QUIET BUT INTERESTING
Miss Leona Engeleke Becomes Bride of Kingsley Hall of Seattle
A quiet wedding, yet one of much interest, was solemnized at St. Peter's Church, Seal Cove, on January 11, Rev. Gordon Smith officiating, when Miss Leona Engeleke, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Engeleke, became the bride of Kingsley Hall of Seattle. With only relatives and immediate friends in attendance at the rite, the bride was given in marriage by her father, Mrs. Harold Skog, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and Stuart Smith was groomsmen.
Following the ceremony, the marriage was duly celebrated at the home of the bride's parents where the toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Smith and responded to by the groom. The bride cut a handsome three-tier wedding cake.
The groom is in the United States Merchant Marine service. The bride has lived here for eight years with her parents and, formerly on the Capitol Theatre staff, was more recently with the People's Store.
Mr. and Mrs. Hall sailed Thursday night for Seattle where they will make their home.

Modern Etiquette
By ROBERTA LEE
Q. If a girl does not drink what should she do when all the members of her party order cocktails?
A. Order a soft drink of some kind.
Q. In what manner should invitations be recalled for a small informal affair?
A. They may be recalled by brief notes or even by telephone.
Q. Is it customary for two men to shake hands when being introduced?
A. Yes, always.
Q. May the bridegroom mail some of the wedding invitations to his intimate circle of friends?
A. No; all the invitations should be mailed from the bride's home. The bride's fiancé should of course furnish a list of his relatives and friends to whom he wishes invitations sent.
Q. Is it considered good manners to crook the little finger when lifting a glass or a coffee cup?
A. This is merely affectation.
Q. Which one should enter first when a mother and daughter are entering an automobile?
A. The mother.

Smiles' n Chuckles
He was a hardened landlord. When the painting season came he promised the tenants any color they desired for their walls. To a close friend he confided, "No matter what expensive color they order. I put a cream shade on the walls."
"Suppose they kick?"
"That's easy—if anybody puts up a real kick, I tell them that's only the first coat."
Girl: "Thanks for the good night hug!"
Soldier: "The pressure was all mine."
Charlie: "I can't see what keeps women from freezing."
Smart Sten: "You aren't supposed to, big boy."
"Mama, I never saw a picture of an angel with a beard or a mustache. Do men ever go to heaven?"
"Oh, yes, dear, but it's always by a close shave."
Landlord: "You've been here two years and never complained. What are you leaving for now?"
Roomer: "I just found out you ain't got no bathtub."

"You've got nerve to ask me to let you marry my daughter Flossy! Why, you couldn't even keep her in underwear!"
"Well, Mr. Rich, I haven't seen anything that indicates that you have been doing so well yourself."
A middle-aged woman lost her balance and fell out of a window into a garbage can. Chinese passing remarked: "Americans velly wasteful. That woman good for ten years yet."
Little sister, age four, was alone in the nursery when little brother Tommy expressed a desire to come in. This dialogue ensued:
"Please open the door, sister, I wants to tum in."
"But you can't tum in, Tommy."
"But I wants to."
"Well, I'm in my nightgown and nurse says little boys musn't see little girls in their night-gowns."
There was a period of silence during which the astonished Tommy reflected on the mystery. It was ended by sister's calling out: "You tan tum in now, Tommy—I tooked it off."
Their cars having collided, Jock and Pat were surveying the situation. Jock offered Pat a drink from his bottle. Pat drank, and Jock pocketed the bottle again.
"Thank ye," said Pat, "but aren't ye going to have a bit of a nip yourself?"
"Aye," replied Jock, "but not until the police have been here."
The little boy riding on the bus had been sniffing loudly for several blocks. After a number of disapproving glances, the middle-aged woman sitting next to him remarked: "Little boy, do you have a handkerchief?"
"Yes, ma'am," replied the child innocently, "but I never lend it to strangers."
He was a writer, and on this special evening was being lionized. He cornered the richest of the debutantes and for an hour he made himself the central figure of everything. Suddenly he broke up the continuity of self praise long enough to say this: "A thousand pardons, Miss Van Craig. Here I am talking of nobody but myself. Let's talk about YOU—how do you like my latest book?"
Little Margaret: "Mother, who was Mike Huntry? We were singing about him in school today."
Mother: "Mike Huntry? I don't know any such man. How did the song go?"
Little Margaret: "It went this way: 'Mike Huntry, 'tis of thee.'
A sailor's wife once complained. "Why are you so indifferent? When we were first married you said I had a figure like a beautiful ship."
Hobby replied: "Yeah, but your cargo has shifted."
Two girls were chatting. Said one: "You're wearing your wedding ring on the wrong finger, dearie." "Yeah, I know," was the reply. "I married the wrong man."

RADIO FINGER ON CRIMINALS

LONDON — A new weapon against international criminals—a world radio fingerprint system—may come into being as the result of a successful attempt to radio a fingerprint from London to Melbourne, Australia.

Scotland Yard officials, who have been conducting experiments along these lines for years, expect to hold conferences shortly with police representatives from other countries in order to set up the chain.

The fingerprint was sent through Cable and Wireless facilities to Melbourne in seven minutes and enabled Melbourne to establish identification.

One print only is sent, and is accompanied by a code message indicating the finger and classification of the print.

Little Mary, aged five, came running up to her mother, crying: "Oh, mother! you'd better come quick and get daddy!"

"Why, dear?"
"Well, papa and Mr. Smith are down in the cellar and I heard Mr. Smith tell papa to give him another shot."

Crafty Drinkers Used Wax to Alter Liquor Rations

A minor change in policy of cancelling the used portions of the 1946 liquor permits has been caused by the sharp and illegal methods used by a thirsty section of the population.

The original method of cancelling the used parts of the permits, as prescribed by Liquor Controller Kennedy, was to stamp out the square with ink, using the rubber eraser on a pencil as a stamp. The paper on which the permit was printed, Mr. Kennedy said, was specially treated against erasure of the ink.

Mr. Kennedy underestimated human craftiness. For according to a clerk in the local liquor store a practice was developed whereby certain permit holders covered the permit with a thin coating of wax before it was stamped. It wasn't a matter of erasing the mark, but of merely scraping the wax off the page and presto!—an unused permit.

Liquor store clerks now punch holes in the used permit parts.

ROD AND GUN CLUB ANNUAL

Condition of Highway Comes Under Discussion

At the Prince Rupert Rod and Gun Club annual general meeting in the Legion Rooms, Thursday night, spirited discussion took place in connection with the poor condition of the road between the city limits and the bridge at Galloway Rapids and the matter is to be looked into.

There was a good turnout of members and a very enthusiastic meeting was held. Many matters of interest to sportsmen were dealt with.

Election of officers resulted in B. J. Bacon being elected president and F. W. Grimble, secretary-treasurer, being re-elected. Ned McLeod was elected as vice-president by acclamation and other executive members elected.

U.B.C. Wins Over Whitman College

VANCOUVER — University of British Columbia Thunderbirds defeated Whitman College of Walla Walla, Washington, 74 to 38 in a Pacific Northwest conference basketball game here last night.

were Roy Van-der-Sluys and George Abbott.

It was unanimously agreed that the Club hold their Annual Game Dinner this year and a committee was appointed to arrange same. If possible the dinner will be held some time in February and efforts will be made to have one of the Game Commissioners attend and show some of their famous game pictures.

The desirability of obtaining a very good membership this year was strongly advocated and a competent committee was appointed to look after this.

Ottawa, Paget to Have Trial Runs Next Week—Other Vessels to Be Inspected

First of the two 1,500-ton China coast type vessels built at the Prince Rupert Dry Dock and Shipyard is scheduled to go on her trial run on January 31. At present, the ship—Ottawa Paget—is standing on the pontoons having her final hull painting. Disposal of the Ottawa Paget, along with almost a score of similar vessels built on this coast during the last four months, seems to be a problem.

Originally intended for the British Ministry of Shipping, for wartime use, the ships are now orphans. The government is seeking buyers. The Ottawa Paget will carry a crew of dry dock workmen on her trials. James Bryden, steamship inspector of Vancouver, is expected to arrive in the city shortly to inspect the ship. Mr. Bryden will also inspect a number of newly completed small vessels, among them the Five Princes, new 48-foot halibut boat.

The well known halibutter Atli, is on the repair grid behind the Co-op Cow Bay store undergoing a change of propellers which is expected to increase her efficiency. Her owner, Capt. Bill Bussey, is changing her present 33-inch wheel for a propeller 38 inches in diameter. Involved also in the operation is a change in the reduction ratio. With the 33-inch propeller the Atli had a 3-to-1 reduction, while with the 38 inch wheel it will have a 4½-to-1 reduction. The larger propeller will have a 30-inch pitch. The Atli is powered with an eight cylinder Chrysler Royal engine, which is said to turn up about 1,700 revolutions at cruising speed. Thus, the new propeller speed would be about 380 revolutions a minute, compared with about 570 for the smaller wheel.

Marion and Newhouser were the only repeaters from the 1944 All-Star team, four—Stan Musial, Dick Wakefield, Bobby Doerr and Walker Cooper being in the service. Of the five 1944 members not repeating, Dixie Walker of the Dodgers came the closest to qualifying again, finishing only two votes behind Rosen for the third outfield position.

Today in Sports

Although the American League Tigers won the World Series, the National League qualified with seven out of the 11 players on the 1945 All-Star team of The Sporting News, chosen by 216 members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America. The Cubs, who bowed to the Tigers in the fall classic, placed three to two by the Detroit club. The Cardinals also landed two and the Braves, Dodgers, Yankees and Red Sox one each.

Members of the twenty-first annual All-Star team of The Sporting News, announced today, are: Outfielders—Tommy Holmes, Braves; Andy Pafko, Cubs, and Goodwin Rosen, Dodgers; first base—Phil Cavaretta, Cubs; second base—George Kurowski, Cardinals; catcher, Paul Richards, Tigers; pitchers—Hal Newhouser, Tigers; Dave Ferris, Red Sox, and Hank Borowy, Cubs.

Newhouser led in the voting, with 206 out of a possible 216. Cavaretta was next in favor with 201 votes, and Holmes was third with 183. The closest balloting centered around third base, for which Kurowski nosed out Stan Hack of the Cubs by two votes, 105 to 103. The widest difference of opinion was registered for the catchers, 10 being named, with Richards winning the nomination from 81 writers, followed by Mike Tresh of the White Sox with 33, Frank Hayes of the Indians with 37.

Marion and Newhouser were the only repeaters from the 1944 All-Star team, four—Stan Musial, Dick Wakefield, Bobby Doerr and Walker Cooper being in the service. Of the five 1944 members not repeating, Dixie Walker of the Dodgers came the closest to qualifying again, finishing only two votes behind Rosen for the third outfield position.

Vote of the 216 scribes for the 1945 All-Star team follows:

Outfielders—Tommy Holmes, Braves, 188; Andy Pafko, Cubs, 114; Goody Rosen, Dodgers, 58; Dixie Walker, Dodgers, 56; Hank Greenberg, Tigers, 49; George Case, Senators, 48; Roger Cramer, Tigers, 27; Jeff Heath, Indians, 17; Johnny Hopp, Cardinals, 17; Mel Ott, Giants, 13; Roy Johnson, Red Sox, 8; Roger Cullenbine, Tigers, 8; Luis Olmo, Dodgers, Charlie Keller, Yanks, Elvin Adams, Cardinals, and Buddy Lewis, Senators, 6 each; Augie Galan, Dodgers, and Harry Lowrey, Cubs, 4 each; Albert Schoendienst, Cardinals, Roberto Estellella, Athletics, Bill Nicholson, Cubs, and Wally Moses, White Sox, 2 each; Vern Stephens, Browns, Sam Chapman, Athletics, Phil Cavaretta, Cubs, George Binks, Senators, and Tony Cucinello, White Sox, 1 each.

First Basemen—Phil Cavaretta, Cubs, 201; Joe Kuhel, Senators, 7; Nick Etten, Yankees, 3; George McQuinn, Browns, 2; Ray Sanders, Cardinals, Rudy York, Tigers, and George Stinweiss, Yankees, 1 each.

Second Basemen—George Kurowski, Yankees, 170; Eddie Mayo, Tigers, 31; on Johnson, Cubs, 12; George Myatt, Senators, 3.

Shortstops—Marty Marion, Cardinals, 160; Lou Boudreau, Indians, 32; Vern Stephens, Browns, 18; Eddie Miller, Reds, 4; Buddy Kerr, Giants, 2.

Third Basemen—George Kurowski, Cardinals, 105; Stanley Hack, Cubs, 103; George Kell, Athletics, 3; Bob Elliott, Pirates, 2; Mark Christman, Browns, 2; Eddie Mayo, Tigers, 1.

Catchers—Paul Richards, Tigers, 81; Mike Tresh, White Sox, 38; Frank Hayes, Indians, 37; Ernie Lombardi, Giants, 17; Al Lopez, Pirates, 15; Rick Ferrell, Senators, 12; Bill Salkeid, Pirates, 10; Phil Masi, Braves, 3; Aaron Robinson, Yankees, 2; Del Rice, Cardinals, 1.

Pitchers—Hal Newhouser, Tigers, 206; Dave Ferris, Red Sox, 130; Hank Borowy, Cubs, 97; Charles Barrett, Cardinals, 85; Hank Wyse, Cubs, 36; Roger Wolf, Senators, 25; Harry Brecheen, Cardinals, 24; Bob Feller, Indians, 22; Bob Muncie, Browns, 5; Claude Passeau, Cubs, 5; Dixie Trout, Tigers, 5; Kenneth Burkhardt, Cardinals, 2; Steve Gromek, Indians, 2; Charles Ruffing, Yankees, Virgil Trucks, Tigers, Emil Leonard, Senators, Nelson Potter, Browns, 1 each.

Walker was the only member of the 1944 All-Star team, besides the repeaters, to be in the running for the 1945 aggregation, placing fourth among the outfielders; Dizzy Trout received five votes; Bob Elliott, two; Ray Sanders, one, and Morton Cooper, none. The four others on the '44 squad, Stan Musial, Bobby Doerr, Dick Wakefield and Walker Cooper, were wearing uniforms of Uncle Sam, and, therefore, were not eligible.

Twelve others named on previous teams were still active the past season. They included Lon Warneke, Joe Medwick, Mel Ott, Roger Cramer, Bucky Walters, Paul Derringer, Dolph Camilli, Bill Nicholson, Rudy York, Truett Sewell, Thornton Lee and Whit Wyatt.

Joe Cronin, Pie Traynor and Mickey Cochrane named tied at seven for being named most times to All-Star teams, with Bill Dickey, Babe Ruth, Joe DiMaggio, Al Simmons and Charley Gehring, selected six times, runners-up.

War-time choices, yes; but the 1945 picks are true big shots and no doubt could battle on even terms with all-star selections of other years.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

January 26, 1921

The Crosby Indian Residential school for girls was completely destroyed by fire. All the belongings of the eight teachers and 40 pupils were lost. The fire originated in the basement, causing loss estimated at $25,000.

Three vessels were on the pontoons at the dry dock undergoing annual repair. They were the Prince Albert and the trawlers Andrew Kelly and G. E. Foster.

The steamer Prince John docked at Prince Rupert carrying 500 tons of ore from the Premier Mine for the smelter at Tacoma. The cargo was the largest ever to be taken from the rich Premier mine up to that date.

H. A. Wallace, managing editor of Wallace Shipyards Ltd., Vancouver, which took over the Prince Rupert Dry Dock and Engineering Co., arrived in the city to confer with officials regarding repairs to three vessels on the pontoons—Prince Albert, G. E. Foster and Andrew Kelly.

A narrow vein of "marvellously rich ore" was struck at Premier Mine. Running through the high grade silver ore, the narrow vein assayed $5 to $10 to the pound, or from $15,000 to $20,000 to the ton. The vein consisted of free gold among the silver ore.

Prince Rupert's St. Andrew's Society again did its share in keeping green the memory of Scotland's immortal bard, Robert Burns, at a banquet given in the Central Hotel. Speakers were Dr. H. R. Grant, Thomas McClymont, A. M. Manson M. L. A., Mayor H. B. Rochester, Col. C. W. Peck and others.

Mr. and Mrs. Wearmouth will be leaving Prince Rupert February 14 to take up future residence in the south, the point of location having not yet been decided upon.

With the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Wearmouth, Prince Rupert will lose esteemed residents of many years' standing. Mr. Wearmouth arrived first in this district from England in 1910 and was at Massett before the First Great War in which he enlisted early to serve in France with the 16th Canadian Scottish. Wounded in 1916 he was in a hospital in England. For a while he engaged in fish packing and in 1930 started the poultry farm which he has developed into a thriving and beautiful property. Mrs. Wearmouth, at one time a member of the Prince Rupert General Hospital nursing staff, has been active in Red Cross work and has been popular locally. They lost their only son, Jack, while serving with the Canadian Army in Italy.

CANADIAN RADIO'S "GREATS"

The Academy of Radio Arts, intended to train young actors and musicians how to perfect their talent for radio careers, has been launched by Lorne Greene, famous as a CBC news announcer and later as "the voice" on National Film Board motion pictures such as the "Canada Carries On" series. Radio headliners have been picked as the "professors." Here is the faculty, from the left: John Drainie, dramatics; Greene, announcing; Fletcher Markle, writing; Jack Allison, singing; Steve Brodie of the CBC, speech. Beginning February over the CBC's TransCanada Network, each Tuesday and Thursday from 1:45 to 2 E.S.T., prize students of the Academy will appear in playlets, with two-year scholarships at the New York Neighborhood Playhouse awarded each 10 weeks. The program is "Stars To Be."

Medical Degree Won By Former Mountie

LONDON. —Richard Clithrow, 43, former Royal Canadian Mounted Police corporal in southern Saskatchewan who started his medical studies when he was 38, has passed his final examinations and returns to the House of Commons as a doctor. He is labor member of parliament for Edgehill, Liverpool. He is a pharmacist and says he studied for his medical degree simply because "I wanted to have an intelligent understanding of what doctors think." He will not practise. He intends to visit Canada again for "that country really got in my blood."

Every ship has a painted mark on its hull showing how low in the water she can be permitted to sink safely when loaded.

FIRST ELECTRIC MICROSCOPE OUT

LONDON. —The first British-manufactured electron microscope, capable of revealing an object as small as 1,000,000th of an inch, was displayed at the 36th exhibition of Scientific Instruments and Apparatus. The microscope stands nine feet high, contains 53 radio tubes, several dry batteries, transformers and a complicated set of switches.

MALTA NEEDS BUILDERS

VALETTA, Malta. — Some idea of Malta's housing problem may be gleaned from figures showing that in seven months of 1945 only 396 families were rehoused, leaving 2,579 families still to be found adequate accommodation. The chief difficulty is insufficient building operatives.

WOMEN WOULD LEAVE BRITAIN

London Publication is Marriage Negotiator for "All Classes" LONDON. —British women who want husbands and are willing to pay for them are also looking for homes outside of the tightly rationed British Isles. At least half the 250 spinsters, widows and divorcees who advertise monthly for mates in London's unique "Matrimonial Post and Fashionable Marriage Advertiser" express willingness, if not eagerness, to live abroad. Not one in ten specifies that her potential husband must be British, or live in Great Britain. Bachelors, widowers and divorced men who seek wives through the columns of the 80-year old publication, self-described as "the only marriage negotiator for the nobility, gentry, commercial and all classes," appear not to care where they live, so long as it's in the state of matrimony. But the 200 or more advertisers in each issue agree that the wives they want should be cheerful, healthy, neat and economical, preferably with a trim figure and a little something in the bank. No estimate is given of the number of marriages that result from these advertisements but Editor R. Charlesworth, who says the Post has a larger circulation than all other matrimonial papers in the world combined, claims "thousands of testimonials from satisfied clients."

Fees, like the paper's actual circulation, are secret. Advertisers pay nothing until as the Court Circular would say, "a marriage has been arranged."

Male advertisers average 36 years of age; women—on the basis of their own statements—three years younger. Seventy per cent of the women list playing the piano among their attractions. About five per cent require that would-be husbands abstain from strong drink.

Seeks Grave Near Woman He Killed

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C. — A 21-year-old truck driver was said to have received the bill for a grave in jail next to the body of the woman he was accused of murdering. He was charged with the killing of Mrs. Agnes Muriel Ellacott, aged 34, of Upper Harte, Pannam. Evidence was given that Mrs. Ellacott had fallen in love with the truck driver, and after he had killed her in her kitchen he went out and had a drink at a public house with her husband. Mr. Ellacott said he noticed nothing unusual about Nash at the time.

Minister of Trade and Commerce Expects to See British Bans Lowered

LONDON. —Relaxation of Canadian price controls to facilitate British trade with the Dominion and loosening of British import regulations to permit Canadian goods to enter the United Kingdom more freely were forecast by Hon. James A. Mackinnon, minister of trade and commerce, yesterday. Mr. Mackinnon said Canada will continue to rely on trade with the United Kingdom and United States but must find new markets and will spare no effort to gain a fair share of European, Commonwealth, Oriental and Latin-American trade.

BRITISH GUIANA DIAMONDS

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana. —Maurice Nascimento has discovered in the Kurupung Creek bed a diamond deposit believed to be the largest in the Colony. He estimates that the deposit, provided necessary finance and equipment can be procured to carry out large-scale operations, should yield within 10 years approximately $60,000,000 worth of diamonds.

ZULU VILLAGE RESTORATION

CAPE TOWN. —Headquarters of the infamous King Dingaan, the Natal centre of the former royal kingdom of Zululand may rise again from the ashes it became when the Zulus used a "scorched-earth" policy in 1838.

The South African Historical Monuments Commission is considering rebuilding the more important huts in the kraal. The intention to reopen some grain pits, which have remained untouched since Dingaan's defeat in 1838, may cause some difficulty, owing to the natives' superstition. The history of Dingaan is one of murderous treachery. In 1837, Pieter Retief, leader of the first party of Boer immigrants to enter Natal, received formal concession to settle in the country and then was murdered by the Zulus under Dingaan's orders. After two unsuccessful attempts to avenge their slain in which the Boers were aided by the British, Dingaan's army was defeated on December 16, 1838, by a Boer force under Andries Pretorius. The defeat of the Zulus as well as the anniversary of the proclamation of Boer independence in South Africa on Dingaan's Day, December 16.

Members of the Historical Monument Commission feel that if the natives are assured that the reconstruction of the kraal will perpetuate their history the move will be welcome. From several descriptions written by contemporary European traders and missionaries it is believed the kraal was formed of two concentric circular hedges between which stood the circular row of huts. Opposite the entrance were the king's quarters where his wives were housed in a seclusion which meant death to any male intruders. According to a report left by Retief, the royal kraal contained 1,700 huts, each of which accommodated about 20 men, forming more of a barracks than a town. It was here that Retief and his associates were killed by Dingaan. When the avenging Boers arrived at the kraal a few months later they found it in flames and deserted.

Health and Sanitation Problems of Year Reported Upon

Compiled by M. J. Harper, Health Unit sanitation, the annual report of the Prince Rupert District Board of Health covered activities of the Health Unit last year, outlining health and sanitation problems and the efforts made to combat them.

There were 14 reported cases of chicken pox, seven of rubella, six of scarlet fever, four of meningitis, 11 of conjunctivitis and two of mumps.

A progressive immunization campaign was conducted during the year among infants and pre-school children. There were 313 immunizations carried out, 120 for diphtheria, 117 for whooping cough, 55 for small pox, 11 for typhoid and tetanus and 10 for scarlet fever.

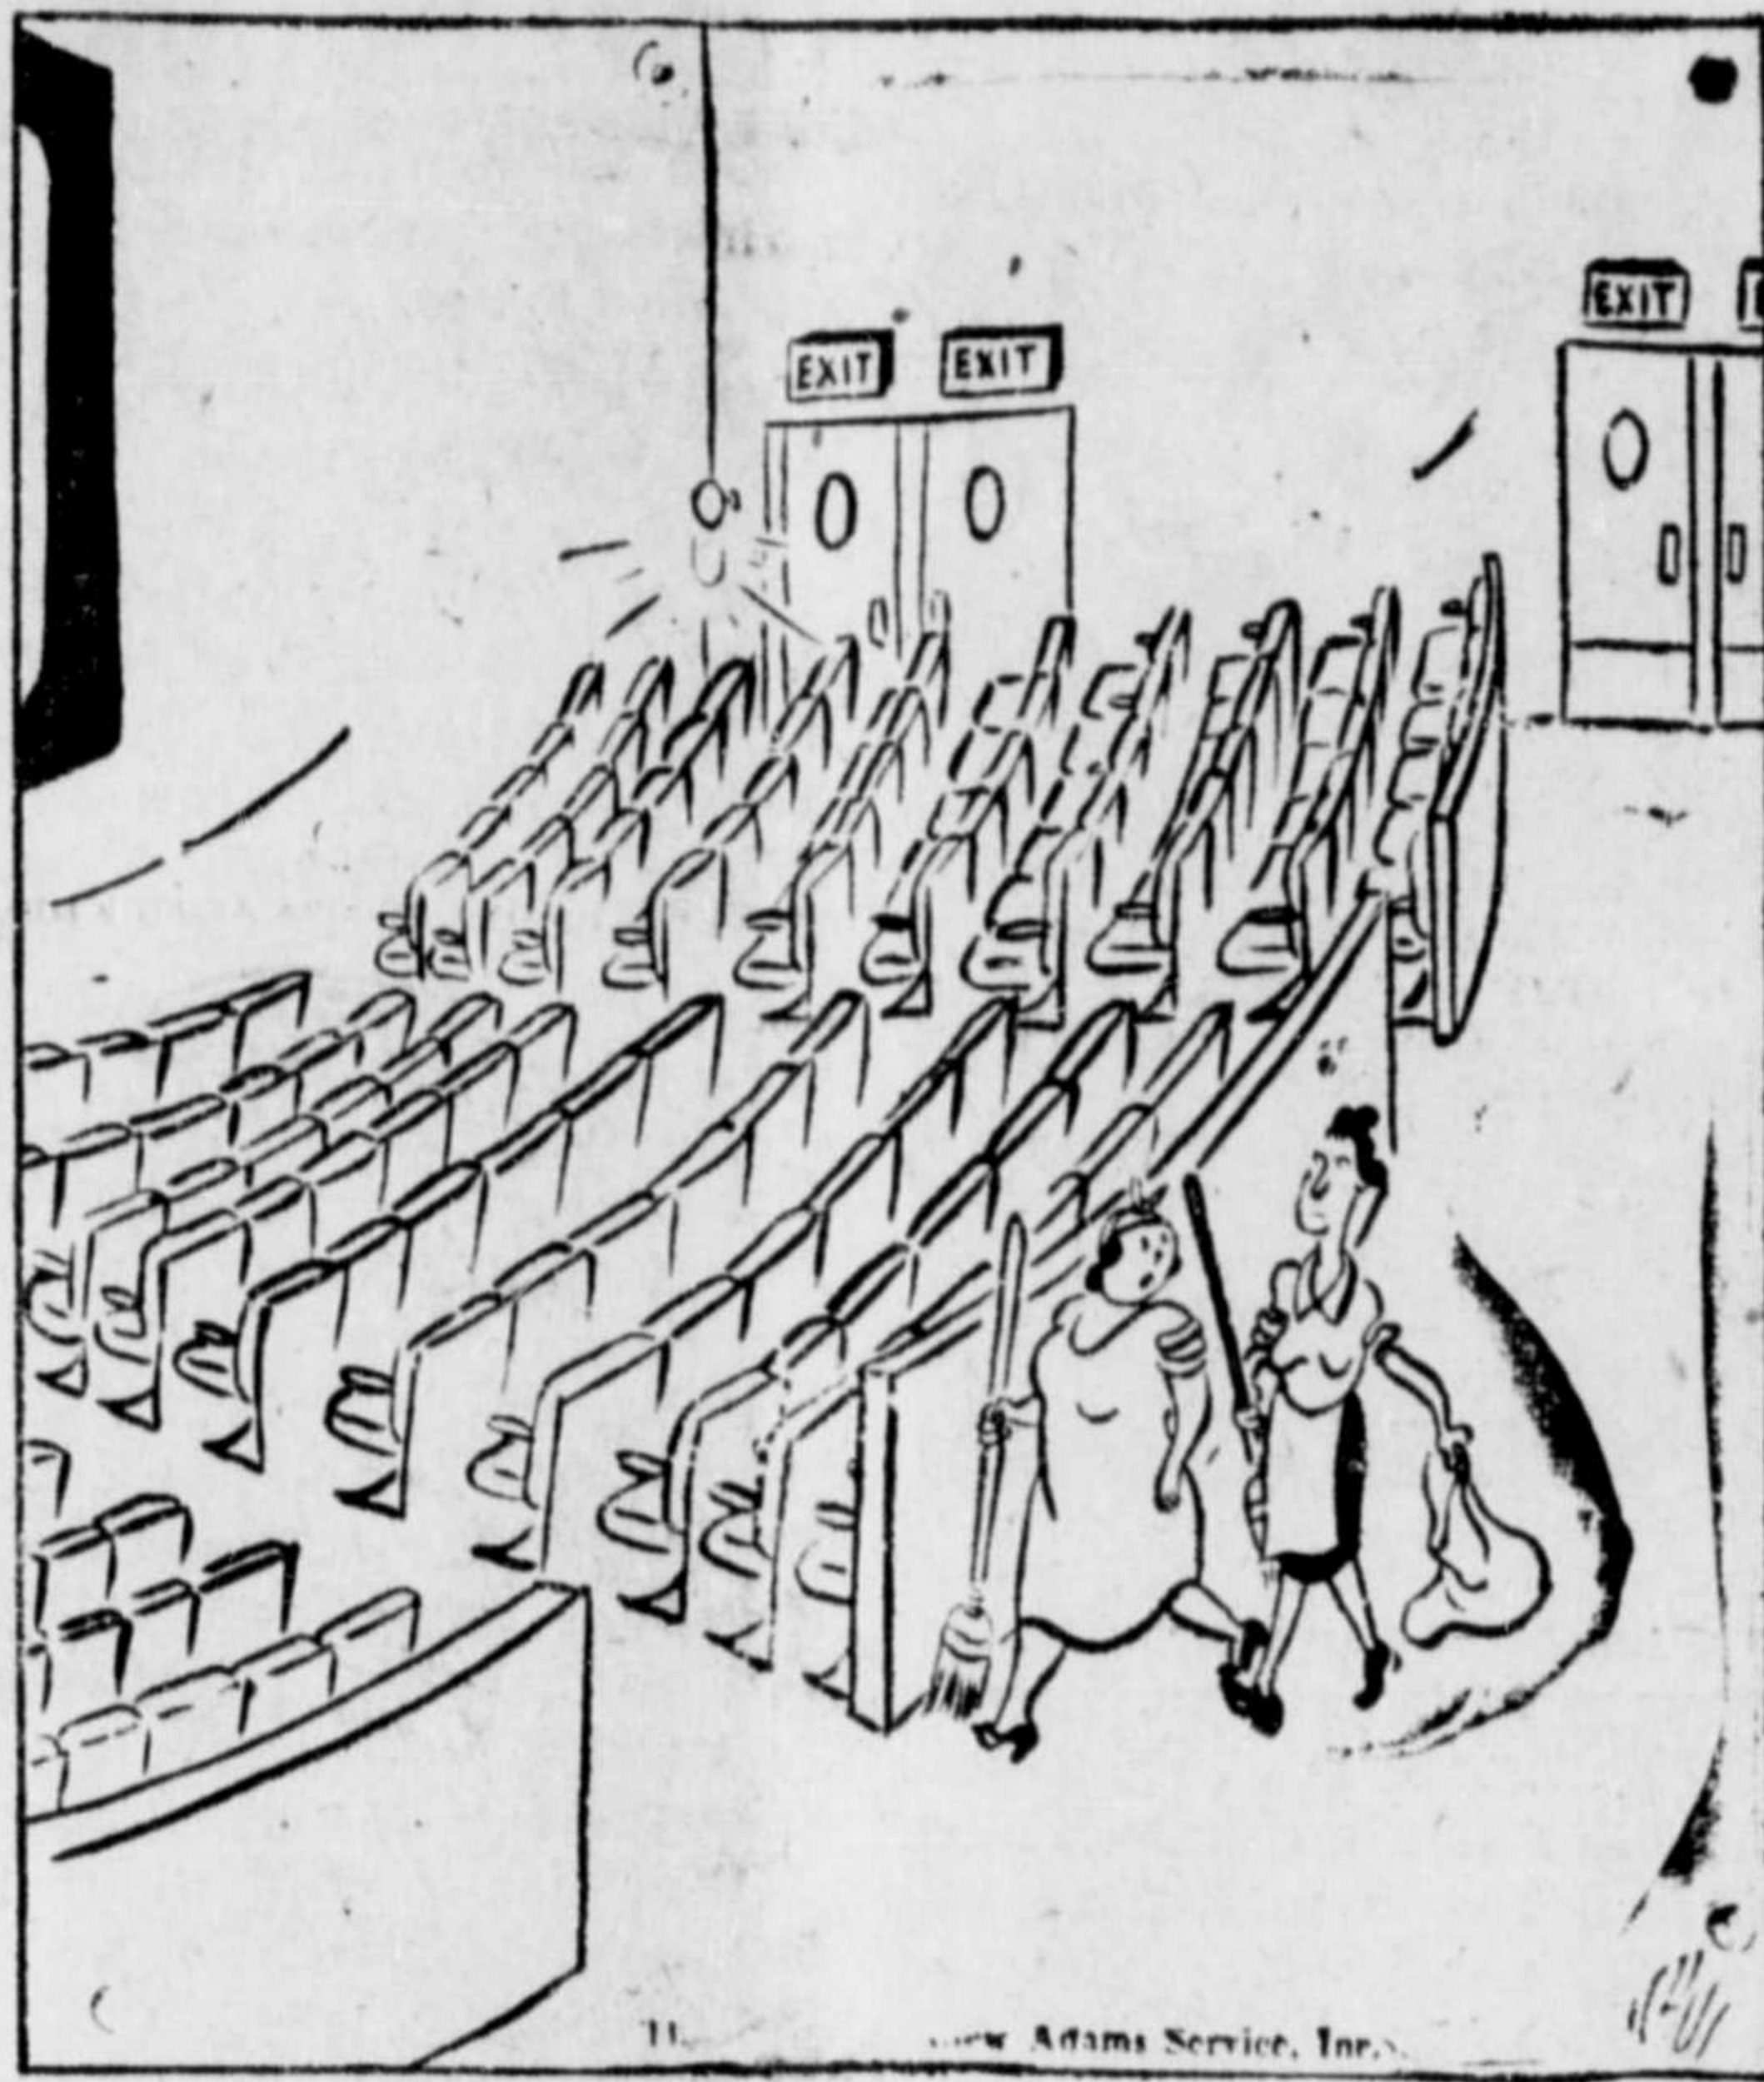

Tuberculosis continues to be a problem, the incidence and mortality rates running high, the report states. Every effort is being made to establish early diagnosis and secure early sanitarium treatment in order to eliminate it from the community.

The anti-tuberculosis campaign included a large scale x-ray survey in February, July and August with services provided by the provincial Board of Health. In addition, 715 persons were x-rayed at the Prince Rupert General Hospital during the year.

In the field of sanitation the report outlined the program of rat control which began with a survey which estimated the rat population at 6,000. The control program included distribution of pamphlets on the use of rat poisons, trapping, and rat proofing of buildings, and educational meetings with business proprietors.

The report also included statements on the milk and water supplies in Prince Rupert and Terrace and the inspection of food handling establishments.

THIS AND THAT

SEEDS OR PLANTS? HERE IS ANSWER TO THIS QUESTION

Which is better, to sow seeds of vegetables direct in the garden or set out plants? This question puzzles many gardeners. Most of them decide it by sowing direct varieties which are hardy, grow rapidly, and mature early, while they set out plants of tender varieties, which mature slowly and could not be sown directly outdoors until danger of frost is over.

For most vegetables, little is gained by setting out plants, except in cases where it might be difficult to start seedlings. This may be true in localities of heavy soil and low rainfall, and in all sections during hot weather. A better way, however, is to learn the simple methods by which seeds can be started even in difficult weather; or if plants are used, to start them yourself in an outdoor flat, filled with good potting soil, well watered and shaded from the hot sun. It is easy to do this and quite inexpensive.

There are handicaps in transplanting, which should be considered. Whenever a plant is moved from one location to another, it suffers a shock, and growth stands still until it recovers and adjusts itself to the new location. A certain percentage of loss may be expected, and unless transplanting conditions are favorable and handling skilful, the gain in the harvest may be less than was expected.

But for cabbage, broccoli and cauliflower and for slow maturing plants most amateurs will find it wise to start their plants under protection and move them carefully to the garden when it is safe, in order that the harvest of garden-fresh food may begin a few weeks earlier.

SAVE WORLD FROM ATOM

This is Object of New Commission Set Up by United Nations Organization

LONDON. — The special atomic energy commission, which the United Nations Organization General Assembly unanimously voted this week to create, is designed to save the world from an atomic armaments race. The commission would have no power to compel the United States or any other country to disclose any of its atomic energy production secrets or how an atomic bomb was made, according to interpretations given by James F. Byrnes, United States Secretary of State. Its responsibility will be to work out ways of keeping atomic energy from being used destructively.

The action in favor of setting up the commission after more than an hour of discussion during which both Secretary of State Byrnes and the chief Soviet delegate, Andrei Vishinsky urged prompt action.

The vote was 47 to 0 with four nations abstaining.

HOW CAN I ???

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I keep paint brushes in good condition?

A. A used paint brush should be washed in turpentine or gasoline, followed by soap and water, preferably naphtha soap. Rinse in clear water and press the bristles into shape.

Q. How can I remove rust spots from nickel plate?

A. Cover the rust spots with oil or grease and let it remain for two or three days, and then rub thoroughly with ammonia, and polish.

Q. How can I easily pick feathers from chickens?

A. For picking out pin-feathers from a fowl, an ordinary strawberry huller will be found excellent.
