last many years.

Peak of the sockeye salmon run is now passed on the Naas and Skeena rivers and one of the poorest sockeye seasons in recent years is nearing its close. Highest daily catches on the Skeena were about 65 fish on a recent week-end and the catches in the last few days have been considerably less. Thursday's average per boat on both rivers was 20 fish. Bad weather during a large part of the sockeye run did much to reduce the catches.

Salmon seining in the southern portion of the Prince Rupert fisheries district has been improving during the last few days, it is reported.

The power launch of H.M.C.S. Crescent will lead the Port Day aquatic parade and will carry the Port Queen, according to arrangements which have been made between Lieut. Commander Nixon of the Crescent and the local Port Day committee. Crescent will be in Prince Rupert on that day, after bringing the Governor-General here on August 21.

Halibut landing at Prince Rupert now total 12,607,500 pounds, with only slightly more than two weeks to go before the end of the season. Landings here last week totalled 478,000 pounds, of which 318,000 were brought in by Canadian boats and 160,000 by American vessels. Black cod landings during the last week totalled 81,500 pounds.

Union steamer Cardena, Capt. Alex McLennan, arrived in port at 11 o'clock last night from the south, sailing early this morning on her return to Vancouver and waypoints. Local Sea Cadets, who have been in summer camp at Vancouver, returned home on the Cardena.

THIS AND THAT

"Some people will do anything for a living!"

Free Enterprise Would Be Backed

The Principle of free enterprise would be promoted by Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce in each community of the district if a resolution to be offered by the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce at the forthcoming session of the Associated Boards of Trade of Central British Columbia is approved. The resolution would endorse and support the efforts of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce in emphasizing the vital necessity in the national interest of preserving and encouraging individual initiative and enterprise in business.

BOOSTER PUMP NEGOTIATIONS HIT OBSTACLE

The city's offer of $3,500 to War Assets for the booster pumps installed on the city water system by the Canadian Army was halted last night by a special meeting of council when aldermen learned that the power lines supplying the pumps had already been sold to Highway Construction Co. for demolition and that replacement of power service would be costly.

The purchase offer by the city was for the "complete installation," Mayor Daggett told the meeting. Mayor Daggett and City Engineer E. A. Phillips had been authorized earlier to investigate War Assets offer to sell the pumps to the city and learned during their negotiations that the power transmission lines and transformers were not included with the pumps.

City Engineer Phillips said a recent test had proved that the pumps could maintain a normal flow of water into the city's storage reservoir by operating 10 hours daily instead of on the 24-hour basis which has been in effect since the pumps were installed during the war.

Cost of operating the pumps on a 24-hour basis is about $700 a month. City Electrical Inspector Fred Kempton told the aldermen during a report on the costs of replacing the power lines owned by Highway Construction.

Alderman Hills suggested that the pumps be shut down completely for a two-week test period to determine if present requirements justify the pumps being in operation under normal conditions at all.

City Engineer Phillips said that, without a test, he was unable to tell whether or not the pumps are required but he felt that the city should possess them in case of emergency.

"We may need the pumps to get water into the city mains in case of a breakdown. That is the only reason I favor having the pumps at all," he said. "I think we should have them as a stand-by."

Their purchase by the city remains under negotiation.
